PETER J. GALBRAITH IS THE BEST MAN AT THE NUPITAL EVENT.

Ceremony in St. Michael's Church Rectory—Supper Followed by Reception—Two Hundred Friends Present.

Miss Susan May Moore, of Elizabeth, became the wife of Thomas Henry Chamberlain, of this city, yesterday. The ceremony was performed at the rectory of St. Michael's church, Elizabeth, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, by Rev. Dr. Baer, a number of relatives and friends being present. Miss Lillian Oivette was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Anna Moore, sister of the bride, and Miss May McGrath. Miss Viola Harriman, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. Peter J. Galbraith, of this city, was best man. The ushers were John E. Harriman, cousin of the bride, and William Dilts, of this city. The bride was gowned in white embroidered tulle, studded with pearl buttons over white silk. She wore a white tulle veil, and carried a snow-white bouquet of bridal roses.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was held at the home of the bride. Fully two hundred friends and relatives attended the reception, which was held at the T. A. B. Hall in the evening. Covers were laid for two hundred guests. Dancing was also a feature. After the reception the young couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara. On their return they will reside on West Sixth street, corner Clinton avenue.

BAND CONCERT PROGRAMME

FREE OPEN AIR PERFORMANCE TOMORROW NIGHT INSTEAD OF TONIGHT.

If the merit of the programme offered furnishes any indication of the probable attendance, the third band concert, which takes place tomorrow night instead of this evening, should be a banner occasion in this respect. Descriptive pieces and the latest popular tunes, interspersed with classical selections and songs, will undoubtedly prove universally attractive.

Those who were disappointed at not hearing John J. Nestor in his two song hits, "My Lonely Little Lonesome Maid" and "I Wish the Band Would Play," can congratulate themselves on another chance to listen to this popular tenor. Mr. Nestor will sing these two selections tomorrow night. A feature of the programme will be a cornet solo, "Aquarilla Polka," played by L. R. Anderson.

If the proper arrangements can be consummated in time, a display of fireworks will be given. The detailed programme follows: March, "Souvenir de Suisse," Vereehen; overture, "Tambour der Garde," Tili; concert waltz, "Hearts Courageous," Blanke; cornet solo, "Aquarilla Polka," Short, L. R. Anderson; medley, "Bedelia," Sutton; vocal solo, (a) "I Wish the Band Would Play," (b) "My Lonely Little Lonesome Maid," by request, John J. Nestor; selection, "The Mocking Bird," Stone; descriptive, "Cavalry Charge," Luders; reverie, "The Birds and the Brook," Stults; finale, (a) "Polly Prim," Henry, (b) "The Man With the Ladder and the Hoe."

Attractions at Men's Meeting. The men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon, will be addressed by Rev. Ernest Nash, a returned missionary from the West African field. Food lemonade and fans will be furnished and should form a pleasant accompaniment to the exercises related by the speaker, of his service on the Dark Continent.

ALIS AND WESTFIELD TO RESUME THE SERIES

Mayor Perkins, of Westfield, Brings About an Amicable Agreement With Alis Club.

REFEREES TO DECIDE

DISPUTE TO BE SETTLED BY A COMMITTEE OF THREE.

Next Game to Take Place on Saturday, July 16—The Decision of the Judges to be Final.

It is practically agreed that the Alis and Westfield baseball series will be resumed. At a meeting held at the Alis Club, last night, Mayor Randolph Perkins, an officer of the Westfield Baseball Association, being present, a form of agreement was drafted whereby each club is to select a man and they in turn are to pick a third, to compose a committee of three.

To this committee will be referred the disputed questions and each club agrees to abide by the decision of the three men, one of whom is to be a wholly disinterested person. The chief question for the committee will be the disputed contest and after considering all the details in connection with it, a decision will be made as to whether the disputed game should be counted.

In the meantime arrangements will be made to continue the series, the first of which may be played on Saturday, July 16. It is safe to say that Kenzie will not umpire the game as the Alis Club will not agree to his handling the indicator. Other conditions will be arranged satisfactorily.

While Mayor Perkins was attending the Alis meeting, Manager Denman was in town with the committee representing St. Mary's proposed team. It became known about that in case Alis and Westfield failed to come to terms, the St. Mary committee would arrange for a series with Westfield in the hope of defeating Alis in its purpose. Manager Johnston has given up his agreement with the St. Mary committee, because, as he says, he learned that the committee does not represent the St. Mary Club. This information he secured from John P. Owens and Henry Weiraga. If the committee is not a representative one, the Alis management does not care to enter into an agreement with them.

After the meeting other troubles threatened to cause another disruption between the two managers. Manager Denman intimated that he was going to play St. Mary's team, unless Manager Johnston would agree to throw down Hoboken and give him a game at Westfield Fourth of July afternoon. This the Alis manager refused to do and when the two managers left each other it looked as though the new agreement would be broken at once. This morning Denman called Johnston on the telephone and said that he had decided to abide by his original plans to play the New York Colored Giants at Westfield.

AUTO CAUSES A RUNAWAY

O. T. WARRING'S MACHINE FRIGHTENS MICHAEL ARMSTRONG'S HORSE.

An automobile owned by O. T. Warring, of Park avenue, and a horse owned by Michael Armstrong, the plumber, had a bout yesterday afternoon in front of Mr. Armstrong's shop on Park avenue, near Fourth street. The auto, "in charge of a couple of men, who have been engaged in repairing the machine, rode up in front of the plumbing shop within five feet of Mr. Armstrong's horse. The animal was tied to an iron post, but the pounding noise made by the machine was too much for him.

The horse gave a plunge, sliding completely out of his bridle, and before he could be caught, was making for Fourth street. At the corner he slipped and fell on the iron culvert, cutting his legs considerably. Quickly jumping to his feet he continued his journey to Watchung avenue, where some one caught him and returned him to the owner. Owing to injuries it was necessary to take the horse to Dr. Pocock's stables for treatment.

CAPT. HORN TAKES A BRIDE

U. S. MILITARY OFFICER WEDS MRS. MABEL PRETTYMAN AT HIGHWOOD.

Captain Tiemann Newell Horn, U. S. Artillery Corps, formerly of this city, and Mrs. Mabel Tillon Young Prettyman, daughter of Mrs. George Wright Young, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, "The Lindens," Highwood, N. J. The affair was a quiet one, being attended by a limited number of guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. B. Carpenter.

Captain Horn spent his boyhood days here and was graduated from the Plainfield High School. Later he received an appointment to West Point and he was graduated from the Military Academy with high honors. During his army service, he has been employed in the performance of various duties. At one time he was in charge of the school of instruction in drills in the South and he received special commendation for his work. During the past few years he has been stationed at Forts Hamilton and Hancock.

Social at Hope Chapel. After their weekly meeting last night the members of the Young People's Society, of Hope chapel held an informal sociable. Games and refreshments were the features. The committee in charge comprised Mrs. A. E. Lewis, chairman; Mrs. H. K. Lister, Miss Mabel Firstbrook, Harry K. Lister and John Adams.

LEAL'S BOYS IN ATHLETICS FINE RECORD MADE THIS SEASON IN OUTDOOR SPORTS.

During the early spring followers of the various school teams here were able to witness interesting athletic events and in this Leal's School took the lead in many contests. The football eleven made a good record, losing five games and playing the other one to a draw. The contests resulted as follows: Leal's, 0, Montclair Military Academy, 0; Leal's, 11, Pingry, 0; Leal's, 17, Plainfield High School, 0; Leal's, 24, Pingry, 0; Leal's, 29, Plainfield High School, 0; Leal's, 5, Montclair Military Academy, 0. In basketball the school team did not do so well, winning only four out of thirteen contests. The opposing sides made a total of 217 points against 184 for Leal's.

Little interest was shown in hockey, only four games being played, in which the opposing teams scored 10 points, as against seven for the school boys.

