

ST. MARY'S GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT EXERCISES

Sixteen Pupils Are Graduated, Programme Being Given in the Parochial School Hall.

FATHER EGAN SPEAKS

MISS ELIZABETH BROWN IS THE VALEDICTORIAN.

Salutatory by Miss Mary McCarthy—An Operetta is Presented—It's Title "An Irish May Day"—Singing by the School.

The closing exercises of the grammar department of the parochial school of St. Mary's parish was held in the school hall last night. There was a large attendance, and the audience enjoyed a most delightful programme, in which musical music was prominent.

Sixteen children graduated: Mary McCarthy, Christine McKeen, John Gansfield, Cornelius McCarthy, Elizabeth Brown, Mary Murray, John McKeen, Harry Forristal, Ada Flatley, Annie Callahan, Elizabeth Casey, Jeanette Hand, Warren Seaman, William Summers, Thomas Kennedy and John Casey. The first four named doubled their studies during the past year and will graduate with the commercial department pupils tomorrow night.

Miss Mary McCarthy delivered the salutatory. Her address was happily worded. The valedictorian was Miss Elizabeth Brown. She spoke upon "The End Crowned the Work," her main theme being that labor conquers all. The essay was cleverly handled. Certificates admitting the graduates to the commercial department were presented by Father Egan, the rector. He made a striking address to the graduates, urging higher ideals of study and living in their advanced schooling.

The principal feature of the entertainment was the presentation of the operetta, "An Irish May Day." The cast was as follows:

Mrs. Carey, Miss Elizabeth Casey; Mary, Nora, Sheila, Mrs. Carey's daughters, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Miss Loretta Walsh, Miss Mary Murray; Eileen, Mrs. Carey's daughter, Miss E. E. Harrahan; Captain Miles Fitzgerald, Master James Buckley; Daley, Captain Miles' daughter, Miss Nora Callahan; Maurice, Mrs. Carey's son, Master John McKeen; Gerald, Mrs. Carey's son, Master Harry Forristal.

The operetta was full of merry jingles and dances. It was well acted and cleverly sung. All the young actors and actresses were roundly applauded, and deservedly. James Buckley and Nora Callahan were particularly clever.

There were four brilliant dances in the operetta, and a chorus of 100 children's voices supported the principal members of the cast. The first of the dances, the Shamrock Dance, was stripped by Mary Connelly, Josephine Rock, Madeline Dady, Madeline Seaman, Mabel Schuck, Ella Lappan, Mary Crosby, May Kennedy, Mary Traynor, Katherine Powers, Anna Callahan and Ada Flatley. In a Gypsy Dance the following children took part: Nora McCarthy, Margaret Brown, Florence Buckley, Regina Brady, Theresa Murray, Mary Sullivan, Earl Moran, John Motley, Patrick Powers, Edward Harrahan, William Sullivan, William O'Leary. The following took part in a minuet: Thomas Kennedy, George McCusker, William Summers, Warren Seaman, John Casey, Edward O'Leary, Helen Mullen, Jeanette Hand, Katherine Galbraith, Emma Killoran, Lillian Fennessy, May Huntington. As a grand finale a Country Dance was stepped by Katherine Kelly, Mary Kyle, Emma Killoran, Ella Lappan, Lillian Fennessy, Bridge Hepper, Helen Mullen, Katherine Galbraith, Mary Crosby, Margaret Conway, Mary Conway, Katherine McCauley.

Sister Mary Kather and Madam Menzies Bartlett, the physical culture teacher, trained the children in all their parts and dances.

In addition to the operetta there was a piano solo by Miss Smith, the church organist; a recitation, "Robert of Sicily," by Miss Blanche Skinner, and the singing of Poe's "Bells" by the school.

Miss Mary E. Lewis to Wed.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Lewis, daughter of Mrs. George Lewis, of this city, and Henry Clifford Riley, of Bishopville, Md., will be married on Tuesday, July 12, at the Lewis homestead, Bishopville.

SEATS FOR 575 AT PARK

GRANDSTAND ENLARGED AT BAND CONCERT PARK.

Additional seating capacity sufficient to accommodate 100 people, has been arranged for, at the Band Concert Park grandstand. This will allow accommodations for 575 persons. It has been stated erroneously that the grandstand, which was erected at a cost of over $100, was donated. This notion was caused by the donation of the small stand used as a bandstand, which did not cost the management anything.

Bandmaster Ben LaVere said last night, that because of a report to the effect that no collections would be taken on the stand, the receipts from that source had been so light that it will take two more concerts, at the same rate, to bring the receipts up to the expenditures. In case no increase takes place in the collections it is likely that the concert set for July 14, will be postponed.

GUARDSMEN AT SEA GIRT

PRACTICE OF NEW JERSEY SOLDIERS FOR 1904 HAS BEEN BEGUN.

Practice for the season of 1904 on the State rifle range at Sea Girt has been begun by the National Guard of New Jersey, and for two months the sharp crack of the Krag-Jorgensen rifle will resound over one of the finest rifle ranges in the world. Plans have been formulated, which will enable the men of the Second and Third Regiments and the regiments in the First Brigade as well, to get plenty of practice this year without interference in any respect.

Arrangements were made last summer for the "regulars" stationed in New York harbor to practice for their qualification on the rifle range, as they did not have any range in the vicinity of the harbor where they could camp and shoot conveniently. There was an impression prevalent last year that the presence of the "regulars" prevented the Jersey guardsmen from having free access to the targets. This was erroneous since the "regulars" manned the targets and provided their own scores. As they seldom took possession of more than a score of targets, and there are 125 on the range, it is evident that the practice of the Jersey guardsmen was not interfered with.

BISHOP ON CHURCH MUSIC

GREGORIAN CHANT MUST BE USED EXTENSIVELY IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

Half of the priests of the Diocese of Newark, including Father Egan, of St. Mary's church, were on retreat last week at Seton Hall College. At the concluding conference of the retreat Friday, Bishop O'Connor addressed the clergy on the subject of church music.

He said nothing to the effect that boys would be substituted for women in the church choir, nor that women will be eliminated from the choir. Whether the women will remain in the choir will depend upon a decision of a commission appointed in New York recently. The bishop said the recommendations of the commission will be followed in Newark diocese.

The bishop informed the priest, however, that operatic features must be abolished from the church music, and the Gregorian chant used more extensively. Palestrina music and that recommended by the Cecilian society will be permitted.

To Act on Dr. Egan's Call.

The second quarterly conference of Grace M. E. church will be held to-night after the midweek prayer meeting. Final action in the matter of releasing Rev. Dr. Egan from his pastorate, to accept the professorship of sociology in Syracuse University, will be taken. Rev. Daniel Halloran, the presiding elder, will preside over the conference. He will be the speaker at the prayer meeting.

In Justice Huff's Court.

Two contract suits have been brought in Justice Huff's court against Thomas J. Walsh; one by the A. A. Griffing Iron Co., and the other by J. A. Murray. Papers in both cases are returnable July 6. Execution has been issued in the case of Samuel Werner against Wm. A. Shoemaker, and Chas. Holstein against Michael Armstrong. Both are contract suits.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED AT L. T. L. EXERCISES

Young People Participate in a Speaking Contest for a Silver Medal at Closing Meeting.

MISS ETHEL VAIL WINS

REWARDS ARE ALSO GIVEN FOR ATTENDANCE AND DEPORTMENT.

Session in W. C. T. U. Rooms—Miss May E. Howlett in Charge—Songs Rendered and Speeches Made.

Presentation of a silver medal in a prize-speaking contest and other prizes for good attendance and deportment, together with interesting addresses, marked the closing exercises of the Loyal Temperance Legion last night. The entertainment was held in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union's rooms in Madison avenue, and there was a large number of persons present. The Legion will not meet again until next fall.

