MISSIONARY AD-INTERESTING DRESSES AT EVENING SESSION.

Memorials to Be Prepared In Honor of Memory of Two Rectors in The Diocese-Reports Received as to Mission Work-Other Business.

The Convocation of New Brunswick was continued yesterday afternoon at Grace P. E. church, Bishop Scarborough presiding. The report of the executive committee regarding the deficit was taken up, and all but $150 was subscribed. The Convocation then felt justified in making the customary appropriation of about $500,

An interesting letter from the General Missionary Board of the Episcopal church, signed by Bishops Doane, Potter and Sarterlee, was read by Bishop Scarb rough. The letter told what has been done in mission work and what is proposed. The reading of this letter was followed by a highly interesting address by Bishop Wells, of Spokane, Wash., who told of his work and the needs for the same. He hald the close attention of all during his talk, so vivid did he present his claims before those in attendance.

In honor of the memory of the late Bev. Mr. Schwarts, of Lakewood, and Rev. Mr. Roche, of Eatontown, Bishop Scarborough appointed a committee of three to prepare a memorial to te published in "The Churchman," the nomination paper. Those appointed on the committee are Rev. E. M. Rodman, of Grace church; Rev. H. H. P. Pearse, of South Amboy; Rev. S. H. Sleeper, of Elizabethport. Then followed reports from the various clergy. men who have charge of mission work. All reported excellent progress and good results.

In view of the financial condition of the Convocation the Bishop appointed a committee whose duty it shall be to prepare a table of assessment whereby each parish may contribute a certain amount toward the total amount needed for the work. That committee consists of Rev. E. J. Knight, of Trenton; Bev. H. H. P. Pearse, of South Amboy; Augustus A. Devoe, of Spottswood.

One of the very interesting features of the afternoon programme was an essay by Rev. Dr. J. P. Taylor on "The Spiritual Body." The subject was treated in a clear manner and elicited the earnest attention of all. He devoted much to the question of the resurrection, both as to theory and fact. Following the presentation of the essay there was an informal discussion, during which Rev. Floyd Appleton made a few helpful remarks

Before the afternoon session adjourned it was decided to hold the next Convocation at Bernardsville, probably in June. Adjournment was then taken for supper.

Owing to the severe cold there was only a small audience present at the missionary meeting in the evening. Bishop Scarborough opened the meeting and gave a short talk on missions. He spoke of missions in general but did not dwell on any special place for the work. He thought that missionary work was something that everyone should be interested in and do all in their power to help along.

Rev. Mr. MacKellar, of Red Bank, gave a short talk on missions in issued by Grace P. E. church. It is Paint Works yesterday afternoon at general. Rev. Mr. Fielding, of the Mission Home in Trenton, was the last speaker of the evening, and he talked at some length on the missionary work in Alaska among the Esquimaux. He said that of all the places that had missionaries, he thought that Alaska was the most in need of more missionary stations. "To think," he said, "That the Esquimoux learned all the popular songs of the day in about six months after they have been printed, and that it has been nineteen hundred years, and yet they have not heard of Ohrist."

He urged all to put their shoulder to the wheel and aid in the work of see it in the same light that he did day afternoon, when matters concernant and a very enjoyable time is anticiand push forward the good work.

Trenton, Feb. 6-All possible doubts over State Senator Mahlon Pitney's appointment to the bench of the State Supreme Court were settled at the session of the State Legislature yesterday. nething About the Attractions Which Plainfield Theatre-Goers May Carel to Witness.

"The Game Keeper," that will be presented at Music Hall tonight, is unlike any other Irish comedy drama that has been produced in the past decade. The play treats of a simple life in the Emerald Isle, showing love, hatred, passion and intrigue. Con. T. Murphy, the author of "The Ivy Leaf" and "The Fairles Well," changed almost his entire methods in writing "The Game Keeper." Smith O'Brien is the star of this attraction, and of his work as an actor, and his clever singing and dancing too much cannot be said. He is ably supported by the recognized "Colleen" of America, Miss Kitty Coleman, of Chauncey Olcott's and the late Dan McCarthy's companies. The rest of the cast is also very capable, including a very clever child artist, Baby Mildred. The production requires an abundance of special scenery which is all carried by the company. "The Old Homestead" is the attrac-

It is far more interesting to know, however, that Denman Thompson will accompany the piece himself, and appear in the part he made famous as the ideal be held by Great Sachem Newcorn Yankee. The State Asked to Pay $40,000 For Gardiner Investigation.

