EXERCISES OF RALLY DAY

First M. E. Crescent Ave.
Park Ave., First Baptist and Others Observe It.

IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney Makes
An Address at the First
M. E. Services.

Rally day services were held in a number of churches yesterday. At the First M. E. church in the afternoon the program consisted largely of promotions in the Sunday-school among the various departments. There were a few recitations by the smaller children, and Rev. Dr. George H. Whitney made an interesting address to the school. It was decided to return to the former time of holding the Sunday-school in the afternoon, for after a year's trial the noon hour session was not considered a success.

The promotions are as follows: Beginners to upper primary—Mildred Swick, Loren Pope, Dorothy Plum, Frank Rowley, Myrtle Dunn, Alfred Little, Elizabeth Hicks, Norman McGee, Collins Moore, Lemuel Woolston, Reba Cline, Edwin Mackey, Mrs. Thamos McDonald is the teacher. Primary to Intermediate—Miss Nan Wilson and Miss Helen Whitney teachers—Margaret Thorn, Muriel Courso, Ruth Lynn, Louise Reed, Clarence Skiff, Howard Woolston, Hilda Lane, Gertrude Dyer, Harvey Thorn. Intermediate to Junior—Miss Ethel Prior teacher—Hazel Appgar, Zeta Voorhees, Catherine Bingham, Myrah Hurin, Ida Hartpence, Ethel Clarkson, Robin Becker, James Carson, Hoy Tomlinson, Joe Sittion, Roy Vall, William Knight and Arthur Slade.

An attractive program was presented at the rally day exercises held at the Park Avenue Baptist church in the afternoon. George E. Hall, the superintendent, was in charge. The program included selections by an orchestra comprising Miss Arline Brown, Miss Marjorie Brown, Arthur Mosher, Whitney Frazee and Ernest Higham; three vocal selections by the intermediate department; vocal solo by R. Coles Treadwell and hymns by the Sunday-school. There was a novel roll call of the entire membership of the school by Superintendent Hall and all present received a card bearing a picture of the church.

Monroe Avenue M. E.
Rev. E. E. Roberson, pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, made an interesting address upon the subject of "Child Training." The Sunday-school rooms were attractively decorated with flowers. A part of the exercises included the promotion of several children from the primary department to the higher grades. Superintendent Hall presented the diplomas.

First Baptist.
An informal rally-day program was enjoyed by the Sunday-school of the First Baptist church in the afternoon, marking the change in the time of holding the session from morning to afternoon. Appropriate remarks were made by Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor; Superintendent George H. Batchelor and the singing of rally-day songs by the school and violin solos by Miss Florence Wohlfert. The roll of the school membership was called and it was shown that it has increased during the past year.

Crescent Avenue Church.
Two interesting addresses marked the rally day exercises of the Crescent Avenue church Sunday-school yesterday. The school met at 12 o'clock noon, the primary department meeting with the church main section upstairs for the opening. There was a large attendance, parents and friends of the pupils swelling the numbers.

After the opening exercises, the primary pupils went to their room downstairs, where Miss Carrie Dewey, for years the pianist of the department, told of her trip to Europe in the summer. She was sent on the trip by the teachers and pupils of the department as a testimonial to her splendid service.

Upstairs Rev. James B. Cochran, brother of Henry Cochran, superintendent of the school, a missionary in the Chinese field, spoke on his experiences in the Celestial Kingdom. Supt. Cochran also spoke.

Dr. Gardner Speaks.
Rev. Dr. Theodore L. Gardner, editor of the Sabbath Recorder, spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting yesterday afternoon. There was a good attendance in spite of the weather. Philip Van Arsdel sang bass solos with fine effect.

HOME-MADE JUSTICE
BY ITALIAN LABORERSMOVED SWIFTLY BUT IRREGULARLY; LED TO COURT IN THE END.

A crippled water-boy on one of the Italian construction gangs housed in the shacks on Lake street complained, with tears and other signs of grief, to his fellows Saturday night that $20 of his savings had been stolen from his blouse as he worked. The men of the gang have made a pet of the cripple, and they organized a detective service as soon as they heard of his loss.

Suspicion fastened on Luigi Pavone, a shriveled little old man, who is said to have been the only one at work near the boy when the money disappeared, and Saverio Vallorano was delegated to search him.

Saverio found $29 in bills tied up in a rag in Luigi's blouse pocket. Despite the old man's fervid protestations that the money was all his, Saverio took $20 from the greasy little bundle, and proffered the remaining $9 to Luigi. The latter would have all or none, and carried his story of the affair to the police. The latter understood it to be a bold sort of a hold-up until this morning, when Saverio was arraigned in court. The cripple's part in the case came out then for the first time, and Chief Kieley asked for a day's adjournment to investigate the affair further. Saverio and Luigi were released under the recognition to appear tomorrow morning. The police hold the $29 pending developments.

The meeting will last all day, the home missionary affairs occupying the morning and the foreign the afternoon sessions. There will be speakers on both subjects, but they have not yet been secured. The annual election of officers will be an important feature of the proceedings.

FOUR THOUSAND PENNIES
STRUNG ON YARD ROPES.

Seen at Seventh-Day Baptist Women's Tea Yesterday.

The Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church entertained its friends at a tea and social held in the parlors of the church, yesterday afternoon from 4 to 6, at which time the members returned the yards of pennies collected during the summer months. The parlors were decorated in an unique manner. The color scheme was golden, suspended from the chandeliers being strings of new '07 pennies, fastened to yellow ribbon.

The table was decorated in yellow and white, yards of pennies being fastened to a golden rope which was stretched across the mantelpiece and hung like a lambrequin. The total amount of pennies collected amounted to $40. Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard was in charge of the tea, and Mrs. F. A. Dunham poured. The entertainment and decorations were in charge of Mrs. James E. Kimball and Miss Ernestine Curtis Smith.

There was a short informal program, including a song, "The Drooping of the Pennies," by the Misses Hannah, Helen, Kathryn and Minerva Shaw, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. G. B. Shaw. "The Story of the Pennies," written and read by Mrs. Sarah Wardner, and a vocal solo by Mrs. William C. Hubbard.

Entertainments at Grace Church.
Arrangements have been completed for a series of high class entertainments during the coming winter. The first one will be on Thursday night, October 31, by the Lotus Glee Club. The second will be on December 5, and will be in the nature of a concert. John H. B. Conger, organist of St. Paul's M. E. church, Newark, will have charge, and the assisting artists will be William Searles, basso-cantante, of Newark, and Mrs. Elizabeth von Neer, reader. The third entertainment will be given on January 23 of next year, by Mrs. Minnie-Marshall Smith, reader, and Mrs. Annie Louise David, harpist.

