LINCOLN'S PLACE

Martyr President Like Elijah
Called by God Minister Declares.

HE TRIUMPHED WITH RIGHT.

Too Few Have Courage of Their Convictions Today, Declares the Rev. Charles L. Goodrich.

"Elijah and Lincoln" was the subject of Rev. Charles L. Goodrich's sermon at the Congregational church yesterday morning. From these two great characters the lesson of courage was drawn plus character and religious belief and fealty to the God of the universe. Special music, including a new hymn, by an American composer, was sung by the quartet choir.

Rev. Mr. Goodrich said that both Lincoln and Elijah were the men of the hour in their times. Their opportunities for service were analogous and their attitudes toward the people of their times strangely similar.

Elijah appeared before the court of Ahab in his goatskin coat. Lincoln presented himself at Washington in the uncouth garments of a countryman, yet their appearances before these great tribunals of the people did not in any way detract from their great accomplishments. Elijah stepped into the midst of the worshippers of Baal and fought his battle for the religion of the Hebrews who worshipped the true God. It was a question then of whether Baal worship should prevail. It was a crisis in the lives of the Hebrews. Lincoln came to the front, when a crisis faced this country and taking the helm he steered the course which led to final triumph of right. He steered the country through a great conflict of doubt. Whether we were to all be free or all slaves was the question confronting Lincoln and we all know what resulted after he had given to the whole area of the country a united people.

There was no other man on earth when Elijah came who could have done what he did and the same can be said of Lincoln. And we believe it will always be the same with us. Our nation is a Christian nation in its broadest sense and we firmly believe that in future crises God will raise up the man who will safely guide us through them. Both Elijah and Lincoln came from the country—Elijah from the hills of Syria and Lincoln from the woods of Indiana and Illinois, but this does not mean that to be born in the country is a guarantee of greatness. Many of our foremost men today are city bred and the advantages of the city life and training are not to be denied. They have been the means of producing great men.

Elijah knew that his call was from God and the courage born of this knowledge enabled him to stand alone and win. In Lincoln there was to be seen equal courage in his convictions of right. He saw the true cause and followed it to a successful conclusion. Today there is too much of compromise, too little backbone. Too few have the courage of their convictions and too many are supinely following the crowd. In the cases of Elijah and Lincoln they would not have stood true to their convictions had they not cultivated the true spirit of godliness. They had both done God's will in small things all their lives and when the great test came they were prepared for every call upon their resources and were strong to accomplish what God wanted.

Everyone of you will have to face things in your lives which will be in the nature of crises. I urge you to stand firm for the right. Let all of us cultivate the spirit of Elijah and of Lincoln.

A short sermon to children of the Sunday school followed the first address in which Mr. Goodrich took for a text, "And I being lifted up will draw all men unto me." He used as a practical illustration of the drawing process a small magnet with four different sized nails, showing how easy the smaller ones were drawn and how difficult it was to draw the larger ones. The nails represented children, youths and men, some of the latter being rusty and crooked. It made the application of the lesson very clear.

Mass Meeting February 23.

The Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union will hold a mass meeting in the First Presbyterian church, Thursday evening, February 23, at 7:45 o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. J. Madison Hare, pastor of the Park Memorial Baptist church, of Jersey City, and his subject will be, "The Largest Loyalty." The music will be one of the features of the meeting which will be in charge of Nelson VanWinkle, chairman of the Missionary committee of the local union.

HUGE PRINTING PRESS CONSTRUCTED HERE

One of the largest printing presses ever constructed at the Walter Scott plant was shipped from the factory last week. It is a four-deck affair and is consigned to the Times-Herald, of Dallas, Texas, and required three freight cars for transportation. The press is catalogued as the "Speed King" and lives up to the name. It is really four machines in one and by simply turning levers can be combined or separated at will. It will print 48,000 twelve-page papers an hour or a proportionate amount up to thirty-two pages. A color section is also included and puts the Times-Herald in a position to turn out one of the most complete papers in the south-west. At the tests given in the Scott shop the machine worked to perfection, fulfilling every expectation of the designers.

The press will be erected in its permanent home by the firm's expert, Joseph Neal, of East Second street, who is at present on a similar mission in Kansas City.

HENRY MILLER DIES IN HIS 87TH YEAR

Henry Miller, aged eighty-six years, for many years a well-known wholesale shoe merchant of New York, died yesterday at his home, 1120 Putnam avenue, from the infirmities of old age. He had been critically ill about a month. Mr. Miller was born in New York and, until twenty-seven years ago, when he removed to this city, always lived there. He conducted a successful wholesale shoe business for many years, retiring because of advancing age.

Mr. Miller was a man of strong character. He was a life-long member of the Episcopal church, being identified with a New York parish. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. C. O. Bogardus, and two granddaughters, Miss Mabel Bogardus and Mrs. L. T. Koons; also a grandson, E. H. Bogardus, all of this city. Private funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the late home and Rev. Elroy G. Bowers, of St. Stephen's church, will officiate. The burial will be in Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn. Friends are requested not to send flowers.

"THE GIRL IN THE TRAIN" A PLEASING PRODUCTION.

Tuneful lyrics, wholesome music and natural stage sittings characterize the production of "The Girl in the Train" at the Plainfield theatre Saturday night. It was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience exceptionally liberal with its applause.

Frank Daniels, the star of a dozen successful musical comedies, made an instantaneous hit. His facial expressions are ludicrous to the extreme and he injected impromptu comedy to the original book that made it impossible for his supporting cast to repress smiles. Mr. Daniels will be a welcome visitor to Plainfield at any time in the future.

Miss Sallie Fisher, in the leading feminine role, sang and danced prettily, and the chorus as a whole was one of the season's best. The stage sittings kept pace with the rest of the production and taken altogether "The Girl in the Train" was one of the refreshing, memory-clinging kind.

Ladies' Aid Dime Social.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel will observe Lincoln's Birthday at Hope chapel, tonight, by giving a dime social to which all the members and friends are cordially invited. An informal program of entertainment has been arranged which will include selections about Lincoln. Various games have been planned which will be a source of enjoyment. Refreshments will be served.

Surprised Miss Townley.

Miss Grace Townley, of Grandview avenue, celebrated the sixteenth anniversary of her birthday Saturday, and in the evening she was given a surprise party by a large number of her friends. The evening was spent in dancing, playing games and singing popular songs. Refreshments were served during the festivities. Miss Townley received a number of gifts.

Rare Coins on Dead Man.

On the body of a white-haired old man, who died suddenly in an up-town New York street at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, the police found a well worn leather pocketbook containing 135 pennies. The collecting of rare coins of this denomination had apparently been the old man's fad. There were no letters or papers to indicate his identity.

HEISENLUF NACHT BANQUET TONIGHT

The Gesang and Turn Verein Holds its Annual Carnival.

FIVE HUNDRED ARE PRESENT.

The Twenty-second Annual Entertainment Is Held Under the Direction of Herman Kilnsman.

Five hundred people thronged Saengerbund hall last night, on the occasion of the Gesang and Turn Vereins twenty-second annual carnival gathering, or as it is known popularly, "Heisenluf Nacht," meaning hot air night. The attendance included the members and their families and invited guests from the city and borough, Somerville, Westfield, Garwood and Stirling. It was one of the most successful affairs of the kind the Turn Verein has yet conducted.

A custom of "Heisenluf Nacht" is to present "knocks," gentle and otherwise, to the members for their misdeeds during the year. No one must take offense and it makes little difference if they do, as the "guying" only becomes worse. Sometimes a "knock" is handed out when it is least expected and the consternation of the victim adds to the merriment of the gathering.

Herman Kilnsman, as chairman of the carnival committee, was in charge of the program. It was opened with the reading of the "minutes," which required nearly an hour and made a big hit. They were inscribed on a parchment thirty feet long, two boys being pressed into service to hold them up. The "knocks" came so fast it sounded like the anvil chorus, and Mr. Kilnsman acted his part to perfection. Among the hapless victims were "Sunny Jim," "Stenz," "Foxy," "Jellie," August Wolf and Lawrence Fahn. The crowd showed them no mercy when the raps were delivered.

The singing section gave several appreciated numbers, and hits were made by the "Three Twin Minstrels," composed of Sam Brooks, "Mickey" Moore and Jacob Schlick, also a sketch, "The Ice man," by a picked cast. Refreshments were served during the evening.

