'ANTIS' ARE NOT TO BE OUTDONE

Will Edit Supplement to Daily Press, Following Vote
Advocates Lead.

PROMINENT WRITERS

May 23 is Date Selected for Spreading Wide the Arguments Against Votes for Women—Miss R. A.
Lawrence Editress-in-chief.

Not to be outdone by their friends
on the "other side," the Plainfield Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, will publish a special supplement to the Daily Press on Saturday, May 23, at which time the story of those women who do not wish the vote will be told. Co-incidental with the announcement made a week ago
in the Daily Press that the suffragists would attend to the issuing of the Daily Press, Saturday, May 2, the publishers tendered the use of the paper to the anti-suffragists, at some subsequent date. The matter was thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the league which was held Tuesday morning, and Miss R. A. Lawrence, who has had charge of most of the publicity for the organization, not only here, but in a national way, was made chairman of a committee to arrange for the publication.

The anti-suffragists will devote their supplement to presenting their cause to the people of Plainfield and vicinity, while the suffragists will take entire charge of the paper on the day which has been given to them, providing reporters, editors, advertisements in their addition, but will not endeavor to do the regular work of the staff employed by the newspaper.

Miss Lawrence has selected as her chief aids in the work of preparing the edition, Miss Laura Osgood, Miss Florence Tweedy and Mrs. John Constable Moore, who will probably have help from other local anti-suffragists.
There will also be contributions by Mrs. Charles E. Sykes, who has at times edited the anti-suffrage column which appears every Saturday in the Daily Press; Mrs. Grace Duffield
Goodwin, of Westfield; Mrs. Sherman
B. Joost, president of the local league;
Miss Minnie Bronson, field secretary of the National Association
Opposed to Woman Suffrage; Miss Marjorie Dorman, secretary of the Wage Earners Anti-Suffrage League;
Mrs. O. D. Oliphant, of Trenton, field
secretary of the New Jersey league, and Edward P. Wheeler, a prominent
New York lawyer.

In the special edition the anti-suf-fragists will devote much space to replying to the arguments which are presented from time to time in favor of votes for women, and will present new reasons as to why they think the vote should not be forced upon them.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE PLANNING FOR EXHIBITION

The Equal Surage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield is making elaborate plans for the observance of "suffrage week," April 27, 28, 29 and 30, when a demonstration and exhibition of suffrage matters will be given at some local store.
Various committees will be in charge and on April 30 the men's league will provide an entertainment, probably motion pictures.

This suffrage campaign will lead
up to the nation suffrage day on May 2, at which time members of the local league will get out the edition of the Daily Press for that day. The details for this undertaking are now well underway.

for through Building and Loan Associations. The Union Building and Loan Association, office, 146 Park avenue, will open its 83d series on Monday night. This Association is over 16 years old and has never lost a penny. The earnings last year were $4 per cent. Over $60,000.00 has recently been paid to members in matured shares. They have now loaned out to members to buy or build homes $132,000.00. For money savers or home seekers there is no safer or better proposition offered. 10 shares cost $5.00 a month and will yield $4,000.00 in a little over 11
years.—Adv.

PLAN RECEPTION.
A committee of twenty-four men
has been appointed by the First Methodist church, of Westfield, to arrange a reception to the new district superintendent, Rev. Frederick J. Hubach, of this city. The affair will be held Tuesday night.

Rev. B. M. Bogan,
Spiritual director of Union County
Federation of Holy Name Societies.

Arrangements are rapidly nearing completion for the charity ball to be given by the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church, Easter Monday evening. The ball will be the second of a series the society intends to give for the benefit of needy families
in this city, regardless of their religious affiliations. It will be held in Columbus Auditorium where the entire building, including the clubhouse as well as the auditorium, has been secured for the evening and the ballroom will be beautified and decorated in the most lavish manner. The music will be of the highest order and will be an innovation to Plainfield music lovers as Professor Brogan has been secured to direct a stringed orchestra of nine pieces
which in itself will be a treat.

The ball will be a character dance
and hints of some of the costumes that will be worn indicate that there will be many surprises among the un-

Chairman of Charity Ball Committee.
The committee will include historic characters, some dating back to earlier centuries, quaint habits worn by folk of strange lands, splendid dresses of Oriental countries
where bright colors count for so much, grotesque costumes and every strange curiosity that ingenuity can devise. Altogether the affair promises to be one of the most delightful
that Plainfield people have ever enjoyed.

The accompanying cuts are those of several members of the society and a most efficient committee which has charge of the arrangements under the direction of Albert F. LaRock, as general chairman.

Among the guests will be Rev. B.
M. Bogan, Rev. Vincent Scilla, Rev.
Father McDonald, Rev. William H.
Miller, Rev. Father Paoli, Rev. John Baldwin, Rev. Father Dunphy, Mayor Percy H. Stewart, William L.
Saunders, James T. MacMurray, William F. Arnold, William R. Townsend,
Charles A. Reed, Andrew J. Gavetti, Chief Thaddeus O. Doane, Dr. Norman W. Currie, Chief Patrick S.
Kiely, George S. Clay, T. A. Martin.

MOBUS EXONERATED FROM BLAME IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Edward Hannigan, of 437 West Third street, the ten-year-old boy who was injured by an automobile on Liberty street, yesterday, was reported as resting comfortably in Muhlen-berg Hospital, this afternoon, and is now well on the road to recovery.
Hannigan's leg was fractured when he collided with an automobile driven by Christopher Mobus, who is employed by Harry Huff.

Bystanders who saw the accident
exonerate the driver of the machine from all blame in the accident. He was driving slowly along Liberty street, according to one witness, when the Hannigan boy ran heedlessly across the thoroughfare, hitting the middle portion of the car. He was knocked to the roadbed by the impact and in falling his leg hit the step. Immediately after the accident Mobus picked the boy up and took him to the office of Dr. Lufburrow, later removing him to Muhlenberg Hospital. He came to police headquarters and gave himself up after caring for the victim and was released in custody of his employer.

DRELLICH TO SELL AT RETAIL.
Victor L. Drellich & Company, who have been manufacturing boys' wash suits for the wholesale trade at their West Front street factory for over a year, are now going to open a retail department, first announcement of which appears in the advertising columns today. This firm has brought considerable money to Plainfield,
since they have been in business,
and they now are planning to give Plainfield people an opportunity to purchase their line of goods direct from the factory.

WEST COAST HAS GREAT CHARMS

George T. Rogers Discusses
Part of Florida About
Which Little is Known.

PLAINFIELDERS THERE

Returning Tourist is Enthusiastic
About Possibilities of Country.
Where His Son Has Invested in an Orange Grove and Settled Down.

George T. Rogers, of Myrtle avenue, who returned to town on Thursday night, after spending the winter
in Florida, has become an enthusiastic booster for that part of the country, and he talks most entertainingly about the things that he saw while there. In a talk with a Daily Press reporter yesterday afternoon, he had little to say about the East coast, taking it for granted that everyone was more or less familiar with its much advertised charms. As for the West coast it has an attraction all its own.
Tampa has had a wonderful growth,
due largely to the tobacco and phosphate industries. Situated convenient to Cuba, it is said to manufacture more cigars than any other city in the world, and its shipments of phosphate
rock quarried nearby is very heavy.
Tourists abound, at least in the winter months, and real estate sells as readily as cigars. Its growth is apparently on a substantial basis and is in general.

TAXATION DISCUSSED BY CIVIC ASSOCIATION

Suggested That Present Sewage Farm Be Converted Into City Park.

An enthusiastic meeting of the West End Civic Association was held in the Washington School, last night,
and numerous topics of public interest were discussed by the members and those connected with various branches of city work. The session was largely attended and following the disposition of routine business speeches were made by former Coun-cillman Frederick E. Mygatt and Councillman R. A. Claybrook.

In his talk Mr. Claybrook discussed Plainfield's tax question and expressed himself as being decidedly in favor of a permanent street construction, rebuilding the thoroughfares from curb to curb. He suggested that a ten year bond be taken out to pay for this improvements and divide the cost between the property-owners and the city.

