

FATEFUL MORNING AFTER

Martine Boom Melted to Nothing As He Slept in Trenton Hotel.

EGENOLF WIELDS KNIFE

Union County State Committeeman Starts the Stampede from Plainfield.

Philosophic as usual, showing no bitterness in his disappointment, James E. Martine returned shortly after 6 o'clock last night from the scene of the unkind blow that the political fates have ever dealt him. He left at Trenton the grave of the most alluring, the most promising hope of his whole political career.

The end of that hope came so suddenly, its annihilation was so complete, that only a Jim Martine could have met the reverse without being stunned and embittered. When he went to bed at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, Trenton echoed with his name and the nomination for Governor was in his grasp. When he arose four hours later Katzenbach was on everybody's lips, and the shouts for Martine sank to murmurs of sympathy. By 10 o'clock the streets and hotel corridors were surcharged with Katzenbach enthusiasm, and Martine saw his fate working relentlessly out. When the convention met it resolved itself into a Katzenbach ratification meeting. The "Martine boom" so overpowering the fateful night before, took on the shrinking appearance of a complimentary vote.

Of the 1,274 votes in the convention, Martine polled only 104 1/2. That half-vote was the only ballot from the Essex delegation, which had been so dramatically "turned over" to Martine the night before; that came to the Plainfielder; Morris county gave him 33 of its 43 votes, and one came from Hunterdon. Katzenbach got 1,092 1/2. Then came the scramble for the Katzenbach bandwagon. All the favorite sons—Congressman William Hughes, put forward by Bergen; Senator George Silzer, of Middlesex; Senator Hincheliffe, of Passaic; former Senator S. S. Childs, of Somerset—were shoved aside and the votes transferred to the victor. Even Martine's name was withdrawn, and Frank S. Katzenbach, Jr., of Trenton, became the unanimous candidate of the Democratic State convention on one ballot.

The original Katzenbach vote was as follows: Atlantic, 43 votes; Bergen, 69; Burlington, 42; Camden, 100; Cape May, 19; Cumberland, 33; Essex, 185 1/2; Gloucester, 24; Hudson, 238; Hunterdon, 27; Mercer, 67; Middlesex, 49; Monmouth, 63; Morris, 10; Ocean, 24; Salem, 18; Somerset, 27; Sussex, 27; Warren, 28.

It is not customary for candidates before the convention to watch the delegates at work. Martine was at the Sterling while the convention sat, and Katzenbach remained in his room at the Trenton House. Both learned the result of the balloting as soon as it was accomplished. After the convention the successful candidate was surrounded by congratulatory friends and delegates. He held a levee for an hour or more. Martine's congratulations were conveyed to him.

The dominant characteristics of the convention were confidence and deep earnestness of purpose. When the State chairman, Robert E. Hudspeth, called the convention to order at half-past twelve o'clock he looked into the faces of as intelligent, sincere and hopeful a body of Democrats as ever assembled in Taylor's Opera House, where the State gatherings of both parties have been held for forty years.

Not since Chancellor McGill was defeated for Governor by John W. Griggs, more than a decade ago, has the party come together to select a gubernatorial standard bearer in such a happy and confident frame of mind. To the gathered representatives of New Jersey Democracy, from Sussex to Cape May, the very air seemed surcharged with the portents of coming victory. The spirit of the convention reflected this feeling. It was bubbling over with enthusiasm and roared and cheered at the slightest invocation.

After the work had been finished and the great gathering had poured into the streets the delegates shook hands with and congratulated one another on the auspicious character of the work that had been done. The candidate nominated and the platform adopted seemed to give universal satisfaction and were hailed as presaging almost certain victory at the polls.

With the convention out of the way, Martine and his friends had time to give thought to "What did it?" Martine laid the biggest share of the blame—practically all of it—on the action of Peter Egenolf, the Union county state committeeman.

REFER THE UTILITIES BILL

MEASURE'S SYNOPSIS

Six Commissioners Will Have Full Power to Probe All Alleged Wrongs.

Members of the Senate and House met at Trenton yesterday, but out of deference to the Democratic members who desired to attend the convention of their party an adjournment was taken, but yesterday afternoon the long looked for public utilities bill was introduced in the Senate. Following this the Senators went home until next Wednesday. The bill provides for the appointment by the Governor of six commissioners, men of more than 30 years of age, to serve for terms of six years each, at $5,000 per annum.

There are also to be two inspectors, one a civil engineer and the other a mechanical or electrical engineer. These men must hold no other State office and must own no stock in the corporations under their jurisdiction. The total expenses of the commission, including clerical help, must not exceed $30,000 per year.

Supervision is given over all gas, electric light, heat, power, water, telegraph, telephone, street railway, pipe lines, etc. Power is given to compel witnesses at investigations, and the giving of false information is made a misdemeanor. For refusal to testify a witness may be sent to jail. The commission is also to inquire into the matter of rebates and transportation charges, and to make reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The act empowers the commission, whenever an accident shall occur upon any property owned, operated or controlled by any corporation subject to the act, to investigate the cause of the accident and to meet in the locality where the accident occurred. Every corporation is bound to give notice of any accident.

Further, the commission is required to inquire into the condition and operation of all corporations coming under the act and to examine complaints touching rates, rebates, charges or demands for services rendered, and all discriminations in service rendered in the transportation of personal property or otherwise. The commission is authorized to make recommendations of writing to any corporation touching the improvement of its service and the betterment of its conditions and affairs.

