

MISSION AT GRACE

Program is Announced for Week of Religious Conferences.

TWO SERVICES EACH DAY.

Rev. Charles Fiske to Be in Charge of Special Meetings Beginning on Sunday, February 19.

A series of religious conferences will be held in Grace Episcopal church beginning Sunday, February 19, by Rev. Charles Fiske, rector of the church of St. Michael and All Angels, of Baltimore, Md. The services will be held daily in accordance with the appended program. Mr. Fiske comes here at considerable effort to hold these conferences. He is rector of a parish of 1,600 communicants and to give a week of his time here, just before Lent means much to him and his congregation.

Rev. Mr. Stevenson thinks his congregation owes it to Mr. Fiske by attending as many of these services as possible. Rev. Mr. Fiske is especially qualified for the work he comes here to do. He has had experience in conducting missions and he will come with the force of a new voice, to strike a new spiritual note. He was one of the four clergymen sent to San Francisco immediately after the great earthquake to resuscitate its church life, and the work he did there and has done elsewhere is an earnest of what he can do here if given the support he deserves.

These are the services: Sunday, February 19, 11 a. m., "Christ in Common Life;" 3 p. m., Children's service, "The Rule of Life;" 4:30 p. m., "What Seek Ye?" Morning instructions at 10 o'clock and evening service at 8 o'clock during the rest of the week including Saturday and Sunday, Monday, a. m., "The Source of Sacrifices;" p. m., "The Peril of Unreality;" Tuesday, a. m., "Founded in Sacrifice;" p. m., "The Perils of Respectability;" Wednesday, a. m., "A Regenerated Life;" p. m., "The Danger of Success;" Friday, a. m., "The Food of the New Life;" p. m., "The Soul that is Never Alone;" and at 3:30 in the afternoon "The Law of God's Presence;" Saturday, a. m., "The Works of the New Life;" p. m., "Preparation for Holy Communion;" Sunday, 7:30 a. m., Corporate communion of thanksgiving; 11 o'clock, "Jesus of Nazareth Passeth By;" 3 p. m., children's service, "The Law of Service;" 4:30, closing service, "Knowing Jesus."

SNOWBALLER LANDS IN THE POLICE COURT.

A general mix-up occurred yesterday afternoon near Liberty and Third street when Edward Coffey and a gang of small boys snowballed Walter Ulmer, of the West End. Ulmer caught Coffey and washed his face in the snow and Coffey made a complaint to the police.

Coffey has a bad record as a stone thrower and Judge DeMeza did not believe his denial when accused of throwing snowballs, as he had received a complaint about the same gang of boys earlier in the day. The police will see to it that the practice is stopped.

A Birthday Surprise.

George Rittenhouse, of Linden avenue, was given a surprise party at his home last night in honor of his birthday. Firstbrook, monologues by James Moon and piano selections by Mrs. W. J. Firstbrook, who also acted as accompanist for the singing. Refreshments were served at a late hour. The affair was arranged by Mrs. Rittenhouse and Mrs. George Bird.

BANQUET DETAILS ARE COMPLETED

At the meeting of the various committees of the Chamber of Commerce last night the final details of the coming banquet at Truett Hall were closed up and the prospects are that this banquet will surpass anything of the kind ever given in the city. Decorations of the most elaborate character have been contracted for. An orchestra has been engaged and a precursor to lead the singing of popular songs, a printed copy of which will be at the plate of each diner.

The assignments of places at the various tables has been practically completed and they will be lucky who get tickets for the affair at the last moment. It would be better to subscribe now rather than on the evening of the banquet. Tickets may be obtained from Judge John Ulrich, secretary of the chamber, at his office in the Frost building.

AUTOMOBILE TRUCKS WILL BE BUILT HERE

The Sauer Motor-Truck Company, of New York and Chicago, has just completed arrangements whereby it will transfer its plant for the manufacture of commercial vehicles to the Quincy-Manchester-Sargent Company's plant at West Front street and Clinton avenue, and plans for enlarging the local plant are now well underway. This new industry for Plainfield will mean much, as a large force of men will be employed at the plant.

The articles of incorporation for the new plant were filed at Elizabeth, yesterday afternoon. The authorized capital stock is $1,600,000, divided into 16,000 shares of the par value of $100 each. Of the 16,000 shares, 6,000 will be preferred stock and 10,000 common. The incorporators are Daniel W. Yeckley, of Arlington; Henry B. Ranken, of Port Washington; and Charles S. Fallows, of New York city.

W. D. Sargent was identified with the Sauer Motor Truck Company, and the entire capital stock has been purchased by him and his associates, who will assume all assets and liabilities.

Miss Ida Louise Spicer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Denison Spicer, of West Fifth street, and Irving Adelbert Hunting, also of this city, were married at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of about sixty relatives and friends. Miss Mabel Maxson presided at the piano and rendered the wedding march as the bridal party entered the parlor.