The program in full was as follows: Reading of the minutes, Herman Kilnsman; "Amhehr," singing section; sketch, "The Ice man," Fred Becker, Jr., John Alster, Miss Jennie Gubler and Miss Mary Traynor; baritone solo, Angelo Mignon; recitation by members: "Three Twin Minstrels," presenting "After Supper Splash," "Searchlight," singing section; baritone solo, Angelo Mignon; "Gesang von Gottlieb Sundt," by special request, August Wolf; giving a recitation, "No Cabbage in My Cigars," Herman Kilnsman; "Auf Verlangen," Charles Dresselt; "Lied von Der Nose," singing section; recitation, Mrs. Tony Bretnier; final chorus, singing section. The baritone solo by Angelo Mignon, with mandolin accompaniment, were among the features and received prolonged applause.

The committee in charge was composed of Herman Kilnsman, chairman; Charles Giebler, Herman Kilnsman, Jr., and Lawrence Scheelein; reception committee, Charles F. Meyer, Jr., chairman; George Schlick, Jacob Schlick and Adam Jordan.

Holy Cross vs. Ajax.

A basketball game to be played on Wednesday evening on the court of the Church of the Holy Cross team promises to be a hard fought game. The Holy Cross team will line up against the Ajax team, one of the boys' teams of the Y. M. C. A. The lineup will be as follows: Holy Cross—Forwards, Van Norden and Moran; center, Seal; guards, Mosher and Little; substitute, Vail. Ajax—Guards, Brymaki and Glover; center, Dunning; forwards, Peacock and McNamee.

Found Lost Dog.

Theodore A. Martin, the expressman, of 409 East Third street, received a letter yesterday from George Wilson, of 327 West 134th street, New York city, that he had found Martin's shepherd dog. Mr. Martin had missed the dog since Wednesday night, when it followed a van of furniture into New York. The latter learned the name of the owner of the dog through the license tag after reporting the matter to the police.

Funeral of Michael McDonough.

The funeral of Michael McDonough, who died as the result of injuries received by falling from a wagon, was held in St. Mary's church this morning. The mass was said by Rev. Father Sciolia and burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery. The pall bearers were four cousins, Messrs. Edward, John, Patrick and Anthony McDonough.

Who Will Speak and What They Will Speak About.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Yes, Senator J. E. Martine Will Be There and So Will Some Other Celebrities.

Promptly at 7 o'clock tonight, the first annual banquet of the newly-organized Chamber of Commerce will be held in the main dining room at Truett Hall. Never in the history of local festivities of this character has there ever been such a galaxy of distinguished speakers for the occasion. To hear them, fully 250 representative business and professional men will gather.

Former Mayor William L. Saunders will be the toastmaster and that means that a past master will occupy that most important post. Chief among the speakers, of course, will be the ever popular James E. Martine. This will be his first public appearance since his election to the United States Senate and it goes without saying that he will be given a big reception. His topic will be "Abraham Lincoln."

George W. Perkins, late a partner of J. P. Morgan and now a trustee of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, will follow Mr. Martine. His topic will be "The Experience of the Steel Corporation and the Harvesting Combine in Profit Sharing." The subject for former Congressman George A. Post's speech will be "The Railroads and Business." William G. Besler, vice president and general manager of the Jersey Central, will talk on "As a Railroad Man Sees It."

"Why?" will be the topic discussed by Col. C. A. Fuller. William J. Moran's subject will be "The Employer's Liability." And there will be some songs and above all a fine dinner served by DeMott.

T. J. M'GANN DIES AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

Thomas J. McGann, one of the borough's best known residents, died early this morning at his home on Lincoln place. He was taken ill last Tuesday with grip, and pneumonia quickly followed. He sank rapidly despite all medical aid, the end coming shortly after midnight.

Mr. McGann was born in Washington Valley forty-six years ago and always lived in this vicinity. He was a grading and excavating contractor and dug most of the cellars for the large buildings in the city and borough. He was active in the borough fire department before the present system was installed and belonged to Plainfield Lodge, Loyal Order of Moose. His death is the first the organization has suffered since it was installed. Surviving Mr. McGann are his wife and three step-sons. They are Marcus, Lewis and Charles McGann. His father, Thomas McGann, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Handler, live in Washington Valley. There is also another sister, Mrs. William Holman, of Newark.

The funeral will be held in St. Joseph's church, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Collins—Smith.

Miss Lillian B. Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, of 321 Park avenue, and William Smith, of 130 North avenue, were married Saturday evening by Rev. John Y. Broek, pastor of Trinity Reformed church. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. Broek on East Ninth street. The groom is employed by the New York Telephone company. The couple will reside in this city.

State Nurses to Meet.

A special meeting of the New Jersey State Nurses' Association will be held at the Free Public Library, Newark, Tuesday afternoon, February 21, at 2:30 o'clock. The proposed bill for the registration of nurses of New Jersey will be presented. All nurses will be welcome.

S. S. Swackhamer to Speak.

A joint meeting of the Baraca and Philatheta Bible classes of the Temple Baptist church will be held Tuesday evening, February 21. S. S. Swackhamer will be the speaker on this occasion. His subject will be announced later.

KINDER SINFONIE

Excellent Performance Enthusiastically Applauded at the Park Club.

KING'S DAUGHTERS' BENEFIT.

Cup Bearers' Circle Entertainment Is Witnessed By An Unusually Large Audience.

The Park Club auditorium was well filled on Saturday evening by a fashionable and enthusiastic audience when the members of Cup Bearers' Circle of the King's Daughters presented the Kinder Symphonies and several dances of an unique character. The music, under the direction of S. Frederick Smith, organist of Grace Episcopal church, was of a character to demand instantaneous recognition and applause and the orchestra, composed of thirty-five young women, interpreted it with confidence and ability. With the exception of an occasional rushing of the tempo by the pianists the young women played in splendid time and gave evidences of careful training.

Perhaps the best number on the program was the "Flirtation" pantomime, in which eight young women and Effingham Pinto impersonated a flirtation in which nothing was said and much left to be interpreted by the audience, but it required no special observation to see the expression on the face of the only male member of the cast when the only young woman who did not march by him with a fan or parasol turned a hideous face toward him after showing her back during all the preceding evolutions. It was really funny.

The various instruments, which included violins, pianos, trumpets, drums, nightingale whistles, cuckoos, rattles and quail pipes, formed an orchestra the like of which was never heard in Plainfield before. It was confidently predicted at the close of the last number on the program that the entertainment would be repeated.

The following formed the orchestra: Violins, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Jacoby and the Misses Helen Harmon, Anna Waldo, Julia Thomas and Alice Titus; pianos, Misses Ruth Waldo, Barbara Fleming, Edith Mellick and Louise Booth; cello, Dr. Leonard Waldo; trumpets, Misses Muriel Ashwell and Marguerite Carpenter; drums, Misses Helen Stevens and Madeline Ashwell; nightingales, Misses Grace Burke, Emily Poucher, Constance Wilcox and Florence Stuart; cuckoos, Misses Eunice Watson, Ruth Van Vleet and Lillian King; rattles, Misses Marion Brown and Ethel Most; quails, Misses Martha Robert, Gladys Peck and Beresford Letcher; triangle, Miss Mary Faber; sand-paper, Miss Ruth Titus; castanets, Mrs. Morris J. Dumont; popgun, Mrs. Snow and Mrs. O'borne; tambourine, Miss Hope Ivins.

Fantastic dance, Miss Helen Stevens and Effingham Pinto; flirtation pantomime, Misses Sylvia Curtis, Anna Garrigues, Elizabeth Flanders, Marguerite Carpenter, Hope Ivins, Louise Booth, Florence Stuart, Mrs. E. M. Perkins and Mr. Pinto. Shadow dance, Miss Stevens and Mr. Pinto. The two symphonies were "Spring" and the "Bird."

Special Pictures Today.

As a holiday attraction at the Plainfield theatre this afternoon and tonight Manager Sanderson will provide high class moving pictures and illustrated songs. Some of the latest panoramic views and current subjects will be shown. Popular prices will prevail.

Holton Homestead Sold.

V. G. Tingley has purchased the Holton property on Grove street through the agency of George F. Brown. Mr. Tingley will make extensive improvements.

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG SPEECH.

FUTURE and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember, what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us: that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

NARROW ESCAPE FOR F. W. YATES

A collision in which Frederick W. Yates, of Kensington avenue, narrowly escaped death occurred last evening at 8:40 o'clock at the corner of Arlington avenue and Eighth street. Mr. Yates was driving his touring car toward Park avenue while the trolley car was going East on Arlington. The speed of the trolley was such that the motorman could not stop, even after it had struck the automobile, for nearly half a block. The impact drove the car up on the sidewalk and smashed the radiator and two of the wheels.

