COUNCIL'S ROUTINE

Many Minor Matters Are Discussed at Regular Monthly Session.

PETITIONS ARE NUMEROUS.

Objection to Extension of Kensington Avenue—Reports of City Officials and Other Doings at March Meeting.

Numerous petitions protesting against the proposed action of the Council to open Kensington avenue, and one or two in favor, were presented at the March meeting of the Common Council, last night. The weight of argument was overwhelmingly against the improvement.

Those who protested were E. B. Sovereign, Central Park Realty Company, C. M. Trowbridge, W. S. Maltbie, representing Estate of C. B. Maltbie; S. L. Maltbie, H. E. Phillips, F. A. Brunn, H. J. Storrs, L. M. Booth and H. H. Williams. T. M. Day was among those who argued for the improvement, claiming that it would afford a short cut to the Plainfield Country Club and that section of the city.

It is stated that the residents are not so much against the opening of the avenue as against the method of doing it. According to the original plans it would mean the loss of about 200 feet of valuable property on Park avenue, which could be avoided provided an angle was made in the extension. The petitions were all filed.

Many other petitions were received at this time, all being referred to the proper committees: Petition of residents for crosswalks on East Seventh street, between Richmond and Berckman streets; lights on Randolph road, between Central and Field avenues; also on Albert street; Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., requested the usual appropriation of $100 for the observance of Memorial Day; belated petition C. E. Society protesting against granting of liquor licenses; petition for eight-inch sewer Randolph and Laramie roads; petition residents Leland avenue and members Dutch Arms, Netherwood Reformed church for crosswalks and lights.

Horace G. Adams, clerk of the District court, reported receipts of $138.02 for the past month and disbursements of $42.50. Building Inspector Doane reported the granting of nineteen permits during the month. Overseer-of-the-Poor A. D. Ayers reported expenditures of $168.73.

Councilman Mygatt, acting chairman of the finance committee, offered the following resolutions, all of which were adopted:

Authorizing the return of an indemnity bond in view of the finding of two sewer coupon bonds; fixing the salary of each member of the Board of Assessors at $40 yearly; authorizing the printing of five thousand tax return bills for the Board of Assessors; transferring $5,000 from the general fund to the street fund; providing for the borrowing of $4,000 on account of sewer extension work; authorizing the Mayor and clerk to execute a lease with David T. Kenney, owner of the building for rooms Nos. 4, 5 and 6 for the use of city offices, at a yearly rental of $450.

Mr. Mygatt also presented an opinion from Judge William Newcorn, upon request, regarding a tax matter between Elston M. French and the city, the former claiming error in the assessment. The opinion was accompanied by a resolution drawn by Judge Newcorn, covering the points, which was adopted, executing a quit claim deed.

Mr. Gloak, chairman of the street committee, presented a deed for a small tract of land on Huntington avenue, upon which it is proposed to erect a second sewer pumping station, and moved that it be referred to the finance committee. The tract in question has been given to the city free of all cost by the Plainfield City Realty Company for the purposes stated.

The petition of the Public Service Corporation, through subsidiary companies, requesting that Church street, between East Fourth street and the railroad be vacated, was reported by Mr. Gloak and he offered an ordinance covering the point, which was adopted on first and second readings and ordered advertised. A public hearing will be granted on April 2.

The petition of owners of the Chelsea Park section in the Netherwood district, for permission to construct sewers in the tract, was acted upon favorably. It being provided that the work must be done under the direction of Street Commissioner Gavett.

On motion of Mr. Clay petitions for electric lights were granted on East Second street and Wyllie avenue and Terrill road; on Woodland avenue, between Central street and

KNOW NOT UNIFORM. ERGO, NO FREE RIDE

Because he did not recognize the uniform and police badge worn by Health Officer William Addis yesterday, a conductor on a main line trolley car ejected Mr. Addis from a trolley car and thereby caused a mild rumptus. The outcome of which will probably be an apology to Mr. Addis.

According to Mr. Addis this is not the first time that he has had trouble with conductors on the line. Whether it is because they do not like the canary colored uniform or that they have a decided dislike to the health officer is not yet known, but certain it is that unless Mr. Addis is personally known to the conductor he invariably has trouble when travelling on the trolleys.

When spoken to this morning, Mr. Gettings, superintendent of the Elizabeth—Plainfield division said that the trouble was in all likelihood brought about by the fact that Mr. Addis does not expose to view his police badge and that his uniform was not the color and shape generally worn by officers.

RECRUITS WANTED TO FIGHT PLAGUE

Less lives were lost in the Spanish-American war than the Grim Reaper claims through the ravages of the Great White Plague in one single day in this country. To finance the war against King Alfonso, a stamp tax was imposed in the United States, but such means of revenue are not available for the campaign against tuberculosis. Yet this disease costs New York city alone more than 10,000 lives and $23,000,000 each year.

The great obstacle to the progress of the crusaders is the lack of funds—that's all. The spirit is willing, but the wherewithal is not what it should be.

There's a remedy at your command, however, if you will only take upon yourself a little burden. A task which will occupy your time a few minutes each day for a week or less than that. Join the army of dollars being organized to give battle to this dread disease. Enlist now by sending your name to The Daily Press and you will be assigned to duty on the firing line.

As told yesterday, this means the "year and a day" plan. It is not an "endless chain scheme" but a practical and satisfactory business method. This paper represents the year and will be glad to hear from volunteers to represent the twelve months, who will serve as generals. These twelve months each select four colonels to act as the four weeks. The colonels each appoint seven captains, representing the days in a week. Catch the idea?

BOROUGH SCHOOLS WILL NEED $24,700

According to the figures presented at a special meeting, last night, the borough Board of Education will require $24,760 for general purposes during the coming year. This amount will be asked for from the taxpayers at the yearly school election to be held on Tuesday, March 21.

The budget is made up as follows: current expenses, $20,325; manual training, $1,975; building and repairs, $2,460.

The report of clerk Albert Steiner was presented and shows that the balance on hand March 1, the close of the fiscal year, was $1,982.73. It was also stated that the borough's share of the railroad tax money for the coming year would be $6,600, half to be paid in April and the remainder in June.

The teachers' salary lists were gone over and the normal increase for each department was allowed. The amounts are in keeping with those of other years.

Four trustees are to be elected at the annual meeting to fill expired terms. No new names were suggested last night, and it is probable the present incumbents will remain.