C. M. ULRICH DEAD

Former Well Known Plainfielder Passes Away in New York.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE THE CAUSE.

Member of Several Fraternal Orders—Survived By a Wife and Two Children—Judge Ulrich's Brother.

Charles M. Ulrich, a former prominent resident of this city, died yesterday noon at his home, 445 Manhattan avenue, New York. He was taken ill at Denver, Col., several weeks ago and his condition became so serious that he was sent east as far as Chicago in a special car. Members of the Masonic order were in charge of him and continued the trip to the destination. The best possible medical aid was secured, but he steadily sank until the end. Bright's disease and complications were the causes of death.

Mr. Ulrich was born in New York in 1850 and came to Plainfield in 1871 at the solicitation of the late Nathan Harper. The latter was secretary of the Security Fire Insurance Co., by which Mr. Ulrich was employed. The concern sent him to Kansas City soon after he took up his residence in Plainfield and later ordered him to Chicago to assume general management of the business in that city. He was on his way there in 1872 when the great fire broke out which almost swept the place away, and forced the Security Company to fail.

Mr. Ulrich afterwards established the East Side Packing Company in New York and in later years associated himself with Joseph A. Blatz, his brother-in-law, in the same business in this city, the firm name being Ulrich & Blatz. Their plant was located at West Front street and Exchange alley. The concern sold out to another company after time and Mr. Ulrich engaged in other interests. He removed from Plainfield to New York about eight years ago. He went to Denver last spring to assume charge of a concrete plant, continuing his superintendency until his illness began.

Mr. Ulrich was a member of Anchor lodge, No. 149, F. A. M.; a past high priest of Jerusalem chapter, R. A. M.; past chancellor of Perseverance lodge, No. 74, K. of P., and a member of Plainfield council, No. 711, Royal Arcanum. Surviving him are his wife, one son, Carl T. Ulrich, and a daughter, Mrs. Harry Bliss, of Stamford, Conn. He was also brother of former Judge John M. Ulrich, of this city, and Mrs. Joseph A. Blatz, of the borough. The funeral will be held at his late home tomorrow night at 8 o'clock and burial will be in the family plot in the Lutheran cemetery on Long Island.

REAL ESTATE MEN FIGURE IN A SUIT

The suit of William H. Abbott against Charles H. Lyman to recover the balance of a note given by Mr. Lyman to Mr. Abbott in 1899 was called this morning in the district court before Judge William Newcorn, but on application of William A. Coddington, counsel for Mr. Lyman, a jury will try the case which has been postponed until next Thursday. The papers in the case set forth that Mr. Lyman gave Mr. Abbott a note for $270.07 in July, 1899, on which a payment was made in March, 1905, amounting to $132. The suit is for the balance of $138.07, with interest for six years, alleged to be due by Mr. Abbott. Mr. Lyman's defense is that the note was paid by services rendered in selling a property for Mr. Abbott.

Several prominent real estate men will be subpoenaed to serve on the jury.

CANCELLED GAMES CAUSE OF TROUBLE

Physical Director Whittaker, of the Y. M. C. A., attended a meeting of the association physical directors at Newark, yesterday, when among other things there was discussed the trouble experienced this year through the cancelling of basketball games by certain teams. It was learned that the association cannot impose a fine on defaulting teams and the only alternative is for the directors to use their best influence to prevent cancellation.

The Plainfield team has suffered much from this trouble during the season, causing disappointment to supporters of the game. Only recently the Washington Heights team cancelled a game here and yet that night played at Orange, Belleville, which has one of the best teams in the State, and which is scheduled to play here Saturday night, cancelled its first game of the season with Plainfield.

Director Whittaker has been working at a considerable disadvantage in this his first year here, because of a lack of good material for a first team, but he is looking for better results in the future. Despite the handicaps, the team has done fairly good work.

MISS CUMBERSON MR. LETSON'S BRIDE

Miss Eleanor J. Cumberston, daughter of Mrs. Robert L. Lee, of West Sixth street, and Thomas Herbert Letson, of New Brunswick, were married yesterday at the home of the bride's mother. Rev. J. W. Rogan, pastor of the Presbyterian church, of which the bride was an attendant while teaching in the public schools at Red Bank, performed the ceremony. The couple was unattended, the affair being a quiet one owing to a recent death of the groom's father.

The couple left yesterday afternoon for an extended wedding trip to Cuba and Bermuda and upon their return will reside in New Brunswick. The groom's employed by the American Hoisting Company, of New York.

Among the guests at the wedding were F. W. Letson, Mrs. Sadie Letson, W. C. Letson, Miss Etta Lafetra, of New Brunswick; Miss Mary Cumberston, an aunt to the bride, and Miss Elizabeth Cumberston, of Brooklyn; Miss Mary M. Cumberston, sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lee, Miss Emma L. Lee, Charles Lee, George Lee, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Rogan and Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Kemble.

