WIRELESS CORP'N

Amateurs' Association to be Stringently Regulated in Union County.

ROBERT A. LEE, CHAIRMAN

Banquet Probable Within Two Weeks

—Expert Electricians to Speak to Members.

The second annual meeting of the Union County Wireless Association was held last night in Y. M. C. A. Hall with an attendance largely in excess of that of the first meeting a week ago. Enthusiasm marked the meeting and it is believed that within a very short time every boy who is present is interested in the subject even remotely will become a member of the new organization. Papers of incorporation have been drawn up by George W. V. Moy, counsel for the association, which will be filed on Monday next with the Secretary of State at Trenton and with the County Clerk at Elizabeth. The association now numbers 98 members.

The object of the meeting last night was for more perfect organization and the appointment of committees together with the selection of trustees and an executive committee. An assistant secretary was deemed necessary owing to the increasing work of the secretary and Fred Clarke was elected to the position. Owing to the resignation of John Maier, Jr., of Bound Brook from the vice-presidency, Lieut. L. M. Wilson, of the Flinders Military Academy, was elected in his place. Mr. Maier resigned because he was a minor and the requirements of the legal representatives of the organization demand that officers be of age.

The committees appointed by President James J. Wooton, last evening are: Executive committee, the officers with Robert A. Lee, chairman; trustees, the officers; by-laws, the officers with Charles G. August, as chairman; call list and code committee, Robert Butler, chairman; Egbert Fountain and Bradford Willard; entertainment and refreshment committee, Earl W. August, chairman; Benjamin Harris and Fred Clarke, Charles G. August was named as general counsel for the association.

During the evening, Mr. August and Mr. Wooton gave some interesting information regarding the operation of their stations and the eyes of some of the youngest of the members almost jumped from their sockets at the revelations made before the evening was half over. There is no doubt that the scheme of the new organization has opened a door of experimentation which will keep many boys out of mischief as well as prove a never ending source of pleasure. It is hoped to develop among the young fellows some geniuses along the line of inventions.

It is proposed now to interest all the newspapers in the State in the project and appointments of local agents, one in each county, will shortly be made. Plainfield will be the headquarters of the association and the officers in this city will be at the head of the greater organization. It is hoped to hold a banquet within the next two weeks at which time eminent electricians, especially those acquainted with wireless, are expected to speak to the boys on the new science.

Whatever trouble there existed between the owners of wireless apparatus and the Public Service Corporation have been obviated by the installation of two transformers at Lee place. In future the wireless enthusiasts will be governed by stringent by-laws which will prevent interference between them and the P. S. C. as well as users of the telephone and electric light.

COMMISSIONERS MAKE COMPLIMENTARY REPORT.

William A. Woodruff, J. Fred MacDonald and Frank H. Smith, commissioners in the matter of the petition of the Government to fix the compensation to be paid Albert L. Force for his lands at Watchung Avenue and East Second street, to be used for a Federal building, met United States District Attorney John B. Vreeland, of Morristown, at the office of John H. VanWinkle & Son, in the Babcock building, this morning and filed their report with him.

The report will be received by Judge John Rellstab of the United States District court, at Trenton, next Monday.

WILLIAM M. RUNYON WEDDED MRS. LEWIS

William M. Runyon, a former resident of this city, residing at 316 East Front street, who is connected with the United States Leather company, Manhattan, was married Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock February 8 last, at the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, 37th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, to Mrs. Anna D. Lewis, of President street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Rev. Dr. Oxtoby, pastor of the Tabernacle church, officiated. Thos. A. Runyon, of Manhattan, son of the groom and Miss Dorothy Lewis, daughter of the bride, were the attendants.

The wedding was a quiet one, only a few relatives of both parties being present. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Runyon gave a dinner to their guests in their private suite at the Bellevue-Stratford.

The bride was gowned in lilac satin with marquisette and old lace trimmings. Miss Lewis was in white net and satin. Mrs. A. A. Gullick, cousin of the bride, wore black satin trimmed with jet and Mrs. Thomas A. Runyon's costume was of pale blue messaline. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and pearl pendant. Mr. and Mrs. Runyon after a southern trip, will be at home after March 1 to their friends at the Edgemere, East Orange.

DUNELLEN MAYOR HAS HIS OWN WAY

It is believed that Mayor Sanford of Dunellen, has at last found the way to a cleanup of the condition that it is alleged has been going on in Dunellen for several years in the operation of public works. It is said that ever since the change in the political color of the Common Council there has been a contest for the apportionment of all work of a public nature in which horses are the motive power.

Mayor Sanford has taken the bull by the horns and has obtained the necessary funds—to be exact $500—for the purchase of a suitable team of horses which he would like to see used in the work of the borough. In order to procure this money he signed a personal note for the amount and it is secured by the signatures of at least twenty of the best citizens of the borough. He has offered the use of the team to the fire company and at a meeting of the smoke eaters next Thursday evening the matter will be put squarely before them.

When the political changes of the borough eliminated Mike Gallagher from the turmoil of public duty the work fell to Cornelius Huff, whose father was a member of the Common Council. When Goldson Smalley became street commissioner, Isaac Smalley got the job.

It is the mayor's idea that the team could be stabled in the borough hall, where the fire ladders have their apparatus. Then the Council chamber may be turned over to the fire fighters and the borough hall be refurbished so that it will accommodate the public and other meetings which may be thought desirable to hold there.

HEBREWS ARE PLANNING FOR STUDY OF CIVICS.

There will be an open meeting of the Young Men's Hebrew Association at Association Hall on Grove street Monday evening, February 27, at which representative Hebrews will take up the subject of ways and means for forming an organization for civic study and increasing the interest in the work among the young people of the race. Judge William Newcorn will preside.

The proceeds of the whist party held on March 15 at the home of Mrs. Newcorn will be devoted to increasing the library of the association.

Guests at Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Royle Phillips, of West Front street, were among the guests at the wedding of Miss Frances Gore Redfern Margerum, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Mahlon R. Margerum, and Charles Breed Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace S. Riley, of Trenton, which took place, Wednesday night in the reception room of the Hotel Windsor, Trenton. There were more than one hundred relatives and friends present and the affair was the most brilliant of the winter in the Capitol City. The couple have gone to Bermuda on a wedding trip.

—Butter Scotch Kisses 25c; Ritz Saturday special.

—Shoes, rubbers and everything at M. Abrams' shoe store must be sold at a big reduction.

—Among the special offerings at Neuman Bros. tomorrow will be a complete and large assortment of fresh fruits and vegetables.

HARVEY DISCHARGED EVIDENCE IS LACKING

For lack of evidence of an incriminating nature James Harvey, the twenty-year-old colored youth, who was suspected of having stolen some wearing apparel from the barber shop of James Bowling on Central avenue, was discharged this morning by Judge William G. DeMeza. There was nothing to show that Harvey had been near the barber shop on last Monday night when it is alleged the robbery took place.

Harvey, his cousin, Clarence Harvey, and Edward Jones all told straightforward stories as to their whereabouts on the night in question. They had all been together in a poolroom on Madison avenue and later had gone to Proctor's, where they remained until long after the alleged burglary was committed.

There was nothing left for the judge to do but discharge the accused man.

MAYOR TO CONFER WITH CITY FATHERS

Requested by the Common Council, Mayor Moy will hold a conference tonight with that body at the Mayor's office. The purpose is to discuss the matter of the board of assessors. As already told in this paper, the city fathers asked the Mayor to select four citizens to compose such a board (waiving its own right to name a board of three members as empowered by law).

It is reported that Mayor Moy may inform the Common Council at this meeting as to his probable appointees. As the Common Council holds an adjourned session on Monday night, it is said to be more than probable that the appointments will be submitted formally at that time.

There are other appointments yet to be made. One of these is for a member of the Board of Health, the city fathers having declined to confirm the appointment of LeRoy J. Ellis. Another is for overseer of the poor, the appointment of Rev. St. John Fitch to succeed Alexander Ayers having been "turned down." No action has as yet been taken by the Mayor regarding a corporation counsel.

MRS. HOPCRAFT GIVES DELIGHTFUL MUSICAL.

A delightful musicale was given by Mrs. McNeil Hopcraft and several of her vocal students at the studio in the Babcock building last evening at which a goodly company of friends of both teacher and taught gathered.

The recital was opened with a piano duet splendidly played by Misses May Vincent Whitney and Marguerite VanZandt. Mrs. Clare Auerbach followed in two German songs and Miss Ruth Sadler in two more of Rubinstein's Lieder. Persian songs, Mrs. Hopcraft, with banjo accompaniment by Alfred A. Farland and Lieder by Miss Bertha Van Nuis Willis completed part one. Miss Muriel Collins, Miss Bechtel, Miss Willis, Mr. Farland, Mrs. B. E. Tugwell and Miss Sadler completed the second half of the program amid applause. Ida Randolph Smalley was an able accompanist.

Date of Organ Dedication.
Announcement is made that the new memorial organ now being installed in Trinity Reformed church by the Tallman Organ Co., of Brooklyn, will be dedicated Sunday morning, March 12. The work of installing the new organ is about completed and it will soon be turned over to the church for acceptance. Between the present time and March 12 the organ will be thoroughly tested so that everything will be in first class shape on the latter date.

