PERKINS TELLS NEW IDEA MEN WHY HE STANDS

Assemblyman Seeking Fourth Term Invades Plainfield to State his Position, and Accuses Leaders of Attempting to Override People's Will.

HE PITCHES INTO KEAN, SMITH AND TILLMAN

Reiterates That He Is No Sorehead and Will Be Loyal to Ticket If De-seated—Judge William N. Runyon Praises the Westfield Man.

Speaking under the auspices of the Fourth Ward branch of the Colbyite organization, Assemblyman Randolph Perkins told his reasons, at a meeting in Reform Hall, last night, for making his campaign for a fourth term in the Assembly, and some of the things that led up to it. His speech included a charge that his fellow-assemblyman, Peter Tillman, of Rahway, had entered into a deal to deliver the Rahway delegation against him in return for an appointment as inspector of denatured alcohol. He said the action of his associate, with whom he had worked, side by side, in the Assembly, ranked deeply, and had a good bit to do with his fight to defeat those who sought his political annihilation. He had some things to say of the alleged disciplinary activities of County Chairman Frank H. Smith.

The meeting was attended by something over 100 men, and two women. E. D. Cutting was chairman. There was enthusiasm enough, and Mr. Perkins was warmly welcomed. His telling shafts won spirituelle applause. There is no doubt that he had his audience with him, and that practically every man in the hall left it a Perkins boomer.

Judge Runyon was the only speaker besides Mr. Perkins. He spoke before the latter, and his speech was practically a declaration in favor of Mr. Perkins' renomination. In part, he said:

"I hardly supposed twelve months ago that I should be appearing on the same platform with Mr. Perkins, and doing what I could to bring him to your favorable notice. Viewing things from the standpoint of 1907 I don't think Union county suffered from the election of Mr. Perkins. He has shown great independence in his course. He has acted according to his honest convictions as a legislator. He did not try to evade or dodge an issue to gain votes.

"He has been before the people three times. The first time he was chosen he had no opportunity to make himself known. The second year he was practically a new man, and his success in making himself known as he did speaks for his ability. I believe he acted well as a legislator. He was threatened with the vengeance of the organization when he asserted his independence in the Senatorial battle, and he stood fast.

"I take it that he has had practically but one term in which to show of what he is made. He has an honorable ambition to return to the Assembly. We have seen in other states the spectacle of national legislators being returned term after term, and the value of that policy has been recognized by New Jersey in the cases of congressmen and senators. I feel the good of that policy will be operative as strongly in our State Legislature, if Mr. Perkins is returned to the Assembly, we will gain a legislator of great credit to Union county and the State; Union county will have a strong and useful representative. It is said he is a weak candidate. How can that be said with any force? It seems to be the aim of the organization to choose candidates for the people and to force them on the electorate. The organization cannot say Mr. Perkins is a weak candidate if it doesn't give the people a chance to speak on him. I feel that if the delegates were left to the people's choice Mr. Perkins would be selected.

"To involve the primary in political tactics tends to defeat the people. I feel we are being forced to accept one man and to regard another one as a weak candidate. I do not think there is right or justice in the cry that Mr. Perkins is a weak candidate. He has been in the thick of the battle. His record is largely the record of the Republican party. Can you see voters of Plainfield, why, if he acted according to the dictates of his conscience, he should be denied another term?

"We are not trying to fight the Republican party. We are simply trying to keep the party straight, and give every citizen a right to vote as his conscience dictates. If the party cannot bear that it has gone far from its original position. We seek to do away with the planning things behind closed doors.

"Do not be prejudiced. Give Mr. Perkins a fair hearing, and if he meets with your approval step out boldly and give him your support." Mr. Perkins was received with sustained applause. He said, in part: "Political opposition founded in personal interest or on private affairs is likely to be determined and lasting, but opposition that is based on political expediency is apt to be swept away in an exchange of ideas. That is why I come before you to explain. Last year you voted for delegates opposed to me and I tried to elect delegates in my favor. How comes it now that our political ideas are not as far apart as then? I will say that the political ideas I had a year ago were not so far from yours at that time.

"I am a regular. I went about last year saying there were no such things as bosses in Union county. I may tell you different later, but when I told you that I believed it, I am proud of the Republican party, and have served it as well as I knew how, and I intend to go on fighting in its ranks, fighting its battle and the battle of the people.

"A party cannot win on mere promises. It must come before the people with performances. If a man comes before his constituents and makes promises he must keep them. If he fails it is the constituency's duty to retire him.

"I stand only on the printed record on the minutes. I do not seek to make compromise and take the position of a coward. How comes it that I am meeting those with friendly feeling whom I fought a year ago? Aside from our little or major differences, there is something of the utmost importance. What we should want to do is to send men to Trenton who are honest and sincere.

"I have committed a political sin in the eyes of some people. I said I would be free from bossism. Have I or have I not? Can anyone come forward and say I took orders from anybody but the people at large? (Applause.) I dare say there are those who charge that as my chief sin, if you want honest men at Trenton, it is your duty to examine the records of candidates, and if they do not show that the candidates have kept faith with the people they should be sent back to private life. If they have kept faith, you should see to it that some boss does not relegate them.

"Gentlemen, I said I am an organization man. I am. The things that are being done against me represent disorganization. I purpose staying in the ranks. If I am defeated, and they will let me I'll stump the county for the ticket. I am no sorehead.

"This campaign has a deeper purpose than to make Randolph Perkins assemblyman a fourth time. When the assemblyman of this county learned that the people of the county did not desire Senator Dryden's re-election what was his duty? Was he not to protest against a nomination the people didn't want? If my record is to be investigated what is the verdict as to my independence.

"Now I have told you my greatest sin. When I voted against Senator Dryden it was said by the leader of the party that I had committed political suicide. That was a threat. I am now about to say something unpleasant for me to say, but it is true. What I will say I said to the gentlemen involved, face to face, for I hate a coward.

"Less than four weeks after your Senator and myself helped defeat Senator Dryden, your county chairman went to Mr. Tillman and said the organization was against Mr. Tillman and Mr. Perkins and secured his resignation from the House in consideration of his appointment as inspector of denatured alcohol and in consideration of his delivery of the Rahway delegates against Perkins. I told that to Mr. Tillman and your county chairman. From the day I learned that I became a candidate for renomination.

"The thing that hurts me is that the man with whom you have been associated makes a deal whereby I am to be relegated to the ranks. Gentlemen, I have given you the reason, why I am a candidate, and I will be a candidate right up to convention day. If I am wiped off the face of the political map, I will be there.

THEY WANT "FARMER JIM"

North Jersey Voters Enthusiastic Over His Boom for Gubernatorial Nomination.

LEADERS FAVOR HIM

In Morris, Sussex and Warren Counties the Plainfielder Is As Popular As Roosevelt, a Local Man Declares.

State Democratic politicians who have been laboring under a delusion that James E. Martine's gubernatorial boom is on the wane, should take a trip to northern New Jersey where a strong sentiment is developing daily for the candidacy of the Farmer Orator. As a general rule, in the rural districts, politics fall to assume any definite proportions until a few weeks previous to election, but this year proves to be an exception to the custom. Instead, the voters appear to be more interested than ever which is probably due to the legislative probe which was inaugurated last May and which is creating an unusual amount of interest among the rural voters.

A Plainfielder who returned to town today after a three week's visit to towns in Morris, Sussex and Warren counties informed a Daily Press reporter that Martine is a universal favorite among voters of all classes in these three counties. The feeling in favor of Martine is not confined to Democrats alone, but also to voters in the Republican ranks. "In these counties," said the Daily Press informant, "Martine is just as popular as President Roosevelt. He is close to the hearts of the people and his name is a byword in the county inns, taverns and stores, where the farmers gather from day to day to discuss current events. If he receives the Democratic nomination there is no reason not to believe that he will carry the State by a substantial majority."