No corporation subject to the act shall issue any stock or bonds, merge or consolidate, sell, transfer or lease its franchise or contract for use of same, except upon the approval of the commission.

Any corporation subject to the act violating its charter provisions or general laws of the State or any order of this commission may be proceeded against in the Court of Chancery, on a bill filed in the name of the commission by the attorney general for an injunction and adequate relief from said court. Violations to be reported to the attorney general within thirty days after information by the commission.

UNION REPUBLICANS MEET.

Complete Plans for Attending State Convention.

The Union county Republican executive committee held a meeting at its headquarters at Elizabeth Monday night. County Chairman Frank H. Smith, of Plainfield, presided, and said arrangements were completed for attending the State convention at Trenton on Thursday.

Postmaster A. M. Jones, of Summit, resigned as a member of the committee, and recommended that Seaman Williams, of Summit, be elected in his place. Short speeches were made by former County Chairman Hamilton Fish Kean and by John W. Clift eulogizing the good work of Committeeman Jones and advocating earnest labor toward the election of the county and State tickets.

Senators at Convention.

Among the interested spectators at the Democratic State convention at Trenton yesterday were State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of Union county, and State Senator Joseph S. Freilighuysen, of Somerset county. "Uncle Joe," the friend of the farmers, sat on the stage away in the rear.

W.S. ANGLEMAN CHAIRMAN

BY A UNANIMOUS VOTE

County Chairman F. H. Smith Declines Place—Selection a Popular One.

Winfield Scott Angelman, one of the brightest lawyers in Union county, was elected chairman of the Republican city committee last night at a meeting held at the Casino. His selection was unanimous, showing the esteem in which he is held by the party workers, generally. He succeeds Edward E. Iremonger, the efficient chairman, who resigned after being slighted by the Colbyite powers in his own ward. He will take office immediately.

Mr. Angelman's selection was made after County Chairman Frank H. Smith and Factory Inspector Andrew McCardell declined to allow their names to be used in connection with the office. Mr. Smith was strongly urged last night to accept the position, but he declared that his time was fully occupied with his duties as county chairman. He had held the office before, being the predecessor of Mayor Charles J. Fisk, who was succeeded by Mr. Angelman.

The choice of Mr. Angelman is a happy selection, and it is believed that it will meet with general approval. He has been a member of the committee from the Fourth Ward for many years, and has always been a hard worker for his party. He is prominent in the Jr. O. U. A. M. and other fraternities. His name was suggested by Factory Inspector McCardell and met with favorable response.

FREEHOLDER FIGHT INTERESTS SOMERSET

PRE-ELECTION SITUATION IN NEIGHBORING COUNTY.

Just what the political complexion of the Somerset County Board of Chosen Freeholders will be after the coming election in November is now pretty much a matter of conjecture. The board is at present comprised of six Republicans and five Democrats, and the latter have a chance to secure a majority of the members, but it is not generally believed they will be able to do so. It is quite probable that the board will be divided the same politically as it is now, and should the Republicans elect their candidate in North Plainfield borough they may gain one on the whole county.

Bedminster, Branchburg and Hillsborough townships and North Plainfield borough elect Freeholders this fall, and in each of these municipalities a hot fight is being waged. In Bedminster, which is usually in the Democratic column, William C. Paulson is the Democratic candidate, and George Crater has been nominated by the Republicans.

In Branchburg township Henry W. Baird, the present director of the Board of Chosen Freeholders, is the candidate of the Republican party, and the Democrats have not placed any one in the field in opposition to him. He is sure of re-election.

There is a hot fight on in Hillsborough township between Richard W. Hoagland, the present member of the board, who is a Republican, and is seeking re-election, and John S. Everett, who has been placed in the field by the Democrats. Mr. Everett was formerly a member of the board.

In North Plainfield borough John Emmons, Democrat, wishes to be re-elected. He is opposed for membership on the board by Andrew Lutkins, Republican, who was a freeholder not so many years ago.

Will Entertain Machinists.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McKechnie, of Plainfield avenue, are parents of twins, a boy and girl, born to them Sunday morning. Each weigh nine pounds. In honor of the event, Mr. McKechnie, who is financial secretary of the local branch of the International Association of Machinists, will entertain the members on Monday night.

John Callahan, of Allentown.

Investigation of a rumor in circulation yesterday to the effect that John Callahan, of Richmond street, was fatally injured at the Allentown Fair proved to be another Callahan, of Allentown. Mr. Callahan, of this city, did not attend the fair.

Mrs. Robert Lowry and her niece.

Miss Katharine Lee, who have spent the summer at Lake MinneWaska, N. Y., have gone to Belmar for a short stay.

Not After Surrogateship.

Assistant Postmaster Abram A. Reger, of Somerville, announced today that he is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for surrogate of Somerset county.

LANDSCAPE ARTIST WEDS

AT A QUIET CEREMONY

Miss Charlotte Egede Nissen, daughter of Dr. Oscar Nissen, of Christiania, Norway, and Jonas Lie, of Plainfield, formerly of Christiania, were married at 8:30 o'clock last night at All Souls' Unitarian church, Rev. A. C. Nickerson, the pastor, officiating. The affair was void of any ostentation, the bride and groom being unattended; neither were there any ushers. However, it was one of the prettiest of weddings and was the second to take place in this church.