A better showing was made in baseball, although the nine was composed almost entirely of new material. Out of eleven contests, Leal's lost five and won six. The school boys made a total of seventy-six runs against seventy-five by the opposing teams. Some of the teams played were among the best of the school aggregations and included Montclair High School, Pingry, Princeton Charter Club and Newark Academy, and in nearly every case the scores were low.

The prospects for next year's team is better for it is believed that some strong material will enter the school in the fall. The school has joined the New Jersey Intercollegiate League composed of schools at Elizabeth, Newark and Orange and some interesting athletic events may be looked for during next season. It is expected that the new league will prove a strong incentive for the boys to develop themselves in various athletic feats and that Leal's School will make a good showing.

WAR ON INSURGENT JUNIORS

JR. O. U. A. M. TO BRING SUIT AGAINST INDEPENDENT ORDER.

Alexander M. DeHaven, of Philadelphia, is authority for the statement that the Junior Order American Mechanics will once more go to law. The regulars are to bring suit against the recently formed Order of Independent Americans to recover $4,000, said to be the overdue per capita tax owed by the insurgent Councils to the National organization. It is also proposed to apply for an injunction to prevent the Order of United Americans from declaring its objects to be those of the Junior Order United American Mechanics and from retaining the franchise and paraphernalia now in possession of the insurgent Councils.

It is said that about $350,000 is now in possession of the "insurgent" Councils, which organized the Order of Independent Americans a week ago at Reading, Pa. As far as can be learned, it is the evident purpose of the new organization to take the objects and operate an organization exactly like the Jr. O. U. A. M. It is not proposed to interfere with the name of the new society, but only so far as it imitates the objects of the original society. It is believed by the actions and plans of the new organization to stampede members from the Jr. O. U. A. M.

Difficulties between the two factions of the Junior Mechanics arose several years ago over the question of assessments and other details of administration. The "insurgents" seceded and formed a State Council in Pennsylvania which they claimed was the legal one. The Judiciary of the National Council and the State Courts both decided against them. The "insurgents" are planning to organize Councils in every State in the Union.

RELUCTANTLY RELEASE REV. DR. EDWIN L. EARP

Quarterly Conference of Grace M. E. Regretfully Dissolves Relations With the Pastor.

PRaise HIM HIGHLY

MINISTER ACCEPTS CHAIR OF SOCIOLOGY AT SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY.

Dr. E. K. Carroll, Presiding Elder Halloran and William J. Conroy Make Addresses—Resolutions Are Passed.

Final action on the release of Rev. Dr. Earp from the pastorate of Grace M. E. church to enable him to begin his work as professor of sociology in Syracuse University in the fall, was taken at the second quarterly conference of the church last night. In formally dissolving relations with the pastor, the members of Board of Trustees and Presiding Elder Halloran, who was in the chair, expressed regret over Dr. Earp's departure in eulogistic phrases. Resolutions of appreciation of his character and his work were passed.

Following the presentation of the usual conference reports, Dr. Earp formally laid the matter of his call to the university before the Conference. The action of the Official Board, last Friday, in releasing Dr. Earp August 1 was ratified.

By unanimous rising vote a resolution similar to the highly complimentary one on the minutes of the last meeting of the Official Board, the full text of which was published on Monday, was passed.

Dr. E. K. Carroll expressed the regret of the trustees over the approaching departure. He was sorry to hear that Dr. Earp was going away, he said, but glad that in his going he went to so wide a field. He congratulated him, and felt sure that in his new field the church, the community and the world at large would bear of him.

W. J. Conroy spoke feelingly of the endearment that had grown between the pastor and his people. He said that not only the people of the church but outside citizens, even those not members of a church, would regret to hear of Dr. Earp's departure.

Presiding Elder Halloran added an eloquent word of praise and regret. He spoke of the friendship he had formed for Dr. Earp since his first meeting with him when Dr. Earp had charge of a Newark pastorate. He eulogized the Doctor's character, and said he had had his eye on him, and expected just such an advance as had come.

Dr. Earp's response was feelingly worded. He expressed a deep sorrow in leaving his charge and Plainfield. This had practically been his first home, he said. His two children were baptized at the Grace font, and this community would always be large in his memory and in his heart.

There was some talk of Dr. Earp's temporary successor between the supply committee and Presiding Elder Halloran, but nothing of a definite nature developed. Two or three names have been suggested to the committee, but no actual steps toward filling the pulpit have been taken as yet. The conference adjourned subject to the call of the Presiding Elder, who will convene it when some definite action upon the pastorate is to be taken. The pastorate will be filled in as short a time as it is possible to arrange matters to that end.

Dr. Earp will speak his final word to his charge on Sunday, July 31.

Miss Mary VanCleet, of Millstone, has been the guest of Miss Anna M. Garretson, of Clinton avenue.

ST. MARY'S PUPILS COMPLETE THEIR WORK

Graduates in Commercial Department Present Elaborate Programme.

SOME GOOD ESSAYS

MISS MARGARET LUTZ IS THE SALUTATORIAN.

Pupils Give "The Bogus Inspector," an Amusing Operetta—Father Egan Presents the Diplomas—Reception to Graduates.

Completing the three-nights' series of graduations, the commercial department of St. Mary's Parochial School, the highest of the institution, held its commencement last night in the school hall. As at the other two exercises there was an elaborate programme of entertainment. Additional interest was given to the exercises by the distribution of honors for which the graduates strove during their last year of study.

Eleven young people composed the graduating class: Margaret F. Lutz, Helen E. Hanrahan, Margaret A. King, Mary T. McCarthy, Christine V. McKeen, Blanche A. Skinner, John F. Kyle, Eugene E. Johnson, Joseph R. Sullivan, John T. Oulfield and Cornelius J. McCarthy. A large audience of relatives and friends, and members of the parish, saw the class go forth on the careers for which they have been preparing under the tutelage of the gentle and motherly Sisters, and the counsel of the wise and fatherly priests.

An interesting aspect of the audience was the presence, in a body, of the recently organized alumni association. The old graduates were accorded seats of honor near the platform.

Miss Margaret Lutz delivered the salutatory. Her address was happily worded, with well turned phrases. John Kyle was the valedictorian, the subject of his address being "Christian Education." He gave an eloquent and interesting exposition of the value of religious instruction in conjunction with secular teaching.

Father Egan distributed the following honors: Gold medal, for general excellence, to Miss Margaret Lutz; second honor, gold cross, for excellence, to John Kyle; gold medal, for best essay on Christian doctrine, Miss Mary McCarthy; gold medal, for prize essay, to Miss Helen Hanrahan; gold medal, for excellence in stenography and typewriting, to Miss Margaret Lutz; gold medal, for arithmetic, Miss Mary McCarthy.

Honorable mention was awarded to the following, in the order named: Miss Elizabeth Brown, George McCusker, Katherine McCusker, James O'Brien, Mary McKenna, William Sullivan.

For attaining 100 per cent. in attendance, the following were given honorable mention also: Margaret Lutz, John McKeen, Madeline Seaman, Mary Powers, Charles Schuck, James Omlinsky. The chief feature of the entertainment was "The Bogus Inspector," a pretty little operetta of school life. It abounded in funny situations, with many tuneful numbers, of which the cast took full advantage. The music was well rendered, and all the members of the cast filled their parts with a degree of cleverness that reflected very much credit upon Sister Mary Esther and Madam Mennell Bartlett, who coached them.

The main parts were taken as follows: Colonel Fig, inspector of schools, Edward Oaty; valet to inspector, James O'Brien; Mr. Pointer, school teacher, James Omlinsky; Mr. Fesobem, school attendance officer, Martin Welsh; Johnny Stork, a lazy schoolboy, Thomas Harding.