Miss May E. Howlett, superintendent of the Legion, was in charge of the programme. Miss Ethel Vail won the silver medal, her selection being "I'll Take What Father Takes." Other contestants and their selections were: "No Drunkard Needs There," Miss Sadie Stelle; "The Mouse and the Boy," Miss Lulu Bookstallow; "Since Papa Doesn't Drink," Miss Hilda Bennett; "Daddy's New Dress," Miss Anna Vail.

In addition to the prize speaking there were these songs: "The Bird With the Broken Wing," Miss Hilda Bennett; "Spirit of Water," Miss Julia Lemasty; "What Would Mother Say," and "I Use to Kill Birds," by the Legion. Miss Kizzie Neagle presided at the piano as the accompanist.

Other features of the programme were an address of welcome by the Legion and a written address on the contest by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parson. The judges of the contest were William Langer, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parson and Mrs. Ira West. While they were deciding the question as to who should receive the medal, there was an address by Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson, county president. Afterward Miss Keron, county secretary of the Legion, made an address and presented the medal to Miss Ethel Vail. Mrs. Parson then made a short address.

Mrs. P. H. Bennett presented a white flower to Miss Mabel Field for excellence in deportment, while Miss Field, Miss Ethel Vail, Miss Elsie Clark and Miss Elsie Fennell also received prizes for excellence in attendance and deportment.

Drunken Women in Court.

Martha Parkinson and Mary Moore, both of 692 West Fourth street, were in the city court this morning, charged with being drunk and disorderly. The Parkinson woman was sentenced to pay $5 fine, or spend twenty days in jail. As she had not succeeded in raising the necessary cash at noon, it is likely that an enforced vacation at the county's hotel will fall to her portion. The Moore woman was subjected to a severe lecture by Judge Runyon, who wound up by suspending sentence on her.

K. G. E. Election.

Freedom Castle, Knights of the Golden Eagle, elected officers at its meeting last night. The elections were as follows: Noble chief, William Allen; vice chief, Albert Levers; high priest, W. T. Banks; venerable hermit, L. A. Hummer; treasurer, John Bicknell; trustee, William Day. Installation will take place next Tuesday night. The ceremonies will be followed by a collation.

Charged With Non-Support.

To answer to a charge of non-support, preferred by his wife, John Burgess, colored, of 214 Plainfield avenue, was arraigned this morning before Judge Runyon. He was arrested yesterday by Detective McCarthy. The defendant promised to do his duty and was released under suspension of sentence.

Alleged Robbers Not Guilty.

John McGilvary, Timothy McCarthy and Daniel J. Carriz, the three men accused of robbing the Central Railroad station at Westfield, were acquitted yesterday, their trial being held before Judge Vail in Elizabeth. They were released.

DR. EDWARD MOLDENKE BORNE TO RESTING PLACE

Last Sad Rites Over Lutheran Minister, Who Died From Grief Over Disaster.

FUNERAL EULOGIES

SERVICES IN NEW YORK ATTENDED BY BIG CONGREGATION.

Prof. Spath, of Philadelphia, Makes Funeral Address—Floral Tributes Magnificent—Interment at Watchung Today.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Rev. Dr. Edward F. Moldenke, senior pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran church, at Lexington avenue and Fifty-fourth street, New York, were held last night in the Beekman Hill M. E. church, in Fifty-sixth street near Second avenue, in that city.

Dr. Moldenke, who was sixty-eight years old, died at his summer home, "Elsinore," Watchung, on Saturday, and it is believed that the Slocum disaster was indirectly the cause of his death. Twenty members of his congregation were lost in the burning of the steamboat.

Pastor Moldenke was, perhaps, the best known Lutheran minister in New York. His congregation numbered 3,000 families. So great was the crowd at the services last night that the reserves from one of the police stations were called out. Hundreds were unable to get into the church.

Prof. A. Spath, president of Mount Airy Seminary, Philadelphia, a life-long friend of Dr. Moldenke, made the funeral address. Rev. D. W. Peterson, president of the New York Lutheran Conference, and Rev. Dr. J. J. Heischmann, president of the New York Ministerium, also made addresses.

The platform and altar rail were literally covered with floral pieces. Among them were eight huge wreaths, four crosses, three harps and a half dozen broken columns, as well as six "Gates Ajar." The casket had for a foundation a mass of roses and carnations.

This morning the remains were brought to this city for interment in a private vault near Dr. Moldenke's home at Watchung.

The 12:46 train from New York had a special car attached, bearing the remains of the dead minister and a party of friends and relatives from the city. Eighteen coaches met the train and took the party to "Elsinore," the late home of the clergyman, where the services were held, the body being interred in a family vault on the property.

FAREWELL DINNER FOR CLASS

L. H. BIGLOW, JR., ENTERTAINS SUN-DAY-SCHOOL PUPILS.

Lucius H. Biglow, Jr., who, with his family, will leave for Long Island tomorrow to spend the summer, entertained his Sunday-school class of boys last night at the Park Club. It was a farewell dinner and no pains were spared in making it enjoyable. In all there were twelve persons seated at the table. The table was appropriately decorated in true Fourth of July style, there being an arrangement of flags, bunting and favors representing firecrackers and skyrocketers.

After the dinner, the young men spent the remaining part of the evening in bowling, playing pool and billiards and have a general social time. In the fall Mr. Biglow and his family will move to Montclair. While in this city Mr. Biglow has been very active in the work at the First Baptist church and there he will be greatly missed.

These persons were present at the dinner: L. H. Biglow, Jr., A. W. Day, H. H. Woodland, Fred Armstrong, Everett Hartley, Herbert Du Bois, Chester Hollinson, Kenneth Robb, George Egel, Jr., DeWitt Brokaw, Allen Vanderhoef and Harry Joseph.

E. E. Victim's Relative Heard From.

George W. Cole, the undertaker, has received telegrams from the wife and brother of J. P. Lowmney, of Brooklyn, Mass., asking for particulars of the death of their relative and promising detailed instructions immediately.

SILVER HOSE CART TO LEAVE PLAINFIELD

Relic of Volunteer Days May be Loaned to Rahway Firemen for Safe Keeping.

FORMAL OFFER MADE

NO PLACE TO KEEP IT PROPERLY IN THIS CITY.

Brightening Up the Valuable Cart Costly—Plainfield to Retain Proprietary Rights—To Consider Proposition.

After many years in dusty and unsafe quarters, the old Amity hose cart, the silver mounted treasure of the Exempt Firemen, may very shortly find proper housing. The Rahway Exempts, to whom the carriage has been loaned for their Fourth of July celebration, have made a formal offer to the local Association to store the priceless relic in its building, which has ample and perfect facilities for sheltering it.

For a great part of its stay in this city the cart has stood in dirty, and more or less exposed quarters. When the cart was driven from the rooms over Gaselle Engine house on Second street by the organization of the paid department there was no particular or proper place for storing it, and since then it has dragged out a very humble existence in barns and other unsatisfactory places, its only bright moments being at the time it has gone to Elizabeth or other towns to be shown in parades or celebrations.

Disfiguring tarnish has been threatening the magnificent alligator work on the silver mountings for lack of cleaning, but the way in which it has been stored hitherto has made it impractical to have the necessary polishing done. At least $30 would have to be spent in cleaning and polishing the silver work properly, and the Exempts have not felt that the expenditure would be justified as long as the cart must go back into the conditions that made the cleaning necessary.

These considerations have led to a serious consideration of the Rahwegians' offer. It is very probable that the Exempts will vote to accept it, being careful to retain every proprietary right in the machine.

JOHN E. KEELY WEDS SECRETLY

MISS MARIE M. GARRY BRIDE AT A CEREMONY AT NOON TODAY.