Prominent Republicans in Dover, Hackettstown, Stanhope, Newton, and other towns are not backward in stating openly that they will vote for the Farmer Orator should he receive the nomination. The Democratic leaders, to a unit, in these sections favor his candidacy and delegates are being elected to support him in the convention. Firemen's Day at Hackettstown on Thursday proved a sort of a political bee for the politicians of Warren and Sussex counties. In the special excursion from Newton which attended the festivities all of the leaders from the Sussex county seat were emphatic in their declarations of support for the "Farmer Orator." The sentiment was not confined to the Newton excursions but the same spirit prevailed all along the line.

Captain Woodhull Bird, of Port Morris, who has been a staunch Democrat all his life and who has cast his ballot for all the Democratic presidential candidates in a row since President Polk's time, said last week that there are two men he hoped Providence would spare his life to vote for. They are William J. Bryan for the presidency and James E. Martine for governor.

In extolling the good qualities of Martine, Captain Bird said, "I like him very much for his frankness and honesty. I have met him several times campaigning up here during the last forty years and I think he is just the right sort of a man to have in the governor's chair at Trenton, and I think his time has come to win out, by gosh. Anyhow he'll get my vote and hundreds of others up around here."

Canoists' Novel Trip.

Charles S. Edgcombe and Harold C. Chapman, of Jersey City, members of the Palisade Canoe Club, are camping at Sebring's Mills for a few days after a canoeing trip from Jersey City. They left home Thursday, going down Newark bay, through the Kill von Kull to New York bay, thence through "The Narrows" to the ocean, along the south shore of Staten Island to Ward's Point, where they camped for the night. They resumed the trip yesterday, paddling across Raritan bay to the Raritan river, proceeding up the stream to Bound Brook and then along Greenvale to Sebring's Mills. The trip is an unusual one for canoeists and the young men will return home by almost the same route.

Their Marriage Announced.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Dudley L. Ferguson, son of Rev. John D. Ferguson, of Sherman avenue, and Miss Julia Quentin Fitzgerald, of this city. The ceremony was performed on July 6 last, by Rev. Dr. Houghton at the Church of the Transfiguration, New York.

Farmers' Picnic at Gillette.

A farmers' picnic is to be held this afternoon and evening at Gillette. It will be attended by people from all about that section and many from this city. A dance will be held in Short's Hall both afternoon and evening in connection with the affair.

PRIZE SHOOT LABOR DAY

Independent Gun Club Members Will Spend the Day at the Range.

THE SEASON'S PRIZES

Winners of Point Shoots at Rifle Range and Trap Will Receive Their Medals at the Grove Monday.

Members of the Independent Gun Club and their friends will have an opportunity to shoot for special prizes at the Maple avenue range Labor Day. Several special events have been arranged, among which are special prize events for friends of the club members. The shooting will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the card of events will keep the members who wish to enter at the park all day.

The feature of the day's shooting will be the "King Shoot," at the rifle traps. This is open to members, and the one scoring the shot nearest to the center of the bulls eye will be crowned king, and will be awarded a $25 gold medal, the highest honor of the day for the club members. Other match shooting at rifle range and traps will take up the interest of the members, and twenty handsome prizes, consisting of gold and silver medals, hunting cut, gun case, shell case, cartridge loading outfit, cleaning rods and ammunition. The members will be handicapped in the shooting.

Part of the Labor Day program at the park will consist in the award of prizes for last season's shooting, concluded in the meet at the ranges July 4. B. F. Leonard, with 271 out of a possible 300 points at the rifle range will receive a gold medal as first prize. The second prize, another gold medal, is to go to C. W. Leonard, with 265 points. S. F. Sabacher, who got 258 points in the shooting, will get a silver medal. In the trap shooting for the season, B. F. Leonard also won the event, with 62 points out of a possible 90. He will receive a gold medal as first prize. C. W. Krause, who got a 60, will receive a gold medal as second prize. W. S. Terry and C. W. Leonard tied for third honors with scores of 58. Terry will receive a silver medal and Leonard will be awarded a club badge.

Local members of the club will be at the ranges in force morning and afternoon, and refreshments will be served there during the day. Several of the members will bring guests from Newark and New York, who will compete for the special prizes open to them.

WATCHING REPUBLICANS' CANDIDATES ARE PICKED

MEETING ENDORSES DR. MOLDENKE AS DELEGATE TO STATE CONVENTION.

The Republicans of Watchung have announced their ticket, made at a party caucus held Thursday as follows: Delegate to State convention: Dr. Richard Moldenke; delegate to county convention, A. P. Voorhees, town committeeman (three years' term), William H. Titus; surveyors of highways, Hippolyte Texier and Frederick H. Herkstroter; pound keepers, Emil Clement and Soren Sorensen. There was a fair representation of the party present, and names were mentioned for discussion by the voters before they were put on the slate.

It was voted to support an appropriation of $2,000 for repairing and building roads for the year, and decided by the meeting to request the repair of the sidewalk from Watchung to Johnston's Drive. An appropriation of $600 for the poor as supported and it was the sentiment of the meeting that the salary of the committeeman be $75.

Water Wagon Jag Cost $5.

John Remples, the driver of one of the city water wagons, who disregarded the fitness of things by displaying a jag on the symbol of total abstinence, to the scandal of North and Park avenues yesterday morning, was fined $5 by City Judge Runyon this morning. The magistrate said he deserved punishment for allowing himself to get drunk while in charge of city property.

Letter-Carrier Stops Runaway.

A horse attached to one of Debel & Stahl's delivery wagons ran away from in front of the Trust Company's building this morning. It was stopped at Second street by Letter-carrier Daniel Shea, who seized the bridle. No damage was done.

Buys Fourth Street House.

Mrs. Agnes Delaney, of East Newark, has purchased a house on West Fourth street, from Frank Kramer. She will conduct a boarding house.

MARRIED HALF CENTURY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Schermerhorn Will Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary.

LIVED HERE 23 YEARS

Local Western Union Manager Married in Jersey City September 2, 1887.

Residents of this city since 1870, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill Schermerhorn will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their home, 116 Madison avenue, Monday, Labor Day. On September 2, 1887 the couple were married in Jersey City, and have been residents of Plainfield since thirteen years after their marriage. Mr. Schermerhorn, a telegraph operator from the age of seventeen years, has been employed in the local office of the Western Union Company since he came to this city.

"Uncle Charlie" and "Aunt Sapie," as they are known to so many of the old residents of this city, made no plans for a celebration of their fiftieth anniversary as man and wife, and will entertain their friends informally at their home on that day. The two have many fast friends among the older residents of the city and are well-known locally.

A Daily Press reporter, calling at the Schermerhorn home yesterday found Mrs. Schermerhorn ready to talk about her long married life and about Plainfield as it was in the years gone by. "I have taken so much interest in reading the articles now being printed in the Press," she said, "so many of those events I can remember, and I find I remember so many of the people." In speaking of her residence in this city, Mrs. Schermerhorn said that the first impressions of the place were unfavorable, based on a view she got of the old Plainfield depot as she passed through the town on her wedding trip to Philadelphia in 1887. "Such a looking place! I never thought I would live here," she said, "for I judged the town by the appearance of that ramshackle wooden building with the bell in the tower on top." But the couple did come here, however, from Burlington, N. J., when Mr. Schermerhorn was transferred to the Plainfield office. "Our first home in Plainfield was the 'Octagon House' on East Fifth street, near Park avenue. Only it was on Fourth street then, where L. A. Rheame's coal yard is now." We lived in other houses, too, I can't tell you how many, but we did live in the same house for eight years in two cases before we came to this house."