There was a large and well-trained chorus in support of these leading characters. A feature of the operetta was a Dances' Dance, in which James Lynch, Thomas Harding, William O'Brien, Frank Hand, Thomas Lappan, William Casey, John Barry, John Miles, John Brown, Joseph Schuck, Charles Rodier, Edward O'Leahlin. The Country Dance performed at the grammar graduation the night before, which scored a remarkable success, was repeated. It evoked as much enthusiastic applause as was brought out by its first presentation. Those who took part in it were: Katherine Kelly, Mary Kyle, Emma Killoran, Ella Lappan, Lillian Fennessy, Bridge Hepper, Helen Mullen, Katherine Galbraith, Mary Crosby, Margaret Besides dispensing a superior soda water with pure fruit syrups, Dudley Miller, the Park avenue druggist, conducts a first-class drug store. His prescription department is one of the best and all prescription work is promptly attended to day or night.

For fresh vegetables, the highest grade groceries, fresh meats and poultry go to S. Scherer & Co.'s store in West Front street, and your wants will be fully satisfied. The firm buys good in such large quantities that it can afford to sell cheaper than a smaller dealer and a share of your patronage is solicited. Prompt deliveries are made to all parts of the city and vicinity.

TenEyck & Harris, coal dealers, have the reputation for selling the best grade of anthracite. The firm would like to receive your patronage, believing that it can please you.

It is very difficult for some persons to save money. If it is placed in the Dime Savings Institution you will not only save the money, but you will receive a liberal percentage. This institution is well established and conducted along the best lines.

It is the height of foolishness to go away for the summer and leave your silverware in the closets or family chest. That is simply inviting thievery. Nine chances to one the invitation will be accepted. Put your valuables in the City National Bank's safe deposit vaults. They will be safe there, and nowhere else in the city.

Only one jewelry store of real proportions and methods of doing business in Plainfield. That is L. Morrell & Son's place on Park avenue. Everything in jewelry, low or high priced. Low or high, though, the price is right. Fine line of silver novelties, suitable for summer use.

Still the call comes from discriminating smokers for the full flavored Nickel Yara cigar. You must go to M. C. Dobbins for it. Also for the fine Pinar del Rio.

Better beer on draught than that offered at the cafe of the Hotel Waldorf, East Front street, is not in Plainfield—or anywhere else.

Think awhile before taking your auto repair work to anybody but Allen E. Laing, Sycamore street. At any other place you are apt to be "stung."

Fine hemstitched linen handkerchiefs at Peck's, where the goods are always the same. Lace ones too and the finest you can get anywhere at that. In all lines of goods handled by Peck the premier grade is the rule.

Hoagland's express is the proper means of carrying your freight and any other goods you may want carted. The best is good enough for those who deal with Hoagland.

When you want a fancy vest, go to the Plainfield Surprise Store and look over their store for something to suit your taste. It is certainly there and your search will be amply repaid by the saving in price. Fine summer underwear there also, that will tempt you into buying more than you really need, just for the sake of the bargain. Another hot weather leader is the alpaca coat. These alpacas are the real article, not chamois, and will give more satisfaction than any other one thing you could purchase.

It is safe to assert that you will never buy an automobile until you have established a bank account and the best start toward that end is to deposit a modest sum with the Plainfield Trust Company, where it will be increased by that delightful scheme known as compound interest. Try it and find out how it feels to have money working for you, day and night.

Try a large bottle of the pure, sparkling Washington Rock Spring Water. It is best when kept in the refrigerator and brought cold and clear to the table. The care exercised in the bottling of this spring water is the best safeguard that could be asked in the direction of purity.

FLOOD ON PANHANDLE

Five Hundred Homes Near Pittsburgh Inundated.

CLODBURST'S LOSS HALF A MILLION

Many Narrow Escapes From Death in the Water—Buildings and Bridges Washed Away—Horses and Cattle Drowned.

PITTSBURGH, June 30.—Over 500 homes, business houses and school-houses a short distance from Pittsburgh, on the Panhandle railroad, have been inundated in from two to ten feet of water in Robinson's Run hollow and the Chartiers valley by a cloudburst. The damage will reach nearly $500,000.

Many buildings and bridges were washed away, horses and cattle were drowned, and at least one life was lost. It is rumored that many others have perished.

In the Bastian hotel, at McDonald, Charles Hayes, the engineer, was caught in a room in the basement. Almost without warning the water poured in upon him. Escape by way of the door was cut off. He reached safety by crawling through the transom.

The Murchland sisters, who conduct a millinery store at McDonald, narrowly escaped death in the flood. Their store was washed from its base, with the three women in it. They were rescued by Charles Cameron, who waded to the building and carried out the sisters one by one.

The house of Arnold Glaser was overturned by the rushing water. The five members of the family had sought safety in one of the upper rooms. All succeeded in escaping.

Miss Blanche Bush, a clerk in a newsstand at McDonald, had a narrow escape. The store was lifted from its place and swept into the stream. Miss Bush was caught in the structure, and as it floated away she screamed for help. Her cries were heard by George Hemmerling, an oil operator. He plunged into the water and swam to the building, bringing back Miss Bush with him.

Both the electric plants at McDonald were flooded, and the town was in total darkness. The flood did not subside until daylight, and many families slept outdoors during the night.

Railroad traffic on the Panhandle railroad through the flooded section was completely tied up, the tracks washed away, and many towns above and below Oakdale and Carnegie were left without means of communication.

The only fatality reported thus far was the drowning of an unidentified Italian, whose body was found floating in Robinson run.

Thirty More Miners Deported.

DENVER, June 30.—Thirty-nine men who were deported from Cripple Creek under military escort have arrived in this city, joining the colony of exiles already established here. This colony numbers over 200 men, and they have organized a local union affiliated with the Western Federation of Miners. It was General Bell's intention to leave the thirty men at Colorado Springs, but as the authorities of that city strongly protested the train came on to Denver. Up to date 183 men have been deported from the Cripple Creek district by the military. In addition hundreds fled to avoid arrest and incarceration. About sixty union miners against whom, it is said, criminal charges will be filed are still in the custody of the military at Cripple Creek and Victor.

Senate Passed Anti-poolroom Law.

NEW ORLEANS, June 30.—The Hunsicker anti-poolroom bill has passed the state senate. This means that the seven poolrooms doing business in New Orleans and others throughout the state will have to close on Sept. 1. Governor Blanchard will sign the bill at once. The penalty attached to running a poolroom or being employed in one will be a fine of not less than $200 or not more than $400, with imprisonment of six months.

Sons of Veterans at Newark, N. Y.

NEWARK, N. Y., June 30.—This was the most important day of the annual state encampment of the Sons of Veterans. The big feature was the parade of the delegates from the various state camps in conjunction with the annual review of the Newark fire department. Resolutions were adopted expressing the encampment's appreciation of the hospitality of the people of Newark.

More Rapid Transit For New York.

NEW YORK, June 30.—August Belmont, president of the Interborough Rapid Transit company, has assured Mayor McClellan that the great underground electric railway will be opened for traffic on Sept. 1. The occasion will be marked by ceremonies in which the city officials will take part. The time set in the contract for the completion of the road is Aug. 21. It has cost nearly $40,000,000.

Nice Dolans at Hardwick's Camp.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 30.—In a shooting at Hardwick's camp, on the new extension of the Seaboard Air line, two white men, Matt Bunn and Walker Wheeler, were killed, and Samuel Bunn, a brother of Matt Bunn, was wounded by Will Williams, a negro desperado. Williams escaped, but a posse is after him.

What Will He Do With Them?

VICTORY FOR JAPS

Capture of Forts Foreshadowed Port Arthur's Fate.

NAVARIN RAMMED AT CROSSSTADT

Report of Russian Reverse East of Halchens. Where They Made a Hurried Retreat, Fearing to Be Cut Off.

LONDON, June 30.—A special from Tokyo says that after fierce fighting in which the Japanese attacked simultaneously the three fortified hills Chik wanshan, Chitanchan and Sochoshan southeast of and part of the Port Arthur defenses, they were captured.

After an overwhelming bombardment the mikado's men drove out the Russians.

Sochoshan was first captured, and the other forts fell soon afterward. The Russians retreated west.

The Japanese lost three officers and a hundred men killed or wounded, and they captured two guns and a quantity of ammunition.

