SALOONS IN THE FIGHT

Republicans Hear That They Are Active Throughout the County.

EMISSARIES SENT OUT

Personal Liberty Being Talked About
As An Inducement to Vote for Democratic Candidates.

Many stories of the activity of the saloonkeepers in the present political campaign have been carried to Republican headquarters of late. In Union county, if these reports are true, there is an organized effort by the saloon men and liquor interests to elect the Democratic candidates. No party in Union county has ever received such determined and undivided support from the saloonkeepers as has the Democratic party this year.

Recognizing the wisdom of the words of a Democratic speaker in Elizabeth last week, that "No man will stand for an open Sunday before his pastor," the work in behalf of this cause has been carried on very quietly by the saloonkeepers, with the real end sought always hidden behind the more alluring cry for "personal liberty."

Last year the battle for "liberal legislation" was made by the saloonkeepers openly with a blare of trumpets, but in no organized way. It is different this year. The battle cry is not "liberal legislation," but "personal freedom." It is alleged that emissaries have gone to every quarter in the county—a shrewd Italian to Berkeley Heights, a smooth-tongued Hebrew to Russian Jewish settlements, and so on. Each has said: "Look here, you came over to escape persecution, to acquire freedom, and here is the Republican party saying what you shall and shall not do on the one day you have to yourselves. Isn't it plain you must vote the Democratic ticket?"

Few of these audiences knew that the Werts law under which the present "closed Sunday" is maintained is Democratic legislation, that the bishops' law has nothing to do with the actual question of Sunday selling, and the arguments of the men who are said to be the emissaries of the saloons and liquor interests take well. So quietly have things been done that there has been little undue publicity. As one man remarked: "Still water runs deepest, so does still beer."

There has been some talk of small campaign funds on both sides. Shrewd observers declare that as far as the Democrats are concerned it has been merely a change in the handling of the money. The liquor interests, it is believed, decided to wage the fight themselves, and they have done so to the admiration and envy of many an old political fighter. Nearly every saloonkeeper is enlisted personally in the cause. The man from whom he buys bread, the butcher, the milkman, the carpenter, the painter, the baker, all have been and are being importuned to vote the Democratic ticket.

Lamp Overturns; $50 Damage.
The overturning of a lamp on the second floor of the home of Thomas Powell, colored, at 654 South Second street, resulted in an alarm of fire at 6:23 last night. With the arrival of the apparatus it was found that flames were spreading about the room but neighbors practically had them under control. One extinguisher put them out and the damage will not go over $50.

A Birthday Surprise.
Lawrence Sheelein, of Somerset street, was tendered a surprise party, last night, in honor of his birthday. Fifty friends were in attendance and enjoyed music and dancing until an early hour this morning. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Sheelein and Miss Lizzie Sheelein.

In the City Court.
In the city court this morning, sentence was suspended on Wade Jones, colored, who was mixed up in the scrap at Front and Somerset streets Saturday night. Harry Parker, who failed to put in an appearance, will be arraigned later.

Friday Night Bible Classes.
William D. Murray, chairman of the Bible study committee at the Y. M. C. A., will teach the special Bible study class to meet Friday evenings. Fifteen of the association members have joined the class, which will meet for the first Friday night.

Neuman Brothers like to cater to "hard-to-suit" fruit and vegetable buyers. They have a daily assortment that is sure to please everyone. A fine lot of apples as a specialty tomorrow.

The women of the First Presbyterian church will hold an all-day sewing meeting on Thursday in the chapel.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS ORGANIZE NEXT SATURDAY

Charles W. Rice, supreme traveling representative, will arrive in Plainfield Thursday morning to arrange for the institution of Plainfield Council, No. 402, United Commercial Travelers of America, and the Grand Lodge of New Jersey and Delaware to take place on Saturday afternoon and night in Knights of Columbus hall. The local branch will be instituted in the afternoon and the grand lodge at night.

Thus far twenty-six charter members have been secured for Plainfield Council and this list will be increased by several additional members before the time of institution. There will be present representatives of the order from Trenton, Camden and Brooklyn, while the supreme councillor of Louisville, Ky., will take an important part in the ceremonies.

This will be the last grand lodge to be instituted as all of the States except New Jersey and Delaware have similar organizations, with a membership of many thousands. Frank Weed, of the borough, has been especially active in the formation of Plainfield Council and the grand lodge, for he has been a member of the organization for several years and was anxious to have Plainfield as well as the states of New Jersey and Delaware represented.

RARITAN MURDERER GETS DEATH SENTENCE

That crime among the Italian element of Somerset county has increased to an alarming extent was evidenced yesterday, when three Italians were arraigned for sentence in the Somerset Court at Somerville. They had been convicted of murder and attempted murder. Raverio Di Giovanni, who killed Joseph Sansome, a barber, in Raritan, on the night of September 22, was sentenced by Justice James J. Bergen to be electrocuted in the New Jersey State Prison on December 9.

Di Giovanni, who received his sentence through an interpreter, became greatly excited and talked back to the court. He was subdued with difficulty and removed to the county jail.

Di Giovanni's crime was one of the most deliberate and cold-blooded in the history of the county. He stood over his victim and discharged a number of shots at his body after the victim was dead.

Joseph Cingilo, who attempted to murder James Ryan, a foreman of the Raritan woolen mill, several weeks ago, was sentenced by Judge Lewis H. Schenck to serve twelve years in the State Prison. Cingilo attempted to take Ryan's life while he was on his way to his home from the mill. He had quarreled with Ryan over a matter of wages at the mill, and threatened to "do" him outside.

He placed a revolver against Ryan's chest, but the latter was too quick for him and turned the weapon down. In the struggle which followed the bullet entered Ryan's leg and crippled him for life. Cingilo was also sentenced to one year in the State Prison for carrying a concealed weapon. The prisoner made a demonstration in court and denounced the judge for the sentence.

Salvatore Sferra, who stabbed a fellow-workman in the Bound Brook Woolen Mills eleven times in the body, was sentenced by Judge Schenck to serve four years in State Prison. Sferra's victim was in the Somerset Hospital at the point of death for a week, but finally recovered.

Sferra's sentence was comparatively light, because he had been attacked by his fellow-workman, and had a young wife and infant child, who depended on him for support.

Clue to Possible Hold Up.
The borough police are holding a tan leather satchel at headquarters awaiting its identification. The bag was found on Watchung avenue near Chatham street early Sunday morning by Marshals Pope and Kiernan. It was slashed from end to end, evidently by a razor, and near it in the road were found a pair of trousers and a pair of socks. There were marks of a scuffle in the roadway and gutter. The police believe that it may have been a hold-up, but nothing has been reported as yet.

Only a Few Tickets Left.
Nearly all of the tickets for the song recital to be given by Miss Grace Carroll at the Casino, Friday night, have been sold. A few remaining tickets have been placed on sale at Armstrong's drug store at Park and North avenues.

All bills against the city must be in the hands of the city clerk by Wednesday night in order to insure payment at the regular monthly meeting.

GRAND JURY WILL DECIDE

John Consoli, Whose Store
Was Raided Sunday, Must Go to Somerville.

LIQUOR SOLD THERE

Four Men Arrested in Raid Testify
That There Was Whiskey, Beer and Hard Cider for Sale.

Chief Marshal Weiss, of the borough police force, will secure a warrant to compel John Consoli, the Italian whose fruit store on Somerset street was raided by the police Sunday afternoon, to appear before the grand jury at Somerville on the charge of running a "speak easy." The man was given a hearing last night, together with the four intoxicated men arrested in the place, and Borough Recorder Charles M. Dolliver fined him $15 for disorderly conduct and disturbing the peace. It remains for the higher court to confront him with the charge of illegal selling of liquor on Sunday without a license.