PARENTS MUST SEND CHILDREN TO SCHOOL.

Two Italians, Joseph Genaro and Tony Sunda, both of the East End, were arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court this morning charged with neglecting to send their children to school. Genaro's thirteen-year-old daughter has failed to attend St. Mary's parochial school regularly and Tony Sunda's two children have been truants too often to allow the matter to pass unnoticed.

Genaro was fined $5 and Sunda was given a suspended sentence of $5 or 20 days in the county jail. The sentence in Sunda's case will be executed if he fails to send the two youngsters to the Lincoln school as directed by Miss Ball, truant officer.

CARNEGIE MAY AID PUBLIC LIBRARY

Report That Philanthropist Will Give $50,000 to Local Institution Lacks Confirmation.

DIRECTORS ARE EVASIVE.

A report was current today that Andrew Carnegie would give $50,000 to further the plans of the Plainfield Public Library and Reading Room directors, who aim to widen the usefulness of that institution and to obtain more satisfactory quarters for it.

When several of the directors, in turn, were asked the direct question by a Daily Press reporter as to whether the report was correct each declined to make any statement. Some of them evaded the question, while others simply said that they would not talk about it at this time. It has been known for some time that the quarters were not adequate for the needs of the city and the directors have given much careful thought and attention to a discussion of plans for providing the city with a suitable building.

The utmost secrecy has been maintained about the matter and one of the directors in conversation with a Daily Press reporter today, remarked that he was a little puzzled to know how the matter became public. When told that the report was current, he replied that he did not want to prevent an announcement of the project, but that he could at present give no details.

Dr. Leonard Waldo, to whom The Daily Press reporter was referred for information on the subject, said in answer to the question as to library, that Mr. Carnegie was willing to lend aid to the public library, that Mr. Carnegie was always willing to render such assistance, but that there was a question of terms to be considered and this required considerable thought.

"For a long time," said Dr. Waldo, "the directors have felt the importance of securing larger quarters for the public library, one that would be in keeping with the fine library owned by the city. I sincerely hope that nothing will happen now to upset the plans of the directors. I cannot at this time give any details of the plans under consideration."

Dr. Waldo at the time was on his way to hold a conference with Mayor Moy on the subject, it being his desire to get the ideas of the city executive regarding the proposition. Before the city could accept a gift of money from Andrew Carnegie the Mayor and Council would undoubtedly have to concur and it is with a view to getting the approval of the city government that Dr. Waldo held a conference with the Mayor this afternoon.

When questioned on the subject both C. Boardman Tyler and William M. Stillman, both directors of the Public Library, refused to discuss the matter.

WESTFIELD.

It is probable that there will be an investigation by Westfield Council as to the cost of the new fire department house. The building was to cost $20,000, but now the committee in charge of the work ask for an extra appropriation of $3,000, to complete the building. Several members of the Council think that the situation should be investigated, though there is no charge of any irregularity.

Twenty-three clubs out of about sixty had made returns up to yesterday afternoon to the handicap committee of the Metropolitan Golf Association, while two, Glen Ridge and Upper Montclair, telephoned yesterday that their lists were on the way. The returns have started more promptly this year than for several seasons.

An improved water plant is to be installed by the St. Andrews Golf Club this spring. Over $5,000 will be spent on it. The Apawamis Club has arranged to make any changes in the course for the amateur championship to supplement those which have already been planned, that may be suggested by the United States Golf Association. No expense will be spared to make the course the equal of any in the way of bunker "regeneration," which is all that will be needed as Apawamis has long possessed the best turf on the fairway and putting greens.

News and Notes

BASEBALL.

The Jersey City Baseball Club has changed hands. President Edward Barrow, of the Eastern League, was officially notified of the fact Tuesday in Baltimore and announced it to be magnates in session at the Hotel Remert to make the final preparations for the 1911 campaign and to pass on several suggestions which Barrow, Dunn and several others have to make.

James J. Lillis, a Jersey City lawyer, purchased the franchise from the estate of Robert Davis and secured a lease of West Side Park. The price is said to have been $25,000.

The first official act of the new owner was to give manager Jack Ryan a three-year contract. Lillis the new owner, like his father, was a capital player, and the son for several seasons has managed semi-professional clubs. It is said that he will give Jack Ryan free rein, and the manager alone will be to blame if things don't go right. The club has not been a paying proposition for several years, but the new owners, it is said, will adopt a very liberal policy and buy the best players obtainable.

Just before the meeting adjourned the committee of the Eastern League Baseball Writers' Association, was received by the magnates. President Sparrow, of the association, requested that the league recognize the association's membership card, and this was granted. At the organization meeting in New York, it was agreed that if the association was recognized by the league each representative, appointed by the association should have absolute control of the press box. The magnates discussed the new organization freely and said they favored the association, declaring it would have their backing. The association will work for the success of the league. The director of the association in Newark is John H. Shields, baseball editor of the News.