Child is Out of Danger.
Olive Meddick, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Meddick, of Wilver street, who was severely scalded by accident, on Friday, is now out of danger and improving. The child was playing about the kitchen, when a pan of boiling water was accidentally upset, the contents scalding the child about the lower part of the neck and face.

Will Visit New York Mission.

The mission study class of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church and its friends, will visit the Jerry McAuley Mission in New York city, Thursday night.

CO. K. GETS FLAGS

National and State Emblems Presented by Some Local Women.

PRESENTED BY SWACKHAMER.

Colonel Patterson, Major Martin, Captain Kitchell and Others Make Speeches at Armory Meeting.

Company K, Second Regiment, N. G. N. J. can point with pride to the magnificent stand of colors presented to them last night and with ample justification say they have the most beautiful stand of colors of the State. The flags, one the National emblem the other the flag of the State, were presented to them last evening by Mrs. T. O. Doane and several of her public spirited friends, the presentation speech being delivered by former Assemblyman Samuel S. Swackhamer. Others who made short speeches were Captain H. B. Kitchell, accepting the flag; Colonel Robert Patterson, assistant inspector general; Major W. B. Martin, of Elizabeth; Captain W. C. Smith, and Captain William Hand, of the local corps of the G. A. R. and Chief T. O. Doane.

The flags which are each 5 1/2 by 4 1/2 feet are of solid silk, handsomely bordered with a tasselled gold fringe. The State flag is hand painted and is a fine piece of work. It bears the coat of arms of New Jersey.

The securing of this gift to company K, which was a complete surprise, is due almost entirely to the efforts of Mrs. T. O. Doane. Two years ago when Chief Doane returned from a Camp Fire tendered the members of Winfield Scott Post in Co. K's armory, he told his wife that the company had no flags of their own and it was a pity that such should be the case. Mrs. Doane immediately got busy and in a short time fifty dollars was raised for the two flags. But this amount seemed to be the limit that could be raised for the purpose and as the flags would cost about three times that amount, Mrs. Doane despaired of ever getting together the full amount. However a little maneuvering and a little patient coaxing finally brought the subscription to the required figure and the flags were ordered.

Chief Doane acted as master of ceremonies and introduced Mr. Swackhamer to the company and invited guests who numbered about fifty. Mr. Swackhamer urged the men to remember what the flag stands for, appealing to their patriotism and their love of country. He rehearsed the history of the flag and recounted its glorious record. "When you receive the emblems," he said, "you are to protect them for both nation and State."

Captain Kitchell responded with warm appreciation of the honor done the company and said that as there were no rules preventing the carrying of the flags on parade he would see to it that the two emblems should always be used when the company was called out whether for duty or otherwise.

Major Martin rehearsed the history of the company from its inception in 1901 to the present time and declared that notwithstanding that it was only an infant so far as age is concerned it was one of the huskiest youngsters in the State, standing as it does head and shoulders above the best military organization with the highest percentage for general efficiency ever known.

Captain W. C. Smith said that the flag had cost 400,000 lives to preserve but that did not begin to show the actual cost and that therefore it was worth preserving at any cost.

Colonel Patterson and Captain Hand followed in short speeches the latter telling some of his recent experiences in the south. Company K came to attention and three ringing cheers were given for Mrs. Doane. A short drill followed which was admirably executed considering the poor floor conditions of the armory.

Major Martin in his speech deplored the fact that the company had such a poor armory and said he would use whatever influence he had to procure better quarters as he believed the company fully deserved them.

The flags will be kept in glass cases when not in use and on these cases will be inscribed the names of the contributors to the fund. Among those present last night were Mrs. T. O. Doane, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Doane, Jr., J. R. Knowlton, Miss Sarah Gilligan, Mrs. H. B. Kitchell, Lieut. and Mrs. A. I. Littell and Miss Grace Mendel. Several members of the G. A. R. were also present.

—Corporal James L. Niles, of Company K, concluded on February 26 ten years service as a member of the National Guard.

FRANK B. CLARK DIES OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Frank B. Clark, aged thirty-four years, son of Mrs. Anna M. Clark and the late Bernard Clark, died at 9:35 o'clock this morning at his home, 434 West Fourth street, from Bright's disease and dropsy. He had been ill since October last. Mr. Clark was associated with his brother, John Clark in the hotel and saloon business at West Fourth and Liberty streets.

Mr. Clark was born in Boston and had been a resident of this city thirteen years. He was a member of Plainfield Aerle, No. 866, Fraternal Order Eagles. Beside a wife and one son, Charles, Mr. Clark is survived by his mother, two brothers, John and Joseph Clark, the latter being a member of the fire department and one sister, Miss Mamie Clark. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

FAIR HEIR MARRIED TO WEALTHY WIDOW

Frank P. Smith, of Kansas City, brother of the late Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who was formerly a cook in a restaurant and is now wealthy and Mrs. Ordella R. Clark, widow of Henry D. Clark, capitalist and owner of the Orpheum theatre, Kansas City, were married a week ago last night in that city.

The marriage was performed at Mrs. Clark's home a few minutes before midnight and the couple announced that they intend leaving for the east. Mr. Smith is a brother to William Smith, formerly of New Market. He claims that through the death of an uncle on Staten Island he will inherit an additional fortune.

TO PAY $100 FOR BOX FOR COLLEGE BENEFIT

Since the announcement made in yesterday's Daily Press that a benefit entertainment would be given in the Plainfield theatre on St. Patrick's Day for Mount St. Mary College, David T. Kenney has received assurance that many of the boxes will be taken before the tickets are placed on sale tomorrow.

Among those who have signified their intentions of taking boxes are Charles W. McCutchen, Edwin S. Hooley, Congressman Thomas J. Sculley, of Perth Amboy, and Vice-president and General Manager William G. Besler.

Mr. McCutchen, a trustee of the First Baptist church, offers $100 for the box and if others follow this liberal contribution to a cause which is acknowledged to be a good one, the fund will exceed the expectations of the promoters.

Many voluntary offers have been received from artists of the first class for the entertainment and the committee, of which Mr. Kenney is the head will soon announce the program. Meantime it is announced that the box office will be open tomorrow for the sale of tickets for the benefit and those coming early will be able to secure the best seats.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock Bishop McPaul met with the insurance adjusters together with several of the sisters and friends of the bereft organization, the outcome of which will determine the exact amount the order will receive on the policies held. Details of this meeting will be published tomorrow.

