HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION FORESTORS

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society Selects its Directors.

REPORTS ARE ENCOURAGING.

It Cost $1.10 a Day to Care for One

Patient—Dr. W. H. Murray Talks About
Finance.

Trustees were chosen at the annual meeting of the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis Society last night in the parish house of Grace Episcopal church. There was a large attendance. William S. Tyler, the president, was in the chair. The new trustees elected were George L. Babcock, Joseph W. Gavett and Mrs. Thomas Joust. Those re-elected were Dr. F.
E. DuBois, Leighton Calkins, Edward
F. Feickert, Hugh F. Fox, Dr. B.
Vand. Hedges, George M. Holstein, Dr. Fred Hughes, James P. Murray, Dr. William H. Murray, Miss Mabelle C. Phillips, Miss Georgiana Smith and William S. Tyler.

The reports of the president, treasurer and Dr. Frederick Hughes, the physician in charge of the tuberculosis camp, were read and revealed the encouraging condition of the society. Mr. Tyler said that he thought it the duty of the society to broaden its work during the coming year.
One feature requires special consideration—education of the public for their own benefit in the matter of Health. In this respect the members as individuals and as a society had obligations which if carried out would eventually improve the general conditions of the community.

Dr. Hughes in reporting upon the work of the past year said that eight-teen patients had been successfully treated, ten of them being discharged, eight with the disease arrested and two improved. The largest gain in weight was 26 pounds and the average gain was 11 pounds and as this gain represents that of children mostly it is remarkable. The small comparative cost of the treatment of patients here is a source of congratulations. It averaged about $1.10 per capita per diem which is a smaller average than that of any other similar institution in the country.
Much of this it is reported, is due to Mr. Harrison manager of Muhlen-berg Hospital through whom the supplies for the camp were brought.

Others who spoke were Dr. William H. Murray, whose topic was "Finance" and Mrs. Murray on "Membership." Miss Mabelle C. Phillips spoke on publicity and rendered a report on the Red Cross seals. Up to date $395.74 has been received and there is $55.17 still to be heard from.
Dr. Murray's report on the receipts and expenditures for the year showed that with a balance on hand on January 1, 1910, of $378.71, there had been added from membership fees and contributions from members, $3,254. other incomes, including entertainments, sales of Christmas seals, Kings Daughters, etc., $1,638.97, making a total of $5,271.68. The expenditures were: Maintenance, $2, 599.66; payroll, $1,391.86; City nurses salary, supplies, repairs, furnishings, stamps, stationery, etc., $875.77; total, $4,858.29, leaving a balance on hand of $413.39.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was postponed until a later meeting.

PUNISHED ENOUGH.

So the Court Thought and Thorne Was Released.

Because he appeared to have been punished enough Willis Thorne, a carpenter of the West End, was allowed to go with a lecture this morning after having been arraigned before Judge William G. DeMeza on a charge of intoxication. He was found lying helpless at the corner of Fourth street and Plainfield avenue at 9 o'clock.

Thorne's face was a sorry sight.
He looked as though he had had an argument with a tiger cat. It was necessary to sew up several cuts in his head when brought to police headquarters last night by Patrolman McGinley.

Taken up Bible Study.

The Plainfield Graded Union has taken up Bible study, using Rev. Dr.
J. L. Hurlbut's book, with Miss Nettie Beeching and Mrs. Miller, of Somerville, as teachers. Miss Beeching was the teacher yesterday, and Mrs.
Miller will be the teacher next week.
Mrs. Manning will teach the primary lesson, Miss Mabel Wilson the junior lesson. All are welcome. The meetings are held every Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. rooms.

Co. K Resumes Drills.

Company K resumed the regular drills in the armory last night. On Wednesday evening small calibre target practice will be begun.

Court Plainfield Holds Annual

Dance and Vaudeville in Saengerbund Hall.

THE ATTENDANCE VERY LARGE.

Numbers on the Program Receive Deserved Applause—Organization Now Eighteen Years Old—429 Members.

Court Plainfield, No. 1144, Independent Order of Foresters, conducted its annual entertainment and dance in Saengerbund Hall, last night. A capacity audience composed of the families and friends of the members, enjoyed the affair and voted it the most successful the organization has yet conducted. The committee of arrangements worked hard to make it so, receiving congratulations at the close that assured them they had succeeded.

The fore part of the evening was devoted to a vaudeville program furnished by Sam Howard, of New York.
It comprised eight numbers. In all, each one receiving generous applause. A distinct hit was made by Maurice, a comedy conjurer, who kept the audience in roars of laughter with a line of funny talk while performing many clever tricks, and Collando, a clay modeller. The latter produced familiar faces in the putty-like substance in an incredibly short time. The features of Washington, Lincoln, McKinley and Roosevelt were among those easily recognized.

Other numbers on the bill were William Hoehn, character monologist; the Hurleys, comedy singing and dancing act; the Two Pages, singing comedienne; Wilkins and Wilkins, singers and dancers and the Four Musical Comets, comedy musical act.

Suhr's Imperial orchestra gave selections at intervals and at the close of the vaudeville show, the floor was cleared for dancing. The major portion of the audience remained to enjoy this part of the program which continued until 2 o'clock this morning. Frederick Broom acted as floor manager and he was ably assisted by Edward J. McCue, James T. McCarthy, LeRoy De Camp and William F. Skinner.

The committees in charge of the affair was composed of Louis J. Feiring, Chairman; Robert T. Skinner, John R. Cline, Henry Hansen, Frederick Broom, James T. McCarthy, Edward J. McCue, John F. Casey, William F. Skinner, Thomas Fitzgerald, LeRoy De Camp, John D.
Vardon and James F. Brown.

The officers of Court Plainfield are as follows: Court Deputy, Louis J. Feiring; junior post chief ranger, James T. McCarthy; chief ranger, Edward J. McCue; vice-chief ranger, Frederick Broom; recording secretary, Henry Hansen; financial secretary, Robert T. Skinner; treasurer, John R. Cline; orator, Frank J.
Winzenreid; senior woodward, Martin J. Flattley; junior woodward, John F. Donnelly; senior beadle, Francis J. Keenan; junior beadle, Thomas Fitzgerald; finance committee, Patrick Harrington and Peter C. Thomason; trustees, John F.
Casey and Martin N. Whalen; court physicians, Dr. H. H. Lowrie and Dr. A. K. Brennan.

This court was instituted July 1, 1892, with fourteen charter members; its present membership is 429.
During the eighteen years of its existence the court has paid to sick and disabled members $12,600; this in addition to the insurance paid by the Supreme court to the beneficiaries of the members of Court Plainfield who have died during this period. At this date the court has to its credit, for the payment of benefits to sick and disabled members, $4,100 with no liabilities.

The Independent Order of Foresters, of which Court Plainfield is one of the six thousand courts, was organized in Newark in 1874, and now has a membership of over 235,000; has paid for benefits over $30,000,- 000; has not called an extra assessment, and has a surplus fund of over $16,000,000.

Proctor's Good Show.
"Tangled and Twisted" is the title of an amusing sketch being offered at Proctor's theatre. "The Girl in Pink" a novel singing act in three scenes, with electrical effects makes a hit, especially her distribution of candy in the audience. Wilson & Franklin offer a sketch, "Taking a Chance," and Valentine's dogs are clever.