Stealing away without the knowledge of their relatives, Miss Marie M. Garry and John E. Keely were married at noon in St. Mary's church. Father Egan officiated.

The young people were engaged and their relatives were aware of their intention of marrying, but today's ceremony proved a complete surprise to their relatives and friends.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Keely left for a wedding trip.

The groom is the owner of the Keely Livery Co., and is proprietor of a coal yard. He is the Plainfield street sprinkling contractor.

BOYS' CAMP TO OPEN.

Jersey Y. M. C. A. Lads at Lake Wawayanda, Sussex, Tomorrow.

The Jersey Boys' Camp will be conducted under the auspices of the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations at Lake Wawayanda, Sussex County, opening tomorrow, and continuing for four weeks. One hundred or more boys will be in each party for a period of two weeks. The advance party started for the camp last week under the leadership of Charles R. Scott, State secretary boys' work, and have spent several days in preparing the camp for the summer campaign.

This is the fourth year that the State committee has conducted the camp, and over five hundred boys throughout the State have enjoyed the privileges at this beautiful lake. The camp has been a success from the beginning, and the committee have every reason to believe that this year will be the best in its history.

—Another new typewriter and the latest improved mimeograph have been purchased this week by the Plainfield Business College.

—Mrs. H. C. Drake has ordered a big plate glass show window for her store on North avenue, to match the window in the Sattels piano store.

DESCRIBED HER SLUM WORK

MRS. DIEHL TALKED TO METHODISTS ON HER MISSIONARY LABORS.

Mrs. J. D. Diehl, the field agent of the Church Extension and Missionary Society, of the Methodist Episcopal church, of New York city, delivered an address on the church settlement work of the Methodist church in the slums of the metropolis at Grace M. E. church last night. Her talk was profusely illustrated with stereopticon slides, showing the houses of the slum denizens before the society workers come among them and the improvement that follows the advent of the missionaries.

There was a large audience, in which the congregations of the First and Monroe Avenue M. E. churches were represented. The lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Grace church Epworth League.

A good sized silver collection for the benefit of the work was taken.

TAX LAW IN EFFECT FRIDAY

COLLECTORS REQUIRED TO SELL LANDS ON WHICH TAXES ARE IN ARREARS.

The State Board of Taxation is calling attention to the fact that the last Legislature passed an act requiring tax collectors of all municipalities in the State to begin proceedings for the sale of lands on which the taxes for the preceding year are unpaid. The new law becomes effective July 1.

Under the old act it was necessary for municipal bodies to issue warrants for the sale of lands bearing delinquent taxes, and the original owners had twenty years in which to redeem the lands so sold. This made it unprofitable and risky for any one but the municipal authorities to pay the tax on the lands, and so secure them. The new act makes a radical change, and provides that persons buying the land the conditions mentioned may proceed after two years to sue in the Court of chancery for a settlement or a deed.

For several years past bills have been presented in the Legislature providing for the publication of the assessment lists so as to enable the taxpayers to compare their assessments with others. The new act provides that assessors must file a copy of the assessments with the clerk of the municipality, and this list must be kept open at all times for inspection by taxpayers.

MISS PHILLIPS' PUPILS RECITAL

MUSICAL AT FAITH CHAPEL BEFORE AN ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.

Miss Frances L. Phillips and her pupils gave a pleasant recital at Faith chapel, last night, before a large and appreciative audience. The programme was an excellent one and well rendered by pupils from the first grade to those nearing perfection. The numbers given by the Misses Katharine Shea, Blanche Stryker, Irene Day, Margaret Stryker and Louise Davis with the remarkably fine work of the young pupils, Irene Stoffel, Margaret Lair, Lena VanZandt and Sadie Davis, deserve special mention.

The violin selections by Mrs. George W. Sannes were up to her usual excellence and the vocal selection by Miss Bertha VanN. Willis was a treat. In Miss Phillips is found the rare combination of pianist, vocalist and teacher, as exemplified in her pupils. Her touch is pleasing and her vocal work was appreciated by the audience. Miss Florence Randolph, an amateur in vocal work, possesses a high soprano and promises to develop into a singer of merit.

Others who gave piano selections were the Misses Florence Nichols, Katie Stols, Irene Stoffel, Mary VanClef, Lillian VanDerVoort, Edna Magaw, Louise Dalry, Louise Roseman, Jennie Robertson, Clara Weber and Mrs. E. H. Mamie Phillips. All of the pupils received handsome bouquets of flowers from relatives and friends.

Graduation Tonight.

The graduates of the commercial department of St. St. Mary's Parochial School will hold commencement exercises tonight. As at the previous graduations, a class play will be the chief feature of the programme of entertainment. Following the commencement, the alumni will hold a reception and dance in the hall. Prof. Eugene O'Reilly will furnish the music.

Miss Anna Daley has started upon a five-weeks' vacation.

YOUNG LAWYER WEDS MISS MINNIE CALLAHAN

John P. Owens the Groom at a Solemn Nuptial Mass in St. Mary's Church.

THE BRIDAL PARTY

MISS MAMIE CONNOLLY AS THE MAID-OF-HONOR.

William Owens as Best Man—Four Priests Officiate—Mr. and Mrs. Owens Off on Wedding Trip.

With the splendor of the solemn nuptial mass, Miss Minnie Callahan was made the wife of John P. Owens, the popular young lawyer, this morning, at 10 o'clock. The ceremony took place at St. Mary's church, being performed by Rev. Michael J. Glennon, assisted by Rev. J. A. Westman, of Cranford, as deacon of the mass and Rev. Charles Boone, of this city, as sub-deacon. Rev. A. M. Egan was master of the ceremonies. Father Glennon is a classmate of the groom's, both having graduated from Seton Hall College in the class of '98.

The church was decorated with pink and white flowers and the sanctuary was a mass of palms and ferns. The regular quartette of the church, consisting of Miss Annie Daly, Miss Lizette Day, Joseph O'Keefe and Albert Mathews, rendered the musical portion of the service, accompanied by Miss Mary Smith on the organ. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Thomas Callahan, of Richmond street. The little flower girls were Nora Callahan, a sister, and May Troy, a cousin of the bride, dressed in white and carrying baskets of lilies of the valley.

The bride looked charming in a gown of peach d'ecole, trimmed with chiffon and lace, and wearing a veil. She carried a white prayer-book, the gift of the groom. Miss Mamie Connolly, the maid of honor, wore white mull and carried pink sweet peas. The four bridesmaids, Miss Helen P. Callahan, a sister of the bride, Miss Anna Ryan, Miss Katherine Leahy and Miss Mary Leahy, wore blue mull and carried shower bouquets of roses. William Owens, a brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Jeremiah Callahan, a brother of the bride, Jeremiah Callahan, Jr., a cousin of the bride, Maurice Owens, a brother of the groom and John Coan, of South Amboy, a classmate of the groom.

Each of the bridesmaids received from the bride a handsome hand-painted gauze fan, as did the maid of honor. The flower girls received pearl necklaces from the bride. The groom's gifts to the best man and the ushers, were gold cuff links in the friendship knot design.

A wedding breakfast, at which about fifty guests gathered, was served at the bride's home after the service. After the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Owens left for a fortnight's trip, their destination being kept a deep secret.

COAL AT $6.25 ON FRIDAY

PRICE TO ADVANCE TWENTY-FIVE CENTS A TON ON JULY 1.

According to the announcement made some time ago, the local coal dealers will on July 1 raise the price of anthracite to $6.25 per ton, which will be twenty-five cents more a ton than at present. This will probably be the prevailing price for several weeks and when another jump is made to $6.50 it is quite likely that it will remain there for some time.

Some time ago the local dealers complained about the way the operators withheld their supply of coal, claiming that this was done for the purpose of getting an advanced price. Since then the operators have been more generous and they have been keeping the retail dealers well supplied with coal of the various sizes.