Since yesterday enough donations have been received at their headquarters by the sisters to show that the appeal printed in this newspaper on Saturday has been widely read and a hearty response has followed. Mother Superior Gabriel and the other sisters of Mount St. Mary's are grateful for everything that has been done.

OPPOSED TO SITE OF NEW SCHOOL

Education Board Hears Objections to Proposed Location of New School.

AGREE TO A CONFERENCE.

Henry De Forest and Horace G. Phillips Don't Want Building at Kensington and Prospect Avenues.

Henry DeForest and Horace G. Phillips, representing residents in the vicinity of Kensington and Prospect avenues, appeared before the Plainfield Board of Education at the regular monthly meeting last night, to protest against the erection of the proposed new school on Kensington avenue. The claim was made that the property owners almost to unit are opposed to the building of a school in that section on the ground that it would tend to lower values and prove objectionable in other ways.

Mr. DeForest acted as spokesman and informed the board, stating that the people he represented would be willing to buy the property secured for the site and reimburse the city for any expense it has incurred. The ground is in the midst of a fine residential district that includes many homes with carefully kept premises, the occupants of which would rather move than have a school near them. Mr. Phillips said that he lived directly across the street from the site and was absolutely opposed to the erection of the building.

Mr. Tyler, occupying the president's chair in the absence of Mr. Lovell, who is ill, replied that the board does not wish to injure anyone in locating the school buildings. The members would certainly be willing to place the site convenient for the pupils in that part of the city and that the present property be disposed of without expense. Messrs. DeForest and Phillips declared they would appreciate a conference of both sides and this will be done. In the meantime, the school board will discuss the matter in executive session.

In the course of routine business, Superintendent Mazon gave a detailed report of his recent attendance at the convention of the National Association of School Superintendents held in Mobile, Ala. While there he enjoyed the privilege of going through Tuskegee Institute, founded by Booker T. Washington, and related some interesting facts in connection with it. The report was received and filed.

Dr. Maxson also stated there are now in the city schools about 663 pupils not vaccinated. Of this number the parents of about 100 do not believe in preventative unless actual danger exists, consequently refusing to have it done. There were over 1,000 unvaccinated pupils when the work was started.

The custodian's report showed that the fiscal year ending February 28, left a balance to the board's credit of $40,840.13. The tax collections for February were $2,003.40. Bills to the amount of $1,000 were ordered paid.

ONE DYING, ONE DEAD; R.R. ACCIDENT VICTIMS

By the sudden backing up of a tool train of the Lehigh Valley Railroad near Port Reading last night, John Zuolinski, aged 40, of Perth Amboy and John Zarembo, same age, also of Perth Amboy, were so severely injured that Smith died within an hour and Zarembo is lying in a critical condition at Muhlenberg Hospital.

So far as can be learned the two men were repairing a car and were working underneath it when the engine of the tool train backed down the siding without warning, pinning both men under the wheels. A frenzied shout from bystanders told the engineer that something was wrong and the locomotive was brought to an abrupt stop.

When Zuolinski was lifted from underneath the car it was seen that he was seriously injured and a hurry call was sent in for the Plainfield ambulance. It was found necessary to remove both men to Muhlenberg where Zuolinski died unconscious an hour later.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE FOR LAWYER TO CITY

An amendment to an ordinance providing for the appointment and duties of a corporation counsel was offered by Councilman F. L. Holt, at the March meeting of the Common Council last night. As explained by him the changes simply provide that there shall be a counsel to the corporation and that he shall perform the duties specified in the ordinance. At the same time Mr. Holt offered a proposed ordinance repealing another ordinance on the same subject, but which in the opinion of the committee is useless, as it is fully covered in the first-named ordinance. Both ordinances were adopted on two readings and ordered advertised.

The eleven bonds of the local liquor dealers were presented by City Clerk MacMurray and ordered filed, according to the annual custom.

The Public Service Corporation, through Col. E. S. Hine, petitioned the Common Council for permission to install a "Y" at West Front street and Grant avenue; also to install a siding on Richmond street between Fifth and Seventh streets. Both matters were referred to the street committee, but no action was taken. The company began this morning the work of laying new tracks on West Front street from Grant avenue west, and it wants to install the "Y" at the corner of Grant avenue and West Front street, while this work is underway.

An entertainment by the pupils of the school will be given at each exhibition. Charles L. Lewis, director of music in the Plainfield public schools, will sing at both of the evening entertainments. All proceeds are to be used for schoolroom decoration.

GLOEKLER FIGHTS

The Common Council Refuses, However to Reconsider Its Action.

BIG PETITION PRESENTED.

W. L. Hetfield, His Counsel, Pleads for a Hearing But the City Fathers Remain Firm.

Determined efforts were made at the March meeting of the Common Council, last night, to have the members reconsider the liquor license application of Christian Gloekler which was refused a week ago but there were not even a sufficient number of votes to reconsider the application to say nothing of taking favorable action.

The matter came before the Council through a petition signed by seventy-five business men and others in the central part of the city, asking that the application be reconsidered, that Mr. Gloekler always conducted an orderly place and that he should, at least, be given an opportunity to dispose of his large stock of liquors and cigars. The petition intimated that Mr. Gloekler had not had fair treatment and it was urged that his application be taken up again with that end in view.

Later in the evening, Mr. Montgomery moved for a recess, as everyone knew, to consider the matter. While the members were in the committee room, Walter L. Hetfield, counsel for Mr. Gloekler, was invited to state his case, which he did. The members remained in caucus nearly one hour and thirty minutes, and then declined to take any further action on the application.

After the meeting one councilman said that he considered Mr. Gloekler's application a dead issue, but he was not so sure but that he could make another application, if he desired to do so. One or two members have expressed the opinion that they would like to give Mr. Gloekler a hearing, but among the nine members present last night there were not enough votes to bring this about. It was the feeling among the majority that once having refused to grant the license on the grounds that Mr. Gloekler had sold to minors, reconsideration and favorable action, would be inconsistent.

The possibility that the application might be considered, attracted a large number of people to the meeting, including many friends of the applicant. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire was among those present for awhile.