Sheridan Jones, George Haymaker, Ben Potts and Harry Gulick, the four men arrested in the raid, were brought before the recorder last night on a disorderly charge. Jones was fined $5 and Haymaker $3. Haymaker paid, but Jones is still in a borough cell, "awaiting remittance." In connection with the hearing last night, much testimony was secured from the four men arrested in the place which will strengthen the "speak easy" case, and the men will be subject to summonses to appear as witnesses when Consoli appears before the Somerville jury.

Jones and Haymaker acknowledged that they had bought hard cider from Consoli in the store on Sunday, and Potts and Gulick, who were only arrested as witnesses, affirmed that there was a big supply of beer, and whiskey in the store. It is alleged that the store had been open Sundays for several months past and that there was a certain bunch of rounders who got liquor there on the quiet as a regular thing. Chief Weiss will make his complaint to the grand jury this week and Consoli will probably be arrested again on the "speak easy" charge and bonded over to await trial.

ARRANGED ELECTION DETAILS.

Other Business Transacted at Meeting of Republican City Committee.

The City Republican Executive Committee met at the Casino last night to perfect details for the election on November 5. Business chiefly of a routine nature was considered. Another meeting of the committee will be held on Monday night to transact any business that may come up.

The finance committee, Councilman R. I. Tolles, chairman; R. Henry Dewey, Duncan W. Taylor and Councilman Herbert Buxton, has caused an appeal to be issued for funds with which to conduct the election. The appeal states "that the city executive committee has delayed its usual request for funds to defray the expenses of the campaign in order to allow every one to become familiar with the issues and to determine on which side he wishes to be counted. Money is now imperatively needed to defray the expenses already incurred and those incident to sending tickets this week and manning the polls on election day."

Those sending checks should make them payable to William R. Townsend, treasurer.

Out On False Alarm.

The borough fire department had a run to West End avenue in the rain this morning because a bonfire burning in a shed looked like a conflagration to a passer-by. Somebody phoned headquarters at shortly after 10 o'clock with the report that the barn at the old Cadmus homestead was in flames. The department made a quick run, but on arriving found that some Italian laborers, whom the rain had driven to shelter, had a fire burning on the dirt floor of the place and the smoke pouring from the crevices of the old building had roused the alarm.

Piled Lumber on Corner.
Ralph Bullman was haled before Borough Recorder Dolliver last night on a complaint from residents on Grandview avenue near Verdon street. He had been warned to remove an unsightly pile of lumber from the street corner where it has been for several days and the judge fined him $2 to make him hurry up.

New Brunswick Drunk in Borough.
John Ward, who hales from New Brunswick, was brought before Borough Recorder Dolliver today on a drunk and disorderly charge. Marshal Kellar arrested him on Somerset street last night in a helpless condition from too free use of liquor. Sentence was suspended and the man sent home.

ROOFING COMPANY ASKS $5,000 DAMAGES

The case of the Commonwealth Roofing Company, of Jersey City, against Walter G. Clawson & Brother, mason contractors, of Dunellen, is being tried in the Union County Court, today. The suits is for $5,000 damages. G. W. V. Moy represents the complainants and Charles P. Cowenhoven the defendants.

The action is the result of a contract which the Commonwealth Roofing Company sublet to Walter G. Clawson & Brother for mason work in the construction of the Mono Investment Company building in this city. The company claims that the work was not progressing as it should and that the defendants were told that unless they put more men at work and hastened the contract it would do the work itself and charge the same to them. The defendants, it is said, hurried the work, which afterward did not prove satisfactory, hence the suit to recover damages.

The case will be on all day and a verdict is not expected before late this afternoon.

FORMER PLAINFIELDER GETS HIGH APPOINTMENT

Recent papers of Augusta, Ga., announce the appointment of Orville T. Waring, formerly of this city, to the position of Assistant Superintendent of the Charleston and Western Carolina Railroad. His many friends in Plainfield will be pleased to learn of this new honor which has just been awarded to him. This young man was a Plainfield boy, a graduate of Mr. Leal's school and then of the University of Pennsylvania, where he became a civil engineer. Since that time he has been connected with railroads in the South, and for a year or more has been stationed at Augusta. He soon gained a reputation for sterling ability and willingness to work and was recognized as one of the most valuable men in the employ of the road. He will take office November 1, when he will be next in rank to General Superintendent Lynch.

The same papers make further announcement of the approaching marriage of Mr. Waring which will take place in Augusta on Thursday, December 12 next. The young woman is Miss Timberlake, of that city. It is said that no engagement of recent years has awakened in Augusta more interest than that of Miss Timberlake. She represents one of the leading families of the State and city, and is most deservedly popular. On the happy occasion the best man will be Edward H. Waring, of Orange, the groom's brother.

NEW SCHOOL CALENDAR FOR BOROUGH PUPILS

Superintendent Henry C. Krebs, of the borough schools, announced the school calendar for the term at the meeting of the North Plainfield Board of Education last night. This calendar has been made up after consultation with Superintendent Henry M. Maxson and Principal Ira W. Travell of the city schools, and shows the various holidays and vacations of the present school year. The calendar as announced is as follows:

Tuesday, November 5, Election Day; Thursday, November 29, and Friday, November 29, Thanksgiving holidays; Friday, December 20, schools close for the Christmas vacation; Monday, January 6, schools re-open after Christmas vacation; Wednesday, February 12, Lincoln's birthday; Thursday, April 16, schools close for the Easter vacation; Monday, April 27, schools re-open after Easter vacation; Friday, June 19, commencement day; Tuesday, September 15, schools re-open after summer vacation for 1908-09 term.

The fact that there will be no teachers' institute meetings during this current school year will take three days vacation from the local pupils. Washington's birthday and Decoration day fall on Saturdays, so there will be no special holiday for them this year. Good Friday being a legal holiday in this State now, the schools will close for Easter vacation with the session on Thursday, April 16; Easter falls on April 19.

The total number of school days on which there will be sessions this school year is 185. This is five more than there were last year. Though school opened Tuesday, September 10 this year, it will open for the fall term next year Tuesday, September 15, so as to have the work begin about the second week in the month.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Denbar, of Craig place, have moved to their new home at Union street and Arlington avenue.

The speakers of the evening will be Hon. John W. Griggs, Alfred N. Barber, of Trenton, leader of the Republican minority of the Assembly last winter; Assemblyman W. W. Smalley, of Bound Brook, and State Senator Joseph T. Frelinghuysen. In addition the candidates on the county ticket will represent and may have a few words to say. Seats will be reserved for women and a cordial invitation is given to every body in Plainfield and North Plainfield to attend the meeting.

After a half hour's deliberation the jury in the cases of Samuel Obolsky and Julius Velinsky, of this city, against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, came in yesterday afternoon returning a verdict of $100 for Obolsky and $500 for Velinsky. The case was tried before Judge Vail in the Circuit Court, Elizabeth. William Newcorn, of this city, represented the complainants.

BOROUGHITE - WEDS BROOKLYN YOUNG WOMAN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at 432 Grand avenue, Brooklyn, when Miss Harriet Edna Pate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pate, became the bride of Weston Williams, of the borough. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock, the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton, of the Clinton Avenue Congregational church, officiating.

The bride, who looked very pretty, wore an elaborate gown of white messaline silk, trimmed with duchesse lace. Her tulle veil was fastened with natural orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Arthur A. Hassell, of Brooklyn, was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel S. Linsley and Miss Hazel Church, both of Brooklyn. The ushers were Messrs. Fred Weston, George Weston, both of Manhattan, and who are cousins of the groom, and Paul McKinney, of Brooklyn. Everett Broughton was the best man.

