SUBLIME DIGNITY OF CHRISTIAN PRIESTHOOD

Father Egan's Discourse on Occasion of Father Boone's
First Celebration of Mass.

THE RESPONSIBILITIES A POWER OF VAST INFLUENCE OVER THE INDIVIDUAL.

Reverence Due the Clergy—Sermon by Father Egan Preached on Invitation of the Young Priest.

At the celebration of the first high mass by Father Charles Boone, the young Plainfielder who has just been admitted to the priesthood, Father Egan preached a striking and unusually interesting sermon. There was a strong personal note to it, his opening words embracing an eloquent reference to the newly ordained priest.

Father Egan's main theme was on the dignity of the priesthood. His text was from the fifth chapter of St.
Paul's Epistle to the Hebrews. In beginning his sermon Father Egan said:

"On last Tuesday morning, my dear brethren, in the Cathedral of the primatial see of these United States, twenty-five young levites were promoted to the sacred and sublime dignity of the Christian priesthood. Here this morning in this sanctuary of the early piety of his boyhood days, in this temple where he first imbibed the love of the sacred calling that is now inexpressibly his, there is one of that privileged band to whom the consecrating prelate solemnly said 'Thou art a priest forever according to the order of Melchisedek.' Here, he is permitted to ascend that altar, and perform a rite that has no compare in this world, an action that sets him off from among men, makes him on earth the very vice-gerent of the living God.

"We are here this morning to honor him, a priest of the Most High and to share with him and his respected family and friends the inexpressible joy, that must needs fill his soul, as he says his first solemn introit at that altar, where a child of this parish, he first became united to his Lord, by the bond of sacred baptism, and where the Divine spirit sealed him as a member of that Christian army that daily battles against the enemies of the Lord.

"At his very kind invitation, I am asked to preach the sermon at this, his first solemn high mass. Let me say to you, my dear friend, and newly consecrated brother, in the sublime priesthood of the new law, that at no time in my unworthy relation hereto-unto, has there been a more pleasant task than that which has been requested of me.

"It is at once apparent on this joyful occasion that there is and cannot be but one thought uppermost in our minds today, when we reflect that we rejoice, because a young man has just been made a priest forever according to the order of Melchisedek.
The theme then on this occasion is naturally the sublime dignity of the priesthood. Let me unfold a while the solemn thoughts arising therefrom.

"No man," said Father Egan, "who believes in the fact of the great mystery of the Incarnation and death of Jesus Christ who equally believes in the divine significance of that mediatorial work of our Savior, and unwaveringly assents to all that his church solemnly declares divinely revealed, no man can but honor and reverence with the deepest affection the minister of Christ. It is an honor and an affection that spring from a true conception of what it means to be a priest. Once we perceive what the priesthood of Christ is, and acknowledging the sublime fact of the participation thereof and its perpetuation for ever more in the visible ministry of the church that He had instituted and which He still directs and governs, there is left for us, the children of the faith, but one unanimous tribute of the soul's undying endearment to him who stands at that altar as on every altar throughout the universe. And we do not wonder that at all times, in every clime and by every race, men have esteemed the Catholic priest, and recognized in him a power of immense influence over the individual, the guide of the hearth, and the savior of society, whose membership can be united only by that bond of unswerving attachment to Christ and His divinely delegated

REPAIRING WEST FRONT ST.

THE FORCE AT WORK ON THOROUGH-FARE; NEW TROLLEY TRACKS LAID.

The city street force is busy repairing the holes and depressions left by the trolley company along West Front street in laying its new tracks. The work will be charged to the company.
The stretch of track that the corporation has just completed from the city line to DeKalb avenue is one of the finest pieces of rail work that it was possible to construct. The tracks have been laid in as thorough and careful a manner as the best example of track-laying anywhere. While the exact cost is not known outside the P.
S. C. office, the manner in which the rails were put down makes it certain, according to statement made yesterday by a city official, that the amount expended on the work was large.

GO. K IN KHAKI UNIFORMS

MAJOR NELSON Y. DUNGAN INSPECTS CAPTAIN MARTIN'S MEN.

Captain W. B. Martin put the boys of Company K through their paces last night in the last regular drill of the season, before going to camp at Sea Girt. The drill was witnessed by Maj. Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerville, as inspecting officer.

The spectators commented on the fine appearance made by the company in the new khaki uniforms. An extra drill will be held Wednesday evening, July 6, as Capt. Martin wishes to lose no opportunity of rounding the men into first class form for the regimental drills at camp.

As a result of Quartermaster Sergeant A. I. Littell's accident, which will keep him from camp, a substitute will have to be chosen. The place will probably go to former Quartermaster Sergeant F. J. Pope until Sergeant Littell's recovery.

The officers of the company feel that while the marksmanship of the boys will undoubtedly show the effects of Sergeant Littell's coaching and instruction, he will at the same time be sadly missed by everyone.

L. T. L. MEETING.

Several Women to Make Addresses at Closing Exercises Tonight.

The Loyal Temperance Legion will hold its closing exercises tonight in the W. C. T. U. rooms on Madison avenue. It is expected that Mrs. T.
H. Tomlinson, county president of the Union; Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parze, president of the local Union, and Miss Keron, of Elizabeth, county superintendent of the Legion, will be present and make addresses. An interesting feature will be the presentation of a silver medal in a prize speaking contest.

MORE SPRINKLING WORK NOW.

Additions to Mileage of Macadamizing Brings Increased Task.

In consequence of the completion of newly macadamized streets, the sprinkling system this year includes fully four miles more of roadway than last year. As fast as Contractor Meeker finishes them up, other new macadamized streets will be added to the burdens of John Keely, the sprinkling contractor.

The increase in the mileage naturally stretches the sprinkling work out thinner to a certain extent. There are just the same number of wagons as last year, and all these new streets must be taken care of just as much as any of the old ones.

The main increase in mileage on West Seventh and West Fifth streets, from Clinton avenue to the line. Prospect avenue's new roadway is partly done, and that will soon be on the sprinkler map.

Golf Schedule.
There will be mixed foursomes, scratch, at the Westfield Golf Club on Saturday. In addition to the weekly competition for the Golf Committee Cup at the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Saturday, there will be the regular play for the Women's Handicap Cup.

Tennis Practice.
The singles tournament at tennis, proposed by some of the Y. M. C. A. players, as a sort of try-out for the Y. M. C. A. championship tournament, to be played later in the season, has been called off because of a lack of interest.

Alls vs. Aeolians Next.

The Aeolians will be here Saturday for the third game of the series with Alls. Dooscher, the Brooklyn National League pitcher, will be on the slab for them.

MANAGER HAND'S TEAM HAS BEEN DISBANDED

Attendance at Games Not Up to Expectations, So Scotch Plains Club is No More.

CONSOLIDATION TALK

CONFERENCE WITH ST. MARY'S CLUB UNSUCCESSFUL.

Scarcely One Hundred at Scotch Plains-Colonial A. C. Contest—
Running the Game at a Loss—
No Plans Announced.

Baseball which has flourished successfully for three years at Scotch Plains, is a thing of the past so far as the present club is concerned. This decision was reached Saturday night, after the game with the Colonial A. C. team, of New York. Scarcely one hundred persons attended the contest, so the club decided that local interest is dead, and any attempt to revive it would be a losing venture. The end has not been an unexpected one, as the game has been run at a loss for some time. Only a balance left over from last season has carried the club along.

Manager Hand's team is playing as fast as an article of baseball as has been seen on the local diamond. The team is composed of local talent, the pick of the Plainfield Amateur League, which thrived a few years ago, so the fans have no reason to find fault with the game.