"How We are Not Saved."

At the First Baptist church tomorrow evening, the mid-week meeting will be under the direction of the Men's Conference class. The topic will be "How we are Not Saved." All are cordially invited.

ENTERTAIN SPEAKERS FOR BANQUET

Gov. Wilson and Geo. W. Ferkins Invited to Address Chamber of Commerce.

OTHERS TO BE ANNOUNCED.

"Profit Sharing" to Be Theme of

Banker—The Executive May Talk on "Employer's Liability to Employees."

Preparations for the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce on February 13 are going on apace and it is quite likely that those who attend will have cause to remember the occasion as an event in their lives.
While it has not been positively announced it is expected that Governor Woodrow Wilson will be one of the speakers on that occasion and will have for his topic the "Employer's Liability to His Employee." He has said already that certain concerns use dangerous and powerful machinery over whose repair and renewal they have no control. He has advocated strenuously that new rules be devised with regard to the obligations of these employers and that they should shoulder certain responsibilities which they now evade. It is quite probable in view of the pressing invitation he has received to be present and speak that he will accept and touch upon the subject indicated.

Another whose fame is world wide, George W. Perkins, late partner of J. Pierpont Morgan and the man slated for the place occupied by the late Grover Cleveland in the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has accepted an invitation to speak and will tell of the profit sharing scheme between employers and employee of which he is an ardent advocate and promoter.
Mr. Perkins has been instrumental in putting this system of profit sharing in operation in industries with which he is identified with the result that in everyone of them such a thing as a strike or kick is unknown.

Other speakers of renown will be present, but it has not yet been definitely decided who shall be the toastmaster, although the probabilities are that this important post will fall to the lot of former Mayor William L. Saunders whose ability along that line is among his well established attributes.

In any event the proposed banquet which will be held at Truell Hall promises to be one of the most important and largest ever held in Plainfield. Applications for tickets for the affair may be made at the office of the secretary of the chamber, Judge John Ulrich, in the Frost building.

ELLIS AGAIN PRESIDENT OF DEMOCRATIC CLUB

LeRoy J. Ellis was again elected president of the Plainfield Democratic club at the annual meeting last evening and in addition three new members were admitted. The vice-presidents named for the ensuing year are: Edward Lynch, Robert C.
Woodhouse, A. H. Atterbury and Dr.
C. A. Gesswein. Secretary J. F. Zerega was again elected as was treasurer J. O. Stevens.

A general discussion of the bills presented before the present legislature followed the regular business of the meeting particular attention being given to the Employers' Liability law.

Following the discussion the members of the County Democratic Committee was called to order by temporary chairman Walter Hetfield, who appointed Robert C. Woodhouse temporary secretary. The purpose of this meeting was the formation of a permanent Democratic City Committee. One member from each election district in the city was appointed and at a future date the ten members will come together and elect officers.

The meeting room of the Democratic club has been changed to the room back of the office of D. J. Carney as the old quarters was found to be more room than the club needs at present.

License Committee Conference.

The Councilmanic license committee held its first meeting of the year, last night, to outline its work. Mayor G. W. V. May was called into the conference, the committee desiring to confer with him as to certain details regarding license matters. All licenses expire on March 1 and the committee will be kept pretty busy until that time. Special attention will be given to a consideration of the liquor license applications prior to the time when they are to be presented to the council for action.

POLICEMEN'S PENSION MEASURE INTRODUCED

A new act for the pensioning of police officers and policemen was introduced by Assemblyman Calvin E.
Brodhead in the lower house of the Legislature last night. This bill is originally intended for Plainfield, but will include all cities and municipalities.

This bill will make the city treasurer the custodian of funds and will reduce the assessment on salaries one per cent. The old bill does not specify a custodian of funds and makes a levy of 4 per cent. in addition to the tax levy which is sometimes high.

PETIT JURY IS DRAWN FOR UNION CO. COURT

Common Pleas. Of the sixty jurors, ing and will be excused after two weeks service. The Plainfielders selected follow: Edward O. Clark, ladd, Adam Neuman, Philip P. Van

St. Louis, announcing her acceptance of her appointment as physical director of the local association. She is a graduate of the University of

A. B. from that institution last June.
She had her normal course in physical training there and has since been to Plainfield highly recommended and will undoubtedly continue the excellent work that has been the rule locally. She will reach here Thursday.

Miss Herbert will succeed Miss Margaret Mosher, who has been physical director at the association since the gymnasium classes were first formed. She came here from Rochester, N. Y., and tendered her resignation in order to become physical instructor at the Central High School, Cleveland, O. It was received with regret by the Board of Directors. Miss Mosher will remain for the annual exhibition of the "gym" classes on January 27, but will leave for Cleveland the next day.

The women of the Holy Cross church parish will hold a tea in the parish house tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to welcome new members. Mrs. F. H. Ball, assistant chairman entertainment committee, will be in charge. Mrs. George H.
Campbell, of the borough, will assist in the entertainment by reading selections from "Uncle Remus," and reciting delightful stories about the southern daisy. It is hoped that a large number of women will avail themselves of the opportunity to meet the new members and enjoy the entertainment.

for the consolidation of Plainfield and North Plainfield, the Chamber

SMITH COUNTY CHAIRMAN

Plainfielder Chosen for Seventh Term as Head of G. O. P.
County Committee.

THE ELECTION WAS UNANIMOUS.

James G. Calvert vice-Chairman; Dr.

J. E. Rowe treasurer and William H. Randolph

Secretary.

For the seventh consecutive term, Frank H. Smith, of this city, was unanimously elected chairman of the Union County Republican Committee at the annual meeting held at headquarters in the Dix building, Elizabeth, last night. He had told the members of the committee that he felt he had done his share in serving so long as head of the committee and that it was time that the burden fell on the shoulders of another. Despite his wishes, the committee elected him again.

The nomination was made by former County Chairman Hamilton F.
Kean, who referred to Mr. Smith's excellent record as head of the organization and was seconded by half a dozen members at once. An unanimous motion prevailed to have the secretary cast the necessary ballot.
In thanking his colleagues for the honor, the county chairman said that he was heartily satisfied with the support given him in the past and the work accomplished. He said that what he and his colleagues had done was at all times for what they considered the best interests of the party and that he hoped that the future would be as satisfactory as the past.

James C. Calvert, of Elizabeth, the popular county clerk, was unanimously re-elected vice-chairman, Dr.
J. Edward Rowe, of Summit, was again chosen as treasurer. William H. Randolph, of Rahway, was elected secretary in place of James E. Warner, of Cranford, who declined another term. For the fifteenth consecutive time, Assistant Postmaster James White, of Elizabeth, was elected as sergeant at arms.

Mr. Smith was not prepared to announce his committees.

TRIED TO PASS CHECK; IRA PANGBORN IN TOILS

Ira Pangborn, aged about twenty-three years, a former resident of North Plainfield, was arrested in Westfield, last night by Policeman Rosecranz, on a charge of attempting to pass a worthless check at that place. According to the police, Pangborn went into the store of Herman Frowery and asked the proprietor to cash a worthless check. Being refused, he then sought Town Clerk Clark, who also declined to cash the check. It was through Mr. Frowery that Policeman Rosecranz arrested Pangborn.