Turkey Supper a Success.
The turkey supper given at the home of Mrs. Eugene VanCourt, Oak Tree, last night, for the benefit of Marconier chapel, was a great success. The committee in charge comprised Mrs. Lenora Randolph, Mrs. William Randolph, Mrs. Eugene VanCourt and Mrs. William VanCourt. They served 125 dinners and all enjoyed the fine menu. W. H. Randolph was a valuable assistant in carving the turkeys. The affair netted between $40 and $50.

Elks Will Remove.
Plainfield Lodge, No. 775, B. P. O. E., will remove from its present quarters on West Second street, to its new property on Watchung avenue between Second and Front streets, next week. The building is being wired for electric lights and partitions will be changed to meet the present needs of the members.

—Neuman Bros. will offer for tomorrow's trade an exceptionally fine line of fresh fruits and vegetables. The prices will be reasonable.

IN BOYS' BEHALF

Coming Lectures by Rev.

Franklin K. Mathews

at Y. M. C. A.

ESPECIALLY FOR THE MOTHERS

Series Started Last Fall to Be Continued by Popular Preacher

—All Meetings Are Free to Public.

Announcement has been made of the continuance of the movement for the effective moral and religious training of boys in the home recently promoted by the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association under the guidance of Rev. Franklin K. Mathews, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church. The series of lectures given by Mr. Mathews last fall called wide spread attention of the mothers of this and other towns to the vital necessity of this training and so greatly was the feeling aroused that it has been thought highly desirable to continue the course.

Mr. Mathews has devoted much time and study to the question of proper methods in this work and has evolved what is believed the best system yet found to cover the needs of the day. All the conferences of the mothers will be open to the public and they will be maintained by the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. The expenses of the work will be defrayed through voluntary contributions of $1 each and the committee is as follows: Chairman, Mrs. F. W. Wallace; secretary, Mrs. O. G. Dale; treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Krebs. The other members of the committee are Mrs. W. C. Kinney, Mrs. Henry M. Maxson, Mrs. M. B. Mellor and Mrs. J. D. Miller.

Obedience will form the topic of the lectures which will begin next month and will occupy the lecturer's attention as follows: March 3, "Jimmie," "James" and "Jim," or the problem stated from the viewpoint of the boy; March 10, "The Mania to be a Man," or "Building upon the Basis for Obedience;" March 17, "Tempting the Boy to Obey," or "The Art of Making Commands Attractive;" March 25, "The Right Kind of a Boy," or "Teaching Obedience by Means of the Things the Boy Enjoys;" March 31, "Money and Morals," or "The Place of Prizes and Rewards in Securing Obedience." All these lectures begin at 3:30 in the afternoon on the dates specified.

A considerable amount of the material presented will deal with the child, which includes girls and boys up to twelve years old. The lectures will be of forty minutes duration and will be followed by an open conference.

COLORED TRUANTS' FATHER IN COURT.

James Babbitt, colored, of East Front street, whose daughter, Edith, thirteen years old, has evidently been playing truant from school, was warned this morning that unless the child attended regularly he would meet with the same punishment as have others who fail to see to it that their children attend school.

Edith has been absent forty days since last September part of the time waiting upon her mother who it is said is ill of an incurable disease. Babbitt promised to engage a nurse and send the girl to school.

—Ritz bisque ice cream Saturday.

—The greatest shoe sale in the history of Plainfield is now going on at Abrams.

MATTERS DISCUSSED BY FIRE COMMITTEE

The Councilmanic fire and building committee of which Duncan W. Taylor is chairman, last night discussed the proposition to place all wires in the business section underground. A year or two ago the telephone company offered to place the fire department wires in the centre of the city in its conduits for $2,000. The concern, however, has no conduit on East Front street.

Representing the P. S. C., Col. Hine and L. H. D. Gilmour talked with the committee concerning the plan to have the high tension wire running through Madison avenue and Second street to Watchung avenue placed underground. There was also some talk last night as to the purchase of a pair of horses for the fire department.

There was also some discussion of an automobile engine.

TWO VETOS FILED BY CITY'S MAYOR

Two more vetoes have been filed with the City Clerk, Mayor Moy having expressed his disapproval of the Councilmanic resolution permitting the finance committee to employ counsel and its resolution to extend Kensington avenue to Randolph road.

The grounds upon which the Mayor looks with disfavor on the special counsel resolution are two fold. First, he holds that if such permission would be granted, other committees would have an equal right to be allowed special counsel. His second contention is that the phraseology of the resolution is bad for it is not framed in accordance with the ordinances which vest the Mayor with the power to appoint a corporation counsel.

As to the Kensington avenue extension scheme, the Mayor says that he has received a large number of protests from residents in that vicinity and that one property-owner affected threatens to sue the city if such an undertaking is carried out.

C. A. REED'S MOTHER HAS PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Annie E. Reed, widow of Col. Hugh B. Reed, and mother of former State Senator Charles A. Reed, died yesterday at her home in Raritan. She was seventy-six years of age. Mrs. Reed was well known throughout Somerset county, and was an active and prominent member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Surviving her are three sons, Charles A. Reed, of New York, Hugh Bertram Reed, of Newark, and Dr. Reed, of Somerville. The funeral will be held at Rose Hill crematory, Linden cemetery, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Guest—Goodwin.

Miss Marian E. Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Goodwin and William I. Guest, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Guest, both of Scotch Plains, were married last evening by Rev. Dr. Charles M. Anderson, pastor of the First M. E. church. H. D. Goodwin, brother of the bride, and Mrs. Kizzie Rowland, of this city, accompanied the couple, as witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Guest will reside at Scotch Plains.

Grocery Shower.

Rev. Cortlandt H. Mallory was the recipient of a surprise yesterday when the members of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, of which he is rector, called upon him with a "grocery shower."

LENTEN SERVICES AT HEAVENLY REST

Rev. Cortlandt H. Mallory, rector of the Heavenly Rest, has prepared his program of special services for the Lenten season, beginning March 1, Ash Wednesday with penitential office and holy eucharist at 10 o'clock and evensong and address at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The services on Sunday will be as follows: 8, holy eucharist; 11, matins, litany and sermon; holy eucharist first and third Sundays in month; 7:30 p. m., evensong. Question box. The other services will be as follows:

Holy Week in addition daily except Good Friday, 10 a. m., holy eucharist; Good Friday, April 14, 11:45 a. m., altar service; 12-3 p. m., Passion service and addresses on the seven words from the Cross; 4:30 p. m., children's service; 7:30 p. m., evensong and sermon. Holy Saturday, 5 p. m., evening prayer and holy baptism. East Day, April 16, 7 a. m., holy eucharist; 8 a. m., holy eucharist; 11 a. m., holy eucharist and sermon; 4 p. m., children's evensong; 7:30 p. m., evensong and sermon; April 2, 4 p. m., confirmation.

GEO. D. SCHOMP'S FUNERAL SUNDAY

The funeral service of George D. Schomp, aged seventy-five years, who died early Wednesday morning at the home of his son, Victor D. Schomp, in New Market, will be held at the Reformed church, Three Bridges, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and the remains will be taken to his former home in Childs, Kansas, where another service will be held and the burial will take place in the Wagstaff cemetery in that place.

Mr. Schomp was a native of Hunterdon county. Thirty years ago with his family he removed to Childs, Kansas, where he engaged in farming on a large scale. Last fall he came east to visit relatives, and while in Jersey City was taken ill. He was then removed to the home of his son at New Market, where he died. He realized his condition and was fully prepared for the end.

Mr. Schomp was a devoted Christian man, greatly interested in church and mission work. During the past few years he traveled a great deal in Porto Rico, Texas, California and other places, which afforded him an excellent opportunity to engage in mission work. He leaves a wife and several children, including Victor D. Schomp, of New Market and Abraham Schomp, of Three Bridges. The others live in the west.

Missionaries Returning.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Eugene Davis, returning missionaries from Lien-oo, China, have arrived safely in San Francisco and will soon go to River-side, Cal., where they will remain for the present. Their return is on account of the failing health of Mr. Davis. Mrs. Davis was May Ross, of this city. Mr. Davis is a brother of George Davis, of West Fifth street, who is connected with the Spicer Manufacturing company.

BOUND BROOK STATES ITS CASE

Its Reasons for Opposition to

North Plainfield's Sewage

Plant's Proposed Location Recited.

ANSWER TO MAYOR SMALLEY.