Several weeks ago the club considered the matter of placing the team in Plainfield, if suitable grounds could be secured. At a meeting held last night, a delegation from the St.
Mary's Club met the Scotch Plains club, but the two organizations were unable to come to any agreement as to a consolidation of management. A party of St. Mary's club has arranged a series of five games with Alls, it being proposed to use the Hoboken team for the games. The other faction is afraid that if a consolidation of management is made it will cause a split in baseball here among the St. Mary supporters and the plan has been given up.

F. M. THIERIOT DEAD.

Former Plainfielder Passes Away
at His Home in South Orange.

Ferdinand Melly Thieriot, a son of the late Ferdinand Thieriot, of New York, and formerly a resident of North Plainfield, died yesterday at his home in South Orange, N. J. He had been ill for six months. He was born in Jersey City and was fifty-one years old.

Mr. Thieriot was a member of the New York Stock Exchange, and served on the Board of Governors, and was also a member of the firm of L. von Hoffmann & Co., bankers. He was also a member of the New England Society of the Oranges, the South Orange Field Club, the Union Club, Downtown Association, and the Chamber of Commerce of New York and the Baltimore Club. He leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters.

HILLSIDE TENNIS.

Contests Arranged for Men and for Women on Local Courts.

Play in the singles handicap, tennis tournament for women, will begin at the courts of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club, Thursday, at 10 o'clock in the morning. Entries can be sent to either Miss Schuyler, 319 East Seventh street, or Miss Goddard, of 205 East Ninth street. Entries will close promptly at 6 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, June 29.

In the men's singles, scratch, the entries, which should be sent to T. M.
Day, Jr., 740 Carlton avenue, will close at 6 o'clock in the afternoon in the afternoon, Friday, July 1. Play will begin Saturday, July 2, at 3 in the afternoon.

Two new courts will be opened for play, on Saturday, July 2, the greatly increased interest in tennis this season, having made it necessary to add that number to the four already in use.

Guests of a Commemorative.

Miss Daisy Snyder and Miss Margaret Kennedy, of this city have returned from Greenville, N. J., where they have been visiting friends.
While away, Miss Snyder and Miss Kennedy were the guests of the Commemorative of the Greenville Yacht Club and were passengers aboard his flagship, the Jessie M. during the most exciting race of the season.

THREE BIG EVENTS

THE PURSE FOR EACH RACE IS TWO HUNDRED.

Col. Edwards, R. A. Fairbairn and Mr. Rose to Act as Judges—

No finer programme for racing has ever been offered at the Driving Park than the card prepared by the Driving Association for the Fourth of July.
Some of the speediest trotters and pacers off the big tracks will compete for honors. Places as far away as Oswining, N. Y., are represented in the entries. The list is better and bigger than ever before.

There will be three races in all:
2:25 trot, 2:17 trot and 2:20 pace, and 2:25 trot and 2:25 pace. The purse in each race will be $200.

The entries closed last night, the final additions to the list being received in this morning's mail. As announced by the Association this morning, the list is as follows. The name of the owner and his place of residence follow the name of the entry.
A. C. Blair, J. W. Johnson, M. W.

Jenner, of New Market, are among the owners on the list. Mr. Greene has

Y.; Karachi, E. M. Grover, Newark;

Close and exciting contests are expected by all the horsemen interested in the event. The track is in the finest shape it has ever been since racing started there, and all the other conditions are in favor of magnificent sport.
The events will start at 2 o'clock sharp.

It is hoped to draw a record-breaking crowd to the meet. The grandstand has been repaired, the seats have been covered with mud, and feminine horse-lovers will find nothing to detract from their enjoyment of the sport. Boxes may be hired at Bowley's drug store.

The judges will be Col. Edwards, of Newark; Robert A. Fairbairn, of Westfield, and Mr. Rose, of Perth Amboy. Joshua Rogers, of Brooklyn, a veteran starter, will send the horses off. William L. Smalley, Jr., will be clerk of the course.

A full brass band will furnish music between heats.

I. O. O. F. Election.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O.
F., had a busy meeting last night, the time being taken up with initiations and the election of officers. Four candidates were put through the third degree. A fourth candidate was prevented from attending, by a slight injury, the result of an accident and will be initiated later. These officers were elected: Noble grand, Harvey L. Schmeier; vice grand, Andrew Stiglitz; recording secretary, Joseph F. Sheppard.

Pastor Going West.

Rev. George B. Shaw, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, will leave Plainfield about August 1 for Milton, Wis., where he will remain for a time with his family. From there he will go to Nortonville, Kansas, to attend the conference of the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL GRADUATION EXERCISES

Promotion of the Primary and Kindergarten Pupils is Marked by Special Exercises.

GIVEN CERTIFICATES

JOSEPH GALLAGHER DELIVERS THE PRIMARY VALEDICTORY.

The Primary Valedictory is Made by Miss Ursula Colvin—An Operetta Closes the Programme.

Graduation exercises to mark the advancement of the primary and kindergarten children of St. Mary's Parochial School were held last night in the parish school hall. The programme was an elaborate one, deligh-tfully rendered. A large-sized audience enjoyed the affair.

The programme opened with a musical selection, "Flatterer," by Miss Mary Smith, on the piano. Miss Ursula Colvin delivered the primary valedictory, in a charming little address.

"Sleepy Sue," an exercise in which fourteen children took part, followed.
Miss Dorothy Oshin was "Sue" and the other characters were taken by the following: Harvey Lyon, John Traynor, Lawrence Nichols, William Ball, John Pwolson, Frank Kane, James Traynor, Richard Lawton, Hugh Breen, John Kane, Edward Forrester, Frank Arnold, M. Angerbauser.

"Sleepy Sue" was followed by a selection by the "Children's Symphony" in which the following took part:
Violin, Miss Quinn; piano, G. Galbraith and L. Brown; quiri and whistle, Frank Molnerney; nightingale, Helen O'Keefe; drum, E. Hanrahan; oboe, M. Watson; mandolin, Misses M. Smith and E. Hanrahan; trumpet, K. Trembley; tambourine, M. King; bell, O. Kelley; cuckoo, M. Traynor; wood-devil, M.
Caulfield; rattle, M. Orosby.

After the "Symphony" the kindergarten tots were called up and presented with tiny diplomas. Father Egan, the rector, made the presentations, just as though the little ones were receiving sheepskins. The small boys and girls bowed gravely as they received the certificates. The graduates were: Margaret Motley, Florence Witterman, Helen Newell, Joseph Gallagher, Arthur Kyle, Vincent Mail-len, Anna Fosbre, Lillie Coffey, Lis-ie Knieff.

Joseph Gallagher delivered the primary valedictory. His address was a clever one, neatly phrased.

The exercises closed with a musical operetta, "The Pixies' Triumph."

The cast was as follows:
Jewel Solomons, Pixie King, Master
Frank Molnerney; Knowall Dollittle, King's Executive, Master John Casey; Laughing Gai, Master Edward Hanrahan; Stay Behind, Master John Geary; Fatima, Queen of the Fairies, Miss Lillian Molnerney; Franchon,
Miss Annie Heffernan; Silver Sprite,
Miss Anna O'Loughlin; Golden Hair,
Miss Mary Traynor.

The parts were splendidly acted and sung. Frank Molnerney, Edward Hanrahan and Lillian Molnerney were particularly good.

The children were trained for the operetta by Sister Mary Esther and Madam Mennell-Bartlett. Miss Quinn, violin, and Miss Smith, piano, played the incidental music and accompaniment.

Tonight the grammar children will be graduated into the commercial school, and Wednesday night the commercial graduates will hold their commencement exercises. Elaborate programmes of entertainment will mark each event.

Her Annual Trip Abroad.