Manager Ryan, who has asked for waivers on Londrigan, who played in the outfield in about twenty games last year. Londrigan did not show much for the Skeeters, and Jack believes the young fellow is a player for the class B teams. Waivers also have been asked on Clement, who is one of the old timers up in Skeeterstown. Clement was a fast outfielder at one time and a pretty fair batter, but he has gone back. When Clement was picked up for Jersey City, Billy Murray was manager of the team. Billy was impressed with the speed of Clement, despite the fact that the outfielder was a weak hitter. For weeks Murray practiced Clement at bunting and running to first. Being a left-handed batter, Clement, with his fast legs, soon learned to drop the ball and beat it to first in record-breaking time. When Clement became a sure bunter he was played, and for several seasons he got away with many a base hit that would have been a sure out for many other players.

Manager Joe McGinnity made a suggestion that pleased President Ed Barrow so well that he is going to bring it to the attention of other magnates. The plan suggested was a pay as you enter ball park. The "Iron Man" has been of the opinion for several months that such an arrangement is possible. Instead of ticket sellers the men would be employed as change makers. The idea of standing in line for tickets would be done away with to a great extent. Barrows said that the plan was an excellent one. McGinnity said that he believed the big league ball parks would be using the system before many seasons had gone by.

"George Van Haltren, the old Giant outfielder, had a signal tipping bureau of his own," says Christy Mathewson, Giant pitcher. "Van invented his system."

"Van would try to call the turn on what the pitcher was going to use. If he decided to go after a curve, he never tried to hit anything else. He let many good ones go by because he wasn't prepared to swing, but when the kind he was playing for came up, Van used to murder the ball. He was one of the good hitters for several years."

"Van Haltren's plan reminds me of being peculiarly successful against Jesse Burkett," continued Matty. "Jesse was one of the greatest hitters of his time. The first time I worked against him he hit one of my curves a mile."

"I knew he was waiting for the kind of ball I used and expected I would use curves most of the time. I never gave him another curve, and his first hit was the only one he ever made off me, and I pitched seven games against St. Louis that season."

Baseball at Yale.
The battery candidates for the Yale baseball team reported Tuesday to Captain Allan Corey, of the varsity team. There were forty enrolled in the squad. Orders were given for the candidates to report this afternoon to begin daily cage practice, although the infielders and outfield squad will not report till nearly March 1. Captain Corey stated that no coach for the pitchers would be engaged this season. William Lush, the former Cleveland, will have entire charge of the practice this season.

There is to be something of a contest over the award of the new fixture of the Metropolitan Golf Association—the inter-scholastic championship—for the Plainfield Country Club is an applicant for the affair, in addition to the Fox Hills Club. The Plainfield members think they have an extra good chance of landing the competition, because, despite the size of the organization, the club has no bar. That fact, by the way, explains why the New Jersey and other championships have never been held there.

It is argued that parents will be ready to send their young sons, even from Boston and Philadelphia, to such a club. Plainfield has a large junior list and would enter at least a dozen candidates. Leighton Cal-

COL. STEVENS FIFTH ROAD COMMISSIONER

The appointment of Col. E. A. Stevens, of Hoboken, by Governor Woodrow Wilson, as State road commissioner, recalls the fact that he will be the fifth man to fill that office since May 25, 1894, when Edward Burrough, of Camden, was the first appointee to the place. He held the position for one year, dying in office. He was succeeded by Henry I. Budd, of Mt. Holly, who was appointed May 25, 1895 and died in office on January 21, 1905.

E. C. Hutchinson, of Trenton, was the successor of Mr. Budd, serving from January 1905 to 1908. Then Frederick Gilkyson, of Trenton, was appointed in January, 1908, serving to February of the present year. The Legislature will meet on Tuesday, when it is expected that Col. Stevens will be confirmed. It is generally conceded that Col. Stevens will make one of the best road commissioners in the history of the State. State Supervisor of Roads, R. A. Meeker, of this city, has served in his capacity continuously since July, 1900, entering the office during the term of Commissioner Budd. There is undoubtedly no better informed man concerning roads in the State than Mr. Meeker, and he will be in a position to render valuable assistance to the new road commissioner. Mr. Meeker retains his position under the tenure of office act.

A Base Rumor.

A tramp called at the house of a gentleman and said: "I've walked many miles to see you, sir, because people told me that you was very kind to poor chaps like me."

"Oh, they said so, did they?"

"Yes, sir, that's why I came."

"And you are going back the same way?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then, in that case, will you be good enough to contradict this rumor?"—California Christian Advocate.