ALBANY, Feb. 6.-The state is now being called on to appropriate money to defray the expenses of the investigation into the affairs of former District Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner's office in New York city, and according to claims and estimates made at the meeting of the senate finance committee the investiga-tion instituted last February, which was pot the one that resulted in Mr. Gardiner's removal, will cost the state up-ward of $40,000 and possibly more. Ansley Wilcox, a Buffalo lawyer, who was appointed by Governor Roosevelt a commissioner to take the evidence taken against Mr. Gardiner, put in a claim for $10,000, which he said was moderate. and Attorney General Davies corroborated him in the statement. Mr. Wilcox claimed that he made his bill moderate so as avoid criticism. He had been paid $2,500 on account by the state and hoped that the gentlemen of the finance committee would have the item for the re mainder inserted in the supply bill. The stenographers' bill, Mr. Wilcox said, would amount to more than his claim. The stenographers' bill, it was stated, would amount to upward of $12,-Attorney General Davies made a statement to the committee in which he said he was in no way responsible for these extra charges.

The following nominations were sent to the senate yesterday: To be Lieutenant General of the Army
-Major General Nelson A. Miles.

The two squadrons selected consist of the troops now stationed at Fort Myer and in Arizona. The squadron at Jefferson barracks will remain in this country as the home squadron. The troops of this regiment going to the Philippines are not expected to get away until some time in March. Meanwhile the Tenth infantry is expected to return from Cuba and go direct from New Orleans to San Fran-

POLICE PROTECT HER

Mrs. Nation Wrecks Another Saloon In Topeka.

KEEPER OF THE "JOINT" ARRESTED.

Mrs. Nation Taken to the Police Station, but Is Immediately Released-Great Rush For Souvenirs.

TOPEKA, Feb. 6 .- Mrs. Carrie Na tion and three followers yesterday-wrought damage to the extent of $1,500 "Senate," the finest equipped "joint" in Topeka. She did more, for she gained the first police protection given her since she started out on her saloon smashing career at Wichita a month ago. The police followed up her raid of yesterday and arrested the proprietor of the "Senate" and two men who were guarding the place. Mrs. Nation was arrested, but promptly released.

Mrs. Nation and her wreckers, each armed with a hatchet, sallied forth at daybreak. They forced their way past a negro who guarded the door of the "Senate" and in less than ten minutes had strewn the floor with broken mirbottles, slot machines and splinterrors, bottles, slot machines and splintered bar fixtures. The negro fired a shot of warning into the ceiling, but it had no effect. Presently a policeman stalked leisurely into the room and said, "Well, Sister Nation, I guess we'll have to arrest you again.

Mrs. Nation had just smashed the last bottle and was ready to go.

"All right," she responded cheerily; "you came just when I wanted you to."
She turned back as she reached the door and inquired, "Everything cleaned up, ladies?" The police judge was glad to release her when she appeared for trial and ad-ministered a rebuke to that official. Mrs. Nation soon walked down Kansas avepue free again.

During the afternoon two deputies from Sheriff Cooke's office arrested Wagner, Shep Little and two guards and took charge of the stock of liquors. Later Chief of Police Stahl, in an interview with a reporter, said:

"I do not care if Mrs. Nation smashes every 'joint' in Topeka. I sympathize with her. I hope she will close up the saloons of the city. As an officer of the law, though, it is my duty to arrest her every time she creates a disturbance or destroys property. If we had the right kind of state officers, it would not be necessary for Mrs. Nation to do what she is doing."

After Mrs. Nation and her followers had departed from the wrecked "Senate" and the place had been reopened for business by the proprietor the crowd in the saloon soon became so large that it required four bartenders to wait on them. By 9 o'clock the crowd numbered nearly 200, and from the time the police raided the place it fluctuated between 200 and 250. Among those present were advocates of temperance who wished to see the work of the crusaders. The crowd around the bar demanded souvenirs, and the bartenders gathered up bits of glass from the broken mirror, giving away a small piece with every glass of beer. A man stationed himself at the front door and cried, "Souvenirs with each and ev-ery glass of beer." Those who did not

CHEERS FOR THE KAISER

London Gives William of Germany Rousing Send Off.

LONDON, Feb. 6.-London's voice which had been pent up for a fortnight in the presence of the dead, resounded yesterday with shouts of good will for Emperor William during his progress through the city. Flags were run mast high, and many stands which were cov ered with purple on Saturday were deck

The hour of the kaiser's arrival at Paddington was such that business people of the West End were enabled to curtail their lunch time and see the bright cavaleade. The king's wish that the people of the capital should have an op-portunity to show their appreciation of Emperor William's devotion was only announced Tuesday morning, yet over 100,000 persons gathered between Paddington and Marlborough House.

King Edward, the kaiser and the German crown prince arrived at Paddington station from Windsor at 1:28 o'clock. A troop of the Royal Horse guards with shining helmets and cuirasses and wearing their white breeches, preceded at an easy trot the open landau from which the kaiser gravely saluted in response to the uninterrupted cheering.

The royal party that took part in the lancheon at Marlborough House included the king, the kaiser, the Duke of Con naught, Prince Christian and the Mar quis of Lansdowne, secretary of state for foreign affairs.