There is but ten months difference in the ages of the two. Mr. Schermerhorn having been born in 1833 and his wife in 1834. Mrs. Schermerhorn, nee Sarah Payne Allen, is the daughter of John C. Allen, a merchant tailor who lived in Schenectady, N. Y., where she was born. She was one of three children, a brother, John, and a sister, Mrs. Charles H. Winfield. Neither brother nor sister survive, the latter being buried in the Schermerhorn plot at Hillside cemetery. In speaking about her early years, Mrs. Schermerhorn said: "I've always had a weakness for telegraph operators. My first beau, before I was sent to school at Schoharie, N. Y., was a telegrapher, and Mr. Schermerhorn I first met when he came to our house in Jersey City as a boarder. He was then telegraph operator at the Western Union station in the Irving House, New York. Yes," she concluded, with a laugh, "if I ever marry again, it will be a telegrapher, only he must be more nearly my own age."

Mr. Schermerhorn is the son of the late Abraham S. Schermerhorn, a shoemaker, and was born at Hackettstown, Pa., the old home of Dr. Yerkes. His father wanted him to be a shoemaker, but he never made but one shoe in his life. At the age of seventeen, he became an operator in one of the first telegraph offices in this country, a test office established at New Hope, Pa. James Worl, now living in Westfield, was the first operator there, and at his resignation, Mr. Schermerhorn took his position. From New Hope, he went to Princeton, then to the Irving House, New York city, at which time he made the acquaintance of Mrs. Schermerhorn. Later he was transferred to Brooklyn, where he was in charge of the first Western Union telegraph office in that city.

After his marriage, he went to take charge of the office at Burlington. At the opening of the Civil War, he went to Beverly, some four miles south of Burlington, where he was in charge of the army office. This was the headquarters of General Sewell, and a large recruiting station. His wife was with him, helping in the hospital, writing letters for the sick soldiers and knitting socks for those at the front. At the time of Lee's surrender, Mr.

SWODY IN TOWNS AGAIN, BUT DOESN'T RACE CHIEF

"Longboat", OF MARATHON FAME, RECEIVES WARRANT WITH A SMILE.

Henry "Longboat" Swody, the boroughite who gave Chief Marshal Weiss, of the borough police force, such a chase for his capture Thursday morning, is again in the toils of the North Plainfield court. This time the hearing of the case will tend to show that Swody has an athletic tongue as well as an athletic pair of legs. James Fillmore, a next door neighbor of the runner, on Greenbrook road, got a warrant from Justice of the Peace Smalley for Swody's arrest, charging him with the use of abusive language and profanity in an inter-neighbor argument which took place between the two Thursday night.

"Longboat" saw Chief Weiss afar off when he came with the warrant today, but contrary to tactics of Thursday, did not crank up and start off on a wild run again. He stood still and took the warrant with a smile. The Chief was so pleased with his action that he did not take Swody around to the lock-up, but merely bound him over to appear before Mayor Smalley at the session of borough court tonight.

CAN'T MAKE CITIZENS FOR POLITICAL PURPOSES.

Demonstrated in Somerset Court Yesterday That It Can No Longer Be Done.

Somerset county at Somerville yesterday experienced the first salutary effects of the enforcement of the new naturalization law. Special Assistant United States Attorney William S. Gregg, of Philadelphia, demonstrated before a large audience in the Somerset court yesterday morning that the practice of naturalizing foreign subjects with a limited knowledge of the English language and the Constitution of the United States is a thing of the past.

Heretofore it has been the practice to naturalize foreigners of the "undesirable citizen" class in bunches, just before the fall elections. Two applicants of the more intelligent class of Italians were put forward yesterday morning as a feeder under the new law. Attorney Gregg subjected both of them to a rigid examination.

John Cleri, a tailor, who qualified in all other respects, was rejected because he had no knowledge of the constitution, and declared that Somerville was the capital of New Jersey. Cleri will be given an opportunity to study up before he is again examined on October 6. Davino Corsi, an educated Italian, of Rocky Hill, who claims to have lived in the United States for twenty-five years and has a shoemaker's shop, had a hard time to obtain his naturalization papers, because he was shy of witnesses who had known him for five years continuously. Attorney Gregg made a strong point of discovering whether the Italians were members of secret societies or had Anarchistic tendencies.

SAFE GRINDERS 'STRIKE.

Refusal of Company to Remove Unpopular Foreman Causes Twenty-five Employees to Strike.

The statement made by one of the officials of the Manganese Safe Works, yesterday, to the effect that none of its men were on strike, was declared false by an employee today. To a Daily Press reporter he asserted that twenty-five of the grinders went out yesterday morning because the management refused to give them another foreman. The man holding the place, it was said, is very unpopular and his removal is all they want.

The Daily Press informant asserted that the entire department would remain out until the grievance was recognized.

"We are not asking an increase in wages or a decrease in hours," he said, "but we do want another foreman."

ANTI-PERKINS MEETING OFF.

J. Frank Burke Finds He Can't Speak Here Tonight.

Those who hoped to hear J. Frank Burke, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, say something as to Assemblyman Randolph Perkins' record at a meeting last night, will be disappointed. The meeting, which was announced yesterday, has been called off.

Mr. Burke had made an engagement to speak in Camden when he arranged for tonight's meeting, but he expected there would be no trouble in getting excused. He learned later that he could not cancel in Camden, and regretfully notified the leaguers here that he could not come as announced. A meeting will be arranged probably next week.

DEMOCRATS' CANDIDATES

Walter L. Hetfield Sr., Likely Oppose W. N. Runyon for the City Judgeship.

OWENS FOR ASSEMBLY

Heavy Array of Candidates for Common Council—Ticket Will Be Completed To-night.

Although local Democratic leaders announced at noon today that their slate had hardly been completed, a full list of nominations for city and county officers will be filed with City Clerk James T. McMurray before midnight, as required by law. While the Democrats have refrained from shooting off any spectacular verbal fireworks the local Jeffersonians have been unusually active during the preliminary campaign and indications point to a strong array of candidates to oppose the G. O. P. nominations. Despite the fact that the city is overwhelmingly Republican the Democrats are hopeful of polling a much larger vote than usual owing to the discontent and dissensions in the Republican ranks.

In the list of councilman nominees Dr. C. M. Luckey appears to be the choice of the First ward voters and as he has no opposition he will undoubtedly receive the honor. In the Second ward no definite selection up to noon had been made. In this district nobody appears to be seeking the office, although several possibilities have been mentioned in the names of Joseph M. Harrigan, J. V. D. Dils and D. W. Martine, the latter a brother of the "Farmer Orator," who is a gubernatorial possibility. The latter has never taken an active part in politics and as he has not yet been consulted in the matter it is not known whether he will permit himself to be a candidate for Council. In the Third ward James T. Bolton, of West Fifth street, is reported to be the nominee, while in the Fourth ward William H. Brokaw, a local contractor, is mentioned. Then there is some talk of nominating a strong labor union man whose name could not be ascertained up to time of going to press.

It is practically certain that Walter L. Hetfield, Sr., will be the opponent of City Judge Runyon. The local Democratic leader was somewhat reluctant to accept the nomination but overtures of friends and local business men have compelled him, it is said, to withdraw his opposition and accept the candidacy. Attorney John P. Owens, as has been generally supposed, will be a candidate on the assembly ticket.