Stating its case, and incidentally replying to the public letter of Mayor Newton B. Smalley, concerning the effort of North Plainfield to locate a sewage disposal plant near its border, Bound Brook today takes advantage of an offer made by this paper to give it a hearing before North Plainfield's citizens. That a grave injustice would be done to Bound Brook should the plant be installed at Greenbrook is the contention made by that borough. The reasons are set forth in the course of the following statement, favorable to the passage of Senate bill, No. 41, signed by the citizen's committee of Bound Brook and vicinity, including Bridgewater, Warren and Piscataway townships; Bound Brook Board of Trade; Bound Brook Councilmanic committee, East Bound Brook committee and the West Piscataway Township Improvement Association:

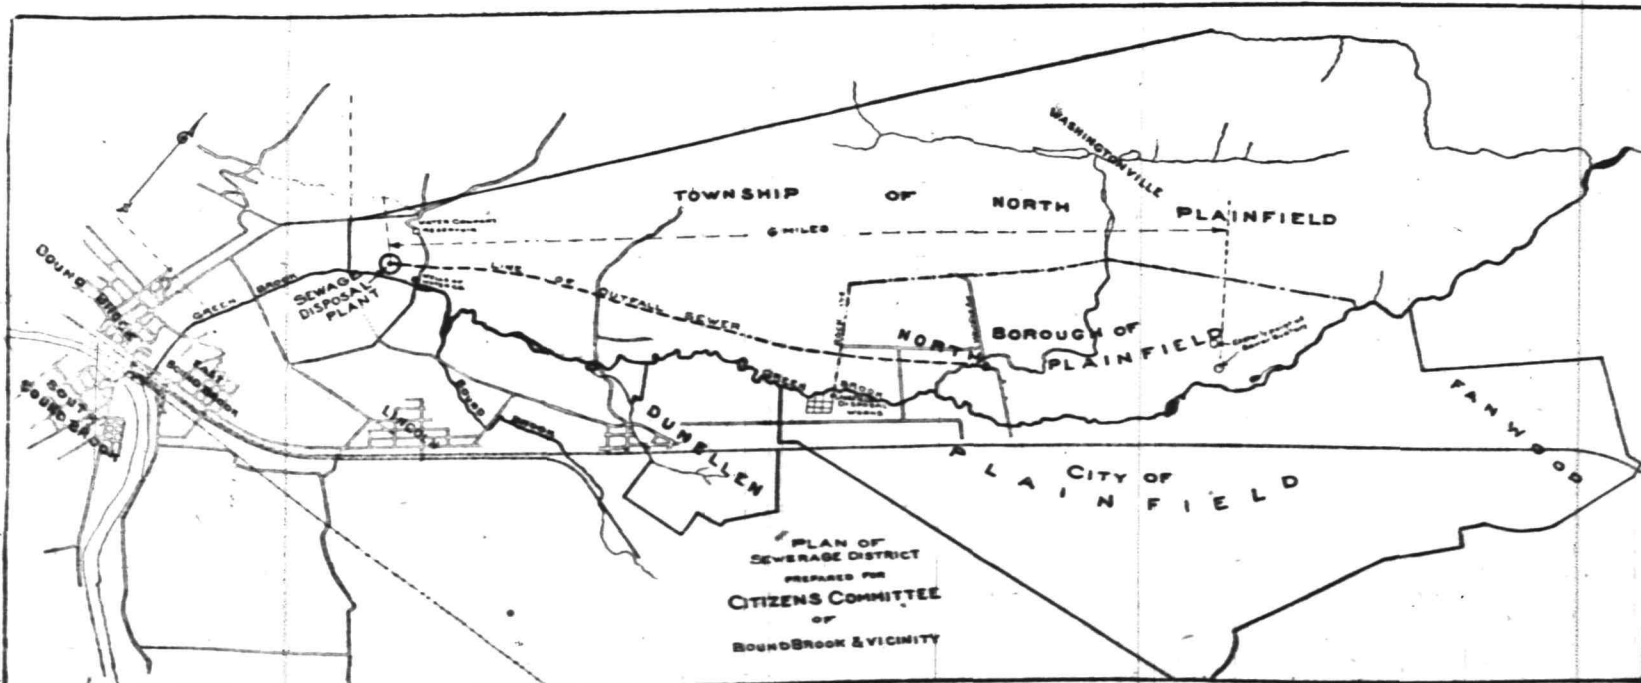

"By reason of the highly improper, personal and erroneous statements accredited to the Mayor of North Plainfield in your issue of February 20, and believing that the better class of citizens in Plainfield and North Plainfield are fair and manly enough not to allow even a community with which they may sympathize to perpetrate a grievous wrong, under advice of cunning counsel, upon four distant and distinct communities, we beg to ask you in the name of justice and fair play to give this statement an early and equally conspicuous place in your publication.

"You have published a statement purporting to be facts, and we sincerely believe that the action of the few persons who are attempting to rush North Plainfield into a bad hole is only tolerated by reason of the distorted presentation of the facts by those two or three persons, who, if the general understanding here is correct, are attempting to bring about a very profitable real estate operation by placing the sewer beds of North Plainfield—five miles away from their borough—at an additional expense to the taxpayers of nearly forty thousand dollars, and eventually reclaiming the damaged area surrounding Plainfield's present plant, beautifying it with a park and selling it off in building lots at a handsome profit to that selected few.

"The Mayor intimates that he is anxious to do his duty. If so, why does he try to force his taxpayers to uselessly spend thousands of dollars and pass by several sites chosen by their own engineers as ideal sites?

"Contrary to the Mayor's statement, the records at Trenton show that the residents in this vicinity were to be notified before any plans were adopted, and North Plainfield never notified us of its proposed action, and until December 1, when the Board of Health, as they had agreed, sent us word, we knew nothing of its acts. We immediately asked, as its records show, time to examine their plans and the laws

CONVENTION PASSED NEW RESOLUTION

At the annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association held in Trenton on Wednesday these resolutions were introduced and passed:

The Young Men's Christian Association State Convention of New Jersey hereby desires to express its sincere appreciation of the courtesies extended by the local association of Trenton, and of the hearty co-operation of all the churches and pastors, and the generosity of the press in giving publicity to its proceedings and to the city for its generous welcome.

This convention desires to thank with more than usual heartiness, the speakers of the day for the splendid addresses given, for the gripping quality of the thoughts presented, stirring us to think with freshness on the fundamentals of faith and duty; for the new problems indicated both for self culture, and for the new adaptation of our association to community-wide needs.

We think the convention should thank those members of the association who assisted the State executive committee in preparing this progress, in planning a one day session of inspiration rather than the usual longer session of instruction and study of methods.

Your committee offers the following resolutions:

First. Resolved, That the convention approves most heartily the principles and methods advocated by Dr. Fisher looking to the extension of the work of the association in every way possible to assist the school boards, the municipal authorities and other public spirited bodies in emphasizing the place and value of play in making normal, healthful and cheerful the life of children in our cities and in extending the influences of a physiological gospel.

Second. Resolved, That the effect of this convention should be to send every member back to his work and to his association determined to seek and not shun the difficult tasks, to strive to deepen the spiritual life of the members, to increase the amount of systematic Bible study and to hold the associations (in spite of ever increasing social service) to its original task of saving boys, men, body, mind and spirit, and of serving the churches loyally in bringing men and boys to Christ and His church.

Third. Resolved, That we bespeak for our new State Secretary, Mr. C. A. Coburn, the loyal support of our members, directors and the employed force of the associations of the entire State, and that we take this opportunity to extend to him a cordial welcome to our State Association.

H. W. HERRMAN,
HENRY A. COZZENS,
E. D. CONKLIN,
Committee.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The final game between the North Plainfield High five and the P. H. S. team will be played this afternoon on the Y. M. C. A. court, beginning promptly at 3:30 o'clock. This is the last game in the interscholastic league.

Fred Krom has been elected captain of the boys' basketball team vice Edson Woodhull resigned.

There will be a special inducement for good work on the baseball field this year. A silver cup will be awarded at the end of the season to the best all-round player on the team representing the school in the baseball series. Bunting will be the greatest test of the winner of the cup. Under the coaching of Jack Martin the candidates are fast rounding into form and there are candidates for all the positions. It promises to be the fastest team yet gotten together in the local school.

The Athletic Association of the P. H. S. has decided to decline the invitation of the Union County Athletic League to join that organization until certain provisions in the by-laws are amended.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

Miss Elsie Goddard will assist the quartet of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church on Sunday evening when parts of the oratorio "Elijah" is to be sung at the special musical service. Miss Goddard will sing the mezzo soprano parts. All seats will be free.

Owing to the fact that the seating capacity of the parish house of St. Stephen's church will not accommodate all those who wish to attend the Cafe Chantant, which is to be given on the evening of February 28, the place of entertainment has been changed to Truett Hall. The date remains the same.

At the Ball Game.

Musician—Is that Wagner?
Fan—Yes, but don't let anybody hear you.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

W. H. Shafer, of East Fifth street, who has been detained at home for over a month with a severe attack of grip, is able to be out again.

SPORTS News and Notes

BASEBALL.

According to a dispatch from Chicago Joe Tinker, the clever shortstop, and Johnny Evers, the heady second baseman, have signed with the Cubs, the former for three years and the latter for two. Frank Chance and Charles Murphy are now breathing easier, more particularly as a rumor was current that Artie Hoffman, the hard-hitting outfielder, had reconsidered his determination to give up baseball. It appears that a question of salary was the bone of contention, as is usually the case. Evers was a free agent under the terms of a contract which expired last year, but decided to stick to the Cubs for two more years at least, rather than sign as manager with some minor league team.

President Charles Ebberts, of the Brooklyn, yesterday gave out an official list of players who will go into training in Hot Springs. The men are Dahlen, manager; Altchison, Barger, Bell, Bergen, Burch, Burk, Coulson, Daubert, Davidson, Erwin, Hummel, Knetzer, Lejeune, McElveen, Miller, Myers, Quillan, Ragon, Rucker, Ryan, Schardt, Harry Smith, Stark, Tooley, Wheat and Zimmerman. "Scanlon, if he signs," said President Ebberts, "can train with the Superbas in the health resort in the Ozarks, but if he doesn't come to terms he can get into condition there or anywhere else at his own expense."

Second Baseman John Hummel, of the Superbas, dropped into the headquarters of the club at Washington Park yesterday and signed his contract for another season. "Doc" Scanlon is now the only player who has not signed. Hummel left here yesterday for his home in Bloomsburg, Pa., and will start for Hot Springs, Ark., next Sunday, with the squad which will go to the Southern training camp by rail. He decided at the last minute that the ocean had no charms for him.