Mrs. Emily H. Cory, of Somerset street, sailed today on one of the Ounard Line steamers for a two-months' trip abroad. She is accompanied by a party of Brooklyn friends with whom she travelled in Europe last year. The trip this year will be to Norway and the "Land of the Midnight Sun."

Killed a Ground Hog.

A son of Frank DeCamp, of 23 Linden avenue, killed a good-sized ground hog this morning.

It is not necessary to be a fruit lover to feel tempted by the display at Neuman Bros.; an abstemious hermit would want to taste of the red raspberries, blackberries, black raspberries, huckleberries, currants, gooseberries, cherries, peaches, apricots and plums. Splendid looking and deliciously flavored.

EXEMPTS DECLINE INVITATION TO ATTEND CELEBRATION AT RANWAY.

The Exempt Firemen's Association has declined the invitation extended by the Rahway organization to attend its Fourth of July celebration and parade, and the secretary has been authorized to communicate with Rahway to that effect. This action is taken because of the general unwillingness of the members to pass the holiday away from home.

A number of the Plainfield Exempts will undoubtedly attend the celebration and will be the guests of the Rahway men for the day. The silver hose carriage has been loaned by the local association for the day.

BASEBALL GAMES SCHEDULED

ATTRACTIONS ON LOCAL DIAMONDS FOR SATURDAY AND MONDAY.

The Alls Club has three strong attractions for Saturday and Monday, two games being arranged for Independence Day. On Saturday the Aeolians will return for the third game in the series. The team is greatly strengthened and it is said that Dooscher, of the Brooklyn Nationals, who shut Westfield out, will pitch for them. The organ grinders are determined to win the game and thus retrieve themselves.

Fourth of July morning the Murray Hills will be here again for a second game. Those who saw Saturday's contest, know how well Nat. Strong's combination can play, but Manager Johnston is making preparation to take their scalps. The game will be called at 10:30.

In the afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Manager Daab will have his rejuvenated Hoboken aggregation here. Two weeks ago this nine gave a fine exhibition with Alls, winning by a close score.

With these three games, the fans will have a feast of good baseball, and Manager Johnston has promised to strengthen all weak points for future contests. He has lines on a strong pitcher, and if Quinby comes here he will probably be made captain of the team.

The Y. M. C. A. team will cross bats with the Reform Club nine on the Myrtle avenue grounds Saturday afternoon.

HORSE KICKED T. J. MAHER.

Animal Planted His Hoof in Blacksmith's Forehead.

Thomas J. Maher, a former jockey at Long Branch, and now a well-known blacksmith in Sycamore avenue, was put out of business for a time by a four-year-old horse yesterday afternoon. He was just getting ready to put shoes on the horse and had taken off one shoe, when the colt raised his foot and struck Maher in the forehead. The blow knocked the horseman down and for some minutes he was in an unconscious condition.

Men in the shop rendered assistance at once and through the constant application of warm water kept the swelling down. Mr. Maher's face will not be scarred and his eyesight will not be injured.

Change in Timetable.

The most important changes in the new timetable going in effect on the New Jersey Central puts the 11:25 morning eastbound train on at 11 o'clock from here and the 6 o'clock from New York at night only stops here on signal. The full Long Branch schedule went into effect on Sunday.
There is also a Sunday afternoon train to Newark at 3:17, and the Sunday morning train for New York now leaves at 8:26.

Model Auto Repair Shop.

Among the enterprises of this city none opens with brighter prospects for success than the Laing Machine Auto Repair Co. Allen E. Laing, the well known electrical contractor, is head of the concern, which has a perfectly equipped shop at 416 Sycamore street, an office at 124 North avenue, and will find ready appreciation of the class of work turned out by them.

Building Permits Granted.

Permits have been issued by Building Inspector Donne, one for the erection of a two and a half story frame dwelling, on West Fourth street near Darrow avenue, to be built for Jerry Elliot, of Central avenue and the other, a two story and attic house, on West Front street, being built for Mrs. Ida D. Tallamy, of West Sixth street.

Jack Sullivan has been visiting friends in Pennsylvania.

W. J. Lucky, of West Second street, has left for a vacation stay at Kenos-a Lake, N. Y.

DENMAN ARRAIGNS ALLS CLUB'S POSITION

Westfield's Manager Charges That There is Too Much "Personality" in Alls Committee.

HE QUOTES JOHNSTON

COMMON SENSE AND BUSINESS DE-MAND CONTINUANCE OF GAMES.

Plainfield People, He Declares, Wants Westfield and Alls Play—Reasons for Forfeit.

The following communication was received today from Manager Denman, of the Westfield Baseball Association:

Editor, The Daily Press:
The position of Westfield in the Alls controversy is consistent. It stands for true sport and honesty. When the rules which govern the game are disregarded the game becomes an absurdity. The disputed game was forfeited to Westfield by the refusal of Captain Farmer, of Alls, to continue play and the withdrawing of the team from the field by Manager Johnston.
This is half law. It is admitted by the Alls Club and so reasoning can alter the situation.

The sole contention of Alls is that "there was so much suspicion in the minds of the public regarding the umpire that in justice to them (entirely their own enthusiasts) it would be policy for Westfield to consider the game as nothing and play it over." This can mean nothing more than the inference that Westfield deliberately selected an umpire who was instructed to make it his sole purpose to decide plays in a manner to ensure the game to them. This is as false as it is absurd and the record and standing of the Westfield Baseball Association is a monument that doesn't need to fall and crush such a calumny.

The real reason for the tie-up in the series is bringing into the matter personality. This personality exists among the Alls ball committee.
George H. Johnston is an able and clear manager. He knows that the game was forfeited and admits to the writer that it is personality and that alone which threatens to deprive the public from having their expected pleasure in the continuance of the series. Is the public interested in this personality?

The public will not hasten to throw water on a flame started with the Lucifer of personalities, but will rather stand around and gloat over the destruction.

The series should continue for two reasons:

1st.—Common Sense: Will Alls ever have prestige until they defeat Westfield?

2nd.—Business: The attendance at games is measured according to the attraction and rivalry. With the series continued it means more than the two places moving their supporters with each game.

There are hundreds of Plainfield people who would exert themselves to attend a Westfield game who wouldn't bother themselves to see the Murray Hills, Chatham, Madison or any foreign team. Again, what people who pay admission, will any club, other than in near-by or local rivalry, bring with them?

Westfield isn't going to heave a sigh, disband its team, or sell its plant for firewood, if there are no further games. It will feel the loss of revenue that the games would bring, but the two hundred and fifty and over members of its association are an organization strong enough in honesty to keep the game "just traveling along,"

POINTS FOR THE BUYERS

READY REFERENCES FOR THE LOCAL BARGAIN SEEKERS.

Have you any kodak views you want developed? Take them to F. W. Van Winkle, North avenue. Bicycles at surprisingly cheap prices.

Still the leading cigar in its class—the O. O. D., sold by Henry Eggerding, of Park avenue. All the leading brands of smoking tobacco, always fresh.

Charles Conover & Co., of Elmwood place, contracts to do only first-class painting and papering. If you want this kind of work let the firm give you an estimate.

J. Harvey Doane, the Park avenue jeweler, has had years of experience in his business, and his word can be depended upon in the selection of goods at his store.

Others may claim to do painting and decorating cheaper than Woolston & Buckle, but the quality of the work done by this well-known firm is the very best answer anyone could ask to such an assertion.

Who has any objection to increasing the radiance of his electric light by thirty per cent., without getting a bigger bill? No one, of course. The Helophane Shade, sold by W. H. Pope, North avenue, does that.