The matter of improving the trolley service on the Fourth street line
was also discussed, but nothing definite was decided upon. It was suggested that the old sewer farm be converted into a public park after it is abandoned as a sewage disposal bed and this topic brought forth considerable comment from the members. B. J. Boyd spoke in favor of the project, outlining the good that would come to the city and the benefits that would be derived by the public in general.

EASTER MUSIC AND SERMONS IN THE CHURCHES TOMORROW

Elaborate Programs Will Be Presented Celebrating the Feast of Christ's Resurrection.

BIG CONGREGATION OBSERVES GOOD FRIDAY

Annual Union Services Held
Last Night at Crescent Avenue Church.

Union Good Friday services attracted a large congregation to the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church
last night. Following the custom which has been established for several years, the ministers of all of the churches uniting in the service took some part in the evening's services.
After the choir of the church had sung an anthem, Rev. John Sheriden, Zelle, pastor of the church, gave the invocation, and read the scripture lesson, following which Rev. C. L.
Goodrich, of the Congregational church, prayed. The addresses were based on the "seven words from the cross," the first being by Rev. Charles E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, whose topic was "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Dr. Herring was followed in turn by other ministers whose texts were:
Rev. John Y. Broek, Trinity Reformed church, "Verily I say unto thee, Today shalt thou be with Me in Paradise;" Rev. Frederick Hubach, district superintendent of the Methodist church, "Woman, behold, thy son-son, behold, thy mother;" Rev. D. B.
Randolph, Monroe Avenue Methodist church, "My God, My God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?"; Rev. Phillip B. Strong, First Baptist church,
"I thirst;" Rev. Edward G. Read, retired, "It is finished," and Rev. C. C.
Cain, Grace Methodist church, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

All of the addresses were forceful
and interesting, the various speakers drawing lessons for the present day from the words of the Master as he was suffering on the cross. Three hymns, appropriate to the day, "Beneath the Cross of Jesus," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" and "All Hail The Power of Jesus' Name," added much to the solemnity of the occasion.

During the service a collection was taken, which will be turned over to the Children's Home. Dr. Zelle made an especial appeal for the Home,
which is more in need of funds than usual this year.

INCORRIGIBLE YOUTH IS CAUGHT AGAIN

LeRoy Rockefeller is Arrested and Turned Over to the Probation Officer.

LeRoy Rockefeller, the fourteen-year-old boy who has been causing considerable trouble for the local police during the past month, was apprehended again, yesterday afternoon, by New Jersey Central Detective Laverett, when he was caught riding freight trains. Wednesday night Rockefeller was picked up by the police of Brunswick, Md., for riding on freight cars. He told the authorities of that place that he was locked in a box car by four hoboes
in the Plainfield freight yards and held a captive until the train reached Maryland.

The Maryland police notified Chief Kiely and the latter requested the authorities of that place to send him back to Plainfield. The youth was supplied with a pass and arrived in Plainfield yesterday. After visiting the home of his parents the boy went back to the railroad and boarded another freight on which he was caught by the detective. When arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court this morning, he was placed in charge of the probation officer.

The police have been considerably annoyed for some time past by complaints that come to their attention
regarding the practice of small boys riding freight trains. The New Jersey Central authorities are doing all in their power to curtail the habit and offenders will be severely dealt with if apprehended.

presented in the Protestant and Catholic churches of the city and borough tomorrow, in celebration of the greatest event in the world's history—the Feast of Christ's Resurrection. In addition to the unusually attractive

Another White House Wedding Announced; The Contracting Parties

FORMAL announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of President and Mrs. Wilson, to Secretary of the Treasury William Gibbs McAdoo.

Secretary Tumulty sent out this statement: "President and Mrs. Wilson announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Eleanor Randolph Wilson, to Hon. William Gibbs McAdoo."

The published declarations that Secretary McAdoo and Miss Wilson were engaged influenced the president and Mrs. Wilson to make the announcement. It had been the purpose of the president's family and Mr. McAdoo to keep the matter secret for a time.

No date for the wedding has been set. At the White House only the statement that the couple are engaged was made. From close friends of Secretary McAdoo it was learned that the wedding probably will take place in June.

Notwithstanding the fact that Secretary McAdoo and Miss Wilson have been seen much together in the last year and that the White House was the first place Mr. McAdoo always visited after an absence from the city, if only for a few hours, Washington society was more or less surprised at the announcement of the engagement.

Mr. McAdoo is fifty years old, a widower with six children. He also is a grandfather. Miss Wilson is twenty-four years old. Mr. McAdoo has two married children and a grown daughter, Miss Nona McAdoo, who presides over the family home.

Friends of Mr. McAdoo say the engagement is the culmination of a romance which began about two years ago, when he was consulting Governor Wilson regarding the pre-convention campaign in 1912. At that time and until the president went to Washington to be inaugurated, Mr. McAdoo was a frequent visitor at the Wilson home in Princeton.

Miss Eleanor shows a greater fondness for society than any other member of the family. She delights in dinners; she plays a fine game of tennis, and with Mr. McAdoo as her opponent she spent much time last spring on the courts on the White House grounds. She will be the fourteenth White House bride.

Mr. McAdoo first attracted public attention thirteen years ago, when he undertook the building of the Hudson tunnels. He was the organizer of the New York and New Jersey Railroad company and accomplished within six years one of the greatest engineering feats in history.

As a political figure he was practically unknown until Mr. Wilson began his campaign for the presidency. He had been much interested in Mr. Wilson when he fought for the governorship of New Jersey and was one of the few who declared for Mr. Wilson when a personal poll of the New York delegation was taken at the Baltimore convention. After Mr. Wilson had been nominated he was made assistant chairman of the Democratic national committee and because of the illness of Mr. McCombs was called upon to take charge of the campaign.

Mr. McAdoo was born near Marietta, Ga., on Oct. 31, 1863. He was admitted to the bar in Tennessee when only twenty-one years old. Five years later he took up his residence in New York city and formed a partnership with William McAdoo, who was assistant secretary of the navy under President Cleveland, later police commissioner of New York and is now chief magistrate. They practiced law under the name of McAdoo & McAdoo until 1902, when the firm was dissolved. Then William G. McAdoo organized the company for building the underground tunnels and, despite obstacles that seemed insurmountable, completed the job. He was married in 1885 to Miss Sarah Fleming in Chattanooga, Tenn., who died a few years ago.

A War Against Moths

Secure your furs and woolen clothes as soon as you lay them off for the season.

If you are not near enough to give them a wintering in the Refrigerating Vaults, scientifically constructed in a building where they can be insured against loss by fire, sew the articles up in cotton or linen wrappers with lumps of camphor gum tied up in a bit of muslin and place them in chests and closets that can be tightly closed to prevent evaporation of the camphor.

Carelessness in wrapping up properly and laying away the bundles may do great injury.

Have you seen and felt the storage vaults for valuables provided here for our own goods as well as yours?

BERRY, THE HANGMAN.

How He Got His Growsome Office and Why He Resigned It.

Berry, the famous English hangman, had an extraordinary career. He worked as a carpenter, engineer and printer before joining the police force. He knew his predecessors, Marwood and Calverly, and secured the post of hangman out of 1,400 applicants. It is said that Berry was chosen as hangman by the sheriffs of London through an answer he gave to a question about hanging a man he knew to be innocent. "Would you hang that gentleman over there?" he was asked. After looking at the councer, a venerable, gray bearded figure, Berry is alleged to have replied: "I would hang the lot of you. The crime would not be mine, but the law's."

And yet Berry finally gave up his office as hangman because the execution by him of two innocent persons got on his nerves.

The first case was that of a farm lad, aged about eighteen, accused of shooting a policeman. The boy protested his innocence to Berry up to the last moment, but was duly executed. Some time after this Berry hanged the Netherby hall murderer, one of whom just before he died told Berry that it was he who had shot the policeman for which crime the boy had been executed.

The second case was that of Mary Leffley of Lincolnshire, who was accused of poisoning her husband with arsenic. She too protested her innocence, but was hanged. Some years later a farmer dying of cancer confessed the crime. He said he had had a quarrel with John Leffley, and when both John and Mary were out he had entered their cottage and put arsenic in a milk pudding which had been prepared for John Leffley's dinner.

It was on account of these two grave miscarriages of justice that Berry ultimately turned evangelist. He was persuaded to go to a mission meeting at Bradford and there announced his conversion.—London Tit-Bits.