An eye witness of the occurrence declared that the trolley car was going so fast that it would have been an impossibility to have stopped the car for a passenger. Mr. Yates seeing that a collision was inevitable turned his automobile into Arlington avenue to lessen the force of the blow, thereby taking a chance of being hurled under the wheels of the trolley. He fortunately escaped injury beyond a shaking up.

SENT HIM TO JAIL FOR BEATING WIFE

For beating his wife on Sunday night, William Hannig, of 826 Richmond street, 41 years old, was fined $5 this morning by City Judge William G. De Meza, failing payment of which he will have to spend twenty days in the county jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Hannig have not lived happily together for a long time, according to the wife's story. Ever since they were married they have quarreled and their home life has been anything but happy. Judge De Meza told the couple this morning that it would be much better if they could overlook each other's faults and try to forget the past, but Mrs. Hannig said she did not think they could ever live together again in harmony after what had occurred. She said on the stand that her husband had threatened her with a knife and besides striking her threatened to go and live with another woman who had promised to take her place.

When on the stand Hannig declared that he only struck at his wife in a playful way, more to frighten her than anything else, and that she had made motions to him that provoked him to anger. Judge De Meza said to Hannig in finding him that because it was his first offense he would make the penalty light, but another appearance would bring the full penalty. Mrs. Hannig's statements were corroborated by Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, who lives in the same house and heard the row. Robert Newton Crane represented Mrs. Hannig.

Prof. Hoyt Preached Here.

Prof. Arthur S. Hoyt, of Auburn Seminary, occupied the pulpit at the Crescent Avenue church, yesterday morning and evening. In the morning he delivered a strong sermon on the subject: "The Son of Man." It being an especially clear interpretation of the Scriptural texts on the subject. Dr. Hoyt is professor of Homiletics at Auburn Theological Seminary, from which institution, Rev. Frederick L. Green, Hope chapel's new pastor, is a graduate.

Hobo Gets Sixty Days.

The beauties of the city were so attractive to John Smith, a hobo who was banished last week, that Mr. Smith could not resist the temptation to return and seek hospitality at the Clinton Avenue station last night, where he was found by Patrolman Sweeney snugly asleep around the stove. This morning Judge De Meza sent Mr. Smith to the county jail for sixty days, where he will have a chance to have an occasional bath which he sorely needs.

THE MODEL WOMAN

American Woman too Prone to Imitate Her French Sister.

SAYS REV. GABRIEL R. MAGUIRE.

Baptist Minister Roundly Denounces Practise Of Aping the Women of France.

Taking as his model, Mary the Mother of Jesus, Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire preached a sermon on the model woman yesterday morning which astonished his congregation and opened their eyes to certain conditions of present day fads and fancies, from which he drew a lesson memorable in the annals of Park avenue church sermons.

"There is no greater blessing conferred on woman," said Mr. Maguire, "than the giving to the world a man, a great man if you will, but a son in any event. This is not only the privilege which she should enjoy, but in which she should take pride. Today our women ape the French women, not alone in matters of dress, but in everything even to the rearing of families. If a French fashion dictates a hat three feet in diameter the American woman tries to meet it or go to it one better; if the French woman wears her three inches of leather for a heel there follows in New York the imitation of her shoe; if it becomes the fashion in the French capitol to wear absurd attire emulation follows in this country, and what is the result?"

"That question may best be answered by comparing the results obtained by a careful revision of the statistics of both countries. Did you know that at the end of last year more than 10,600 newly born infants had been found at the outlets of the great sewers of Paris? Thrown into the Seine as so much offal. Crime after crime committed in the name and for the sake of fashion."

"Mary, the mother of our Saviour, the one whom I would hold up before your mental vision, called it her chiefest joy to bring into the world the greatest Man ever known. How many women today count it anything but joy to even mother one who is not great? There is the sin. The monstrous sin—not wanting to eagerly perform the works destined for the woman of today in furnishing to the world men."

"The other day I saw a High School boy standing on a corner not very far away puffing a cigarette. Can you blame the teachers of that institution for what the boy was doing? No! You can blame the mother. She has allowed the boy to acquire a habit without even an attempt to correct it and she is the one to be censured."

He mentioned the disgust with which the people of Georgia looked upon the public exhibition of cigarette smoking given by Lady Deedes, nee Vivien Gould.

"The new woman thinks more of driving her high-powdered automobile; her bridge parties and other diversions than she thinks of her offspring when she is fortunate enough to bring one into the world."

"Oh, the pity of it! Oh, the shame of it! Why not be what God intended you to be? Why not a woman in the fullest sense of the word. Do what the Almighty intended that you should do and be what He intended you should be. Do you thing for a moment it is more graceful or more tender to carry in your arms a puddle dog than a baby? Will anyone think more of you for that? I am asking these questions of the modern woman. I hope my voice will find lodgment in those who practice this sort of thing and pondering their condition in the sight of their Creator answer to Him for what they do and the things they neglect to do."

A large congregation heard the sermon and much comment passed upon it, but the consensus of opinion was that the pastor Maguire had only told the truth of the existing conditions among certain classes of women. It is hardly probable that he had in mind any resident of Plainfield.

Recital at Dunellen.

A splendid program of musical dramatic selections has been arranged by Clifford A. Braider, organist of the First Presbyterian church for a recital this evening at the First Presbyterian church of Dunellen. Mr. Braider will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth De Cant, soprano soloist; Mrs. Aimee Emmons Phillips, dramatic reader and Miss Edith Cecilia Rubel, violinist.

The Consistory of Trinity Reformed church has given two of its pulpit chairs to the Netherwood Reformed church.

"Sincerity in Religion," will be the topic of the mid-week prayer meeting at Trinity Reformed church Wednesday night.

Shedwaters Featured in Valentine Week.

We count the famous Valentine Shedwater Foulards great enough in their field to deserve a whole week's celebration and, appropriately enough, we are giving up Valentine Day and Valentine Week to their exploitation.

Foulard Silks have never lacked in popular favor. For many years they have occupied a proud place in the realm of silks, and they are today in stronger demand than ever. Since the introduction of the Valentine Shedwater Foulards—exquisite fabrics that really will face a shower bravely and come out of it unscathed—the popularity of these silks has been unprecedented.

Do you wonder that we feature them? Do you wonder that we make a noise about them?

No other store in Newark has Valentine Shedwater Foulards, nor anything like them. Attend this notable show and sale this week.

Valentine's "Shedwater" Foulards—Soft and exquisite in finish, in navy, Copenhagen, green, gray, tan, brown, white and black, black and white, wistaria and rose—all rich colorings, daintiest of designs; will be on sale at only .....79c

News and Notes

BASEBALL.

It seems possible that there may be something in the talk of a deal between the Highlanders and St. Louis. Chase has stopped off in Chicago to attend the American League meeting, and it seems probable that he has some sort of a trade in view. Rumors state that Hedges and Wallace want Austin and LaPorte for Hartzell.

It is hard to see how this can be thought an even swap. Austin is a faster fielder and LaPorte a heavier batter than the St. Louis man. Of course, Chase may figure that he cannot make use of the abilities of both men as third basemen in the same game, and that it is better to strike an average in the person of a Third player. The main trouble with LaPorte is that he is very susceptible to injury and often is out of the game. Austin doesn't hit well enough for an infielder, and while Hartzell was little better last season, in 1908 he batted .265, which is a fair average. The Browns secured Hartzell from the Denver club when McAleer was the St. Louis manager.

There are wide differences of opinion regarding Chase's ability to manage a team. Such good judges as McGraw and Griffith predict that the star first sacker will demonstrate unusual powers of leadership, but Freddie Payne of the White Sox, and Matty McIntyre, also of the spotless hosiery players, are on record with statements that under Hal Chase the Hilltoppers have a slim chance to come under the wire in the van.

"With Stallings at the helm, I believe that the New York club would just about win that pennant," said Payne, "but under Chase I can't see the Manhattan outfit at all. Hal has a fine bunch of players enrolled, and is himself one of the best in the world, but he doesn't appeal to me as a man who will make a success of managing."

"Had Stallings remained with the club and had he been able to eliminate the factions and cliques that hurt the Yankees last year, he would have been out in front next October. George is a mighty good pilot and one who has made a showing with every club that he ever took charge of. He taught the Yankees a lot of baseball, and had them about ready to go out and cop in another season when they tied the can on him."