Those who signed the petition asking for the reconsideration of Mr. Gloekler's application were: Henry Liefke, Liefke & Laing, Levy Brothers, Endress Company, J. K. Roundy, J. A. Smith, Edward A. Laing, John Wirth, Thomas P. Kolb, Daley Brothers, A. E. Force & Co., J. J. Varley, Charles P. Sebring, Harry Werner, Frank Rowley, Schwed Brothers, M. & A. Tepper, A. W. Nagle, Louis Steinman, William Belter, A. M. Griffin, F. A. Duttonbrock, Fred Becker, W. R. Causebrook, Weinberger & Co., Leo Slonim, E. C. Westcott and K. A. Batruny.

After the Council returned from its long recess, Mr. Wilson, chairman of the license committee, simply moved that the above petition be filed, indicating that no action would be taken.

Hotel Sale Concluded.

WASH THAT ITCH AWAY.

It is said there are certain springs in Europe that give relief and cure to Eczema and other skin diseases. If you knew that by washing in these waters you could be relieved from that awful itch, wouldn't you make every effort to take a trip to Europe at once. Would you not be willing to spend your last cent to find the cure?

But you need not leave home for these distant springs. Relief is right here in your own home town.

A simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients as compounded only in D. D. D. Prescription will bring instant relief to that terrible burning itch, and leave the skin as smooth and healthy as that of a child.

Best possible wash for pimples and all skin impurities.

If you have not already tried it, get at least a 25 cent bottle today. We assure you of instant relief.

THE GREAT GRANITE WARE SALE WILL BE CONTINUED

Four teams on the road from Monday last, delivering as fast as the men could handle the goods, was not sufficient to do justice to all who wanted to share in this extraordinary sale.

Therefore we will continue the sale this week—in our Basement Salesroom. Remember the WARE may not be displayed in our show windows but you will find plenty of it in the Basement at the same prices advertised last week.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY

had a notable success in 1904, scoring 128 to the 139 of Walter J. Travis. Two years later Travis became the first American amateur to gain an open championship by scooping the title from the crack professionals.

Travis had a 65 on one round, which was within a stroke of the record before by Arthur H. Fenn, the Palm Beach professional. Every year since the winner has been a national open champion—Alek Smith, Will Anderson twice and Fred McLeod, the titleholder. Alek Smith is at Bellair, on the west coast, and may try for the record only held by George Low and Will Anderson of a "double event." Young Tom Anderson is so busy at St. Augustine since the death of W. J. that he may not be able to play; if he does, Tom, Jr., should be in the money.

Except the United North and South open tournament at Pinehurst on March 27, the only competitions now arranged for the professionals are the two important ones in the West, the national open at Chicago Golf Club on June 23-24, and the Western open at the Kent Country Club on June 27-29. No arrangements have been completed for the open championship of the Metropolitan Golf Association, but it is evident that the club that steps into the breach for a late July or August tournament should have a great success. There is no limit on entries and the field should be equal to the national in every aspect. In the early days of the M. G. A. open to hold it compelled self-sacrifice, for the club had to finance it, as the Fox Hills and Hollywood clubs did, but nothing need be sacrificed now save generosity. The M. G. A. now foots the bills including the $500 in prizes.

The M. G. A. open was an interesting and sportsmanlike affair at the Deal Golf and Country Club last year, and the Rumson Country Club, which needs a good tournament to let the public know how good its course is, might make a similar go of it this season. It is rather an inaccessible place for a tournament, however, that carries a gallery. The Shinnecock Hills Golf Club would score and add variety to its annual golf week by giving the M. G. A. open on the Tuesday and Wednesday before its three day invitation tournament, which always begins on a Thursday. After hiding its light under its own bushel for some years the Oakland Golf Club would give to outsiders an opportunity to look over the course by running off the M. G. A. open; St. Andrews, Fox Hills, the extended course of the Richmond County Country Club, Greenwich and many other links would be fine for the contest.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

"God is Love," will be the subject of the mid-week prayer-meeting at Trinity Reformed church tomorrow night.

The Women's Missionary Society of Hope chapel will hold its annual meeting in the chapel tomorrow afternoon.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church will hold its annual business meeting this afternoon.

The Junior Epworth League of the First M. E. church will meet in Vincent chapel, Friday afternoon and enjoy a special program.

The official board of the First M. E. church will meet tomorrow night after the prayer-meeting. This will be the last meeting for the conference year and all members are urged to attend.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Trinity Reformed church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The intermediate leader will be Ray Vail and the junior leader, Helen Clarkson.

Rev. C. H. Mallory, of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, will preach at St. Paul's church, Bound Brook, Thursday night, at Calvary church Bayonne, March 16, and at St. John's church, Elizabeth on March 30.

The service at the Crescent Avenue church tomorrow evening will be devoted to the interests of the new plan for benevolent offerings. The committee from the Session having the matter in charge will speak briefly on the subject.

The Sunshine Mission Band of the Crescent Avenue church will give a fairy play in the chapel, Friday afternoon, entitled "The Rescue of the Princess Ursula." It will also be repeated in the evening at 8:15 o'clock. There will also be candy for sale.

54 CENTS A WORD WAS PEOPLE'S CONGRESS BILL.

Anybody who says talk is cheap is respectfully referred today to the Congressional Record. At the session just closed, the people of this country paid in salaries just fifty-four cents for every word uttered during Congressional debate by Senators and Representatives.

The Record approximates 4,500 pages of 1,500 words each, or 6,750,000 words of debate. A session of Congress is supposed to represent a year's work. Senators and Representatives draw salaries of $7,500 per annum and the total yearly payroll is $3,615,000.

A member who merely yelled "I object!" could figure on drawing $1.03 for wear and tear on his throat.

SPORTS

News and Notes

BASEBALL.

Spring trips are always productive of something new in baseball. They pulled a brand new one on the Brooklyn down in Knoxville, Tenn., last season. Manager Dahlen had sent his second team over to Knoxville to play the team of the University of Tennessee. The game was played on ground surrounded on all sides by trees.

When the Brooklyn players walked on the grounds they got their first surprise in the shape of a third baseman wearing spectacles. He came in for bunts without showing the least bit of fear and besides stood up to the plate in front of the pitching of Nap Rucker and George Bell without quivering.

It was long about the seventh inning that the piece de resistance of the day was pulled. The man with the spectacles sent up a high four-fly down toward third base. McElveen, who was playing third, galloped over after the ball. It went among the trees, but "Humpty" got under it. The ball in coming down through the branches brought down a couple of leaves with it, but McElveen managed to grab and hold on to the ball.

Naturally the Brooklyn players believed the batsman had been retired. The batsman thought so, too, but when he started back to the bench the umpire signaled him back to take up his position at the plate again. George Bell was pitching at the time and he came running in at the umpire.