The crowd remained about Marlbor ough House for an hour. There was a great cheer as the escort of the Horse guards reappeared at 3 o'clock, and the carriages soon resumed their journey to Charing Cross station, where the kaiser took a train for Port Victoria.

The enthusiasm of the people culminat ed in a great demonstration at Charing Cross station.

IN CONGRESS.

Shipping Bill Laid Aside, but Sen ators Say It Will Pass. WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.-The senate yesterday passed the District of Colum bia appropriation bill and partially considered the bill making appropriations for the support of the West Point military academy. During the day the ship sub-sidy bill by a vote of the senate was formally laid aside and superseded as the unfinished business.

The house continued discussion of con troverted questions in regard to the post-office appropriation bill. Mr. Griggs of Georgia spoke against the organizations of postal employees as existing with a view to forcing legislation in their interest. Mr. Moody of Massachusetts discussed the question of railway mail pay from the standpoint of a member of the joint postal commission. Mr. Bromwell of Ohio and Mr. Gaines of Tennessee assailed the appropriations for special mail facilities from New York to New Orleans and Mr. Catchings of Mississippi and Mr. Meyer of Louisiana defended these appropriations as necessary for the expedition of the southern mail.

The Republicans who favor the shipping bill declare that the measure wil pass. They say the night sessions wil soon dispose of the speeches to be made on the bill and that it will come to a vote. The opponents of the measure still claim they can defeat it. They point out that they will make no opposition to the appropriation bills, but are ready to de bate the shipping bill at any length.

A Whipping Post Bill. NEW HAVEN, Feb. 6 .- A whipping post bill was presented in the legislature by Mr. Freeman of Hartford. It provides for the restoration of the whipping post for all offenses by boys under 16 years of age when punishable by other means than imprisonment for life. The court may impose 20 strokes of the lash in lieu of a penal sentence or of commitment to the reform school. The bill also provides that any male found guilty of beating or assaulting a woman, or of attempting to commit robbery accompanied by great physical violence, or of kidnaping a minor to obtain a ransom, or of being a tramp and while being such of threatening women and children or endeavoring to secure anything of value, may be moderately whipped in lieu of or in addition to im-

Brooks, who caned Charles Sumner in the United States senate before the civil war.

A JOINT CONFERENCE

Chinese Plenipotentiaries Meet Foreign Envoys.

PUNISHMENTS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Chinese Ministers Seem Anxious te Come to Terms-Li Hung Chang Weak and Unable to Walk.

PEKING, Feb. 6.-The Chinese plenipotentiaries, Prince Ching and Li Huns Chang, had a protracted meeting yester day with the foreign envoys. Twelve names of prominent Chinese officials were submitted with the request that China keep faith with the powers and punish the persons named commensurately with their offenses.

The Chinese plenipotentiaries replied that China's earnest hope was to carry out fully the demands of the powers and that she felt sure the punishment which would be inflicted would be satisfactory. It was discovered that 2 out of 12 of the persons named were already dead. In certain cases the Chinese plenipo tentaries gave reasons why the punishment inflicted should be banishment and not death, asserting that in those cases they particularly desired banishment only because the persons in question were se closely related to the throne. After a long conversation on the subject of punishment it was decided that the foreign envoys should draw up a full list of all accused officials, both national and provincial, with indictments specifying the guilt of each and a statement of the punishment required, which would then be presented to the Chinese plenipotentiaries for definite action. Li Hung Chang, who is very weak from his recent illness, had to be carried in and out of the British legation. He is unable to walk, but his head seems as clear as ever.

The foreign envoys were impressed with the evident desire of both Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang to come to terms. Prince Ching asked whether, provided China showed by every means her power a desire to carry out the terms of the joint note, the foreign troops would leave Peking. The foreign envoys replied that this was a subject they could not discuss beyond saying that, if everything were satisfactory, they believed the powers would begin to withdraw the troops ly in the coming spring, but that this depended largely upon the Chinese them selves. Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang said they desired to know the names of the places where guards would be kept for tion with the sea in accordance with the terms of the joint note.

They were informed that this was a subject regarding which the military authorities had more accurate knowledge than the envoys, but that at present no determination had been reached.

the purpose of maintaining communica

Prince Ching was anxious to know what provision would be made to control the legation guards and to prevent them from disturbing business. He asked if the guards would be allowed over all parts of the city.

To this inquiry the reply was given that the guards would certainly not be allowed to interfere with any avocations of the Chinese, but would be merely kept to guard the legations in case of necessity. Prince Ching was assured that in whatever part of the city the le-gation guards might go they would be required to conform to laws which would be agreed upon under pain of severe punishment for any infraction. The Chinese plenipotentiaries also ouched upon the question of the forts, asking if it would be necessary to destroy these. As there seemed to be some diversity of opinion among the foreign envoys regarding this matter it was left over until the question of punishment has been definitely decided.