The church was beautifully decorated with the season's flowers, being banked about the pulpit platform. The prevailing colors were green and white and combined to make an effective arrangement.

The bride was richly gowned in white silk, embroidered with white roses, princess style. She wore a tulle veil, caught up with white roses and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Stephen Haff, the organist of the church, rendered a program of unusual interest. The selections were chiefly those of Norwegian composers, and included several that were dedicated to the mother of the bride, who herself was celebrated throughout Norway and many other European countries as a brilliant pianist.

The invitation list was limited to a very few intimate friends of the couple, and the affair was extremely informal. Previous to the ceremony Mr. Lie received his guests, and afterwards he and Mrs. Lie were the recipients of the congratulations of their friends. An informal reception followed at the studio of Mr. Lie, where for the present the couple will make their home. The bride received many costly gifts, and both she and Mr. Lie were generously remembered with congratulatory messages from abroad, as well as many relatives and friends in this country.

The wedding is the culmination of a pretty romance, which had its beginning in the Norwegian mountains during the summer of 1906, where the couple were two of a party which spent fourteen days traveling on foot about the mountains.

Dr. Oscar Nissen, father of the bride, is one of the best known physicians in Christiania, and her mother, who died two years ago, was famed throughout Norway as a pianist.

The bride possesses exceptional beauty and is accomplished. She is interested exceedingly in Mr. Lie's work as an artist. He is undoubtedly one of the best known among the younger artists of this country. His paintings have been hung in nearly all of the prominent galleries of the country.

14 YEAR OLD DIES AFTER AN OPERATION

Miss Jean Dumont, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Dumont, of Prospect place, North Plainfield, died suddenly this morning following an operation for the removal of adenoids performed by Dr. G. W. Endicott, assisted by Dr. DuBois and Dr. D. C. Adams. The adenoids were successfully taken out, when the patient collapsed and died within an hour.

Miss Dumont had suffered considerably from the adenoids and because her physical condition was not strong enough to stand an operation, it was delayed until such time as in the opinion of the physician she could successfully pass through it. The heart action was good, but death was due to the stagnation of blood of the lymphatic. The physicians did all in their power to bring the patient out of the collapse, but all efforts failed. Announcements of the funeral will be made later.

Fifteen Years Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. Corra Ryno, of Coddingdon avenue, have issued invitations for the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding, which will be formally observed at their home on Saturday night, September 28. Mr. Ryno is business manager of The Daily Press.

MARTINE WELL SATISFIED

Bows Cheerfully to Will of Party, He Says After Convention.

WILL WORK FOR TICKET

Lays Defeat to Influence of the P. S. C. and Prudential High Finance Politicians, Through Peter Egenolf.

"I am satisfied," said James E. Martine to a Daily Press reporter after the convention at Trenton yesterday. He had known since early in the forenoon that the nomination would be Katzenbach's, and he had had time to think over the situation. "I am disappointed, yes; the change that met me this morning startled and surprised me, but I have grown used to bowing to the will of the majority, and now that the representatives of my party have made their choice I cheerfully accept it."

"I will most certainly work for the ticket. I would have expected Mr. Katzenbach to do it for me, and I will do it for him. They need not come to me and ask for my assistance. I will go out and work in places where he probably could not get votes himself."

"What did it? Why, the Prudential and P. S. C. influence was at work, through that man Egenolf. Of course, they didn't want me. I have always called them a band of highwaymen, and I would have gone on regarding and treating them in that light, and they knew it. Oh, I am satisfied. I would not swap my independence for all the pelf they represent. I rejoice in being a free lance in politics."

"You may say this for me, that I feel richly compensated by the loyalty and fidelity shown by my friends. As for Egenolf, I will say that if ever a man owed me gratitude, he does. When he wanted to run for mayor of Elizabeth, he asked me to speak for him, and I did; I campaigned for him on the street corners, at the shop doors and wherever my voice and my convictions might do him good. He should, I think, have stood my friend."

PLANS APPROVED FOR ADDITION TO HOSPITAL

LAUNDRY TO BE BUILT WITH FUND BEQUEATHED INSTITUTION.

The executors of the estate of the late Mrs. Catherine E. Hegeman, which was settled in August last, will soon make the contemplated improvements at Muhlenberg Hospital a possibility. These improvements will be in the shape of a much-needed laundry, which will be complete in every detail. The plans, which were drawn by A. L. C. Marsh, have been approved by the estate and will be submitted at the next meeting of the Board of Governors for their approval. Afterwards bids will be asked for the work.

When Mrs. Hegeman died she bequeathed her estate to her husband, Benjamin A. Hegeman, Sr., and by reason of his death later, the estate was left in such a shape that Mrs. Hegeman's intended bequest to the hospital could not be carried out at the time. The executors have since been engaged in settling the estate, and knowing the wish of Mrs. Hegeman to assist the hospital, have arranged to give the institution a complete laundry. The estimated cost cannot be stated until the bids have been received and the contracts awarded, but it is known that it will be a substantial sum.

At Essex Court Opening.

Lawyer Harry C. Runyon, of the First National Bank building, attended the opening of the September term of the Essex County Court at Newark yesterday. He has a case on the calendar. Mr. Runyon heard Chief Justice Gummere deliver a strong charge to the picked grand jury, of which some startling things are expected. Mr. Runyon's case was laid over for the term. The principals in it are Newarkers.