Pangborn was arraigned before Justice Toucey later and held for the grand jury. He will be taken to Elizabeth, today. The check in the possession of Pangborn was made payable to L. M. Arnold, of Westfield and bore his endorsement. It was signed "John Goltra," the name of a contractor at Westfield, and was drawn on the People's National Bank.

Pangborn, according to the Westfield police, has been hanging about the place at different times with apparently nothing to do. He has a bad reputation and has been regarded with more or less suspicion. He has not lived in North Plainfield for some time.

Mrs. J. T. Lee.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Mundy, wife of the late John T. Lee, formerly of this city, and a niece of the late John W. Lajng, well known here for many years as a hotel man, died at her home in Birmingham, Ala., last Friday morning. She was the daughter of Edgar Mundy, deceased, who lived on Peace street, now Watchung avenue, in the building still standing, north of Charles P. Sebring's building with the marble front. John T. Lee was a Justice of the Peace, his office being on Front street, opposite Park avenue, where Schwed's clothing store now stands. Mrs. Lee leaves two daughters and a son Robert E. Lee.

James E. Martine Improved.

James E. Martine, who has been detained at home with an aggravated attack of the grip, was reported today as resting easy. He spent a very restless night, accompanying the attack of grip, Mr. Martine appears to have been suffering with a gathering in the head, which caused a deafness and a discharge from the ears. This gave the family considerable anxiety but his condition today would indicate a slight improvement.

DR. WOODROW WILSON TAKES THE OATH OF OFFICE

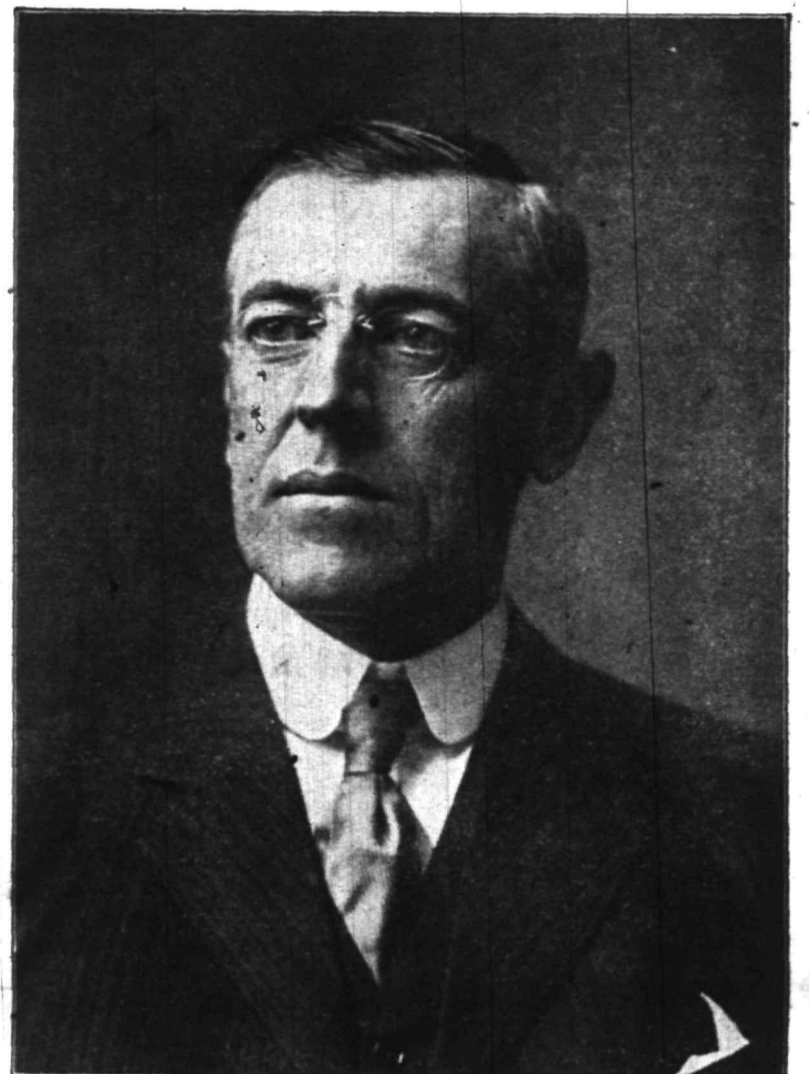

AS GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NEW JERSEY

Impressive Scene When Chief Justice Gummere Administers

the Solemn Pledge.—New Executive Delivers a Remarkable Speech in Accepting the Exalted Position.

HON. WOODROW WILSON.

Inaugurated Governor of New Jersey at Trenton Today.

New Jersey has a new Governor.
As the governor's salute of seventeen guns boomed forth at noon today at Trenton, Woodrow Wilson took the oath of office. The inauguration exercises took place in the Taylor Opera House.

As Governor Wilson concluded the oath of his office he was handed the great seal of the State by the retiring Governor John Franklin Fort and the induction of the new chief executive into office was complete. It was then that Governor Wilson launched on one of the most remarkable inaugural addresses that has ever been delivered in the State of New Jersey. He spoke of the progressive trend of the times and pointed out that New Jersey had much to learn and he referred several times to the State of Oregon as an example, a State which leads the Union in progressive legislation. Governor Wilson recounted laws, which, in his opinion should be enacted.

This inaugural address, while it touched upon many points, was especially strong in its reference to the passage of a law to regulate the placing of foodstuffs in cold storage. The Governor told of the introduction of the James bill in the House last year and of how it had been mysteriously lost. He said it would be a pleasure to attach his signature to a bill which would prevent the present practice of cornering the market in food by placing it in cold storage.
The address is published on pages 6 and 7.

It was just 11:45 when the Governor-elect left the State house for the Theatre, where the great crowd was already in waiting. In the carriage with the incoming executive were Governor Fort, Senator Harry D. Leavitt, of Mercer, and Assemblyman Allen B. Walsh, of Mercer, members of the inaugural committee. The open landau in which the two governors rode was drawn by four magnificent black steeds. The escort was composed only of Company L of Princeton, in which are many personal friends of the new Governor.
After the carriage containing the executive party came two coaches with the members of the inaugural committee.

The opening prayer was by the Rev. Dr. Henry Collins Minton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Trenton. It being a joint session of the Legislature, Senator Ernest R. Ackerman, of this city, president of the Senate, was the presiding officer. After the prayer, the oath of office was administered by Chief Justice William S. Gummere. It was then that Governor Fort turned over the seal of the State, and introduced the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, John G. Widen-mayer, of Irvington, wore a gown of white crepe de chine, with designs of pearls and a large white hat trimmed with willow plumes. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her only attendant was Miss Hedwig Thum, of Hammond, Ind., who wore a gown of pink mezzanine veiled in white marquisette and a pink hat trimmed with pink roses. Cyril Baldwin, of East Orange, was his brother's best man.
A reception followed for relatives and intimate friends. The couple will reside at West Orange, a completely furnished home being given them by the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. P. Frank Stone were guests at the ceremony.

News and Notes

GOLF.

A committee of the Cranford Golf Club will submit a report this evening regarding the proposed purchase with the Westfield Golf Club of the property known as Echo Lake Farm, with a view of converting the tract into an 18-hole golf course. Both clubs, which now have only nine-hole courses, seem to look favorably upon the project, and it is quite probable that the deal will be put through.