"Hey, he's out," said "Big George."

"No, he isn't out either," was the umpire's calm reply.

"Why isn't he out? That ball was caught!"

"The ball hit a branch of that tree and it wasn't a fair catch."

"Oh, very well," said Bell, as he walked back to the box; "but if it isn't an out it is a strike anyhow."

"It isn't a strike, either. That was an interfered ball and they don't count down here," shouted the umpire after the big twirler.

The ruling floored Bell. He yelled for Rucker to come out. When Nap appeared on the scene "Big George" handed him the ball and said: "Nap, you go ahead and pitch this game. Why, I don't understand the rules of the game. You pitch and I will get the rule book and tip you off as to what is coming off next."

GOLF.

Professional golfers will open their competitive season today at Palm Beach in the Florida open championship, a thirty-six hole medal play contest that dates back to 1900. Only players stationed within the Florida golf zones of the east and west coasts as a rule ever take part, yet the list of winners is as brilliant as to quality as the roll of national open championship victors. In the early days George Low of Baltusrol but then of Dyker Meadow had Miami as a winter green and twice gained the Florida title. Gil Nicholls

We WANT COMPETITION

of the Right Sort, Not the Following Kind

A Mrs. S—after selecting her outfit and learning the total cost from our plainly marked price tags, said she preferred to make comparisons elsewhere before ordering, to which we readily agreed, for it's a thing we always URGE!

On getting another store's prices where they were marked in private signs she found ours were far less, and SAID: "The salesman promptly dropped to our figures—AND GOT THE ORDER."

Here, where there's but ONE PLAINLY MARKED PRICE ON EVERY ITEM, such an "accommodating" and sudden price drop would be impossible—here, when you read the price tag, you KNOW it's already at lowest point, for ALL prices are real and REMAIN on the SAME UNIFORM SMALL PROFIT BASIS. We don't HAVE to run a "leader" here and there for an hour, or a day, to catch trade, as ALL lines are equally good values EVERY day in the year!

All we want is HONEST competition that meet OUR plainly marked prices WITH prices you can READ!

THE FORUM.

Replies to Rev. Mr. Perrine.
Editor, The Daily Press:—
An individual signing himself S. A. Perrine states in your issue of February 27 why he thinks "Christian Science is in essence from Hinduism." His form of reasoning follows, but grossly misrepresents Christian Science teaching.

First, our critic says he "met a babu native gentlemen in the city of Bombay who stated that the essence of Hinduism is to cease to know and realize the difference between right and wrong, good and evil." Our critic then erroneously concludes that Christian Science teaches the same thing. Be it known to your readers that Mrs. Eddy never taught that there is no difference between good and evil and we challenge our critic to find any declaration in any of Mrs. Eddy's writings to the effect that "there is no difference between good and evil;" moreover the lives of those who follow the teachings of Christian Science do not bear out the charge for the reason that Christian Scientists differentiate between good and evil in their own lives by endeavoring to resist the belief in evil in every form. Christian Science does not make men cease to realize the difference between right and wrong, but draws the line between good and evil even more sharply than anything else, and determines the question whether wrong is real by considering its nature and origin.

Hinduism is rank pantheism. It teaches that man is a part of God even as a drop of water is a part of the ocean. Science teaches that man has his individuality as God's image and that the image is forever distinct from God. The statement "God is good" is, I hope the doctrine of all Christianity. It certainly is the teaching of Christ. Mrs. Eddy has stated on page 447 and 448 of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, lines 31-2, "To assume that there are no claims of evil and yet to indulge them is a moral offense." So when our critic states in his second proposition that "both Hinduism and Christian Science make men to cease to know and realize that there is a difference between right and wrong, good and evil," he absolutely mis-states the teachings of Mrs. Eddy and Christian Science.

If as he says the young lady in charge of a Christian Science church stated that those high in authority in Christian Science would stand by what she said of Christian Science, I should say, that would depend a great upon what the young lady said. In this particular case the statement that "God is good," should be followed by the further explanation that evil is unreal, and, not of God, and therefore must not be practiced or indulged in. Since evil is delusive and unreal, one would naturally turn from it having the true understanding of Good.

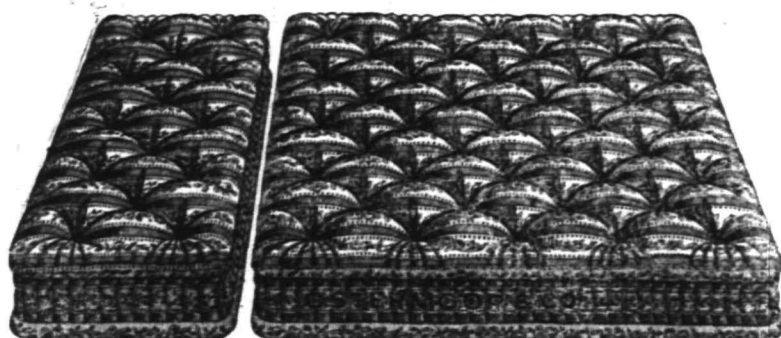

The further quotation from Pundita Ramabai and the gentlemen from India regarding the teachings of what they term Christian Science does not prove anything, since the critics in question cannot claim a thorough knowledge of Christian Science and have not demonstrated its principles and rules as set forth in the Christian Science text book. Their opinion of Christian Science is no more worthy of consideration than would be an opinion of mathematics by one who had not read a mathematical text book or demonstrated its rules. It may seem to the representatives of Hinduism that Christian Science is like their religion, and this is perhaps because they assume that the statement "God is all" which is made in Christian Science, might be diverted to read "All is God." It would not be proper Christian Science to state "All is God," but rather "All is infinite Mind, and its infinite manifestations." Ibid, page 468, lines 8 and 9. Man and the universe are the creation of God, but God is not confined within what he creates, therefore Christian Science is not pantheistic.

Mrs. Eddy did not borrow any of the beliefs of Hinduism when she discovered Christian Science. She has said on page 126, lines 26-31 of Science and Health, "I have found nothing ancient or modern systems on which to found my own, except the teachings and demonstrations of our great Master and the lives of prophets and apostles. The Bible has been my only authority. I have had no other guide in 'the straight

Fireman's Daring Act.