A reception followed the ceremony in which were attended by relatives and intimate friends only. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in Plainfield.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT TIMBO CLUB'S BALL

The Timbo Social Club came to the fore as an entertaining organization once more, last night, when it conducted its fifth annual reception and ball in Saengerbund Hall. All previous efforts were outdone, both in point of attendance and enjoyable features and the affair stands as a record for the season. At one time there were fully 500 people in the building and the greater part of the crowd remained until an early hour this morning.

Suhr's Imperial orchestra furnished music for the dancing and the scores of couples were kept in shape by Rudolph Kampf as general floor manager and Fred Moore assistant. In the early part of the evening the floor capacity was crowded and their capable directing was greatly appreciated.

In the way of novelty for the ball, The Timbo Troubadours, made up of local artists, gave a complete minstrel first part on the big stage, beginning at 10 o'clock. Joseph C. Martin was in the center as interlocutor and the end men were Harry Edm. Harry Roberts, Tom Muir and Fred Miller, of this city, and "Bob" Swart, of Elizabeth. The show lasted an hour and went with a swing that kept the audience in good humor the entire time. "Bob" Swart was accorded a "big hand" when he was announced and got three encores with his song, "The bee that gets the honey, doesn't hang around the hive."

The committee which arranged and had charge of the affair comprised Erwin V. Neighbor, chairman; William Doud, Frank Schuck, Eddie Bellis, Tom Fay, B. C. Firstbrook and Alvin Wagner.

A Fiftieth Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Camp, parents of George and L. B. Van Camp, of this city, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, yesterday, by entertaining their children and grandchildren at their beautiful home, Maplehurst, South Branch. Mr. and Mrs. Van Camp were married at Somerville, October 28, 1857, by Rev. Dr. Mesick. They were the recipients of some handsome presents. Congratulations were received after which a dinner was served and all enjoyed a pleasant day together.

NOMINEE FORT INVADES UNION

Republicans' Gubernatorial Candidate Frankly Tells Plainfield Voters What
He Will do if Elected.

FIGHTS ON PRINCIPLE

Reiterates His Advocacy of the
Bishops Bill—Says Days of Partisanship Are Gone.

Stopping at Plainfield for luncheon shortly after noon today, J. Franklin Fort, the Republican gubernatorial candidate, who was making a whirlwind trip through Union county, made a tour of the city, visiting the Ford Machine Tool Company's plant and other places of interest. At 2 o'clock he addressed a big crowd of voters at Second street and Park avenue. Mr. Fort was introduced by State Senator Ackerman and gave a five minutes ginger talk on the issues of the campaign. He said incidentally: "I have been traveling through the State talking to the people in a frank sort of a way. And I tell you I don't want any man's vote unless he believes that in voting for me he is voting for the best interests of the State. I don't want his vote simply because I am a Republican. I believe in principles. What's best for the State is what you want to consider. Every man in America is a sovereign. We have a kingship and it is the right to vote that makes a man a king in America. I believe in independence of conscience. If elected I will support the Bishops' bill and I want you to know that right now so that you won't make any mistake when you cast your vote."

"I believe in morality, good government and decency in public affairs. I would rather be defeated on principles than be elected on a platform that I didn't believe in and was dishonest to the people. You'll have good government if I have anything to do with it. Days of partisan politics are gone. I want my Republican friends to know that simply so that they will not be disappointed if they elect me governor. I told them that before I was nominated. That was political heresy in days gone by. But they took me as a venture and if you elect me I'll keep every promise I have made to the people. I am a Republican but not a partisan."

Judge Fort said that he believes that a bossed vote is as bad as a bought vote, and that he did not want either one. He declared that he would not approve of any measure simply because it might be a Republican measure. To receive his endorsement such a measure must be shown to be good to both the Democrats and Republicans alike, and therefore good for all the people of the State.

The caravan was a half hour late in leaving Elizabeth, the start being made from the Dix building, the Republican County Committee's headquarters, at 9:30. The campaigners occupied nine automobiles and in the party were County Chairman Frank H. Smith; State Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, Assembly Candidate Carlton B. Pierce, former Sheriff B. Frank Coriell, District Court Judge William Newcorn, Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., Councilman Herbert Buxton, former Mayor James F. Buckle, former City Judge William R. Codington, Sheriff William Lawrence, County Clerk James Calvert, William R. Townsend and Charles S. Smineck and Assembly Candidates John R. Moxon and A. F. Kirstein.

When the spellbinders arrived at Looker's store in Lyons' Farm, a score or more of voters were there to greet Judge Fort. Despite the down-pour, the party was in a merry mood but the nominee confined himself to shaking hands, considering it unwise to speak in the rain.

After a few minutes rest the campaigners resumed their tour, stopping next at Meeker's Inn, in Union, where Eugene O'Reilly, formerly of this city, was on hand with Freeholder Mizell to welcome the spellbinders. At Springfield (two score of voters were awaiting the candidate and his friends and the game was true at Mountainside, where a short stop was made at John Klopp's hotel.

Retracing their steps, the campaigners put out for Summit where they were greeted by a big crowd of voters.

Stars and Storms.

Most people suppose that when the stars appear to lose their liveliness of light and shine without twinkling, as minute bright points in the sky, fair weather is in prospect. Studies lately made in this country seem to contradict this popular belief. It has been found that when the stars are feeble in their scintillations foul weather is at hand. The night before a most violent storm in the south, for instance, the stars hung so quietly in the sky that they seemed to have entirely lost their scintillating power. This is said to be only one instance among many which show that an unusual steadiness in the light of the stars precedes the appearance of storms.—Minneapolis Journal.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY BY THE LEGISLATURE OF 1907.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, NO. 1.

BE IT RESOLVED (the House of Assembly concurring), That the following amendment to the constitution of this State be and the same is hereby proposed, and when the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to the Senate and House of Assembly, the said amendment shall be entered on their journals, with the yeas and nays thereon, and referred to the Legislature next to be chosen, and published for three months prior to the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November next in at least one newspaper of each county, to be designated by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Assembly and the Secretary of State.

Strike out the proviso in section three of article four, and insert in place thereof the following:

The Legislature shall, in the year one thousand nine hundred and nine, and at its first session after each United States decennial census thereafter, and not oftener, divide and arrange the counties of this State into districts for the election therein of members of the General Assembly. Each assembly district so constituted shall contain, as nearly as practicable, an equal number of inhabitants, and shall consist of contiguous and contiguous territory. In a compact form, provided that each county shall, at all times, be entitled to at least one member, and the whole number of members to be chosen shall never exceed sixty.

The Court of Errors and Appeals is hereby invested with exclusive original jurisdiction and with full power under such procedure as it may by rules prescribe to review any division and arrangement made by the Legislature into assembly districts of the counties of this State, for the purpose of determining whether such arrangement and division or any part thereof is in accordance or in conflict with this section, and if in conflict herewith, to adjust the same, or such part thereof as may be in conflict herewith, null and void. In case said court shall determine such arrangement and division, or any part thereof, to be null and void, the Legislature shall proceed to make a new arrangement and division, entire or partial, as the action of the court may require.

One of our clients owed $48 between four people. His salary is $14 weekly; rent $12 monthly. To have paid $2 weekly to each creditor, combined with rent, would have left only $2 per week to most expenses, buy clothing, etc.—an impossibility you will agree. He borrowed $50, paid all his creditors, made his future credit good, if ever needed; pays his rent, the loan payments, and has $9 each week to use as his judgment dictates.

The borough board of registry is in session this afternoon and evening revising the voting list and adding the names of new voters. Leading local politicians of both factions are stirring up the voters to go to the borough building and register in order that as large a vote as possible may be polled election day—a week from today. Everybody is looking for one of the closets of election contests, though there seems to be a slight advantage for the Republicans. Katzenbach's visit here last week and his enthusiastic reception has boomed Democracy and the friends of Harry Swackhammer, the Democratic candidate, affirm that "you won't be able to tell till the votes are all counted." Boroughites are taking more interest in State as well as local politics than last year.