A Series of Recitals.

A second series of recitals will be given by Edward Dethier, violinist, and Miss Beebe, pianist, in homes of prominent Plainfielders. The dates are Fridays, October 25; November 8 and November 22.

REPUBLICANS ALL AT SEA

FORT IS A FAVORITE

Lewis, Sommer and Pitney Are Also In Race—Talk As to Boom For Mayor Fisk.

Although less than twenty-four hours will elapse before the Republicans of New Jersey will select their candidate for Governor, the politicians are all at sea over the probable outcome. On the face of things, Justice J. Franklin Fort appears to have a strong lead, but there are many uncertain quantities at the eleventh hour. The selection of former Attorney General John W. Griggs as presiding officer and his candidacy for the State chairmanship leads some to believe that the leaders have picked Vivian Lewis, of Passaic county, where Lewis holds from Justice Pitney has also a powerful following. Hudson is almost solid for Fort, while Essex county, it is believed by the Colbyites, will give a majority of its vote to Sheriff Frank H. Sommer.

Unless it is quite certain that a solid vote can be obtained in his favor it is said today that the Republican leaders will not urge that Mayor Charles J. Fisk be the choice of the Union county delegation for the gubernatorial nomination at Trenton tomorrow. It is generally admitted that the delegates from Plainfield would be unanimous for him, but that there might be some division in the sentiment among the delegates from Elizabeth. In other sections of the county it is said that he would be a popular choice.

County Chairman Frank H. Smith and a party of friends left this afternoon for Trenton to be on the scene early. Mayor Fisk is also expected to put in an appearance there before nightfall, but this morning he said it was doubtful if he could get there by that time. Tomorrow morning a large delegation of workers will board the Union county special when it stops here. A caucus will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning by the Union delegates, and at that time a vote will be taken on the choice for Governor.

Alden Freeman, this afternoon sent out two circulars referring to Justice J. Franklin Fort and Justice Mahlon Pitney. These circulars will be distributed at the Republican State convention tomorrow.

The circular on Judge Fort reiterates the charges that have been brought against him. The circular which refers to Justice Pitney consists of extracts from the will of the late George Richards, who was a politician in Morris county.

The Essex county New Idea delegates to the Republican State convention met in Newark last night and mapped out a program governing their action at tomorrow's session in Trenton. It was decided to fight hard to obtain the nomination of Frank H. Sommer for Governor. Members of the conference expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the outlook, declaring that they have 110 of the 236 Essex delegates pledged to support Sommer, and that they have assurances of help from Hudson, Morris, Middlesex, Passaic, Union and Bergen.

A "fighting committee" was named to urge New Idea principles on the State convention. This committee consists of William P. Martin, Frank H. Sommer, Judge Benjamin F. Jones, Herman B. Walker, Jerome Congleton and Senator Everett Colby. Senator Colby was selected to make the speech nominating Sommer.

BI-CYCLIST'S SACRIFICE.

At the risk of severe injury and the cost of a wrecked wheel and a bad fall, George H. Isaac, registrar of the Plainfield Business College, saved Warren B. Travell, 816 Third place, from hurt yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Isaac was riding his bicycle eastward on West Front street, shortly after 5 o'clock, when Mr. Travell, coming from the opposite direction, on the same side of the street, on a bicycle, turned suddenly toward Elmwood place, directly across Mr. Isaac's path. The latter saw only one thing to do to avoid crashing full into Mr. Travell, and did it, turning his wheel sharply for the sidewalk. The bicycle jumped the curb and ran against a fence. Mr. Isaac was thrown off, and the wheel was completely wrecked. Mr. Isaac's hand was skinned and he received a painful shaking up. Mr. Travell offered to make good the damage to the wheel, but Mr. Isaac refused to accept any compensation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elliott, of Summit avenue, are parents of a daughter, born to them recently.

An Illustration

One of our clients owed $48 between four people. His salary is $14 weekly; rent $12 monthly. To have paid $2 weekly to each creditor, combined with rent, would have left only $5 per week to meet expenses, buy clothing, etc.—an impossibility you will agree. He borrowed $50, paid all his creditors, made his future credit good, if ever needed; pays his rent, the loan payments, and has $9 each week to use as his judgment dictates.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

De Wolf Hopper's new opera, "Happyland," is in two acts and two scenes. The first scene represents the courtyard of the Imperial palace of Elysia, the other depicts the Elysian Fields, painted by Ernest Albert. There is a plot in the new work, not deep laid or complex, but interesting, entertaining and consistent. The Messrs. Shubert, who are responsible for the production and the selection of the company, have surrounded Mr. Hopper with a large and efficient aggregation of singers, comedians and comedienne. The cast includes such prime favorites as Marguerite Clark, Ada Deaves, Nella Shayne, William Wolff, Detmar Poplin, Josephine Phillips, George Odell and the chorus is made up of a selection of the most beautiful young women of New York Casino fame, including the dozen noted beauties, who as "Wang's" daughters were the talk of Broadway when Mr. Hopper's famous revival of "Wang" held forth in New York last year. "Happyland" will be seen next Saturday afternoon and night.