The property in question comprises 165 acres. An admirable golf course could be laid out there. The tract is in a good location for both clubs, being about three-quarters of a mile from Westfield and two miles from Cranford. Persons interested in the project say that $20,000 could easily be raised here, and assurances have been received from Westfield that $15,000 or more will be forthcoming from there if the purchase is made. The purchase of the property, the erection of a clubhouse and the laying out of an 18-hole course, would involve an expenditure of about $100,000.

If the Cranford Golf Club decides to go into the scheme, the Westfield golfers will hold a meeting shortly afterward to submit the proposition to the members for decision. The Cranford Club's lease for its present links will expire in 1915.

BASEBALL.

The National Board of the National Baseball Association has handed down decisions awarding the service of Umpire Eckman, of Chicago, to the Virginia League; disallowing the claim of the Minneapolis club to Player Besser; declaring Player Bock, of the Paducah (Ky.) club a free agent; awarding the services of Manager Strands, of Huntington, Ind., to the Lynn (Mass.) club; and disallowing the claim of Player Kustus, of Detroit, against the Bridgeport (Conn.) club.

Official notice was received by Steve Kane, who has been handling the indicator in the National League during the past two years, from President Tom Lynch to the effect that the Louisville umpire will not be in the list of 1911. Kane says that he knows no reason for the request of the president of the National League. Kane is in correspondence with Ban Johnson, of the American League, and the probability is that he will be able to land a berth.

414 Teams in A. B. C.
Four hundred and fourteen five-men teams, instead of 412, are entered for the eleventh international tournament in St. Louis of the American Bowling Congress. This fact was ascertained Saturday, when Secretary Abe Langtry made a final count of the entries.

NAME THE MAN!

The Newark Stars, assets of James Smith, Jr., the ill-appointed office-seeker, are stooping to the lowest possible level of journalism in assailing Governor Wilson. Now that the proprietor of the Newark publications sees clearly that the "school-master in politics" told the plain truth when he declared that the people of New Jersey did not want the Essex county boss for United States Senator it is resorting to the meanest sort of newspaper tactics in its campaign of abuse. Witness this introduction to a column of ridicule and scorn for the Governor as published in this morning's edition of the Jim Smith organ:

"An old friend of Governor-elect Woodrow Wilson literally tears to pieces his address in Newark last Saturday. While not a politician this man has made a deep study of politics and keeps in touch with political moves. He warmly greeted a representative of The Star and said he would thoroughly read Dr. Wilson's speech."

To use his own favorite expression it is up to the Newark publisher to "Name the Man!" or to admit that this sample of his scheme to injure the Governor is the old anonymous trick well known in the newspaper business.

A CLASSIC

The inaugural address delivered by Woodrow Wilson after taking the oath of office at noon today as Governor of New Jersey, (published in this issue) we believe, will be regarded generally as a classic in political literature. In delivering himself on the matters demanding the immediate serious consideration of the Legislature he rises to lofty rhetorical expression, making his views as impressive as the English tongue will permit. The message is a refreshing document, especially when compared with the stereotyped, statistically top-heavy, disconnected and wearisome addresses to which we have been accustomed.

Surprised Mr. Sheppard.

Frank Sheppard, of West Second street, was surprised by a about fifteen of his friends last night, it being his birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games and refreshments were served at a late hour.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"Madame Sherry," the Hamerbach-Hochman musical comedy, which has scored such a tremendous success in Chicago and New York will be seen at the Plainfield theatre on Monday night. If perchance you haven't learned the words of "Every Little Movement," you surely know the tune. If you have not, there is something decidedly amiss with your musical education. Surely you cannot lay the blame at the door of the cafe orchestras, the parlor pianos or the street whistlers. "Every Little Movement" is a tuneful epidemic. Two weeks after the initial American production of "Madame Sherry" at the Colonial Theatre, Chicago, last April, the score of the piece, and especially its theme number, were becoming popular in every part of the country from Boston to San Francisco. By the time "Madame Sherry" reached New York last August the melody had encircled the globe and the publishers of the score reported sales in London, Paris, Berlin, Vienna, South Africa and Australia. After its first New York performance the tune was heard on the streets and in the subways.

NEARLY FRIGHTENED THIS COLORED MAN TO DEATH.

Henry Williams, a colored man, employed by a Trenton coal dealer thought he saw a corpse rise and look at him from a casket in the cellar of a local undertaker's establishment Saturday night.

Williams delivered a load of coal to the undertaker, and was told to place the coal in the cellar. Williams was a little cautious in passing among the caskets in the basement, when suddenly a lid on one of the caskets raised slowly, and a small, white face peered through. The negro yelled as he dropped his basket of coal and fled. He did not stop running until he reached the coal office, where he issued his ultimatum to the effect that he would resign his position before he would ever again deliver coal to an undertaker.

When the coal dealer attempted to verify the statement of his driver, he learned the undertaker's boy, ten years old, had been playing "hide and seek" with a number of companions, and had slid into the casket to hide. When the youngster heard a noise in the cellar he thought it was some one looking for him, and he opened the lid on the casket to peer out.

TRAVELOGUE ON NORWAY

Jonas Lie Vividly Pictures
His Native Land, its People and Customs.

A NATURE LOVING FOLK.

Artist's Lecture Before Monday Afternoon Club Yesterday
One of Real Merit.

Love of country is an instinct so interwoven with the best impulses of human nature that its expression always awakens a thrill of sympathy and enlists the profound interest of other nationalists. Partly from this reason, and partly because of the pleasing personality of Jonas Lie, a large and appreciative audience listened with captivated attention to his lecture on "Norway, the Land and the People," delivered yesterday before the Monday Afternoon Club, in the Hartridge School auditorium. Mr. Lie is a Norwegian artist and his early efforts to win a recognized place in the art world were made in this city and on the hills that overlook it.

His description of Norway, its topography, the more fertile South, the waste lands of the North and its consequent isolation was graphically given. He told of the small communities in which most of the two and a half millions of inhabitants were divided and said it was difficult to speak of Norwegians as one people, these communities differed so greatly in customs and costumes. A person in the community was spoken of as a stranger because his family had lived there only three generations. Fishing and farming, he said, were the main occupations, Norway's merchant marine numbering the fourth largest in the world. Mr. Lie described artistically the thousands of vessels sailing out for the capture of fish, declaring it to be a sight for the Gods. The fishermen, he considered less stable and reliable than the farmers. Every bit of tillable land was utilized, but the farmer's life was hard with the long, cold winters in which he was a veritable prisoner. The carving of all domestic utensils and of the house itself, was one of the occupations of these long, dark days, he said. His wife and Mr. Lie described the journeys of himself two summers ago, when they had a home in Norway and gave a vivid picture of work turned into play, when the farmer's hay making and grain harvesting were done by a group of neighbors, ending with festivities and a merry dance that was a brilliant spectacle of color and motion.

The Norwegians, he said, were strongly developed poetically being a nature loving people. There was no poverty in Norway, he affirmed, for poverty and riches are only names for content and discontent. In answer to the question why Norwegians are the acknowledged best sailors in the world, he said it was due to their self-forgetfulness in times of emergency.

The Norwegians' superstitions, water-spirits, thralls, spirits of the air and woods with the demon of the sea formed an interesting part of the lecture.