Manager Clarke, of Pittsburg, intends to take a firm stand regarding Pitcher Camnitz. He says:

"Some time after my return home from the meeting of the National League in New York last December I wrote to Howard Camnitz telling him that if I did not dispose of his services to some other club before February 1 would send him a Pittsburg contract for 1911."

"The time is up and Howard Camnitz will play ball in Pittsburg or not at all so long as I am manager. I wrote him to that effect and assured him that I intended to go through with this plan, and I am going to do so as I am satisfied that it will establish a good precedent."

Clarke Griffith, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, intends to carry his own life-saving corps this season in the persons of Ernie Diehl and Emil Habener, two residents of Redville, who have promised to help out the team whenever their services are required. Neither man will be carried as a regular member of the club, as each has an excellent business in Cincinnati and cannot give all his time to the diamond.

The plan is to have Griff fly the distress signal whenever the Reds are in a slump. Thereupon Diehl and Habener will emulate the original Cincinnati and quit the plough for the battlefield.

Diehl already has won a few dozen medals as a life saver in the baseball world, helping out Pittsburg, Toledo and Louisville on various occasions. Habener is a catcher and is almost as large as Larry McLean, which makes him a very nice little chunk of a man. He is said to be able to hit the ball a mile and to throw to bases with the speed and accuracy of a rifle shot, excellent accomplishments for a first aid to the slipping backstop.

Hans Wagner has been drawn as a juror for the March term of court. As the big German wishes to leave for West Baden on March 6, he will undoubtedly try to get the court to excuse him from serving. If the other jurors happened to be baseball fans it is probable that the lawyers' arguments would receive but scant attention. Wagner is better at short than in the box, and this statement doubtless covers the jury box also.

Rumor says that the St. Louis Club may change hands after all. This time it is a syndicate of Chicago men who are after Hedges' holdings.

"If the St. Louis club is for sale and the price named is not exorbitant I can procure the money to buy it in twenty minutes," said the leader of this proposed syndicate. "I have talked with the men and they are willing. I will put in as much as any of them and figure there will be ten men in the deal. It is our idea to put Jimmy Callahan at the head of the club. Now, I have made no overtures to Hedges as yet, but I know him very well and have heard him say he wants to get out on account of poor health."

John McGraw has ordered fifteen dozen official league balls for the training season at Marlboro. It almost seems as if he expected to have several horseshoe spheres injured in batting practice.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The topic of the Young People's Legion meeting at the Salvation Army at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening was "A Captain's Faith."

Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor, gave a five-minute sermon to boys and girls at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning, following the regular sermon.

Rev. Dr. Carter, of this city, preached at Hope chapel yesterday morning and the Christian Endeavor Society had charge of the evening service.

Rev. W. W. Newbury, of Nyack, N. Y., spoke at the Christian and Missionary Alliance meetings in the church at Duer street and Craig place, Saturday evening and yesterday afternoon.

Rev. J. W. Musson, of the Temple Baptist church, preached yesterday morning on the subject: "A Brother's Love and Service," and in the evening on the subject: "The Claims of Christ."

Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of All Souls' church, preached yesterday morning on the subject: "Real Greatness—Personal and National."

The Sunday school enjoyed a special Lincoln's Birthday program.

Rev. C. S. Kemble, pastor, preached at the Monroe Avenue M. E. church yesterday morning on the subject: "An effort to get a clearer apprehension of the incarnation," in the series of sermons on "The Apostles' Creed."

The travel club meeting scheduled for tonight at the Congregational parsonage has been postponed until a week from tonight. The Ladies' Reading Circle has also postponed their regular meeting so that the members may attend the Men's club "Ladies' night."

The midweek meeting of the Congregational church on Wednesday evening will be in charge of the Girls' Mission club. Miss Olive Gibson, a missionary from New Mexico, will give an interesting address on the work among the people of that section of the country.

Theodore Boretty preached in Italian Mission, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, and there will be a song and prayer service Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. The Sunday school, in English and Italian, meets at 2:30 o'clock Sundays in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church.

famous frigate Constitution, died;
born 1773.

1886—A flood memorable in the annals of New England reached its height.
1897—John Randolph Tucker, a noted
Virginian, died; born 1823. General Joseph O. Shelby, celebrated west of the Mississippi as a dashing Confederate cavalry commander, died.

BANKERS INDORSE
THE ALDRICH PLAN

Foremost bankers of the country, at Atlantic City, on invitation of United States Senator Aldrich, have failed to find any important defects in his plan for reforming the currency legislation of the nation, and Saturday closed a three-day secret session held at the Marlborough-Blenheim, after making a few minor changes in the bill. Congressman Vreeland, of New York, deputy chairman of the monetary commission which has had under consideration the drafting of a measure that will meet the demands of the country, acted as chairman of the twenty-two financial experts representing New York, Los Angeles, New Orleans,
Kansas City, St. Paul, Omaha, St.
Louis, Chicago, Nashville, Atlanta,
Philadelphia, Boston and Buffalo who attended the conference. According to a prominent member, the Aldrich measure, designed primarily to control by legislation monetary panics, received the indorsement of and moral active support of the representatives of the banking world of the nation, who approved the plan as it was submitted by Aldrich to the monetary commission.

"While some may refer to it as a central-control issue, yet it is different in many respects and solves the problem of elasticity in currency which the present laws don't provide,"
he declared.

Dr. C. E. Herring at Church.
Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church,
who recently returned from Rochester, Minn., where he underwent a serious operation, attended the services at his church, yesterday, but did not preach. In the morning he briefly addressed his congregation and read the Scripture lesson. He expressed his pleasure at once more being with his people and after the service many remained to greet him and show their appreciation for his safe return.

Organ Recital Tomorrow.
Another in the series of Sunday afternoon organ recitals was given in Grace F. E. church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Organist and Choirmaster S. Frederick Smith.
The program included: Sonata in D
minor, Merkel; Gavotte, Dettmer;
Grand Choeur, Kinder; Romanze, Wheeler.

WEEK'S PROGRAM FOR LEGISLATURE

The sixth week of the Legislature and probably the first in which any real law-making progress will be made, will be deferred in the opening until tomorrow, the usual Monday night session being omitted because of Lincoln Day.

Both the Senate and the Assembly are expected to put in a full day tomorrow, with hearings and the passing of bills, and both will probably be busy all day Wednesday. With the term almost half over it is necessary for the legislators to get to work and to keep at it if they hope to accomplish anything before final adjournment.

Many of the members are of the opinion that final adjournment should not be considered until all pending business is cared for with all the deliberation that it merits, but it is likely that as the session lengthens out to twelve or thirteen weeks, the usual length, there will be the usual disposition to wind up affairs and get away for the year.

This week's session will be livened by several hearings which doubtless will attract more attention than the regular business. Tomorrow there will be a hearing on the various election bills now pending, also a hearing on Senator Osborne's bill to prohibit the employment of young boys as night messengers.
The pending election measures include bills completely revolutionizing the election regulations of the State, both primary and general.

Among them is Gov. Wilson's bill for a blanket ballot, civil service election officers, and other radical reforms. Bills for the extension of the direct primary system to the nominations of Governor and Congressmen are also pending.

There will be three important hearings on Wednesday, one on Public Utilities legislation, one on pending employers' liability legislation, and one on the Ocean Grove Borough bill. All of these will be largely attended.

The cities in the northern end of the State are especially interested in the Public Utilities bill and the employers' liability bill, as well as the wage workers, are interested in the liability measures.

The Ocean Grove hearing is expected to attract a large crowd. The Borough bill advocates have engaged a special train to bring their followers from the shore, and Summer residents from other parts of the State and from New York and Philadelphia are expected. The Methodist Camp Meeting Association, which now controls Ocean Grove, will be represented by the best legal talent obtainable and will be backed by many prominent Jerseymen, including ex-Gov. Stokes, in an effort to prevent any change in the government of the resort.

The boroughites maintain that just representation in the management of public affairs is denied them and also that they are being too heavily taxed. The camp meeting people declare that the effect of a borough law would be to break down religious restrictions and secularize the resort. Borough bills have been presented and defeated in several recent Legislatures.

Among the new business that will doubtless come will be further appointments by Gov. Wilson, including that of Col. Edwin A. Stevens, of Hoboken, as State Road Commissioner. The Governor is making this appointment in spite of the efforts of leading Democrats to land an active party worker in the berth, but Col. Stevens is not likely to be opposed in the Senate, for he has the admiration and co-operation of Senator Fielder, of his home county of Hudson, and in addition the appointment is generally recognized as excellent.

It is also expected that the week will be productive of the local option bill of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League. The measure will be "fathered" by Senator Gebhardt, of Hunterdon county, who made an unsuccessful effort to get such a measure through the last Legislature.