"Simple Simon Simple" will make its initial bow to Plainfield theatre-goers in its new form Friday night, and its coming promises to be the big event of the present theatrical season. The show has been praised so highly by local people who have seen it in the large cities that theatre-goers are familiar with the title if not with the furious fun and catchy music.

Lovers of the legitimate will be delighted with the performance of John Griffith, the greatest living tragedian, as "King Richard the Third." Many able and distinguished critics claimed that he would reach the highest pinnacle of fame, and so he has, for today he is the leader in the front ranks of legitimate stars. In every city where he has appeared enthusiastic audiences have greeted this dramatic genius, and proclaimed him America's most brilliant tragic star. He will be seen here tonight.

"Patsy in Politics," which it is claimed ranks with the best of musical farces, is underlined as one of the important attractions of the season at the New Plainfield. In its star and comedian Billy B. Van leads the fun rendering as well as some of the most tuneful numbers. "Patsy in Politics" is said to belong to a distinct and novel type of entertainment, and much has been said in praise of its worth from the standpoint of fun and music combined. It will come here tomorrow night.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

GOLF.

The Japanese golf players of the Westfield Golf Club are conspicuous these days in the various events at the club, showing their ability to play the game well. On Saturday, S. Opik played eighteen holes with R. E. Perry and the latter won by 1 up and 2 to play. S. Talska and T. Tetsuka played nine holes, the former winning by 3 up and 2 to play.

*George Cruse and Maurice McCarthy defeated Joseph Sherman, Jr., and W. H. Townley in a foursome by 1 up at the Westfield Golf Club, Saturday. McCarthy comes from the Forest Park Golf Club, of Brooklyn, and was formerly professional of the Westfield club. Cruse and McCarthy's best ball for the eighteen holes was 65.

The Women's Golf Association, of Boston, began its fall tournament yesterday at the Allston Golf Club. Mrs. J. E. Mullen will have charge of the affair. On Tuesdays following matches will be played at Salem, Lexington, Arlington, Weston, Oakley and Concord, while on Saturday, September 28, the association will have a tournament at the Essex Country Club, Manchester, Mass.

According to the conditions of the team matches, two teams are to be arranged by the captain of the day. The players are to engage in match play, each match to be played to a finish. The method of scoring is as follows: One point for being on the winning team, two points for being present, three points for player winning her match.

The play for the Autumn cups at the Plainfield Country Club is proving very popular. On Saturday there were five players tied to determine the two who shall qualify for match play in October. This tie will be played off this week.

The active season at the Plainfield Country Club will conclude on Saturday, September 28, with a cross-country golf tournament for cups. This is according to the usual custom.

Robert Abbott will return to Yale next week to resume his studies. Of late he has not been playing much on the Plainfield Country Club course, but has been devoting his spare time to visiting other courses in the Metropolitan district.

"Marty" O'Loughlin has been very anxious to get in a match with Alec Smith and it now looks as though this would happen. Mr. Knowlton, of the Oakland Country Club, is endeavoring to arrange a match between himself and Smith against O'Loughlin and C. A. Stover, of the Plainfield Country Club.

FOOTBALL.

Captain Ray Biglow, of the Yale football team, reported at New Haven, yesterday, a few days in advance of the squad, and at once began the work of practice. Although the usual hard-luck stories have been sent out from Yale, it is the belief that she will have a mighty strong team this season.

Brown University will start early season football practice in a novel way next week. The candidates will spend a week camping out on a farm under the eyes of their trainer and coaches. The object of the practice will be more to get the men in condition than to teach them football.

The daily schedule for preliminary practice is as follows: 6 a. m., rise and take a cold bath, followed by breakfast and a period of relaxation; 10 a. m., run of one and one-half to two miles across country roads to athletic field, rough practice, falling on the ball, passing and kicking; 11:30 a. m., cross-country run to quarters, one and one-half to two miles over fences, through woods and fields, etc.; 12:30 p. m., dinner, followed by period of rest; 2 p. m., punting practice for kickers, practice in running punts by the backs and quarterback practice; 6 p. m., supper, followed by study of the rules, lectures by coaches and examination of the players by the head coach; 9:30 p. m., all players turn in.

Reports from the West say that Dartmouth will receive a valuable addition this season in Tub Morris, the 200-pound centre of Colorado College, last fall. Morris, who was considered the best centre west of the Mississippi, became dissatisfied last year and decided to come to Dartmouth. He will not be eligible this season under the one year rule, but will be able to compete next year.

CONVENTION NOTES

Martine's headquarters on the fateful night before, where he received the congratulations of everybody who was anybody in the party in the neighborhood, on the apparent certainty of his nomination, was in the famous room 109 at the Trenton House. It is said that more political surprises, states, changes and rascality have been hatched in Room 109 than in any other section of the State between walls.

Speeling room was at premium in the hotels. The Farmer Orator shared his couch with a young delegate from South Jersey. The delegate voted against him in the convention.

Former Assemblyman S. S. Swackhamer, of North Plainfield, made the speech nominating former Senator S. S. Childs, of Bernardsville, Somerset's favorite son. It was an eminently Swackhamerian speech, with carefully chiselled references to the Fathers of the Republic, and choice excerpts from Thomas Jefferson's words of wisdom. Mr. Swackhamer delivered it from the balcony, where the Somerset delegation was placed.

The Somerset delegation couldn't give former Senator Childs the gubernatorial nomination, but they gave him what they could. They re-elected him a State committeeman.