Good men, good wagons, good horses, good pay and best but not least, good sense; have made the trucking business, carried on by Henry J. Wierenga, prosper in a remarkable degree. Try him and be convinced.

Summer clothes for man and woman at the easiest rates of payment ever offered to the public is what can be obtained at the People's Credit Clothing Company, of East Front street, opposite Police Headquarters. The wage earner will find the P. C. C. Co. system just what he has been looking for. Courteous and careful treatment.

The art of making iridescent glass was thought to be a lost one for many years, but if you go to Gavett's, the assortment of this class of goods there displayed will convince you that it has been pretty thoroughly found again. The specimens of "l'art nouveau" to be seen among Gavett's stock, are at the same time, the most unique and the most reasonable in price, of any.

Whatever you do when buying summer clothes, don't let some third-class tailor gold-brick you with something apparently in the extreme of style, when it is in reality, nothing but a sham, losing its shape as soon as removed from the dummy. In fact, after a suit of this kind has made you uncomfortable, two or three times, you will be perfectly willing to believe it was merely taken off one dummy, to be put on another, the one that paid for it. Werner's clothing house is the place to buy, if you would escape all such annoyances.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Plainfield People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, The pains and aches of kidney! Are serious—if neglected.

A Plainfield citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Richard Day, of 124 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

A Suggestion from STEINWAY & SONS

About Piano Tuning

Incompetent Piano Tuners

are continually doing a great deal of mischief to good pianos. It will therefore doubtless be of interest to owners of Steinway and other pianos, residing at not too great a distance from New York, to learn that we are now prepared to take orders for the tuning and regulating of pianos during the summer months at special rates. Not only the members of our large regular tuning force but also those of our staff of experts who, during the winter season, have been traveling with eminent pianists on their concert tours, and who have now returned to New York, are available for this work. The greater the number of orders from any one place or vicinity the lower our charge will be for each piano attended to. Consequently we most suggest to prospective customers in any locality that they "club together" in sending us their orders, whenever feasible and agreeable, as the most economical and satisfactory plan. Your patronage is respectfully solicited.

Prohibitionists on Eve of Convention at Indianapolis.

GENERAL AWAITING ST. LOUIS VERDICT

Leading Antiquities Men Want Definite Statement as to Soldier's Sentiments, but Fail to Get It.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 28.—Indianapolis Prohibitionists last night held a meeting which proved an introduction to the national convention. It was attended by upward of 100 visitors who have arrived for the convention, besides a large crowd of Indianapolis citizens. William Frost, president of the National Prohibitionists, was the guest of honor. He was introduced by Charles R. Jones, of Pennsylvania, National Chairman Stewart and others spoke. National Chairman Stewart, H. B. Metcalf of Rhode Island, Prohibitionist vice presidential candidate four years ago; Charles R. Jones of Pennsylvania, C. E. Newlin, Indiana chairman, and L. W. Clark, secretary of Indiana, and other leaders of the party took a prominent part.

Mr. Metcalf said that when a party of ten Prohibitionists, of which he was one, called on General Nelson A. Miles the general evaded questions and wished the convention postponed until after the Democratic convention. This, it is said, has been his policy since that time. Mr. Metcalf said that in his opinion the New England states would demand a man who would make a positive statement of his position, and unless General Miles should make one they would vote against him.

National Chairman Stewart said: "General Miles is an able man. He has been a consistent friend of the anti-liquor movement and in a broad sense is a Prohibitionist. But those who are pressing forward his name for the presidential nomination by our party this year do not say how he stands on the methods of the Prohibition party."

"There are probably 2,000,000 voters in the United States who believe in prohibition, but we have never polled on a national ticket more than 300,000 votes. We not only want a man who believes in prohibition, but we want a man who believes in the policy and methods of the Prohibition party. Neither General Miles nor his friends have said that he is a Prohibitionist in that sense, and there are many Prohibitionists who believe it wise to nominate a man who has been a Prohibitionist in the party sense of the word in the past."

BELL ON MARTIAL LAW.

Says Governor Peabody Stands For Peace and Good Government.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., June 28.—General Sherman M. Bell, who is governing Teller county under martial law, has issued a statement, in which he says:

"There are 10,000 lies being written about me. I am acting under orders of the governor of the state of Colorado. He stands for peace and quiet and good government and has instructed me to see to it that the Western Federation of Miners shall not directly or indirectly murder any more men, and they shall not."

"So far as placing Denver under martial law is concerned, that rests solely with the governor. Provided he should see fit to do so I am his adjutant general commanding the military forces of the state and will see to it that hundreds of bad men are deported. And after martial law has finally been called off, if the citizens permit the cattle I intend to deport to return, that will be their business."

"No man who wants work will be molested, but the person who lives solely and only by his mouth, provided Governor Peabody gives me the word, will have to emigrate. The time for temporizing talk in Colorado has passed. What we ought to do now is to act."

Airship Man Under Arrest.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 28.—Newfoundland fishing vessels having occupied the French stations on the treaty coast in the mistaken belief that the treaty ratification had been exchanged, the Frenchmen appealed to the British commander, who dispatched a warship to the scene to warn the offending colonial vessels from the coast. The incident is the occasion of much concern.

Fire in Panama Barracks.

PANAMA, June 28.—Considerable excitement was caused by a fire which started in the barracks of the troops on the Chiriqui plaza last night close to the ammunition storeroom. Prisoners who were confined in the vicinity of the barracks were taken to the police station and the barracks isolated. After much effort the fire was brought under control.

OUTPOSTS IN TOUCH

St. Petersburg Expecting a Great Battle.

THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND IN ARMS

Kurapatkin Has an Immense Extended Line, Which the Japanese Will Try to Strike in Flank and Rear.

LONDON, June 28.—Advices from St. Petersburg say that a report from Lieutenant General Scharoff confirms the belief that the great decisive battle of the campaign between General Kurapatkin's main army and the armies of Generals Kuroki and Oku is imminent. The three armies probably aggregate 300,000 men, and their outposts are in touch all along the line.

The Japanese evidently tried to draw Kurapatkin as far south as possible, holding out as an incentive a check to the advance of Oku's main army. Meantime Oku swung sharply to the eastward to join Kuroki toward the Chapian pass. Kuroki at the same time moving a strong force by the right flank toward Hancheng.

The main Japanese advance continues along the main Fengwangcheng-Liaoyang road, avoiding the Maotien pass by a detour to the northward. The advance at all points is being attended by constant skirmishing.

Nothing is known here of the exact point at which Kurapatkin's main force is concentrated, though it is believed that a large part of the Liaoyang force has been moved to a point between Kinchau and Tatchekiao.

According to dispatches from Tatchekiao, a large force has pushed southward from Tatchekiao against Oku. While Kurapatkin is thus extending himself the Japanese, with great mobility, seem to be trying to concentrate for the purpose of striking the Russians in flank and rear.

A brief dispatch from Rear Admiral Withoff, naval commander at Port Arthur, throws little additional light on the sea fight off Port Arthur. The admiralty and the emperor are awaiting further details with the same eagerness as the general public. The latter for the first time received information through the medium of foreign telegrams that a fight had occurred.

The loss of three vessels of the Port Arthur fleet is admitted to be a severe blow, especially if not purchased by greater loss to the Japanese than reported by Vice Admiral Togo.

British Ship a Russian Prize.

VLADIVOSTOK, June 28.—The prize court has condemned the British steamer Alanton, captured by the Russian Vladivostok squadron recently in the strait of Korea for carrying contraband of war, and has confiscated the ship and her cargo of 6,500 tons of antinefite coal, valued at $500,000. The firm at Singapore to which the coal was consigned is the same concern that supplied Japan with contraband during the Japo-Chinese war. The Japanese schooner captured by the Russian torpedo boats at the time of the recent raid has also been condemned. The captains of the prizes are allowed a month in which to appeal.