The quality of anthracite being received here now is excellent, in fact, the dealers claim it is the best they have handled for some years, being very clean and free from slate. Last year many complaints were heard because the coal contained so much slate and in some instances was very dirty.

AMONG MEN IN THE SHOPS

SEEN AND HEARD IN PLAINFIELD'S INDUSTRIAL PLANTS.

William Sherwood has resigned his position at the Fedrick-Ayer Company's plant.

Gustave Martin will take charge of Camp Wannamassa, at North Asbury Park, this season.

Otto Nere, of Goddington avenue, has resigned his position at F. L. O. Martin's repair shop.

Thomas Neuman, of West Third street, has returned from a visit with New Brunswick friends.

William Moore, of the borough, has resigned his position at the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's plant.

Patrick Nelson, who was injured at the Pond Machine Tool Company's plant a week ago, has returned to his position.

Four thousand more men will be dropped from the pay roll of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, at Philadelphia. Six thousand have already been dropped. The reduction is due to lack of orders for locomotives.

Daniel Olston, of the Standard Surgical Instrument Company's plant, who left for St. Louis two weeks ago, returned to his position yesterday. Olston went as far as Harrisburg, Pa. and on hearing that trade was dull came home.

SNAP SHOTS.

SIDE LIGHTS ON TIMELY TOPICS NOTED IN PASSING.

A mouse met death in a strange way in the carriage house of the Hedden livery stables on East Fourth street yesterday afternoon. One of the tires of Mr. Hedden's bicycle, which was filled with a thick, sticky patent fluid for preventing the escape of air through punctures, started to leak, and a stableman hung it on a nail in the carriage house. The sticky compound ran out and spread over the floor. The mouse ran into the pool and stuck fast. He was found gasping on his side, exactly as a fly is caught on fly-paper. Duke, Frank Hedden's big collie, finished the mouse with a nip back of the ears.

Asbury Park's luxurious flyer which will begin with the summer schedule Sunday is announced to make the run to and from New York in 75 minutes. No intervening stops are to be made between this city and the metropolis. The popularity of this splendid summer service is sure to be unbounded. To the Central Railroad Company belongs the credit of an innovation also rather unexpected but doubly appreciated on that account. While the railroad company is to be commended for its unsurpassed train accommodations, it seems a pity that more freight handlers cannot be employed at the freight depot. Merchants should not be asked to unload their own freight at this busy season.—Asbury Park Press.

A Model Newspaper.
It is gratifying to note that the circulation of "The Record" is constantly increasing in our vicinity, for there is no more able exponent of up-to-date journalism. We congratulate the management upon the fact that "The Record's" enormous circulation is gaining volume all through the State. It is surely deserving of the confidence of a large patronage. Although an appreciation of the stirring qualities of Pennsylvania's leading newspaper seems quite a matter of course, it may not be superfluous to state that "The Record's" daily visits to our sanctum are fraught with much pleasure. Its facilities for gathering the news of the world are unsurpassed, and it presents this abundance of news in the most attractive form. The average newspaper reader little suspects the gigantic task involved in the handling of telegraphic and cable dispatches from every quarter of the globe every night, and the editorial judgment displayed in getting everything within the available space. With "The Record" it is never a case of "sitting up." The question is "to get everything in," and to make the various articles readable irrespective of length or relative importance. Naturally the most important news takes precedence, but this does not mean that the happenings that interest the comparative few should be sacrificed. It is this sort of treatment of the news that has built up the paper's large country circulation. Moreover, "The Philadelphia Record" is essentially a family paper. Its woman's page, for instance, is a most excellent feature that is fully appreciated by the busy housewife. Its agricultural notes have for years been regarded as authoritative. Its editorial page is scholarly and dignified, and its financial news and market reports are famous for their accuracy. In fact, there is no better newspaper published than "The Philadelphia Record."

Thomas Carby, of Orchard place, is in New Brunswick visiting friends.

SYRACUSE BOYS WIN

Great Intercollegiate Regatta at Poughkeepsie.

CORNELL WON FOUR OARS WITH EASE

In the Great Race of the Meeting, the Eight Oar Varsity, and in the Freshmen's Syracuse Oarsmen Won by Handsome Margins.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 29.—The perennial Cornell spell is broken, and the comparatively small number of Syracuse men in town are in a state of hilarious delight, in which surprise at their own achievement is quite as active a factor as the delight, for in two out of the three races on the Poughkeepsie course, the only races in which she was entered, the crews of Syracuse university won victory from the sons of Cornell in a fashion which will return all hands here another year seeking further honors.

In the four mile eight oar varsity race and in the freshman two mile eight oar race the Syracuse oarsmen won by handsome margins, coming out of obscurity in the minds of the boating sharps so marked that the friends of Syracuse could not find takers for bets at 1 to 12. Cornell won the four oar varsity race with ease.

Wisconsin, which was thought to threaten all competitors in the four oar and varsity races, was never a factor, coming in fourth out of five in the four oar race and last in the varsity.

Columbia, the "dark horse," whose mysterious doings upstream have led to a good deal of solicitude on the part of all of her competitors, did well in the four oar race, in which she came in second, though she made but a feeble showing in the others, coming in last in the freshman race and fourth in the varsity.

No records were broken. Indeed the time was slower than for three years in two of the races and more than a minute and a half slower than last year in the varsity race. What might have been done in the varsity race had Cornell pushed Syracuse may be inferred from the statement of the Syracuse coxswain, in which he is quoted as saying that his men were prepared for a surprise from Cornell in the last part of the race and were ready for it with reserve power to hit up their speed materially, but they were not pressed in any part of the race.

The effect of the unexpected victory of Syracuse is very marked here in a great increase in all manifestations of interest in the racing in general and in vows to make next year's regatta a contest surpassing all those of the past. Fireworks, singing crowds and a great din of tooting horns kept the people of Poughkeepsie awake until far into the night.

The weather was on the whole nearly perfect for racing. Dashes of rain marred the enjoyment of the spectators somewhat, and a rather brisk southerly breeze toward the close of the day made the water somewhat rough, to which the slow time may be attributed.

Cornell led off at the pistol shot in characteristic style, but lost her lead almost immediately to Syracuse, which with a quick stroke pulled out ahead of the race, was increased to five lengths at the finish. Once, near the two mile mark, Cornell in a fine burst of speed did press her sturdy rival on almost even terms.

Decision Against Chippeway Indian.
WASHINGTON, June 29.—Justice Anderson, in the supreme court here, has sustained a demurrer upholding the department of the interior in its defense of a suit brought by Joseph Nagannab, a Chippeway Indian, who claims that his tribe will be injured if the order of the secretary of the interior should be carried out setting aside 300,000 acres of Minnesota pine timber, worth $3,000,000, as a perpetual forest reserve.

English Colonel Killed.
LONDON, June 29.—Colonel Bloomfield Gough, who during the Boer war was ordered home for refusal to obey General Lord Methuen's orders, has been killed in a carriage accident at Kelso, Scotland. Gough, at the time he refused to obey orders, was in command of the Ninth lancers. He claimed that his men and horses were not fit for duty and refused to lead them to destruction. He was a veteran of the Afghanistan campaign.

A STORY OF ILLINOIS IN PIONEER DAYS

By MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD

It is a story of the martyr president, Abraham Lincoln; of the war governor of Illinois, Richard Yates; of Lincoln's sweetheart, Ann Rutledge. It is located in New Salem, Illinois, at a time when Lincoln was a young man there. In characters, plot, location, time and literary merit it is an ideal story. Mrs. Catherwood called it her favorite. Remember the opening chapters

THE SLOCUM HORROR

Captain Van Schaick Testifies at Inquest on Disaster.