It is reported from Tientsin that the Russians were defeated about sixteen miles east of Halchens and owing to the rapid advance of the Japanese at Tachekiao are hurriedly retreating north, fearing to be cut off.

A Cronstadt report says that the Russian battleship Navarin while returning to her anchorage was rammed by the Russian ironclad Netron Menia, which struck her amidships. The damage to the Navarin is not serious, though it may be necessary to drydock the vessel.

Advices from Chifu say that eight refugees who left Port Arthur in a Chinese junk have been picked up at sea. They belonged to the upper class. They state that the Russian fleet now consists of the following ships in good condition: The Cesarevitch, Retvizan, Pobieda, Peresviet, Poltava, Askold, Diana, Bayan, Novik and twenty torpedo craft and smaller boats. The torpedo transport Anur is damaged and the battleship Sevastopol slightly damaged, but they can soon be repaired.

There are 12,000 sailors and 40,000 soldiers in Port Arthur. There are 250 artisans and 2,000 citizens. These 2,000 have now been drafted into the army and are drilling daily. There is plenty of food, but the government is controlling prices in order to prevent speculation.

RUSSIAN DISASTER.

Submarine Crew in Panic—Twenty-one Dead.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 30.—The submarine boat Delfin went down at her moorings in the Neva, off the Baltic shipbuilding yard, yesterday, with the loss of an officer, Lieutenant Cherkasoff, and twenty men.

The accident was due partly to the excessive number of the crew, mostly inexperienced men, and chiefly to the unfortunate attempt of a man to escape while his comrades were screwing down the manhole.

The officers and men detailed for submarine boat instruction had assembled at the Baltic yard, and three officers decided to go down in the Delfin, although her captain was not present, relying on the experience of her skilled crew. A score of novices were anxious to go with the three officers.

The Delfin's nominal capacity is ten men, instead of which thirty-two entered the boat, bringing her manhole in dangerous proximity to the river level. Just then a tug passed, sending a heavy wash against the boat.

So soon as the water splashed into the submarine boat's interior it created a panic among the novices, and one of them tried to get out of the manhole, which the older hands were screwing down preparatory to the descent, the submerging compartment having already been opened. The water rushed in, and as the submerged vessel sank like a stone the officers and some of the men were saved by being blown up through the manhole by the rush of escaping air. When the Delfin shortly afterward was raised the bodies were recovered.

Frenzied Woman's Act.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 30.—Temporarily insane and resisting an attempt to send her to a hospital, Mrs. Margaret Morris fatally cut her husband, Isaac F. Morris, a packing house employee, at their home here with a razor. Morris fought desperately with his wife for fifteen minutes in an attempt to escape. The woman barred the door and slashed him in a fearful manner, cutting gashes in his throat, arms and on several parts of his body. Morris finally escaped by jumping through a window.

Tibetans Ask Armistice.

GYANTSE, Tibet, June 30.—A lama came in under a flag of truce from the Tibetans asking an armistice pending the arrival at Shigatse of officials from Lassa, who will be prepared to negotiate with the British expedition. The British will undertake negotiations providing the Tibetan officials have sufficient authority.

Wealthy Planter Killed.

MOBILE, Ala., June 30.—John H. McDuffie, a wealthy planter at River Ridge, Mont. county, has been killed there by Sonny English, another planter. Mr. McDuffie was highly regarded. He assisted in the capture of Rube Burrows, the noted outlaw and train robber, several years ago.

EDWARD SAILS FOR ENGLAND.

Two Monarchs Say German Boat Suzanne Won Gold Cup.

KIEL, Germany, June 30.—King Edward's visit was brought to an end by a farewell banquet on the German imperial yacht Hohenzollern last night. The British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with his majesty on board, sailed for England at daybreak, escorted by the British cruiser squadron.

King Edward and Emperor William witnessed part of the racing from Eckernforde to Kiel on board the Victoria and Albert.

The German yacht Suzanne won the gold cup given by King Edward. The empress' yacht Iduna was second, and Morton F. Plant's Ingomar was third. The victory of the Suzanne greatly delighted the German yachtsmen. The emperor's yacht Meteor III. did not finish and was towed in by a torpedo boat.

Emperor William went on board the Victoria and Albert, which, escorted by British and German torpedo boats and torpedo boat destroyers, proceeded to sea to meet the yachts. The weather was fine. All the warships and yachts in the harbor dressed ship in honor of the last day of King Edward's visit.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

"On to New Mark" is now the cry of the local fans. The team is practicing hard every night and if they do not win, somebody will be surprised. It is hoped that a big crowd of rooters will accompany the team on Saturday and give them confidence.

The musical which will be given in the Presbyterian chapel this evening by the pupils of Miss Irene Day is the first of two to be given by Miss Day's pupils this month. The second will take place in Munroe chapel, Plainfield, shortly.

An ice cream and strawberry festival will be held in the Presbyterian chapel on Friday evening. The admission will be ten cents, which will be redeemed with ice cream.

The Roselle ball team has recently signed a player of the name of Ellinger, who is supposedly the pitcher who has played on the locals for the past two years.

Mrs. Carpenter, who formerly resided here, but now lives in Bayonne, spent yesterday afternoon visiting friends in town.

Some repairs are being made to the Gray houses on Jackson avenue.

Mrs. E. K. Doolittle has been troubled lately by a lame ankle.

Peter Apper has recovered from a slight illness.

Mrs. Platt spent yesterday in New York.

'PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

The disbanding of the local ball team is regretted by many. Baseball did much for Scotch Plains, and the interest in the game should never have died out. When the residents want recreation now of a holiday and Saturday afternoon they will be obliged to seek it elsewhere.

No one has been found yet who is willing to climb the flag pole for the purpose of running the rope through the pulley at the top of the pole, so that the town flag can be swung to the breeze on the Fourth.

The Ladies' Circle, of the Baptist church, held a musical tonight at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. Westcott, of the borough. Proceeds are for the benefit of the church.

The members of Fanwood Council, B. A., entertained District Deputy Drummond, of Bond Brook, at their meeting on Tuesday night.

A number of the low branches on the shade trees along Forest avenue, have been cut off so as not to interfere with pedestrians walking.

The Boys' Club, of the Methodist church, held their regular weekly meeting in the class rooms of the church last night.

The water at the "Back" pond has been nearly drawn off, making swimming for the boys a thing of the past for a week.

The monthly communion will be held at the close of the morning service at the Baptist church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pangborn, of Forest avenue, have been entertaining friends from Roselle.

Miss Sadie Lee has been spending a few days with Miss Hazel Morrison, of South avenue.

The Suburban Athletic Club held a shirt waist dance in the club hall tonight.

—Street Commissioner Gavett has just completed the work of macadamizing West Fifth street. The job is a good one and greatly improves the appearance of that thoroughfare.

ST. MARY'S PUPILS

Conway, Mary Conway, Katherine McOwen.

Other features of the programme included the rendition of Chopin's Polonaise by Miss Mary Smith on the piano, the singing of "The Palms" by the graduates, and the singing of the class song, written by Miss Helen E. Hanrahan, by the alumni and the graduating class.

Immediately after the exercises the graduates and their friends gathered in Stafford Hall, where the Alumni Association tendered a reception and dance to the Class of 1924. Music for the dancing was furnished by Prof. Eugene O'Reilly's full orchestra. During the intermission a collection was served. The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Miss Anna Daley, chairman; Dr. Frederick Hughes, Miss Katherine Mynn, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Anna O'Keefe and Miss Mary Burke.

AMUSEMENTS.

Arrangements for the opening of the Madison Square Roof Garden, New York, on the night of Saturday, July 2, are completed, and it is believed that this amusement resort—perhaps the most famous in America—will have, in "Paris by Night," an attraction well worthy its reputation. The spacious roof of the Garden has been elaborately decorated, and swept by breezes from both the East and Hudson rivers, it is certain to be delightfully cool at every performance.

"Paris by Night" is not only the name of the varied attractions to be seen atop the Garden, but is the name of a new musical offering, in two acts, and was written by Harry B. Marshall. The scenes are all laid in Paris, and the numerous rehearsals already held give promise that it will be successful, filled with bright comedy, and costly stage settings.