Exchange Bank Was Lottery Game.

CHICAGO, June 28.—An alleged lottery scheme, which is said to have netted its operators hundreds of thousands of dollars annually, was disclosed when the Manhattan Exchange bank, situated at 150 LaSalle street, was entered by United States marshals, who arrested John H. Dalton, politician, and L. A. Gourdain on warrants sworn out by postoffice detectives. The warrants charge that lottery tickets were sent out of Illinois by the Manhattan Exchange bank in violation of the interstate commerce law. Dalton is well known in the federal courts for his connection with lottery concerns in the last few years, having paid fines aggregating several thousand dollars.

Edward and Kaiser at Kiel.

KIEL, Prussia, June 28.—The German naval review planned to be held here has been abandoned at the request of King Edward. After viewing a grand boat procession the emperor received the winners of the Hellogland race on board the Hohenzollern and presented the prizes. King Edward attended a reception given by the empress on board the Hohenzollern. His majesty chatted affably with many of the empress's guests. Last night King Edward, Emperor William and the members of the royal party attended a banquet given by the Royal Yacht club in honor of King Edward, who is an honorary member of the club.

Is Unable to Explain.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kan., June 28.—First Lieutenant William H. Plummer, Sixth Infantry, U. S. A., who disappeared ten days ago, has been brought back from Hiawatha, Kan. He is in a hospital and will be tried by a court martial. He says he is unable to explain his absence. Lieutenant Plummer was appointed to the army because of excellent service in a Massachusetts volunteer regiment during the war with Spain.

Judge Kyle For Panama Zone.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 28.—Judge Osceola Kyle of the Eighth Alabama district court, while in this city, was officially notified of his appointment as one of the federal judges of the Panama canal zone. He will resign as soon as he qualifies for the new place, which he will accept.

Farmer Hanged Himself.

NYACK, N. Y., June 28.—While temporarily insane Philip Leiby, a New City farmer, committed suicide by hanging.

CHARLES HAWLEY, Greenfield, Mass.

I am pleased to inform the public that I have arranged to give every adult calling at my store Wednesday, June 29, a free trial package of Dr. Gossom's Kidney and Bladder Cure. This wonderful remedy is performing cures which seem almost miraculous. As my supply of Free packages is not large, it will be to your interest to call early.

HOW TO OBTAIN Summer Boarders!

There is in New York City one daily newspaper which has made tremendous gains in popular favor during the past five years. Its net cash paid circulation is over 100,000 copies daily throughout every section of New York City (including Brooklyn), larger than that of any other recognized resort medium. This newspaper's readers are among the wealthy, and well-to-do, intelligent people—those who can afford and do take extended vacations in the country during the summer. It carries more resort advertising than any other morning newspaper, so the public

naturally look to it for information as to where to go.

An advertisement in its columns is, therefore,

exceedingly valuable and sure to produce results. This paper is

The Keans could not get rid of giving dinners even when out in Chicago. They've got the habit.

A St. Louis sculptor is executing a bust of William Jennings Bryan. This should not be confounded with the "bust" to be executed at the St. Louis convention.

For the sake of the solution of the problem of aerial navigation it is to be hoped that Santos-Dumont will be more successful than Bryan at St. Louis next month.

Fairbanks was given a warm welcome by his home people upon returning from the Chicago convention. Jim Martine says warm welcomes can't be counted in the returns on election day.

The bestowal of an honorary degree on Henry M. Maxson is a fitting recognition on the part of Alfred University of his real worth. Under Dr. Maxson's able supervision the Plainfield Public Schools have attained a standard that has called forth unlimited praise from the foremost educators and leading educational journals in this country.

According to some interviews with prominent Democrats, published by the Elizabeth Evening Times, Grover Cleveland is the favorite at the county seat. The same is true in this city and generally throughout the State. If former United States Senator James Smith could induce the Sage of Princeton to accept a nomination from the Democratic National Convention, New Jersey would undoubtedly present his name. And there are some who say that he would sweep the State on election day.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

All the matches which have been played in the tournament for the championship of the Dunellen Tennis Club have resulted as follows: Casselberry vs. Fisher, won by Casselberry, 6-1, 6-1; Platt vs. Gardener, won by Platt, 6-2; Fedderman vs. Wilcox, unfinished; Coriell vs. Kennedy, won by Coriell, 6-2. Matches that have not yet been played will be played off this week.

The patronage given the Dunellen A. C. at the game with Clinton Avenue on Saturday, was very small considering the quality of ball which the reorganized team is putting up and the strenuous efforts which are being made to keep a team in the field, it seems as if the support should be better. As it is the team is scarcely paying expenses.

The congregation of the Presbyterian church was given a reception last evening by its new pastor, Rev. Mr. Casselberry and his wife. The affair took place in the church parsonage and was a very pleasant one. A large number were present and the occasion served to make many acquaintances with one another.

A game has at last been arranged between the Dunellen A. C. and the New Market Y. M. A. The teams will clash next Saturday and interest is high among the fans. The fine record of the Y. M. A. so far and the splendid work of the reorganized Dunellen team makes the outcome doubtful.

William G. Holton Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will entertain the officers of the State order at the meeting this evening. Several new members will be initiated and afterwards there will be a collation and a general good time. This is one of the big events of the local order of the year.

The game between the Dunellen Field Club and the Levering & Garrigue's team was not played on Saturday. It will probably be played at some future date.

Walter Hazeltine, of Washington avenue, is spending some time in an extended trip over the country. He will not return home until August.

The tournament for the championship of the Dunellen Tennis Club was not finished on Saturday as a number of contestants did not show up.

The Levering & Garrigue's baseball team will play the Bound Brook team on the Madison avenue grounds next Saturday.

Work has been started on the new side tracks which the Central Railroad is going to build through Central park.

Mrs. VonMinden, of New Market, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sandford Staples, of the borough.

The regular monthly meeting of Court Dunellen, I. O. F., was held last evening.

Street Commissioner Staats is at work repairing culverts around town.

Peter Apgar, of Front street, is confined to her home by a slight illness.

R. W. Coriell and family entertained out-of-town friends over Sunday.

The young son of Willard Apgar is recovering from a slight illness.

Clarence Smalley, who is severely ill, has suffered a relapse.

Mrs. W. Teepie, of Perth Amboy, has returned home after a few days' visit with friends here.

SUBLINE DIGNITY OF CHRISTIAN PRIESTHOOD

ministers."

Continuing, Father Egan said in part: "On an occasion like this, beholding a young priest celebrating his first solemn mass, we all are moved to consider anew the sublime dignity of the Christian priesthood. We are like-wise not unmindful of the awful responsibility that this office begets—and if this is so, how dependent must a man be upon the prayers of the faithful for its due and proper fulfillment. I know you, my dear brethren, will not, you cannot forget to ever pray the Great High Priest in Heaven, that He may guide and bless him whom we this day honor. May the ministry with which he has just been richly invested be a source of untold blessings to those whom he shall meet on the journey of his sacerdotal life, and may he be in all things prosperous, and be a joy to the church that has chosen him to sit in the sanctuary of the living God, abiding the time when Christ shall welcome him to everlasting happiness, rewarding him for the conscientious fulfillment of the great and sublime duties of that priesthood and the possession of that unspeakable delight that eye hath not seen nor mind conceived what is in store for those who love and serve the living God. In the familiar greeting of priest to priest, 'Ad multos plurimisque annos.'"

Priests as His Guests.