DID HIS DUTY AS FAR AS POSSIBLE

Commander Brought Into Court a Cripple—Knee Broken Jumping Overboard in Shallow Water While Clothing Was Afire.

NEW YORK, June 29.—William H. Van Schaick, captain of the steamboat General Slocum when it burned at the entrance of the sound, with the loss of more than a thousand lives, has testified at the inquest held by Coroner Berry at New York. He was wheeled into court in an invalid's chair, and his examination had to be interrupted to allow him to recuperate. Other witnesses testified in the interval, one of whom, the Slocum's candy counter clerk, contradicted the captain to the extent of saying that he had never seen or taken part in fire drills on the Slocum. The captain said that he had held three on the boat this year, but when asked to say in what they consisted replied that he could not tell exactly.

Once under way Van Schaick answered most questions, sometimes after temporizing, but generally as the prosecutor wanted. He said that only 250 new life preservers had been put on board the Slocum since 1891, and all that he recalled by way of repairs to them was that new straps were put on 300 last year. He told a whole lot of things that Federal Inspector Lundberg of the steamboat bureau did not do. He said Lundberg, who refused last week to testify at the inquest on the ground that to do so might tend to incriminate him, boarded the Slocum this spring and examined "maybe ten, maybe a hundred," of the Slocum's life belts. He did not inspect the hose, Van Schaick said, nor test the lifeboats and life rafts. He made no tests of the life preservers in water, said Van Schaick, who added that the Slocum's life preservers had never been tested in water. The bar cashier, who testified, said that the bartender tried to get some of these lifebelts on the day of the fire and that they burst, scattering cork all over the bar.

When Van Schaick was told that the district attorney had asked all the questions he wanted to, the captain turned to the jury and said:

"I want you gentlemen to understand that I did all in my power that could be done under the circumstances at the time of the accident. I could not turn the boat and beach her any sooner than I did. I remained standing in front of the pilot house until we struck. Then I started to go down stairs.

"A volcano of fire had broken out along the decks and was sweeping up the stairways. I could not get down the stairs. Some one yelled, 'Jump for your life, captain!' and then I jumped overboard. I struck in shallow water on the rocks and broke my knee. My clothes had been on fire. I was stunned.

"A large, fleshy woman and a young nurse girl came to me and dragged me up over the rocks to the shore. Then I managed to crawl up to a small tree, and I lay down under it. As I looked toward the Slocum I saw the pilot house and the upper decks fall."

Van Schaick's explanation started the jurors asking questions. They demanded explanations of the delay in notifying the captain that there was fire on board and how he reconciled his information with the stories of passengers who began to jump off at Ninety-second street.

The district attorney wanted explanations too. All that the captain could say was that he did his duty, did his best and couldn't explain. He said that he gave no orders to the crew after he knew of the fire.

The witness said he had been on the General Slocum since the boat was built in 1891, that he was fifty-three years old, that he had been a boatman for forty years and master of vessels for thirty years.

Blind Helen Keller a B. A.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 29.—Helen Adams Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind girl whose wonderful achievements have made her name familiar throughout the world, was the central figure among the ninety-six ladies of Radcliffe college who received their degrees of bachelor of arts at the hands of Dean L. R. B. Briggs, the president of the college. Miss Keller was attended by Miss Sullivan, her teacher and companion, and when her name was called and she rose to receive her degree the large audience broke into hearty and prolonged applause.

French Cruiser For Haiti.

PARIS, June 29.—The French cruiser Jurien de la Graviere has been ordered by the ministry of marine to proceed to Haiti to insist on the punishment of those guilty of the outrage against M. Deprez, the French minister, who was stoned by the palace guard at Port au Prince recently while driving with the minister of Germany.

Will Only Demand Punishment.

BERLIN, June 29.—It is semi-officially stated that the satisfaction which Germany and France will demand from the government of Haiti for the attack on the respective ministers of those countries by the palace guards at Port au Prince will consist of the punishment of the guilty persons.

Plainfield, N. J., June 29, 1934.

Davy Baird's friends have presented a diamond to the astute politician of Camden. Most politicians get so many gold bricks that this gift must have been somewhat of a novelty.

In its caustic style the Somerville Unionist-Gazette attacks the Trenton State Gazette for saying some unkind things about former State Senator L. A. Thompson. It brings to mind the unwarranted attacks made on former Senator Reed by the Somerville paper. "People in glass houses—" Nough said.

John Oulton Dana, of the Newark Public Library, has compiled statistics concerning the reading matter of the American people. He concludes: "This is the newspaper age. No single person reads everything in a newspaper, but each item and advertisement is read by some, and the total effect of all this reading must certainly be tremendous."—Ex.

Surely the people of this city will not permit the much prized silver hose cart, a relic of volunteer fire department days, to be loaned indefinitely to Rahway on the ground that there is no place to keep it properly in Plainfield. The local exempt firemen should be able to arrange for a suitable place for the valuable cart. Before taking any final action it would be well for the firemen to lay the matter before the Common Council.

Now that the coroner's jury has fixed responsibility for the Slocum disaster, it is to be hoped that the proper authorities lose no time in bringing the eleven accused men to justice. A charge of manslaughter is likely to be preferred against each of them. If guilty of the criminal negligence attributed to them by the coroner's jury, no punishment can be too severe. It is to be hoped that there will be no miscarriage of justice in this instance and that heaviest possible penalty be inflicted on those to be blamed for the loss of so many lives.

—The young son of Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott, of West Front street, who fractured his arm in falling out of a tree a few days ago, is doing well.

—E. E. Brown, of Astor place, has taken his naphtha launch from Bound Brook, and launched the boat at Seawaren, where it will remain for the balance of the season.

THE FORUM.

Communications from readers of The Daily Press on all subjects of local interest are invited. All such communications must be signed by the writer. His name will not necessarily be published. The editor is not responsible for views expressed in this column.

Editor, The Daily Press:

As a lover of good clean baseball and one interested in the development of the game in this city, I want to enter a protest against the methods employed by Manager Denman, of the Westfield Baseball Association, regarding his trouble with the Allis management. For one thing, I believe that the Plainfield newspapers have given Mr. Denman too much free advertising. This city has a good ball nine and one that should be supported. It is not necessary to help Manager Denman by advertising his aggregation and games in the local papers. It was predicted after the Allis-Westfield disputed contest that Westfield would feel the lack of patronage from this city, and this assertion has come true.

The Westfield management is now giving "business men's matinees" to swell the treasury of the association. Mr. Denman hopes by this move to attract local fans to his camp. It is not necessary for baseball cranks to journey to Westfield to see a good game, and besides such teams as the Madisons, Obathams and other organizations of similar strength, to which Mr. Denman takes exception as not being able to arouse enthusiasm, play clean ball and do not resort to questionable tactics.

Mr. Denman intimates that if he agreed to throwing out the disputed game, it would infer that he deliberately selected an umpire who was instructed to make his sole purpose to decide plays in a manner to insure the game to them. As a matter of fact there were so many suspicious things about the contest that that is exactly what many fans think. The cranks are thoroughly tired of questionable baseball. They want to see contests played on their merits. Until Mr. Oullem began umpiring for Westfield, there was always a question about the indicator's work. Those who remember the work of Umpire Ruddyard will substantiate this. It was impossible for a visiting organization to play at Westfield in those days and get a square deal. The members of the Seventh Regiment team can testify to this as regards their experience at Westfield a year ago. Mr. Denman talks about being on his dignity. It would pay him to come off his dignity and do the only right thing—throw out the disputed game and start with a clean slate. He says it can mean nothing. It will mean a whole lot so far as his future dealings with Plainfield are concerned and it may help his coffers. If Westfield isn't going to disband, and there are enough persons in that town to keep the game "just travelling along" why does he insist on sending communications to the Plainfield and Elizabeth papers in the hope of re-opening of the series. The shoe is pinching pretty hard, and if Manager Johnston's word counts it will continue to pinch until the fory manager comes to realize that he is not the whole thing in baseball. There is no reason why Plainfield should spend its money in Westfield, while there is an opportunity to leave it at home. As for prestige, Plainfield has this already and defeating Westfield would not materially add to her glory, especially under conditions that have existed at Recreation Park. "A Lover of Clean Sport."