Work on the Constitution. HAVANA, Feb. 6.-In the Cuban constitutional convention yesterday the question of provincial government came up for discussion, and it was voted that the governors of the provinces should be elected by the direct vote of the people, a motion to have the president appoint them being defeated. Senor Giberga, in the course of a patriotic address, the most stirring speech yet made in the convention, said he was in sympathy with the desire of the revolutionists to form an independent government, but he wished to warn the delegates to proceed intelligently, as a misstep now might result in losing forever that long sought goal which other republics had reached during the last century. Inauguration Military Parade. WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—According to the present plans the military representation will be a splendid feature of the parade on the occasion of President Mc-Kinley's second inauguration. The regular army will have a considerable contingent in line, and all the marines at the immediate command of the navy depart-ment will be present with a detachment of sailors. It is expected that the states will send a number of their crack militia organizations.

Chance For Improvement. Now that the bridge over Green brook, connecting Madison avenue and Duer street, has been completed, the public is given a new and not particularly beautiful view of the brook and the property which borders directly on that stream. When the brook and the adjacent property was hidden behind the business blocks which border Front street and the residences on Oraig place, the public cared little how the place looked Now, however, that it has been opened up to public view, the present un sightliness should be remedied. From Watchung avenue east to the city limits, some care has been taken to keep the banks of Green brook in presentable condition. When properly cared for, that stream of water can be made to give a sightly appearance and become even an ornament to the vicinity through which it passes. A glimpse at the stream from the Duer street Madison avenue bridge, is far from that, however.

It cannot be that they do not see the need for them as the street committee, in its annual report presented last December, recommended tin's store will have her vacation next that the signs be provided as soon as possible.

Now that the Palicade Commission has been presented by Governor Voor hees, it is the duty of the State Senate to approve of it as soon as possible and then it will devolve upon both Houses of the State Legislature to provide the necessary funds to save that natural wonder of which New Jersey should be so proud.

"OLD MECHANIC" WRITES RECARD. ING BUILDING TRADES' COUNCIL.

Explains What The Couucil Wishes to Do and How It Alms to Aid the City of Plainfield.

To the Editor of The Daily Press: There has been considerable comment. made regarding the workings of the Plainfield Building Trades' Council: how if they continue to enforce their rules it is going to stop people who contemplate building from doing so. Now, Mr. Editor, people do not seam to know what they are talking about. The council is to help not only union mechanics, but to help the contractors and merchants,

Consider the new station for instance By rights it should have gone to Plainfield contractors. As it was the merchants of this city had to suffer as well as the mechanics of this city, because all the work was done by outside contractors who brought their mechanics with them, made them work long hours, and then gave them free transportation to their homes to spend their money there. The council claim it is ur just for the people to allow such a state of affairs when many dollars from this town go to the railroad company.

The Hibbard Rodman-Ely Safe Works did the same thing, and the contractor from Wilkesbarre figured on the eight hour schedule, yet worked nine or ten hours per day paying the wages prevailing in this town, the contractor resping the benefit and going to Wilkesbarre to spend it. Is that just? Is it fair? The Council desires to stop just such cases. To give the work to the taxpayers of this city, and not to floaters, is what the Council desires.

I do not say that all the contractors live up to union principles but those who do not, do work for some of our business men who want the four hundred mechanics represented in this council to patronize them. I do not think any fair minded person would consider this just. The members of the Council do not make any demands on their employers but simply go to them and ask them if they are willing to do as they state.

I have watched the workings of the Council since it started. It has tried to act fairly with all and has given all the bosses ample notice of what it was going to do.

The most important and the most binding rule of this council is that no union mechanic can work on any building where a non-union mechanic is or has been employed, be he either carpenter, painter, mason, tin or sheet iron worker, plumber, steam or gas fitter. That rule mu:t be strictly adherred to.

I have been given to understand that there are not many mechanics outside of the union in this town and am pleased that such is the ease, but if they were all united and would work hand in hand with the contractors as barrel of clothing. A box of games that is the object of the council, it realize what a benefit unity is. What paid the freight. we want is to have Plainfield the ban ner city of the state and if the people and will accept a position in New this city and help them in their en. Poughkeepsie, N. FOR ENDEAVORERS.

Interesting Side of the Work Being Carried on by Young Christians.

(Conducted by Press Department Union County C. E. Union.)

An unheard of feature of the New Mexico Christian Endeavor convention was the paroling of a prisoner from the penitentiary to attend a ses sion on prison Endeavor held outside the walls of his prison. Sessions of Christian Endeavor conventions have often been held with the prisoners within the walls.

The Nagasaki, Japan, Christian Endeavor Home for Seamen has received donations of an upright plane and a soda fountain (the only one in Japan) during the past year. There is some prospect of opening a branch home in Manils, where Superintendent Makins is now investigating. A soda fountain has already been offered for Manila by the donors of the other one. Offerings for the work should go to Treasurer Antoinette P. Jones, Falmouth, Among the prominent speakers at Ohristian Endeavor's twentieth birthday celebrated at Portland, Me., recently, were Dr. and Mrs. Clark, Pressurer Shaw, General Secretary Baer, Managing Eiltor R. A comfortable reading room, with a piano, circulating library, periodicals merchant and mechanic would be and daily papers, has been provided at Spring Forge, Penn., by the Lutheran Christian Endeavorers.