MISS BARBARA FLEMING WINS AND LOSES IN TENNIS.

Victorious in the Singles, Country Club Woman Lost Doubles at Elizabeth.

Miss Barbara Fleming, of the Country Club, playing with Mrs. S. F. Weaver at the tennis tournament for East Jersey honors at the courts of the Elizabeth Town and Country Club yesterday, won her match in the second round, but was defeated when she and her partner met Miss Marie Wagner and Miss W. H. Pouch, who won their place in the finales by defeating the local player.

The match against Mrs. B. C. Edgar and Miss Robinson, in the second round, was only captured after three sets of hard tennis. Miss Fleming and her partner won the first set, 6-3, lost the second by the same score and then got together and took the third, 6-1. After this hard tennis, they played Mrs. W. H. Pouch and Miss Marie Wagner, and lost in straight sets, 6-4, 6-0.

Miss Fleming is still in the singles tournament, having won her match in the first round against Miss J. D. Egleston, of the Elizabeth Town and Country Club, in straight sets, 7-5, 6-2. Play in the second round will be completed today, and Miss Fleming is scheduled to play this afternoon.

Now In Business Here.

One of our clients owed $48 between four people. His salary is $14 weekly; rent $12 monthly. To have paid $2 weekly to each creditor, combined with rent, would have left only $5 per week to most expenses, buy clothing, etc.—an impossibility you will agree. He borrowed $50, paid all his creditors, made his future credit good, if ever needed; pays his rent, the loan payments, and has $9 each week to use as his judgment dictates.

SNODGRASS TO PREPARE AT S. S. CONVENTION

INTERESTING MEETING, WITH GOOD SPEAKING, AT PLAINFIELD, SEPT. 12.

An interesting program has been arranged for the forty-third annual convention of the Middlesex County Sunday School Association to be held in the First Presbyterian church at Plainboro on Thursday, September 12. The delegates can go by the Trenton "Fast Line" trolley or the Pennsylvania Railroad, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

The morning session will be opened at 10 o'clock with a devotion service by Rev. W. C. Snodgrass, president of the county association, and the program continued as follows:

10.15—Home Department Conference, led by Mrs. David Sulphur, home department superintendent of Mercer County Sunday-school Association.

10.35—Cradle Roll Conference, led by Miss Rose Scott, State elementary superintendent.

10.45—Work of the year reviewed. Reports will be made by the County Executive Committee, township and district secretaries, the county secretary and department superintendents.

11.20—"Problems and How They Are Being Solved," round table conference, led by Rev. E. M. Ferguson, State secretary.

11.50—Appointment of committees, offering announcements concerning the conferences, "Words of Greeting on Behalf of the Church," Rev. James Leishman, pastor of the convention church.

12 M.—Social hour; dinner.

2 P. M.—Devotional service led by Rev. James Leishman. The International Lesson for the following Sunday will be read.

2.15—"Our Place in the State Work," by a representative of the State Executive Committee.

2.30 P. M.—"Trained Teachers the Need of the Hour," Rev. W. E. Foote, secretary of the State Teachers' Training Council.

2.55 P. M.—Singing; nomination and election of officers; place of next meeting; announcement of delegates to the State convention, Freehold, November 19-21; offering.

3.15 P. M.—Annual address, "Organized Classes in the Sunday-school," Rev. Dr. James Parker, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, of Jersey City.

3.45 P. M.—Singing; the elementary address, "What Next?" Miss Rose Scott, State elementary superintendent.

4.10 P. M.—"What I Will Take Home," closing conference.

4.40 P. M.—Recess.

7.15 P. M.—Service of song, led by Mr. W. A. Crowell, of Monmouth, new features helpful to all Sunday-school workers.

7.50 P. M.—Reports, thanks, enrollment; offering.

Address by Rev. Albert B. Sears, pastor of Livingston Avenue Baptist church, New Brunswick.

8.40 P. M.—Benediction.

Fifty-first Annual Scottish Games.

One of the best-attended athletic events of the year is usually the Scottish games of the New York Caledonian Club, 54th street and Seventh avenue, Manhattan. The games this year will be held (the same as last) at Washington Park and Casino, Grand street, between Maspeth and Newton, L. I., on Labor Day, Monday, September 2. The sports of the day will commence with an old-fashioned Scotch reel at 11.30 a. m. Dancing in two large pavilions, from 3 to 12 p. m. Music for the occasion will be furnished by Lovell's Bands, Pipe and Drum Band of the New York Scottish Highlanders, and the pipers of the club. There will be thirty-three events and the list of cash prizes aggregates $761. The following events are "open to the world": Throwing light hammer, 100 yards dash, Highland fling, hop, step and jump, hitch and kick Highland fling (boys and girls under fifteen years), one mile race, vaulting with pole, broadsword dance (boys and girls under fifteen years), running high leap, three miles race, broadsword dance, hurdle race, running broad jump, quarter mile race, putting heavy shot, best dressed Highlander, Highland dress competition (boys and girls under fifteen years), tossing the caber, one mile relay race (teams of 4 men from Scottish Organizations), sack race, five mile race, bagpipe competition, bowling competition, and quoits (played on the natural sod, clay ends). The following events are confined to members: Highland dress competition, 100 yards dash, half mile race, boys' race (members' sons under twelve years), running broad jump, running high leap, boys' race (members' sons under fifteen years). Competitors can hand in their entries during the preceding game.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS

CHATHAM.

The petitions of both parties for candidates for borough offices were filed with the borough clerk yesterday. The Republican ticket will be as follows: For Mayor, Frank L. Kelley; for councilmen (three years), Thomas W. Dawson and Alfred M. Trowbridge; (one year), James H. MacIntyre; justice of the peace, Ezra F. Ferris; delegate to State convention, Charles M. Lunn; delegates to county convention, J. Thomas Scott and August Molitor. The Democrats practically named their ticket at a primary held at their headquarters in the Wolfe building Thursday evening as follows: For Mayor, Dr. W. J. Wolfe; for councilmen (three years), Julius T. Wagner and Chas. J. Miller. The candidate for the one year term is to be named later; for justice of the peace, Ezra F. Ferris. The delegate to the State convention is Walter S. Terrell, with William Schildknecht as alternate; the delegate to the county convention is Bernard Murphy, with A. P. Konkko as alternate.

Mrs. David B. Dickinson, who had been spending a couple of weeks at Atlantic City, has returned home.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Scott yesterday morning.

Miss May Smith, of Cannon Falls, Minn., is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Wolfe.

Miss Grace Reynolds, of Newark, is the guest of Miss Edna Dickinson. Freeman Harrison is spending a couple of weeks on the Jersey coast.