Saturday Night Scrap.
Robert O'Neill, Charles Baird and C. Bartsett were arrested in the borough, near the Somerset street bridge, late Saturday night on a disorderly charge. The men had been drinking and were engaged in a scrap when Chief Marshal Weiss came along and arrested the trio. This morning Recorder Dooliver fined each one $2.

Woodcock Was Wise.
Jefferson Woodcock, of High Bridge, went into the station house Saturday night and asked to be locked up. He was full of whiskey and said the thirst was too much for him. He said locked doors were what he needed to keep him from rum until the fire in his system went out. Judge Runyon approved of Woodcock's good sense in the city court, this morning, and suspended sentence.

Weekly Dances at Saengerbund.
A dance will be given every Wednesday night in Saengerbund Hall under the auspices of Messrs. Baldwin and Diamond, who helped to make both of the shirt-waist dances a success. Prof. Charles M. Suhr's orchestra will furnish the music for the dances.

WHITLOCK DROPS DEAD
AT HIS DINNER TABLEFALLS LIFELESS WHEN ABOUT TO EAT
NOON-DAY MEAL.

George Whitlock, the well-known carpenter, died suddenly at noon today at his boarding-house, 308 East Front street. As he sat down at the table to eat his dinner, he gave a groan and fell over dead. A physician was hurriedly summoned, but when he arrived he said that death must have been instantaneous.

Mr. Whitlock was employed as a foreman for Peter Thompson, the contractor, and had been employed on a new house Mr. Thompson was building on Martine avenue. He decided not to go to work this morning, but send word to Mr. Thompson that he would be on hand at 1 o'clock this afternoon. During the morning he had complained of not feeling well, but he said he thought that he would be all right after he had had his dinner.

He had been a resident of Plainfield for a great many years and was one of the best known carpenters, having worked for all the leading contractors. For a time he was a walking delegate for the Carpenters' Union and was quite active in looking out for the interests of the trade. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

STATE SCHOOL TAX
RAISED BOROUGH RATEREASON FOR ADVANCE—MUNICIPALITY
WILL GET MONEY BACK.

County and State taxes, especially the latter, are at the bottom of the high rate—2.48—on which the North Plainfield tax bills will be figured this year. The property owners who feel inclined to find fault with the rate must turn disapproving glances, if they turn them at all, at county and State offices and not toward the home administration.

The advance springs mainly from the State school tax. Local improvements and work are not at the bottom of it. More than that, the borough will get all the State school money back, and more. The borough's share of the school tax is figured on the assessment levied, and its share of the State school fund will be apportioned on the number of school days. The latter reach a total greater than in most other places, so North Plainfield will come in for a goodly share of the fund, and receive considerably more than it pays out to the State.

It is to be remembered also that the borough assessment is not on a basis of 100 per cent. The valuations are only about seventy-five per cent., and this figures in the rate-making.

Fought in Lunch Wagon.

Daniel Driscoll, one of the owners of a lunch wagon, and John Grafton were arrested Saturday night for fighting in the eating place. Driscoll told Judge Runyon in the city court this morning that Grafton had refused to pay for what he ordered, and followed the refusal by attempting to whip him. He struck back, and cut Grafton's face. The latter said he was very drunk and couldn't remember what he had or had not done. Driscoll told the judge he didn't want to press a charge against Grafton, and the magistrate suspended sentence.

Common Council Meets Tonight.

G. W. Wilbur, who has had a part of the contract for the construction of the Southside sanitary sewer, has encountered an unusual amount of water in excavating in that part of the city and now wants to give up the contract. There will be a special meeting of the Common Council tonight when steps will be taken to meet the existing difficulty and Mr. Wilbur will probably be released. It is the intention of the city to complete this part of the work by the day instead of in a lump contract.

Found Part of Old Liberty Pole.

While excavating in Park avenue this morning for the brick pavement, the laborers unearthed the base of a liberty pole erected at the corner of Second street in front of the Hotel Iroquois, during the 50's by Jacob Thorne, who also built the hotel, which in those days was known as the Mansion House. Mr. Thorne was the father of Edward P. Thorne, formerly of this city, but now of Westfield.

Tennis Matches Postponed.

Not only did the rain on Saturday prevent the playing of the local baseball games and the holding of the trotting meet, but it interfered with the championship tennis matches scheduled at the Plainfield Country Club and the Park Club. The courts were water soaked and the constant rain made it impossible for the contestants to play. All the matches were put over for one week.

SOMERSET CONVENTIONS

Democrats to Nominate Candidates at Somerville on Wednesday, Oct. 9.

FOLLOW REPUBLICANS.

G. O. P. Convention Four Days Earlier—Democrats' Slate Includes Demond and Ross.

Somerset's Democrats will hold their county convention on Wednesday, Oct. 9, that date having been decided upon at a meeting of the county committee at Somerville on Saturday. The Republicans will nominate their ticket four days previously, Saturday, Oct. 5, having been announced as the time for the gathering of the G. O. P. clans.

The Democratic convention will be held at Somerset hall, Somerville, the same place where the Republicans will assemble. The probable chairman has not been announced, but it is said that former State Senator S. S. Childs will wield the gavel and decide upon questions of parliamentary law. An effort is being made to have gubernatorial nominee, Frank S. Katzenbach, make a speech and it is believed that he will accept the invitation extended by the county committee.

It is said that the slate has been fixed in this fashion: For surrogate, William J. Demond, of Bridgewater township; for sheriff, Frank Ross, of Bridgewater township. Demond is the present incumbent of the surrogate office and ther seems to be but little opposition to his proposed renomination. Ross has made a hard canvas for the shiriverty and it appears likely that he will land himself on the ticket.

INTERSTATE FAIR PROGRAM.

Opens Today at Trenton and Will Last All the Week.

The Interstate Fair's nineteenth annual exhibition was opened this morning at Trenton, and for the first time in the history of the organization will be continued for a full week, Saturday being devoted to the finish of a twenty-four-hour automobile endurance test, which will be run throughout the night before over a well-lighted course.

Today is automobile day; tomorrow, children's day, when school children are admitted free; Wednesday will be farmers' day; Thursday, politicians' day, with Fort and Katzenbach, the gubernatorial rivals, and a host of other political lights present; Friday, as usual, will be get-away day, although this year it will mark the beginnings of the auto endurance run.

Mrs. Ellick Must Move.

Mrs. Mary Ellick, of 620 West Third street, was arraigned before Judge Runyon in the city court this morning, charged a second time with in a month with annoying and abusing her neighbors. She was accused, among other things, of throwing hot water at a colored neighbor with whom she had had trouble. She said the water was cold and was aimed at a dog. She also denied threatening the colored woman with a pin and a kitchen knife, as was charged. Judge Runyon told her she was a trouble-maker, and gave her forty-eight hours to move from the neighborhood.