From a wretched hovel to a comfortable bed in the hospital a poor, sick girl in Topeka, Kan., was taken by the missionary committee of the First Congregational Endeavorers. The society raised $100 for her comfort, and she is now convalescing in a private home, where the Endeavorers meet her once a week. Seventeen hundred letters were written by Kentucky Endeavorers as New Year's greeting to the prisoners in the State penitentiaries.

Of timely interest in connection with Christian Endeavor's twentieth birthday celebration in Portland, Me., January 31-February 3, is the statement made by Secretary Baer at the Detroit Convention, 1899, that over a million and a half of church members and by depositing his share of the had come out of the ranks of Christian Endeavor in the last ten years. WAITING FOR FORTUNE.

But Meanwhile Joseph Moore of Rahway Has Decided to Continue His Present Occupation.

The claims for the Moore millions are again being agitated by the heirs in New Jersey. Joseph C. Moore, of Rahway, who has the same name as the famous Joseph Moore, of England, is the one who has lately been brought into notority by claiming that he is the great grandson of the famous Joseph Moore, of England.

Mr. Moore is a carpenter by trade and seems sure that he will soon get the fortune that is awaiting him in England. He will not give up his trade, however, until he has the fortune in his grasp.

The old Joseph Moore settled in New Jersey many years ago, and when he died there was considerable wealth left in England, which has been increasing since with the advance in property, until now, it is claimed, there is about one hundred million dollars.

There is a large number of heirs in this city who patiently are awaiting the problem of the family history to be solved. There are a number of lawyers who are working on the case, and they all tell the same story, that there is a large fortune in England, and it will only be a matter of time when the heirs will get it.

Personality of J. Ogden Armour, Son of the Great P D.

He Is Deliberate, Cautions and Refined - Few Changes Looked for in the Management of the Great Armour Interests.

J. Ogden Armour, who succeeds to the management of his father's vast business interests, is physically if not mentally wholly unlike his father, says the Chicago Record. Slim of form and face, deliberate if not slow in his motions, hesitating if not studied in his utterances, he has none of the personal characteristics which distinguished his father. The late head of the Armour house was square of stature, "bullet-headed," strongjawed, round-faced, quick of movement, alert in repose, impulsive, positive, aggressive and relentless in the pursuit of an idea.

J. Ogden Armour has a long, narrow head, a chin pointed like his mother's, a refined rather than a strong contour. He is as calm in action as at rest. He lacks impulsiveness to the verge of coldness. He is cautious, modest, evasive as opposed to aggressive, conciliatory, generous and always well-poised. Nobody who knows him believes that he absolutely approves of his father's almost slaving adherence to early hours, hard work, devotion to detail and personal supervision of a business so perfectly organized and officered that, like a great railroad or a good government it can almost "run itself."

Those who are nearest to the young head of the great packing business agree that he will introduce no startling changes in the affairs of the company. He is notoriously averse to changes, opposed to revolutionary methods and fearful of "scenes." He has always shown a disposition to "take up" with the men who assisted and advised his father and to let well enough alone. Innocent of any of the combative qualities of his sire, it is probable that he will never engage in those fierce speculative combats that seemed to delight and almost inspir the founder of the house. Yet withal, conciliatory, gentle and deliberate as he is, the young president Querfurt. Lestifin murbe ber of Armour & Co. is said to be pospenfionirte Gendarm Bopel ermordet sessed of a spirit as stubborn and of the late millionaire's advisers, and there is every reason to believe that J. Ogdn will lean confidently upon him and his associates. The young man has not thus far departed from the routine hours set forth and observed by his father. He knows every detail of the business even better than Phil, his brother, knew them at the time he was taken ill. But he does not take business details as seriously as the others. He seems content to know rather than to do.

Already most of his well-conceived and well-digested ideas have been profitably used by the company. There is no reason to suppose that he will abate any of the great projects that may become feasible for the business. There are some who believe that his cool, quiet, deliberate ways are even better suited to the altered conditions of trade than were the swift-almost headlong-methods of his father in the days when commercial victories were won by wit and audacity rather than by diplomacy, finesse and cold calculation.

J. Ogden Armour was born 37 years ago. He spent two years in the public schools and was later sent to Yale, graduating in the class of '89. After an extended European tour he reafter his arrival was invited by his father to accompany him to the yards. From that time he has worked yards. From that time he has worked steadily.

Mr. Armour is a member of the Chicago club, Union league, Chicago Athletic club and various other associations. At least twice a year Mr. Armour, accompanied by his wife, makes a trip to London, where he visits the big markets. They are Extreme Length of Luxury Seems to Have Been Reached.