Most of Mr. Lie's address was devoted to the peasant type, a primitive country folk, but there was another class, he said, that stood like giant trees, showing they had their root in cultivated soil. In literature, he considered they had great strength and cited the works of Ibsen and other Norwegian writers. He paid a high tribute to Bjornstjerne Bjornson, whose name, he said, sent a thrill of patriotic pride through every Norwegian breast and who was more patriotic than the flag itself.

CERTAIN NOW THAT IT'S "ONE GRAND SWEET SONG"

The Men's Club of the Netherwood Reformed church held a "Ladies night" affair at the home of Mrs. Rhoda Noel, on Netherwood avenue, last night, the feature of the affair being a debate of the question, "Is Marriage a Failure?" The men present told the women that they would debate any question and the above one was decided upon, at the same time they informed the women that they were for or against anything proposed.

Claude Gonod led the affirmative side and James C. Hanson the negative. Women were chosen for judges. Mrs. W. T. Banks being chairman, because of her long experience in married life; Mrs. Stout, wife of Rev. Royal A. Stout, pastor, because of her short experience and Miss Lillian Mattell because she had had no experience.

After a lively debate in which many original suggestions were brought out, the committee decided that marriage is a grand success. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

Prior to the entertainment there was a short business meeting of the club, when several new members were elected and the men decided to attend service at the church in a body, Sunday evening, January 29, when Mr. Stout will deliver a special sermon. Miss Iona Wood rendered several piano selections during the evening.

FIRE COMMITTEE'S TALK CONCERNS IMPROVEMENTS

The Councilmanic fire and building committee met last night, and among things proposed was that of purchasing an additional steamer for the department. There is a tendency on the part of the members of the committee to secure an apparatus. Mayor Moy, who was invited to the conference, did not express himself on the subject. He declared, however, that he is opposed to increasing the expenditures of the department or adding expense to the taxpayers except for necessities.

The committee also discussed the question of making some needed repairs at some of the firehouses, and no doubt those matters will be taken up early this year. Another matter discussed by the committee was the petition from the firemen for an increase in wages, similar to that of the police department. There seems to be a disposition on the part of the committee to give the firemen an increase, but no decision has been reached.

BRADFORD WILLIAMS' SHAKESPERIAN TALK

Bradford Williams, a Shakespearian scholar, gave a lecture at the Park avenue Baptist church last night, on the subject, "All the World is a Stage." He compared the writings of Shakespeare with those of the Bible, depicting Judas as the villain in the drama of Biblical times, describing his acts in selling his Lord for thirty pieces of silver.

The speaker's description of people as actors, showing how some consciously and unconsciously are playing the different parts, was both entertaining and instructive. Mr. Williams referred to the villains in Shakespeare's dramas, including "Shylock" and "Macbeth," telling of their traits. The lecturer showed that he possessed an extensive knowledge of Shakespeare and his writings and the audience felt as though it had spent a profitable evening.

Clan Mackenzie, Order of Scottish Clans, will meet in Exempt Firemen's hall, Park avenue, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock sharp. Several candidates will be initiated.

THE OLDEST INSTITUTION

Is the Church, Says Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson to Dutch Arms Club.
MEN HUNGRY FOR GOSPEL.
Perseverance and Co-operation Essential for Good Christian Work—Club Officers continue—Committees.

Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, was the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Dutch Arms last night in Trinity Reformed church Sunday school rooms. Members of the Men's Club of the Presbyterian church, of Westfield, were present as visitors and Arthur N. Pierson, president of the Westfield club, made a short address during the social hour which followed Dr. Anderson's speech.

A fifteen-minute devotional meeting preceded the business session of the club led by Rev. Dr. E. G. Read. Three new members were added to the club roll: Thomas Power, John Wendell and Arthur L. Tittsworth. President F. S. Cutter announced that as the fiscal year of the club had been constitutionally changed from January 15 to May 15 the officers of last year would hold over until May, but that he thought it advisable to appoint new committees which he announced as follows: Entertainment, (social) A. B. Cole, chairman; William Williams, N. Woodruff and E. F. Young; entertainment (good and welfare), Horace J. Martin, chairman; George Saums, Henry Reader, A. Gaskill, Elmer Gayle and Chauncey Colthar; devotional, T. R. VanZandt, chairman; Rev. Dr. E. G. Read and A. Swalm; vestibule, Edgar F. Shepard, chairman; T. R. VanZandt, Fred Willett and Charles Belter; finance, J. P. Laire, chairman; H. C. VanEmburgh, C. Frank French.

The entertainment committee is divided into two sections in order to facilitate the work and provide both the social feature and gastronomic enjoyment without over-burdening any one body of men.

Rev. Dr. Anderson spoke on the "Church as an Institution." In part he said: "The church is not second to any organization on earth. It is the greatest institution that ever was or ever will be. There has not been a time in the history of the world that there has not been some sort of a church. From Adam to the mission of Malachi there has been an institution of the worship of God. After a lapse of 400 years it was continued from the time of the appearance of Jesus Christ on the earth.

"The mission of the church is to reform the world through the regeneration of man. It is, of course, easier to criticize the church or anything else, for that matter, than it is to lend a hand and help it along. In these days there ought to be no uncertain voice ringing from our pulpits. There ought to be no deviation from the preaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. When a man ceases to have the right sort of thoughts about the doctrine he ought to step down and out and give some one else a chance to preach it. You business men are hungry for the Gospel and it is the duty of your pastors to give it to you. When I ever my people get to the point where they do not want to her of the blessedness of salvation through the blood of Jesus, then I will quit.

"Perseverance of the pastor aided by the co-operation of the laymen, which means you, will accomplish much. Let me tell you that the increase of membership in evangelical churches has kept on increasing with the increase of population ever since 1800 and the latest figures derived from the last census shows that the proportion is keeping pace just as much as in the earlier days. I congratulate you on the splendid organization you have here and I am sure that the sympathetic bond which unites your pastor with me will be as strong with the men of our organizations. I wish you God speed in your work."

Others who spoke at the meeting were President Fred S. Cutter and F. E. Smith.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

District Deputy Frank Nelson, of New Market, visited Rockview Council, Daughters of Liberty, last night, and installed the following officers: Councilor, Mrs. John Kinney; associate councilor, Mrs. Ella Kennedy; guide, Mrs. Eva Bowlby; recording secretary, Miss May Aggar; assistant recording secretary, Miss Lillian Kennedy; financial secretary, Miss Elsie Peters; treasurer, Miss Lulu Adams. The installation was followed by a social hour.

Sparks from a locomotive set fire to the dry grass in the field south of the railroad and Washington avenue yesterday afternoon. It made quite a blaze for a time but was beaten out by boys before becoming dangerous.

Miss Anna Ace has resigned her position as bookkeeper with D. T. Hume and Son to take effect February 1. She will go to her former home in Stroudsburg, Pa., soon after for a visit with relatives.

WILSON FAVORS MANY NEW LAWS

Governor Elect Takes Oath and Outlines Plans.

SAYS HE IS STATE'S SERVANT.

No One May Dare to Be Sure He Is Qualified For Highest Office in His State, the New Executive Says. Urges Changes in Statutes to Keep Pace With Advancement in All Lines.