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

Following the reception to their older parishioners which Rev. and Mrs. Casselberry, of the Presbyterian church gave on Monday evening, they gave yesterday afternoon a reception to the children of the congregation. Over twenty youngsters were present, most of them members of the Presbyterian Sunday-school, and they had a splendid time playing games, many of which were led by the pastor and his wife. During the afternoon refreshments were served.

Wm. G. Holton Connell, Jr. O. U. A. M. gave his members and visitors an enjoyable time last evening. Several of the State officers were present and several new members were initiated. After the routine business was over cigars and refreshments were passed around and all enjoyed an informal programme that was presented. The affair broke up at a late hour.

Fred Giddes, of Philadelphia, who played last year on Dunellen, will cover second base in Saturday's game with New Market. "Shorty" Alberts will be shifted to the outfield where he plays his best game.

"Abe" Nelson, catcher on the Y. M. A. team, hopes to have his sore hand in trim to go behind the bat in Saturday's game with Dunellen. If he is not able to play the team will be weakened.

In Justice VonMinden's court, the landlord and tenant case of E. S. Schenck against Charles Vail has resulted in judgment being rendered in full for the plaintiff.

The music pupils of Miss Irene Day will give their annual recital in the chapel of the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening. Admission is by card.

Monday night's meeting was the last Court Dunellen, I. O. F., will hold in Apper's Hall. In the future the town hall will be used.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Day are spending their wedding trip at the World's Fair. They are expected home shortly.

Philip Jenner has entered his trotter "Lida Mack," in the Fourth of July races at the Plainfield Driving Park. The Dunellen Tennis Club will probably play a match with an out-of-town club on the Fourth of July.

Willie Dunham has recovered from the effects of an accident in which his eye was cut quite badly.

Miss Louise Doolittle and Miss May Apper sail for Europe on Saturday.

Charles Doolittle entertained Arthur Conant, of Plainfield, yesterday.

David Smith, of New York, spent Monday evening in town.

A. N. Enander is confined to his home by illness.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

While blasting at the Hatfield & Weldon stone crusher on Monday, a number of fine particles of what was pronounced to be gold quartz was exposed. The discovery failed to start the usual gold fever, which always follows such a discovery.

The Ladies' Circle, of the Baptist church, are anticipating a large attendance at the musicale to be held tomorrow night at the home of Mrs. F. W. Westcott.

The weekly meeting of the Chatsauqua Boys' Club will be held tonight in the class rooms of the Methodist church.

The members of the Epworth League hold their monthly social Friday night at the home of Mrs. John Marsh, of Park avenue.

Fanwood Connell, R. A., held its semi-monthly meeting in the library rooms last night.

Phillip Jahn has returned from a visit with friends at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

At the prayer meeting last night, the pastor gave an exposition of the Sunday-school lesson on "The Kingdom Divided."

A literary entertainment is being prepared by a number of local young people to be given after a few weeks.

Miss Edna Eckart and sister, also Miss Bronstein, of Plainfield, visited Mrs. David Bigley yesterday.

William E. Manning took a carriage ride yesterday morning for the first time during his long illness.

Joel Manning is beginning to gather his hay crop which promises to be large.

'PLAINS NINE NOT COMING

TEAM DECIDES AGAINST LOCATING HERE AND WILL QUIT FOR GOOD.

The Scotch Plains baseball team will not locate in this city, a decision to that effect being reached at a meeting of the club last night. This practically means the disbandment of a club, which for the past four seasons has taken prominent part in the National game, defeating some of the best teams in this section of the State, as well as the strongest of the teams in the Metropolitan district.

Starting four years ago with a strictly amateur team, under the management of George Johnston, the present manager of the Allie team, the club thrived and the following season it entered the semi-professional ranks. While other clubs were losing money Scotch Plains was taking in the shekels and strengthening its treasury.

Each successive season found a nice nest-egg to begin the following year's play with. Harmony prevailed and while the town itself was not supporting the team entirely, still there was not one but what had its interests at heart and was always found ready to do their share towards furthering the interests of the club.

During the past winter interest in the club seemed to lag and at one time it looked as though the club would withdraw from the game. Finally after a great howl from the fans it was decided to put a team in the field once more, but instead of paying fancy prices for players, the club thought it more profitable to cater to the demand which had been made in the past for a team of local players.

Manager Hand, in making up the team, selected the pick of Plainfield and Scotch Plains players, his lineup including any of the familiar faces of the popular City League of several years ago. The article of baseball presented by Mr. Hand and his coits was as fast an article as the most ardent fan could have desired. Smiling Jimmy Montrose's work in the box has been very creditable.

During the past five games only three runs have been scored against the team and these were scored on errors, but interest in the game seemed to be gone and it was seldom that the admission revenue would half cover the expense of maintaining the team, even as small as it was. The club decided some time ago that they would continue under these adverse conditions until the club's treasury was depleted, then a halt would be called, as the members did not feel like putting up money for a venture that was not appreciated by the public.

The end came on Saturday, when the team met the Colonial A. C., of New York. What the future means for baseball at the 'Plains can only be surmised, but from present indications the game is down and out for some time, although the time may come when the lovers of the sport may attempt to revive it, but it is doubtful.

Hotel Nelson Opening.
 A formal opening of Hotel Nelson at New Market will take place tomorrow night and the landlord, W. Charles H. Thornton, is going to have open house for the public.

of Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

To South Beach, June 30.

This is indeed one of the most pleasant places for a Sunday School outing—beautiful scenery, bath houses, merry-go-rounds, and every enjoyment for children. We will have to take no boat. Trains leaving North Avenue Station, Plainfield, at 8:45 a. m., sharp; arriving at our beach at 10:15 a. m. Returning—leave the beach at 6:30 p. m., arriving at Plainfield at 7:30 p. m. The schools of the sister churches are invited to go with us. You can cross the river by ferry from the beach and see the Great Coney Island. Secure your tickets in time. Carry your fishing tackle, and bring home some of the fishy tribe. Fare, Round Trip, Adults One Dollar, Children from five to twelve years, net members of our school, 50 cents. We make this rate low, that all who wish to go can do so.

PRODUCTIVE OF SCANDALS

Daughter of Vice President Morton
Bringing Suit for Divorce from Brute of a Husband—Some Exceptions to the Rule.

NEW YORK.—The divorce scandal in the case of the Duchess de Valencay was no surprise to New York. For some time the duchess, who was Miss Helen Morton, the daughter of Levi P. Morton, has been sheltered by her father's The Morton family in society. Its head has been governor of New York and vice president of the United States. Its wealth is ample, its country estate at Ellerslie on the Hudson one of the finest in the country. Mr. Morton himself is in feeble health and old. He is broken by the sorrow of his second daughter's death, which came almost at the same time as the final news of the irrevocable parting of the Valencays.

One of Napoleon's plain-spoken marshals described Talleyrand as a "shovelful of mud in a silk stocking." The description would fit some of Talleyrand's distant relatives of to-day. The man who married Miss Morton is fully named the count of Talleyrand-Perigord. The ducal title of Valencay came from Mr. Morton; at any rate, his money to the tune of $600,000 bought the ducal chateau, and that may or may not carry the higher title. That point is disputed.