Martine met Katzenbach at the Trenton House early Monday morning, and they exchanged greetings. "This is a friendly fight on my part," said the Farmer Orator, "but I am going to beat you if I can." The Mercer man smiled and passed on.

S. S. Swackhamer was named for chairman of the Somerset county delegation at the caucus yesterday morning, but he withdrew in favor of former Senator Alvah A. Clark, of Somerville. It was the first time in twelve years that Mr. Clark had attended a State convention, and the delegation were delighted to do him honor.

One of the State committeemen came to Martine after the drift to Katzenbach had set in so strongly that there was no doubt of its force, and tried to save his feelings. "By Heaven, Martine," he cried, "the party must do something to make this up to you. You shall have the best office in the gift of the new administration." Martine threw out his hand with an impatient gesture. "Oh thunder," he said, or words to that effect. "I am not seeking office for the sake of office-holding. I don't need the miserable money that goes with office. I can raise enough corn and potatoes at Cedar Brook to keep me as well as I want to be kept. I want office only for the opportunity it may offer for work in the interest of the party and the people."

When W. L. Saunders gets back from the West he may seek an explanation from John H. Van Winkle, Jr., of the North Plainfield part of the Somerset delegation. Mr. Saunders, as whose proxy Mr. Van Winkle acted, was elected, and sought the election as a Martine supporter to the last ditch. Mr. Van Winkle was for Katzenbach. Mr. Saunders' proxy did not go directly to Mr. Van Winkle. It was wired to W. J. Conroy, but the latter could not attend the convention, and designated Mr. Van Winkle in his place.

Walter Linbarger, of North Plainfield, was North Plainfield township's delegate, acting as a proxy.

who threw a bombshell in the committee and the Union county delegation by declaring against him. Martine said unhesitatingly that Egenoff represented the Prudential-P. S. C.-Pennsylvania Railroad influence, and that the high finance political bosses would not hear of anybody but Katzenbach. Their power proved to be strong enough to dominate, Martine declared, and that was all there was to it.

Survey of the field in the quiet of the day after, however, leads to the conviction that other influences besides the bitter work of Egenoff contributed to the collapse of the Martine boom. Look to South Jersey for part of the explanation, at least. The heart of the delegates from the southern counties was not in the Martine cry, and the leaders could not deliver the vote. The delegations got away from them overnight, and even the redoubtable Billy Thompson could not hold them to the standard of his choice. The southern delegations were not so large, but their votes totalled sizeably, and the effect of the swing was strong in its impulse toward the reverse stampede.

The Union delegation was bitter toward Egenoff as they returned home. If the promise of their sentiment is carried out, there is an hour of reckoning ahead for the man who defeated the wishes and the hopes of his county. One significant thing developed almost immediately after the convention. General Dennis F. Collins, who managed the Martine campaign, announced that he would be a candidate against Egenoff for election to the State committee next spring.

It was generally reported yesterday morning that Egenoff had gone before the State committee and made a flat declaration against Martine, but this Egenoff denied, and brought other members of the committee forward to substantiate the denial. He acknowledged, however, that he did speak against Martine to James Nugent, and there is no doubt at all that he spoke against the Plainfielder in the caucus of the delegation. However he made his sentiments known, he instilled them into the minds of the State committee, for members came to Martine in the morning with tidings of what Egenoff had said.

CLINGS TO FENCE AS TRAIN TEARS OFF COAT.

Somerville Man So Near Death at Cranford That He Faints.

Cranford, Sept. 18.—A narrow escape from a horrible death was experienced by T. J. Busch, of Somerville, at the Central railroad station about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, the peril being so imminent that Busch fell in a faint beside the fence that divides the east and west bound tracks.

He went to the station intending to purchase a ticket to Somerville, and found that to reach the west bound track he would have to cross to the opposite platform. A gate is located in the dividing fence between the tracks, and Busch supposed it was unlocked, but upon reaching it found it was fastened. He failed to observe that the Philadelphia flyer was approaching on the eastbound track, and, as he turned to retrace his steps, the blasts from the locomotive greeted him. The express was then less than a dozen feet away.

Busch sprang to the fence, and, seizing the pickets in a desperate hold, clung as closely to them as he could. His coat caught upon projections from the cars and the garment was completely ripped from his back, along with a portion of his shirt. His body, however, was not touched, and the express whizzed by without stopping. As the rear car passed, Busch turned, staggered a few steps and fell across the tracks in a faint. The baggage man, who had observed his predicament, ran to Busch and dragged him to the station platform, where he was revived in time to take the train for Somerville. The distance between the fence and the car sides is about three feet.

The Sundial.
 The first historical mention of a sundial is that in II Kings in the description of Isaiah causing the sun to go back ten degrees on the dial of Ahaz. Archaeologists who have looked into the matter agree that the sundial as we know it was probably invented about 747 B. C., at the time of the rectification of the Babylonian calendar.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood, they work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. Julia Haynes, of 523 Sixth street, Plainfield, N. J., says: "For nearly a year I was suffering with a severe pain in the loins, or what is generally called backache. I was also afflicted with a stiffness or lameness of the limbs and the kidney secretions were highly colored and contained some sediment. Any remedies that I took to clear up the kidney secretions and rid me of my aches and pains did me apparently no good or benefit. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills doing so much for people suffering as I was, and began using them, getting a supply at Randolph's drug store. Though at first I saw no change in my condition, I soon began to have less pain in my back and my limbs were not stiff any more. I kept right on with the pills and took them several months, with the result that they cured me of my trouble and I am glad to endorse them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

GAVE HIS NAME TO STEAK.