After the service at St. Mary's Church Sunday morning, when Rev. Charles Boone celebrated his first high mass, his father, Dr. W. O. Boone entertained all the priests present at the service at dinner. The guests included Very Rev. Dean Smyth, former rector of St. Mary's, Father Egan, the present rector, Very Rev. Dr. Dyer, of Baltimore, Father Albert, of Washington, D. C., Father Clifford and Father Federal.

His Father Much Alive.

In connection with a recent announcement concerning the advancement in business of Edward T. Perrine, formerly of this city, a report was in circulation that he was the son of the late James R. Perrine, who at one time was one of Plainfield's leading citizens. Mr. Perrine is not dead, but on the contrary is very much alive and living at 11 Brevoort place, Brooklyn. He is engaged in business in New York.

No Time for Baseball.

Lynch, who has been playing a few games with Alts, failed to show up on Saturday. Inquiry about the matter brought forth the information from Manager Johnson that the right fielder got married on Wednesday, and enough said.

GETTING ACQUAINTED

BUT VERY FEW PEOPLE REALLY KNOW BIG CHICAGO.

NOT ALL DIRT AND ODORS

Many Pretty Residence Districts with a Flavor of Village Simplicity—Where Business Cares and Hustle Are Forgotten.

Chicago.—You can live for years in Chicago, and at the end have scarce a speaking acquaintance with her, so difficult it is really to know the city.

Typical Chicago.

fairly well. I am just starting in to pursue the acquaintance with any sort of zeal, and must confess I also am just beginning to grant any sort of justice to the big, rushing town in which I dwell. I so hated her dirt, her odors, her unkempt bigness, I failed to pay her the homage due her many wonderful successes; heretofore had not realized the solid, quiet world that existed in good measure within her wide domain. But recently I was given opportunity to see her better, saner self, and am tardily becoming enthusiastic about her.

I find she is not all made up of depressing contrasts, a few beautifully-kept boulevards and many squalid, poverty-stricken streets; but, now here, now there, you may come upon communities quite village-like in their temperate prosperity, their pretty, moderate-sized houses, their carefully cultivated "yards." Here dwell folk of comfortable incomes and leisure; sturdy, but not haughty; domestic, social, agreeable; not over-ambitious, over-zealous climbers after the gods of wealth and social distinction.

Just a Little Way Out.

The other day, weary to the death of town bricks and smells and bang.

I boarded a local train to go somewhere, anywhere, away from the town's oppression. I knew not where I would alight, cared not, only felt the impulse to get away from the stifling of many jostling people. The train started, and the farther it got the deeper it got into close-huddled houses, massed humanity. Dreadful, horrible seemed Chicago, naught but factory and railroads and freight trains and drugging men and women. It were better to abide at home and bury oneself in a book, read of green fields and running brooks. But, stay, after a bit I find the aspect of things changing; dense flat-areas are giving place to blocks of small cottages, each with ground space about it; there is not such oppression of industry now noticeable.

Far back from the track, in among the trees, are glimpses of houses, roomy, verandahed, groups of children playing on the porches and lawns. Surely no race-suicide here, no land-lord sign of "No children." The train makes frequent stops, and we get good views of the local life; see boys and girls laden with wild flowers that, spring and summer, blossom most generously in this prairie region; see ladies engaged in wholesome work in flower gardens; see rows and rows of delectable fresh-looking vegetables. Village life of a truth.

When the watch's minute-hand marks 20 minutes from time of taking the train, I alight at a tiny station bearing the alluring title of Walton; a name to fishermen suggestive of the cherished sport of angling, to me hinting of the running brook. Everything about Walton wears the varnished green of June. You step from the tracks into high grass; a block away, on either side the steel highway, the most verdant of woods invite. Is this stopping-place then a pure wilderness, the only inhabitants the birds I hear, the squirrels and rabbits I see running about with such freedom and trust? No, over there and there rise roofs of houses. I will investigate.

A City Village. I walk the block to the woods, and find this side the rows of trees a long village street, extending far as the eye can reach. The houses are all on one side, face the woodland, and every house stands in spacious, shady grounds. At the first place I see a comely middle-aged woman setting out pansies, so intent on her work she pays no heed to her fellow townsman from 50 blocks away. For fellow townsman I am, this charming, little village in which the gardener lives being well within the city limits. This is no suburb, this is still Chicago proper. And whoever dreamed of such a blessed spot within the confines of the town? There is nothing to suggest city life here, the one railway being concealed behind the screen of trees. The gutter blossoms with wild geranium and meadow-rue, some more squirrels scamper across the road, another rabbit appears. Birds carol, children laugh and call, all the air is full of unhampered youth, of care-free gaiety. I notice the children have on as few clothes as possible, that the women wear simple wash-dresses. I observe a pretty girl mount a step-ladder, tying up vines, a rosy, charming country miss, with a trim, charming city frock to show she has not given up style simply because she is a little "out." I come upon a family having their supper in the side-yard, and it seems to me this is the crowning touch to the city-village.

That I may get to the station in time and see what manner of men dwell in this Arcadia, I soon retrace my steps. Yes, they are coming, hurrying over each other to get at the particular small arms stretched their particular way, sniffing the posy brought as a bit of welcome to "Papa;" then, with their companions, leisurely walk up the streets to their pleasant abodes that, after the day's combat of business, must seem a very heaven of refreshment. Typical Americans I judge them, alert, intelligent, kindly. They saunter down the street, me eaves-dropping after them, and as the front gate swings to behind each vanishing figure and each group of rejoicing children, I smile at the glimpse of the old-fashioned family life offered here, and think we need not be so pessimistic in regard to the tendency of married folk to escape household cares. Here people seem to have them plenty; and not only accept them, but consider them the road to happiness.

Pleasant Social Life. I decide to stay awhile and study the folk of Walton from various viewpoints. First, I must find a roof, and this I do at the abode of a washerwoman, a friendly soul, at peace with the world; good friends with her employers, having a house and fraction of land of her own to engage her attention and give her independence.

The Union Church. The next day, being Sunday, my Irish landlady walks a mile away that she may receive the blessings of attendance at mass, and I stroll out to "the street" to go to church with the crowd. The crowd all pass one way, and presently we come upon a pretty little churchy structure, vine-adorned, tree-surrounded—the union church. Yes, in this Utopia, no creed nor sect dissent; there are funds for only one church, so one church is built, and a pastor installed that will be careful to avoid dogma and other cause for dispute. To be sure, the catholicity does not make a universal appeal; there is my washerwoman, for instance; and the Episcopalian's gathering in that handsome barn over the way, the interior of which they have converted into a place of ecclesiastical form. In the social gatherings, which I learn about later in the week, the lines are drawn even less firmly than in church matters, and the fact that you are settled in Walton is introduction in itself. Calls are made and exchanged promptly, invitations are given and accepted, and very soon the stranger is on easy terms with his neighbors. What matter if he is 20 blocks from downtown; he has a congenial set right about him. I say good-bye to Walton with regret. I, too, would like to settle in the city-village.

Children and Society—Girl Work. It is not optimism that accounts for my growing fondness for Chicago, for surely the town is fast improving under the awakened civic pride of the townspeople. All classes are being stirred to take a share in the work of transformation, and it is of much interest to observe the divers sorts and conditions of folk that are showing enthusiasm over the cleaning and beautifying of different localities. One of the post office employes has converted a rubbish heap back of the downtown post office building into a garden, which reclaimed spot is called by his friends a park and named in his honor. A certain society girl on the West side, instead of spending her youthful energies in the commonplace way of entire devotion to amusement, is zealously leading a movement to keep clean and make pretty a certain portion of her neighborhood. And think of the power she will be able to wield! Surely indifferent aldermen will bow to beauty's call, lazy Dagos jump to obey her command, white-gloved policemen step lively when she bids. And a veritable children's crusade is another feature of the present movement in Chicago, children of the wealthy and children of the slums all taking an interest in this effort to make the "Lady of the Lake" fair and seemly.