GEMS IN A VACUUM.

They Take on an Added Brilliance and Fairly Glow.

The jewelers of ancient Egypt knew more than modern craftsmen about treating gems so that they would shine and sparkle. Such gems as the emerald, garnet and jacinth were live, flatter and more luminous in the days of the Ptolemies than they can be made today. It is known that the diamond, ruby, emerald and khatite become more phosphorescent or fluorescent under certain circumstances.

Gems exhibit the liveliest phosphorescence in vacuum tubes. Even in rarefied air some diamonds give out a blue light, which is not present in a denser atmosphere. In a vacuum a diamond of four or five karats gives as much light as a candle. The color of the light differs not only with the origin of the diamond, but with the facets of the same diamond. Maskebye made a collection of diamonds which glowed in a vacuum, with nearly all the colors of the spectrum. An uncut stone which was roughly cube shape, with truncated corners and edges, emitted orange yellow light from the faces of the cube, pale yellow from the corners, and lemon yellow from the flat edges.

Next to the diamond stands the ruby as highly phosphorescent in a vacuum. The ruby emits a beautiful red light, as though it were incandescent. Kunzite shines with a golden yellow or yellow tinged with rose. The emerald shines with a crimson light. The same gems become phosphorescent under the influence of radium. The ultraviolet rays also produce luminosity in gems.

It is well known that rubies from the mines of Burma are more valuable than those from neighboring Siam. Externally they look much alike, but under the ultraviolet rays the Burmese stones which are called oriental rubies glow like red embers, while the Siamese rubies look almost black.—Independent.

AN EASTER MESSAGE.

The very word Easter thrills the heart with gladness, because there is in it the thought that the gloom of the winter is passed and that life is to begin anew. Nature will soon put on her glorious garments, and we shall see bud, blossom and flower, and the birds will charm us with song.

Many hundreds of years before Christ, Easter was observed as a pagan festival. The Romans celebrated their Hilaria at the end of March. The Greeks sang their song of gratitude to Mother Earth at this season. Ancient India, Persia and China all had their Spring festivals, and all because it was the season of new life and vigor.

We are not simply carrying out the thought of their joyousness in our celebration. The thing that matters most to us is that our Divine Lord proved the truth of his promises to men by breaking the bars of death on that day.

The assurance of this fact inspired His disciples. They were beginning to disband, but the certitude they possessed of the resurrection of their Master held them together in a firmer bond and the Christian church was established. The Christian church of today is the great evidence of the truth of the resurrection, for the Lord's disciples at the crucifixion were in no condition of mind to establish a church.

"The Lord is risen indeed," is the message that brings assurance to us of our future. Death can have no permanent dominion over us or over those we have "loved long since and lost awhile."

Come with me in thought to a little island off the coast of Asia Minor, in the Aegean Sea, a little island called Pasmos, amid a group of islands that are beautiful for situation. See there a lonely man who was the beloved disciple of the Lord. Listen as he tells the wonderful vision he had of the Lord's appearance to him. This is the Lord's word to him, "I am the Living One, and was dead, and behold I am alive forevermore." Note the position of that little phrase "was dead." It is just for a moment, and then life forevermore. Now read on, "and I have the keys of death and the unseen world." Why? "To open the gates of a new life to thee." When Christ—St. Paul's Evangelist, was dying, he waved his hand and said, "Good-bye, drive on." Why this certainty of hope? He believed the word of his Lord.

In the Stranger's Tomb in the cemetery at Stonington, Conn., there is this significant inscription in gilded lettering on the great stone door, taken from Pilgrim's Progress:

"They laid the Pilgrim in a chamber whose window opened toward the sunrising; the name of the chamber was peace; where he slept till the break of day, and then he awoke and sang."

This confidence is based on the reality of the resurrection of Jesus.

DR. CHAS. EATON WRITES OF WILSON

Popular Clergyman Says President Has Been Too Successful.

HAS A GREAT RECORD

Watching Resident, Writing for Toronto Paper, Analyzes Situation and Predicts End of Period of Public Adulation.

Rev. Charles A. Eaton, pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist church, in New York, and a resident of Watchung, has been given a roving commission by the Toronto Daily News, to write articles regarding American topics which may be of interest to Canadians. One of the most recent of these was highly interesting and dealing with the career and accomplishments of President Wilson. The article, which appeared under a New York date line, is of much interest in Plainfield because of Dr. Eaton's many friends in this city. It follows:

The political career of President Wilson reads like a romance. Less than four years ago he was president of Princeton University, and had never held public office. Since then he has served for two years as Governor of the State of New Jersey, and has just closed his first year as President of the United States.

There is no doubt that Mr. Wilson had long cherished a desire for a political career. His studies in history and economics; his long and arduous experience in administering the difficult affairs of a great university; his wide popularity as a speaker on public issues; all entered into his equipment for the work of a statesman.

ernorship of New Jersey should have been offered him at the very time when some of his cherished plans for the university had been rejected. At any rate, he stepped from the struggle incident to his university work into the political arena, and at a single bound reached the Governor's chair.

New Jersey has never had a greater Chief Magistrate. From his first hour of office until his resignation he was the real head of the State, as well as the real leader of his party. Professional political prophets were assured that his lack of experience would render him an easy prey to the forces of partisanship, privilege and graft. The Democratic boss of New Jersey was Mr. James Smith. It was a serious shock to Mr. Smith to discover that the "school master," as Mr. Wilson is called by his enemies, should be able to hold his own in the game of politics, and the shock became almost fatal when Mr. Wilson not only held his own, but put Mr. Smith and his cohorts to ignominious flight. In fact, this gentleman, who had spent his life in the alleged calm of the schools, seemed to take to politics like a duck to water. What other men acquire of political wisdom by years of experience, he seemed to know by intuition. In two years he lifted the State of New Jersey from the bottomless pit of hireling politics and set her government upon the solid rock of popular control. His chief weapon was publicity. He would have nothing to do with hole-and-corner methods. He gave his reasons for any line of action frankly to the people. He made his friends and enemies do the same. He showed at once extraordinary intellectual and tactical capacity; so that he was easily master of every situation as it arose.

At the Baltimore convention he could not have been nominated but for the heroic methods adopted by William Jennings Bryan. It is with in the truth to say that Mr. Wilson owed his nomination to Mr. Bryan, and that he recognizes the debt even at the present time.

Great as a Governor, Mr. Wilson has been greater as President. He has done what no other President of modern times was able to do—kept his party pledges to the letter. The country elected him on a platform of tariff and currency reform. Within a year of taking office he has caused to be put upon the statute books a new tariff law, a new currency law, and a brand new income tax law. The latter is a good deal of a Chinese puzzle. But the currency bill is probably the most important piece of finished legislation which Congress has enacted since the Civil War. It is usually conceded that these fundamental reforms have been enacted into law through the personal influence of the President. Whatever may happen to him in the future, the brilliant achievements of his first year will distinguish his term as one of the most important in the country's history.

The time of the eclipse of Mr. Wilson is about due. A democracy alternates between idolatry and assassination in its attitude towards its big men. Mr. Wilson has enjoyed popularity in every section of the country. While it has not taken the form of flag-waving and shouting, characteristic of the Roosevelt regime, it has been none the less real. But a reaction is beginning. Mr. Wilson has been too successful. The free and intelligent electors will see to it that his joys are properly diluted from now on. His first trouble is Mexico. No one can see any way out except to take each day as it comes. Very few in this country favor armed intervention. While there is abundance of criticism, there seems to be a poverty of suggestion as to what ought to be done. Whatever Mr. Wilson may do with reference to Mexico he will wish that he had done something else. That country is convulsed with hate, and is fast lapsing into barbarism. It cannot be judged, and probably it cannot be administered by standards familiar to the Saxon mind.

Mr. Wilson, in addition to the Mexican tangle, has taken the stand that this country ought to observe its treaty obligations with reference to the Panama tolls. In this position he is supported by the best men of all parties in the country; but the professional saviors of the country are seeing red lights, and the old flag is being unfurled. One bellicose Senator on Washington's Birthday assured his awe-struck hearers that if we must fight for our rights, we had better begin now. The Senator made a "hit," judging by the uproarious laughter which his patriotic appeal has evoked.