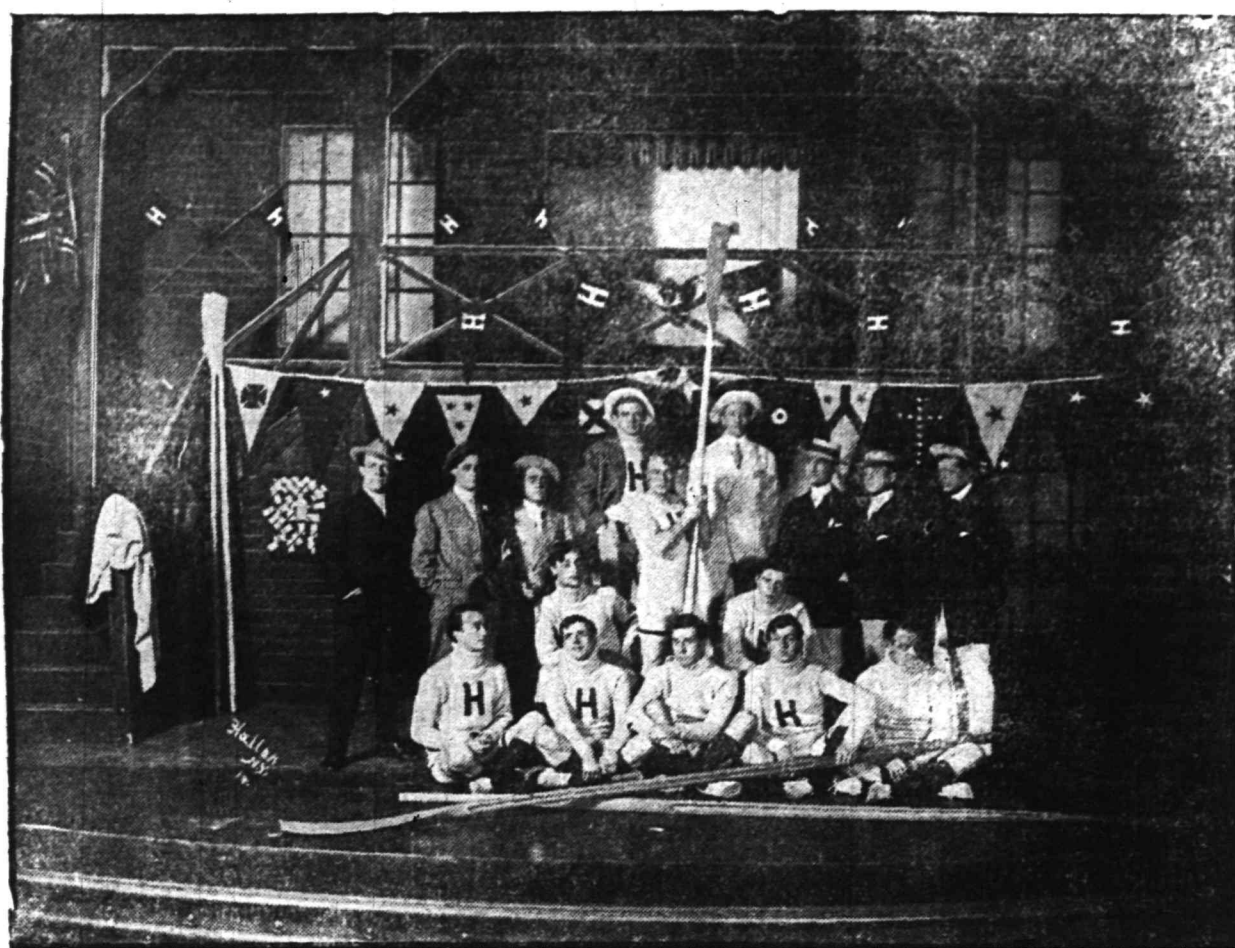

WESTFIELD.

The offices of town clerk and tax collector of Westfield will pay a salary of $1,000 each next year. At present the town clerk is a Republican and the tax collector a Democrat. Both are to be elected this fall.

Henry Iship, of Elm street, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, Thursday morning. He went to the hospital to be treated for what seemed to be a slight case of blood poisoning.

Levi E. Hart secured judgment for $10 and costs against Joseph Perrette before Justice of the Peace Collins at Westfield, Thursday. The suit was on contract.

Victor Council, No. 179, Jr. O. U. A. M., will attend the evening service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Mrs. Stephen McMullen is spending some time again in the Memorial hospital at Morristown.

His Qualification.

A certain alderman was asked, when it first became known that he had political ambitions, what qualifications he had for that office. The aspirant for public honors proceeded to name a number of his accomplishments. Finally he wound up by saying:

"But what counts for more than all else is that I can marry mutes in their own language. And that, let me tell you, is no mean qualification. Of all persons who wish to enter the state of matrimony none are so restricted in their choice of officiating clergyman or magistrate as the deaf and dumb. There are a few preachers in town capable of performing a marriage ceremony in that language, but a couple of mutes who wished a civil marriage alone would be hard put to it to find a competent person among the city's officials. I learned the sign language a few years ago, when I was laid up in a hospital, and I think it would be a good thing to give me the place for the benefit of mutes who wish to be wed."

The man was elected, and in recognition of his one shining talent he really has been called upon to officiate at a number of these "quiet" weddings.

The Truthful Woman.

It is no exaggeration to say that a more or less truthful woman is looked upon with grave suspicion. What is more, nobody believes her. If she quite truthfully pronounces her age to be twenty-nine everybody at once says then she must be at least thirty-five, while if she should ever be coaxed into admitting the number of proposals she had had in her youth it will only confirm the popular impression that she had been very lucky to catch a husband at all.—London Ladies' Field.

RETURN MUST BE IN ON RIGHT TIME

OR UNION COUNTY BOARD WILL PROSECUTE ELECTION OFFICERS.

The Union County Board of Elections has determined to do away, if possible, with the delay that has always accompanied the filing of election and registry returns after elections, and declares that it will prosecute to the full extent of the law these election officers who are derelict in the performance of their duties. According to the election laws of this year, an officer who fails to make the proper return may be fined $100 for failure to return either registry or election returns. In some instances in past years officers have been so careless as to throw away registry lists after the election, thinking them useless—a direct defiance of the law that would greatly embarrass the board in case of a contest.

To awaken the officers to the necessity of making prompt returns after election the board has prepared the following circular to be mailed to each officer in the county:

"The attention of all members of the district boards of registry and election is called to section 96, 97 and 98 of the election laws, year 1907, which sections refer to the filing of returns after elections.

"In the past few years many election officers have been very careless and dilatory causing a great deal of trouble to those whose duty it is to tabulate and canvass the returns and also caused the county considerable expense.

"The County Board of Elections now gives notice to all election officers who may be derelict in the performance of their duty as provided for in the sections mentioned, that they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

"Attention is also called to sections 22 and 24 of the election laws of 1907, which provide for the filing of copies of registry lists with the County Board of Elections."

With less than a dozen exceptions all election officers in Union county have filed answers to the questions put by the board as required by law, displaying a promptness often lacking in past years. There are ten officers who have as yet failed to file answers and if these are delayed much longer the board threatens to make other appointments. The law sets a date before which answers should have been filed, but it has never been enforced and the matter of making other appointments is left to the discretion of the board.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

"Brown of Harvard," the successful college play in which Henry Woodruff will appear at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight, is full of the sunshine of youth and its clean wholesome story is bright in the extreme. Its dainty love interest is of just the kind to prove entirely pleasing. There is no 'problem' attached to it and yet it is not of the milk-and-water variety. It is dainty with varile, pretty but true to the ideals of manhood. Henry Woodruff is a typical college man and is supported by a company beyond reproach.

Williams and Walker, who appear at the New Plainfield theatre next Tuesday night, promise to give the public a few surprises in their new production, "Bandana Land."

Those who have followed the career of these two colored men may be interested to know that their present venture is a wide departure from the "Abyssinia" idea of taking the Ethiopian back to his native heath; and has changed to their previous ideas of showing the negro on his transplanted home in Dixie.

"Bandana Land" is truly Southern in theme, music and plot.

An old colored man named Skunkton desires an heir, as he is wealthy, but childless. He adopts Leander Sassafras, who is none other than the detectable Williams. A friend of Leander, named Rastus Swellclothes (Walker) plans a magical country where the colored man may have anything that he desires for the asking. It is a study in black socialism, and his idea is that Leander should finance the scheme upon the demise of old man Skunkton. Privately, he is merely ringing in on the money, but the wealth is so tremendous that he does create his ideal country, and calls it "Bandana Land."