Miss Ethel Garretson entertained about a score of her co-workers in the Presbyterian church society at her home on Front street Saturday night. The evening was spent playing progressive whist and euchre and later refreshments were served.

PLAINS AND FAWOOD.

The funeral of Miss Mary Osborn Hayes, held yesterday afternoon at her late home, was largely attended. Rev. James S. Broker, of Lynn, Mass., had charge of the service, being assisted by Rev. T. Moore-Smith, pastor of the Baptist church, of which the deceased had been a member and active worker in for a number of years. Neither pastor or former pastor selected a special text for their remarks, each speaking of the Christian life and the patient suffering of the one who had gone to her reward. The floral display was handsome and included besides a number of set pieces from relatives, pieces from the choir, the Ladies' Circle, the B. Y. P. U. and the Farther Light Society of the church. Miss Hayes had been associated with the church organizations since their organization. During the service several selections were rendered, by Charles L. Lewis, of Plainfield, one "Across the Bar," being a special favorite of the deceased. Interment was made in the family plot in Fairview cemetery, Westfield.

SPORTS HERE AND THERE

FOOTBALL.

Coach Smith of Fordham has at last been able to develop what his eleven has felt the need of for weeks past, a consistent line smasher. After weeks of coaching Coffey has been taught to make ten and twenty yards straight through the opposing guards.

With Pullen back in the Army line, West Point now has one of the strongest and highest lines in the country. Pullen was injured in the Princeton game last year, but is now almost entirely recovered.

In Regan, Miller and Garrison, the Pennsylvania coaches have three men who can run a team from the quarter-back position, and in case of an accident the "Varsity" will not be in the position it was last year.

Linton, the Captain of the College of the City of New York team, is back in his old position on the left of the line. His ankle still bothers him, but he expects to be all right by the end of the week.

The new rule governing the forward pass is not working out to please the rule makers, and a return may be made to last year's provision.

McCrohan, the former Holy Cross player, now at Princeton, but ineligible for the "Varsity," is the best all-round player on the "Tigers" and eleven.

G. N. Young, Cornell's old quarterback, whose goal from the field beat the "Tigers" in 1899, has joined the graduate coaching staff at Ithaca.

Not a Navy man was hurt in the game with Harvard, and the team at Cambridge did not sustain an injury, according to Dr. Nichols and Taitner Donovan of Harvard.

Coach H. L. Williams, of Minnesota, the other day would not allow Ekerell to watch the Minnesota practice because he formerly was captain of the University of Chicago.

The Western Pennsylvania players all wear jerseys with bright numbers woven in the backs, which have proved a successful method of helping the spectators to keep a run of the play.

Some coaches take it for granted that it is impossible for any straight forward offense to gain ten yards, and are not making any desperate effort to conceive some sort of an attack that will.

Young, the New York University tackle, has injured many men on his own team by his vicious tackling practice. He has been advised to restrain himself when playing against the scrubs.

Lafayette, which periodically turns out a great team, is on hand this year with another fast eleven, and one which will make a good showing in its games with the bigger colleges it is scheduled to meet.

The preliminary training table at Memorial Hall, Cambridge, was a satisfactory experiment for the Harvard management. The second team will remain at Memorial hall, while the "Varsity" training table has been taken to Union hall.

Tommy Fennell, Cornell, 1896, whose Penn State College team defeated the Ithacans, is now aiding the coaches on Percy Field. He has not coached at Cornell for seven years, being bitterly opposed to the Warner regime—but now the hatchet has been buried.

PROCLAMATION BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

President Roosevelt's proclamation naming November 28 as a day for national thanksgiving is as follows:

Once again the season of the year has come when in accordance with the custom of our forefathers for generations past, the President appoints a day as the especial occasion for all our people to give praise and thanksgiving to God.

During the past year we have been free from famine, from pestilence, from war. We are at peace with all the rest of mankind. Our national resources are as great as those of any other nation. We believe that in ability to develop and take advantage of these resources the average man of this nation stands at least as high as the average man of any other. Nowhere else in the world is there such an opportunity for a free people to develop to the fullest extent all its powers of body, of mind and of that which stands above both body and mind—character.

Much has been given us from on high and much will rightly be expected of us in return. Into our care the ten talents have been entrusted, and we are to be pardoned neither if we squander and waste them nor yet if we hide them in a napkin, for they must be fruitful in our hands. Ever throughout the ages, at all times and among all peoples, prosperity has been fraught with danger, and it behooves us to beseech the Giver of All Things that we may not fall into love of ease and of luxury; that we may not lose our sense of moral responsibility; that we may not forget our duty to God and to our neighbor.

A great democracy like ours, a democracy based upon the principles of orderly liberty, can be perpetuated only if in the heart of the ordinary citizen there dwells a keen sense of righteousness and justice. We should earnestly pray that this spirit of righteousness and justice may grow ever greater in the hearts of all of us, and that our souls may be inclined evermore both toward the virtues that tell for gentleness and tenderness, for loving kindness and forbearance one with another, and toward those no less necessary virtues that make for manliness and rugged hardihood, for without these qualities neither nation nor individual can rise to the level of greatness.

Now, therefore, I, Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, do set apart Thursday, the 28th day of November, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, and on that day I recommend that the people shall cease from their daily work, and in their homes or in their churches meet devoutly to thank the Almighty for the many and great blessings they have received in the past and to pray that they may be given the strength so to order their lives as to deserve a continuation of these blessings in the future.

THE FORUM.

Editor The Daily Press:

I have recently noticed in your paper a series of references to Senator Frelinghuysen dealing with the petition of three hundred intelligent and representative voters of Somerset county, asking for the removal of the voting machines. The Senator evidently finds that he has insulted the voters of his county by ignoring the wishes of the voters represented in the petition and by treating a large number of them as unworthy of consideration and denouncing them as Italians and Hungarians in order to take the sting from this unjustifiable and offensive reflection, the Senator according to your paper denies that he so characterized the signers. The fact is, that he not only made the assertion but undertook to prove it by pointing to a name on the petition and asking me if that wasn't an Italian name. I told him it was not. Had there been, I can see no reason why the Italians and Hungarians, if citizens of the State, should not be recognized by Senator Frelinghuysen as a part of his constituency worthy of fair treatment.

Whether the Senator referred to the petition as I have above stated, or whether he did not, as he asserts, is a question for the people of this county to decide for themselves.

Again we are apprised of the startling fact that the Senator has ascertained that only three hundred (300) of the fourteen hundred (1400) voters favored the old way of casting ballots and that the majority of "intelligent" voters coincide with his views as to the purity of the ballot attained by the use of the machines. The Senator must surely have had seven league boots to canvass this vast political field and get the personal views of the remaining eleven hundred (1100) "intelligent" voters, for surely he would not undertake to try to mislead the public by giving a result like that and state it as a solemn fact. He has either had the boots or is empowered with ubiquity. Not so, the Senator is too astute a politician and too rare a diplomat to make a statement the truth of which he has not verified.