Another reason why Mr. Wilson will soon taste the bitter waters of criticism is the rather absurd fact that his secretary is a Roman Catholic. Justly or unjustly, there are great numbers of people in every section of this country, who believe that the Roman Catholic hierarchy is steadily advancing in political influence, and the belief is growing that the Wilson Administration is for some unaccountable reason peculiarly amenable to this influence.

The Democratic party, for the first time in many years, accomplished a solidarity of sentiment and conviction which made the election of Wilson possible. Having reached the seat of power, and being now charged with the responsibilities of government, dissensions are beginning to appear. The fundamental antagonism between the Progressives and Stand-Patters lies hidden in the Democratic party, as it was hidden in the Republican. We shall probably see a re-alignment of political parties here within the next decade—the Progressives from both of the old organizations forming the new Liberals, while the Stand-Patters, both Democratic and Republican will unite as the new Conservatives.

The key to Mr. Wilson's public policy may be found in his conviction that private morals and public morals was one and the same thing. This was why he refused to recognize Huerta as President of Mexico. If Mr. Huerta had been his neighbor and had taken possession of another neighbor's farm by the process of murder, Mr. Wilson would have called the transaction murder and theft. When Huerta reached the President's chair in Mexico by the bloody pathway of assassination, Mr. Wilson described the process as murder. He is convinced that it would be as wrong for his country to recognize a murderer as it would have been for him personally to recognize the murderer in any private capacity.

It is notorious that such a view is opposed to the best diplomatic conditions of the past centuries. The European nation is that a government is an entity distinguished from the personal character of those who fill its positions. On this assumption, Huerta would be recognized as President of Mexico, while as a man he would be execrated. Mr. Wilson does not think it possible to separate the President from the man.

We are in the age, the golden age of human politics. True we are still groping half blinded by the light. Many of us are still sighing for the good old days when the rights of property were paramount; but in Democratic countries from now on no law will be enacted in the interests of property unless, at the same time, it proves to be in the interests of humanity. Whatever happens to our material possessions, the quality of our citizenship is the most important question before the nation. Mr. Wilson speaks for the new time. He and those who stand with him from all parties and creeds, are blazing a pathway for generations to come. They will make serious mistakes, and perhaps be allied with some injustice; but on the whole they are leading us into a new time when men will once more assume their rightful supremacy over things.

EVANGELIST TRACED THE SCARLET LINE OF PROPHECY

A large congregation again greeted R. M. Honeyman, the evangelist at Hope Chapel last night, when the speaker traced the scarlet line of prophecy as it points to the cross through the Old Testament. Mr. Honeyman spoke at length on the substitution of Christ, the perfect, for the many imperfect, making one of the greatest sacrifices ever recorded in history.

Through all the ages, both before and after the crucifixion, the scarlet line runs through history, said the speaker, pointing to the great cross which has offered the life of all humanity. Yes, in the face of all this, ingratitude prevails in the case as in many other walks of life. Indifference to the accomplished work of Christ still remains in our midst, as in the years gone by. Human nature rules in these respects to such a great extent. However, the message of the cross still holds good today. Six responded to the invitation to raise their hands, asking for prayers.

TELLS "THE STORY OF THE CROSS" IN SONG

"The Story of the Cross," was the subject of the service conducted by Prof. B. P. Stout at the Park Avenue Baptist church, last night. The attendance was so large that it was necessary to open the Bible School room. The entire evening was given up to the gospel singer, whose selections all bore on the crucifixion of Christ, which was pictured vividly in the songs which he sang.

Prof. Stout will close his services at the church tomorrow and both he and Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire are looking forward to a day of great blessing. Mr. Maguire and Mr. Stout will have charge of the Bible School session at 9:45 o'clock in the morning and at the 11 o'clock service Mr. Stout will sing several songs. In the evening he will sing, "The Three Calls," "Harvest Time" and other selections. At the close of the service there will be baptism. The Young People's meeting at 7:10 will be led by Walter Weber. Prof. Stout will sing and William N. Runyon will be at the piano.

HAS GREAT CHARMS

The future as assured as that of Jacksonville, St. Petersburg (called by the Tampa people "St. Pete") is a cross between Atlantic City and Asbury Park. Somewhat over extended and speculative, a great playground for northern people in winter and those nearby in summer and conventions aplenty all the year. Beliear, with its beautiful and commodious hotels, extensive grounds, and splendidly maintained golf links, situated on an elevation overlooking the Gulf of Mexico, is the most finished product on the West coast and fully equal to anything in Florida.

But it was not of the ordinary travelled route that Mr. Rogers discoursed most freely. He had graduated from the tourist class and after months of patient study and first-hand information had come to a knowledge of the citrus fruit industry that qualified him to speak with a measure of authority. Coming, as it were, casually to Winter Haven and Florence Villa, known as the "Lake Regions," he had remained in residence, and seen his son established in business. Winter Haven, four years ago, a country cross-roads, surrounded by young orange groves, is now a flourishing town, with water, electric lights and other modern conveniences. It has a wide-awake Board of Trade and a Civic League organization of far-seeing, energetic women who are bound to do substantial things and stamp their character on Winter Haven's future.

Florence Villa Hotel, called the Plantation Home, about a mile away, is charmingly located among groves at the head of a chain of lakes, and filled with guests in winter who return year after year, among whom are some well known Plainfielders. Situated in the heart of Polk county, embosomed among a hundred crystal lakes, at an elevation of two hundred feet above tide water, it has enjoyed immunity from the frosts that have occasionally visited other sections of Florida, and once brought the whole State to the verge of ruin. For example, there are trees standing which went through the great freeze of 1899 practically unharmed, and in the present winter (an exceptionally cold one, as we well know), while vegetation was injured and truck gardens frozen as far South as Miami, no slightest touch of frost visited this highly-favored region. Even the more sensitive limes, lemons and tender vegetables, were never for a moment threatened. It is pretty generally conceded that nowhere else in the State do citrus trees bear such heavy crops, between one and two tons of grape-fruit on a tree being no uncommon sight. Here also are located the great citrus nurseries.

Mr. Rogers then went on to describe the modern scientific methods of fertilizing, so that the orange and grape-fruit trees can be made to lie dormant during the winter months secure in their sleep against any probable temperature, and then awake into quick and wonderful growth. He spoke of the romance attaching to the orange grove, of the interest never failing in the care and culture of citrus fruits in general, of the profits both actual and possible of the many people from the North who are finding out how to live, that is to work eight months amid most agreeable surroundings and then loaf four months up North. Especially was this true of Florence Villa, the home of the Innans, the plantation seized and developed by the late Dr. Innan formerly from Akron, Ohio, father of the citrus fruit industry in the Lake Region and originator of the great State-wide system of packing houses and fruit exchange, known as the "Florida Citrus Exchange," a boon to the growers of all Florida. It betas a means of washing, grading, packing and marketing by scientific methods which secures a minimum of loss by decay and bad accounts and assures to the northern purchaser a reliable guarantee behind his trade-mark.

Men of means have recognized the promise and value of the situation, and have made large investments of capital, some with a view to personal residence, some for the purpose of settling their sons in congenial outdoor employment, and some for investment purposes pure and simple. Among the last are some Plainfield citizens. Said Mr. Rogers:

"I cannot help being a convert, indeed an enthusiastic Floridian. I have seen with my own eyes seen groves paying for themselves in four years, seen acres upon acres returning twenty, thirty per cent, and more upon capital invested, seen men grow brown and happy and healthy, seen young married people living the finest life in the world. I've learned a lot of things, and met a lot of intelligent, big hearted men and women from all over the United States. It all looks good to me. Yes, I expect to go back before cold weather comes again."

RELEASE COPPENHAVEN FROM TOMBS PRISON

Alleged Abductor Exonerated From Blame in the Naylor Case

Following his exoneration on the charge of being in some way connected with the Ruth Naylor abduction case, Thomas Coppenhaven, of Sunbury, Pa., was released from the Tombs prison, this morning. When the girl's disappearance was first reported John Naylor, her father, alleged that Coppenhaven was the abductor and had him arrested and held for extradition to New Jersey. The arrest of Lynus Walpole and the finding of the girl with subsequent confessions has vindicated Coppenhaven, however, and the father went to the New York court this morning, to ask for the prisoner's release. Coppenhaven had been paying attentions to the Naylor girl for some months prior to her disappearance and was a visitor at the home the night before she disappeared from the premises of the Stillman Grammar School, where she was a pupil.