It is a realm of laughter, music and fun, which, of course provides for some excellent wit, singing, dancing, business and scenic effects.

Geo. M. Cohan's national show, "George Washington, Jr.," will be the attraction at the New Plainfield theatre next Thursday afternoon and night. It will be presented by The Cohan & Harris Comedians and promises, from the interest thus far displayed in the engagement, to be one of the largest attended events of the theatrical year. For the past two seasons it has only been presented in a dozen cities, its success having been so pronounced that long runs of several months duration were scored in New York, Chicago and Boston. It will be presented here by a cast of prominence and with all the splendid scenic effects that have caused comment everywhere.

A wife who, to save her husband's life, poses in the nude for a painting, and who is grievously misunderstood therefore, is the central figure in "A Modern Lady Cordiva." The drama with which Amelia Bingham comes to the New Plainfield theatre next Saturday afternoon and night. Lady Cordiva of Coventry is a figure famous in song and story, and this new Lady Cordiva promises to achieve little less celebrity in the American stage. The character is easily the most fascinating ever assumed by clever and popular Miss Bingham, and the play is pronounced strong in story, rich in wit, and opulent in action. The supporting company is highly capable and the production is handsome.

CATERING TO

THE CONGREGATION.

On the Sunday after Senator Pettus died a stranger in New York who attended service at a west side church was surprised to hear a sermon that was little short of a funeral oration in honor of the dead statesman.

"That is the custom in this church," a regular parishioner explained. "It is visited by more out-of-town people than any other church in New York. Every State in the Union is represented every Sunday in the year, therefore whenever a prominent man in any other part of the country dies the pastor turns his talk for the following Sunday into a kind of funeral sermon for the benefit of the worshippers from that particular State."

Hinchliffe Declines to Run.

State Senator John Hinchliffe stated positively yesterday that he would not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor this fall. He has just recovered from a serious attack of typhoid fever, and says that all his spare time in the near future will be devoted to recovering perfect health. It is understood, however, that the Passaic county delegates to the Democratic State convention will name Hinchliffe as their first choice.

THE PERFECT WAY.

Scores of Plainfield Citizens Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache,

There is only one way to cure it.

The perfect way is to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

Are endorsed by Plainfield people. Mrs. Martha Snedeker, of 241 East Third street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "Some six weeks ago I began using Doan's Kidney Pills for an attack of kidney trouble that had been annoying me for a long time, procuring the remedy at Randolph's drug store. My main symptoms were severe backaches and pains in the top and back of my head, a stiffness in the limbs, especially my arms, and a sediment in the urine that looked like brickdust. I had a languid feeling of weakness and depression and physicians did not help me. Doan's Kidney Pills reached the cause of my trouble, however, and that very quickly and now all those aches and pains I have described have disappeared and the kidney secretions are perfectly normal, all of which is due to the healing virtues of Doan's Kidney Pills and their direct action on the kidneys."

WANTS TO SEE HIS WIFE'S SLAYERS DIE

FARMER HORNER HOPES TO SURVIVE TO WITNESS DOUBLE ELECTROCUTION.

Edward Horner, whose wife and servant were murdered, has expressed a desire to see Gibson and Dorsey, the negroes charged with the crime, put to death in the electric chair. The aged farmer has been very ill since the double murder on his farm near Collingswood, but says he hopes to live to see the guilty men punished.

Prosecutor Scovel and his assistant, Mr. Wolverton, are determined that the accused men shall be tried on the earliest possible day. They declare the evidence is of such a nature that there can be no question as to the guilt of the accused men.

They will conduct the trial so as to avoid technical errors, on which an appeal may be filed, and thus delay the execution of the law. If Justice Garretson is not prevented from sitting on September 12 by other engagements, it is likely that the trial will begin then. The case will be sent to the Grand Jury on the 10th.

It is quite likely that Dorsey and Gibson, if convicted, will be the first to pay the penalty of their crimes on the electric chair under the new law. There are two other condemned murderers in the State, but a long legal fight has begun in their behalf.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS.

The hay crop in South Jersey is the greatest in years.

While talking to his daughter at his home, 214 North Thirty-seventh street, Camden, Wednesday night, Henry Egges, eighty-two years old, dropped dead from heart disease.

Stubbing his toe on a low step, William H. Riker plunged head first through a large plate glass window at a millinery store in High street, Burlington, and escaped with a few cuts.

Raymond Chamberlain, 7 years old, 711 Royden street, Camden, is in the Cooper hospital suffering from lockjaw. He recently stepped on a rusty nail and neglected to treat the injury.

An unidentified man entered the house of Mrs. Catherine Little, in Trenton, Wednesday, and stole two canaries from their cages. The policeman to whom the case was reported said it was "a bird of a theft."

Over 100 property owners at Riverside have petitioned the Township Committee to sewer the town, and a special election will be held September 3 to vote on a proposed $80,000 bond issue for the improvement.

Pasquale Rosino, of 132 Third avenue, while employed at the Dundee Lake Dye Works, yesterday, was hit on the side by a lever of a whizzer machine and knocked back against the brick walls of the dye shop. He will recover.

While sitting upon his front door step, Joseph Capraro, ten years old, of 329 Cherry street, Camden, was attacked by a strange dog, which badly lacerated one of his arms. His wounds were cauterized at the Homeopathic hospital.

Robert Crawford, of 139 North Fifth street, Paterson, was taken to his home in the General hospital ambulance, Wednesday. He had his hand smashed in some machinery at the Cooke shops of the American Locomotive Works.

Benjamin and Henry Moore, colored, were committed without bail yesterday in Camden Police Court to await the result of the injuries of Simeon Stevenson, also colored, of Woodbury, who was badly beaten in South Camden early last Sunday.

A marriage will be solemnized at Trenton today when Miss Anna Schaaf, of Berlin, Germany, will become the bride of George Hellmair, of Philadelphia, the bride having crossed the ocean alone to meet her boyhood sweetheart, who has been in this country for ten years.

Joseph Whittaker, of Trenton, a breeder of fancy chickens, found yesterday that twenty-four of his finest fowls had been picked of their feathers alive, after which the legs of a number had been broken. Investigation points to a number of boys as guilty of the cruelty. They will be arrested.

Miss Florence Haines, who lives in Kansas City, and had been spending the summer at the cottage of her brother-in-law, Rev. W. C. Stiver, of Kansas City, in Ocean City, died Tuesday after a short illness. Miss Haines and Herbert D. Williams, of Fox Chase, Pa., were to have been married next month.

Former Freeholder James Keys, of 63 Mary street, Paterson, was thrown from a carriage yesterday afternoon in a runaway accident. Mr. Keys sustained a severe shaking up and a couple of lacerations about the head and shoulders. He declined medical attendance and insisted on looking after the runaway animal, which was located later on on Crooks avenue.

Harry Howell, employed in a Lambertville rubber mill, where a strike and lock-out have been interfering with business for some time, was caught in a belt yesterday and dragged into a revolving pulley. One side of his lower jaw was torn and ground away, and he was otherwise badly injured. He was taken to a Trenton hospital, where his recovery is regarded as doubtful.

HERE IS THE REAL CHAMELEON FOR YOU

Assembly Perkins' efforts to gag the members of the lower house of the legislature who are demanding an insurance investigation smack entirely too much of servility to the gang to meet with the approval of the Voters of Union county who elected him to his present duties, a not inconsiderable number of whom live in Plainfield.—Courier-News, Feb. 28, 1906.