Ben Houser, associate first baseman of the Athletics, completed his yearly literary task yesterday. He signed a piece of parchment to assist Harry Davis in maintaining the high standard of first basemenhip at Shibe Park for the fiscal year beginning April 12. According to the terms of the instrument, Houser must needs be found at all times scoring for the word; ready at a moment's notice to pace to first in case that Davis is wounded in combat.

Officials of the York Athletic Association held a conference with Manager Curt Wiegand last night and decided to dispose of some of the players under contract. It is the purpose of the leader of the York Tri-State team to have no more than twenty men report for spring training April 9 or 10. The pitching staff will consist of Smith, Bentley, Morris and Patterson. Rogers and Skillman will be placed on the market, leaving only Smith, of 1910 team, as a member of the staff.

Clarence Dickinson Russell, who cost Connie Mack more than Richard Warrington Marquand cost John T. Brush, spurns the Tall Tacician's offer of $2,200 for the season. "Lefty" considers himself worth much more than this sum, and points with pride to the one game he pitched in the American League last year, when he blanked the Red Sox and allowed them only three hits. Russell says he can make good in fast company.

GOLF.

Within a short time a call will be sent out by the Plainfield Country Club for a special meeting of members to vote upon an appropriation for extending the golf links. About 500 yards will probably be added, bringing the course well up to that of the other clubs in the State. A large amount will not be needed, as the organization already owns sufficient land and has done much of the preliminary work the last two or three years. Unless an early date should be decided upon for the metropolitan junior championship, the extension will be ready in time for that event.

The details of the junior championship were in nebulous condition until last week when the executive committee of the Metropolitan Association discussed the affair, and following out the notions of Leighton Calkins, the originator, determined to make it very much of a "kid" contest. Accordingly, no age limit on the downward side was imposed, in the hope that many candidates under 10 years of age will enter. No one big enough to swing a club will be barred, except on territorial ground, so a novel field is assured. By making the age limit 18 years a few inter-scholastic players may be shut out, but it was the desire of the promoters to encourage tender shoots, even at the expense of the older brothers.

There was some sentiment against restricting the competition sharply to New Yorkers, but it was argued all the other big city districts had gained several years on New York by maintaining similar contests yearly, so that Gotham must make up for lost time.

PERSONAL.

Fred Miller, of Jersey City, who has been visiting relatives here, has returned home.

Treadwell Slauson, of East Ninth street, is on a business trip in Northern New York State.

Mrs. Charles Zimmer, of Manning avenue, has returned from a visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Miss Grace Convery, of Trenton, has returned home after spending a few days with friends in this city.

Miss Margaret Kennedy, of Newark, has returned home after spending several days visiting friends here.

Edward Riley, of Grandview avenue, who met with a painful accident to his foot sometime ago, is rapidly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zink and daughter, Dorothy, of East Orange, who have been visiting the Misses Dunavan, of East Second street, have returned home.

MASS MEETING OF
LOCAL C. E. UNION

Three features marked the mass meeting of the Plainfield Christian Endeavor Union, held last evening, in the First Presbyterian church: Resolutions petitioning the Common Council to issue no liquor licenses in the city; the winning of the attendance banner for the second consecutive time by the society from the West End Tabernacle and the eloquent appeal of Rev. J. Madison Hare, pastor of the Parmley Memorial Baptist church, of Jersey City, for a greater consecration of the members.

It was the regular winter mass meeting of the local societies and was well attended. Rev. N. H. Jordan, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of New Market, led in the vigorous singing of gospel hymns. The principal address of the evening was by Rev. Mr. Hare on the topic, "The Larger Loyalty." His central theme was loyalty to the person of Jesus Christ. "There are many," he said, "who revere and almost worship the American flag and yet they are not loyal to the principles for which the flag stands. There are church members who strictly observe the forms of religion and centre their thoughts upon the church as an organization, while they fail to catch the spirit of the Founder and Head of the Church."

"Sometimes those who are not church members perform greater service for humanity than many whose names are on the church rolls. Abraham Lincoln's greatness was in his broad sympathy and love for his fellow men."

The speaker's appeal for a deeper consecration and greater loyalty to Christ and the church made a profound impression upon the Endeavorers.

The resolution asking the Common Council to refrain from issuing liquor licenses in the city was carried unanimously. The contest for the attendance banner showed the West End Tabernacle first with 95 per cent., Temple Baptist church second and the First Presbyterian society third. Frank Stewart, president of the local union, presented the banner. Rev. J. W. Musson conducted the devotional exercises and Nelson Van Winkle had charge of the meeting.

CHILDREN PRESENT
"MAMMY'S S'PRISE"

The Junior Auxiliary of the Church of the Holy Cross gave a delightful playlet in the parish house last night, before an audience of fully 200 parents and friends. The young folks acquitted themselves in a very creditable manner and secured a neat sum to carry on their work.

The playlet was entitled "Mammy's S'prise" and was written by Miss Miriam Carman, who also drilled the participants. The story involved many of the familiar rhyme characters, the young folks being costumed accordingly. Some of them were very amusing. At frequent intervals the situations produced generous applause.

The cast of characters in full was as follows:

Mammy, Catherine Smick; Penelope, Grace Cornwall; Old Woman who Lived in the Shoe, Dolly Rilling; Little Red Riding Hood, Blanche Stout; Old Kink Cole, Marjorie Chandler; Pipe Bearer, Dorothy Koller; Bowl Bearer, Ethel Veschuur; Fiddlers Three, Annabel Schneegass; Gertrude, Rittenhouse, Augusta Bremmer; Simple Simon, Florence Terry; Simple Simon's Little Friend, Morjorie Lindsey; The Little Nut Tree—Boy, Nettie Rilling; Queen of Spain's Daughter, Elizabeth Voorhees; Page, Marion Riley; Little Miss Mocket, Florence Cornwall; Little Jack Horner, Charlotte Verschuur; Jack and Jill, Alida Townley, Lucille Riley; Carley Locks, Edna Mantz; The Beggars are Coming to Town—Hannah Stiglitz, Lillian MacDonald; Daisy Terry, Frederick Cornwall; Little Bo-Peep, Adelaide Hull.

James Lindsey acted as stage manager and William Little acted as emcee. Miss Gertrude Lohrke was on the program for several solos, but was unable to appear because of a cold and her place was taken by Chester Chamberlain, soloist at the Church of the Holy Cross. The directors of the auxiliary were in charge of the affair.

Miss Carman worked hard to make the entertainment a success and was warmly congratulated on the result.

WOMEN DISCUSSED
MISSIONARY THEMES

An interdenominational afternoon of prayer held at Trinity Reformed church, yesterday, attracted a very large number of women from the churches of the city and borough, and the service was productive of good results. The lecture room of the church was filled with women. There was a marked devotional spirit and many earnest fervent prayers were offered that the home mission work would continue to spread and lead to the conversion of many souls.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Parse presided and she read appropriate Scripture lessons and made a few earnest remarks in introducing the several speakers of the afternoon. A feature was a soprano solo, "The Homeland," by Mrs. Robert Giddis, who was accompanied on the piano by Miss Lillian A. Force. During the service a number of appropriate hymns were sung by the congregation of women, all bearing on the subject of missions.

The women who were assigned to speak on various topics, presenting the different phases of home missions and their subjects were as follows: Mrs. J. A. Chambliss, First Baptist church, "Our Missionary and Our Home Mission Achievements;" Mrs. Gabriel Reid Maguire, Park Avenue Baptist church, "How to Enlist More Women in Missions;" Mrs. John M. Whitton, Congregational church, "Our Growth and Prosperity;" Mrs. I. C. Pierson, Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, "The Women's Home Mission Work;" Miss Addie Dietrich, First Presbyterian church, "How to Get More Money for Mission Work;" Mrs. Daniel Rapalje, Trinity Reformed church, "How to Deepen the Spiritual Interest in Missions;" Mrs. Sarah Wadner, Seventh-Day Baptist church, "The Coming of the Nations to Us;" Mrs. B. J. Shreve, First Baptist church, "Our Early Settlers."

All of these women are leaders in their own missionary societies and have made a deep study of the subject of home missions. Consequently they were especially fitted to present the subject in its different phases at yesterday's meeting. The service was such a success that no doubt others of a similar character will be arranged.

127 EAST FRONT ST.BENEVOLENT FUND OF
MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Men's Bible Conference class, of the First Baptist church, of which Henry W. Herrman and B. J. Phelps are the teachers, held its mid-winter business, social and entertainment at the church, last night. There were about fifty of the one hundred members of the class present. A business meeting was held first at which Mr. Herrman presided. Heretofore, the class has given half of its annual collections to the Sunday school and use the other half for various objects, and it was decided last night to establish a benevolent fund with the portion kept by the class.

It was also decided to postpone the annual election of officers until May. There was an informal discussion of adopting a class motto and selecting a class pin, but the matter was laid over to a future meeting. The class was reported to be in good condition, financially and otherwise, with a total membership of one hundred. The average attendance each Sunday is about fifty-four.

Following the business meeting there was a social session, when Henry Shackelford, of New York, entertained the men with a fine program of humorous selections, impersonations, banjo numbers and songs. A social time followed, during which ice cream, cake and coffee were served by a committee from the class.

Health Board Officers.