Chief Kiely has in his possession a packet of letters alleged to have been written by Coppenhaven to the Naylor girl, who is but fifteen years of age, which would have been used for evidence had the prisoner been found guilty of the deed. He has been held a prisoner in the Tombs since Sunday on a complaint lodged by Mr. Naylor, denying any knowledge of the crime from the first.

When arrested he was living in a boarding house in West 186th street, New York, having been located by the local authorities through a letter he forwarded to the mother of the girl Saturday afternoon, requesting that his mail be sent to the New York address. The prisoner was put through a severe grilling by the police following his apprehension but his story of having no connection with the case could not be shaken.

COURT WARREN GIVES UP ITS CHARTER

Unable to Continue Successfully Members Decide to Suspend.

The members of Court Warren, No. 4978, Independent Order of Foresters, at a special meeting held in their hall at Mt. Bethel, Thursday night, after a considerable discussion decided to suspend operations and close up their affairs, that being decided as the most advisable thing to do under the circumstances. Attendance at the meetings had fallen off, because of the fact that the members are busy with farm work and many of the offices had become vacant because members had taken positions in the city.

John H. Cooper, who became associated with a New York restaurant and Peter J. Reinmann, past chief ranger, who joined his brother, Ernest, of Oak Tree, in the contracting business, were both forced to resign. No suitable successors could be found who were willing to take up the work, so all present thought it best to give up and join other courts. Grover P. Kipsey, past chief ranger, presided at the meeting. The accounts of the financial secretary, Herbert A. Toms and those of Benjamin Harrison, treasurer, were carefully audited and found to be correct. All outstanding bills were paid and the balance and paraphernalia ordered sent to the supreme court at Toronto. The court was organized April 2, 1912, at Mt. Bethel, by State Organizer Bingham, of Elizabeth.

GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

HELD AT WARREN CHAPEL

A large number of worshippers attended the Good Friday service, last night, in Warren chapel. Rev. J. A. McKelvey was in charge and during the meeting spoke on the events surrounding the trial and crucifixion of Christ. His theme was "The Seven Great Phrases." These were the words spoken by Christ while hanging on the Cross. The pastor spoke of the need of the world to observe Good Friday more than it does at the present time. The first phrase, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do," was explained by the speaker, and the idea of forgiveness was forcibly brought out. The next phrase, "Verily, I say unto thee, today shalt thou be with me in Paradise," was explained by the speaker, and "Woman, behold, thy son," "My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me," "I thirst," "It is finished, and Father, into thy hands, I commend my spirit," were discussed and explained by different men present with the thought of the humanity of Jesus being shown in each.

"HUMANAPHONE" CONCERT. "Humanaphone" is the word. A very unique and entertaining concert will be given at Vincent chapel of the First M. E. church on Friday evening, April 17, by the Epworth League. There will be sixteen assisting artists and the program promises to be unusually attractive. A nominal admission fee will be charged.

Reo the Fifth 1914 Model $1,175 Equipped

Now $220 Less

Note that Reo the Fifth—Mr. Olds' great car—sells at a new price this year. We have saved you 16 per cent. on the car, equipped.

Some parts—like tires and electric starter—cost us less this year. But most of this saving comes from the fact that all special machinery for building this model has been charged against previous output. And note that this car—$220 less—has

The new streamline body. Electric starter and lights. A 35-horsepower engine. Oversize tires—34x4. Dimming searchlights. One-rod control.

The Car That Stays New

Nobody doubts that Reo the Fifth is the best built car in its class. It embodies all Mr. Olds' extremes, based on 27 years of car building.

It takes six weeks to build each car, because of the utter exactness, the countless tests and inspections.

The steel is twice analyzed. The gears are tested for 75,000 pounds per tooth, the springs for 100,000 vibrations.

The car has 15 roller bearings, 190 drop forgings. It has a costly clutch which prohibits all gear clashing. It has the simplest gear-shift in the world.

All driving parts are built one-half stronger than necessary—built to meet the requirements of a 50-horsepower engine.

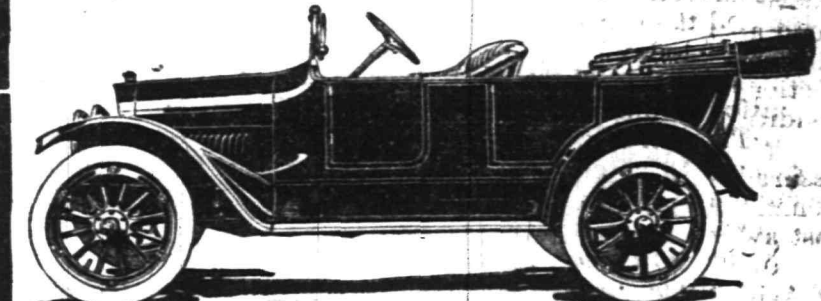

10,000-MILE TESTS. Test cars with this chassis have for years been kept running at high speed night and day on rough roads. After 10,000 miles of reckless driving the test car is taken apart, and every driving part is required to show up in almost perfect condition.

No other modest priced car has ever been built in this slow careful, costly way. But the result is a car that stays new. It saves the average user hundreds of dollars in troubles, repairs and expense.

Men who know are buying cars like this. The spring demand is always twice the factory output. March sales have broken every record.

We urge men who may want this honest car to come and see it now.

"SPORTDOM TIPS"

Basketball fans who have remained loyal to the court sport until this time of the spring will be treated to an unusually fine exhibition on the Y. M. C. A. court tonight when the Association and Scotch Plains five meet in the second contest of a three game series. Scotch Plains won the first by two points in one of the most spectacular games ever waged on a local court and the game tonight gives promise of being a repetition of the initial encounter. Two new faces will appear in the Y. M. C. A. lineup to replace the Gayett brothers, but it is thought that this shift will add rather than detract from the strength of the Plainfield quintet.

The reorganization of the Saurer baseball team for the coming season assures us of some more of the City League stuff. Last year the schedule was played rather irregularly during the latter part of the season and interest appeared to be lagging in the camps of several of the aggregations. It was thought at that time that the organization would go out of business permanently but there is a movement on foot at the present time to awaken enthusiasm in the league once more.

There was no change coming to that Bank team after Plainfield High School baseball players got through pounding out hits and circling the bases yesterday. The financiers were easy for the High School youths and taken as a whole the curtain raiser was a ripping triumph for the P. H. S. clan. Now that they've started off with the win habit the red and blue cohorts will probably expect nothing less in the future.

Some day for baseball. Local managers are losing valuable time in not taking advantage of the ideal weather conditions we are having at the present time. Haven't heard a murmur in the Plainfield camp. 'Smatter, Dorringer?

Jack Martin, Eugene Liggett and Carl Johnson, the league boys in whom we are most interested, are keeping pretty well under cover just at this time. 'Nothing has been heard from any of the trio in the last week.

"Nibs" Hand and "Warhorse" McLaughlin are slated to do mound duty for the Trenton Club tomorrow afternoon. But we notice that Cliff Randolph's name does not appear in the Suburban lineup which will furnish the opposition. That Atlantic League job is evidently a paying proposition for Cliff.

SOON TO HEAR THE CLICKING OF TURNSTILE

Greatest Baseball Show on Earth Opens Next Week Tuesday.

New York, April 11.—Score cards! "Peanuts, five a bag." "Get the correct batting order." "Cigars, cigarettes and chewing gum."

The old familiar spels will be heard again in the major league cities when the "greatest baseball show on earth" opens next week for the season of 1914.

The big show is to be a three-ring affair this season, if the confident predictions made by the Federal League promoters are fulfilled. The American and National League managers intimate their belief that it will be the same old two-ring exhibition with a side show as an added attraction. The baseball public seems inclined to credit the Federal League with possessing big league qualifications. The new organization certainly has shown itself to be a husky infant and the way it has trundled over major league territory and tagged the major league players has rather caught the fancy of the fans.