It is further asserted that after weeks of systematic effort I succeeded in getting some three hundred (300) names, now the Senator must have gone carefully into this fact also, for he would not make a random statement like that and try to get the people with him by that means unless he knew it to be so, but has he more than the five senses as his guide? It seems strange that the Senator not being here should know more about it than I, who had the matter in charge. What I know about it, that no systematic effort was made to secure signers but that it was done in the most desultory way by placing the petition in two stores and presenting it occasionally to persons on the street whom I chanced to meet, but this unsystematic method succeeded in securing three hundred (300) names to the petition, and not more than six (6) of the citizens to whom it was presented withheld their names. On that basis it is apparent that only about thirty (30) out of the fifteen hundred (1500) voters in the borough are willing to take no active steps against the machines, but that the 1,470 voters are against them. But what does this signify when the Senator is in a position where his power is greater than that ever wielded by Julius Caesar, where he can say to his constituents though you have to pay for these machines, and though they are hateful to you, and through them many are disfranchised, they suit me and my party, and in the language of Louis the 14th, "I am the State." If the voters of Somerset county are satisfied with this state of affairs it is no doubt will continue, but the remedy, if they want a remedy, lies in the ballot box.

MISSED ALTAR: GOT IN JAIL.

Booze for Wedding Guests Too Tempting for Young Farmer.

Trenton, Oct. 29.—Charles T. Weisel, a Plainsboro farmhand, came to Trenton yesterday to be married, but got arrested instead and spent the night in the First District police station, where he was this morning fined $5 for being drunk and disorderly.

He admitted that he was guilty as charged by the officer who arrested him, but excused himself by saying he would not have been in that condition except for his desire to sample a big bottle of liquor he had secured for the use of the wedding guests. The liquor tasted so good that he drank liberally and his arrest was the result. He gallantly refused to give the name of the girl he was to have married. He paid his fine and left the court, expressing the hope that he could "square" himself with the girl.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS AN ADJOURNED SESSION

Principally for the purpose of paying some bills and incidentally to transact some business of minor importance, an adjourned meeting of the Common Council was held last night. There were eight members present and the session was not a long one.

Miss A. E. Lincoln complained about what she called the disgraceful condition of West Fourth street, where she said the dust at times is almost unbearable. She said that the thoroughfare is infrequently sprinkled in certain places, while in others it is soaked with water, making it very muddy. She also said that the attention of the health inspector and city engineer had been called to a heap of garbage which had been allowed to remain on a property close to her residence, but that nothing had been done with it. The complaint was referred to the street committee.

The complaint of Mrs. E. P. Williams, of West Seventh street and Darrow avenue, regarding a tax matter, which was presented at the last meeting, was considered and her offer to settle the bill for $77.29 was accepted upon the motion offered by Mr. Tolles. Mrs. Williams had paid a tax for a frontage on West Seventh street, and an additional tax, making about $112, had been imposed upon the residue of the property. Investigation had shown that the city would have some difficulty in substantiating its claim and upon the advice of Corporation Counsel Marsh the Common Council decided to accept her offer.

H. W. Dunham and others petitioned to have an ordinance adopted providing for the vacating and closing of Hill street, sometimes known as Hill avenue. The petition was signed by all the property-owners interested. It was referred to the street committee.

In response to a request from the Common Council, the Shade Tree Commission reported that the trees on Putnam and Kensington avenues and streets in the vicinity have been trimmed. The commission was asked to have this work attended to at a previous meeting, the purpose being to make the electric lights on those thoroughfares more effective.

A resolution offered by Mr. Gloak and adopted, authorized the city engineer to have sidewalks laid in front of certain properties throughout the city and to effect a lien on the property for the payment of the work. Another resolution by Mr. Gloak and adopted, authorized the borrowing of $600 for the maintenance of the sewage disposal works, there not being sufficient funds on hand for the work. Mr. Montgomery offered motions granting the petition of Mrs. E. S. Hyatt for an electric light on East Ninth street, between First place and Watching avenue, and one on Lyman place, between Astor place and West Third street. Mr. Tyler voted no on the petition for a light on Lyman place.

In speaking of the light question after the meeting, Mr. Montgomery said that while considerable opposition had been made to his efforts to increase the number of lights throughout the city, he had not used all the money appropriated to his department, in fact he was well within the amount. This year $14,000 was appropriated as against $14,500 last year.

Henry L. Hall, of Netherwood, left this morning for Washington, where he will meet Secretary of the Treasury George B. Cortelyou for a conference regarding some business affairs.

New York city society notes announce that at the marriage of Miss Alice Birney Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Harry Fowler Woods, of Cincinnati, will be the best man, and H. AFTERNOON SCHOOL WORKS WELL IN THE BOROUGH

"The afternoon sessions in the borough schools are proving a great success," said Superintendent Krebs, of the North Plainfield schools, at the meeting of the Borough Board of Education held last night. "I have consulted with the various teachers and I find that nobody has any fault to find with them, while many are enthusiastic. The afternoon session helps the individual pupil, we find, for it forms a period when a pupil can return for personal consultation with his teacher or explanation of some point of the morning's classes. Thus time is saved in the class room, and explanations can be given more clearly to a pupil who meets the teacher in the afternoon."

"About 150 pupils come back in the afternoon, and this is about a third of our present enrollment. Another good feature of the two session scheme is that many of the pupils look upon it as a penalty or punishment, and do better work at the morning session so as not to be obliged to return after luncheon. I find that as a result of the adoption of the system the grade of work in all the classes has been raised, and I think I may attribute it to this feeling on the part of the pupils."

This report on the afternoon session was asked for by President James R. Joy, of the Borough Board, because of the general discussion these extra sessions have aroused among some of the parents.

The Board meeting was a short one last night and routine business was dealt with summarily. Bills to the amount of $3,802.14 were ordered paid, $3,377.86 of which were from the general fund and the rest in connection with the manual training building. District Clerk Albert Steiner reported a small balance. Discussion of various matters relative to the manual training department occupied the rest of the time before the Board went into executive session. Messrs. Laing, Miller and Nichols were not present at the meeting.

NOMINEE FORT IN UNION

citizens. Postmaster Jones and Ruford B. Franklin were on hand and after a lot of handshaking, the nominee was led by the band to the town hall where he made a speech.

After being introduced by Mr. Franklin, Mr. Fort referred to the fact that the enthusiastic reception tendered him at Summit was similar to those extended daily in his three weeks tour. He said he had received the same ovation everywhere. Referring to the weather, he declared that although the day was rather dark, he was sanguine that the sun would soon appear as bright as his election as his chances for election would be.

"There are very few issues in this campaign," said the nominee, "but the people expect the candidate to come out like men and tell where they stand on those issues. The voters can demand manliness in this campaign." Dwelling on Republican reforms, the nominee pointed out that the people would no longer be compelled to vote for delegates, but could cast their ballots direct for those who sought office. He said the day was past for political deception and the situation required many statements regarding views on the current political issues. The prediction was made by him that the next time the people of New Jersey would choose a United States Senator it would be by their direct vote and his declaration was received with marked enthusiasm. "The next United States Senator will be elected by the people," said he and the hall rang with applause.

After dwelling on the beauties of New Jersey and its great resources as well as its extraordinary prosperity, the candidate called the attention of his audience to the unusual growth of the State in the last decade, in which the Republican party has been in power. Ten years ago he said that he campaigned for former Governor John W. Griggs and then asked the crowd to recollect what great prosperity had come to pass since that time. "If you expect to continue to grow, you must have good government," he declared, pointing out that that could come only through the Republican party.

When the Republicans came into power ten years ago, he said, there was a deficit of $400,000. Money had been borrowed from the school fund to pay the State's current expenses under Democratic rule, but the speaker added that he did not intend to make any reflections on the Democrats in this connection. Since then he said there has been $3,500,000 idle in the State treasury. The Legislature passed a law to use the surplus for school purposes. From the Perkins law, there is due this year $2,500,000 and as this was tied up until the highest court could confirm the decision already obtained the amount would be forthcoming next year in addition to what will be due for next year, making $6,000,000 in all. "What reason is there for a change?" he asked.

"I want to tell you that I stand for the Bishops' bill in its present form," he shouted, and the applause was deafening. "The American people will never sacrifice their Sabbath;

they stand for the Bishops' law!"