Races Postponed to October 12.

More than 200 people gathered at the Plainfield Driving Park Saturday afternoon to witness the races under the auspices of the Fair Acres Riding and Driving Association, and it was a great disappointment that the rain interfered with the program. Miss Adele von Ohl was present and ready to give an exhibition of fancy riding on "Aristocrat" and "Ride," but it was decided that the grounds were too wet. The officers of the association announced to the crowd that the races would be held on Saturday, October 12, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

BRING HOME STRING OF
HORSE SHOW RIBBONSMISS HOOLEY AND MESSRS. BUTTFIELD AND M'CUTCHEEN LUCKY.

The Morristown Horse Show closed Saturday afternoon with the judging of nine classes. The collapse of the flooring in a section of the boxes amid a downpour of rain marred the pleasure of hundreds of spectators. A mild panic which followed was soon quelled.

The afternoon's judging started with the award to Miss Mabel B. Hooley of the blue for her entries in the pairs of harness horses. Miss Hooley also captured a blue in the class for saddle horses, her black mare, Delight, taking the first award. Her string, as well as those of W. J. Buttfeld and C. W. McCutchen was very successful in winning prizes throughout the three days of the show. The Plainfield horses winning prizes on Saturday follow:

Class 35—Pairs of harness horses over 15 hands and not exceeding 15.2 hands, won by Miss Mabel B. Hooley's Quaker Maid and Dorothea, Charles W. McCutchen's Piccadilly Sweetheart and Pickinny Sweetheart, third.

Class 2—Pair of Roadsters—Won by W. J. Buttfeld's Miss Banahan and Miss Westcott. Class 46—Saddle horses 15 hands or over—Won by Miss Mabel B. Hooley's Delight. Class 44—Pairs of harness horses—Won by Miss Mabel B. Hooley's Quaker Maid and Free Quaker.

MR. AND MRS. RYNO
WARMLY CONGRATULATEDWITH FRIENDS THEY CELEBRATE 15TH
WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Corra Ryno observed the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding on Codginton avenue, Saturday night, and despite the disagreeable weather fifty friends from Newark, Orange, Elizabeth, Somerville and Plainfield joined in the celebration. The home was attractively decorated with golden rods and ferns, the arrangement in the hall and parlor being particularly effective.

During the evening there was an informal program of vocal and instrumental selections, including piano solos by Miss Emma Hazel Ryno, daughter of the host and hostess, and vocal solos by Mrs. Thomas J. Lynch and the singing of popular selections by others. Refreshments were served. The couple received many handsome and useful gifts, including a number of pieces of cut-glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryno were married on September 28, 1892. Rev. Dr. Cornelius Schenck, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Elias Thompson, of Satskill, N. Y., a cousin of the bride, and Rev. John Thompson, of Trenton, an uncle of the bride. The couple moved from Duer street to Grandview avenue and then to Codginton avenue, their present home. Mr. Ryno has been connected with The Daily Press for many years, and both he and his wife enjoy the friendship and esteem of a large circle of friends. Congratulations and regrets were received from relatives and friends in Nauvau, Conn., Phillipsburg, Philadelphia and many other places.

RESUME MUSICAL SERVICE.

First One of the Fall at Front Street
Presbyterian Church.

The first monthly musical of the fall at the First Presbyterian church, East Front street, was enjoyed last night by a large congregation. All the numbers were splendidly rendered and the solo parts were sung with particular effectiveness. Miss Miss Jassamine Burd, the contralto, rendered the offertory solo. The other numbers were quaretted.

Rev. Charles E. Herring, his pastor, preached a short sermon on "The Socialism of Jesus." He will elaborate the theme and make comparisons between the Lord's socialistic ideal and the socialistic thought of today next Sunday.

Funeral of J. C. Duryee.

The funeral service of Joseph C. Duryee, who died on Friday at the home of his son, Joseph A. Duryee, 315 Lee place, was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from that residence. Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of Warren chapel, officiated, and the burial was in Hillside cemetery. Mr. Duryee was a Civil War veteran and had been living at the Soldiers' Home in Kearny. It was while on a visit to his son here that he was taken ill and died.

HE GOT LIMIT OF LAW

Grinley's Promises of Reform Fell on Deaf Ears in City Court.

HAD ABUSED HIS WIFE

Judge Runyon Knew How Undependable
He Was, and Counsel's Eloquent Plea Availed
Not.

Richard Grinley, a machinist, arrested for abusing his wife Saturday night, was sentenced to the limit of the law in the city court this morning. Counsel's earnest plea for leniency and his own sniffles proved unavailing, because Judge Runyon had knowledge of the prisoner's record and character.

Grinley had abused his wife in drunken fits for ten years. He returned from the county jail, where he served sixty days, last week. He went to Judge Runyon and Rev. E. E. Roberson almost as soon as he returned, and asked them to help him effect a reconciliation with his wife. He made all sorts of promises to be good, and was in the magistrate's office to repeat them Saturday afternoon.

Counselor S. S. Swackhamer appeared for him this morning, and told Judge Runyon that his client wanted a chance to show that he was through with drink and desired to turn over a new leaf. He was ready, the lawyer said, to agree to turn over all he earned, either through the court or his counsel, to his wife. "I cannot place any dependence on this man's word," said the magistrate. "I know that for ten years he has made the life of a good wife and a faithful mother a hell on earth. He was in my office Saturday afternoon to repeat his promises of good behavior and then went out and did the same old thing. He has forfeited all claim to consideration. I sentence him to pay a fine of $100 and to sixty days in the county jail."

FIREMEN GET A SCARE.

Joker Impersonating Councilman
Mellick Rakes Them Over the Coals.

Some Joker had a lot of fun with Firemen Kelly and Fitzgerald, at the West Fourth street engine house Saturday night. The Joker called up the house on the telephone, and, pretending he was Councilman George P. Mellick, gave Kelly and Fitzgerald, one after the other, stern rebukes for allowing three lengths of the city's hose to be used in separating fighting buildings on Saturday morning, as avowed by a humorous writer in The Daily Press.

The firemen were fooled, and agitatedly explained how innocent of wrongdoing they had been. When "Mr. Mellick" rang off, Kelly called up Chief Doane and told him of the "councilman's" vexation. The chief lost not time in calling up Mr. Mellick's house, and learned that he hadn't been in the city for a week. If Kelly and Fitzgerald had known Mr. Mellick at all they wouldn't have been fooled; some of the language the "councilman" used was decidedly undressed. A friend of the firemen heard of the hoax shortly after it was played, and told them of it. They are looking for the Joker.

Lamp Sets Fire to a Bed.