How the Famous Porterhouse Came to Be So Termed.

On almost every bill of fare are seen the words "porterhouse steak." Now, most people know what a porterhouse steak is, having on some occasion eaten one, or at least a piece of beef that went by that name, but few people know how the name itself originated. Years ago there was a hostelry near Harvard university kept by a man named Porter. Soon this tavern became famous for its viands, especially for its cuts of meats. The stranger stopping there for a meal and not knowing exactly what to order would be advised by his genial host, Mr. Porter, to order a steak. So good were his steaks that travelers often spoke of them, and gradually began referring to them as the "steak you get at Porter's house." From that it was but a short time before they were referred to as the "porter house steak." Since then butchers all over the country have found out the way in which Mr. Porter cut his famous steak, and have been making the same cuts themselves, hence the porterhouse steak has been served the country over. Only a month or so ago the old Porter house was moved back to make room for a row of tenement houses that are now being built in front of it.

WAS SOON TO BE CHANGED.

Young Woman's Name of Little Benefit to Conductor.

A young colored woman tripped herself in leaving a street car out near the edge of the city a few days ago and fell into the street, relates the Denver Post. She was not hurt, but, following the company's custom, the conductor asked her for her name. "Ah isn't hurt," she said. "I know that," said the conductor, "but I must have your name, please." "Well, mah name is Miss Pansy So-and-So," she said. The conductor thanked her and she started away. Before reaching the curbing she turned with a grin on her face: "Say, white man," she called, "dat name won't do yo' no good." "Why not? Isn't it your right name?" asked the conductor. "Yassah," she said, "but it won't be a-fah to-night. Ah'm goin' to git mahried to-night." Then she disappeared around a corner.

Takes His Bride's Surname.
Dr. Annie R. Copelan was married to Abraham E. Copelan, formerly Abraham E. E. in the personage of Rev. Dr. H. W. Schneberger the other day after a peculiar romance, says the Baltimore Sun. Instead of the bride changing her name, it was vice versa, the man changing his name. Dr. Copelan was graduated from the Maryland university four years ago, and in the meantime has built up a practice in her neighborhood. Not wishing to lose any of her practice by changing her name when she married Mr. E. E. who is a student in the dental department of the Maryland university, they decided that the best thing to do was to have the court change his last name to Copelan.

Literary Associations.
She was sitting next the window, gazing at the landscape. "Dearest," she murmured, "do you realize the significance of the scenes through which we are being so unsympathetically whirled? This is the land of song and story—the realm of old romance. Do not these changing vistas call up in you thoughts of darling knights and endeared damsels—of fount and jest, of feast and fray?" "Yes, darling," answered husband, earnestly, but with anxious anxiety, for he was not even near literary, and knew it. He was, therefore, not unrelieved by the interruption when the brakeman stuck his head in at the door and yelled: "Indianapolis!"—Puck.

Doctor Sets Cat's Shoulder Blade.
Bellevue hospital, New York, recently adopted a patient and gave it a life berth as chief mouse catcher of the institution. The reception room was crowded when a stranger entered with a rather aristocratic cat under his arm. Dr. Leroy Smith paused in his work to inquire. He learned that the stranger had picked the cat up on the street, where he had noticed it in apparent agony. Dr. Smith found a broken shoulder blade constituted the trouble. He set it and the cat was placed on a blanket in an outdoor tent. The cat purred its gratitude. Many of the hospital doctors dropped in to take a look at Dr. Smith's patient and each voted for adoption.

Consul's Lonely Post.
About the most lonesome place for an American consul is in the Falkland Islands. This is where J. E. Rowan is and has been since 1898, and receives a salary of $2,000 a year. Originally he was from Connecticut, but he went west and was state senator in Iowa for four years. Then he went into newspaper work. Longing for a change he asked to be sent to some place far from civilization. Evidently he is well satisfied to remain on an island where he is the only American representative.

A Long-Felt Want.
"I wish my novel printed with the lines wide apart," declared the author. "Loaded, you mean?" "What-ever you call it. I want people to have a chance to underscore the parts they like."

HARDLY A CORRECT COSTUME.

The voice of the church went forth full early against the proposal that La Milo should ride through the streets of Coventry in raiment too closely copying the birthday attire in which the original Lady Godiva rode. But the church itself was once in danger of being scandalized by one of its illustrious members in what appeared much the same way. The culprit was none other than Dean Stanley, who was driving with a friend from Monreale to Palermo. Both men were reading. Stanley suddenly discovered that he was shivering with a cold. He mentioned the matter to his friend. "Well, hadn't you better put something on?" said the latter, pointing to the dean's bag, which was close at hand. Stanley thought it rather a good idea, and the friend went on reading. As they entered Palermo there were shouts of astonishment. Stanley was placidly reading. His friend found that the distinguished churchman had absent-mindedly drawn out a nightshirt from his bag, and put it on over his other clothing, and, thus arrayed, was riding triumphantly into the city.

WHERE ANIMALS BEAT MEN.