Frank O. Bostock, the Animal King, arrived at Coney Island Saturday, direct from his Paris hippodrome.

Among his fellow passengers was the widely advertised Dr. John Alexander Dowie, the self styled Elijah III. Mr. Bostock was met off quarantine by a party of friends and capitalists, headed by Senator Reynolds, on a yacht, and taken off and brought direct to Coney Island.

When Dowie heard the band and saw the Bostock flag at the peak, he thought the demonstration was intended for himself. The New York reporters asked the great trainer if he could train Dowie, he replied, "He doesn't belong to me."

Melville & Albaugh, the new managers of Riverside Park, assumed charge of the place this week and at once made some improvements about the place. They have lengthened the dancing hours so that the pavilion is now open from 8 to 11:30 p. m., with music all of the time by an orchestra of five pieces. The vandeville bill has been strengthened, both as to quantity and quality. A high standard of shows is promised by the new management. This week the vandeville is furnished by Miss Edith Doyle, soprano; Edwards and Roney, comedians; Astell and Howard, eccentric comedians; Weston Sisters, singers, dancers and burlesque boxers; McDonald and Huntington, comedy sketch.

Last Sunday, the hottest day of the season, Dreamland's bathing beach was opened for the first time. So great was the crowd that the sale of bathing tickets was suspended three times. At one time 1,000 people waited in line for vacant rooms. It has been arranged to open the bathing pavilion hereafter as early as six o'clock every morning and between the hours of 6 and 10 no charge for

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

July 3: "Christian Patriotism."—Rom. xiii, 1-7; 1 Pet. ii, 13-17.—A True Patriot.

It is a serious mistake to consider government as a necessary evil and to restrict its powers to a kind of police protection of the weak against the strong. Government, to be sure, has the duty of defense, but it is in fundamental conception a good and not an evil. It is necessary to the best development of men.

If one might always live alone and apart from all other creatures, his own will and desires might be the only rule he would need or know. As soon as a second person appears, and the attempt is made to live together, society has been constituted and there must be defining of rights, duties, privileges and relations. Nor are these dependent upon the arbitrary will of the two persons associated. Some exist in the nature of things without regard to the desires or views of the individuals under consideration. Others are dictated by surroundings and circumstances equally independent of the opinions of any one. The best way to state it is to say God has made the world and men as they are. When persons come to live in community they cannot alter, but must recognize, the truths which are basal in nature and must make their laws the plain expression of the facts fundamental in the constitution of man and nature. Government is an ordinance of God because He has so made men that they invariably constitute society in an ordered way. The task is to find out the basal rights which inhere in man and proclaim them in institutions and not merely in words.

Land is needed on which to raise food crops. What are the rights and corresponding duties of each and all as regards the locality where home is located? Patriotism is defense of heritage and homestead and fatherland against oppression and aggression. But it is far more than this. It is an enthusiasm for proper development of all resources and natural advantages for the betterment of community interests. Patriotism is a generous passion for the advancement of spiritual good of one's fellows as well as for the overthrow of enemies.

It is more than drums and bugles. It is more potent than cannon and bayonets. It means far more than ships of war and military equipment. Love of country may cause the eyes to fill with tears when we see the old flag of stars and stripes float on the breeze in a foreign land; it may lead one in the wild charge against a bulwark of steel, or it may demand all one's possessions and life itself, if need require, yet none of these is the highest tribute patriotism claims by right from us.

To be manly and womanly and live soberly with right reason, using every power of being for God gladly and for the good of our brother man, whether near or afar—that is true patriotism. He who would wrong any other land to benefit his own is not a patriot, but a traitor in disguise. Love of our own lives only in advancement of the good of all.

For mankind are one in spirit, and an instinct bears along. Round the earth's electric circle, the swift flash of right or wrong. Whether conscious or unconscious, yet humanity's vast frame Through its ocean sundered fibers feels the rush of joy or shame; In the gain or loss of one race all the rest have equal claim.

The Path God Has Prepared.

Well did Luther triumph that the Lord of Hosts was with him and that he had for his refuge the God of Jacob. He who doeth according to His will in the armies of heaven and among the children of men ever makes His people a majority, though they may stand forsaken and alone among the people of the world. The hosts are at His command and encamp around His children, though, like the prophet's servant, our eyes may not discern them. With such cohorts encircling us, we need have no anxiety, we need fear no evil. Whatever comes to pass can only be with the consent and approval of our Father. The path may be hidden from our dim eyes, the mist may obscure our vision, but we can confidently put our feet down, knowing that they will occupy just the position our God has prepared for us to walk in.—Episcopal Recorder.

Sighting Against Grace.

There are some things which the grace of God cannot do. It cannot save those who deliberately continue in sin. It is only effective in the lives of men and women who have formed the single purpose to walk in the ways of righteousness. There are many who make a sort of halfway covenant, secretly pledging themselves to the service of Satan while openly taking the vows of a Christian disciple. They have an idea that there is a positive virtue in being identified with the church. It costs little, they argue, in the way of personal effort or personal sacrifice to be a nominal church member, and the connection, moreover, may have some advantages. While they bear the Christian name they may secretly engage in selfish and sinful pursuits, taking care to repent and reform when death threatens.—Independent.

Duty of Church Membership.

The duty of church membership is plain and is an obligation of gratitude and love and life service; the joy of pardon and peace and hope of glory; the joy of salvation and loving devotion. To confess Christ before men in His church should be the very first desire of a new disciple. The church is His spiritual home, and Christians are its brethren and its work is Christ service.—Evangelist.

The clerk requested Freeholders Robinson and Swain to act as tellers.

It was ordered that the clerk cast the ballot, and he thereupon cast the ballot for J. Frank Hubbard for director, and who was then declared elected as director for the legal term.

The director was escorted to the chair by the tellers, and briefly returned his thanks for the honor again conferred upon him.

Freeholder Krouse moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was unanimously adopted.

The following protest was presented and read:

To the Honorable the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen: The undersigned, members of above named Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, respectfully protest to the seating of Elston Darby as a member of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of said county, representing the borough of Mountainside in said county, for the reason that said borough is not, under the law, as we understand it, entitled to representation as a borough in this Board; that the gentleman claiming to have been elected for the said borough of Mountainside was elected without any warrant or authority of law; no other borough in the county is represented in the Board, apart from the township of which it constitutes a part. If said borough has any right to representation in the Board, such right, it would appear to us, must be exercised in connection with the town of Westfield, formerly Westfield township, from which it has never been separated, so far as its right to participate in the election of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Chosen Freeholders is concerned. This protest is not made for partisan ends, but because we conceive it to be in the interest of fairness, equity and good government.

Very respectfully, etc.,

Noah Woodruff, Wm. H. Swain, Emil Klee, J. J. Marsh, George E. Oladek, Thos. J. Pierson, Joseph McOandless, Jacob Brucklacher, M. M. Souder, J. Frank Hubbard.

On motion of Freeholder King the foregoing was received and referred to the county attorney, and to the legal questions committee, when the latter was appointed.

The director announced the appointment of the committee on appropriation as follows, viz.:

Freeholders Krouse, Westphal, Connolly, Brucklacher and Woodruff.

Freeholder Krouse moved to adjourn, which was carried.

The director declared the board adjourned until Thursday, May 26, 1904, at 2:30 p. m.

S. Kusling Ryne, Clerk.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Plainfield People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling, The pains and aches of kidney ills Are serious—if neglected.

A Plainfield citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Richard Day, of 184 East Front street, says: "I had a miserable pain across my back and a sort of lame feeling over my kidneys. Standing any length of time or walking any distance aggravated it greatly. I was never sick much in my life and consequently never took much medicine, so when I first began having these attacks I paid little attention to them. They, however, grew worse instead of better so I had to look about for a remedy. I read quite frequently in our papers about cures brought about by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills so I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store and after taking them I felt greatly relieved. I have recommended them to my friends and those who have used them speak very highly in their praise."