The Gowns of the Well-Dressed Woman of To-Day Are Sumptuous Creations and Beautiful in the Extreme.

[Special New York Letter.]

WOULD really seem as though luxury in feminine dress and the thousand and one accessories that go to make up the costume of the hour could never have been pushed to the extreme length it has reached this season. I am well aware that this statement has been made with more or less truth for many succeeding seasons, also that the general reckless extravagance of womankind has been disussed by those who think they know all about the matter, until the subject has become hackneved and hreadbare, yet it is nevertheless a truth, and one well known to those who have studied the matter with discriminating eyes, that most women with their innate love of all that s pretty and becoming are inclined to be extravagant, and that womenthe woman of the smart set, I mean. who is supposed to set the pace in fine dressing-were never more recklessly lavish than at the present moment. Her gowns are the most sumptuous that money can buy, and usually as perishable as handsome; her dainty neckwear is at once fragile and costly, while the amount of noney represented by her exquisite lingerie and fine hosiery would seem veritable fortune to many women. othing suits her capricious fancy out the most delicately tinted gloves, which are irredeemably ruined by hrice wearing, while her various ilken petticoats, each a dream of oveliness in itself, are taken as a natter of course. Priceless laces and embroideries are cut up in such a vay that they can never be used again, while only the most expensive eathers and costliest jewels ornanent her fashionable headgear. And so I might run the entire gamut of er extensive wardrobe, but time and pace forbid.

A reaction is bound to come sooner or later, but just when or where is beyond the ken of man. That there s no sign of the immediate approach of any such change is evidenced at ill the leading shops, where the display of fine clothing and exquisite 'abrics is lavish and costly beyond compare. The subject most talked bout and admired in the world of

AILORMADE FOR EARLY SPRING. ashion just now is the new summer ress materials, which have been displayed within the past few days. It akes a readier pen than mine, and ne, too, dipped in ink having all the olors of the rainbow, to describe heir gorgeous colorings and maniold charms. Many of the handsomst specimens come under the head if "wash goods," which, as you know by this time, is a much misused expression. For instance, if you go nto a dry goods store and ask for vash material, just as likely as not he obliging salesman would show ou one of the many new swisses which, because they are new and the orrect thing, retail at the modest um of $2.50 per yard, or perchance n equally expensive organdy of so ine a texture and such delicate colorng that it would shrink and fade away into a mere nothing at the bare mention of a laundry tub. I am bound to say, however, that many of these new goods are not nearly as expensive as at the first glance they seem to be, for they are of such extreme width, especially the swisses, that six yards will be found amply sufficient for the most elaborate gown. Swiss mounted over a shimmering taffeta silk is fascinating and the right thing to buy if one can afford a silken lining, but where the case is otherwise a fine French lawn answers the purpose in the most admirable manner.

For those who prefer a snug bank acount to fine raiment there are coolooking dimities and fine muslins galore, not to mention the many handsome silk ginghams and delicately tinted lawns that are seen on every hand and can be procured for the proverbial song. But I want to say right here that if one has to hire gowns made it is not always wise to economize in the material, for after paying the bill with the long list of "findings" tacked on by the fashionable dressmaker one soon realizes that the material itself is, after all, the smallest item of expense. The all-white costume will be the favorite this summer, just as it was last, and, although a somewhat extravagant fashion, it is one so universally becoming to both old and young that no one ought to demur at its continued There is a decided feeling in favor for summer gowns of grays and gray-greens, while later on we may expecta bountiful mixture of green and gray, than which there is no more beautiful combination. Fashion makers claim that the really pictureque tea gown cannot be constructed unless lace and chiffon play an important part in the manufacture thereof; and, after looking at the latest models sent out by a well-known house, I am inclined to agree with them. The all-lace tea gown, either in black or cream lace, is extremely dressy and becoming, more particularly when worn with the jeweled girdle of the moment, or a wide embroidered belt, but its charms are quite lost sight of when placed beside one showing the ideal mixture of lace and chiffon like the one in the picture.

For wear at this particular season of the year the tea gowns should be of the most luxurious colorings, deftly mixed with lace, and perhaps a touch of fur. For this purpose nothing quite takes the place of velveteen, which omes to us nowadays in such exquisite olorings and in such an absolute state of perfection that it is permissible to use it in the construction of the dressiest of tea gowns. Of course the beautiful soft panne velvets are much superior, but these are not at everybody's command, and for home wear at least velveteen suits the purpose most admirably. Crepe de chine is another material much sought after for tea gowns, and, as its draping propensities are vastly superior to all the other fabrics, it is deservedly popular.