The Plainfield Board of Health met last night for re-organization for the coming year. In re-organizing the board, Dr. W. H. Murray was elected president; Dr. T. S. Davis secretary and F. W. Dunn was re-elected treasurer. Only matters of routine were discussed, other things being laid over until the regular meeting on Thursday, March 2.

DRY CLEANING TALK

Number 2

WHAT IS DRY CLEANING?

Many people have erroneous ideas about what Dry Cleaning really is—believing that their clothes are actually cleaned dry—as if by magic method we pass our hands over the garment and say "Presto!" It is clean.

Dry is a misnomer. "Chemical" cleaning would be a more intelligent name, but people might confuse "Chemical," thinking of acids, alkalis, etc., not used in Dry Cleaning.

The truth is we depend largely upon gasoline, naphtha, benzene—there's a difference—and other petroleum and coal tar products, for our cleansing bath instead of water as do the laundresses.

The secret and successful operations in Dry Cleaning are learned only by hard experience and study, coupled with proper equipment. These are what enable us to do superior work.

We know our business thoroughly and are properly equipped in plant, collection and delivery.

The Decorative Art

Mr. Alberto Buccini, of New York, announces that he awaits the command of those who have an artistically decorated home to give them the benefit of his ideas and to personally execute any interior decoration that they may desire. Artists are born not made and Mr. Buccini, whose work has received the encomium of the press and his patrons, will gladly submit references and credentials from art connoisseurs and patrons. By permission, he calls attention to his most recent decorative work in this city, that done at the handsome new residence of Mr. Robert Meeker, in Bellevue Avenue.

MONROE LADIES AID SOCIAL A SUCCESS

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Monroe Avenue church conducted the annual birthday social last night. It was largely attended and proved successful in every way.

The program comprised the following numbers: Piano duets, Miss Irene Day and Miss Voorhees; quartet selections, Messrs. Daub, Warwick, McAfee and Fenton; recitations, Evelyn Stine, and Robert Lee; declamations and readings, Mrs. Boyle, of Cranford. In conclusion the audience sang "America" and at the end the folds of a large suspended silk flag were pulled aside, showering flags in all directions. The serving of refreshments followed.

Mrs. Ira Van Arsdale was chairman of the social committee, and her assistants were the following: Refreshments, Mrs. Fred Wenzel; Mrs. John Praed, Mrs. Theodore Van Pelt and Mrs. Robert Lee; program, Mrs. William Stine and Mrs. J. S. Higham.

DUNELLEN AND VICINITY.

The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Post, on the New Market road, and was in the nature of a memorial to Mary E. Willard. Papers pertaining to her life and work were read and afterward discussed. The attendance was quite large.

A family named Turkstein has purchased Walter Clawson's new house on Lincoln avenue and will move in today.

Dr. P. W. Brakely is able to be about again after his recent severe illness.

ENTERTAINED GUESTS AT LUNCHEON AND "500."

Mrs. Joseph A. Haynes, of Craig place, gave a charming luncheon at her home, yesterday, to thirty friends. Guests were present from Somerville, Whitehouse, Annandale, Elizabeth and Rockaway, as well as locally. A color scheme of pink and green was maintained in decorations in the dining room and parlor.

The affair was continued in the afternoon by Mrs. W. W. Warnock, who entertained at "500." Five tables were occupied in play. First prize was awarded Mrs. Fred Sanford, of this city, and second to Mrs. John Haynes, of Annandale. Refreshments were served in conclusion.

High-Class Wines and Liquors.

The subject of medicine must be of absorbing interest to the people. They should exercise the greatest care in the selection thereof. Liquors, Wines and Beers are a great medicine when pure. I carry a large stock of well-made old liquors. Old liquors do not make the stomach sick but serve as a good tonic for invalids. They stimulate and feed the system. To persons wanting pure Liquors, Wines and Beers, I will say that have the goods. Frank Linke, Plainfield, N. J. Phone 157.

Funeral of Mrs. Heath.

A large gathering of relatives and friends was in St. Mary's church this morning, when the funeral of Mrs. Margaret Heath was conducted. A solemn requiem mass was said by Rev. Father Sciolia, assisted by Fathers Hogan and Bogan. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery, the pall bearers being John A. McDonough, John B. McDonough, Cornack, Patrick and Andrew McDonough and John Kane.

B.B. STATES ITS CAUSE

governing their action.

"Mr. Butfield's statement before the State Board that North Plainfield was so saturated with sewage that there was not room for another cesspool, their lawyer, Mr. Depue's, statement that an epidemic was liable to break out at any time, and his charge that the Board of Health had no power to stop or hold up their plans failed to cause them to overlook our just right to be heard at length.

"These virtuous gentlemen do not seem to take into consideration the fact that they are proceeding illegally because of the fact that there is now on file before the State Board three objections to their acts by residents of North Plainfield Township filed within the thirty day limit of the 1907 law, which in itself abrogates their rights to proceed without the consent of the State Board, notwithstanding the fact that under this law, we have no right to be heard, and they fail to remember that the principle of "taxation without representation" backed by really the rulers of the world was defeated by the Continental army of America many years ago.

"The action of the Legislature was sought only after ex-Governor Griggs, who drew the 1907 law, pointed out to us the perfectly plain deficiency and probable unconstitutionality of a law which prohibits over seventy-five per cent. of an affected community being heard by a proper tribunal in objection to what is considered throughout the country a nuisance per se.

"The Mayor has mangled the facts. The beds are staked out about three hundred feet from Bridgewater line instead of 1,300. They are within about the same distance of Warren township line, and are about one hundred and fifty feet from the Piscataway township line.

North Plainfield's engineer who first stated before the Board of Health that the odors would not reach beyond the beds themselves, now admits a range of three hundred feet, while unbiased reports of eminent engineers, whose statements are on file with the Board, have given ranges up to a mile and a half as the nuisance radius for plants of this type.

"It does not take an engineer to realize that sewerage carried in pipes for the great distance of six miles, as is done in this case, then shot up into the air through a sprinkler (which is a gigantic atomizer), certainly is a danger to the health and comfort of the people down here.

"The affidavit of an unbiased appraiser on file with the State Board shows the value of buildings along within a radius of one-half mile of this plant, outside of North Plainfield township, is about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

"The statement regarding Bound Brook's disposal plant, and other like statements are erroneous, and are not founded on fact, and we can see no other meaning to the foolish invitation to use the Zvolanek site unless they would also ask us to pay the cost of building their plant, which would certainly not be more improper than their present proposition.

"These same gentlemen very strongly urged our representatives in the Senate and in the Assembly to pass the 1910 law so that they could act under it, but when their counsel discovered the insufficiency of the 1907 law, they immediately abandoned the 1910 law and took advantage of the loop-hole through which they might crawl and decided that they would be successful by reason of that very deficiency.

"The absolute unfamiliarity with the facts by the Mayor and some of North Plainfield's people may be due to the fact that they have attended none of the hearings before the State Board of Health, and until the late hearing before the Senate committee, that "unanimously anxious and impatient community" has been solely represented by its two interested agitators and a lawyer.

"A reference to the map will show the situation, and if your communities will allow themselves to have a job like this tackled on to them at their expense and for the benefit of a selected few, they must not grumble at the certain and continued litigation which is sure to follow, as the people who object and are affected and represented by us; namely, of Bridgewater, Warren and Piscataway townships, Bound Brook, the Board of Trade, West Piscataway Improvement Association, East Bound Brook, etc., propose to fight this cunningly conceived injustice to the last ditch, as they fought and after spending over thirty thousand dollars compelled the abatement of a nuisance of no greater importance by the Lehigh Valley railroad some years ago.

"To one sufficiently interested, we would simply ask them to read this Senate Bill No. 41, which simply makes the State Board of Health, which is a non-partisan body and are experts in sewage and health matters, the arbitrators in cases like the one confronting us, and in addition compels notice of hearing in which any affected citizen may be heard. Surely there is no injustice in that."

BAPTISTAL SERVICE
AT 7TH BAPTIST.

The Seventh-Day Baptist church of New Market will use the baptistry of the local Seventh-Day Baptist church, this evening for a baptismal service, following a sermon and testimony meeting conducted by Rev. Edgar D. VanHorn, of New York city. Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor, will occupy the pulpit tomorrow morning and preach on the theme: "Jesus, the Revealer." The Sabbath-school will meet at the close of the service.

Henry C. Krebs, supervising principal of the North Plainfield schools, will address the Men's Club of the church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock on the subject of "Abraham Lincoln." Miss Nellie Williams will lead the Christian Endeavor society meeting and John B. Cottrell, Jr., the Junior Endeavor society meeting at the usual hours.

Pangborn Goes to Reformatory.

Ira Pangborn, of Westfield, and formerly of North Plainfield, who was indicted by the January Grand Jury for forgery and uttering and who later changed his plea of not guilty to non vult, was sentenced to the Reformatory at Rahway by Judge Atwater in the Court of Special Sessions at Elizabeth, yesterday. He confessed to three previous forgeries, two in Newark and one in Montclair.

NEWS OF THE WORLD FOR THE BUSY MAN

Stocks were dull and strong yesterday.

The French Minister of War, General Brun, fell dead in his office.

Laurence Irving presented "The Lily" at the Kingsway Theatre, London.

The entire population of a village near Harbin was discovered dead from the plague.

Quannah Parker, the noted Comanche Indian chief, died at his home in Lawton, Okla.