Hospital Physicians Get Aid of Patients Whose Cases Appear to Be Hopeless.

When Mr. Smith realized that no matter how good his plays were, the St. Louis public could not or would not appreciate them, he packed up his manuscripts and came to Chicago. He had no sooner come here, says the Inter Ocean, than a severe illness necessitated his going to a hospital, and it was while an inmate of the convalescent ward that a little incident occurred of which he determined to make use at some future time.

Among the occupants of the ward was a theatrical manager whose heart was three times its natural size, a thing which Mr. Smith, of St. Louis, had reason to believe was unusual with theatrical managers. Although he was by no means well, he was recovering to his entire satisfaction. One afternoon when all the men were in a comparatively cheerful frame of mind, conversation turned to the low death rate at this particular hospital.

"There is nothing wonderful about that," said the theatrical manager, who seemed to know a great deal about hospitals, "whenever the doctors have reason to believe that a patient is going to die, they have him transferred to another hospital. So you see it is an easy matter for the authorities here to report a low death rate."

The men were still in the midst of their discussion when several doctors entered the room and walked to the bedside of the theatrical manager. They stood with their hands behind their backs and talked about his case in scientific terms. At last one of the doctors remarked to the manager:

"Yes, you are getting on very well; very well, indeed; but we hardly have the facilities here for taking care of you, and we have decided to send you to a bigger hospital on the West side."

The theatrical manager turned a dingy yellow. The other doctors nodded their assent, and walked complacently from the room. The patient was immediately removed. Two days later the men in the convalescent ward heard that he was dead.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning July 3.

Topic—Ways of consecrating ourselves to our country.—Rom. xiii, 1-7; 1 Pet. ii, 13-17.

Christianity was predetermined of God to be a universal religion. It does not therefore advocate any particular form of human government for the obvious reason that one form of government would not meet the wants and needs of all people. We believe that for Americans self government is the only thing, and yet our government has decided that for the 10,000,000 inhabitants of the Philippine Islands self government is not the thing. Bu-while advocating no particular form of government, Christianity teaches that all governments are from God and that they should be respected and obeyed. Every Christian should therefore desire to consecrate himself in every way to his country's best good. He is a most ungrateful citizen who partakes of all the advantages of citizenship and then declines to do anything for the benefit of his country.

How may we therefore as Christian citizens celebrate this anniversary of our country's birthday by consecrating ourselves to our country?

1. Let us consecrate ourselves to our country by respecting its government. God teaches us to respect human governments even though the occupants of official positions may be personally unworthy. In a government like ours many unworthy men are certain to be elected or appointed to official positions. The danger therefore is that we may lose respect for the office as well as for the officers. Indeed this is a prevalent condition in our land. The license with which public officials are attacked in the press and on the platform is teaching many to lose respect for our various forms of government and even to wonder whether government by the people can be successfully carried on. But such logic is false. Let us not be deceived. Let us even respect an unworthy man, if compelled to do so, for his office's sake rather than lose respect for the office for his sake. "Fear God; honor the king."

2. Let us consecrate ourselves to our country by participating in it by government. Ours is self government, and every citizen should take his part in it—in the selection of candidates, in their election, in supporting good measures and in opposing evil ones, and, if called upon to do so, holding office under the government. Failure to participate in governmental affairs rather than participation in them should be proscribed by the church of Christ. There are "bosses" and "rings" and "machines" in our political life today largely because the best citizens of the land fail to fulfill their duties as citizens and are indifferent to the affairs of the government. And yet God commands us to "be subject unto the powers that be," to "render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's"—yet how can we do it when we neglect our highest duty to our land—the duty of participating, as citizens, in the affairs of the government—municipal, state or national? We cannot, and therefore should consecrate ourselves to this work.

A STORY OF YOUNG ILLINOIS

By MARY HARTWELL CATERWOOD

Copyright, 1904, by Herbert S. Stone & Co.

CHAPTER I.

Abraham Lincoln lay stretched on his stomach, his head supported by his hands, facing the cooper's fireplace. A blaze of shavings and blocks lighted cobwebby beams overhead, clean staves and hoop-ends standing around the wall, the cooper's work-bench and tools, the lank, aguish face of a man who sat on a keg beside the hearth, holding a book from which the young student recited. The shop had part of a log left out in the side, filled, like all New Salem windows, with old paper instead of glass. Outer darkness made this a blurred oblong framed by logs.

People knew that the cooper let young Lincoln turn his shop into a study every evening, and no one before this night had come peering at the latch.

"The string's pulled in Minter," said Lincoln, turning his head, as suppressed laughter and a shuffle of feet on the log step disturbed his recitation. "Never mind the boys; they'll go away pretty soon."

"Maybe the Grove fellows have come to town," said the aguish young man on the keg, listening anxiously. "They'd as lief break in the cooper's paper as not."

"I reckon we'd better hurry, anyway," urged the student, and he continued repeating as rapidly as he could the remainder of the lesson.

Presently with a click—the door turned back on its wooden hinges and bumped the wall.

"I know you, Slick," declared the interrupted scholar without looking. "Come in. Folks wouldn't give you the name of Slick Green if you hadn't a way of getting what you want." He scooped a double handful of blocks and shavings on the blaze, and, warned by some unusual restraint at the door, hastily drew up his length before the fire. It showed him a slim giant in blue homespun trousers, which did not quite cover his ankles, and an open roundabout hanging loosely from the shoulders, and betraying the fact that his vest was buttoned crooked. "Seeing a stranger on the threshold with the boy he called Slick, Lincoln ran his hand through his dark hair, leaving it tossed in every direction.

"How did you know I was home from college, Abe? Dick and I rode in from the farm on purpose to see you. This is Dick Yates, one of our boys from the Jacksonville school. Dick, this is Abe Lincoln."

"How do you do, Dick?" said Abe, offering his hand.

"How do you do, Abe?" said Dick, seizing it.

"And here's our schoolmaster, Minter Grayham," continued Slick, presenting the pale occupant of the keg. Minter rose with the dignity of a man who often pronounced words of five syllables. The mounting firelight found reflecting threads in Dick Yates' bright auburn hair. The schoolmaster thought him a beautiful young fellow, with modest manners. His features, perfectly modeled and rosy as a girl's, were manly, from full forehead to outstanding chin. Though of a robust, well-knit figure for a lad of 18, his head barely reached Lincoln's shoulder as the two stood looking at each other.

"I've been telling Dick so much about you, Abe, that he wanted to see you," said Slick.

Abe blushed and Dick blushed, with eager friendliness and recognition of power.

"Are you studying Blackstone?" inquired Dick, indicating the huge book which Minter Grayham held closed.

"Yes, it's mighty interesting reading to me."

"I'm going to study law, too. But it scares me to death to begin a debate; and Slick says you make a fine speech."

"If I ever met you as an opponent, I'd want some advantage. Suppose we make a compact to work together on our first case?"

"Done!" said Yates. "It's as good as won."

"William Green!" spoke a girl's voice from the humid spring darkness outside; "have you forgot how bad the wolves are in the timber we have to ride through?"

"Come in, girls!" exclaimed the proprietor of the rough study. His tutor echoed the invitation. "It's Abe's recess. Come in, Nancy and Ann Rutledge, and the rest of you."

Half a dozen figures emerged from the night of the village street, bearing Nancy Green company, laughing and half reluctant, and let themselves be coaxed into sharing a long bench which the boys drew up before the fire. It was like an invasion of swallows. Abe raked up all the shavings and blocks and brought them to the hearth. A festive spirit filled the place. Nearly all the girls were bareheaded, in linsey dresses. They had stepped out of their homes along the winding road for the mere pleasure of being abroad and free from the tasks at the end of the day; with the exception of Nancy Green, and Martha Bell Clary, who had come from Clary's Grove to stay all night with Mahala Cameron. A similar group of young people in a French cabin would have cleared the floor directly for dancing, all the merrier for having met unexpectedly. But these children of serious Massachusetts, Tennessee, Carolina, and Kentucky pioneers held experience meeting instead. The state was still so young, and their knowledge of the wide world so limited, that they and their elders took primitive delight in telling over their own adventures. The oftener a story was repeated the more dignity it acquired.