The upsetting of a lamp set fire to a bed at W. K. Wilson's home, 238 East Fourth street, at 11:38 o'clock, last night, and caused an alarm of fire to be sent in from Box 21, at North and Watchung avenues. The department responded and had but little difficulty in extinguishing the blaze. The damage amounted to $25.

Funeral of Mrs. John Motley.

The funeral services of Mrs. John Motley were held this morning at 8:15 from the late residence, 167 Manning avenue, and 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church. Rev. W. H. Miller, pastor, officiated. The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Michael Hickey Buried Here.

The remains of Michael Hickey, who died at his home in Raritan, on Friday, aged sixty-five years, were brought to this city this morning for burial in St. Mary's cemetery. T. A. Moore, the undertaker, was in charge of the burial.

Disorderly In Theatre.

Patsy Toyoul, an Italian youth, was arrested at the theatre Saturday night for raising a rumpus in the gallery. Judge Runyon fined him $5 in the city court this morning.

Church Sociable Planned.

A sociable will be held at the Christian church Thursday night. Miss Nellie Bittle is chairman of the committee in charge.

FLOWER SUPERSTITIONS.

If you point at buds they will blight.

To plant a flower hedge is to bring good luck.

To burn faded flowers is a sign of coming sorrows.

If you pull a flower to pieces you will die of consumption.

To hand a flower reversed to any one is to bring bad luck.

To have flowers wilt quickly in the hands denotes ill health.

If some one gives you a yellow flower you are going to have money.

If a person smells flowers gathered from the cemetery he will lose his sense of smell.

If any one asks for the flowers pinned on your dress and you refuse you will have immediate ill luck.

If a person wears flowers with the stems upward it is a sign that he or she is in love, but does not know it.

If some one gives you a purple flower you are going to have tears and trouble.—New York Tribune.

In the six great Swiss colleges there are now 2,193 women studying.

Boston has inaugurated a girls' high school of practical arts to correspond in purpose with the commercial high school for boys. The school will attempt to teach girls practical courses to fit them as homemakers. Among the studies will be housefurnishing, decoration, housekeeping, cooking, sewing and millinery.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

It is always open season for the man who is hunting trouble. Some people constitute themselves a grievance committee and hold a session every day.

Have you noticed that there are very few old people these days? It is said to be going out of style to grow old.

Don't imagine you are the only person in the world who has annoyances. There is so much trouble in the world that there is plenty to go around.

A man without a very active imagination can bring tears to his eyes any time by thinking of the great sorrow that will overcast the wide land on the day of his funeral.—Arlinson Globe.

To be overpolite is to be rude.

If you hate a man let him live.

Thine own heart makes the world.

A Quaint Custom.

The marriage customs of nations are quaint. Here is one which is decidedly barbarous: A Hottentot widow marrying again has to cut off the joint of a finger, which she gives to her new husband on their wedding day. Each time she becomes a widow and marries again she has to sacrifice one finger joint.

One of our clients owed $48 between four people. His salary is $14 weekly; rent $12 monthly. To have paid $2 weekly to each creditor, combined with rent, would have left only $6 per week to meet expenses, buy clothing, etc.—an impossibility you will agree. He borrowed $50, paid all his creditors, made his future credit good, if ever needed; pays his rent, the loan payments, and has $9 each week to use as his judgment dictates.

YOUR GOLD COINS.

See if Any of Them is Stamped With the Letter L.

"I got hold of a gold coin a short time ago, and it was marked with a letter L, which I supposed had been stamped upon it by some one who wished to keep watch as to whether he ever had it in possession again. I passed it along, to my landlord, I think, and thought nothing more about it for several months. Then I found out that I had been passing 'light' coin."

"How is that?" was the question of a listener.

"All coins, whether gold or silver, upon which a large L is stamped are light weight. When you get one of these stamped coins, the only thing to do is to take it to some assayer, who will weigh it and pay you about 10 per cent. less than the face value of the coin for it. He will then place it in a crucible to be melted into gold bullion."

The government itself mutilates these coins and in so doing turns the ruined currency right back into circulation, where some innocent party will become victimized by them.

"When the light coins are tendered for duties on imports they are weighed at the custom house, quickly stamped L for light and returned to the importer. If the latter cannot pass the coin off, he must take it to the refiner to be melted."

"The light coins may be rendered light in the ordinary course of abrasion in circulation or they may have been sweated by parties who sell the gold just thus bruised off the coin. The common mode of sweating is to place a number of gold coins in a sack and shake them up for a long time, when the gold dust will gather at the bottom of the sack."—Utica Observer.

COUNCILMEN ARE PERPLEXED.

Westfield Borough Fathers in Quandary Over Money.

Westfield, Sept. 30.—The Town Council, with Engineer Van, last night made a survey of the Osborne avenue bridge, which the Central Railroad Company built at the request of the Council. It was completed about six months ago, but has never been in service, by reason of the failure of the Council to provide approaches.

The railroad company now urges the Council to provide the necessary approaches. The bridge crosses the tracks, and either end at present is twenty feet above Osborne avenue. It is estimated that 7,000 yards of filling and retaining walls will be necessary before the bridge can be used. This will cost about $5,000, and the Council is in a quandary as to where to secure the money.

The railroad company is insistent that the town fulfill its contract and that the bridge be placed in service. The Council is perplexed, as no account had been taken of the approaches or their cost, and all energies were bent to compel the company to build the bridge.

Bleeding to Death.

Thomas Strahle, a farmer living at Hall's Corner, nearly severed his foot while cutting wood in the woods near his home. He pulled off his boot and with strips of a horse blanket made a tourniquet, and, lashing the animal into a gallop, raced to Spotswood, where Dr. Denesbeck gave the man medical attention. He will probably recover.

The Praying Wheel.

A traveler thus describes the praying wheel of Tibet: "A barrel eight inches long holds 1,400 thin leaves, on each side of which the prayer is printed, say, ten times. This gives 28,000 prayers, all of which are put to the worshipper's credit in the world to come if with a touch of his finger he makes the barrel revolve once."

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

GOLF.

On Saturday, October 19, the Middlebrook Country Club, of Bound Brook, will send its team to the Park Golf Club for the third and deciding match. Each team has won a game and considerable interest will be shown in the forthcoming one.

Now that C. B. Macdonald has been named to represent America on the St. Andrews rules committee it remains to be seen what action the United States Golf Association will take in the matter. The act of the foreign golfers was entirely on their own responsibility, and before Macdonald can really represent this country he will have to be officially appointed by the United States Golf Association. He will in all probability be selected, however, as he served as chairman on the two former rules committees in this country.

The foreign committee on rules consists of the following: Captain W. H. Burn, chairman; the Rev. R. A. Hull, H. C. Everard, John L. Low, H. G. Hutchinson, Leslie Balfour Melville, E. R. H. Blackwell, H. G. Holt, J. Cunningham, J. O. Fairlie, W. E. Fairlie, R. H. Johnston, J. E. Laidlaw, Robert Maxwell and R. B. Sharp.