With an utter disregard for the very elements of superstition the Federals have decided to open their first season on the thirteenth day of the month. The curtain-raising stunt will be staged at Baltimore, where the Buffalo team will line up against Otto Knepper's Terrapins. A day or two later the other teams of the new league will get under way.

In the Federal League there is no dope in the way of past performances on which to base a prediction as to the outcome of the pennant race. Consequently all such predictions and forecasts could be little better than guesswork.

A slant at the Johnson and Tener combinations is sufficient to start the calculating machines a-rattling. To begin with, nine out of every ten of the fans probably pick the Athletics to run away with the American League flag and the Giants as the winners in the National League race. There is no denying that so far as the Athletics are concerned the dope looks good, although the Washington team, with the great Walter Johnson doing the bulk of the twirling, may upset the beans.

The chances for the Giants to romp in a winner this year are considerably lessened by Shafers being out of the game. The Pittsburgh Pirates are generally picked to give the Giants a hard tussle for the rag. With Konetchy, the former Cardinal star, at first, Vfox at second, the wonderful Wagner at short and Mowrey at third, the Pirates appear to have a combination that will make the Giants step some from the first tap of the bell.

With St. Aristo Heine Wagner and Pletcher Joe Wood on the hospital list, the Boston Red Sox will start the season under a serious handicap. When the two stars are again able to play the Red Sox doubtless will give a good account of themselves.

The Brooklyn Superbas, under the management of the veteran Wilbert Robinson, are being touted as a real surprise package. "Kobbie" has had the experience and it will be up to him to show the Brooklyn fans what he knows about creating a winner.

The White Sox rooters expect the Gallahan crew to keep well up among the pennant contenders. The early recovery of Ray Schaik and "Larry" Chappell, the spectacular work of Hal Chase and the return to form of "Big Ed" Walska form the basis for their calculations. Without the services of these brilliant performers it is hard to figure the Sox in the running.

With a new president, a new manager, a new captain and a new second baseman, the famous old Cub machine has become a thing of the past. Hank O'Day has succeeded Johnny Evers as manager and Bill Sweeney is expected to show the goods in Evers' old position at second base.

Charley Herzog has a likely looking bunch of Cincinnati Reds and may be able to land his team in the first division. The loss of Chapman, who is out of the game nursing an injured leg, is likely to handicap the Cleveland Naps at the get-away.

Though nearly shot to pieces by the desertion of players to the Fed-the Phillies have a number of promising youngsters who may be able to bring the Doolin Daisies into the limelight.

Manager George Stallings has his Boston Braves all tuned up and will make a strong bid for place among the first four teams.

Unless Manager Chance can develop one or two real ball tossers among his recruits the Yankees will be up against it again this season. And how about St. Louis? Well, the tip has gone forth that the Browns and Cardinals are prepared to put over anything short of homicide to break out of the cellar.

CHURCH LEAGUE STARTS MAY 16

Opening Date Decided Upon at a Meeting of the Board Last Night.

J. H. CRANE PRESIDENT

Four Teams Will Fight for Championship—Trinity a New Entry—Bound Brook and Westfield Eliminated From Consideration.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Sunday-School League, held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A., last night, final arrangements were made and the election of officers for the coming year was completed. There were representatives from four schools of this city and as a consequence a four-team league will be formed. Three of the aggregations were in the race last year and finished in one, two, three order. Trinity will be the only new team in the league and the other three are First Baptist, Hope Chapel and Monroe Avenue schools. The Park Avenue Baptist has decided to play independent ball and the First Presbyterian could not organize a team.

At the meeting last night, J. Henry Crane, the First Baptist representative was elected president, and J. R. McCormick, as the delegate from the Monroe Avenue church was chosen vice-president. Fred Smith, of the Trinity Sunday-school, is the secretary and treasurer. The new president succeeds F. O. Dunning, who was president of the board last year. Mr. Crane appointed J. R. McCormick and James Penny, the latter of Hope Chapel, as a committee to make up the schedule and to look for umpires for the league. It was decided to start the league on Saturday, May 16, and each team will play twelve games which will bring the season to a close the latter part of August, allowing for postponed games. A resolution was passed last night to the effect that no player that participated in any Sunday baseball would be eligible as a player in the league.

There has been much talk about teams from Westfield and Bound Brook seeking admission to the league, but as there was no application made last night these teams must have thought better of the matter. The outlook for the present season is very bright and it should be the best year that the league has ever had. Three of the teams that will fight are known by the reputation that they made last year and the Trinity nine is going in to be on the top at the finish. The Baptist and Hope Chapel teams will share the West End field and the schedule will be made so that there will be no conflicts. Monroe Avenue will use their own field on Clinton Avenue and Trinity will play on the Cricket Field. All of these are in good shape and fast games can be looked for as far as the diamonds go. No trophy has as yet been offered but some local merchant will undoubtedly put one up before the season opens. The next meeting of the board will be held April 24 in

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor: Query—What Congressional district are we in?—J. D. T.

Answer—The Fifth Congressional District includes Plainfield.

Sporting Editor: Query—Have renewed acquaintance with a young man in a different city. Would it be proper for me to ask him to come and see me in Plainfield or should I wait until he adjusts himself?—N. Y. Z.

Answer—Most emphatically you should wait until he asks permission to call. Don't be anxious.

Sporting Editor: Query—A few days ago I ran across the statement that the United States notes are public tender in the payment of all debts, public and private, except for duties on imports and interest on the public debt. Why not on imports and interest on the public debt?—G. K. L.

Answer—United States notes are its promises to redeem in gold or silver such notes when presented to the United States Treasury through the banks or in person. They circulate as money in all business transactions because they have the credit of the United States government behind them. You cannot pay duties on imports, nor interest on public debt, with the government's promissory notes. The actual gold coin (gold being the money standard) must be paid into the United States Treasury.

Sporting Editor: Query—Where can I get the history of the Central Railroad for composition purposes?—K. D. R.

Answer—The Public Library has the information you want.

Sporting Editor: Query—Please state if an attempt will be made to raise the Titanic with magnets? Do they know how much water she sank in?—J. S.

Answer—There has been some talk of raising the ship by this method, but nothing definite has been done as yet. The ship sank in a spot estimated to be two miles deep. The exact depth is not a matter of record.

COURT DECLARES RESERVE CLAUSE LEGALLY INVALID

The reserve clause in baseball contracts which include a ten days' notice section is legally invalid. That is the gist of the decision handed down by Federal Judge Clarence W. Sessions in the Killifer case in the United States District Court at Grand Rapids, Mich., yesterday afternoon.

Although the application of the Chicago Federal League Club for an injunction to restrain William Killifer from playing with the Philadelphia Club of the National League was denied, Judge Sessions' opinion held that the reserve clause of Killifer's 1913 contract was not valid under the law.

NEW AUTO RACE TRACK.

Lakewood, April 11.—An automobile race track and an air-drome suitable for the holding of either motor or airplane contests appears now to be assured for Lakewood. At a recent meeting of those interested in the project the matter of procuring suitable grounds for the track was discussed with representatives of the Bricksburg Land and Improvement Company. Another meeting is to be held today, and it is expected that then the plans will be definitely announced. About $20,000 has already been pledged for the enterprise.

As there was no game today the locals had a hard practice this morning and will witness the Plainfield-Camp Bowser game this afternoon.

The Suburban A. A. of New York, opens its season tomorrow with the Trenton club at New York. "Warry" McLaughlin will be on the mound for the visitors. He pitched for this team last week and lost out by one run in the ninth. "Nibs" Hand will do the catching.

DOCTORS-DENTISTS

GAME FOR JUNE 13

Annual Baseball Struggle Between Local Professional Men on Parker Field.

The annual baseball game between the local doctors and ministers will be played on Parker Field, Saturday afternoon, June 13, this year. As has been the custom since the yearly contest was introduced the proceeds will be turned over to the hospital.

Last year the struggle became so complicated in the last few innings of an overtime contest that the pill dispensers and tooth pullers agreed to conclude hostilities by calling matters a tie.

JORDAN HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

The Toronto team of the International League came near losing one of its best players when Tim Jordan, who played first base for Jack Martin's All-Stars here last fall, was injured on the way to the ball field in Texas yesterday. He was riding in a trolley car with a teammate when a baseball was hit through a window near him and sent showers of glass into his face. The ball was hit by a boy who was playing in a nearby field. The glass struck him around the eyes but he was not hurt, save for a few scratches. His companion was also struck but was uninjured. Those who witnessed the scene considered it a great wonder that Jordan escaped as he did.