The old French warship, the Richelieu, a derelict, drifted ashore on the rocks off the Scilly Islands.

The government of Hayti has advised the State Department in Washington that the revolution is practically at an end.

The trial of a $10,000 alienation suit brought against W. S. Sims, the torpedo inventor, by his daughter-in-law, was begun in Newark.

The Russian Governor of Tchernigov, a province in Little Russia, expelled 219 Jewish families, marching them through heavy snowdrifts.

Former State Senator Frank J. Gardner was acquitted of the charge of attempting to bribe Otto G. Foelker to vote against the anti-race-track gambling bills.

The court and opposing counsel agreed to another examination of J. G. Robin by an alienist, looking to a possible reopening of proceedings to test the indicted banker's sanity.

Letters from Russia expressing the socialists' desire to shed blood were read on the stand by a woman who is suing William E. Walling, a wealthy socialist, for alleged breach of promise to marry.

The Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Germany will visit Rome in April to present their felicitations to the King and Queen of Italy upon the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of Rome as capital of United Italy.

John G. Milburn represented the New York Stock Exchange at a hearing at Albany on the Stillwell bill to prevent stock speculation; Martin W. Littleton favored the measure to extend the length of duck shooting season on Long Island.

By a vote of 447 to 56 the French Chamber of Deputies forced the government to accept a motion inviting co-operation with the other powers with the object of securing discussion at The Hague of the question of simultaneous disarmament.

Assemblyman A. E. Smith, majority leader at Albany, sent a letter to the heads of the various State departments asking them to submit by March 2 a revised estimate calling for a total appropriation 10 per cent. less than the appropriation allotted last year.

Both in the Eastern and Western rate cases the Interstate Commerce Commission announced at Washington that the railroads were not entitled to any increase in rates; the carriers were ordered to withdraw the proposed advances by March 10, leaving the old rates in effect.

Congress-Senate: A resolution by Senator Cummins calling on the President for information bearing on the Canadian reciprocity agreement was adopted. Senator Beveridge spoke on the Lorimer case; an effort to obtain ratification of the Japanese treaty failed. House: Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, and Delegate Wickersham, of Alaska, met in a personal clash; the Mondell bill providing for the leasing of government coal lands in Alaska was debated; the Military Academy appropriation bill and the Moon bill for the codification of the judiciary laws were passed.

TELEPHONE SPOILED ELOPEMENT PLANS.

The telephone Wednesday interfered with the plans, romantic or otherwise, of Emil C. Hottinger, of Manhattan, who persuaded Eva Dennison, a nineteen-year-old country girl to elope with him. The girl is attractive. She is the daughter of George Dennison, postmaster at Rexville, a village in Steuben county, N. Y. The pair were arrested in Jersey City on their arrival. The police had no trouble in picking them out at the Erie station from the description furnished over the telephone. Hottinger described himself as twenty-eight years old, a hotel cashier, living at 46 West Sixty-fifth street, New York city. He had $12 in money and baggage check No. 131310. He was held as a disorderly person, and he kissed Miss Dennison before he was led to a cell for the night.

Miss Dennison was sent to the headquarters of the Young Women's Christian Association. She impressed Acting Captain Richards as an unsophisticated country girl, who knows absolutely nothing about the ways of the world.

"I guess I'm glad now that you brought me here," she said in Mr. Richards' office after the acting captain had talked to her in a fatherly fashion.

Hottinger was arraigned in court yesterday morning and held in $500 bail for extradition on the charge of abduction. Calvin Dennison, an uncle of the girl, came to Jersey City on an early morning train and took Miss Dennison home. She said she was glad to go.

Hottinger advertised in a matrimonial newspaper. His advertisement was answered by Miss Dennison's maiden aunt. She turned the letters he wrote over to Eva and the young girl sent her picture to Hottinger. Hottinger went to Rexville, but was dismissed by the girl's father. Then the elopement was planned.

He Had Nothing Cheap.

An Easterner returning from the West tells of a horse dealer out there by the name of Jenkins. He was sitting behind the air-tight stove in the kitchen when his wife hurried in to tell him that Hank Franton was in the front room and wanted to see him.

"What'n thunder'd ye let him in for?" he snapped, not rising from his chair.

"Well, he wants to buy a hawss, that's why," was the reply of the wife. "You'd 'a' mad a great how-de-do if I hadn't."

"No, I wouldn't," said the grouchy Jenkins, as he reluctantly left his chair. "I know Franton's size. I can't do business with his class. He wants a cheap hawss; that's what he wants. And I ain't got anything I can sell for less than 'leven dollars in cash money."—Brooklyn Life.

A USEFUL VALENTINE

By BERTHA D. ALSOP

Della Thorpe was passing out of the age when girls send or expect valentines. At least she personally considered them as more fitted for children than for grownup young ladies of seventeen like herself. But Della was rather a dignified young person with old ways.

There is a place in all girls' hearts vacant until it is filled by some young fellow. This place had been filled for Della, but neither he who filled it nor any one else knew of the fact. Della herself was afraid even to breathe his name in her prayers, fearing some ordinary mortal without sentiment or sympathy would hear.

Henry Robbins, a bank clerk, was the youth whose image had found a pre-eminent place in her vision. After all, in youth is it not the image that makes the impression? Marriage among very young people is certainly a lottery.

When Della on the morning of the 14th of February received a valentine addressed in Henry's handwriting—she had received one note from him and treasured it, locked in her jewel box—she was surprised. She tried at first to make herself think that she was displeased. Henry was five years her senior, and it occurred to her that his sending her a valentine indicated that he considered her a bit. "There was one redeeming feature—it had been mailed in a plain envelope. But presently this feeling wore off and there was something very delightful about the little stamped thing bedaubed with cupids, notwithstanding that she deprecated Henry's having sent it to a person of such advanced age as herself. Pasted to its center was a little silver gewgaw star, underneath which was written "Star of Hope."

While the address on the envelope was unmistakably Henry's, Della was not quite certain that the writing under the star was his. It looked more like the hand of a much younger person. But she preferred to think that it was Henry's work, and why shouldn't it be since he had addressed the envelope? Why had he called it the star of hope? Because it expressed a hope that she would be his valentine, of course. Well, what next? Why, he expected that if there was hope for him she would let him know. And how would she do this? By sending him the star. It was all plain as the sun in heaven after she had thought it out.

Some crusty bachelors, most of them woman haters, assert that women have not logical brains. This process of reasoning on the part of one of the sex no older than her eighteenth year is an excellent refutation of these men's assertion. Ten to one if a man had received such a missive he would never have suspected that the star had any meaning whatever; would have thrown "the thing" into the wastebasket and left the sender to find out whether or no there was hope for her by asking him point blank.

Pardon this digression. Della Thorpe knew in her heart that there was a great deal of hope for Henry Robbins, and she deemed it her duty—it was certainly her pleasure—to inform him of the fact. So she detached the star, put it in a little envelope, such as is used for sending cards, and slipped it in a letter box.

"Tim," said Henry Thorpe on the morning of the 15th of February to an office boy. "There is some mistake here. You were sending valentines the other day. Do you know anything about this?"

"It's a star that was on one of the valentines I sent."

Henry had been very busy with the mail on the 15th. Tim Butler had that day been addressing valentines on Henry's desk. Henry had written Della Thorpe an invitation to go to the skating rink with him on the evening of the 15th, and it was evident that Tim's girl had been invited to the rink while Henry's girl had been sent the star of hope valentine.

The practical part of all this Henry reasoned out very readily. But as to deducing what the star meant he was as stupid as an owl. "There was nothing for him to do but explain the matter to Della. He did so in a note stating that a valentine belonging to an office boy had got into an envelope intended to contain an invitation to go with him to the skating rink, adding an apology for having sent the valentine. He would call at 8 o'clock to take her to the rink."

Such brutal treatment, though unintentional, naturally had its effect upon Della. She received him very coolly when he called and declined to go out. He sat down with her and tried to find out what was the matter, but he was not up to the work. To reason out the problem as Della had reasoned out the star of hope matter was an impossibility with him. Supposing that Della was misled at his sending her a valentine, he apologized for doing so, declaring that a man of his age who would send a girl a paper made star should be relegated to the nursery. Della's eyes flashed, then tears stood in them. And yet Henry was not aware that every moment he was stabbing her right in the heart.

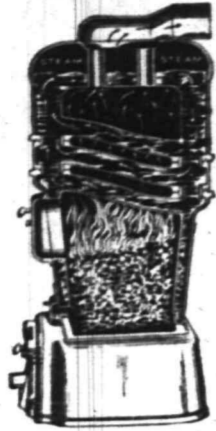

"Do little girl," he exclaimed, "do tell me what it is."

"Do, please."

"I thought you sent the star of hope to learn something from me. I've returned it to you."

A glimmer struggled inside Henry's thick skull. He took her in his arms, and it was all over.