In the opinion of Messrs. Chauncy, Macdonald and other well known amateurs in this vicinity, there is no occasion for anything radical in the way of changes. Attention has been called to the fact that out of the 212 questions on rules submitted to the committee since the last revision of the code, in 1902, none has had its origin from a championship contest.

FOOTBALL.

Scrimmaging was continued at Princeton Saturday, and the varsity faced two distinct teams for a couple of halves. The men were worked harder than at any time before. A twenty minute half was quite a tax on the players, but this followed by ten minutes more proved a sufficient dose to send the whole bunch off the field pretty well used up. Head Coach Roper gave orders for fast work and Quarterback Eddie Dillon drove the varsity along at a rapid rate. While neither eleven played particularly brilliant, the first string put it over the scrubs, scoring twice. Captain McCormick was powerful on the defense in the afternoon, and rattled the opposing line without much trouble.

Four men have been lost from the New York City College eleven. Frank at quarter, Gilbert at right halfback, Panaroni at right guard and Hubert at right tackle. The place at right quarterback is well provided for in the three candidates, Mullen, Brissette and Guick. For the halfback Wagner and Baum, Townsend Harris Hall players, show up well. Cohn, another man from the same place, who weighs 215 pounds, will amply fill the position of right guard. For tackle the college has a find in Ford, a 190-pound player from Vanderbilt Prep. A new man, Schultz, has come out for centre and will make Gordon, last year's player, hustle to keep his place. He is from Yorksters High School and weighs 225 pounds.

Director Baird of the Athletic Association today received a letter from Dartmouth asking for a football game at Ann Arbor on November 25. However, as Michigan's season closes with the Pennsylvania game on November 16, Director Baird considered that a game with Dartmouth a week later would be an anti-climax and declined the offer.

The Amherst squad has been in daily practise under the direction of Coach Hubbard, '07, and Captain Gildersleeve for the past week. Shattuck, who was quarter on the '05 and '06 elevens has returned to college and is trying for the back field. The most promising freshmen among the forty candidates are Keough, of Williston Seminary, and Buck, the big lineman. Of the veterans who are among the list of aspirants for the varsity are Atwood, Kilbourn, Kating, Leadbetter and Mulry. It is expected that the team will be much heavier than last year's aggregation, providing several of last season's second string men can overcome the academic eligibility rules.

At New York University the candidates for the football eleven are working hard on Ohio field daily. H. P. Olcott, Yale '99, is coaching the teams, and sends them at their work in snappy fashion. The regulars of last season who have returned to college are Captain Mowen, right half; H. Brown, left half; W. Brown, quarter; Decker, centre; Bernstein, right end; Arnold, left end; Auffant, left end, and Freberg, left tackle. A good proportion of last year's scrub team is on hand and a number of husky men in the freshman class promise to make good material. The first game will be against St. Stephens on Ohio field, October 5. The other games will be: Stevens at Hoboken, October 12; Haverford at Ohio Field, October 19; R. P. I. at Troy, October 26; Rutgers at Ohio Field, November 5; Lehigh at South Bethlehem, November 9, and Union at Ohio Field, November 23.

PUBLIC SCHOOL FADS.

In banishing the silly, unnatural and impractical system of vertical handwriting from the public schools, the Newark Board of Education has taken a wise course; one that will meet with approbation, particularly among business men. There never has been the slightest excuse for the stiff and characterless. Its advocates have been among a class who have little to do with the business world and, therefore, have not fully realized under what disadvantage a young man or woman drilled in such absurd style has been placed. More than one youth fresh from school has failed to obtain a position simply because of his inability to use the natural, graceful and common-sense slanting style of penmanship.

Vertical handwriting is but one of the fads in public schools. The policy of tutoring children in Latin and Greek before they are well grounded in the rudiment is another. But happily, it appears that a return to reason is fast approaching and the average youth will be able to spell, read and write correctly and will have a good knowledge of the world's map and history before he is made to study Latin and Greek roots.

Nominee Katzenbach should bring his overcoat along when he pays his promised visit to the local Democrats next Saturday afternoon.

POLITICAL NOTES

At Democratic State committee headquarters in Jersey City this letter from Prof. Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton College, was given out yesterday:

"I have kept your kind letter of September 20 a day or two out of sincere desire to accept the kindly invitation which it conveys, but I find unhappily that it is literally impossible in view of university duties which come at the same time. I pray express to the Democratic State committee and to the committee of Hudson county my appreciation of their courtesy of my sincere hope that Mr. Katzenbach will be elected Governor of the state. He seems to me a most admirable choice." The letter was in reply to an invitation sent him by the auxiliary Democratic committee to address the mass-meeting to be held under its auspices at Grand view Park, this city, next Friday night.

GOLF CUP COMPETITIONS

Play for Greens and Golf Committees and Autumn Cups at Country Club.

DEFY THE DOWNPOUR

During the Heavy Showers, on the Links at Both Club Were Many Enthusiasts.

While the heavy rain on Saturday caused a postponement of the matinee races and the baseball games, it did not stop the play of golf on the local links. During the heaviest of the downpour both the courses at the Plainfield Country Club and the Park Golf Club were well occupied. Many, however, were unable to complete the eighteen holes and but a limited number of cards were returned in the various events.

At the Country Club, Dudley H. Barrows won first honors for the Golf Committee cup, with a net score of 76, Charles A. Stover finished second with a 77, while Julius Erickson came in third with an 84. The leading scores posted follow:

Dudley H. Barrows, 74 plus 2—76; Charles A. Stover, 86, 9—77; Julius E. Erickson, 91, 7—84. The point winners for the Green Committee cup were E. A. Cruikshank with an 85, George S. Clay, a new-comer, with a 91, and George E. Cathcart with a 100. The scores: E. A. Cruikshank, 101, 16—85; George S. Clay, 113, 22—91; George E. Cathcart, 104, 4—100.

In the play for the Autumn cup, Class A, the two who qualified were Julius E. Erickson, 91, 7—84; W. Lester Glenney, 83, plus 3—85; George S. Clay, with a score of 113, 22—91, was the only one to qualify for the Autumn cup, Class B, and this means that some will have to draw a bye. In the playoff of the tie of September 14 for the Autumn cup, Class A, Dudley H. Barrows, with a score of 74, plus 2—76, and Charles A. Stover, with a score of 86, 9—77, qualified for match play next month.

While there was a good field out at the Park Golf Club, only four players returned their cards in the weekly competition for the President's Golf Club cups and the September trophy. Thus far W. V. Byard has qualified for match play for the monthly cup, and the tie between R. V. Carpenter and C. B. Morse will be played off this week to determine who shall play with Mr. Byard.