HERE'S SOME RECORD.

DUTCH ATMOSPHERE FEATURE OF DANCE

Unity Circle Making Great Arrangements for Enter- tainment Next Thursday.

Since the announcement was made last week that the annual dinner and dance of the Unity Circle, of the local King's Daughters, to be held in the Park Club on Tuesday evening, was to be a thoroughly Dutch affair, Miss Audrey Gernon, president of the circle, has been besieged with questions. The queries are all concerning one subject and that is "Do we have to do Dutch dances?"

Miss Gernon, when asked who started the rumor that Dutch dancing was to be the latest style in Plainfield, smiled, and said, "Why it's so absurd. Of course we expect to have the whole affair in Dutch style and I suppose that someone took it that everything was to be of Holland origin. I don't know much about Dutch dancing myself but from the little I have heard, it seems to be an uninteresting diversion. It is the plan of the circle to have the dance one of the features of the evening and consequently we want to make it just as enjoyable as possible. Such being the case, I hardly imagine there will be any Dutch dances, especially since the music is to be by the VanEpps brothers and everyone knows that to their rhythm only the newer dances would be in order."

The members of the circle are planning to make the affair one of the most enjoyable of its kind this season. Arrangements have been made to admit people to the dance who will not be able to come to the dinner.

Last year the circle distinguished itself for the delicious things to eat as well as the timely music. No effort is being spared to make the Dutch costumes and decorations comply with the life and customs of the inhabitants of Holland.

Those attending the affair will be treated as tourists of the Netherlands and also as contributors to many local charities in which work the money raised is to be expended.

The Dutch company of charity workers is composed of the following:

Bessie Alpaugh, Mrs. A. G. Baurer, Kate Barlow, Mary Barlow, Gertrude Bowley, Marguerite Bleninger, Katherine Browne, Marjorie Brown, Marjorie Corbett, Sylvia Curtis, Eleanor DeGraff, Katherine Drayton, Barbara Fleming, Audrey Gernon, Katherine Ginn, Gwendolen Gough, Helen Harrington, Marjorie Harris, Rae Harris, Beatrice Hedger, Alverda Holland, Abby Holstein, Helen Hyde, Frances Iredell, Eleanor Iredell, Helen Joy, Margaret Leggett, Elizabeth McGee, Mrs. Barnett H. Pettigrew, Marguerite Ramsey, Marion Rocap, Helen Rogers, Mary Rushmore, Alice Smith, Marion Snyder, Ruth Timpson, Mrs. Harold Underhill, Jean Wharton, Anna Yerkes.

News of Interest in Building World

PLAN STILL MORE RADICAL ATTACK

Single Taxers Plan to Place Burden on Land and Not Buildings.

While New York real estate owners are pluming themselves over the fact that they have just succeeded in beating the Herick-Schnap bill in the Legislature, despoiled to double the tax on land in relation to that on buildings, the single taxers are about to start a new and much more radical campaign. They are going to work to take the tax entirely off of buildings and place it on land. Their theory is that terrified land owners, fearful of this worse calamity, will rush to sue for mercy and be glad to accept the "half-loaf" trophied in the hitherto despised Herick-Schnap bill, rather than be forced to the "no bread" condition now threatened.

They have also started a weekly. The new tax plan is thus explained. "The city doesn't need this year the revenue derived from buildings. A tax rate of $2.91 on land would yield all of this year's levy. Let us reduce the tax on buildings 10 per cent. a year for nine years and 9 per cent. the tenth year. Then we will have a tax rate on buildings only 1-10th that on land and a lot of revenue. Let us also work for a referendum on this."

This scheme was launched at a "Dinner Council of War" held at the Hotel Grenoble.

The biggest thing of the evening so Mr. Leubuscher said, was a new publication just started by Benjamin C. Marsh—"The Tenants" Weekly. This "four page infant," as Mr. Marsh explains is not intended to be either a money maker nor a money loser. It is to be supported by subscription and advertisements. It contains (among other things) a schedule of outdoor meetings for this week.

JUST NOTES

In reviewing the local real estate and building situation, a local agent is quoted as making the statement to the effect that there has been a great demand for homes and home-sites since the first of January this year in and about Plainfield, than during the same period of the past six or seven years, in spite of the fact that the general condition of the money market was tight. "Furthermore," he stated, "the present indications are that the demand will continue for some time, as all those who have been seeking homes have not, as yet, been satisfied. Not only have the home-seekers been looking for room, but one or two manufacturing concerns are today seeking for sites in this city. A couple of new shops coming to this city at this particular time would not only give the real estate of Plainfield a boost in the right direction, but the industrial situation would be relieved considerably."

ONLY FOUR PERMITS ISSUED DURING WEEK

They Call for An Expenditure of $8,975 for Dwelling and a Garage.

During the past week, four building permits have been issued by Inspector T. O. Doane, calling for the expenditure of $8,975. One calls for the erection of two dwellings, one for a garage, and two for alterations. The permits are as noted below.

Third Ward.
Joseph Clements will place a second floor over his store located at 107 West Fourth street. Theodore J. Zoller is the contractor for the work. The cost will be $500.

Fourth Ward.

cern is also erecting fifteen houses at Watchung.

The alterations on Lincoln School, Dunellen, are now under way under the direction of J. Newton Appar, the contractor.

The new pumping station of the Piscataway Water Company at Mid-dlesex Borough is now practically completed and the machinery is being installed.

Titanic Sculpture to Symbolize Elements; Colossal Figures Typify Fire, Earth, Air, at Panama-Pacific Exposition.

TITANIC figures symbolizing the four elements—Fire, Water, Earth, Air—will flank the entrance to a vast sunken garden in the great Court of the Universe at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

Scale models of three of the figures—"Fire," "Earth" and "Air"—have reached San Francisco and are now being enlarged in the sculptural warehouses at the Exposition grounds. Of the three, "Fire" will perhaps most appeal to the popular imagination. A colossal figure, half supine, the personification of the fearful element seems vibrant with suppressed power and superhuman strength. The figure is sinister as it is attractive. The menace of the fire god, which struck terror to the hearts of the ancients, is magnificently portrayed by the sculptor.

"Earth" is represented by the figure of a beautiful woman, classic and charming in its outlines. "Air," the remaining of the three figures to have reached San Francisco, portrays another figure floating high above the world. The figure symbolizing "Water" will shortly be completed by Robert J. Aitken, the brilliant American sculptor who was entrusted with the design of the titanic composition.

More than a score of the world's most famous sculptors assisted by hundreds of skilled artisans were engaged to create the heroic audience of white but silent figures that will be set in the great courts and upon the grounds of the Exposition. Sculpture will be more freely employed at San Francisco than at any former world's exposition, and the figures already in evidence promise that the world will enjoy the most beautiful and imaginative collection of sculptural works to be presented by contemporary artists.

AN ATTRACTIVE EMBROIDERY DESIGN FOR COMBINATION GARMENTS.

Combination garments made of lawn, linen or crepe de Chine, have become very popular because of the advantage they have over the separate articles of clothing. They fit more closely around the waist and hips and are therefore more comfortable.

This attractive design No. 14567, of dots and flowers may be used on a corset-cover and drawers or petticoat, chemise or it may be adapted to a nightgown by using the ruffles for sleeves. The pattern includes transfers for stamping the front and back of the corset-cover and two ruffles each 42 inches long. Solid work and eyelet embroidery with merized cotton or silk are appropriate for carrying out this design.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer pattern 14567 will be supplied to readers on receipt of price, 15 cents.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

7713

This season has brought out some very charming new blouse designs. No. 7713 is a model that would be very pretty developed in voile, albatross, crepon, linen or one of the numerous wash silks. It combines the drop-shoulder and the raglan effect, has a sailor collar and by way of finish has three stitched tucks extending down the front.

As white crepe de Chine is so much in favor just now I will offer it as a suggestion here with the collar and cuffs of figured crepon.

The home dressmaker will find nothing difficult about the yoke or raglan shoulder, which appears on nearly every design this season, if she follows her pattern directions carefully and marks the seam allowance on each piece.