Women's New Spring Suits
They Look to be Worth $25

True, the price is low, but not the quality, fit or finish of this suit. It is simply another one of the good things we are continually placing before the public. Three different models to select from; one of fine serge in navy blue and black; coats 25 inches long, collars and revers of black satin, sleeves and bottom of jackets trimmed with silk buttons and soutache; another one equally attractive is a fine checked worsted, strictly tailored model, and still another of black, blue and white hairline serges; also on the clever, strictly tailored lines, at 17.50

Beautiful Lingerie Dresses

There is a certain daintiness about this dress that cannot fail to appeal to all; different entirely from the average lingerie; it has an exclusiveness of its own that in itself is a very attractive feature. The lines are decidedly modish; made of good cotton marquisette, with cluny insertions and dainty hand embroidered designs at neck and down front of waists; sleeves are three-quarter length, with pipings of blue, skirt has rows of tiny tucking over hips, folds of self material, cluny insertion at bottom 8.75

Women's 6.50, 7.50 and 8.50 Skirts

Skirts that we sell in regular stock at $6.50, $7.50 and $8.50; look at the price tickets—they will show the original price. These are absolutely new Spring models, just in from one of the best manufacturers. One model is of Altman voile with handsome embroidery down the sides; panel front and cluster pleats at bottom; the other two models are of chiffon panama; one model has panel front, straps of self material, button trimmed and cluster pleats and one with wide folds at bottom and braid button trimming, positively one day only 5.50

Great Reductions in Girl's White Dresses

SLIGHTLY SOILED—One washing will make them fresh as ever; but otherwise all right. Made of fine lawns, organdies, and nets; embroidery and lace trimmed. This is an opportunity that doesn't present itself very often, so don't fail to take advantage. Note the prices—

An enthusiastic meeting was held Wednesday evening at Hunt's Family Theatre, Wildwood, attended by over 500 citizens, to discuss the question of consolidation of the four boroughs of Five Mile Beach. All favored the proposed consolidation and the commission form of government.

A fire wrecked the men's furnishing store of John Dowling, 188 Pavonia avenue, Jersey City, Wednesday, and drove six families who occupied the upper floors of the three-story brick structure to the street. It is not known how the fire originated.

Miss Mary Michalis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Michalis, and Cornelius Lynch, son of Mrs. Maggie Lynch, both of Bordentown, were married there Tuesday night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. J. Duggan. Miss Bessie Barrett was bridesmaid and James Higgins best man.

In St. John's Roman Catholic church, Lambertville, Wednesday afternoon, Miss Elsie Mercedes O'Rourke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Rourke, of Lambertville, and Robert Francis McGorry, of Trenton, were married by Rev. William H. Lynch, rector of the church. Miss Katherine O'Rourke, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Joseph H. McGorry, of Trenton, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Firemen and policemen rescued tenants of a three-story dwelling at 21 South Missouri avenue, Atlantic City, at 11 o'clock Wednesday night in a spectacular blaze which destroyed the two upper stories and did $3,000 damage to the building and contents. Owner Maley, his wife and three small children were carried down ladders when the flames cut off escape by the stairway. Mrs. Mattie Johns, who occupied another portion of the building, was out when the fire broke out. She ran through the burning hallway at the risk of her life, and brought her two daughters safely to the street. An exploding oil stove started the blaze.

N. Y. AMUSEMENTS.

"Over Night," which Philip Bartholomae successfully wrote for "laughing purposes only," keeps crowding the Hackett with merry throngs of fun-lovers. "Over Night" is a farcical comedy, that can be seen many times without tiring the playgoer. Its fun is natural and unforced, and the cast is made up of a company of young, clever actors, who are unspooled by the success they have achieved. The scenes on the Hudson River steamboat and in the Catskill mountain hotel are delightfully amusing. Margaret Lawrence, Jean Newcombe, Herbert A. Yost, A. P. Aylsworth and the other clever players continue in the cast.

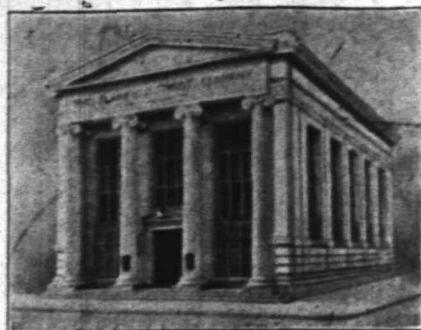

At the Majestic, Brooklyn, "Mother" will be presented all next week with the New York cast, including Mary Shaw in the title role.

William Faversham, who is presenting Edward Knoblauch's comedy, "The Faun," at Daly's theatre, has proved since becoming his own manager that he is not afraid of a dramatic novelty. Mr. Faversham's impersonation of the faun is a wide departure from anything that the actor has attempted in recent time. "The Faun" is the one comedy of the decade that, while the auditor is kept in roars of laughter during the progress of the play, causes him to think after he has left the theatre.

PARVIN LECTURES ON OCEAN LINERS

Before an audience of over 250 people, Emerson E. Parvin, of this city, gave his illustrated lecture entitled, "Over the Seas and the Lure of Foreign Lands," at the Plainfield Business College, last night. More than one hundred fine lantern slides were shown, many of them being colored. The progress in the development of the ocean liner from 1840 to date was shown; also views of a steamer in course of construction.
The audience was then taken on a cruise starting from New York and proceeding by the way of Madeira to Spain, Northern Africa, Egypt, the Holy Land and home by the way of Europe.

An interesting feature of the lecture was the description of the Steamship Olympic, of the White
Star Line, which is about 900 feet long and 92 feet beam, having a displacement of 66,000 tons. During the evening E. F. Glover contributed to the entertainment of those present by giving a number of phono-graphic selections and Wendell C.
Glover rendered piano selections.
On Thursday evening, March 9, the members of the classes of '08-'10 will meet to form an alumni association.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

"The Man of the Hour," George
Broadhurst's great American play, will be the attraction at the Plainfield theatre Wednesday, March 1.
The engagement is one of the most important of the season. The play concerns modern city life with flesh and blood characters of types famillar in every day life. A large company is employed in the presentation the more prominent characters being in the hands of Joseph Harris,

Chas. H. Ellwood, Harry J. Oehler,
L. C. Phillips, Charles Drake, Edward Riley, Fred Renolds, Walter Carter, Richard Hogan, John P.
Daly, M. J. Underwood, Frank Weston, Peter Digman, Georgie Brantley, Edna Lyman and Marie Cas-mere.

"The Girl in the Taxi," which comes to the Plainfield theatre for Monday night next week, was first produced in Paris under the title
"Le Fils a Papa," which might be rendered "Like Father Like Son."
The piece created one of the great-

A Desperate Game

By JOHN K. LEYS,
Author of "The Lindsays," "The
Lawyer's Secret," "The Black Terror," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by John K. Leys.

"My dear dear love," Eva wrote one day, "I am in a state of awful trouble. I don't know what to think or what to do. Sir Rufus came to the castle two days ago quite unexpectedly. It seems he has discovered that it is quite impossible for him to wait the four months out for my answer. The catastrophe he is trying to avert—that is how he puts it to mamma—must happen before that time if he does not exert himself to turn it aside.

"One thing I am sure of, mamma is afraid of Sir Rufus. He makes her do as she says exactly what he chooses. "One thing, dearest, distresses me more than anything—the idea of breaking faith with you, for I fear it would come to that. I am convinced that some dreadful danger hangs over Terence. He has not been here since we came back from London, and I cannot stand still and let it fall on him. If I were to wish to do so, the voice and the sight of my mother would force me to make the sacrifice. I have gained a little time, however, Mamma and I are going to Dublin tomorrow. We shall be staying at the Queen's hotel. Perhaps I may see you there, as I fear we shall not have many more chances of seeing each other. You had better write or telegraph to me to the care of Virginia, as usual, as she is going with us. It seems a shame to bring you so far only to say goodbye, and perhaps it would be wiser for us not to meet again, dear Guy, if we are to be parted, as I fear we must be. So I shall hope to hear from you soon after we arrive in Dublin."

Before he had finished reading the letter Guy had made up his mind. He must persuade Eva to run away with him. Having jotted down on his blotter the hours of the departure and arrival of the train, he began his letter to Eva. He implied her not to forego this solitary chance of securing her freedom from a bondage that would be to her nothing less than a lifelong slavery.

Having posted his letter, he went to look up his friend Ashton Brooke, intending to ask him to attend the wedding either as best man or simply as a witness. But Brooke's clerk assured him that his master was out of town and would not be back before the end of the week.

"Too late!" muttered Guy, staring absent at the clerk. When he came to himself he found that the poor old man was blinking and shrinking under his unconscious gaze, and, offering a hasty apology, he turned and ran down the echoing staircase. "Curious old chap that," he said to himself. "Looks as if he had walked bodily out of one of Dickens' novels."

When he got back to his own chambers he found Foscombe engaged in writing a note at his writing pad. "Ah," he said, with outstretched hand, "I was just writing a note to you, but it is better to see you personally. I called to thank you very warmly on behalf of myself and my partner and our client for your services in Smedhurst's case and to hand you this."

"This" was a check for a substantial sum, and Guy blushed a little with pleasure as he took it. The money was doubly welcome just then, and it was pleasant to know that his work was so well appreciated.

"I should also like to know if you can accept a brief for next Friday," Guy shook his head. "Sorry I can't," he said, and then, feeling that a good client like Mr. Foscombe deserved some better explanation, he added: "The fact is, it is possible that I may have to go to Dublin that day. It is not absolutely certain whether I go or not, but I hope I shall."

Then it occurred to him that it would be well if he had at least one witness of his own rank in life present at the wedding, and he went on: "The fact is, I hope to be married next Saturday. You look surprised. Do you remember a conversation we had in the spring in my rooms in Teddington?"

"I remember it very well," said Foscombe quickly, "but I never returned to the subject because I couldn't help a kind of feeling of conviction that you were speaking that night from your own experience."