L. R. Thurlow, with a net score of 96, won first honors for the President's cup and the September cup. Charles A. Reed received second honors, while C. B. Morse and W. V. Byard were third and fourth. For the Scratch cup, the point winners were Charles A. Reed, C. B. Morse and L. R. Thurlow.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS

The Jeffersons in "The Rivals" at the New Plainfield theatre tonight.

Jimmy Rosen, who plays Buster Brown this year, has fully demonstrated that he is the right little comique in the exact spot, for he is so immersed in and imbued with the spirit of Mr. Outcall's character that those who have seen him declare that he is not playing a part, that he is the typical Buster himself. New and elaborate scenery and costumes grace the production this season, together with all the new music and popular songs. It will be seen here October 20, matinee and night.

GRAVES NOW MADE LEVEL.

Radical Change in Cemetery Arrangements Meets With Approval.

Modern cemetery ideas that run contrary to deep-seated sentiment usually create dissatisfaction when they are first introduced. Just now, says Park and Cemetery, the lot holders in Cedar Grove cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y., are agitated over the rule providing for the leveling of all grave mounds. Many of the lot holders who are now paying for annual care of their lots object to a notice to the effect that mounds on lots for which annual care is not paid would be leveled. Some resent it as "a mean outrage." Other cemeteries have had similar experiences. In Lakewood cemetery, Minneapolis, when a new law went into effect regarding the lowering of grave mounds there were many protests, but in less than a year when the changed appearance of the sections made apparent the marked improvement in the landscape by lowering the mounds to an almost imperceptible rise over the graves lot holders began requesting this treatment of their lots and within a short period of time several thousand grave mounds had been lowered, the cost of annual care materially reduced and the general appearance of the grounds greatly improved.

FOR HAPPY MARRIED LIFE.

Good Manners Go Far to Preserve Peace and Concord.

A great many people seem to think that the marriage ceremony absolves them from all further courtesies and attentions to the person whom they have wed. After that they are always in negligence, both as to manners and clothes, when they are at home. This is a fatal mistake. Because a woman is married is no excuse for her going untidily about the house, and telling her husband home truths that hurt his vanity. Because a woman is his wife gives a man no right to say things to her he would not dare to say to any other lady who possessed a big, abled-bodied brother. Good manners are the preservation of peace and concord, and are warranted to keep happiness in any climate. The problem of how to be happy though married is really no problem at all. No mystery should ever have been made of it. It is merely fair dealing in fair partnership, giving the other party the privileges and perquisites you assume for yourself, and allowing the person you love as much consideration and civility as you would show a stranger.—New York Weekly.

Mixed the Infants Up.

At Southport, England, some years ago, births took place in two families living in the same house. In one case twins arrived, and a single in the other. The three children were being washed and dressed, and the father of the twins coming in, the three were placed in one bed with the idea of leading him to believe that his wife had given birth to triplets. The joke, for that was all which was intended, succeeded to the full—for the time at least—and then came the question of separating the infants and restoring them to their respective mothers. Here a difficulty presented itself, and the women in attendance were shocked to find themselves unable to say which was which. A Liverpool paper says the identification has not yet been satisfactorily established, and it is a case in which even a Solomon might be puzzled.

Keep Bills.

It is well to keep every bill, paid or not, for an indefinite period. One never knows when mistakes may occur or when dishonesty may be attempted. The steel bill files are all very well, though they are not remarkable for their neatness or order, but a better way is to use a large scrap book and paste the bills in alphabetical order, according to the names of those by whom they are preferred, therein. If possible, it would be well to prepare the leaves like those of an address book, so that it would be easy to find any bill at any time. Of course, this is only a cheaper home-made substitute for a regular letter file, which is the very best thing for the purpose.

"All In" Judicially Defined.

In the case of state vs. Hennessey, 90 Pac. Rep. 221, the Nevada supreme court gives a definition of the slang phrase "all in." The question came up in connection with the admission in evidence of a dying declaration, the declarant's statement that he was "all in" being relied on to show that he was under a sense of impending death. The court said: "The expression, 'I am all in' is one frequently made use of in this western country, and when used under the circumstances in question may, we think, be taken to have meant that the speaker considered his life was practically at an end."

How the Professor Was Affected.

"There's not a particle of ventilation in this room," said the professor, suddenly stopping in his talk and looking about him. "Can you boys tell me what it does to a man to be in a room when there is no ventilation?" "I should say it filled him with hot air, professor," replied one of the daring ones.

BOB HAMPTON of PLACER

By RANDALL PARRISH AUTHOR OF
"WHEN WILDERNESS WAS KING" "MY LADY OF THE NORTH"
"THE GREAT ILLINOIS ETC."

he said no; that a dead man was been seen."

"Is that all you know?"

The younger man bent his head, his face grave and perplexed. "Practically all."

Hampton wet his dry lips with his tongue, his breath quickening.

"And in that she was right," he said at last, his eyes lowered to the ground. "I will tell you why. It was the father of Naida Gillis who was convicted of the murder of Maj.
Brant."

"Oh, my father? Is she Capt. Nolan's daughter? But you say 'convicted.'
Was there ever any doubt? Do you question his being guilty?"

Hampton pointed in silence to the hideous creature behind them. "That man could tell, but he has gone mad."
Brant endeavored to speak, but the words would not come; his brain seemed paralyzed. Hampton held him self under better control.

"I have confidence, Lieut. Brant, in your honesty," he began, gravely, "and I believe you will strive to do what ever is best for her, if anything should happen to me out yonder. But for the possibility of my being knocked out, I wouldn't talk about this, not even to you. The affair is a long way from being straightened out so as to make a pleasant story, but I'll give you all you actually require to know in order to make it clear to her, provided I shouldn't come back. You see, she doesn't know very much more than you do—only what I was obliged to tell to keep her from getting too closely entangled with you. Maybe I ought to have given her the full story before I started on this trip. I've since wished I had, but you see, I never dreamed it was going to end here, on the Big Horn; besides, I didn't have the nerve."

"You see, Brant, I feel that I simply have to carry these dispatches through. I have a pride in giving them to Custer myself, because of the trouble I've had in getting them here.
But perhaps I may not come back,
and in that case there wouldn't be anyone living to tell her the truth. It seems to me that there is going to be a big fight somewhere in these hills before long. So I want to leave these private papers with you until I come back. It will relieve my mind to know they are safe; if I don't come, then I want you to open them and do whatever you decide is best for the little girl. You will do that, won't you?"

He handed over a long manila envelope securely sealed, and the younger man accepted it, noticing that it was unaddressed before depositing it safely in an inner pocket of his fatigue jacket.

"Certainly, Hampton," he said. "Is that all?"