Within the week I have seen some delightful specimens of the tailor's art in the way of tailor gowns which are being constructed against the day of need. Some follow rather closely the general style of those worn late in the fall, while in others the changes have been radical in the extreme. Not a few are made with their tight-fitting jackets cut with the new habit back. I am wondering how this style will take, as I am quite sure it can only be seen at its best when worn with a long trailing skirt, and the best tailors are not making their new skirts in any such manner, but are fashioning them to just clear the ground, unless ordered to 40 otherwise.

There are now on exhibition at a leading tailor's some very handsome coat and skirt costumes made of the ever popular tweed, the one shown in the illustration being among the smartest looking. To those who have given the matter any attention during the past two months the announcement that the three-quarter coat is the coming fad will not come as a great surprise. It is a length that is not generally becoming, but we can trust to the fertile brain of the wide-awake tailor to make it so. These coats come to us under the joint reign of velvet and silk, and are dressy and chic enough in appearance to tempt the most resolute woman. The one in the picture is fashioned of black panne velvet and ornamented with handsome buttons and worn open, showing a vest of fine lace. The hat worn with it is in the "three-cornered" shape, a style, by the way, that created a perfect furore in Paris during the closing clay- of the exposition.

The lebbek was introduced into Egypt before the beginning of this century, and probably was extensively planted during the reign of Mohammed Ali, who was a great patron of horticulture (1805-1848). During the reign of the Khedive Ishmail the French gardener, M. Braillett, in 1809 superintended the planting of many hundreds of thousands of trees. Judging from those now standing in the city of Cairo and along the roadsides outside of it, the lebbek tree must have been one of the principal trees planted at that time. As a result of this extensive planting the roads outside the city instead of being tiresome ridges of yellow sand, unprotected from the fierce rays of the almost -tropical sun, are cool, shady avenues covered so completely with a roof of foliage that almost no sunshine reaches the road below. One of the avenues, that leading to the great Pyramids, is over four miles long and the trees are said to have been planted at the time of the opening of the Suez canal in 1869, in honor of Empress Eugenie's visit to Egypt. I know of no other avenue in the world which compares with this when it is considered that this is a country of desert sand. A nost the only other trees visible are the date palms and gum-bearing acacias. There is certainly no more striking example in the world of the blessings of judicious selection and extended planting of a single shade

In many respects the lebbek tree is an ideal one for southern roadsides. If grows rapidly, produces a dense shade, thrives in soils which contain little moisture and is as easily transplanted and propagated by cutting as a willow. Large trees can be dug up, severely pruned back, and set out, with very little risk of their dying. The crowns and irregular branches of the tree are unsymmetrical enough to relieve that monotony incident to long rows of such trees as the Lombardy poplar, so common in Italy and Chili and in Utah, or the cypress so continually met with about north Italian

Around Lake Baikal. The Trans-Siberian railway authorities have had a great deal of trouble with Lake Baikal. The lake is about 65 miles wide, very deep, and exthe year. To these many be added Essen, the exact statistics of which have not yet been published, but which is known to have passed the 100,000 limit, its present population being reckoned at 110,000. Berlin naturally eads all German cities in the in creased number of its people, but its percentage of increase falls far below hose of Nuremberg, Frankfort, Halle, Mannheim and Posen, all of which owe their rapid growth mainly to the development of manufacturing industries within their respective limits. The significant decrease in the population of Crefeld is attributable to the fact that it is a city of textile industries-silks, velvets, woolen and cotton goods-which were formerly largely exported to the United States but which of late years have suffered from the competition of similar goods that are now produced at home for the supply of the American market. One hundred years ago Berlin had 169,000 inhabitants; Hamburg, 100,-000; Munich, 38,000; Leipzig, 32,000; Breslau, 40,000, and Dresden, 54,000. The first census taken under the empire, December 1, 1871, found Berlin with 825,389 inhabitants, so that its increase during the past 30 years has been 1,058,956, or considerably more than 100 per cent, and this does not include the population of Charlottenburg, Rixdorf, Friedenau, Wilmersdorf, Steglitz, Panckow, Schoeneberg ceedingly stormy the greater part of and Halensee, all of which suburban cities are inhabited principally by people who do business exclusively Berlin. Including these suburbs Ber-than 2,500,000 souls. Hamburg had in 1871, 240,251 inhabitants; Breslau, 208,251; Dresden, 177,also conveyed on these barges. ELECTRICAL EXHIBITS.

Wonderful Collection and Grand Display of Electric Lighting.

It is the plan of the management to make the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo next year the greatest electric-INTERLOCKING SWITCH AND BLOCK SIGNAL al Exposition ever held. In view of the wonderful advance in the electrical science since the World's fair there will probably not be a single duplication of an exhibit seen at Chicago in 1893. Nearly everything in the electrical line then exhibited has been superseded in the market by new machinery and appliances constructed upon a better understanding of the wonderful force. The discovery of the Roentgen rays. the invention of wireless telegraphy and the development of the electromo bile are among the well known nev and useful applications of electricity unknown at the time of the Columbian Exposition. Electricity is to be ex tensively used in making attractive displays at night. For this purpose a steel tower 375 feet high has been planned which will face the Court of the Fountains. Upon this great tower and in this broad and beautiful court there will be seen at night fantastic and beautiful displays in electrical illumination. More than 200,000 elec tric lamps are to be used for this purpose, it being the intention of electriclans to have all the large buildings surrounding this court outlined with a fringe of brilliant electric lamps. These wonderful electrical displays are made possible by the nearness of Niagara Falls, from which nearly all the power used for the Exposition will be drawn.