Trenton, Jan. 17.—Governor Wilson delivered the following inaugural address today:

Gentlemen of the Legislature—I assume the great office of governor of the state with unaffected diffidence. Many great men have made this office illustrious. A long tradition of honorable public service connects each incumbent of it with the generation of men who set up our governments here in free America to give men perpetual assurance of liberty and justice and opportunity. No one dare be sure that he is qualified to play the part expected of him by the people of the commonwealth in the execution of this high trust. It is best for him as he sets out to look away from himself and to concentrate his thoughts upon the people whom he serves, the sacred interests which are entrusted to his care and the day in which he is to work, its challenge, its promise, its energies of opinion and of purpose, its sustaining hopes and exciting expectations. The scene will inspire him, not thought of himself.

The opportunity of our day in the field of politics no man can mistake who can read any, even the most superficial, signs of the times. We have never seen a day when duty was more plain, the task to be performed more obvious, the way in which to accomplish it more easy to determine. The air has in recent months cleared amazingly about us, and thousands, hundreds of thousands, have lifted their eyes to look about them to see things they never saw before, to comprehend things that once seemed vague and elusive. The whole world has changed within the lifetime of men not yet in their thirties, the world of business and therefore the world of society and the world of politics. The organization and movement of business are new and upon a novel scale. Business has changed so rapidly that for a long time we were confused, alarmed, bewildered, in a sort of terror of the things we had ourselves raised up. We talked about them either in sensational articles in the magazines which distorted every line of the picture, or in conservative editorials in our newspapers which stoutly denied that anything at all had happened, or in grave discourses which tried to treat them as perfectly normal phenomena, or in legislative debates which sought to govern them with statutes which matched them neither in size nor shape.

A Word on Corporations. But if only by sheer dint of talking about them, either to frighten or to reassure one another or to make ourselves out wiser or more knowing than our fellows, we have at last turned them about and looked at them from almost every angle and begin to see them whole, as they are. Corporations are no longer hobgoblins which have sprung at us out of some mysterious ambush, nor yet unwelcome inventions of rascally rich men, nor yet the puzzling devices by which ingenious lawyers build up huge rights out of a multitude of small wrongs, but merely organizations of a perfectly intelligible sort which the law has licensed for the convenience of extensive business, organizations which have proved very useful, but which have for the time being slipped out of the control of the very law that gave them leave to be and that can make or unmake them at pleasure. We have now to set ourselves to control them, soberly, but effectively, and to bring them thoroughly within the regulation of the law.

There is a great opportunity here, for wise regulation, wise adjustment, will mean the removal of half the difficulties that now beset us in our search for justice and equality and fair chances of fortune for the individuals who make up our modern society. And there is a great obligation as well as a great opportunity, an imperative obligation, from which we cannot escape if we would. Public opinion is at last wide awake. It begins to understand the problems to be dealt with. It begins to see very clearly indeed the objects to be sought. It knows what has been going on. It sees where resistance has come from whenever efforts at reform have been made and knows also the means of resistance that have been resorted to. It is watchful, insistent, suspicious. No man who wishes to enjoy the public confidence dare hold back, and if he is wise he will not resort to subterfuge. A duty is exacted of him which he must perform simply, directly, immediately. The gate of opportunity stands wide open. If we are foolish enough to be unwilling to pass through it the whip of opinion will drive us through.

No wise man will say, of course, that he sees the whole problem of reform lying plain before him or knows how to frame the entire body of law that will be necessary to square business with the general interest and put right and fairness and public spirit in the saddle again in all the transactions of our new society, but some things are plain enough, and upon these we can act.

Wants Liability Law.
In the first place, it is plain that our laws with regard to the relations of employer and employee are in many respects wholly antiquated and impossible. They were framed for another age which nobody now living remembers, which is indeed so remote from our life that it would be difficult for many of us to understand it if it were described to us. The employer is now generally a corporation or huge company of some kind. The employee is one of hundreds or of thousands brought together, not by individual masters whom they know and with whom they have personal relations, but by agents of one sort or another. Workmen are marshaled in great numbers for the performance of a multitude of particular tasks under a common discipline. They generally use dangerous and powerful machinery, over whose repair and renewal they have no control. New rules must be devised with regard to their obligations and their rights, their obligations to their employers and their responsibilities to one another. New rules must be devised for their protection, for their compensation when injured, for their support when disabled.

We call these questions of employers' liability, questions of workingmen's compensation, but those terms do not suggest quite the whole matter. There is something very new and very big and very complex about these new relations of capital and labor. A new economic society has sprung up, and we must effect a new set of adjustments. We must not pit power against weakness. The employer is generally in our day, as I have said, not an individual, but a powerful group of individuals, and yet the workman is still, under our existing law, an individual when dealing with his employer in case of accident, for example, or of loss of or illness, as well as in every contractual relationship. We must have a workman's compensation act which will not put upon him the burden of fighting powerful composite employers to obtain his rights, but which will give him his rights without suit, directly and without contest, by automatic operation of law, as if of a law of insurance.

This is the first adjustment needed, because it affects the rights, the happiness, the lives and fortunes of the largest number and because it is the adjustment for which justice cries loudest and with the most direct appeal to our hearts as well as to our consciences.

But there is regulation needed which lies back of that and is much more fundamental. The composite employer himself needs to have his character and powers overhauled, his constitution and rights reconsidered, readjusted to the fundamental and abiding interests of society. If I may speak very plainly, we are much too free with grants of charters to corporations in New Jersey. A corporation exists not of natural right, but only by license of law, and the law, if we look at the matter in good conscience, is responsible for what it creates. It can never rightly authorize any kind of fraud or imposition. It cannot righteously allow the setting up of a business which has no sound basis or which follows methods which in any way outrage justice or fair dealing or the principles of honest industry. The law cannot give its license to things of that kind. It thereby authenticates what it ought of right to forbid.

I would urge, therefore, the imperative obligation of public policy and of public honesty we are under to effect such changes in the law of the state as will henceforth effectually prevent the abuse of the privilege of incorporation which has in recent years brought so much discredit upon our state. In order to do this it will be necessary to regulate and restrict the issue of securities, to enforce regulations with regard to bond-fide capital, examining very rigorously the basis of capitalization, and to prescribe methods by which the public shall be safeguarded against fraud, deception, extortion and every abuse of its confidence.

His View of Corporations.
And such scrutiny and regulation ought not to be confined to corporations seeking charters. They ought also to be extended to corporations already operating under the license and authority of the state, for the right to undertake such regulation is susceptible of easy and obvious justification. A modern corporation—that is, a modern joint stock company—is in no proper sense an intimate or private concern. It is not set up on the risk and adventure of a few persons, the persons who originated it, manage it, carry it to failure or success. On the contrary, it is set up at what may be called the common risk. It is a risk and adventure in which the public are invited to share, and the hundreds, perhaps thousands, who subscribe to the stock do in fact share in it, oftentimes without sharing also in any effectual manner in the control and development of the business in which their risk is taken. Moreover, these modern enterprises, with their exchequers replenished out of the common store of the savings of the nation, conduct business transactions whose scope and influence are as wide as whole regions of the Union, often as wide as the nation itself. They affect sometimes the lives and fortunes of whole communities, dominate prices, determine land values, make and unmake markets, develop or check the growth of city and of countryside. If law is at liberty to adjust the general conditions of society itself it is at liberty to control these great instrumentalities which nowadays, in so large part, determine the character of society. Wherever we can find what the common interest is in respect of them we shall find a solid enough basis for law, for reform.