The Anti-Saloon people have been in conference with Gov. Wilson and it is generally believed that he would sign a local option bill, but no one believes that this Legislature will pass such a measure. The introduction of the bill, however, will have the effect of keeping the matter before the people and probably of preventing the enactment of any "open Sunday" legislation, either for sports or excise privilege.

Still Get Evidence.
The vigilance of the police was not at all relaxed yesterday in spite of rumors to the contrary. More than twenty stores were entered by the plain-clothesmen of the department and evidence of Sunday selling obtained.
Several hours were spent by the men in police headquarters today arranging the exhibits of evidence of Sunday traffic gathered yesterday.

Congregational Men's Club.
"Ladies' Night" will be celebrated by the Men's Club of the Congregational church tomorrow night. All adult members of the church are invited to come and bring their friends. Entertainment will be furnished by a male quartet and readings by Mrs. Royle Phillips will be another attraction calculated to please. The entertainment will begin at 8 o'clock.

Made Deputy for Woodmen.
Albert E. Snyder, of Westfield, received notice of his appointment as district deputy for the Central New Jersey district of the New Jersey State Lodge of Woodmen, from F. O. Thompson, State organizer, of Metuchen.

Norah Dunavan in Court.

Miss Norah Dunavan, who it is alleged has failed to report to the probation officer for several weeks, a sentence which was imposed upon her in November last, was arraigned before Judge De Meza in the city court this morning and remanded until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning for a hearing.

A Half Holiday.

Through inadvertence, the Marchants' association's notice to the effect that their stores would be closed promptly at 1 o'clock this afternoon failed to appear in this paper on Saturday. The report that all the stores would be open all day was incorrect.

Y. M. H. A. Whist Party.

benefit of the Young Men's Hebrew Association a whist party will be held in Sebring's Auditorium, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. William Newcorn has charge of the affair.

Funeral of Mrs. Holcomb.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Holcomb was held last evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. F.
Godown, of Chatham street. Rev.
Gabriel Reid Maguire was in charge.
A further service was held in the Sandy Run church, Stockton, this morning, and burial was in the cemetery at the latter place.

Plainfield Council, No. 294, Jr. O.

"SPEAK EASIES" AS A STATE EVIL

Information indicating that there are almost 3,000 places in the State where liquor is sold illegally, was laid before Governor Wilson by representatives of the Anti-Saloon League, according to the statement of G. Rowland Munroe, of Newark, counsel for the league, made Saturday.

Mr. Munroe visited the Governor, with Rev. Thomas B. Shannon, also of Newark. They called to inform the Governor that Senator Gebhardt would introduce a local option bill tomorrow. The bill, according to Mr. Munroe, will be of the same nature as that put in last year.

Mr. Munroe stated that a mass of figures relative to the sale of liquor in the State had been laid before the Governor, including comparisons, which indicated that New Jersey had more than twice as many liquor licenses, in proportion to its population, as any other State. He declared also that the "speak-easies" were more numerous. It was in this connection that the figures relating to the supposed illegal sales were presented.

The information was that while there have been issued in the State 7,861 retail liquor licenses, in addition there have been issued 2,970 internal revenue tax receipts to persons who have not taken out any local license. The figures were submitted, Mr. Munroe said, so that the Governor might take whatever action he desired.

When informing the Governor of the intention to have the local option bill introduced, Mr. Munroe and Mr. Shannon did not ask him to take any stand, and the Governor did not volunteer any declaration as to possible action, if the measure should come before him. Even the men back of the bill have no hope that it can be passed this year.

"We informed the Governor the other day," said Mr. Munroe, "that the bill was to be introduced. He listened to us with a great deal of interest, and to the arguments that we presented, but he made no declaration about the subject. We did not ask him any."

"Local Option Sunday" will be observed throughout the State in various churches next Sunday. The Anti-Saloon League will send out letters to all pastors, asking them to make the liquor business the subject of their sermons.

The report of the committee on church improvements at Trinity Reformed church show receipts of $6,309.85 and disbursements of $6,103.35, leaving a balance of $206.50. There are unpaid bills amounting to $500, which it is hoped will be forthcoming from the congregation. Send checks or money to A. K. Willett, treasurer.

LINCOLN DECRIED LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Among the most interesting discourses yesterday on "Lincoln," was that by Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church, at the morning service. Dr. Anderson briefly related incidents in connection with the birth of Lincoln, as well as the place, the date and place of his death and circumstances attending it, the removal of his remains to Springfield, Ill., and the burial, in his introductory remarks.

The preacher spoke of several features and characteristics in the life of Lincoln, touching upon the lack of early education and the fact that he was a hard student and a wide reader. He referred to his honesty and referred to incidents to prove this; also to his life as a lawyer and statesman, that he was a strong temperance man, believing in total abstinence for the individual and constitutional prohibition of the liquor traffic for the State. To prove this, Dr. Anderson read a couple of quotations from Lincoln, one which to J. B. Merwin on April 14, 1865, the morning before his assassination, as follows: "After reconstruction the next great question will be the overthrow of the liquor traffic." In 1853 Lincoln was quoted to have said:

"The most effectual remedy would be the passage of a law altogether abolishing the liquor traffic. There must be no more attempts to regulate the cancer. It must be eradicated."

Dr. Anderson spoke of Lincoln's relation to the Bible, showing that he studied it, believed it and loved it. He referred to his superior sense of high-class humor and illustrated it with a few incidents. He also showed that he possessed a strong sympathetic nature and illustrated the truth of that. In closing he spoke of his reverence of love for his mother, stating that he once said:

"All that I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother. Blessings on her memory." Dr. Anderson concluded by saying that Lincoln believed in the interposition of God and that he directly or indirectly governs the affairs of men.

PROTECTING MAHOGANY.

In these days of dust the careful housekeeper finds it sits into her mahogany tops, despite covers. This is bad for the wood and makes the covers look dingy.

A lining of some sort should be provided. Sometimes this is in the form of wadded covers of china silk that stand washing. But these give the linen covers a padded look that is not especially desirable.

An interlining of glass is growing in favor. This protects the wood, and if heavy enough not to crack easily is serviceable and quickly cleaned. The edges should be rounded so as not to cut with careless handling.

One housekeeper advocates the use of asbestos sheets under her dressing table covers. There is no danger of the wood is hot curling tongs or half burnt matches are dropped.

It is cheaper and more convenient to use white blotters as a lining. These keep dust from the wood admirably, absorb upset liquids and cost so little that they can frequently be renewed. They have the effect also of making the linen or pique top look whiter.

JR. O. U. A. M. FAIR ENJOYED BY MANY

The Jr. O. U. A. M. fair which closed on Saturday night was one of the most successful events in the history of the organization. Upwards of 1,000 tickets of admission were sold on Saturday evening and interest in the event was kept up until the closing hour.

Lots of fun was had in the auction sale of articles donated by merchants of the city, which had remained unsold and the bidding was lively. Three tons of coal were given away and a present of fifteen dollars in gold donated to the holder of a certain ticket. These donations were made immediately preceding the last dance on the program. During the week the prize cats exhibited by Mrs. Guy Thomas attracted much attention.

During the week these organizations had representatives present: Company K, Second Regiment; P. O. S. of A., Daughters of America, O. U. A. M., Daughters of Liberty, and unaffiliated rank Jr. O. U. A. M., of Westfield. Many other organizations sent special representatives, all of whom seemed to be impressed with the splendid order maintained at this fair.

The committee of arrangements composed of members of the four councils of the order in this city was composed of L. N. Wyckoff, chairman; W. H. I. Cubberly, secretary; A. H. Peck, treasurer. The sub-committees were: Floor and dancing, C. S. Wilson, manager; W. H. I. Cubberly, C. A. Doeringer, J. Pennington, A. Perret and F. G. Walsh; donations and booths, J. Y. Martin, chairman; G. E. Thomas, J. D. Moon, D. B. Martin, H. VanPelt and F. Collier; music, hall and refreshments, L. D. Hall, chairman; A. Hoffman and D. Patterson; general committee, C. Lowrie, J. H. Adams, T. W. Downs and Frank Stadt.

OUR DUMB FRIENDS.

Reformers, wake! A crying wrong has been permitted to linger. And wanton cruelty hides behind a so-called "service to mankind."

Ab, save dumb vegetables' life! From the too eager kitchen-knife. Their fate contribute not a bit to "scientific benefit."

What torture must a cabbage feel As nearer comes the glittering steel! And pierces, with a fiendish art, Straight to the tender, quivering heart!