"All except what I am going to tell you now regarding Murphy. There is no use my attempting to explain exactly how I chanced to find out all these things, for they came to me little by little during several years. I knew Nolan, and I knew your father, and I had reason to doubt the guilt of the captain, in spite of the verdict of the jury that condemned him. In fact, I knew at the time, although it was not in my power to prove it, that the two principal witnesses against Nolan lied.
I thought I could guess why, but we drifted apart, and finally I lost all track of every one connected with the affair. Then I happened to pick up that girl down in the canyon beyond the Bear Water, and pulled her out alive just because she chanced to be of that sex, and I couldn't stand to see her fall into Indian clutches. I didn't feel any special interest in her at the time, supposing she belonged to Old Gillis, but she somehow grew on me—she's that kind, you know; and when I discovered, purely by accident, that she was Capt. Nolan's girl, but that it all had been kept from her, I just naturally made up my mind I'd dig out the truth if I possibly could, for her sake. The fact is, I began to think a lot about her—not the way you do, you understand; I'm getting too old for that, and have known too much about women—but maybe somewhat as a father might feel. Anyhow, I wanted to give her a chance, a square deal, so that she wouldn't be ashamed of her own name if ever she found out what it was."

"About that time I fell foul of Murphy and Slavin there in Glencaid. I never got my eyes on Murphy, you know, and Slavin was so changed by that big red beard that I failed to recognize him. But their actions aroused my suspicions, and I went after them good and hard. I wanted to find out what they knew, and why those lies were told on Nolan at the trial. I had an idea they could tell me. So, for a starter I tackled Slavin, supposing we were alone, and I was pumping the facts out of him successfully by holding a gun under his nose, and occasionally joggling his memory, when this fellow Murphy got excited, and challenged me to a fight. In the course of our little scuffle I chanced to catch a glimpse of the fellow's right hand, and it had a scar on the back of it that looked mighty familiar. I had seen it before, and I wanted to see it again. So, when I got out of that scrape, and the doctor had dug a stray bullet out of my anatomy, there didn't seem to be any one left for me to chase excepting Murphy, for Slavin was dead. I wasn't exactly sure he was the owner of that scar, but I had my suspicions and wanted to verify them. Having struck his trail, I reached Cheyenne just about four hours after he left there with these dispatches for the Big Horn.

I caught up with the fellow on the south bank of the Belle Fourche, and being well aware that no threat or gun play would ever force him to confess the truth, I undertook to frighten him by trickery. I brought along some drawing-paper and drew your father's picture in phosphorus and gave him the benefit in the dark. That caught Murphy all right, and everything was coming my way. He threw up his hands and even agreed to come in here with me and tell the whole story, but the poor fellow's brain couldn't stand the strain of the scare
I had given him. He went raving mad on the powder, he jumped on me while I was asleep, and since then every mile has been a little hell.
That's the whole of it to date."

They were up with the pack-train
by now, and the cavalymen gazed with interest at the new arrivals.
Several among them seemed to recognize Murphy, and crowded about his horse with rough expressions of sympathy. Brant scarcely glanced at them, his grave eyes on Hampton's stern face.

"And what is it you wish me to do?"
"Take care of Murphy. Don't let him remain alone for a minute. If he has any return of reason, compel him to talk. He knows you, and will be as greatly frightened at your presence and knowledge as at mine. Besides, you have fully as much at stake as anyone, for in no other way can the existing barrier between Naida and yourself be broken down."

Insisting that now he felt perfectly fit for any service, the impatient Hampton was quickly supplied with the necessary food and clothing, while Murphy, grown violently abusive, was strapped on a litter between two mules, a guard on either side. Brant rode with the civilian on a sharp trot as far as the head of the pack-train, endeavoring to the very last to persuade the wearied man to relinquish
this work to another.

"Foster," he said to the sergeant in command of the advance, "did you chance to notice just what coulee Custer turned into when his column
swung to the right?"

"I think it must have been the second yonder, sir; where you see that bunch of trees. We was a long ways back, but I could see the boys plain enough as they come out on the bluff up there. Some of 'em waved their hats back at us. Is this man goin'
after them, sir?"

"Yes, he has dispatches from Cheyenne."

"Well he ought to have no trouble findin' the trail. It ought to be 'bout plain as a road back in God's country, sir, for there were more than 200 horses, and they'd leave a good mark
even on hard ground."

Brant held out his hand. "I'll certainly do all in my power, Hampton, to bring this out right. You can rely on that, and I will be faithful to the little girl."

The two men clasped hands, their eyes filled with mutual confidence.
Then Hampton touched spurs to his horse and galloped swiftly forward.

CHAPTER XXXII.

The Fight in the Valley.

Far below, in the heart of the sunny depression bordering the left bank of the Little Big Horn, the stalwart troopers under Reno's command gazed up the steep bluff to wave farewell to their comrades disappearing to the right. Last of all, Custer halted his horse an instant, silhouetted against the blue sky, and swung his hat before spurring out of sight.

The plan of battle was most simple and direct. It involved a nearly simultaneous attack upon the vast Indian village from below and above, success depending altogether upon the prompt co-operation of the separate detachments. Scarcely had Custer's slender column of horsemen vanished across the summit before Reno's command advanced, trotting down the valley, the Arrikara scouts in the lead. They had been chosen to strike the first blow, to force their way into the lower village, and thus to draw the defending warriors to their front, while Custer's men were to charge upon the rear.

A half-mile, a mile, Reno's troops rode, with no sound breaking the silence but the pounding of hoofs, the tinkle of accoutrements. Then, rounding a sharp projection of earth and rock, the scattered lodges of the Indian village already partially revealed to those in advance, the riders were brought to sudden halt by a fierce crackling of rifles from rock and ravine. Men fell cursing, and the fright-

THE PLAINFIELD TRUST COMPANY

Assets $2,500,000.00

Joseph and William W. Jefferson, in "The Rivals," at the New Plainfield Theatre Tonight.

"FOR WILLIE"

Bit of Humor That Won Joe Jefferson's Son $4,000

When William Winter Jefferson, who with his brother, Joseph Jefferson, presents "The Rivals" at the New Plainfield Theatre tonight, was scarcely out of his teens, he suddenly found himself heir to a legacy of $12,000 bequeathed by a fond aunt. When the executor had handed him over a check for the amount, his father, the great Joseph Jefferson, turned to him and said:

"Willie, what are you going to do with all that money?"

"Governor, I've packed away $10,000 of it in bank and with the rest I'm going to see the world."

A couple of weeks later, the son landed in London with $2,000 in his pockets. He had hardly been abroad a fortnight when the man who made "Rip VanWinkle" famous received this cablegram addressed to him at Buzzards' Bay:

"Send me two thousand."

Not understanding what use the boy could have for the money when he had only left a short time before with a like amount, Mr. Jefferson cabled back:

"What for?"