"I was, Foscombe. And I think I should be a cur if I were to stand by and see the girl I love sacrifice herself for nothing. So I have asked her to marry me at once."

"I think you have done perfectly right, and I congratulate you with all my heart," said Foscombe, holding out his hand.

Guy grasped it warmly. That sign of sympathy was very pleasant to him. "I was thinking of asking you to witness the ceremony," he said, with some little satisfaction.

"I shall be most happy," "Thank you. I can't tell you the church, or the hour till I hear from you, but it will be on Saturday."

"All right. I shall look you up tomorrow, and I hope to hear good news. Then you can give me full particulars."

On the following afternoon Foscombe called at Guy's chambers. Guy was expecting him and opened the door himself.

"It's all right," he said, "I'm all right."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week
Beginning Feb. 26, 1911.

Topic.—A Missionary Journey around the world.—1. Missions in the United States (south).—1st. By 12. Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Dodge, D. D.

The southern part of the United States is a great missionary field. The southern people themselves have no need of the missionary. They are, perhaps, the most devout and conservative Christian people in our land. The need of the missions is not, therefore, a need of southerners, but in the south there are several classes of what we call in the mission work the exceptional populations of the United States. Of such classes three of the largest and most needy, so far as the gospel is concerned, are to be found in the south—land—the negroes, the mountain whites and the Mexicans in the United States. Each one of these classes is very large in numbers and is most morally and spiritually degraded.

1. The southern negroes of this race of people, then, is a population of 9,000,000 as against 1,000,000 in the north and these latter more widely distributed than are the multitudes of the south. Some states and especially some cities have a larger black population than white, and these were a standing menace to this great section of our country, once so great and powerful in all things, before the war plunged them into almost dire poverty. But nobly they went to work after the "carpetbaggers" had been forced out, and the south in a different way is again becoming richer and more prosperous. Sons and even daughters of southern parentage, who in the days before the war would have considered it a great indignity to have engaged in industrial business or in labor of any kind, with their sons and daughters, the present generation, have dropped the past and gone to work, and some of it hard work, to redeem the south and to build up a new south, and, moreover, they are meeting with wonderful success. Nor do they fear the dark, and perhaps if the north, even as missionaries, had remained out of the south and the negro had not been given a vote they themselves might have handled the vexed questions before them with far greater success than has so far been accomplished. They know the negro, how to keep him in his place, where he must be kept, when he outnumbers the white population, for a superior race, no matter how great the difference in population, will never be ruled by an inferior race. Brains always win in such a conflict. But being freed and given the right of franchise immediately changed his position, and in many thousands of occasions dark docility turned back almost to African savagery, with disastrous results both to white and black. But these millions have souls which need to be saved, and our greatest denomination began missionary work among them, consisting of elementary education, teaching various kinds of industries, and especially the gospel, which is still greatly needed regardless of our schools and churches.

2. The mountain whites. In the southern mountains in Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee another peculiar population exists numbering 2,000,000 souls. These are the people who were descendants of the Scotch and Scotch Irish, who opposed slavery and lost their all in the Revolutionary war, were driven farther and farther back into the mountains until they were cut off from civilization and were like a lost race until a recent date. No people have needed the gospel more than they. Their moral degradation was almost complete, but the mountains were opened up, and these descendants of the sturdy of a religious ancestry were found and their awful manner of life disclosed. Missionaries, day and Sabbath school teachers have poured in, and the miracle in American missions today is the improvement of this "lost race."

3. The Mexicans in the western part of the southern states. Here there live together Mexicans of the lowest caste, Indians and half breeds by the thousands. They are among the most reckless and toughest of any people in the United States. Yet they need the gospel and are getting it, but with no great effects except it be the children in the schools, the method most often used.

BIBLE READINGS.
Ex. vi. 1-10; Neh. ii. 1-5; Ps. li. 18; Prov. xiv. 34; Jer. xxix. 7; Matt. xvii. 24-27; xxviii. 19, 20; Luke xv. 1-10; Acts i. 1-14; Rom. ix. 1-5; x. 14, 15.

Buffalo's President.
George J. Barnett, the new president of the Buffalo assembly of Christian Endeavor, was born and has always lived in Buffalo. He attended the public grammar and high schools and was also a pupil at the Albright Art school. He is now in the office of the Buffalo News, the largest newspaper in western New York. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, of which Rev. John D. Campbell is pastor.

His father is an elder of the Church of the Covenant and an officer in the Sunday school. His mother is prominent in church circles.

Mr. Barnett was president of the Christian Endeavor society of the same church for three years, building the society up to one of the very largest and most prominent in the city. He is now chairman of the prayer meeting committee. He was assistant superintendent of the Sunday school and is at present a teacher of a large class of boys in the school.

You're guilty of criminal neglect if you've delayed coming to Greene's price-paralyzing Midwinter Sale. Lavish values in furniture, carpets and clothing are the fascinating features of this gigantic selling event.

Women of Good Judgment Use the "Beaver"

ALL GOODS MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES Prompt Delivery

A good stove is as essential to the housewife as a watch to the business man—both must be dependable. The woman who prides herself on baking the best bread in town can't do justice to her skill if she uses a range that won't hold its heat and that doesn't warm all sides of the oven uniformly. "Beaver" ranges are fine bakers, because the right amount of heat reaches every part of the oven at the right time. Save money, time, trouble and worry by investing in a "Beaver" during the Midwinter Sale, while the prices are sharply reduced.

AN ODD WEDDING

By ROCKFORD KING

One day as I was about to leave my study a young couple came hurrying in and asked me to marry them. I dislike very much to marry persons thus hurriedly about whom I know nothing, and in this case I especially hesitated. The man, though refined looking, was dressed in clothes more befitting a workman than a gentleman. He was pale faced either from ill health or because he had not been accustomed to the sunlight; otherwise he seemed to be in good health. However, since there seemed to be no objection to my uniting them, both being of age, I told them to come into my study and I would accommodate them. We had barely got inside and the couple taken position, before me when quick footsteps were heard without.

The man lost what color he had before.

"Go on," said the lady to me impatiently.

But before I could do so two men rushed in. One of them, glancing at the groom expectant, said, "All right; we've got him." Then to the man to whom he referred he said, "You come along with me."

"What's all this about?" I asked.

"It's an escaped convict," said the man who had been speaking.

"Is that a fact?" I asked of the man I had expected to marry.

"Yes," he said; "I am."

He spoke without the slightest appearance of shame or regret. The lady went up to the men, who were prison officials, and begged them to permit the ceremony to proceed before taking her lover back to prison.

"But you don't wish to marry a jail bird, do you?" he replied.

"I wish to marry this man. It will delay you only a few moments. Come; let the clergyman proceed."

"What do you say, Tom?" he asked of his companion.

"It's a rum go," said the other, "but if the young lady insists on throwing herself away on a convict I don't see as its any business of ours. We've got him safe enough, and two or three minutes won't make any difference."

"All right," said the other. "Go ahead, parson."

It was my turn to demur, not liking the business of uniting a lady to any man under such circumstances.

"I reckon she's with him," said the official called Tom. "Some one sent him a saw in a cask, and I expect she's the one that did it."

"Do go on," said the girl pleadingly.

I felt constrained to take the same view about the matter the men did—that it was none of my business, so I yielded and married them. The girl took out a portemonnaie and gave me a twenty dollar bill. Then she threw her arms about her felon husband's neck and said cheerily: "It'll be all right now, dearie, we're married. I can now tell the whole story. I would have done it before only you wouldn't let me. It won't be long now, I assure you. I won't say goodby, but only adieu." And with several more kisses she released him, and he went away between his captors, each holding on to a handcuff the prisoner wore about his wrists. After they had gone I gave the lady a certificate of marriage. She was going away without it, but I detained her.

"Would you mind explaining this to me?" I asked as she was about to leave me.

"Not yet," she replied. "Thank you ever so much. You don't know how far you have been instrumental in uniting a knot by tying one. Couldn't you date the certificate back a year?"

"I couldn't do that," I said.

"Well, I don't know that it is necessary, though it might make the rest of it easier. Goodby. Some day you'll hear from us."

With that she went away, looking far happier than when she had entered. Six months passed, during which I heard nothing from either of the couple I had married. Then one day a gentleman called on me whom I failed to recognize.

"You don't remember me," he said.

"I confess I do not," I replied.

"That's not remarkable. The last and only time I saw you I was an escaped convict in borrowed, or, rather stolen, clothes. You married me before I was returned to the penitentiary."

"And may I ask how you have secured your freedom?"

"By a pardon from the governor. You see, it was a case of conviction under a misunderstanding."

"Please be seated," I said to him, "and make your explanation."

"The matter which has puzzled you is very simple when you get the facts. I courted my wife clandestinely, she being engaged at the time to her father's partner in business. I persuaded her to elope with me. The night we were to make the elopement I went to her house and met her at a rear door. At the moment our egress was cut off she admitted me to the house and closed the door. To escape detection we went upstairs and into a bedroom. We heard some one coming, and the girl told me to go into an adjoining room. Her father came into the room I had entered and, supposing me to be a burglar, called the police."

"I must either be content to confess myself a thief or the girl's reputation would be ruined. I chose the former course. Since my marriage my wife has confessed the whole story to her father, and I have been pardoned both by him and the governor."

Before leaving me he presented me with a check for $2,000 for a European trip from himself and wife.