"Talking about wolves," said young Green, when nobody had said a word about wolves since the girls' entrance, looking at his sister with sly enjoyment. "I was going afoot to the mill early one morning last summer, and met two in the path—a black one and a gray one. I stood still and looked at them, and they stood still and looked at me. I knew if I turned to run they would pull me down in a minute. Finally I whipped out my jack-knife and cut a rosin-weed, and lashed at them, yelling with all my might. They were so scared they ran like sheep."

"Or like that wagon that you stopped before we came to Illinois," retorted his sister Nancy. "When daddy was going to move from Carlina he bought a new wagon. We children had never seen such a thing, and we climbed the spokes, and William took hold of the chain on the tongue. The wagon started down hill, and everybody let go but William. The tongue ran into a tree and broke, and left the chain in his hand. 'I was going to hold on if it killed me, mother,' says he. 'For if that wagon had got away, how were we going to move out to Illinois?'"

"Speaking about sheep," continued young Green, as if he had not heard the wagon story, "daddy told Nancy when she was herding the sheep, that she must carry a bag with her and save the wool that stuck to the bushes. Our old ewe was tame, and it was easier to pick the wool off her back than to hunt through the bushes. So Nancy picked the old ewe, and came home with a full poke two nights hand running. The first night daddy praised her; but the second night he found it out!"

"I wasn't ten years old then," remembered Nancy; "and my conscience hurt me worse the first night than daddy's punishment did the second."

"That reminds me, Nancy," said Lincoln, "of what your mother told me Slick did when he was about ten years old. He brought in some frozen eggs

"Come in, everybody," cried young Green. "All New Salem is on a frolic to-night. Sally has just been here enjoying herself, Shickshack, and we expected you and Antwine would follow."

The Indian with dignity stepped upon the puncheon, and as soon as he saw Peggy a look of satisfaction relieved the tension of his face. She sat still within Ann Rutledge's arm, but gave the men of her family an affectionate glance. Antwine, who had probably been christened Antoine, and was known to bear the name of La Chance, kept shyly in the background, lifting himself with a graceful spring to sit by the cooper's high work-bench. But Shickshack strode forward to sit in full council, as became his age and character, Minter Grayham hastily giving him the keg.

The blaze showed his moccasins roughened by much tramping, and his leggings fringed down the outside seams. But Shickshack had compromised with the white man's dress by substituting a roundabout for a hunting-shirt. This was buttoned around the breech-hole girding his waist, but stood open, showing his sinewy red neck at the top. He had also let his hair grow and it made a black tatch upon his head.

Dick Yates gave Shickshack the grave salutation which he knew an Indian loved. The Sac fastened his eyes on Dick as the chief man at the fire, and the one for whom perhaps it had been kindled. Though his face did not betray it, he was pleased also to hear the young pale face talking to Peggy under the chatter of other voices.

would think she was the Indian and Shickshack the white."

"I'm nimbler than Sally when I have my crutch," laughed the child, still weeping through her laughter, and trying to swallow her sobs. Ann and Dick Yates helped her to the cooper's bench. Piteous and courageous as the little figure was, the other girls looked at her with disfavor, and one of the younger Rutledges whispered to Mahala Cameron that "a certain person was always tagging Ann," as if resenting interference with a sister's privilege.

"Never mind, Peggy," said Lincoln, cheerfully. "Sally will make a man of you if hard knocks can do it. Where are Shickshack and the boy?"

"They haven't come in from hunting yet."

"And Sally took the opportunity to enjoy herself."

He drew his own large bandana handkerchief out of his pocket and kindly wiped the child's face. She hiccupped in her effort to control more tears, and smiled at him. Ann kept one arm around her, and brushed down the hair which straggled to her shoulders. Peggy had a colorless, aquiline face, and a prominent though tiny mouth, her short upper lip failing to quite conceal her teeth. Her dress was of soft tanned deer skin and showed by its lines that it had been cut out by a masculine knife instead of by feminine scissors. There was scarcely a fold to conceal her slim shape, and its scantiness displayed one moccasined foot hanging down. Her other foot was curled under the bench, while pointing straight at the fire was a wooden leg strapped to her knee. She tried with careful hands to spread the skin drape over it.

Dick Yates could not help looking at her with curiosity. Even in that time when so many mixed elements went to the creating of a settlement, she was an unusual figure. Ann Rutledge, seeking on Peggy's head and back the welts left by the crutch, noticed the inquiry in his eye and answered it.

"She is not Sally Shickshack's child, or Shickshack's, either. They have been in New Salem only a little while. He is a Sac Indian and likes to live among white men. His white wife you saw. She has a stepson, I think, a Canadian boy. There are four in the family. Shickshack and his wife have no children of their own, though people say she was married twice before. He is a good Indian."

The good Indian that moment appeared at the door with his wife's stepson behind him. That he had almost come upon his wife in the act of using the crutch was evident, for he carried the crutch in his hand, and had not yet unslinging from his back a full game-bag. His gun he rested against the wall within the door.

"Come in, everybody," cried young Green. "All New Salem is on a frolic to-night. Sally has just been here enjoying herself, Shickshack, and we expected you and Antwine would follow."

The Indian with dignity stepped upon the puncheon, and as soon as he saw Peggy a look of satisfaction relieved the tension of his face. SPORTING NEWS.

DIAMOND DUST.

Frank Clarkson, the Harvard pitcher, joined the New York Americans at Boston, yesterday.

For some unknown reason "Kid" Walton did not play with the Elizabeth Stars on Sunday.

It is said that "Lefty" Davis will pitch for the Ridgewoods against the Cuban X Giants on Sunday.

Co-operation in the management of a ball nine is a good thing, but too much management is disastrous.

The Reform A. C. will play the East Millstone team at East Millstone on Saturday. George Dupree will pitch for the home nine.

It is stated by a relative of John Ramsey, of High Bridge, that he recently sustained an injury to his side while pitching baseball.

McGehee, who pitched the winning game for St. Mary's last year against Westfield, is doing great work with the Harrisburgs this season.

Farmer, who had his hair cut recently, is not altogether unlike Sampson of old. His strength for hitting the ball seems to have taken a drop.

It is possible that Manager Johnston may use Pitcher Badgley, of Lehigh University, either on Saturday or in one of the Fourth of July contests. It is not known which game Davis will pitch.

There is a rumor that Manager Johnston has secured McManus to play right field for Alls. This player will be remembered as one of the best. He has been with a Pennsylvania team that recently disbanded.

The employees of J. A. Smith & Bros. grocery are practicing every night in preparation for their contest with the clerks from Newman Bros. store on Fourth of July. The game will be played on St. Mary's field.

John Carty, who was chosen manager of St. Mary's proposed baseball team, informed a reporter for The Daily Press last night, that no arrangements have been made to have the Hoboken play here under the St. Mary name.

GOLF.

The Westfield Golf Club team will meet the Park Golf Club team on the borough course on Saturday.

Frank O. Reinhardt, the crack golfer, has returned from Princeton. This season he has been rather inactive regarding golf tournaments.

In addition to the regular holiday events scheduled for the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club on Fourth of July, there will be several special events.

PIRATES GAVE A SHOW.

West End Club Raised Money for Baseball Paraphernalia.

The West End Pirates raised money for new baseball paraphernalia Tuesday and yesterday afternoons with a production of "The Coming Man" and "Bill Brothers" in Westpal's barn on West Fourth street. The cast included in the following:

William Westphal, Howard Firstbrook, Clinton Firstbrook, Howard Sweeney, James Ennis, Joseph Roach, William Doyle, Charles Oregar and Thomas Lappan. A special feature of the entertainment was a five-round boxing bout between John Day and Andrew Brady. It ended in a draw.