In New York Mr. Morton lives in a house on the east side of Fifth avenue, about 35 feet in width—one of those slice-of-cake-shaped houses that cost a lot of money and are bigger than they look. In France his daughter was for a little time nominally the mistress of a great mediaeval palace with a proud name, but with no happiness, actually she never occupied it. It was seized by her mother-in-law.

This lady, the Princess de Sagan, is that rare phenomenon, an aristocrat with a decided personality, and decidedly unpleasant at that. The duke's elder brother was once in prison half a year for forgery. Another member of the family, Charles, was actually been divorced by two American wives.

Other Pittable Cases.
R. MORTON has been vice president when his daughter married abroad. Not the first case in the families of men distinguished in American politics. Gen. Grant's grand daughter married a Russian prince. President Arthur's son married. Miss Edith Van Buren, who was a grandniece of President Van Buren, married the Count de Castelnuovo of Italy, and was badly treated by him.

Other cases turned out better; the early ones apparently more often than those of recent happening. Thus the daughter of Preston King married the French minister, Waddington. Her memoirs, which have just been published, reveal a happy life spent in high places, vexed by nobler cares than trouble the titled do-nothings who seem preferred by so many silly girls nowadays.

To this latter class belong the Prince Rospigliosi, whose noble family have made miserable the life in Rome of the former Miss Marie Reid of New Orleans; the Baron von Schellendorf, who took his Cincinnati bride to German East Africa and tortured her by drunken attentions to dusky rivals; the Baron Halkett, whose American wife is now a hermit in the Adirondacks; the Prince Colonna, who, with the proud record of a thousand years of nobility behind him, drove the adopted daughter of John W. Mackay from his home with her two children; the Baron de Focke, arrested for embezzlement in Vienna within the honeymoon with his bride, Miss Anna Cox, of New York; the Count Larisch-Monich, who was backed by a marriage syndicate in his campaign for the hand of Miss Mary Satterfield, heiress of eight Standard Oil millions in Buffalo.

In spite of the marriage last winter of the duke of Roxburg and Miss Goelet, the fashion of international romances is decidedly going out. And Roxburg, unlike the creatures who have been named, is a manly fellow well worth marrying on his own account.

Cabe Case's Tavern Morn.
N GABE CASE a picturesque New York character has passed away. Case was born in the city; almost no one is, so that this alone was a distinction. In successive taverns in the upper part of the city he catered to those horse people who before the advent of the automobile fared forth of the city gates to find dirt roads and room for speed in Westchester county.

Gabe Case was the founder in this section of the practice of setting up a man of champagne for the first driver—amateur, of course—who reached his hotel in a sleigh or cutter and upon runners each autumn. The man was always taken after a quarter inch of rapidly fading snow, and of course it brought to the hotel enough custom to more than compensate for the cost of the wine. Afterwards other hotel keepers copied the idea. One man in Yonkers used to set up wine for the first bicyclist to reach his place every year. Result a race beginning at one minute after midnight between 50 or more hooting scorchers, making night hideous, and sometimes pedaled through six inches of snow. After the winner got his supplies, the others still had a thirst to assuage.

Thirteen years ago Case moved for the third or fourth time to McGown's Pass tavern in Central park. Gov. Flower and his staff had a festive dinner there. In his day Case knew well Robert Bonner, W. H. W. K. and "Commodore" Vanderbilt; the Jeromes, the Works and other people who loved horses because they were horses.

"Citizen" Genet's Son.

NE doesn't need to have read much American history to remember the row that was made more than a century ago about "Citizen" Genet, the French minister who in the time of the Paris revolution came to this country to prevent a British-American alliance—of which, by the way, there was no danger.

Genet's son died the other day in New York, where he had lived all his 80 years. His father, the minister, who came to this country in 1793, remained and became a citizen; he was a friend and admirer of George Clinton, and when in his middle life a son was born to him he gave the boy Clinton's name. So when George Clinton Genet died so recently New York took—not of course, so much interest as in a prize fight or something really important—but a decent degree of interest.

For it was a curious fact that this gray-haired old man had heard in his youth from his father's own lips reminiscences of both the French and the American revolutions; and that thus a single life intervened between Washington and the present day.

Genet married an Albany lady of good family and practiced the law until 15 years ago and gained a fortune.

This country has always had an attraction for Frenchmen of title or ability. Few men of his day knew our west better than Chateaubriand. The Bonapartes of Trenton and Baltimore are a famous case in point. It has long been believed by many that Marshal Ney was never really shot by the soldiers of the restoration, but escaped to this country and lived here many years. And the story of Eleazer Williams' identity with a missing dauphin belongs to the curiosities of history.

Authors with Money.

ANY jokes have been exploded at the expense of Irving Bacheller and Hamlin Garland, who went to Mexico with the object, as the funny men will have it, of buying gold mines. As a matter of fact Garland is an experienced miner and both men have earned big money by their pens, so they could try their luck if they wished. Bacheller, who already has a beautiful seaside place in Connecticut, is preparing to build a new one of magnificent proportions. I do not see how he can bear to leave the study he has built of native granite upon a rock fairly overhanging the water.

All the successful authors seem to take to country places of manorial size. Winston Churchill's mansion up in New Hampshire is a show place for miles around. R. H. Davis has a place up the Hudson with a private golf course, kennels and stables; but he married money. Frank Stockton had but just moved upon a big Virginia plantation with a stately mansion when he died, older far than he looked with his sprightly figure and keenly intellectual face. One of the finest houses I have seen in New York was that in which the late Paul Leicester Ford did his writing—fine, that is, from a writing man's point of view. The library was vast and well-filled, partly with books that old Gordon Ford, Paul's father, who was one of the owners of the Tribune, had collected.

Authorship was 15 years ago a very uncertain business. The number of men and women who earned more than $4,000 a year by their pens, except in newspaper work, was small. The great sale of fiction of recent years has changed matters. Suppose, for instance, that Mr. Churchill's new book goes to 200,000 copies; multiply that by 20 cents a copy—and his royalty is probably more than that—and you can see that the proceeds will keep up a New Hampshire mansion for some time.

SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

It is rumored that Courtney, who plays third base for Murray Hill, may fill the same position for Allie.

Manager Daab, of the Hobokens, has released Outfielders Wall and Andeberg, formerly of Rochester.

The baseball fans would like to see Quinby made captain of Allie. He is especially qualified for the position.

The Underwood baseball team has reorganized for the season. The aggregation is composed of the pick of the local school nines.

Quinby, playing short for Crescent A. C., on Saturday against Englewood, had a record of four times at bat, one run, one hit, four put outs, six assists and two errors.

Herman Long, who for years, was considered the finest short-stop in the country, has retired from the game for good, his arm having gone back on him. His palmy days were with the Boston.

It is understood that Manager Johnston has been negotiating with John Ramsey, of High Bridge, for the purpose of securing this twirler for the Allie team. On Saturday he held Madison down to four hits.

The Oubon X Giants defeated Hoboken several days ago by a score of 8 to 5. This was the second consecutive defeat for Manager Daab's team and a shake-up may be looked for. McKenna pitched on Sunday.

Lynch, the Brown University pitcher, had his second try-out on Saturday against Chicago. After pitching a winning game, allowing Chicago but three hits, he made a wild throw of a ball in the ninth inning and lost the contest.

The fast Hoboken team has been playing in hard luck during the past two weeks. A week ago Sunday the nine was beaten by the Philadelphia Giants. Last Saturday Trenton Y. M. C. A. defeated them for the third time this season and on Sunday the Oubon X Giants defeated them by a score of 8 to 5.

If Allie plays a series of games with the Hobokens, and then another series with the same nine under the name of St. Mary's, the local baseball fans will have plenty of fine sport for some time to come. The St. Mary's management claim to have a signed agreement whereby the Hobokens are to play for them.