WEST VIRGINIA ALERT.

Governor Will Urge Appropriation to Have State Represented.

Governor Atkinson of West Virginia announces that he will embody in his next message to the legislature a recommendation for an appropriation to pay the expenses of the state commission having in charge the state exhibit for the Pan-American Exposition. West Virginia is one of the many states that are inviting capital and labor to come in and help develop their natural resources. With her 15,000 square miles of coal lands, her thousands of acres of hard wood forests, her wonderful stores of petroleum, her iron ore deposits and her great acreage of lands suitable for farming. stock raising and wool growing, she has much to offer in the way of exhibits and much to gain by bringing her resources properly before the world. It is expected that an exhibit will be made showing by maps and specimens, statistics and information of a general character what a newcomer to the state may be able to do in the way of advancing the fortunes of himself and those who depend upon him. The millions of visitors to Buffalo next year will be interested in knowing what the possibilities are in all parts of the western hemisphere The West Virginia commission is composed of Stuart W. Walker of Martinsburg, president; J. C. Morrison of Charleston, secretary; R. B. Battelle of Wheeling, treasurer; James M. Porter, Jr., of New Cumberland and E. E. Smith of Parkersburg.

GUARDING AGAINST FIRE.

Every Precaution to Be Taken at the Pan-American Exposition.

There are two fire houses upon the grounds of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, N. Y., which are fully equipped with the apparatus and men necessary to fight any outbreak of fire upon the grounds.

In addition to this there are chemical fire extinguishers in all of the buildings. These are of the same type used gardens and formal beds of flowers at the World's fair at Chicago and are will surround fountains and pools and attached to the wall on the interior of the building. A cog on the bearing of the reel releases a valve which turns on the water in case of fire. It is only necessary to unreel the hose and thus rected upon the blaze without a moment's delay. In this way every precaution is to be taken to prevent the occurrence of any fire and consequent destruction of valuable property.

THE PAN-AMERICAN TO EXCEL IN MANY PARTICULARS.

The Most Delicate and Intricate Plastic Work Ever Attempted For Exposition Purposes - Color and Horticultural Embellishment.

The development of the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo is observed with profound interest throughout the western world. Almost every day shows some new feature of the magnificent enterprise completed. Some new tower rears aloft its ornamental pinnacle, some new dome presents its rounded top to the sky, or some new decoration of form or color is added to the wonderful bouquet of architectural loveliness.

Never was there an Exposition so novel, so unlike what the world has learned to expect, as this. With the glorious examples of the Exposition builder's art and genius to look back upon with fond remembrance and admiration, the world has wondered if all that has been promised for the Pan-American would be realized. If one may judge by the present stage of the vast work, the millions of visitors to Buffalo during the exposition season, which begins on the 1st of May next, will suffer no disappointment.

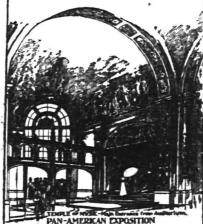

The Pan-American Exposition will outshine its distinguished predecessors in many particulars. Of these the court settings are of first importance. In order that there may be abundant room for the elaborate decorative effects, 33 acres are alone devoted to courts. This area is two and a half times the area of the courts at the Chicago Columbian Exposition. About these broad courts are grouped a score of great buildings, in which the multitude of exhibits from all parts of the western world are to be displayed.

As a second important feature may e mentioned the ornate architecture, the use of plastic ornamentation of very intricate and beautiful design and the employment of original sculptured groups in the exterior decorations of buildings, entrances and architectural features. No less than 125 original sculptured groups, modeled by some 30 or more distinguished American sculptors, will be used in this feature of the decorative work.

The use of an elaborate color scheme has never before been attempted at an exposition. The appropriate title of the "Rainbow City" has already been applied to this great group of brilliantly colored buildings, and lovers of color will find the exquisite harmony of tints that has here been produced a most delightful subject for contemplation and study.

As a fourth point of superiority may be named the hydraulic and fountain features. In all the courts are broad pools containing numberless cascades and fountains. These will add to the beauty of the great work in no small degree. Many of the fine sculptures will form a part of these charming fountains. A broad and stately canal, a mile and a half in length, banked with grass and lined with a double row of young trees, completely encircles the main group of buildings. The horticultural embellishment of the grounds constitutes a fifth point of excellence. Ornamental trees, shrubs lawns and flowers of brilliant hue will