FRANKLIN MINSTRELS TO HAVE ANNIVERSARY

The Franklin minstrel troupe, of this city, which gained fame in the local amateur field and over the "kerosene" circuit, has planned to hold an anniversary dinner on Washington's birthday eve. On that date six years ago the company gave its first show at Scotch Plains and attained such success that it has been maintained ever since. Appropriately enough the dinner will be held in the same village and Landlord Deegan, of the Scotch Plains hotel, will be the host. It is possible that covers will be laid for seventy-five as there are sixty-one members of the troupe all told, and a number of invited guests.

William J. Firstbrook, the initial manager of the Franklinites, will preside as toastmaster at the banquet and prominent amateur minstrel men will make brief addresses. Mr. Firstbrook is being assisted in making the arrangements by George D. Wilson and George Rittenhouse, who were associated with him in the organization of the troupe in 1906.

INSPECTOR TO TEST ALL ELECTRIC METERS

The electrical inspector of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners has been directed by the board to make an inspection of the meter departments of the various electric light companies of the State. His report will show the kinds of current supplied by the companies for light and power, the types of meters used in measuring the currents, the capacities of the meters, and the equipment in use by the companies for testing the same.

Attention is to be given by the inspector to the portable equipment, to the equipment located permanently in meter testing shops, where these are maintained, and the methods employed for checking the testing apparatus together with its present condition. Where it may be necessary the inspector has been instructed to give assistance in improving the methods employed in testing meters. In each case serial numbers of testing instruments will be obtained and these will be used to provide for future identification. It is the idea of the board that eventually each company will be furnished with a certificate certifying to the accuracy of the testing apparatus employed.

POSSIBLE PAPER-MAKING MATERIALS OF THE FUTURE.

The next great step in utilizing farm waste may be a change in the manufacture of paper, as the wood fibre available will probably be exhausted within a few years.

Experiments by the United States Department of Agriculture have shown that almost any long fibre can be used for paper, and that such waste materials as cotton stalks and corn stalks make paper of very good quality—almost equal to linen. Besides these and other wastes, various plants that can be grown or obtained in large quantities are being tested. Grasses of many kinds are being tested and among them is esparto, an African grass now largely grown in southern Europe, which is being already used for paper for English newspapers.

Bamboo, rice roots, and other plants from Japan and China, are being obtained for study in continuing the search for the paper-making materials of the near future.

The annual basketball contest between the seniors and the faculty of the High School will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3:30. This game promises to be interesting and exciting.

Had a Fellow Feeling.

The business man was sitting in his office, thinking of starting for home, when a suspicious looking person came in with a leather bag in his hand, relates (London) Illustrated Bits.

"If you don't give me five pounds," said the visitor, coming at once to the point, "I will drop this on the floor."

The business man was cool. "What the business man was cool. 'What's in it?' he asked. 'Dynamite,' was the brief reply. 'What will it do if you drop it?'"

"Blow you up!" "Drop it!" was the instant command. "My wife told me when I left home this morning to be sure and send up a bag of flour, and I forgot it. I guess it will take just about as much dynamite as you have there to prepare me for the blowing up I'll get when she sees me!"

He threw himself back in his chair and waited for the explosion, but it did not come.

"I'm a married man myself," said the dynamiter, and quietly slipped out.

No Burglary Says Chief.

A persistent rumor was going the rounds this afternoon that a burglary had been committed in the West End of town and that the robber had gotten away from one of the local patrolmen. When consulted this afternoon Chief of Police Kiely said he knew nothing of the occurrence.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

A plan has been devised by which the congregation of the Presbyterian church at Williamstown hopes to raise $12,000 for the construction of a new edifice.

While Miss Eva Henry, a school teacher, of Bergen county, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Henry, in Millville, she was stricken with diphtheria, and is in a precarious condition.

Bitten on the hand by a pet dog at his home at Barrington, Tuesday, William Austin, nineteen years old, had the wound cauterized at the Homeopathic Hospital in Camden.

Accused of assault and battery on his wife, Charles Deall, a former trolleyman, was committed to jail in default of $300 bail by Justice of the Peace Garrison, in Camden.

Taken suddenly ill near his home at Haddonfield Tuesday night, Isaac Lee Munyon, sixty-six years old, died before medical aid could be summoned. Coroner Litchfield gave a certificate of death from apoplexy.

Falling down stairs at Front street and Kaighn avenue, Camden, Tuesday, John Shill, fifty-four years old, of 211 Mechanic street, sustained a fracture of the left wrist and was cared for at Cooper Hospital.

Because of failing health, Harry T. Nekervis, Tuesday, resigned as cashier of the First National Bank, Camden, and Isaac F. Leech, of Haddonfield who has been receiving teller of the bank's Philadelphia branch, was elected to fill the vacancy.