Paul Adams, a member of the fire department stationed at No. 1 house, made a heroic capture of a runaway team on West Second street Saturday. The animal was galloping along at top speed when Adams noticed it from a window in the house and rushing out flung himself upon it. He was dragged fully fifty feet, but finally brought the runaway to a stop without injury to himself or the rig, which belonged to the Endress Company.

DRY CLEANING TALK

Number 2
WHAT IS DRY CLEANING?

Many people have erroneous ideas about what Dry Cleaning really is—believing that their clothes are actually cleaned dry—as if by magic method we pass our hands over the garment and say "Presto!" It is clean.

Dry is a misnomer. "Chemical" cleaning would be a more intelligent name, but people might confuse "Chemical," thinking of acids, alkalis, etc., not used in Dry Cleaning.

The truth is we depend largely upon gasoline, naphtha, benzine—there's a difference—and other petroleum and coal tar products, for our cleansing bath instead of water as do the laundresses.

The secret and successful operations in Dry Cleaning are learned only by hard experience and study, coupled with proper equipment. These are what enable us to do superior work.

We know our business thoroughly and are properly equipped in plant, collection and delivery.

COUNCIL'S ROUTINE

It was decided to hold an adjourned meeting of the Council on Monday evening, March 20.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

Not Very Neighborly.

The plan of North Plainfield borough to dump its sewage at the very doors of Bound Brook seems unneighborly and unfair and we do not wonder at the indignation which it has stirred up in the latter place. North Plainfield township is long and narrow and it joins Bridgewater, Warren and Piscataway at its western extremity, on the borders of Bound Brook. There is no reason why the present disposal beds used by Plainfield should not be used by the borough unless the ugly rumors are true that some one is interested in a real estate deal which might make the site of the present beds more valuable for another purpose.

As a matter of fact it will cost many thousands of dollars more to carry the sewer pipes through to Bound Brook than to put the plant nearer the borough. Yet the borough is making a desperate fight to prevent the State Board of Health from taking a hand in the matter, which it undoubtedly will if the bill now pending in the Senate is passed.

It has been the contention many times that these disposal plants were not objectionable, but we notice that every municipality that desires to establish such a plant is willing to pay the expense of getting it as far as possible from the town. The Bound Brook people say that there are a number of sites adapted to the purpose not far from North Plainfield and not so near Bound Brook. If this is true, and the evidence certainly indicates its truth, the North Plainfield authorities are unreasonable in adopting such extreme measures.

There are some who are mean enough to say that North Plainfield is only waiting to get this sewer matter settled before making another move to get out of the county by an annexation law. If there can be found to be any truth in this rumor the location of the sewer beds so far in the centre of the county should be resisted to the last. Unionist-Gazette, Somerville.

Want Sanitary Brook.

The borough Board of Health at the regular monthly meeting last night, appointed A. E. Kenney a committee of one to confer with A. E. Force, of the city board, relative to improving the sanitary condition of Green Brook. The two will make a

STOPPING FEE SYSTEM PROFITABLE TO STATE

By abolishing the fee system and paying State officials fixed salaries for their services, New Jersey has already saved upwards of $400,000 in the administration of the Supreme Court clerk's office alone. By the time that Supreme Court Clerk William Riker, Jr., concludes his fifteen years of service in that office, November 2, 1912, the saving to the State, it is estimated, will have reached the handsome total of nearly $500,000.

Under the old fee system the Supreme Court clerk, like the clerk in chancery, secretary of State and some other officials, was entitled to take all the money coming into his office, less so much as he expended for its operating expenses. Under this system the State received no revenue from the office, although its net profits may have been anywhere from $20,000 to $30,000 a year, or even more.

During the first year that the salary system was in effect under Mr. Riker, the net profits of the office amounted to $20,289. Last year they were $45,726. The gross receipts of his first year were $43,903 and these increased $72,020. The expenses of running the office were $23,613 the first year of Mr. Riker's administration, and $26,293 last year. The percentage of expenses to gross receipts has decreased from .537 per cent, the first year to .365 last year.

babies never prove a burden, no matter how many of them there may be. Dansbury has been twice married. Eleven of his children are living. Four of them are blind, an affliction inherited from a generation twice removed. One of the deceased children was scalded to death at the age of six years, and another about as old died as the result of being run down by an automobile. Dansbury's father was killed by the explosion of a cannon in the celebration of the election of President Pierce.

LITERARY.

Lippincott's Magazine seems determined to outdo itself during 1911 for the general excellence of its contents. Following the wholly admirable issues for January and February, with their complete novels by Zona Gale and George Randolph Chester, comes the March number, no whit behind. The complete novel is "The Little Brown Shoe," by Ella Middleton Tybout, who has "The Smuggler," "The Wife of the Secretary of State," and other well liked books to her credit. The plot is an unusual one, with a cleverly sustained mystery, the clue to which is "the little brown shoe." The scenes are laid in a Southern mountain region, some of the leading characters being society folk, others humble mountaineers.

The Red Book Magazine for March is a really notable issue of this best of all fiction magazines, containing, as it does, stories by Alfred Henry Lewis, Richard Washburn Child, Seumas Mac Manus, Mary Heaton Vorse, Jack London, Samuel Hopkins Adams, Frances A. Ludwig and George Hibbard.

MAY HAVE COMMISSION RULE IN ATLANTIC CITY.

Political leaders in Atlantic City are said to favor a commission plan of government proposition. Senator Edge has promised to introduce a bill and work for its passage. Such a measure is being drafted and Clinton Rogers Woodruff and E. Spencer Miller, of Philadelphia, it is said, have been called in as experts on framing commission government bills.

The bill will give all the cities of the State a chance to adopt commission government. The form of government is about the same for the different classes of cities, but the range of salaries will differ. Atlantic City will be in the cities of the third class.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS

Builders have plans out for the construction of more houses than have ever been known in Gloucester in one season.

Millville Elks are forming a marching club to participate in the parade of the grand lodge reunion at Atlantic City in July.

Rev. Lawrence Correll, of Woodstown, has been called to the Wendenah M. E. church, subject to the approval of conference.

A broom factory is being erected on the Rosenhayn turnpike, near Millville, and farmers of that section will raise considerable broom corn the coming summer.

Falling down stairs, Stephen Cusack, forty-two years old, of 1118 Van Hook street, Camden, sustained a fracture of the skull and was taken to Cooper Hospital Sunday.

One of the interesting features of the service at the First M. E. church, Millville, Sunday evening, was the singing of Sankey's famous hymn, "The Ninety and Nine," by ninety-nine men.