In conclusion, Mr. Fort said he did not ask for votes simply because he was a Republican but that if the voters thought that he would do what was right, he would be glad to be their servant.

Again returning to their cars, the campaigners made for New Providence, where a few minutes were spent handshaking. When Berkeley Heights was reached William Jeffery and about fifty other voters were ready to welcome the candidate. On the way to Scotch Plains, the Jeffery estate was passed. There his six sons—the bungalow boys—had raised a banner and an American flag in honor of Judge Fort's visit. The Berkeley Heights school children cheered the nominee as he passed by. Plainfield was reached after a fifteen minute stop had been made at Scotch Plains. At the Plains, Dr. G. W. Westcott, Charles Sheelen and others formed the reception committee.

After leaving Plainfield, Judge Fort's party made for Westfield, where he spoke to a large crowd. The tourists then headed for Garwood and from there went to Cranford, Kenilworth and Roselle, the nominee making brief addresses at each place.

Drillmakers Laid Off.

Stewartsville, Oct. 29.—The large plant of the Ingersoll-Rand Drill Company, near here, has given further evidence of a depression in its business. The 2,500 men employed in the various departments are now only working five days, or fifty hours, per week. A large number of the employees were laid off. It is not stated how long the new order will remain in force, but it is thought that the short-time rule will be maintained until the first of the new year.

NEWS IN THE SUBURBS.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD.

Very little farming is carried on to any extent in this vicinity, and the farmers who once attended Farmers' Institute have long since passed away. John Geary and Thomas Saverd still continue to do a large trucking business, but the help is hard to get, and incompetent at that, so that many times they are almost tempted to give up farming in despair. All the farmers along Plainfield avenue have either given up farming, died or moved away. Mr. Meeker made the first break, followed by Mr. Quinn. Mr. Forte died. Mr. Jones has sold his farm, and Joel Manning has rented his farm and will shortly remove to Plainfield.

The recent heavy rain has filled the lakes to almost overflowing. It was necessary to raise the gates to prevent the water doing much damage.

Prayer service will be held this evening at 7.45. The pastor will speak upon the topic, "The Unmerciful Servant."

Great preparations are now in progress for the firemen's ball to be held on Election eve.

A Democratic mass meeting will be held in Washington hall on Friday evening.

GOTHAM'S AMUSEMENTS

"Lola from Berlin," the new successful music play by John J. McNally, William Jerome and Jean Schwartz, in which Klaw & Erlanger present Miss Lulu Glaser and company, including Ralph C. Herz, at the Grand, for one week beginning last night, is a distinct departure for both star and authors. It will introduce Miss Glaser in a quaintly humorous character part with a German dialect, and in constructing the piece is held strictly within the boundaries of legitimate comedy lines. The play will tell a delightful little story, simple, but very interesting. It will be staged in three acts, and in addition to this, seven musical numbers will be rendered, which consistently belong to the situations in which they are placed. Klaw & Erlanger have given the new piece a most elaborate production and in addition to a cast of notable principals, will present a chorus of the prettiest girls imaginable, who will appear with Miss Glaser in the several musical numbers.

Klaw & Erlanger's production of "The Round Up," which was transferred to the Broadway theatre a week ago last Monday evening, began the third week of its run at this house last night. This is the greatest dramatic hit of the season in New York. Its remarkable success shows the desire of the theatre-going public for strong plays of genuine human interest. That it meets this demand is the secret of its phenomenal public favor. The Indian battle in the third act is the greatest feature of this kind ever presented on the stage and far surpasses in thrilling realism the battle scenes in all plays in American stage history. The scene is a wonderfully graphic stage picture and is a photographically true representation of the bad lands of Arizona. The opening incident in this act is the appearance of sixteen mounted Apache Indians moving along a cliff on the mountain. This is a thrill in itself, the Indians appearing riding on a ledge of rock at least thirty feet above the stage level. The matinee performances Wednesday and Saturday afternoons are largely attended by women and children who greatly enjoy the wild west scenes, the bucking horses and the battle.

Henry Miller is making arrangements to send Henry Woodruff in "Brown of Harvard," the "original college play," to London next summer. By then Mr. Woodruff will have appeared in this lively and sparkling comedy three seasons, during which time he will have presented it in every principal American city from coast to coast and from the lakes to the gulf. Gaston Mayer, who controls the Adelphi and Royalty theatres, London, is very anxious to secure the play for one of his houses and is coming to New York in December expressly to see Mr. Miller about the matter and make final arrangements. Notwithstanding the failure of "Strongheart" in London, Mr. Mayer is convinced that "Brown of Harvard" would be successful there, being a more typical American play, and because the story revolves about a boat race between a Harvard and an English crew, and because of the great personal popularity of Henry Woodruff in the world's metropolis. Henry Miller will be appearing in "The Great Divide" in London at the same time Mr. Woodruff is playing "Brown of Harvard" there.

CONDITIONS ON MARS.

Days and Years and Light and Heat on the Red Planet.

The days in Mars are of about the same length as ours—24 hours, 39 minutes, 23 seconds. Mars makes her orbit around the sun in a little more than 686 days; therefore the seasons are almost twice as long as they are with us. The atmosphere of Mars is rich in watery vapors. Oceans can be seen, and at the poles thick ice, which melts when summer comes. The variations in temperature are extreme. Mars receives only half as much solar heat as our globe does. The sun appears half as large, and the nights receive their light from two moons, which are smaller than ours—Deimos and Phobos.

The weight is such that one of our kilograms would only weigh 376 grams there. A man is only able to carry his own weight on his back. Transported to Mars, he could carry three times as much, something like 225 kilos. In taking observations of Mars through the telescope one can see a distinct red disk, marked with more or less brilliant spots. Some of the spots which are greenish are the oceans; other very red ones are the continents, greater in extent than the oceans, which is the opposite to the way the earth is disposed. The most brilliant spots are the ice covered regions of the poles and the clouds are almost equally bright. The atmosphere of Mars is more transparent than ours, and its sky is incomparably clear.

The waters of Mars are more divided and disturbed in inland seas joined by long arms, which are sometimes incuring, but oftenest almost rectilinear, and which mark the brilliant surface with dark lines; just as the line of lead divides the panes of glass in our church windows. All these dark lines form a pattern which is relatively symmetrical and which does not seem to have been made by chance. A plan so regular must have been designed, and for a long time the observers of

By ARCHIBALD CLAVERING GUNTER

A Sequel to MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK

Author of MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK, MR. POTTER OF NEW YORK, THAT FINEST MAN, ETC.

"What do wild animals do when they are hunted? Take to the water!" remarks Burton. "That leaves no trail. Do you think, Anstruther, that you can navigate a yacht?"

"Do you think that you can shoot a pistol straight?" growls the British naval officer.

"Very well. A yacht will be waiting for us, engaged by Emory. There will be nothing but English seamen on board, not over many of them. We'll put the girls on board to-night. We're both armed and our party will not be noticed driving on the Prado, where everybody drives. In a little while, as I have arranged it, off the Corniche road, near the Bains du Roucas Blanc, a boat will be waiting. There we'll put the ladies on board and sail away. Then who'll be able to tell where we go to?"

Edwin rises, but at the door, which had been left open so that the gentlemen could keep their eye on the passage to Marina's room, he turns, and noting Barnes' longing eyes directed toward his sister, says with sailor bluntness: "Old man, you seem to think of everybody but yourself in this matter. Are you aware that this projected cruise won't permit you and kind to be spliced in London in three days from now?"

"I had not forgotten that," replies Burton. "How could I?" His eyes still on his beautiful fiancée, who, notwithstanding her anxiety and trouble, looks lovely as a goddess and tempting as a nymph.