Edward Dobbs and one of the men on his farm, near Woodbury, who were stunned by lightning last Saturday morning, have not fully recovered from the shock. This is the ninth time in sixteen years that lightning has struck around Mr. Dobbs' place.

The matter of increasing salaries of city officials in Lambertville took another turn Tuesday night at the meeting of the council. The council recently passed an ordinance making a general increase in the salaries. Now it seems that the ordinance is void because the final passage was by the new council, and the measure must be reintroduced and go through the entire proceeding again to become effective. No appointments will be made until April in consequence. The old officers are serving until such appointments shall be made.

WASTE PAPER IN CHINA.

An Oriental has a superstitious regard for bread and will not suffer a single crust to fall to earth or be trodden upon. Should a crumb fall he has a little ceremony to go through with—bowing low, lifting it to his lips, touching his forehead with it and so on—before placing it on a wall or other safe place where the fowls of the air may secure it. He ground in the vicinity. The city already owns land which gives access to this tract from Randolph Road close to the trolley line. The presence of the brook or other surface water would not interfere in any way with the wells, as they are so deep that no surface water reaches them.

"Those who are familiar with this location must I think be impressed with the possibilities of such a development and if these two projects could be carried out, Plainfield would, at one and the same time secure two most valuable acquisitions."

Dated February 6, 1911. FRANK L. HOLT, Member Special Water Committee.

Cavanagh, Forest Ranger

The Great Conservation Novel

By HAMLIN GARLAND

Copyright, 1910, by Hamlin Garland

"Never mind," replied Cavanagh. "I'm still free from any touch of fever. I'm tired, of course, but good for another night of it. My main anxiety concerns Lee. Get her to go home with you if you can."

"I'll do the best I can," responded Redfield, "but meanwhile you must not think of getting out of the forest service. I have some cheering news for you. The president has put a good man into the chief's place."

Cavanagh's face lighted up. "That'll help some," he exclaimed. "But who's the man?"

Redfield named him. "He was a student under the chief, and the chief says he's all right, which satisfies me. Furthermore, he's a real forester and not a political jobber or a corporation attorney."

"That's good," repeated Cavanagh. "and yet," he said sadly, "it leaves the chief out just the same."

"No; the chief is not out. He's where he can fight for the idea to better advantage than when he was a subordinate under another man. Anyhow, he asks us all to line up for the work and not to mind him. The work, he says, is bigger than any man. Here's that resignation of yours," he said, taking Cavanagh's letter from his pocket. "I didn't put it on file. What shall I do with it?"

"Throw it to me," said Cavanagh curtly.

Redfield tossed it over the hitching pole, and Ross took it up, looked at it for a moment in silence, then tore it into bits and threw it on the ground.

"What are your orders, Mr. Supervisor?" he asked, with a faint, quizzical smile around his eyes.

"There's nothing you can do but take care of this man. But as soon as you are able to ride again I've got some special work for you. I want you to join with young Bingham, the ranger on Rock creek, and line up the Triangle cattle. Murphy is reported to have thrown on the forest nearly a thousand head more than his permit calls for. I want you to see about that. Then complete your maps so that I can turn them in on the 1st of November, and about the middle of December you are to take charge of this forest in my stead. Eleanor has decided to take the children abroad for a couple of years, and as I am to be over there part of the time I don't feel justified in holding down the supervisor's position. I shall resign in your favor. Wait now!" he called warningly. "The district forester and I framed all this up as we rode down the hill yesterday, and it goes. Oh, yes, there's one thing more. Old man Dunn—"

"I know,"

"How did you learn it?"

"A reporter came boiling over the ridge about noon today wanting me to give him the names which Dunn had given me. I was strongly tempted to do as he asked me to—you know these newspaper men are sometimes the best kind of detectives for running down criminals—but on second thought I concluded to wait until I had discussed the matter with you. I haven't much faith in the county authorities."

"Ordinarily I would have my doubts myself," replied Redfield, "but the whole country is roused, and we're going to round up these men this time sure. The best men and the big papers all over the west are demanding an exercise of the law, and the reward we have offered." He paused suddenly. "By the way, that reward will come to you if you can bring about the arrest of the criminals."

"The reward should go to Dunn's family," replied the ranger soberly. "Poor chap, he's sacrificed himself for the good of the state."

"That's true. His family is left in bad shape."

Cavanagh broke off the conversation suddenly. "I must go back to—" He had almost said "back to Wetherford."

"My patient needs me," he exclaimed.

"How does he seem?"

"He's surely dying. In my judgment he can't last the night, but so long as he's conscious it's up to me to be on the spot."

Redfield walked slowly back across the river, thinking on the patient course of the ranger.

"It isn't the obvious kind of thing, but it's courage all the same," he said to himself.

Meanwhile Lee and Virginia, left alone beside the fire, had drawn closer together.