Stiver Hose Cart Not to Go.

In its article upon the supposed probability of the storing of the old Amity hose cart in Rahway, The Daily Press was in error yesterday. The story resulted from a confusion of the Gaselle hand engine, which has been loaned to the Rahway Exempta, with the silver-mounted cart in the mind of a reporter.

Robert Crane, of East Second street, left town yesterday for an extended vacation trip.

Robert Hand, of Fairview avenue, will cruise in the South Sea this summer on the Standard Oil ship Kelpie.

NAIL PIERCED HIS BRAIN IN THE CHRISTIAN FIELD

PECULIAR ACCIDENT PROVED FATAL TO JOHNNY RIELLEY.

John Rielley, aged 8 years, died at Mahlenberg Hospital, yesterday afternoon, the result of brain affection caused by a fall four weeks ago at his home in South Plainfield. The lad was running about the yard when he stumbled and fell on a plank in the end of which was a nail. The boy's forehead struck the nail and it penetrated the skull fully three inches, reaching the brain tissue.

The lad was at home a few days after the injury before he was removed to Mahlenberg Hospital and upon his arrival at the institution the physicians were afraid of brain affection. Everything known to surgery was done in the hope of saving the boy's life and at once time it was believed he might recover. Several days ago he began to grow worse and in spite of the best treatment he passed away yesterday afternoon.

The funeral services will be held from the residence of the parents at South Plainfield tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

SOME MORE SPEAKEASY CASES

SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED ON PAOL AND BROWN AFTER A WARNING.

Lorenz Paoli, of North avenue, who entered a plea of non vult in the action brought against him on a charge of keeping a "speak-easy," was arraigned in the County Court at Elizabeth yesterday for sentence. Judge Vall suspended sentence.

William G. DeMesa, Esq., represented Mr. Paoli, also Mr. Carbone and D. J. Ramazzotti, of Park avenue. There were two indictments in each case. Mrs. Carbone and Mr. Ramazzotti were both acquitted. As these were second offenses had the accused been convicted they no doubt would have received very heavy fines. Mr. DeMesa's defense of his clients was considered clever.

Sentence was suspended also on James Brown, another Plainfielder, who was similarly warned that it would go hard with him in case he is brought before the court again.

POLITICAL NOTES.

James B. Nugent, delegate to the St. Louis convention from the Seventh Congressional District, has sent a letter to each member of the New Jersey delegation containing information relative to the trip to the convention city. The letters were sent by Mr. Nugent in his capacity of treasurer of the delegation, to which position he was assigned by State Chairman William B. Gourley, in accordance with custom. Mr. Nugent informed the delegates that former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., has offered to bear the expenses of transportation to St. Louis and return and that he has accepted the offer, on behalf of the delegates. The delegation will leave for the convention city on the St. Louis limited, on the morning of Saturday, July 2.

PERSONAL.

Dr. and Mrs. Guy Hillman have returned from their honeymoon.

Mrs. Daniel Dodge, of Bayonne, is visiting relatives in this city for several days.

Mrs. E. S. Bonnell, of Orange, has been visiting her brother, A. J. Brudson, of this city.

Clayton M. Nagle, the druggist, will soon move to West Front street, opposite Washington avenue, which property he has purchased.

Mrs. Ella B. Smith and daughter, of Westerville avenue, leave next week for New Rochelle, where they will spend part of the summer.

The St. Louis Fair in Pictures. Ten parts of the New York World's photographic art portfolios of the St. Louis Fair are now ready. Each part contains sixteen superbly engraved large photographic reproductions of scenes in and about the fair. To turn the pages of these several art albums is next best thing to a trip to St. Louis. The buildings are accurately reproduced, as are the plazas, the statuary, and many of the most interesting exhibits. The entire ten parts can be obtained for one dollar. Send one dollar to The World, Pulitzer building, New York, and the portfolios will be sent to your charges prepaid.

Patterson's Store Alterations. Extensive alterations have been arranged for by the Patterson Brothers, formerly of this city, but at present of Los Angeles, California, to improve the store property on West Front street, where they were for many years engaged in the wholesale and retail tobacco business. The inside partitions are to be torn out and a flight of stairs built outside the store, doing away with the present inside stairway and improving the interior appearance of the place.

WORK IN THE CHURCHES OF THE CITY AND BOROUGH.

Rev. F. E. Whiteside, who is doing missionary work in the New York slums, has returned to his post after a short stay with friends in San Remy, New York.

Rev. George Mooney, pastor of Monroe Avenue M. E. church, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Young People's Society, of Hope chapel, next Wednesday night.

The annual picnic of the Friends First-day School will be held today at the home of Thomas S. Young, Midway avenue, Scotch Plains.

BEHIND CLOSED PORTALS

HAPPENINGS OF THE LOCAL FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Bomerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will meet tomorrow night and elect officers.

His Fifth Birthday Celebrated.

LeRoy Mills, of West Front street, gave a party in honor of his fifth birthday to twenty-five of his little friends yesterday afternoon. These were present: Jennie Roe, Clara Mills, Beatrice Ackerman, Mildred and Walter Smith, Helen McOarty, Kate Nolan, Edith Swartz, Hazel Blair, Annie Whitley, Thelma Cook, Grace and Ralph Tudgate, John and Jules Krinsky, Belle Apper and Marian Smith, Harry and Howard Folk, Robby, Wilson and Adolf Mills, Roy and Helen Mills.

POPULARITY OF HOUSEBOAT

Summer Outings on the Waterways of This Country Are Coming More Into Favor.

Dealers in boats say there is an increased call this year over last for houseboats, and some of them believe that this way of taking a summer outing is at last coming into popular favor after a delay that has always been inexplicable, says the Philadelphia Record.

In London the fad has flourished on the Thames to such an extent as to necessitate special legislation to regulate it, and at certain times the boats have been so numerous as to make it possible to walk across their decks from one bank to the other.

In this country the trouble seems to have been that there is too much rather than too little available room, and the long reaches of water, such as those in Barnegat bay and other places which are ideal for sailing, are found rather lonesome for living on the anchored houseboat. It is to be noticed that the enthusiasm of one year, full of really convincing arguments concerning the absence of taxes and other possible economies, is ready to sell his craft the next year after having tried it, and often finds it hard to make a satisfactory sale.

A company which was organized to build houseboats to order and to keep a number on hand for rent went into business on an extensive scale in New York about ten years ago, getting out a magazine as a further means of popularizing the idea, but only lasted a year. Since then there has been a small increase in the total number of boats thus used, and now the hopeful ones think the boom is at last in sight.

Surgeons as Guests of Central.

Under arrangements made personally by Passenger Agent W. G. Beiler, all the surgeons of the Central New Jersey Railroad, of whom Dr. J. T. Fritts is one, together with their wives, were tendered an outing to Lake Hopatcong today. The special train with the party on board passed through here shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. It was made up of No. 900, which is the directors' car, a day coach and the parlor car Atlas. Dr. and Mrs. Fritts were aboard.

Y. M. C. A. Tennis Results.

In last night's match in the Y. M. C. A. doubles tennis tournament, Collier and Long defeated Garrett and Strong two straight sets by scores of 6 to 3 and 6 to 0. The match was a fairly easy one for the winners. It begins to look as if the finals would be between Keene and Miner on one side and Collier and Long on the other. If such should prove the case, the deciding game will be well worth witnessing and should call out a good-sized crowd.

Business Transfer.

Louis C. Ortnier, the Park avenue grocer, has sold out his entire stock to M. E. Walker, the Westfield grocer, and will not engage in active business for a time. Mr. Ortnier's health has been rather poor lately and he takes this action on his physician's advice.

Precautions Against Fire.

Arrangements have been made to have a second team in the borough fire house over the Fourth. This is a precautionary measure against the expected crop of fireworks blazes.

Mrs. Devine Buried.

The funeral of Mrs. Catharine Devine took place this morning, mass being said in St. Mary's church. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

The City Union of King's Daughters has postponed the opening of the baby camp until next week.