"Well," says the sailor, "we jack-tars have a custom of getting married before we start on a cruise. There are ministers in Marseilles as well as London." Then Edwin Anstruther walks off, leaving Mr. Barnes confronted with a young lady whose lilies have changed to roses and—the greatest temptation of his life.

The poor fellow thinks of the damnable document he has in his pocket, proclaiming death to the unfortunate woman who marries him; he remembers Matteo's horrible statements as to the fate of females marrying into a blood feud and forces the desire from his eyes.

His embarrassment is increased by the superb manner of his fiancée.

Then Mr. Anstruther Walks Off, Leaving Mr. Barnes Confronted with a Young Lady Whose Lilies Have Changed to Roses and—the Greatest Temptation of His Life—

Without a word she walks up to Barnes and unaffectedly tenders him her lips.

"Don't think me forward," she whispers sweetly, "but if you think you can take better care of me as your wife—if you feel very much disappointed at the delay." Her words are faltered out bashfully.

The accursed warning—threatening death to her he marries—rustles in his pocketbook as he crushes her to his breast. It stays the mad rush of his passion. He forces himself to calmness and whispers, his face pale, his lips contorted: "For God's sake, don't misunderstand me. I love you more dearly than ever, but until this affair is settled, it would be an infamy if I married you."

"Good heavens! You fear they are going to kill you?"

"No, if there is any killing to be done, I propose to do it." For an instant he is about to show her the infernal document. His hand is already on his breast pocket, when it stops, palsied. Barnes remembers the impulsive courage of his betrothed. "My Lord, if she saw this," he thinks, "Edith would insist on marrying me off-hand. She'd think it her duty to stand as my wife in the front of the skirmish and defy them." He says slowly, almost brokenly: "You must trust me in this matter, dear one. Only never doubt my love."

"Oh, that would be too horrible," she falters. "Burton, that would break my heart. You know more about the affair than I. You are the best judge." Her lips are tendered to him again, but Barnes notes with a sigh their salute is colder, and that tears are very near the divine eyes of Edith Anstruther.

Away from him, she wrings her white hands, and in the solitude of her chamber, waits: "Oh, everything seems to be changed since yesterday." Then the natural pride of the maiden coming to her, she says haughtily to herself: "The next proposition as to the naming of the wedding day shall come from you, Mr. Barnes of New York."

CHAPTER III.

Playing the Enemies' Game.

Mr. Barnes attempts to forget his postponed nuptials in arranging the details of his darling's safety. Emory shortly brings to him an old canceled check upon a branch of the Credit Lyonnais bearing the signature of Corregio Cipriano Danella, but comparing it with Marina's mutilated note and also the warning sent to him, the American cannot be certain of the handwriting.

"Perhaps it has been disguised in both the epistles," suggests the detective, and continues his report. "As far as I can find from a clerk in the telegraph office, Rue de la Republique, that I have sometimes hired before in such matters, there was a long cable came from Bernardo Saliceti at Ajaccio to Corregio Danella late yesterday evening. It stated that you and your party were to arrive on the Constantine; that you by your arts had murdered his brother, and that Madame Anstruther, for the defense of her husband against the just vengeance of Tomasso Monaldi, had produced his shooting by De Belloc's cavalrymen. This is only as the operator remembered it. My emissary didn't dare to try and get a duplicate of the dispatch, which was already on file. The French government keeps a sharp eye upon its telegraph offices."

"Isn't it curious," asks Burton, "that there is no account yet of the Corsican tragedy in the French journals here?"

"Politics!" answers the detective. "There is an election here shortly, and they fear some complication with the English government. I doubt if you will hear of the affair in an official way—at all events not till after the election for deputies. Perhaps that's what makes young Saliceti so eager to do you up. If he stood as a representative of the time-honored vendetta every rustic commune in his island would give him its vote."

"That being the case," says Barnes, "we have only ourselves to rely upon. Have you made all arrangements about the yacht?"

"Yes, I've got the schooner Seagull, Mr. William Jameson, Glasgow, chartered for three weeks. Jameson is returning to Scotland and is very willing to lease the boat. We have cleared her for Naples. Crew of six men and mate, all Scotch. The captain, as I told you before, has gone to England, so your naval lieutenant must act as your navigator. She is found as to stores for crew, but as you have suggested, I have put ice and cabin supplies on board, according to the memorandum you gave me."

"Then I think we'll be able to live very comfortably for a couple of weeks," observes Barnes, meditatively, lighting a cigar.

"The Seagull has already dropped out of the Vieux port, where she was laying and she will be off the Corniche road as you directed. I'll have a boat on shore at the Roucas Blanc."

"Then the next thing is to get the ladies on board, and that, of course, we cannot do until after dark," remarks Burton. "You had best not be seen about here any more, Emory, but you had better be on board the Seagull when we arrive there, so as to turn the vessel over to me. See who arrives on the next steamer from either Bastia or Ajaccio, and if this Bernardo Saliceti turns up, notify me if there is any meeting between him and Danella."

"Yes, I'll shadow everything, even you," chuckles the sleuth, grimly. "By the by, here's Perrier's address in Nice. He is quite often there. You will find him, for a French mouchard, perfectly reliable."

"Engage two trustworthy men," said Barnes, "to follow our carriage on horseback this evening! I must take no chances with the ladies in our company." Then Barnes goes off to Lady Chartist's parlor to make some necessary financial arrangements with that lady.

Mr. Barnes has scarcely finished these and Lady Chartist has carried away his check delighted, when Maud bounces in upon him, her eyes big with excitement and mystery. "Gee, Marina is a case!" she whispers.

"Why?" asks Burton, glancing sharply at her.

GOLF.

Later advices from Boston concerning the tri-city golf competition for the Robert W. Lesley cup, finished Saturday on the links of the Country Club of Brookline, show that nothing sensational was accomplished in the way of scoring. It had been expected that when the picked players of New York and Philadelphia clashed something out of the ordinary would be accomplished, but, on the contrary, the golf as a rule was mediocre.

The best complete foursome scores of the afternoon were credited to Ward and Douglas and Reid and Whitlatch, both returning 77s. Whitlatch and Arden Robbins were substituted for Herreshoff and Peters. The Douglas-Ward combination beat Edwards and Alcorn 2 up and 1 to play, while Reid and Whitlatch won by 6 up and 5 to play over Kemble and Clements.

The gallery in the afternoon again paid homage to the champion, who was paired with Graham against McFarland and Carr. The metropolitan pair turned for home 1 up, having gone out in 41, to 42 for the Quakers. Travers and Graham finally won by 4 up and 3 to play.

ly won by 4 up and 3 to play.

Abbott and Robbins fitted well together, going out in 38, against Service and Pfeil. The pace was also fast coming home, and when the New Yorkers finished 3 up on the sixteenth green their card showed even 4s for the in holes, so that had they played the by holes they would have had an excellent chance for 74.

Travis and Brokaw, who defeated Perrin and Tillinghast by 3 up and 2 to play, also went fast. Their card read 39 for the first half, and a good finish would have given them a 76. It can be seen by this that none of the winning pairs was hard pressed.

Now that the New Yorkers have been so unexpectedly successful at the old-fashioned foursomes, the chances are that they will look more favorably on this style of match in the future. Golfers in Scotland claim that to play foursomes well is the highest test in the game.

Entries will close today for the thirteenth semi-annual competition of the University Club, to be held at St. Andrews tomorrow. There will be the usual 36-hole medal play handicap, for which gross and net score prizes have been offered. About fifty starters are expected.

"SPIKES" IS INTERVIEWED ABOUT HOLY CROSS CLUB

"Yes, Saturday was a strenuous day for Holy Cross Club. I think so," said Spikes, whose long suit is philosophy and silver speech. "Was it indeed?" "I think it was." "What happened?" "Well, you see, it was this way—we had a football game in the afternoon and a club meeting in the evening. There was something doing at each event."