The girl's face, so sweet and so sensitive, wrought strongly upon the older woman's sympathy. Something of her own girlhood came back to her. Being freed from the town and all its associations, she became more considerate, more thoughtful. She wished to speak, and yet she found it very hard to begin. At last she said, with a touch of mockery in her tone, "You like Ross Cavanagh almost as well as I do myself, don't you?"

The girl flushed a little, but her eyes remained steady. "I would not be here if I did not," she replied.

"Neither would I. Well, now, I have got something to tell you—something I ought to have told you long ago, something that Ross ought to know. I intended to tell you that first day you came back, but I couldn't somehow get to it, and I kept putting it off till—well, then I got fond of you, and every day made it harder." Here she made her supreme effort. "Child, I'm an old bluff. I'm not your mother at all."

Lee stared at her in amazement. "What do you mean?" she asked.

"I mean your real mother died when you was a tiny little babe. You see, I was your father's second wife—in fact, you weren't a year old when we married. Ed made me promise never to let you know. We were to bring you up just the same as if you was a child to both of us. Nobody knows but Reddy I told him the day we started up here."

The girl's mind ran swiftly over the past as she listened. The truth of the revelation reached her instantly, explaining a hundred strange things which had puzzled her all her life. The absence of deep affection between herself and Lize was explained. Their difference in habit, temperament, thought—all became plain. "But my mother," she said at last—"who was my mother?"

"I never saw her. You see, Ed came into the country, bringing you, a little, motherless babe. He always said your mother was a fine woman, but I never so much as saw a picture of her. She was an educated woman, he said—a southern woman—and her name was Virginia, but that's about all I can tell you of her. Now I am going to let Ross know all of this as soon as I can. It will make a whole lot of difference in that household of you."

WARRANT OUT FOR CHARLES GOSKIASKI

A warrant was sworn out this morning for the arrest on a charge of desertion for Charles Goskiaski, by his bride of a week, and who, it is alleged, induced his wife to withdraw from a savings bank her savings amounting to $725, disappearing immediately after.

This morning a clue to the whereabouts of the recreant husband was received in this city by a woman who it is said is responsible for the introduction of the couple to each other. Upon its receipt this woman brought it to headquarters where it was translated and it is believed that the runaway will shortly be brought to book.

BUTCHERS DEFEAT GROCERS AT BOWLING

A beef diet proclaimed itself champion over the merely vegetarian last night when the butchers and grocers came together in a bowling match on Campbell's alleys. Three sirloin steaks dangled at the end of the cleavers after the melee was over and the asparagus was wilted. The score shows just how the trick was turned:

Y.M.C.A. MAY HAVE NO BASEBALL TEAM

At the meeting of the physical department committee at the Y. M. C. A., tomorrow night, it will be decided whether the association will have a baseball team the coming season. There is a possibility that there will be no team for various reasons. They believe that the players should be identified with the association to a greater extent than just simply playing on the team, and with one exception this was not the case last season.

Physical Director Whitaker would like to see the association have a strong team playing better than third or fourth rate ball, but unless this can be accomplished, will not favor a team. It is a more or less expensive proposition to maintain a team, and unless it is thoroughly representative it seems like a waste of money to the association. The experimental stage is passed, so far as the association is concerned and what is wanted are results.

The question of a team will be thoroughly discussed tomorrow night and it will then be decided whether there will be a baseball team or not. Other matters pertaining to athletics will also be discussed at the meeting.

PENN DENTAL DEAN CONDUCTED A CLINIC

Dr. Edwin C. Kirk, dean of the dental department of the University of Pennsylvania, conducted a dental clinic here yesterday afternoon covering the subject: "The Erosion of the Teeth," and later presented a paper before the Plainfield Dental Society at the Homestead, on "The Prevention of Decay of the Teeth," which followed the quarterly meeting and banquet.

There were about twenty guests, including several members of the medical profession. Dr. Kirk's paper touched on the scientific research in medicine so far as pertaining to dentistry. An informal discussion followed the paper by Dr. Kirk.

'CHANTECLER' THEME OF PROF. LANDON

Courtney Langdon, professor of literature at Brown University, will give a lecture under the auspices of the College Club, at the Hartridge auditorium, Wednesday afternoon, February 22, at 3:30 o'clock, on the "Interpretation of Chantecler." The proceeds will be used by the club in carrying on its work of supporting girls in college.

"Chantecler" is paramourly an allegoric poem, to be read and studied at leisure. On the stage it is not apt to have much more than an initial success of esteem, and a further success of curiosity. A performance on the stage would be far more likely to be successful after the public had become thoroughly imbued with the significance of the allegory of the whole, and of the satire of certain parts, and the title role were taken by a big strong man.

It is the opinion that the play should be presented in verse, if either audience or reader are to be given any adequate idea of the beauty or piquancy of the original French. "Chantecler" is a play which not only holds up a mirror to human nature, but shows "the very age and body of our time his form and pressure."