Since the Woodbury Lodge of Moose has been taking in new members by the score, the 500 mark having been reached last week, other organizations of that city have taken a hustle.

A public hearing upon the pending local option bill will be given in the Ocean County Courthouse, Toms River, next Saturday, at which Senator Low and Assemblyman Newman will be present to hear the views of the people on both sides.

During a quarrel at Fourth and Cherry streets, Camden, Sunday, Samuel Savanna, twenty-nine years old, of 826 Spruce street, was stabbed in the arm and Lewis, seventy-three years old, of 1912 South Fourth street, was cut across the head with a blackjack. The men's injuries were dressed at Cooper Hospital.

Hans Somer, the Lakewood boy, who disappeared from his home Sunday week, causing searching parties to beat the woods for several days around his home, using bloodhounds to pick up his trail, was found Sunday by the Children's Aid Society of New York. He was penniless and had been walking the streets for hours. He said he had left home because he did not like the country.

Because of numerous accidents recently on avenues of Atlantic City, in which several children were run down by automobiles and other vehicles, stringent orders have been issued by Chief of Police Woodruff to the police to arrest all children found playing baseball and roller-skating in the streets. The first arrest in the crusade was made Sunday, when George Mitchell, eighteen years old, was caught playing baseball on Arctic avenue.

George Husted, president of the Seashore and Husted Express companies, of Atlantic City, was directing workmen on the fifth floor of his own warehouse, at 9 Mississippi avenue, Sunday, when a box fell from the top of a pile of freight. Mr. Husted stepped aside into the elevator shaft and fell fifty feet to the first floor. Fortunately a load of corn at the bottom of the shaft softened the fall to some extent, but as Husted struck his head on the side of the shaft he was injured so that it was necessary to take him to the City Hospital. It was at first thought that his skull was fractured, but the doctors are now agreed that there is no crack in the bone and no blood clot.

NURSE DISCOVERS FIRE AT MONTCLAIR HOSPITAL

Caused, it is thought, from an overheated furnace, fire did about $1,200 damage to the nurses' home of the St. Vincent's Babies Home and Nursery in Washington street, Montclair, late Sunday afternoon.

The fire was discovered by a nurse who was sleeping in the building at the time. She smelled the smoke and gave the alarm. Members of Hose Company No. 3, a short distance away, answered the call. The flames were confined to the cellar and the first floor.

"Farmerettes" Start In.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont opened her first class in farming for girls Sunday. Twenty young women "farmerettes," she calls them, garbed in blue bloomers, broad-brimmed hats and boys' shoes, are comfortably ensconced today in the farmhouse at Brockholt, Mrs. Belmont's 1,000-acre estate on Long Island. The young women were selected from 600 applicants from New York factories. They will first be instructed thoroughly in household duties upon a farm, and with the arrival of "planting time" in the spring will take up plowing, planting and poultry raising. Not a man will be on the premises, even to chop wood or tend the horses. The girls will receive $4 a week during their two months' course of instruction, and thereafter may purchase small farms from their benefactors, if they wish to do so, upon agreement to till the soil themselves.

The Democratic members of the Committee on Ways and Means yesterday selected the majority representatives on the Committee on Rules, which will keep legislation moving in the House of Representatives.

A Desperate Game

By JOHN K. LEYS,

Author of "The Lindsays," "The Lawyer's Secret," "The Black Terror," Etc.

Copyright, 1905, by John K. Leys.

"I don't say a thing of that kind again," she cried, speaking rapidly, her fingers twisting and twisting round each other, her cheeks blazing. "Don't provoke me too far, or you may find that with all your cunning you have overreached yourself."

Sir Rufus looked at her admiringly. "I like your pluck," he said. "And I like your pluck in coming here all by yourself."

"I am tired now, and it is very late," said Eva, interrupting him. "I think I shall go upstairs."

"Certainly," said Sir Rufus, rising to make way for her. "But I hope that you now recognize that our marriage must be celebrated as soon as possible."

"I don't see that at all. I shall take some time to think it over. I shall leave for Castle Dure tomorrow."

"Pardon me, but if I were in your place I should not be too sure of my reception there unless you go as my wife. I doubt whether Lady Roscommon could or would receive you until after the ceremony. Then she might explain that we had eloped together and so avoid the awkward questions that would be asked on all sides."

The girl for the first time saw the madness of the thing she had done. She turned red and was only able to stammer out something about writing to her mother.

"I should think that a very good and sensible thing to do," said the baronet gravely. "Write and tell her everything—where you are, why you came here, what you have learned since you came and all about it. That will be much the best thing to do."

Certainly it sounded like good and disinterested advice. It was what any man or woman of sense would have recommended. But the mere fact that it came from Sir Rufus Deverill was for Eva a ground for suspicion. She paused a moment and then felt sure that if she did write to her mother at that juncture Lady Roscommon would lose no time in informing her and that she would not leave her till she saw her Lady Deverill.

"I will see about it tomorrow," said the girl wearily, as she crept slowly in the direction of the door.

"Pardon me—there is one thing we ought to settle first. I suppose you will give up masquerading as a servant?"

She thought for a moment, and it struck her that if it was awkward to be living in Sir Rufus' house in the capacity of a parlor maid it would be a thousand times more awkward to make a change. And if the one situation was compromising the other would be ten times more so.

"Thank you, I think it would be better to make no change," she said. "And I hope you will keep my secret."

"For the present I will, and"—he paused, hesitating, then went on, "I will tell the housekeeper that I don't care to have you about in the dining room, and that her husband had better bring in the meals, and so on."

"Thank you," said Eva. "It was the only good or kind action of his that she could remember in after years."