The next day brought this reply:

"For Willie."

The bit of humor won the old man's heart and instead of cabling $2,000 he doubled the amount.

TOLD OF HIS WORK.

Rev. R. A. Stout Talks At Trinity Reformed Church.

Rev. R. A. Stout, a student in the Theological Seminary at New Brunswick, addressed the Sunday-school of Trinity Reformed church, yesterday afternoon, it being the quarterly meeting of the Sunday-school Missionary Society, of which Elmer Wheeler is the president. He presided and introduced Mr. Stout who told of his experience in Oklahoma and Indian Territory last summer while engaged in mission work.

He lived in a tent and while in the west made a religious canvas of that particular section. A Sunday-school was organized. The first Sunday five persons were present, and when Mr. Stout left there were thirty-five people identified with the school. He described the work as being encouraging.

TO PROTECT GAME IN JERSEY.

Gun Clubs Will United for Prevention of Killing Migrating Fowl.

George Batton, president of the Montclair Gun Club, recently sent a letter to all the gun clubs of New Jersey calling upon them to combine for the purpose of urging legislation to protect the water fowl during their spring migrations for their breeding grounds in the far North. The response was almost unanimous for co-operation, and the result will be the formation of a State confederation of gun clubs at Montclair on Oct. 12. The meeting will be addressed by Dr. A. K. Fisher, of the Biological Survey, Washington.

A shoot at which silver prizes will be given will be held in the morning. The delegates are eligible for this contest. In the evening the club will give a dinner.

WARNING FOR GIRLS.

New Market Minister Tells Them to Avoid Worldly Young Men.

In a sermon to young women, Rev. George H. Gardner, the new pastor of the New Market Baptist church, warned the girls of his congregation last night to beware of encouraging attentions of young men not identified with a church. He said marriages of church girls and worldly young men were too apt to prove unhappy.

He spoke strongly against the idea of marrying a young man to reform him. He advised the girls to let careless young men reform themselves before they trusted their lives to them.

Drove Suffering Horses.

Frank Deal, driver for F. T. Ostrom, an ice dealer, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Detective-Sergeant Flynn, for driving a team that was suffering from ugly harness galls. Mr. Ostrom said in court this morning that the driver had taken the team, a hired out, without authority. Sentence was suspended with a warning.

The October meeting of the borough council will be held Friday night, when it is expected that there will be further action regarding the sewer report.

Only 20 per cent. of the murders committed yearly in America and Europe are ever found out.

Trinity Commandery, No. 18, K. T., will hold a regular convocation tonight.

CLOSED PORTALS.

Freedom Castle, No. 12, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will hold an interesting meeting tomorrow night, when a number of out-of-town knights will be among the guests.

Franklin Council, No. 41, Jr. O. U. M., will hold an entertainment at the Casino on Thursday night, October 10. Plans for the affair will be completed at the meeting to be held Thursday night.

Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., will hold regular communications tomorrow night and Tuesday night, October 15. The master mason degree will be conferred on three candidates tomorrow night. On October 15 the district deputy, Right Worshipful John Zulauf, will make his annual visitation. The district deputy will hold lodges of instruction on the evenings of October 5 and 26 at 8 o'clock.

Funeral of Mrs. Pound.

The funeral service of Mrs. Josephine L. Pound, widow of George R. Pound, was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the Friends' meeting-house on Watchung avenue. There was a large attendance of Friends, a majority being numbered among the oldest members of the society. Henry G. Adams was the only speaker. He referred to the life and character of Mrs. Pound when she was an active member of the society. The remains were placed in the cemetery back of the meeting-house, beside those of Mrs. Pound's husband. The bearers were Charles E. Vall, Henry G. Adams, Clarence B. Vall and Ephraim M. Vall.

Football and General Sports

GOLF.

There was not a single local representative in the East Jersey Golf Association tournament held last week. Most of the crack players are busy now and others did not care to play in the tournament.

Visitors and members made up a field of more than forty in the tournament of the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association on Friday. This is an unusual number of women in a golf tournament.

TENNIS.

Miss Barbara Fleming defeated Mrs. S. F. Weaver, 6-3, 6-4, 7-5, in the finals of the women's single tennis tournament on Saturday at the Park Club.

ELKS' GAME POSTPONED.

Contest at Somerville to be Played Next Saturday—Crowd Disappointed. After turning up for the battle, the Elk nine of this city and Somerville were washed from the field before they could engage in the struggle at the Somerset county capital Saturday afternoon. The Plainfield team had had about ten minutes of practice and were beginning to feel like world's champions when the weather man turned the hose on. There was a let up in the rain after a bit and hopes of a contest revived, but the faucets were turned on full again and the flood chased the athletes to cover.

The downpour brought disappointment to a big crowd. The game will be played next Saturday, and it will be all the better for the delay, because both sides will use the time to practice.

Cannot Play Rahway This Season. Because the rain interfered with the baseball game scheduled between Clinton avenue and Rahway for Saturday afternoon at Crescent Oval, it will be impossible for these clubs to meet again this season, as Rahway has completed its schedule and is through. There was every indication of a big crowd at the oval, when the rain came down in torrents and compelled the call-off of the contest. Next Saturday Clinton Avenue will play Scotch Plain at Crescent Oval.

Other Sports News on Page Three.

Christian Endeavor Rally.

Special music was a feature of the rally service of the Christian Endeavor Society of the New Market Baptist church last night. Miss Hazel Piddington and Miss Sarah Cole sang a duet. Miss Ruth Gardner led the service.

P. H. Latourette, auctioneer, will sell the household furniture at 133 Watchung avenue tomorrow at 10 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew R. Parkhurst have leased the property at 121 West Fifth street, where they will reside.

TRAIN AND TRACK.

Heat expansion makes the rails of a 400-mile railway 340 yards longer in summer than in winter. The railway mileage of the two South African colonies, Orange River and the Transvaal, has doubled since 1898. It is now over 2,500 miles. Civil Engineer Knorre, one of the largest contractors for public works in Russia, has obtained the concession for building the Polar-Ural railroad, the project that was recently approved by the Russian commission on new railroads.

It is announced that soon a train de luxe will run daily between Tokyo and Europe. The route selected passes through Japan to Simonoseki, thence by large ferries to Fassau, in the south of Korea, through Korea to Mukden and Harbin and thence through Siberia.

STATE LINES.

There are 1,500,000,000 people in the world. They could all be set down in the State of Texas, and each person could be given one-ninth of an acre of ground on which to live.

New York has for many years been one of the few large States in which persons could marry without first securing a license. The Legislature has lately passed a law, to go into effect on January 1, making it a misdemeanor for any authorized person to solemnize a marriage unless the parties to it have first obtained a license from the proper officers.