When the public has been "educated up" to it, it will cease to think of it as a show of doubtful success, and will esteem it a great portrait of our times of peculiar beauty and brilliant wit, well high worthy of Moliere's best work.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Rev. F. St. John Fitch will lead the mid-week prayer-meeting at Hope chapel tonight.

The Epworth League of Grace M. E. church will hold its regular monthly business meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. It will be followed by a social hour.

The fourth quarterly conference of Grace M. E. church will be held next Wednesday at which time the reports from all the societies connected with the church will be read.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel is holding an all-day sewing meeting at the chapel, today. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock and tea at 4:30 o'clock. Thirty members are in attendance.

On Sunday morning next Rev. Ora J. Shoop, will begin a course of sermons on "First Century Portraitsures of the Christ," the first of the series being Matthew's portraiture. On Sunday evening next Rev. Dr. D. B. F. Randolph will preach.

ECONOMIES IN ACCESSORIES.

Where the woman of small means is concerned extravagances in the shape of rare fur sets are sighed for in vain, and she has to contend herself with a single fur or call upon necessity to sharpen her brains in the designing of something to take its place.

This year, with a little patience and some skill, any woman can evolve for herself one of the wide velvet scarfs which are so fashionable. An interlining will give it a very cozy warmth and a finger-width of some inexpensive fur will add a border all round as a finishing touch.

In lieu of the fur, however, many of these long velvet scarfs are gathered into huge silk tassels at the base, which still further simplifies the construction.

REV. DR. EATON RAISES $200,000 ENDOWMENT

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton, of Watchung, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church in New York, announced to his congregation at the annual meeting last night that $200,000 had been raised for the endowment fund of the church. One of the contributions was for $100,000, but the donor's name was not mentioned. It is Doctor Eaton's purpose to raise the endowment fund of the church to $500,000 within the next two years and by that time the site of the church will be worth $1,000,000.

A committee of nine members was appointed last night to assist Dr. Eaton in raising the balance of $300,000. The purposes of the endowment were not given.

FANS ARE PLANNING FOR BASEBALL TEAM.

Plans are being discussed for the formation of an athletic association here for the promotion of baseball and other sports during the coming season. There are a great many baseball fans who believe that the city is entitled to a representative ball team, one that will be able to furnish a first-class article of ball and meet the strongest semi-professional clubs in the State and New York. For the past two years, there has been little interest in the game here, the teams representing the city being more or less amateur and putting up that class of ball. The fans are getting hungry for something better.

With this object in view a meeting will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Frost building, to discuss the proposition. Invitations have been sent out to number who are interested in the scheme, by W. R. Cass and V. W. Nash, Jr. comprising a committee to get the ball a-rolling. A meeting is called thus early so that there will be plenty of time to organize a first-class team and be ready for the opening of the season in April.

Will He Hand 'Em Out?

George J. Stewart, chairman of the Republican city committee in Elizabeth, leaves on Saturday for a six weeks' stay at his lemon groves in Florida.

—Among the specialties at Neuman Bros. tomorrow, will be a large display of fresh vegetables, selected with great care.

GOVERNOR IS NOT WALL STREET'S MAN

Daniel Kiefer, who is chairman of the Fels Fund Commission, the object of which is to raise money for the campaign soon to be undertaken in Oregon for a radical change in methods of taxation, in emulation of the Vancouver experiment, to which Joseph Fels is contributing large sums, recently wrote to Governor Wilson of New Jersey expressing regret that he had at first misunderstood the attitude of the Governor. To this Mr. Wilson replied:

"My Dear Mr. Kiefer:
"Your kind letter of December 24th has given me a great deal of pleasure. It makes me smile to think that I should ever have been regarded as the Wall Street candidate for the Presidency. I am sure that though I have many friends in Wall Street they never supposed for a moment that I would be serviceable to the interest of the people and to the country at large. I am not surprised then; I am only surprised those who do not understand me.
"The duty of public men in our time is so clear that I do not see how any one can miss his way."
—WOODROW WILSON.

ROSELLE TO ERECT STATUE OF THOMAS A. EDISON.

Roselle is to have a statue of Thomas A. Edison if the present plans of the residents are carried into effect. The town wants to commemorate the advent of the incandescent electric light, and its first practical installation.

According to history Roselle was the first place in the United States where the electric light was put into use, and the First Presbyterian church was the building in which the test took place. It is believed that the entire population of Roselle will gladly subscribe to a suitable monument to the Orange inventor.

Mrs. S. A. Perrine to Speak.

Mrs. S. A. Perrine, of Nassau, India, will be one of the speakers at the all-day missionary meeting to be held at the Park Avenue Baptist church tomorrow. The women of all the local Baptist churches have been invited.

M. W. Cayne, of Clinton avenue, is confined at his home with a severe attack of the grip.