"Did Holy Cross win? Sure, I think they did, score 37-0, and the trick was easy. Gee! but you should have seen 'Goat-hill'! Who? O, yes, Nash. He thought it was a game of pick-up-and-carry and tried to carry the Ashland Club feller who had the ball over our line for a touchdown. But the referee said it was straight football, gave the ball to Orange and penalized us half the distance of the field. Lots of fun? Sure, but I yelled so I couldn't sing my solo Sunday night. Wait till we meet Hudson River Military Academy though on Wednesday afternoon! There won't be any chip carrying business then. Looks to me more like wrestling with a load of bricks."

"The evening meeting? Heard I was fined ten cents? Yes, I think I was. You see there's some fun in putting it all over the other fellows and forty or more of us were at the club meeting later and our enthusiasm made the rooms a little warm, but ten cents all around cleared the atmosphere."

"Say, but that was a good meeting! The secretary's report showed a membership of over fifty boys in the club and active work being done by the various committees. The treasurer reported a very comfortable balance in the treasury and more due in the way of fees and fines. Yes, my ten goes in too."

"The membership committee reported eight new names for membership. The club balloted on 'em right there. Six were received, one rejected and one carried over till next meeting. The athletic committee reported the schedule of football games for the basketball teams. The entertainment committee reported that three plays would be given by the fellers in the club rooms in November. We'll use the proceeds for general club purposes. The plays are 'A dinner for two; 'a little more cider,' and 'Box and Cox.' "The club button? Yes, it is pretty. That's what the girls think! I'm told. Teacher at the high school asked if girls were members of the club. I wonder why? O, you think it is because the girls wear the pins. Well, I think it is well, so long, I'm off for choir practice. Come and see us in the brick wrestling contest Wednesday afternoon. Time? 4:30. But keep outside the lines. I nearly lost my top piece Saturday."

LOCAL BOWLERS ORGANIZE

Five Men Team City Championship Tourney to Be Arranged.

10 TEAMS TO COMPETE

Francis J. Blatz Elected President of New Organization and Judge Runyon Heads Executive Committee.

With the organization of a bowling club at the Plainfield Academy, last night, the membership rolls of which will include about seventy-five local pin-smashers, interest in bowling will be maintained in this city during the winter by a five men team city championship bowling tournament to be started within two weeks. There were about sixty bowling enthusiasts at the meeting, and with John Campbell as temporary chairman, Francis J. Blatz was elected president of the club. Subsequent balloting resulted in the election of Charles W. Runyon as vice president, John Campbell as treasurer and V. W. Nash, Jr., as recording secretary.

The object of the organization, as stated at the meeting, is the formation of ten teams to compete for the bowling title of this city. Plans for conducting the tournament were discussed and it was decided to turn the matter over to an executive committee to be appointed by the president. Mr. Blatz announced this committee today to consist of City Judge William N. Runyon, chairman; Chief P. S. Kiely, Thomas M. Muir, Harry Van Emburgh and William Schaub, of Raritan. These men will hold a meeting within a few days at which time ten local bowlers with the best records on the alleys will be chosen. These will act as captains of ten teams to be formed. A membership and entry fee of $2 will be charged to all who wish to join these teams and the names of these entered will be drawn from a hat by the captains of the various teams in order at a meeting to be held some time after November 9, when the players' entries close. The teams thus formed will compete for the local bowling championship, match games to be played on the Plainfield Academy alleys on Second street.

In this way it is believed that the good players will be distributed among the ten teams and better sport can be secured. The executive committee has been empowered to arrange a schedule and lay down necessary rules for conducting the tournament. Entries are coming in fast and it is believed that there may be bowlers enough to form more than the ten teams. The organization is to hold monthly meetings.

LEALS OUTCLASSED IN GAME WITH Y. M. C. A. FIVE

The Leal's school basketball team scored five points from foul in their first game of the season at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night, while the association five ran up a total of thirty-seven points. Outclassing the school boys in every department of the game, the Y. M. C. A. players shot baskets almost at will, netting the ball seventeen times during the game. Collier, of last year's five, shot seven baskets, Rumsey four and each of the other players made points from the floor.

The game was marked by individual playing on both sides, and neither team showed especially good team work. The passing was loose and at times even careless. The Y. M. C. A. five started off with a rush, and had amassed twenty-five points at the end of the first half, while Duke had caged the ball once from the foul line for Leals. Both teams made fouls freely during the entire game. The teams lined up as follows:

Y. M. C. A.—Gilmore, H.; Rumsey, Collier, H.; Collier, Rumsey, C.; Gavett, H.; Hoagland, Loizeaux, Rumsey, H.

Leals—Rushmore, H.; Duke (Capt.), Martin, Campbell, H.; Brown, C.; Martin, Dallas, H.; Lawrence, Duke, H.

Baskets from the floor: Collier, 7; Rumsey, 4; Gilmore, 2; Hoagland, 2; Gavett, Loizeaux. Goals from fouls: Duke, 4; Collier, Gavett, Gilmore. Y. M. C. A. was awarded two points for foul on man shooting, and Leals got one point in the same way. Referee, C. B. Morse; umpire, P. B. Allen; timer, Howard Ladd. Fifteen and twenty minute halves.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

Leal's school boys were outclassed in their game with the Y. M. C. A., last night, but showed up pretty well on the floor for a scholastic team. Duke and Brown are the only two members who played with Leal's last year, and Laurence had never played in a game before. But practise has done lots for the team, which will yet play fast basketball with school teams.

John Loizeaux was in the game with the Y. M. C. A. five for the first this season, last night. He has just returned from a business trip and will be with the association team for the rest of the season.

The P. H. S. girls will start their basketball season with a game with the Westfield high school girls at the school gymnasium here tomorrow afternoon. The local high school five held the title of State champions last season, and there is fast material in the school this year for another winning team.

The Holy Cross choir boys will play the football eleven from the New York Military Academy on the Cricket Field tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

Local bowling has been given a new impetus by the movement started last night for a five men city championship tourney. The captains of the ten teams will be announced within a few days.

Miss Edna Wilkey and Miss Natalie Wilkey, of the Plainfield Country Club, lost their match at Orange Saturday, when matched against a pair from Orange for the runner-up title in the women's tennis tournament given by the Orange Lawn Tennis Club.

The Perth Amboy high school football team has cancelled the game scheduled with the city high school eleven for Saturday on Hope Common. Manager Parsons is trying to secure a game in place of the one cancelled.

KID GLOVES SAVE HIS LIFE.

Elizabeth Man Has a Narrow Escape from Being Fatally Burned by Electricity.

Elizabeth, Oct. 29.—A pair of kid gloves probably saved Charles Stampler, a dry goods clerk, on East Jersey street, Elizabethport, from being shocked to death Sunday by electricity. He was passing Third street at Broadway just as a trolley car came along, and, waiting to let it pass, started to go around its rear end.

The pole of the car in some way got entangled in the guard wire, which broke and fell to the street and in its descent crossed the feed wire, which was heavily charged with electricity, and communicated it to the broken wire. This struck Stampler, knocking him flat and badly burning him across the face and neck. He pushed the deadly wire from him with gloved hands and then regained his feet. A flame more than a foot high leaped from the broken wire before the current was shut off. The young man went to the nearest physician to have his burns cared for.

Second Sighter Hit It.

South River, Oct. 29.—George La Vee, a barber, of Main street, while at a second-sight entertainment of the Fays a couple of years ago was told that his long-lost brother, whom he had not heard of in twenty years, was working in a surveying party on the Mexican Central Railroad. He wrote to the railroad people, learned that his brother had been working there, but had left, and since then he has been tracing him up. Yesterday