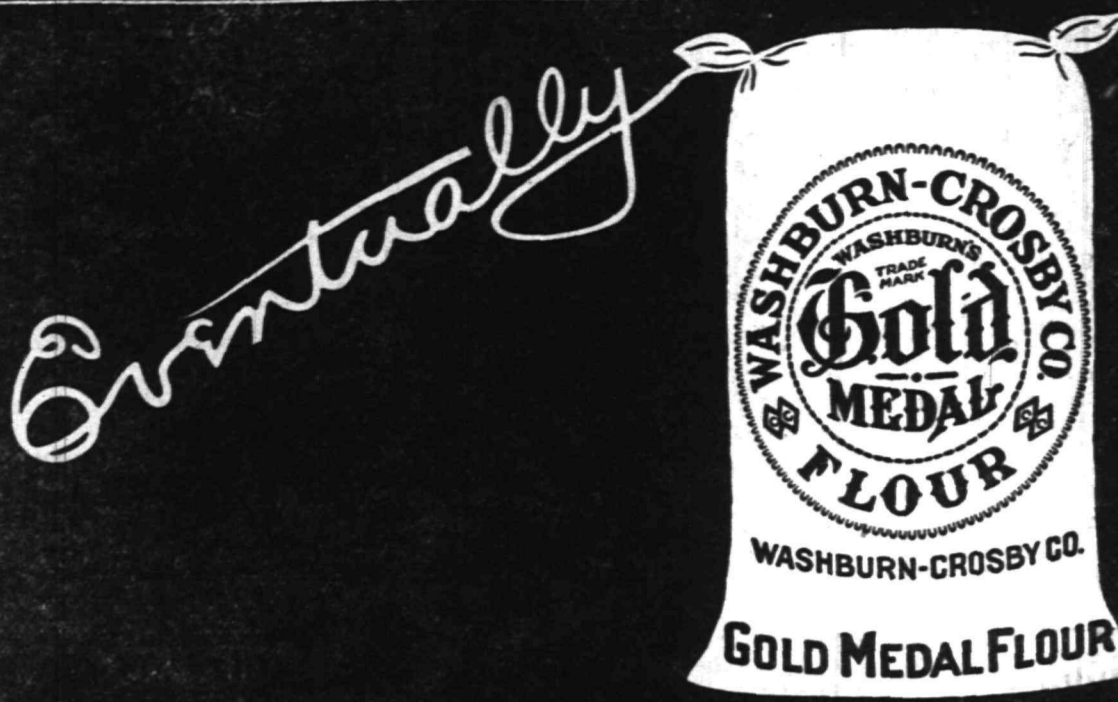

Eva had scarcely crept beneath the bedclothes than she fell into a deep, dreamless slumber. She slept late and woke with a fixed and definite purpose in her mind. She would not write to Lady Roscommon, as she had half intended doing the night before. To do that would be only to precipitate the hateful marriage. She would write to Mr. Foscombe. He was a lawyer, and had even got her to promise that she would apply to him if ever she were to find herself in a situation of distress or difficulty. Surely if ever a poor girl was in trouble it was she! Yes, she would write to him and say that she was in a difficult and distressing position and beg him to come and advise her.

In the afternoon she wrote her letter, so as to be ready for the postman when he called for the letter bag. She addressed it to the lawyer's office, and then it was that Guy Lorimer found, to his amazement, that his lost sweetheart was in correspondence with the man he had trusted and confided in from the beginning.

CHAPTER XXVII.
MR. FOSCOMBE'S OFFER.

Arthur Foscombe, though still a young man, was a man of great experience in the ways of the world, and he had that aptitude for affairs, that alertness and resource in moments of difficulty, that only residence in a great city can teach. More than once in his life he had been in what is called a tight place, but never in so tight a place as he was in during those seconds when he assured Guy Lorimer that the letter he knew had been written by Eva was not in her handwriting.

For a moment or two, indeed, he thought the game was up, but his ingenuity and audacity came to his aid. He saw by the set of Guy's mouth that no excuses or talk about professional honor would be of any use. The only possible way of avoiding detection was to bolt at once, and, without pausing to consider whether this line of action could in the long run avail him any-

MISS FLEMING WINS IN TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Spirited lawn tennis play brought eight of the women experts up to the round before the semi-finals of the fifth national indoor championship tournament on the courts of the 7th Regiment Armory, New York, yesterday. In narrowing the field of twenty-five aspirants, Miss Barbara Fleming, of the Plainfield Country Club, placed on record the one reversal of form by her defeat of Miss Elizabeth C. Bunch, a former Hudson River champion, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Throughout the twenty-eight games of the match, Miss Fleming, who is a protegee of Mrs. S. F. Weaver, worked her shots in a way that baffled Miss Bunch, despite the fact that the latter was on her game.

SUPPLY CONTRACTS MADE BY THE CITY

Prior to the March meeting of the Common Council, last night under a suspension of the regular order of business, bids were received from the Watchung Stone Company, J. Y. Wilson and N. B. Smalley & Co., for furnishing crushed stone; J. W. Manhattan for furnishing crosswalks and culverts; also for coal, hay, straw and oats for the fire department houses. The Watchung Stone Company also submitted bids for culverts and crosswalks, and it being the lowest, was awarded that contract. The combined bid of the Watchung Stone company, J. Y. Wilson and N. B. Smalley & Co., for crushed stone was also accepted.

The bids for coal, hay, straw and oats were not awarded last night. They are as follows:

Dunellen Coal & Supply company, 200 or more tons of best Lehigh coal, according to bid, $5.25; Richard Parrott, Jr., of this city, 200 or more tons of best coal, $5.38 per ton; City Mills, Dayton — Nischwitz, No. 2 oats, $1.14 bag; hay, $23 per ton; bran, $1.50 per hundredweight; straw, $15 per ton; Consumers Coal Company, 200 or more tons of best coal, $5.30 per ton; oats, 90 cents per bag; hay, $22 per ton; straw, $12 per ton; Commercial Mills and Elevator Company, hay, $23 per ton, small bale; oats, 99 cents a bag, standard; $1.04 special; straw, $14 per ton; Joseph Harrigan, 200 or more tons of best coal, $5.50 per ton; hay, $22 per ton; oats, $1.10 per bag; straw, $14 per ton.

Under the same order, public hearings were granted on the proposed ordinance to open Astor place; to establish grades in several streets throughout the city; also to open West Fifth and West Sixth streets to Clinton avenue. No one appeared to speak for or against these ordinances and they will take the usual course.

"Musical Stewart" in Canada. William A. Stewart, of West Fourth street, who is known as "Musical Stewart," is now playing in Canada with his novelty musical act and is meeting with great success. He is now on the Griffin circuit which includes all the large cities in Ontario, having opened at the Majestic theatre, Toronto, on February 20. The newspaper criticisms of his offering have been very favorable and the Plainfielder will undoubtedly be kept busy for a long time.

Alleged Health Violation. Frank Seraffo, against whom Health Inspector William Addis made complaint this morning, charging him with putting in plumbings without a license, will be arraigned for trial tomorrow morning. Seraffo lives in the West End and is an Italian.