Nat Strong, manager for the Murray Hill, announces that he will put Tyler, the Columbia College twirler, in the box against Allie on Fourth of July morning, and Manager Daab, of the Hobokens, says that Lindeman will face Allie in the afternoon. With these two fine pitchers, Manager Johnston will have to look after his pitching department for that day.

STOLEN GIFTS FOR HIS GIRL

DANIEL C. WALDRON, OF MARTINSVILLE, CHARGED WITH ROBBERY.

Accused of stealing opera glasses, a camera and other valuable articles to give to his sweetheart, Daniel C. Waldron, a prominent young man of Martinsville, a village six miles from Somerville, N. J., was arrested in Bound Brook yesterday. The charge of robbery is preferred by Morris Rosenthal, who keeps a sporting goods store at Bound Brook. The articles were found in the rooms of Miss Lucy Oullens, of Martinsville, by a detective who went there with a search warrant, and were identified by Rosenthal as having been taken from his store. Miss Oullens said Waldron had given the articles to her as presents.

County Detective Totten began to "shadow" Waldron and found that he was engaged to be married to Miss Oullens, a pretty school teacher, whose home is in Pennsylvania, and she had resigned her position in the Martinsville school to prepare for the wedding. Waldron stoutly denies his guilt. He was taken before Justice Kitchen, in Somerville, and released on bail to await the action of the Somerset Grand Jury.

FAIR ACRES CLUB DISBANDED

DRIVING ASSOCIATION TO BE SUCCEED BY HORSE SHOW ASSO.

At a recent meeting of the Fair Acres Driving Club it was decided to discontinue the organization and to send the cash balance in the hands of Treasurer J. S. Irving to the Children's Country Home, a fresh air institution of that town.

It was decided to form an association to be known as the Westfield Horse Show Association, and a large two-day show will be given on Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15, at the pretty half-mile circle.

The executive committee intends to make this show "one of the most attractive shows in this vicinity, and no effort or expense will be spared. Any information regarding the show will be cheerfully furnished by H. F. Condit, secretary, No. 71 Broadway, New York, or Westfield, N. J.

GOV. MURPHY'S CHOICE.

He Indicates That E. C. Stokes Will Probably Succeed Him.

That Governor Murphy is convinced his successor in the gubernatorial is to be Clerk of Chancery E. C. Stokes was shown yesterday when he refused to name a private secretary until he could ascertain what appointment would be acceptable to Mr. Stokes, the idea being to keep the secretary in office for the new administration. The appointment is to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of John L. Waynes to the post of Assistant Attorney General.

Juniors at Dunellen.

Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., paid a fraternal visit last night to William G. A supper was served late in the evening, during which remarks were made by a number of the officers of the order.

Trying Apparatus.

Chief T. O. Doane had the extension ladder on the truck extended and inspected last evening to ascertain that everything was in good order and working smoothly. The sixty-five feet ladder was run up to its full length, everything operating satisfactorily throughout.

FRANK A. BARNABY ARRESTED

FORMER PLAINFIELDER MUST ANSWER FOR DISASTER TO THE SLOCUM.

All the directors of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company who have not surrendered, or are under ball, will appear before Coroner Joseph I. Berry, in the Coroner's Court in the Bronx today, where they will be arraigned on a charge of criminal neglect in failing to see that the General Slocum was adequately provided with fire fighting and life saving apparatus. Each will be arraigned separately and bail will be fixed.

Among those already under arrest is Frank A. Barnaby, formerly of this city, the president of the Knickerbocker Steamboat Company, who is under $5,000 bail. C. deLoeay Evans, another former resident of this city, is wanted by the coroner. He is a director of the steamboat company.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Unity Lodge, No. 105, K. of P., will elect officers tomorrow night.

No more appropriate place could have been chosen nor a more opportune time selected than Atlantic City for the meeting of the Imperial Council of Myrtle Shriners. Atlantic City is a place of a thousand in as much as its make-up especially in the summer is that of fun and gaiety. Atlantic City is decidedly accessible because of the excellent train service furnished by the New Jersey Central from New York. Fast trains leave station foot of Liberty street at 9:40 a. m. and 3:40 p. m., making the run in three hours and passing through the famous resort Lakewood. For the occasion of the Imperial Council the New Jersey Central has placed on sale reduced rate tickets good going on July 11 and 12, and good returning July 13, 14 and 15, and with the famed seashore resort at its height there is no reason why everybody who goes there should not have a good time. If you want a time table write to C. M. Burt, General Passenger Agent, New Jersey Central, New York city.

TWELVE BEFORE RECORDER

ALL DISMISSED, THE CHARGE AGAINST THEM SUNDAY BALL PLAYING.

Twelve Sunday baseball players were arraigned before Recorder Doud in the borough police court last night, charged with disorderly conduct. Only the complainant appeared against them, and they overbore his testimony on the disorder charge. Eleven of the twelve were found not guilty, but the twelfth man, Frank Keller, was convicted of assaulting Samuel McMann, sixty years old, in a quarrel growing out of the game.

Sentence in his case was reserved. Besides Keller the following were arraigned: Charles Kemmons, Frank Dents, Fred Kaeding, William Gash, August Gash, Charles Perry, Louis Perry, Augustus Feiring, Lewis Simble and Charles Keller. According to the evidence, the crowd went to the Brunson farm at the foot of the mountain, with a couple of kegs of beer, Sunday afternoon, to play a Boulevard team. The Boulevarders failed to turn up and the boroughites started to play among themselves. The loyal of the beer had sunk some by that time.

McMann, who is the caretaker of the farm, came up and protested against their playing. After an altercation he started away. Keller followed him and after an exchange of words the ball player knocked the old man down. Keller acknowledged that much, but claims that McMann had a coat belonging to one of his companions and struck him with a whip before he, Keller, closed with him. McMann was pretty badly cut up, and alleges that he was kicked while on the ground.

Recorder Doud said he did not know just what to do in the Keller case. He released the convicted prisoner on his own recognizance to await the decision of the court.

IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. Dr. Pogson, of New York, will preach at the First Baptist church on Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles L. Goodrich, of West Seventh street, are at Amherst, Mass.

The choir of the First Baptist church will have a vacation during a part of July and all of August.

LITERARY.

The July Atlantic in its handsome new dress opens with an article on Washington in Wartime, drawn from Ralph Waldo Emerson's Journal of a visit to that city in 1862, recording pen pictures and notes of conversations with Lincoln, Seward, Sumner, Chase and others.

The head of one of the most famous packing houses in Chicago uses as a pet phrase, "Tis the fortunes of war." It is said that at a recent family gathering at his home, a small grandson overheard his grandfather's remark that he had closed a very profitable beef contract with a representative of the Russian government, previous to the opening of hostilities with Japan. "Grandpa," piped the small boy, "if you make lots and lots of money then, will that be the fortunes of war?"—From "Success."

It will disappoint the applicant to find that her voice is the least consideration. She need, indeed, have none. A good figure and at least a claim to good looks are necessary for her. Her weight and height are important. A hundred and sixty pounds is too much to weigh; five feet seven inches is the limit in height. On account of the general peroxidizing orange, brunettes are in demand. Good allos are rare, the proportion being six of these to fourteen sopranos. One of the first questions propounded to the applicants will be: "Do you wear tight?"—The Era Magazine for June on the chorus girl.

The Architectural Record for July is sarcastically critical of modern reconstructed business house fronts. It says that as business sections are continually changing we are often confronted with an apparition of what was an orderly and well-designed dwelling-house now supported on stilts in the form of iron columns, and these surmounted by a galvanized cornice, the upper part of the building being apparently held up by the plate glass show windows. How a city may be redeemed in a large measure if the right kind of effort is used in these reconstruction proceedings, is described and illustrated with fullness. "Hillair," the country house of Paul Gilbert Thebaud, at White Plains, N. Y., is the subject of a number of plates and an article by William Hening.