Potatoes suffer without doubt When ruthless hands their eyes cut out! Say, does it aid our humankind When these dumb creatures are made blind?

Again they wreck their horrid will, Furthering (they say) the artist's skill. Its dumb appeal they treat with scorn, And cut the ears from living corn!

These awful truths should make us pause And reconstruct our country's laws; With righteous wrath our blood should boil At martyred victims of the soil.

Oh, Anti-Vivisectionist! This portion of your work you've missed! And your success is but defeat If man may say a living beast!

May Meet in Minneapolis.
The 1912 General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held in Minneapolis, Minn., if low railroad rates can be secured. Des Moines has been selected as the second choice and Saratoga Springs, N. Y., as third. The final decision has been left in the hands of a special committee. The selection of these tentative sites was made by the book committee of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Local Dogs Will Be Exhibited.
Many local thoroughbred dogs will be exhibited at the thirty-fifth annual dog show of the Westminster Kennel Club, which opened today at Madison Square Garden, New York, among them being entries from Meadowview Kennels, A. G. Hooley, Midlothian Kennels, Edmund L. MacKenzie, and George F. Parker will show his celebrated terriers.

PLUMED HATS.

Share Popularity This Season
With the Sugar Scoop.

Alsatian Bow of Stiff Ribbon and Ostrich Feathers Are the Conspicuous Trimming For Present Head Wear.

The newest in hats might be summed up in one word—plumes—if it were not for certain other tendencies, such as the prevalence of the Alsatian bow and of the sugar scoop shape. Let us inspect their beauties and then pass on to the alluring ostrich feather.

The sugar scoop shape holds the unique position of looking unlovely off a head and surpassingly lovely on. It is really becoming to any number of types, but it is best modified and softened by a huge bow. These Alsatian or windmill bows are very large, made of stiff ribbon or loosely wired, and are tied at the back, drooping over the crown toward the front. They are all the trimming that any hat needs, and all the smart tailor made millinery shows their influence.

To turn to feathers, we are to have almost a superfluity of them, if that were possible. First of all is the shower plume, two or three partly curled ostrich plumes, one sewed in the chancelier-fashion straight up at the back of the hat, the other one or two, according to size, fastened so as to fall loosely over the front to the very brim, and all mingling so as to seem one feather.

Nearly all of this year's hats are being trimmed largely at the back. Really one might almost say that last season's hat could be turned around backward to put it in this season's fashions. See, for instance, the black hatter's plush, with its white plume (black and white is distinctly the thing) and its black and white ribbon scarf. The plume there is curved around the high crown, but from the front back, the front showing only the ribbon. Surely this is a departure.

A very smart trimming for a velvet turban is one white plume fastened at the side and falling over the top like a cockade. This is especially becoming to a youthful face.

For-dresser wear than this turban effect there is the satin hat trimmed with two of the new rainbow willow plumes. These plumes are shaded so as to run the entire gamut of the colors of the rainbow. For a change they are sewed in front and fall back against the crown in different directions. The darkest shade is at the midrib, the colors fading away until the lightest comes at the edge.

These hat suggestions need no recommendation. Never have we had lovelier millinery than now. And, above all, now is the time to go up into your storeroom, take out every ostrich feather you ever owned and have it dyed or curled until it is able to join the popular procession of plumes.

Mary Dean

Bedquilt Easily Made.

Cold weather is here with a vengeance, and some of us are wishing we had one of the heavy quilts grandmother handed down to us and we handed down to the church fair. Well, here is the way to make one quickly and easily.

Get two pieces of sateen or of mercerized printed goods in contrasting yet harmonious colors and of the proper size to fit your bed. Put the right sides together and machine stitch up two of the sides. Then turn the goods inside out and run it up in stripes six inches apart.

Next get soft calico, which tear up into strips each six inches wide. Machine stitch these up the sides and fill them with cotton batting.

Draw the cotton filled calico into the strips of your quilt, being sure to fit them evenly and neatly, and sew up the ends. Finish with a ribbon quilt or edging and your quilt is done.

Saving Tablecloths.

It is well to have your tablecloths and sheets folded widthways occasionally instead of lengthways, as this prevents the fold from always coming in the same place and thus causing that place to wear out first.

The Postoffice, The Popular Magazines and The People

A provision has been added to the Postoffice Appropriation Bill by the Senate Postoffice Committee without proper notice or public hearing. It provides for an unjust discriminatory and confiscatory tax on the popular magazines. By attaching this provision to the Postoffice Appropriation Bill at the eleventh hour, all opportunity for open discussion and consideration by the people, the publishers and the Senate was cut off. It was an un-American star-chamber proceeding, accomplished under Presidential and political coercion.

If this bill is passed, with the provision which practically exempts from taxation magazines which have not spoken boldly on public questions, many of the popular periodicals will be put out of business altogether and the others, without exception, will be seriously crippled.

Even if it were possible for magazines to continue in business under these new conditions, the people would derive no benefit from the measure; for until the Postoffice Department is taken out of politics, and a businesslike management installed, it is improbable that any additional revenue collected will be used economically.

We urge every friend of honest politics, economical government and a free press to telegraph or write an immediate protest to their Senators and Representatives.

CHAPTER I.

FOUL PLAY.

It was a wild night in March. The great trees in Bushey park creaked and groaned and swept their bare arms through the air as if they were blind giants fighting invisible foes. The night was dark, for the sky was full of clouds, but no rain fell.

In Chestnut avenue no vehicles were to be seen, and Guy Lorimer had met no one on his way from Hampton Court. He was just congratulating himself on escaping without a wetting when he suddenly stopped short in his stride. He had heard, not twenty paces off, the short, sharp report of a pistol. The report was not loud, scarcely louder than the crack of a whip, but it was unmistakable.

Guy stood listening for some sound that might guide him to the spot, and in the instant that followed the shot he believed he heard a scream—whether of fear or pain or horror he could not tell.

Hearing nothing further, he shouted and waited for an answer, but there was no response. Then he ran as fast as he could in the direction from which the sound of the shot had come.

He had only gone about forty yards when he heard a cry. The sound came from his left, from the direction of the avenue, and almost at the same time he saw the figure of a man steal from under the shadow of the trees and dart across the avenue. Guy rushed after him and kept him in sight till he was swallowed up by the trees at the other side of the avenue. Here it was impossible to follow with any hope of success, for the fugitive had nothing to do but to step behind one of the trees and wait till his pursuer had blundered by. Besides, Guy thought to himself, if any one has been shot he must be attended to at once.

He ran back, shouted and waited for some answering cry. A woman's voice, clear and full, called out, "Here!" He ran to the spot and found a man lying at full length on the ground. A woman, whose face was covered with a veil, knelt at the man's side, supporting his head on her arm.

"What has happened?" cried Guy breathlessly. "He is not dead, is he?"

"No, he is not dead, but I fear he is dangerously hurt."

Guy was startled. This was a lady of some social position, if anything could be judged from the tones of the voice. What was such a woman doing here at such an hour?

"I will run for a doctor, if you will kindly wait here till I come back," said Guy. "By the way," he added, "were you here when the shot was fired?"

"No. I came up as you did yourself."

"Did you come from the Teddington end of the avenue?"

"What business is that of yours?"

The lady's tone was proud, contemptuous, menacing. Guy was certain that he had heard that voice before.

"Rather an odd night for a lady to take a stroll in the park," Guy thought to himself, but he only turned to the sufferer and asked, "Are you conscious, my poor fellow?"

A moan was the only answer.

"I am going for a doctor and a policeman," said Guy. "Keep up your courage. I shall be back presently."

"Take me home. Fetch a cab and take me home," said the wounded man, with more energy than Guy had thought he possessed. "There's no need for a policeman."

Guy set off without waiting to hear more, but he had gone only a few hundred yards when he met a park keeper, to whom he told what had occurred.

"It looks very much like an attempt at murder," said he. "But the first thing to do is to get the wounded man home. Get a cab as quick as you can and a doctor if you can find one. I will go back and stay with him in the meantime."

He had some little difficulty in finding his way back to the spot where the wounded man was lying, and during the journey his foot struck against something lying on the ground. The object gave out a sharp ringing sound, as of metal. He stooped and picked up a revolver, a small thing, scarcely larger than a good sized pipe. Muttering to himself that the man must be a fool to drop such a damning piece of evidence on the very scene of the crime, he slipped the revolver into his pocket.

When he reached the wounded man the lady had disappeared.

"I wish I had told the park keeper to fetch a doctor in the first place," he muttered as he knelt down beside the sufferer.