The matter is most obvious when we turn to what we have come to designate public service or public utility corporations—those which supply us with the means of transportation and with those common necessities, water, light, heat and power. Here are corporations exercising peculiar and extraordinary franchises and bearing such a relation to society in respect of the services they render—that it may be said that they are the very medium of its life. They render a public and common service of which it is necessary that practically everybody should avail himself.

We have a public utilities commission in New Jersey, but it has hardly more than powers of inquiry and advice. It could even as it stands be made a powerful instrument of publicity and of opinion, but it may also modestly wait until it is asked before expressing a judgment, and in any case it will have the uncomfortable consciousness that its opinion is gratuitous and carries no weight of effective authority. This will not do. It is understood by everybody who knows anything of the common interest that it must have complete regulative powers—the power to regulate rates, the power to turn and make public everything that should furnish a basis for the public judgment with regard to the soundness, the efficiency, the economy of the business—the power, in brief, to adjust such service at every point and in every respect, whether of equipment or charges or methods of financing or means of service, to the general interest of the communities affected. This can be done, as experience elsewhere has demonstrated, not only without destroying the profits of such business, but also with the effect of putting it upon a more satisfactory footing for those who conduct it no less than for those who make use of it day by day.

Such regulation, based on thorough and authoritative inquiry, will go far toward disclosing and establishing those debatable values upon which so many questions of taxation turn. There is an uneasy feeling throughout the state, in which, I dare say, we all share, that there are glaring inequalities in our system—or, at any rate, in our practice—of taxation. The most general complaint is that there is great inequality as between individuals and corporations. I do not see how any one can determine whether there are or not, for we have absolutely no uniform system of assessment. It would seem that in every locality there is some local variety of practice in the rate, the ratio of assessment value to market value, and that every assessor is a law unto himself. Our whole system of taxation, which is no system at all, needs overhauling from top to bottom. There can be no system, no safety, no regulation, in a multitude of boards. An efficient public utilities commission will be a beginning toward a system of taxation as well as toward a system of corporate control. We cannot fairly tax values until we have ascertained and established them.

Plea For Conservation.

And the great matter of conservation seems to me like a part of the same subject. The safeguarding of our water supply, the purification of our streams in order to maintain them as sources of life and their protection against those who would divert them or diminish their volume for private profit, the maintenance of such woodlands as are left us and the reforestation of bare tracts more suited for forest than for field, the sanitation of great urban districts such as cover the northern portions of our state by thorough systems of drainage and of refuse disposal, the protection of the public health and the facilitation of urban and suburban life—these are all public obligations which fall sooner or later upon us as the lawmakers of the commonwealth, and they are all parts of the one great task of adjustment which has fallen to our generation. Our business is to adjust right to right, interest to interest, and to systematize right and convenience, individual rights and corporate privileges upon the single basis of the general good, the good of whole communities, the good which no one will look after or suffice to secure if the legislator does not, the common good for whose safeguarding and maintenance government is intended.

This readjustment has not been going on very fast or very favorably in New Jersey. It has been observed that it lipped or was prevented or neglected in other states as well. Everywhere there has been confusion of counsel and many a sad miscarriage of plan. There have consequently been some very radical criticisms of our methods of political action. There is widespread dissatisfaction with what our legislatures do and still more serious dissatisfaction with what they do not do. Some persons have said that representative government has proved too indirect and clumsy an instrument and has broken down as a means of popular control. Others, looking a little deeper, have said that it was not representative government that had broken down, but the effort to get it. They have pointed out that with our present methods of machine nomination and our present methods of elections, which were nothing more than a choice between one set of machine nominees and another, we did not get representative government at all—at least not government representative of the people, but government representative of political managers who serve their own interests and the interests of those with whom

New Election Law.

Obviously this is something that goes to the root of the whole matter. Back of all reform lies the method of getting it. Back of the question what you want lies the question, the fundamental question of all government, how are you going to get it? How are you going to get public servants who will obtain it for you? How are you going to get genuine representatives who will serve your real interests and not their own or the interests of some special group or body of your fellow citizens whose power is of the few and not of the many? These are the queries which have drawn the attention of the whole country to the subject of the direct primary, the direct choice of representatives by the people, without the intervention of the nominating machine, the nominating organization.

I earnestly commend to your careful consideration in this connection the laws in recent years adopted in the state of Oregon, whose effect has been to bring government back to the people and to protect it from the control of the representatives of selfish and special interests. They seem to me to point the direction which we must also take before we have completed our regeneration of a government which has suffered so seriously and so long as ours has here in New Jersey from private management and organized selfishness. Our primary laws, extended and perfected, will pave the way. They should be extended to every elective office and to the selection of every party committee or official as well in order that the people may once for all take charge of their own affairs, their own political organization and association, and the methods of primary selection should be so perfected that the primaries will be put upon the same free footing that the methods of election themselves are meant to rest upon.

We have here the undoubtedly sound chain and sequence of reforms, an actual direct choice by the people of the men who are to organize alike their parties and their government, and those measures which true representatives of the people will certainly favor and adopt—systematic compensation for injured workmen, the careful regulation in the common interest of all corporations, both in respect of their organization and of their methods of business, and especially of public service corporations; the equalization of taxes and the conservation of the natural resources of the state and of the health and safety of its people.

Another matter of the most vital consequence goes with all these—namely, systematic ballot reform and thorough and stringent provisions of law against corrupt practices in connection alike with primaries and with elections. We have lagged behind our sister states in these important matters and should make haste to avail ourselves of their example and their experience. Here again, Oregon may be our guide.

A Big Program.

This is a big program, but it is a perfectly consistent program and a perfectly feasible program and one upon whose details it ought to be possible to agree even within the limits of a single legislative session. You may count upon my co-operation at every step of the work.

I have not spoken of the broad question of economy in the administration of the state government, an economy which can probably be effected only through a thorough reorganization upon business principles, the familiar business principles so thoroughly understood and so intelligently practiced by Americans, but so seldom applied to their governments. We make offices for party purposes too often instead of conducting our public business by the organization best adapted to efficiency and economy. I have not dwelt upon the subject in this address because it is a very complicated one, hardly suited for brief exposition, and because so obvious a requirement of honest government needs hardly more than to be mentioned to be universally indorsed by the public. I shall try to point out to you from time to time the means by which reorganization and economy may be secured with benefit to the public service.

But there is a subject which lies a little off the beaten track to which I do wish to turn for a moment before I close. The whole country has remarked the extraordinary rise in the prices of foodstuffs in recent years and the fact that prices are successfully maintained at an intolerably high level at all seasons, whether they be the seasons of plenty or of scarcity. We have a partial remedy at our own hand—a remedy which was proposed to the legislature last year by Mr. James of Hudson county, but which is said to have been defeated in some questionable fashion in the last hours of the session. It is estimated that most of the food supply of the people of northern New Jersey and half the food supply for New York city is kept in cold storage warehouses in Hudson county, awaiting the desired state of the market. There is abundant reason to believe that it is the practice of dealers to seclude immense quantities of beef and other meats, poultry, eggs, fish, etc., in cold storage in times of abundance in order that the price of these indispensable foods may be kept high and the foods dealt out only when the market is satisfactory for that purpose even if the meats and eggs have to be kept for years together before being sold. Figures said to be actually of record foot up almost incredible totals of the amounts thus held in waiting, running into millions of heads of cattle, of sheep and lambs, of hogs, millions of pounds of poultry and hundreds of millions of eggs.