There are, we believe, many vulnerable spots in Mr. Perkins' work as a member of the legislature—sins of commission and omission which were they otherwise would dedound to his personal credit and certainly be of great benefit to a just and equitable government of the State of New Jersey. * * * It is not Randolph Perkins, the private citizen that we criticize. It is not Randolph Perkins, the legislator, the majority leader, that encounters our censure. It is in this latter guise that we pillory him for public inspection.—Courier-News, Sept. 6, 1906.

For the enlightenment of the paper around the corner, the past master of mud-slinging, which cried out against C. B. Pierce because it never heard of him, we publish the following: The Cranford Citizen bearing on its townsmen's standing:

"As we stated last week, Mr. Perkins would prove a dangerously weak candidate, while Mr. Pierce has all the elements of strength at the polls, and this year the Republicans will need all the strength they can muster. Mr. Pierce combines all the essentials of an ideal candidate for the office. A lifelong Republican, but not identified with any faction of the party, clean, able and of highest character, a native New Jerseyman and long a resident and property-owner here; absolutely nothing can be found against him." Lying statements against Mr. Pierce made by Plainfield supporters of Mr. Perkins will fall of their own weight—and we believe will react to that candidate's injury. Cranford should enthusiastically support Mr. Pierce at the primaries."

Though his ambition to go to Trenton to be an honorable one, Mr. C. B. Pierce, of Cranford, who Judge Runyon says is "a good and able man," must remove himself from the political battlefield. The Courier-News has decreed that the Cranford man is not to its liking and of course what the common-sense says goes. Thus saith the yellow one: "It will do Mr. Pierce, to quote the words of a machine organ, no harm to bide his time. In another year people of Union county" (meaning itself, no doubt), "may know more about him." Of course that kills any hope for Pierce.

Displaying its usual ignorance of local affairs, the Courier-News in commenting on the selection of Samuel Townsend, says: "It is something of a coincidence, too, and without hardly a parallel, that the outgoing incumbent was the one to suggest his successor, although the latter is of the other party."

Wonder what Charles W. McCutchen, Republican, and William L. Saunders, Democrat, think of this?

Carted Ashes In Auto.
 Employees at the city disposal plant rubbed their eyes in astonishment when a load of ashes was brought there yesterday in an automobile. When the machine was seen approaching, somebody shouted, "Here comes the Mayor," and everybody tried to look busy. The machine was driven by Allen B. Laing, who brought the ashes up in fine style. In the excitement of the strange apparition, one of the employees lost his fork, and reports that nobody has brought it to him as yet.

PERKINS STRONG SPEAK

"At whose request has your county chairman been working to accomplish my defeat? Who has 'tipped' former political friends to be against me. The county chairman has been up and down the county twice to secure pledged delegates against me. He acknowledged it to me this morning. Did he do it at the request of the people? At whose request? Can you guess?" (Voices: "Ham Kean.") "Oh, but you're wise guys," said Mr. Perkins.

Mr. Perkins rehearsed the reasons advanced by the leaders for refusing him another term. The fourth term plea, he said, had not applied to the surrogate's office, and the so-called opposition of the liquor men he regarded as a rebash of a fight that was settled last year. Speaking on local option opposition, he said: "I have no quarrel with the principle of local option. Personally I like it, if it is real local option. When Compare his (Mr. Perkins') record with that of a great many of his conferees in House and Senate and Union's voters will learn that it will be difficult to select a man better fitted, to represent them.—Courier-News, Aug. 2, 1907.

Mr. Perkins' claim to re-election is based mainly upon his past record, and this will compare most favorably with that of any man in that body * * *—Courier-News, August 12, 1907.

Has not Mr. Perkins every right to expect the support of Plainfield if he determines to again run for re-election? Has Union county ever had an Assemblyman who strove harder to do the bidding of the people than he? * * * Rather than create a breach in the ranks of the party it is hoped that Mr. Perkins will retire, yet at the same time all fair-minded citizens must admit that he has been a faithful servant and one thoroughly deserving of the support of voters and party leaders alike.—Courier-News, August 15, 1907.

It goes on the statute books through me, their must be more people behind it than the man who introduces it—and it must be a real local option bill. As to the bill of last year, I felt that it did not permit local option in cities or such municipal bodies—the county vote was able to override the separate community. That, to my mind, was not a real local option bill."

In closing Mr. Perkins said he had spoken plainly, without trying for rhetorical effect, because he had a message to deliver. He said one or two men in the party wanted it run so that hidebound oaths, such as were part of feudal days, be taken, but he did not intend to fall in with that idea. He would never take an oath in effect like that. He hoped he had not been unduly harsh in his personal reference. He had no personal feeling in the campaign.

At the close of his address Mr. Perkins offered to answer any questions. Before the meeting C. B. LaRue, an anti-saloon league worker, told the reporters that he intended to ask some. He did not respond to the invitation. He said later that he didn't think any questions were necessary.

"It was a pretty poor speech," said Rev. John Wright, of Newark, assistant superintendent of the league, who was with La Rue.

INTERIOR DECORATION.

A very marked change in the general character of interior decoration has occurred during the past few years in Germany. The present school of architects, painters, decorators, and designers is aiming at artistic effects in which simplicity is the dominant note. The current Jugendstil seeks its results through symmetry and grace of outline, and broad, even surfaces, with effective chromatic harmonies, but discards the mass of minor accessories and the elaborate detail, which have hitherto characterized the treatment of a German interior and the art of the upholsterer.

This change was strongly pronounced last year in the exhibits of furniture and decorative designs at the industrial expositions held at Nuremberg, Zwickau, and other points, and especially at the Exposition of German Industrial Art in Dresden. At the latter there were exhibits of over 100 completely furnished rooms. Nowhere were fringes, tassels, galloons, or the like visible. Woodwork was almost invariably smooth and but rarely touched by the carver's tools.

DIETETIC PHILOSOPHY.

The girl who says she would marry nothing less than a foreign nobleman really couldn't.

Sometimes a man loves himself for the enemies he has made.

The people who believe most in luck are those who have never had any.

Some men are so anxious to wake up and find themselves famous that they actually contract insomnia.

There are people who seem to spend all their lives trying to get even.

It is just as easy to break a promise as to make one.

A man may be level-headed and still have no difficulty in getting a hat to fit him.

Some fellows have a lot of good in them, but the trouble is they keep it there.

Some men go to a lot of bother to save themselves a little work.

Some men can't pass a saloon any more than a woman can pass a bargain counter.

It is as great an error to think that every bachelor has been disappointed in love as to think that every married man hasn't been.

Many a man who merely passes the hat gets a reputation for philanthropy.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE ABROAD.

In New Zealand and Australia women have had the full ballot for many years, but are rarely chosen to municipal office.

In Iceland women have had municipal suffrage for twenty-five years and were made eligible to municipal office five years ago.

Women were given the municipal vote in England in 1869, in Scotland in 1881 and in Ireland in 1898, but they are not eligible to municipal office.

The Swedish parliament has just voted to make women eligible to municipal office. The women of Sweden have had municipal suffrage for many years, but until now they have not been permitted to hold office.

Several years ago the house of commons voted by the large majority of 172 to 72 to make women eligible as councilors and aldermen, but the bill did not get through the house of lords. King Edward in his speech opening the present parliament mentioned this as one of the measures that ought to pass.

PEN AND BRUSH.

David Graham Phillips, the author, is touring Europe. He will return to America in the autumn after a visit to Paris.