"No doctor could help me," said the man faintly.

"We can't tell that," said Guy, trying to speak cheerfully.

By this time he heard the sound of wheels. He shouted, and a cabman appeared, carrying one of the cab lamps in his hand.

Guy's ulster was spread upon the ground, and with some difficulty Guy and the cabman lifted the wounded man on to it and then carried him to the cab.

"I had better go with you myself," said Guy, with one foot on the step.

"Where shall I tell the man to drive to?"

"Tell him to drive over Kingston bridge," said the man after a pause. It was necessary to drive slowly to avoid jolting, and Guy was horribly afraid that the man would die in his arms. By the time they reached Kingston his voice was very weak, but he still refused to say where he lived, preferring to give directions from time to time as to the streets the cabman was to drive through.

"The man must be a fool," said Guy to himself. "As if it wouldn't be the easiest thing in the world for the cabman or me to find our way back to-morrow if we liked!" But the patient was in such a state that it was necessary to humor him.

The cab finally stopped at the door of a humble six roomed cottage, one of a row. A light was burning in the window, and as soon as the noise of the wheels ceased the door was opened by a tall, dark haired girl, who held a candle above her head.

"Father!" she cried in a tone of terror and anxiety. "What has happened?"

"Your father has been hurt," said Guy, answering for him. "Can we take him to a bed on the ground floor? I am afraid he cannot bear being carried upstairs."

The girl made no reply, but her white face became yet paler as she turned and led the way into the little sitting room. Out of this a bedroom opened, and, having made some hasty arrangements for the reception of the patient, she went back and helped the two men to carry him through the narrow passage and doorways.

No sooner was he laid on the bed than he fainted away.

"Have you any brandy in the house?" asked Guy, turning to the girl.

She fetched what was wanted and he managed to pour a little of the spirit down the man's throat with a spoon. After a minute or two the patient opened his eyes and looked wildly around him. His eyes fell on the girl, who had dropped on her knees at the side of the bed, and a softer expression came into his face.

"Nora, my girl, it's all up with your poor old dad," he said, and for answer she could only hide her face, while a dry sob burst from her lips.

"Tell me where I can find a doctor," said Guy in an anxious whisper. "It is too soon to give up hope. He may not be so badly hurt as he thinks."

"If so be that you could fetch a praste, sor," said the man in a more pronounced Irish accent than he had yet used. Guy feared that this was a bad sign, but he got from Nora the best directions he could and sent the cabman for the priest, while he himself ran for a doctor.

The doctor luckily was at home. He returned with Guy, and when he had made a short examination of the wounded man he merely bound up the wound in a superficial way and gave Nora some simple directions.

Then he went into the outer room, and Guy followed him.

"I can be of no use," the doctor said, partly closing the door. "The poor fellow is sinking fast. He can't possibly live out the night. But how did it happen? Did he shoot himself?"

"That is more than I can tell you," said Guy, "but I fear it is a case of murder." And he told the doctor briefly what had happened.

MEXICO PICTURED IN SOME TABLEAUX

Knowledge of Mexico and its people is limited to so small a number that the entertainment given by the Junior Band of the First Baptist church, Saturday afternoon, in the lecture room, with Mexico and its people for the subject, was full of instruction to the audience, made up of those unfamiliar with the country and its inhabitants. The mission band has had Mexico for the subject of study since the early fall and its members presented the following program with fine effect, Mrs. Reuben Knox, who had the children in charge, describing the tableaux in an interesting manner:

The Toltec maiden, Catherine Endress; the Aztec maiden, Dorothy Lee; Montezuma's daughter, Erma G. Dobbins; the Malinche maiden, Emma Vershuur; Hidalgo's sister, Rachel Smith; Mexican school children, Randolph Douglas and Emily Pilger. The Story of Little Pachita, Travis Nash; Religions, Constance Harris; prayer means and men, Charlotte Vershuur.

The Public Letter Writer, Bessie Case, Ruth Hoffman; the Peon, Arthur Krause; the Cargados, Charles Nash; tortilla maker, Elsie Vershuur; basket maker, Wilhelmina Endress; water carriers, Mabel Douglas, Florence Douglas, Flora Krause; Zephe men, Ruth Hall, Arthur Nash, Clarence Krause. All of the children took their parts exceedingly well.

A brief description of the beautiful lakes of the country was read by Miss Louise Hackett. In the absence of Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor, Rev. J. W. Mussion conducted the devotional service with which the affair opened. Mrs. J. Hervey Buchanan presided at the piano.

A sale of cake and candy with useful articles made by the band, concluded the entertainment. The following members were in charge: Cake table, Mabel Douglas, Lucy Douglas, Edna White; Candy, Constance Harris, Erma G. Dobbins; fancy, Flora Krause, Lillian Fountain. The sale was superintended by teachers of the band and Mrs. Albert Kennelly was in charge of the costuming.

BELLEVILLE'S FIVE NOT FAST ENOUGH

Undoubtedly one of the best basketball games witnessed here in a long time was that between the Belleville and Plainfield Y. M. C. A. fives at the local association gymnasium Saturday night. The game was fast from start to finish, and Plainfield had the satisfaction of winning, the final score being 46 to 36. The Belleville boys were a little late in arriving and consequently had little time for practice. However, as subsequent events showed, they did not need much practice. They made the locals extend themselves to win out.

The score at the end of the first half was 20 to 17 in favor of Plainfield. Things got mighty interesting in the second half, especially when the teams tied with a score of 28 to 28. The rooters in the gallery cheered their favorites to the echo, and this served to help the locals on to a victory. During the second half, Plainfield was able to keep the ball in its possession most of the time and cheer after cheer was given as the agile players continued to run up the score with goals from the field.

The locals had to pay the penalty for a number of fouls, and this was about the only way the visitors could score a goal in the last half. Toward the end, Ricketts was taken out and Naylor finished the contest. Plainfield showed a decided improvement in general play and the game deserved much better patronage. The lineup:

Plainfield—Forwards, Ricketts, Stein; centre, Fritts; guards, Gavett, Manley, Naylor.

Belleville—Forwards, Burnside, Girard; centre, Depew; guards, Farst, Smith, Marshall.

An excellent preliminary game was played between the Ajax, of the Y. M. C. A., and the Social Five, in which the latter won by a score of 40 to 22. At the end of the first half the score was 26 to 16 in favor of the visitors. The lineup:

Ajax—Forwards, Peacock, McNamee; centre, Dunning; guards, Glover, Newmiller, Richardson.

Social Five—Forwards, Walker, Ricketts; centre, Good; guards, Carty, Nash.

Physical Director T. G. Whittaker was referee of the first game and G. M. C. Smith the second game.

BOYS' DEPARTMENT GYMNASIUM RESULTS

The results of the gymnastic championship, boys' department, at the Y. M. C. A., showed some clever work. This is an annual fixture in which the boys take great delight. The results:

Mats—Dickerson, 20; Manley, 18; Foster, 18; Stewart, 18; McNamee, 17; Kenney, 16; Denny, 16; Blair, 15; Lowe, 15; Depew, 13; Clay, 12; W. S. Brower, 12; Stringham, 10; Bunker, 9. Parallel bars—Manley, 22; McNamee, 15; Blair, 15; Lowe, 14; Stewart, 14; Kenney, 11; Foster, 9; Conroy, 8; Denny, 8; Clay, 6; Seal, 6; Dickerson, 6; Bunker, 5; Depew, 5; Stringham, 4; W. S. Brower, 1. Horse—Lowe, 25; Manley, 28; Blair, 26; Kenney, 22; Foster, 25; McNamee, 24; Dickerson, 24; Stewart, 24; Bunker, 20; Seal, 18; Conroy, 16; Denny, 16; Clay, 13; Stringham, 12; Depew, 11.

Total points—Manley, 68; Lowe, 61; McNamee, 56; Blair, 55; Stewart, 54; Kenney, 53; Foster, 52; Dickerson, 50; Denny, 46; Bunker, 34; Seal, 37; Clay, 31; Depew, 29; W. S. Brower, 13; Stringham, 26; Conroy, 37.

CHURCH'S SYMBOL PLACED IN EDIFICE

As the congregation at Trinity Reformed church assembled for morning service yesterday the members were surprised when they observed with much pleasure another improvement, a beautifully designed representation of the coat-of-arms of the Reformed Church in America having been placed in a niche in the front of the edifice. The symbol in colors, scarlet red and blue, gold and silver, is the handiwork of a noted interior decorative artist, Alberto Baccini, of 347 Fifth avenue, New York.