The next day, being Sunday, my Irish landlady walks a mile away that she may receive the blessings of attendance at mass, and I stroll out to "the street" to go to church with the crowd. The crowd all pass one way, and presently we come upon a pretty little churchy structure, vine-adorned, tree-surrounded—the union church. Yes, in this Utopia, no creed nor sect dissent; there are funds for only one church, so one church is built, and a pastor installed that will be careful to avoid dogma and other cause for dispute. To be sure, the catholicity does not make a universal appeal; there is my washerwoman, for instance; and the Episcopalian's gathering in that handsome barn over the way, the interior of which they have converted into a place of ecclesiastical form. In the social gatherings, which I learn about later in the week, the lines are drawn even less firmly than in church matters, and the fact that you are settled in Walton is introduction in itself. Calls are made and exchanged promptly, invitations are given and accepted, and very soon the stranger is on easy terms with his neighbors. What matter if he is 20 blocks from downtown; he has a congenial set right about him. I say good-bye to Walton with regret. I, too, would like to settle in the city-village.

Children and Society—Girl Work. It is not optimism that accounts for my growing fondness for Chicago, for surely the town is fast improving under the awakened civic pride of the townspeople. All classes are being stirred to take a share in the work of transformation, and it is of much interest to observe the divers sorts and conditions of folk that are showing enthusiasm over the cleaning and beautifying of different localities. One of the post office employes has converted a rubbish heap back of the downtown post office building into a garden, which reclaimed spot is called by his friends a park and named in his honor. A certain society girl on the West side, instead of spending her youthful energies in the commonplace way of entire devotion to amusement, is zealously leading a movement to keep clean and make pretty a certain portion of her neighborhood. And think of the power she will be able to wield! Surely indifferent aldermen will bow to beauty's call, lazy Dagos jump to obey her command, white-gloved policemen step lively when she bids. And a veritable children's crusade is another feature of the present movement in Chicago, children of the wealthy and children of the slums all taking an interest in this effort to make the "Lady of the Lake" fair and seemly.

To Be Hoped So. Wife (looking up from paper)—What was Hobson's choice?

Husband—Mrs. Pope. I am, this charming, little village in which the gardener lives being well within the city limits. This is no suburb, this is still Chicago proper. And whoever dreamed of such a blessed spot within the confines of the town? There is nothing to suggest city life here, the one railway being concealed behind the screen of trees. The gutter blossoms with wild geranium and meadow-rue, some more squirrels scamper across the road, another rabbit appears. Birds carol, children laugh and call, all the air is full of unhampered youth, of care-free gaiety. I notice the children have on as few clothes as possible, that the women wear simple wash-dresses. I observe a pretty girl mount a step-ladder, tying up vines, a rosy, charming country miss, with a trim, charming city frock to show she has not given up style simply because she is a little "out." I come upon a family having their supper in the side-yard, and it seems to me this is the crowning touch to the city-village.

That I may get to the station in time and see what manner of men dwell in this Arcadia, I soon retrace my steps. Yes, they are coming, hurrying over each other to get at the particular small arms stretched their particular way, sniffing the posy brought as a bit of welcome to "Papa;" then, with their companions, leisurely walk up the streets to their pleasant abodes that, after the day's combat of business, must seem a very heaven of refreshment. Typical Americans I judge them, alert, intelligent, kindly. They saunter down the street, me eaves-dropping after them, and as the front gate swings to behind each vanishing figure and each group of rejoicing children, I smile at the glimpse of the old-fashioned family life offered here, and think we need not be so pessimistic in regard to the tendency of married folk to escape household cares. Here people seem to have them plenty; and not only accept them, but consider them the road to happiness.

Pleasant Social Life. I decide to stay awhile and study the folk of Walton from various viewpoints. First, I must find a roof, and this I do at the abode of a washerwoman, a friendly soul, at peace with the world; good friends with her employers, having a house and fraction of land of her own to engage her attention and give her independence.

SOUVENIR OF THE JAPANESE

Bell at Annapolis That Was Presented to Commodore Perry Fifty Years Ago.

One of the reminders of the early friendship of Japan for America now adorns the grounds of the naval academy at Annapolis, Md.

Suspended in a pagoda-like structure just off "Lover's Lane" is a queer looking bronze bell of unique design. It usually attracts the attention of visitors, but few ever learn that it possesses a history of importance. It was presented to Commodore Matthew Perry on July 12, 1854, by the regent of the Lewchow islands, a dependency of the Japanese empire. Commodore Perry was at that time commander in chief of the United States squadron in the Asiatic seas and minister plenipotentiary, charged with the duty of opening intercourse between Japan and the United States. After his death, in 1858, Mrs. Perry presented it to the naval academy, in fulfillment of his wish.

The bell is covered with an inscription in Japanese, which was recently translated by a young Japanese who was at one time a student at the naval academy. The inscription reads as follows: "In the eighth year of Bunko and Konohe Taro of the reign of the king of Lewchow, Kip-shi-yo-hi-ho-o offered a prayer of benevolence for the people and afterward ordered a large bell to be founded. He did this as an act of thanksgiving, and presented it to the temple of Daisen Anji, in the kingdom, in order that the king might reign prosperously and live long, and that the people of the three worlds, Heaven, Earth and Hades, might be saved from infernal doctrines, and therefore it was that he instructed Shoku-an to frame this inscription. This beautiful bell has been founded and hung in the tower of the temple. It will awaken dreams of superstition. If one will bear in mind to do right as a truly, the lords and ministers will do justice in a body, the barbarians will never come to invade. The sound of the bell will convey the virtue of Tsuchi, and will echo like the singing of Tenrai, and the benevolence of the Lord will continue forever like these echoes.

The 20th day, 10th month, 7th year, Kaitai.
Shui Eishi
Chief Priest of the Temple, Emonoske Tsurigawa Kumitomo, Founder of the Bell.

As the "7th year Kaitai" refers to the year 1456 of the Christian era, this bell is exactly 448 years old.

CANOEING IN SWIFT WATER.

Seasonable Suggestions for the Amateur Who Wishes to Enjoy the Sport.

To give any description of handling a canoe in rapids would be a waste of time, both for the writer and the reader. The best way to learn is first to watch some one do it and then try it yourself under his direction. You will soon find out which is the safe water and how to force the light craft over the seemingly impossible falls. Running rapids, provided they are not too bad, appeals to me as one of the most exciting forms of sport and exercise that I know of. Never attempt a rapid that you do not know can be run without examining it from end to end to see that it is possible, and also to get an idea how to take it. Many a man has lost his life through neglecting this precaution, and remember that a rapid which is safe to-day may not be so in a day or two, as the rising and falling of the water will frequently make it impassable or at least very dangerous.

I scarcely envy anyone his first attempt at shooting rapids if he suffers as I did. From an overhanging rock I had carefully watched a guide go through the galloping, foamy waters, and then, after emptying my canoe and leaving my watch and other unnecessary articles on shore and putting my heart carefully into my mouth, I made for that noisy little run of water. What I suffered when the curling wavelets first struck the canoe was bad enough, but nothing to the agony of the return trip, when, traveling with startling speed, the whole river seemed a mass of menacing rocks being boiled in the seething water. How I got through I do not know, but I came safely to the smooth water, and after a rest made another run with less trepidation. Then, loading the canoe with my light outfit, I took her through with little difficulty.