For more than forty years Goldwin Smith, Charles Eliot Norton and Daniel Coit Howe have been contributors to the New York Nation.

The biography of Herbert Spencer which Dr. Duncan is preparing moves slowly. It is not expected that it will be ready before next spring.

Paradise, the painter of Trieste, has found two hitherto unknown pictures by Titian in a church in the village of Traci, Dalmatia. One represents the Magdalene and the other the descent from the cross.

Sir Frank Burnand, the former editor of London Punch, has just been proclaimed a pensioner under a law passed in England half a dozen years ago for the relief of needy persons distinguished in literature, science and art.

TO UTILIZE TISSUE PAPER.

For packing glass, china and ornaments a roll of tissue paper is invaluable.

When packing hats, a wisp of tissue paper should be twisted round all upstanding ends of ribbon and wings to prevent crushing.

Dress and blouse sleeves should be stuffed with soft paper, and a sheet of it placed between the folds.

Silk handkerchiefs, ribbons and lace should be ironed between a layer of tissue paper, and the latter is a fine polisher of steel buckles and hairpins.

The tissue paper in which parcels are wrapped should never be thrown away, but smoother out and laid away in a drawer for future use.

The pad of tissue paper is excellent for burnishing steel, rubbing grease spots off furniture, polishing silver and polishing windows.

"CENTRAL PARK" Was — Is — Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm. IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences. Central Park is that beautifully situated tract bounded by Park, Prospect, Hillside and Thornton Avenues. Lots selling rapidly—Prices very low—Great investment or speculative opportunities. COME AND SEE.

Schermerhorn got the news upon the wire on a message he was transmitting. He told his wife, and to this day cites it as the only instance he knows of a woman keeping a secret. When asked how long she kept this news as a secret by the reporter yesterday, Mrs. Schermerhorn said: "Till the newspapers came out with the report—almost twenty-four hours."

Mr. and Mrs. Schermerhorn have no children living. Ida, their little daughter died when three months old and Charles Hill Schermerhorn, Jr., their son, who was brought to this city when six months of age, died at the age of twenty-four in 1894. He was well-known in this city, and worked as base level surveyor in the employ of the government in the south, surveying the Red river, the Yazoo river and the Mississippi as far as Alexandria. Surviving relatives are few. Mrs. Schermerhorn has a niece, the wife of Frank S. Neal, of West Front street, and a nephew, Harry W. Winfield, of Jersey City. Another niece is Mrs. Alfred Harvey, of Lansingburg, N. Y.

Residents of this city for thirty-eight years last June, the couple are active in a quiet way in various church and relief works. Mr. Schermerhorn is a master mason in the F. and A. M. lodge. He joined as a member of the Burlington lodge, and has never affiliated himself with the local lodges. He has been a member of the Old Timers' Telegraph Association, of which Andrew Carnegie is a member, since 1873. He is no believer in strikes, and has always been a faithful worker for the company. On this point of strikes, Mrs. Schermerhorn is not of the same opinion. She is a woman of exceedingly strong purpose, and of an independent nature. Her motto of life is Abraham Lincoln's motto: "Hew to the line, let the chips fall where they will." In her life philosophy, she claims that the first impulse, provided the object be a worthy one, is the right impulse, and with her principle comes first, policy second.

Though in their seventy-third year both Mr. and Mrs. Schermerhorn are healthy and active. Last Sunday they took a long walk together on the Watchung Mountains, going over Johnston's Drive to St. Mary's Convent, in course of construction on the mountain opposite Scotch Plains. Though they will not receive extensively on their anniversary day, they will be at home to their friends afternoons of this week.

Formal Opening Tuesday Night.

A formal "house warming" for the new Waldorf Annex to Henry Windham's East Front street cafe, will be held Tuesday evening in the new dining room. The new part will at that time be thrown open for inspection and there will be special music by the dinner orchestra. The new addition will be open for business, beginning Wednesday morning.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fleming, of Park avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marjorie Fleming, to Frederick Lindsey Curtis, of New York.

Rev. E. P. Johnson, D. D., of New Brunswick, will preach in Trinity Reformed church tomorrow morning. There will be no evening service.

The Sunday afternoon meetings of the W. C. T. U. will be resumed tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the rooms of the union at 100 Madison avenue. Mrs. Tomlinson will be the leader.

The evening service will be resumed tomorrow at the Crescent Avenue church. Rev. Henry A. Stinson, of the Manhattan Congregational church, of New York city, preaching at both services.

Rev. Dr. Alexander, pastor of the Siloam Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, will occupy the pulpit of Mt. Olive Baptist church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. He is a brother of Pastor Alexander, of the church.

Rev. John Wright, of the Anti-Saloon League, will speak at the Congregational church tomorrow morning. Sunday-school will be held at 12 o'clock and there will be no Christian Endeavor service in the evening. The regular prayer meeting will be held Friday night in place of Wednesday and will be preparatory service. Communion will be celebrated next Sunday.

Dr. C. W. Parsons, of Park place, returned yesterday from his vacation at Fairfield, N. Y., and will occupy his pulpit at Grace M. E. church tomorrow. While away, Dr. Parsons preached the first Sunday morning in August at the First Methodist church at Rochester, N. Y. while Dr. J. A. Chambliss, of this city, was occupying the pulpit in the First Baptist church directly across the street.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, of New street, have been entertaining friends from Newark.

Hugh G. Baldwin, of West Seventh street, will spend the coming month in the Berkshires.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Williams and family, of West Front street, returned home today from Ocean Grove.

Mrs. Jane Williams, of near Denver, Colo., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Mary C. Firstbrook, of Grant avenue. Mrs. Williams is a native of Dover, but has not been East before in thirty-one years.

Fire Chief Killed.

Patrick Fitzpatrick, chief of the fire department of West Chester, Pa., died yesterday in Cooper Hospital, Camden, from injuries he received some time Thursday night. The Chief had been to Mount Holly visiting friends and started Thursday night to return to his home in Pennsylvania. He was found yesterday morning lying by the side of the trolley tracks at West Moorestown, with both legs cut off. He was hurried to the hospital. Fitzpatrick formerly lived in Mount Holly. It is supposed he was walking to the railroad station, along the trolley track, when he was struck by a car.

Physical Director Back.

Physical Director George L. Listman, of the Y. M. C. A., who was operated upon for appendicitis two months ago and went on a trip to recuperate, is expected home today. He has fully recovered, and will start the physical department on its new season with increased vigor next week.

He Had Two Bundles.

Robert Crawford, carrying two bundles, one inside and the other out, was arrested last night for drunkenness. He told Judge Runyon this morning that his home was in Mt. Carmel, Pa., and he would travel for it as fast as he could if he got the chance. Judge Runyon gave it to him.

Took Railroad Lumber.

Nicolai Gratzia, arrested for attempting to steal wood from along the Central Railroad tracks, was arraigned before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning. He was released with a warning.

"Major Domo" at Allentown Fair.

Wm. Schorb, Plainfield's pioneer showman, has formed a partnership with Jack Benner and secured a concession at the Allentown Fair for the exhibition of their midget horse, "Major Domo." The animal is five years old but is only twenty-six inches high and can be carried about by a child. Benner will do the explaining inside a tent to the curious Pennsylvanians while Schorb is giving the ballyhoo outside. They secured the horse from Tom Cooper, the well-known gypsy.

Woodruff a Former Local Man.

Henry Woodruff, who is the star of "Brown of Harvard," appearing at the New Plainfield theatre this afternoon and evening, was a resident of this city at one time. His father was one of the early proprietors of the Netherwood Hotel, now Truell Hall, and the family had a wide local acquaintance.