It being the wish of the pastor, Rev. John Y. Brock, that the coat of arms adorn the edifice, Mr. Baccini was engaged by one of the consistory to paint it, but when his product was finished the artist announced that it should be his gift in cherished memory of a departed and beloved friend, Mrs. Clara M. Force. It was placed in position by Seader & Martin, of Chatham street.

The design measures eight by twelve feet and replaces the Scriptural text, "Holiness Becometh Thy House, O Lord," which had been inscribed in the niche during the active pastorate of Rev. Dr. Schenck. In renovating the edifice recently the walls were washed down and the inscription was obliterated.

Description of the emblem: The emblem of the Reformed church is an adaptation of the coat-of-arms of William the Silent, Prince of Orange, to whom the Netherlands owes her civil and religious independence. The coat-of-arms represents the principalities of which William was ruler, or to which he was in some way related.

The first quarter of the large shield bears the arms of Nassau. It has a gold lion rampant on a blue field surrounded by seventeen gold billets, representing the union of the ten states of the Netherlands with the seven states of Holland under William. The second quarter represents Katzenellenbogen and has a red lion rampant guardant, crowned, on a gold field. The third quarter represents Vianen, and has a red field banded with silver. The fourth quarter has two gold lions passant guardant, on a red field, and is the shield of Diez.

The small shield is also quartered. The first and fourth quarters bearing diagonal bands of gold on a red field represent the principalities of Zhalons. The second and third quarters, with a horn or bugle suspended on a gold field, that of Orange. These martial horns symbolize the courageous leadership of those who took up arms against the Moors and Saracens.

The smallest shield is that of Jano of Geneva, who married one of the Princes of Orange. It is divided into nine squares, five of which have gold, and four blue fields.

The crown which surmounts the shield represents the Emperor Charles the Great who, while Sovereign of the Netherlands, granted them the right of carrying the imperial crown above the coat-of-arms.

To adapt this coat-of-arms for use as a church emblem the pillows and stars were added, as were the mottoes, "Nisi Dominus Frustra," "Without the Lord all is vain," and "Een-Dracht Maakt Macht," "Union makes strength." The one, taken from Psalms, 127:1, fully expresses hope in God; and the other was the watchword of the Dutch in their long struggle for home and church.

FOR IRELAND'S FREEDOM.

Big Mass Meeting Planned in Paterson February 20.

Paterson Irishmen and Irish-Americans interested in the cause of Ireland's freedom will hold a monster mass meeting in Entre Nous Hall, Paterson, Monday evening, February 20.

The principal speaker will be Captain O'Meara Condon, who shortly after the Civil War was condemned to death by the British courts for his activity in the Irish cause. He was later released. It is thirty years since Captain Condon was last in Paterson.

Very Reverend Dean William McNulty and William B. Gourley will also address the gathering. Subscriptions will be started to aid the cause. The State and county boards of Sons of Erin are behind the movement and the meeting in Paterson will be the first of a series to be held throughout the State.

The Home department of Trinity Reformed church will attend the service Sunday, March 19, when the pastor, Rev. J. Y. Brock, will preach a special sermon to the women.

A SAVAGE WITCH.

King of the Quiah Tribe Saved the Man's Life by Chopping Off His Ear.

The author of "Heroes of Modern Crusades," the Rev. Edward Gillist, M. A., at one time master of Harrow school, says in his book that he had years ago the privilege of meeting the king of the Quiah country, Teti Agamassong, at Harrow. The Quiah king had been educated at St. Augustine's college, Canterbury, and was able to lecture to the Harrovians in good English. In his lecture he told a quaint story which brings one nearer to the weird lives of the Quiahs, a small agricultural and trading tribe of inoffensive characters on the west coast of Africa.

"In my country," said the king, "we have no prisons; therefore if a culprit is brought to me I must chop off something—an ear or two, a hand or a foot—and he goes home a sadder and a wiser man. Just before I left for England a chief came to my hut, bringing a prisoner."

"What has he done, friend? I asked."

"He is a dangerous witch. O king. He can turn himself into an alligator."

"Pooh! Nonsense! I don't believe that old fashioned stuff."

"Oh, but we saw him do it down by the big river."

"Indeed! Well, chief, tell me all about it. You saw him yourself?"

"I did. We were hunting by the banks of the river with our rifles when all at once we saw a big alligator lying on a rock in the river. The witch man was lying asleep in a hammock some fifty yards away. Oh, the dangerous creature he is!"

"Well, king, do not laugh with your eyes like that, for I am speaking the truth. I put up my rifle to shoot the alligator; but, to our great fear, as soon as I fired this fellow rolled out of his hammock and fell on the ground and rubbed his back and swore he was hurt."

"Now, O king, if this witch had not been inside the alligator how could he have been hurt when I fired?"

"Gentlemen," concluded the king, "I see you are laughing with your eyes, but it is very difficult to rule over a people untaught and given over to superstition."

"What did I do? Why, if I had left him free they would have killed him as soon as I had gone on my ship, so I saved his life by chopping off his left ear."

MODERN CHESS.

The Game Vastly Different From That of the Ninth Century.

Chess is but a game, a pastime, a relaxation, but it has at times absorbed the faculties of the intellectual in every clime. Perhaps the greatest eulogy on the game was the remark of Sir Walter Raleigh, "I do not wish to live longer than I can play chess." It is certain that those who do not play the game are quite unable to form any conception of the high intellectual delights experienced by the chess enthusiast.

The origin of chess has been sought in vain. The fact is the game has so changed, developed and improved down the course of centuries that in its present form it would not be recognized by its inventor. If there ever was one. The oldest chess problem on record is thought to be that contained in an ancient Persian manuscript attributed to Caliph Kaifan Mutash Billah, who reigned in Bagdad A. D. 833 to 842. But the reader would have to learn the old rules before it was intelligible. For example, the queen could make a move of only one square at a time and that on a diagonal, but a queen promoted from a pawn was allowed to make a move of two squares diagonally. The bishop had no power over any square except the third from which it stood on its own diagonal line, but it was allowed to vault over any piece that happened to be between. In short, it was a totally different game. Chess in the precise form in which we know it and play it today is a comparatively modern game. —London Strand Magazine.

Amending a Proverb.

There are a lot of silly proverbs knocking about. Take, for instance, "If pigs had wings they would fly." Now, this is absurd if you like. Do you know what sized wings a pig weighing eighty pounds would require in order to fly? They would measure about thirty yards from tip to tip. A nice state of things to keep pigs in an aviary with wings of that size! The proverb would run much better:

If pigs could fly

Pork would be high.

—London Scraps.

The Right Way.

Little Willie liked ice cream, but he objected to turning the freezer. One day his mother was agreeably surprised to find him working at the crank as if his life depended on it.

"How did you get Willie to turn the ice cream freezer?" she said to her husband. "I offered him 2 cents to do it, and he wouldn't."

"You didn't go about it the right way, my dear," replied her husband. "I bet him a cent he couldn't turn it for half an hour!"

BALLINGTON BOOTH TALKS ON HIS WORK

General Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, accompanied by his junior staff of bell ringers, conducted the service at the First Baptist church, last night. The edifice was well filled with worshippers and all listened with great interest to the earnest words of Gen. Booth as he told of his work, and incidentally relating pathetic stories in connection with the prison work which is carried on so successfully by his wife, Mrs. Maude Ballington Booth.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Chambliss, pastor, was in charge of the service and after the opening exercises, during which the bell ringers rendered several selections and Gen. Booth played a number of hymns on a concertina, the latter spoke for about an hour. He did not take any text, but delivered a strong talk on the importance of Christian people giving the other fellow another chance and thereby helping to reclaim him from a life of sin and shame.

The speaker related several stories to show how by giving a fellow another chance, his whole life had been changed and he had become a useful member of society and had been the means of helping others to lead a Christian life.

In conclusion, Gen. Booth made a strong appeal for funds with which to carry on the Volunteer work, especially in the care of people in Volunteer hospitals. The congregation gave a generous contribution to this work.

MRS. SWIFT SURVIVED BY TWO SISTERS HERE.

Mrs. Martha Swift, who died in England after a short illness, and who had been employed in this city for several years by Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Lowrie, of Park avenue, is survived by two sisters living in this city, Mrs. Elizabeth Fenton, of West Fourth street, and Mrs. Abraham Wilde, of West Fifth street.

Mrs. Swift was a member of Hope chapel and had a wide circle of friends in this city to whom the news of her death was a shock. Mrs. Swift was in her fifty-eighth year.