Women as Expert Mariners. In some coast villages among the Danes, Norwegians and Finns, women are employed as sailors and prove themselves to be expert mariners. In the smaller sailing ships, where there is a woman on board, whether she be the wife of the skipper or the stewardess, she is expected to take her turn at the ordinary work of the sailor, not even excluding the duties of the man at the wheel or of the night watch. Denmark employs several women as state officials at sea. Experienced captains assert that the women make excellent sailors and are equal to most men in dexterity and power of endurance.—London World.

Victims of Alcoholism. During the last 30 years there died in Europe alone of alcoholism a total of 7,500,000 people. That is more people than were killed in all the wars of the nineteenth century. The authority for these statements is a professor in the University of Denmark, who goes on to show that in Denmark one out of every seven men who die between the ages of 35 and 55 is a victim of alcoholism.

CIRCUS WOMEN GOOD WIVES

They Lead Strenuous But Not Unhappy Lives and Enjoy Home Comforts.

"Of all the women engaged in public employment there are none who are better known in a public manner by the great masses of people living in city and country than circus women. And there is no class of women in public employment who are so little known to the general public in a private manner. There are no women who are so little understood, whose real character is so little discussed from a correct standpoint."

The speaker, says the Chicago Tribune, was a man connected in an executive capacity with one of the largest shows in the world, and whose experience in the amusement field has been sufficiently diversified to make him an authority. "I must confess that there has been nothing that I have seen in my surroundings that has given me so much surprise as the women of the circus," he continued. "Several years ago as a reporter and critic around the theaters of several cities gave me an intimate knowledge of the women of the stage, and I did not fancy there was much difference between them and the women of the arena. But there is."

"The latter day stage, with its insatiable demand for young and pretty faces and forms, particularly in those most popular forms of stage entertainment, comic operas and extravaganzas, enlists thousands of young girls from every walk of life and all stations in society. It is safe to say that the vast majority of them are without talent or training, and the moment the bloom of youth vanishes their usefulness is at an end and their living is precarious and various. Few marry, or, if they marry, they usually marry nomads like themselves.

"Nothing of that sort may be said of the women of the circus. To begin with, they are comparatively few in number. So seldom are they enlisted from the general public that it might be well said that they must literally be born to the business. At least nine out of every ten circus women have circus parents. The remaining one marries into the business or gets into it through a brother, sister, or some other relative. No manager of a first class circus will engage a female performer in any capacity unless she is accompanied by some male relative. The reasons for this are many and obvious to any one who will give the subject a moment's reflective consideration. This rule is so general that exceptions to it are rare.

"Dispensation is an impossibility among circus women and is seldom indulged in by circus men, performers, or executive officers. Managers enforce the most stringent rules against dissipation in its every form, and will accept no excuses. The first offense brings a heavy fine as a penalty, and instant dismissal invariably follows a second violation. The nature of their work makes it impossible to dissipate. Not only their livelihood, but life itself, depends upon a clear mind, fair muscles, and steady nerves. Their lives while on tour are made up of the most vigorous activity. Their work is from early morning until late at night, with no opportunity to gain any rest or recreation away from the show. Midnight must see them in their beds on the trains. After that hour the car doors are locked, and if they are behind time their trunks and belonging are simply placed outside along the track and their engagement is at an end.

"Circus women are most devoted wives and mothers who take life seriously and soberly. I believe that there is no other class of women in any sort of employment where they come in contact with the public which supplies so little food for scandal.

"Their home life in winter is pleasant and agreeable. Some of them, but not many, work in the theaters in the winter time. It is a most curious fact that few of them care to live in the large cities, but make their homes on farms or in small towns. There they have their small circles of friends and relatives and pass the time away in the usual social functions and household affairs, many of them preparing their wardrobes for the coming season on the road. Few of them ever become indigent or dependent upon their families or the public authorities.

"They, of all women in the world, most truly appreciate and enjoy the comforts and blessings of a home after being compelled to be away for six months—in a strange town and among strangers every day, and in the narrow confines of a sleeping berth on a circus car every night. It is a hard life, but by no means an unhappy one. The rigorous labor and plain but good food and abundant sleep bring good health and attendant good spirits and pleasant disposition.

"Charity in its truest sense abides among them. The slightest call for aid from them always elicits a ready and hearty response. The 100 women with a show like ours are surrounded by their male relatives and 500 other men, each one of who considers himself the protector of their welfare and their honor, and we betide any one who assails either. I maintain that circus women are a credit to their calling and an honor to their sex."

Old Jug Repaired a Church. A church-warden of West Malling (Kent) parish church discovered in a lumber-room some time ago a peculiarly-shaped jug, which was subsequently identified as a rare old Elizabethan stoup. An offer of £50 for it was refused, and the church authorities decided to send it to Christie's, where it was sold for £1,100. With the proceeds the authorities have just completed several important improvements in the fine old church. Parts of the fabric have been restored, a new porch has been erected, and the seating accommodation has been greatly improved.—London Tit-Bits.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

Manager Denman expects the Y. M. C. A. team to play at Westfield some day next week.

The Reform Club's next game is with the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon on the latter's grounds.

John Ramsey, of High Bridge, pitched for Summit against Madison on Saturday, losing the game by a score of 1 to 0.

"Warry" MacLaughlin pitched a great game for the Elizabeth Stars on Sunday. He allowed the Gloucester team two hits and won his game by a score of 10 to 1.

A newly-organized knocker's club attended Saturday's game between Alis and Murray Hill, and the players were obliged to listen to a lot of "jolly." Loyal support of the home team with plenty of legitimate rooting would be far better.

According to the Elizabeth newspapers, the Y. M. C. A. baseball team of that city lays claim to being the whole thing in the National game. If the team wants its real worth it can do so by coming here and meeting Alis. If they win, the aggregation will have a basis for its claim.

It is reported that Bradley, formerly of Alis, will play third base for St. Mary's new team. Another report says that Jack Dunn will play with the Saints and that Doescher and Jackalitch will be the battery. An effort is being made to have the first game played Saturday, July 16, instead of July 30.

In response to the demand for a baseball game here on Fourth of July afternoon, Manager Johnston feels as though he must put on the game with the crack Hoboken team. No doubt the team would lose money by going out of town that day, especially for a $100 guarantee. By playing home the Alis Club will make money. Mr. Johnston expects that his team will be able to reverse the score of a week ago with Hoboken. In the morning of the Fourth the Murray Hills will be here for a second game.

ON THE TRACK.

Robert A. Fairbairn, of Westfield, has been selected as one of the judges for the eleventh annual horse show of the Monmouth County Horse Show Association to be held at Long Branch July 27, 28, 29 and 30.

REPORTER KILLED IN BATTLE

A LONDON CORRESPONDENT MEETS DEATH IN SKIRMISH AT WAFANGTIEN.

(Special to The Daily Press.) Tientsin, June 28.—It is reported that Edward F. Knight, the correspondent of the London Morning Post, with the Japanese army, was killed at Wafangtien.

Several engagements between the Russian and Japanese forces have been reported as having occurred at or near Wafangtien, that town being occupied by the Japanese June 19, and it is possible that, if the report of Mr. Knight's death be true, he was killed in one of these battles. Spectators at one of the engagements state that they saw three horsemen appear on a hill, one of whom resembled either an American or British attaché. This man fell from his horse when the Russians fired and was evidently killed.

A STORY OF ILLINOIS IN PIONEER DAYS

By MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD.

THIS is what Mrs. Catherwood often called her favorite story. Mrs. Catherwood loved the simplicity of pioneer days in the west, and around these three historic characters has woven a charming romance. The place of the story is New Salem, Ill., and the time when Lincoln was keeping a store there and studying under Minter Grayham. It is