The result is not only to control prices, but also to endanger health, because of the effect of too long storage upon the foodstuffs themselves and because of the deleterious effects of taking them out of cold storage and exposing them to thaw in the markets. The least effect is less of nutritious quality; the worse, the generation of actual poisons by decay and even putrefaction.

No limit at all is put upon this abuse by law, and strong influences are brought to bear by interested parties to prevent the enactment of remedial legislation. Indictments were brought in Hudson county, but there was no sufficient law to sustain them. A bill was introduced, as I have said, at the last session of the legislature, but was, I am told, after lingering a very long time in the assembly committee, mysteriously lost when called up for passage in the senate during the last hours of the session. I earnestly urge that the legislature take up this important matter at the earliest possible time and pass some effective law of inspection and limitation to enactment. It would give me great pleasure to sign a bill that would really accomplish the purpose.

The People's Servants.

We are servants of the people, of the whole people. Their interest should be our constant study. We should pursue it without fear or favor. Our reward will be greater than that to be obtained in any other service—the satisfaction of furthering large ends, large purposes, of being an intimate part of that slow but constant and ever hopeful force of liberty and of enlightenment that is lifting mankind from age to age to new levels of progress and achievement and of having been something greater than successful men. For we shall have been instruments of humanity, men whose thought was not for themselves, but for the true and lasting comfort and happiness of men everywhere. It is not the foolish ardor of too sanguine or too radical reform that I urge upon you, but merely the tasks that are evident and pressing, the things we have knowledge and guidance enough to do, and to do with confidence and energy. I merely point out the present business of progressive and serviceable government, the next stage on the journey of duty. The path is as inviting as it is plain. Shall we hesitate to tread it? I look forward with genuine pleasure to the prospect of being your comrade upon it.

DR. VAN DYKE ANXIOUS TO LEAVE PRINCETON

Finding that the trustees of Princeton University were loath to act on his resignation presented last November, Dr. Henry Van Dyke, Murray professor of English literature, issued a statement Saturday night. This was really a supplement of the formal resignation. In it Dr. Van Dyke says that his letter of November 24 was "laid on the table" and it "is the first time that a letter of mine has had this particular experience." He then adds: "But there is nothing about the reasons for resigning alluded to in my letter which is not perfectly clear and simple. Here they are as they were given in my letter of 1907: 'While this action will not take from Princeton anything that she needs or wants, it will add to the available resources of the university, the endowment which was contributed by the generosity of my friends when I came, and will leave me free to pursue my work in other directions.'

"That letter of 1907 was withdrawn in deference to certain requests and opinions, which seem to be sufficient for the purpose. I am deeply attached to Princeton as my alma mater, but you see, she can easily spare a mere writer of books and teacher of reading from her notable faculty. Future plans I have none, except to go on writing for my living and preaching for love in an atmosphere friendly and favorable to that kind of work."

In giving out this statement, Mr. Van Dyke said:

"I have been sitting on the back porch with my boys (the students) long enough, and if I pick up my knapsack and get out I guess it will not make very much difference."

Dr. Van Dyke has gone to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., to install Rev. James M. Farr as pastor of the Presbyterian church in that city.

17-Year Locust Is Due.

This is the year for the seventeen year locusts to appear. They are due along the Atlantic seaboard from Virginia to New York, but Dr. Raymond E. Dittmars, curator of the Bronx Zoo, said Sunday that he believed the Hudson River would check the pest. "I do not believe the swarms this year will cross the Hudson," said Mr. Dittmars. "The locusts will probably migrate north as far as Nyack, while the interior of New Jersey will be hit the heaviest in this neighborhood. I think the damage that will result will not be of any great moment."

ANNUAL MEETING Y.W.C.A.

New Members Elected to Board of Managers Last Night.

AN EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITION.

Membership Now Largest in Its History—Lectures and Classes Are Largely Attended.

More than 200 persons were present at the Young Women's Christian Association's meeting last night, and enjoyed the evening spent in hearing reports of the work done during the past year. It has been undoubtedly the best year in the history of the association and the actual good accomplished cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

Mrs. Frederick J. Mead, president of the association, read a report in which the work was outlined for the past year. It showed improvement all along the line. In closing Mrs. Mead thanked the clergymen, doctors and others who had so materially assisted in the association's welfare. All the friends who had in any way contributed to the success were remembered and thanked.

Mrs. James R. Joy, treasurer, reported the total receipts for the year as $6,681.58; expenditures, $6,433.53; balance on hand, $248.05. Miss Lillian Force, chairman of the membership committee, reported a total of 784 members. Mrs. Foster as chairman of the House committee told the excellent work of the committee and said that transient guests had been cared for on 648 nights.

Mrs. Percy H. Stewart, chairman of the finance committee, thanked friends for their generous support, mentioning the legacy left to the association by Mrs. Edgerton. She said that her committee expected to continue the conservative financial policy of the preceding year and to run the association finances in every way consistent with the growing needs of the work. They appreciate the support of the public and hope for a continuance of it in the great work being done among the girls and women of Plainfield.

In the educational department of the association great progress has been made. Mrs. William D. Murray under whose direction this work is carried on, said that there were 193 girls enrolled in the classes which include domestic science, art and English. There were on exhibition many fine examples of the sewing, embroidery and other classes in the rooms last night, all of which elicited favorable comment. Of the religious work there was much to be said. At present there are 148 girls enrolled in the Bible classes and the ten-cent Bible class suppers have been well patronized.

There has been an average attendance of 55 at the vesper services on Sundays. These services have had the advantage of splendid speakers and a tremendous interest has been shown by those who have attended. During the year the members have contributed $105 for the association's representative in India. It was announced that Mrs. Richard Boardman had taken the chairmanship of the Personal Service committee and Miss Dorothy Fleming of the Missionary committee.

Miss Margaret McCutchen, chairman of the physical culture department, told of the splendid work being done along physical lines. Especial stress was laid upon the efforts of Dr. Clara Krans in preparing the lecture on "First Aid Nurse" and by Miss Margaret Mosher for her efficient manner of conducting the actual physical development of the girls.

Reports were also received from the Junior department. There are 91 girls in this department with two clubs who hold weekly meetings for recreation and sewing.

The nominating committee announced through the chairman, Mrs. Lowry the following for election to the Board of Managers: Mrs. Margaret McCutchen to succeed Mrs. William Tallafiero; Miss Isabel Ashwell to succeed Miss Elsie Goddard; Dr. Clara Krans to succeed Miss Edith Smalley and Mrs. Henry Fullerton to succeed Mrs. Walter McGee. Those re-elected to the board were, Mrs. James R. Joy, Miss Ethel Tittsworth, Mrs. Rufus P. Lincoln and Miss Harriet Mattison.

Greetings from the Berlin, Germany conference were brought by Miss Elizabeth Dodge who attended the conference last April. Miss Helen Barnes a guest of the association for the evening, spoke briefly upon the great world wide awakening in all departments of endeavor.