Many Species Are Incredibly Nice About Their Food.

"Nature faking aside," said the zoo keeper, "mice won't eat oleo. It is a fact. Lay a pat of oleo and a pat of butter side by side, and in the morning the butter will be gone, but the oleo will remain untouched. Oh, yes, some animals are incredibly nice about their food. The otter, when living wild, will only eat one piece, one mouthful, out of each fish he catches. He will land a beautiful trout, but only one bite of it, from the back, just behind the neck, is good enough for him. The rest he tosses aside. This epicure often kills a dozen fine big trout to make one meal. Chimpanzees have very delicate tastes. A banana or a pineapple that to you seems delicious, to a chimpanzee may be revolting. His taste is keener. Grapes grown in hot-houses where sulphur fumes are used as an insecticide taste all right to a man, but a chimpanzee will have none of them. The ichneumon loves eggs. He can tell a fresh from a stale one simply by tapping the shell."

Pottery of the Ree Indians.
W. R. Ferguson, while on a trip up the Missouri river recently dug up in old Ree village one of the few pieces of unbroken pottery work of the Rees. The piece is a bowl which will hold about a quart and is in a perfect state of preservation. Plenty of broken scraps of this pottery work of the residents of this part of the northwest before the coming of the Sioux are to be found at the location of their old towns along the Missouri river, but scraps are about all which the searcher can secure by digging and searching. The bowl in its present state is a rare find and will be presented by Mr. Ferguson to the state historical society to be retained in the collection of that society.—Pierre Letter to the St. Paul Dispatch.

Ring Sickness.
The clown staggered from the ring; he threw himself, groaning on the grass in the dressing tent. A shout of laughter followed him. "Let them laugh," the poor fellow muttered. "They think because I ran out with my hands clutching my stomach, that I am joking. Little do they know the agonies of ring sickness that are now racking me. Pass that bottle, will you? Ring sickness is like sea sickness. You get it from continually running round and round and round a circus ring. Ring masters get it more frequently than clowns, and I have even seen horses with a touch of it."

Buried Coffee Kept Hot.
During field operations of the British troops at Aldershot it was desired to serve hot coffee during the hours of darkness to the soldiers lying in the trenches. As it was found impossible to light fires during the night or early morning for fear of betraying the position to the enemy, the coffee was made in the evening, and while still boiling, was buried in camp kettles with close-fitting lids a few feet in the ground and slightly packed with earth. When the pits were opened in the early morning the coffee was found to be still hot and ready to serve.

New Guinean War Canoe.
At Matupi is preserved the last of the great New Guinean war canoes. This is an immense and wonderful structure, 70 feet in length, which besides several hundred natives could carry 6½ tons of cargo upon the deck joining the canoe proper and the outrigger. At either end is a quaintly carved wooden figurehead (or tail), covered with cassowary feathers, and the immense outrigger consists of a whole palm tree, hollowed out and sharpened fore and aft.

Easy When You Know How.
Haven't I tell you what, Young? I have the sharpest wife you ever saw in your life. Why, the other day I gave her just barely enough money to go out and buy one dress, and if you'll believe it, she came home with two. Young—"That is sharp. How did she manage it?" Haven't I—"Why, she bought one, and the other she had on when she went out."—Stray Stories.

Was — Is — Will Be

IT WAS, only about a year ago, just a pretty farm. IT IS to day the finest building site in Plainfield, with broad avenues macadamized their entire width, concrete curb, sidewalks, trees, gas, electric light, in fact all improvements. Nearly $100,000 expended in new and handsome dwellings, now ready for the market.

WHAT IT WILL BE we hardly dare predict, with contracts out for even more extensive improvements and twelve more handsome residences.

FOR THE COMFORT OF CHILDREN.

Children's shoes are a bug-bear to most shoe dealers because they don't go about it right. They don't like children to start with and they don't appreciate the requirements of little feet. Here it is different. We believe if we start in with the youngsters that we are pretty sure of holding the trade until they have youngsters of their own to shoe. This has been our experience and that is why we shall always continue to give unusually strong values in this department. Although the margin of profit is practically wiped out we believe it is better to charge it up to "good will." That is why you always find here sturdier, better made and more thoroughly dependable footwear for the little folks than you can get in other places. That's why we do the Children's Shoe business of the town.

Our "Steel Shod" shoe at $1.40 to $2.00 will please any youngster and the economy in buying them will please every parent. If your children aren't wearing "Van Arsdale's Steel Shod" buy a pair next time. They have been the solution of many a family's shoe troubles.

FORT RECORDS

CLOSED TO FREEMAN.

Attorney General Holds That Riker's Refusal to Make Them Public Was Proper.

Attorney General McCarter submitted a formal opinion yesterday to William Riker, Jr., clerk of the Supreme Court, advising him that he should not make public certain affidavits on file in his office which were intended to serve as a basis for disbarment proceedings contemplated more than twenty years ago against J. Franklin Fort, now a justice of the Supreme Court and a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor.

The application for access to the papers was made to Mr. Riker by Aiden Freeman, of East Orange. Mr. Riker refused to give out the papers upon the ground that they were not official records of the court, and therefore not public property.

The candidates for the Plainfield High School football team will meet on Hope Common tomorrow for the first practise. As there is plenty of new material in the school this year a strong eleven is assured. A temporary captain will also be elected tomorrow.