An effective finish for these seams on the shoulder is brought about by joining them in the usual way, pressing them open and running a line of machine stitching each side of the joining line.

For size 36 this blouse requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes; 32 to 42.

This Is a Perfect Pattern.

Be sure to state right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

MUCH INTEREST IN THE NEW STYLES AND SOME SURPRISES

"Vogue" in commenting on this year's fashions, says in the April 1 issue:

"Although the first great wave of excitement caused by the Paris openings has subsided, it has left behind a thousand little whirlpools of interest, each centering about some mooted question of the new mode. Of course, every one knew twenty-four hours after the first twenty-four minutes of the first opening all about such things as the passing of the tight skirt which, having had its day, has apparently transferred its policy of frugality to the bodice; but such innovations as a collar which almost hides the mouth, coats without sleeves and a frock here and there of white damask are still enjoying their allotted seven days of wonder-making.

"The short skirt, the advent of which was prophesied in Vogue fully eighteen months ago, is now the fad of the hour. All the foremost couturiers exploited it at the spring openings this season, but we are really indebted for it to Premet who showed the shortest skirts in Paris as long ago as February, 1913. At that time American women looked at them and pronounced them very pretty, but they said that no woman would ever wear a skirt which cleared the ground by four to seven inches. For once, however, the American was mistaken. She forgot to reckon with her smart French cousin, who has taken up the fad for short skirts.

"We were in a measure prepared for this by the adoption of the split skirt. The very short skirt of the hour appeals to people as being a much more modest affair than the split skirt. Just why, is not quite clear, but fortunately we are concerned only with the fact. The present mode decrees that the skirt shall escape the ground by not less than four inches, and that seven is not unthinkable, and the line is likely to climb rather than to be lowered.

"A year ago, in February, Madame

Cheruit showed many dresses which had transparent capes made of a single layer of chiffon. These capes touched the waist-line in the back and disappeared mysteriously in the front; never, by any chance, did the cape cross the front. Simultaneously with these Bernard brought out a three-quarter-length cape of black satin which had jacket-like fronts belted at the waist-line, and Poiret showed military capes.

"All of these capes came to stay. We have the little pelerine which hangs from the back of the coat; we have the cape with the jacket or surplice fronts, and we have also the military cape. All of these styles of capes were shown at this year's openings, and are all being worn. Beer showed a pretty circular cape of emerald green crepe. It was worn with a dress of black satin combined with black and emerald green striped taffeta."

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch
New Jersey Association
Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

A favorite argument of the suffragists is that the anti-suffragists are perfectly satisfied with the existence of the ignorant male vote.

Another is that they would be perfectly satisfied that the franchise should be granted to educated women provided it would never extend to "the girl in the kitchen."

One statement is as entirely inaccurate as the other; proof that they are trying to excite the class hatred and distrust among the members of their own sex.

It has been said by a well-known anti-suffragist, "That if it was a question of limiting the vote to the educated, thoughtful and intelligent of both sexes, we might look upon it differently," and again, "We must put time and brains upon the problem of the foreign man as a voter. How will it help to add the foreign woman?"

It is quite true that the anti-suffragists consider the ignorant vote as a menace, but the existing male as well as the non-existent female. Especially that of the non-English speaking foreigner for perfectly obvious reasons.

Be it noted, however, that naturalization laws in no way discriminate against him. The man who arrives here with a full and understanding of the language, must wait as long, and fulfill the same requirements, before gaining his citizenship.

But in their lives in this country, the relative position of the sexes among the non-English speaking races, differs far more than that of the native born American, or other English speaking races.

The men are out mingling with other men, learning the language and usages of the country, preparing themselves for citizenship. A large proportion of the married foreign women who come to this country live here for years without learning the language.

They are not ambitious save for their homes and families. They live in their homes, leaving the outside life to the men, secure that they will do better for them in it, than they could do for themselves.

Here is a Hungarian grandmother, over seventy years old, her children all born in this country, her grandchildren all over twenty—comfortably well-off. She does not speak English. A Russian and a German mother, who have been here, one twelve, the other fourteen years, neither speak or understand English. They do not belong to ignorant or illiterate classes in their own countries, thousands of whom land here every year. They read, write, sew and are excellent thrifty housewives. They do not wish any sympathy thrown away on them either.

Self-respecting, they are worthy of the highest respect in their place. That place is not, however, as a unit in our Government, and to do them credit they do not ask to be placed in any such false position. The anti-suffragists would consider the vote of the female foreigner a menace, even such women as these.

Doubly a menace, when added to that of the men who have so much to learn before they are fit to undertake with any degree of intelligence or realization of responsibility the duties of citizenship. As one able writer expresses it: "Coming from different political conditions, new to republicanism, new to responsibility, new to freedom, which in the exuberance of the second generation he misreads license."

We consider the "woman in politics" regardless of class distinctions, would mean added confusion to our still young democracy, dangerously, cosmopolitan in its makeup.

We hold—and suffrage States prove us justified in doing so—that against a small minority of the thoughtful conscientious women, there would be an overwhelming majority of undesirable voters, added to our already dangerously large, unwieldy electorate. Undesirable in various ways. Some merely entirely indifferent to the responsibility of using the ballot at all, and it would be the duty of every woman to use it.

Then there would be the intelligent woman liking high principle matching well the same type of man, using her vote for what it will bring her. Again the silly, flippant woman whose vote in the Government, would be, if not a positive disadvantage, a very negative advantage. Lastly, in the life of every city, that woman whose vote would surely be controlled by the lowest influences.

We recognize the dangers already existing through the ignorant male vote. We realize the time, labor and thought, needed before it can be adjusted.

We want to give men who are struggling with the stupendous problems which our democracy presents, time to solve them, unhampered by the menace, which the female element, simply meaning doubled numbers, would represent.

The old suffrage cry that "The men have had their chance and failed" is as absurd as it is false. The problem along presented by our ever changing population—thousands of foreigners landing here every week—will take many years to solve.

Men have done their work and can do it without menacing home and family life, and women prove, that whatever their declaration to the contrary, they cannot be homemakers and politicians, at the same time.

Miss Eva Ward challenged some time since, my statement that "through its alliance with Socialism and Feminism, the abolition of the home formed part of the propaganda of the suffragists." Be it understood I do not refer to the idealistic meaning now being given to it by some of the exponents of "Feminism," as the following paragraphs from my reply to Miss Ward will show.

"It gives me pleasure to inform Miss Eva Ward that I base my declaration that the abolition of home is part of the propaganda of those who sneer at 'Home, Home and Mother' on three undeniable points, viz: First, the phrase just quoted; second the avowed alliance of the Socialists and Suffragists; third, the Feminism preached by such leaders as Jessie Ashley, Inez Milholland Boissevain and Mrs. Charlotte Rhodus, president of the Cooks county, Illinois, Woman Suffrage party, and others. Does not Miss Ashley's reference to the time when the 'State shall take the children, etc.' (N. Y. Tribune, Jan. 11), mean the abolition of the home, i. e. of home life? Does not Mrs. Rhodus' declaration that 'the sanctity of marriage is meaningless, strike at the very foundation of family life, therefore of the home? Does not Mrs. Boissevain's utterance that 'it is to be assumed that the institutions most likely to be changed are the institutions in which the sex as a sex is most peculiarly and vitally interested, namely, the home and marriage itself,' speak for itself? Another suffrage writer tells us in 'The Free-woman' at the end of a paragraph explaining her reasons, which are not suitable to quote in this correspondence, that 'the whole edifice of life marriage will at last fall to the ground.'"

Men have worked through all generations to maintain inviolate home and family, women have helped them. A minority of women are going on record in their effort to undo man's highest work, through their determination to thrust themselves into public duties and responsibilities from which women of all ages, have been glad to be protected.

They are doing it at the sacrifice of home and children and church, and womanhood, proving—with but few exceptions—by their methods in the effort to get into politics what may be expected of woman in politics.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat Also Take Glass
of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like jumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them
"flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly.
At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water;
also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Lizards
Story—Celebrate Spring
By Playing Cars.

JACK and Evelyn were spending all the nice warm spring afternoons in the woods. They would come home with all sorts of pretty little spring flowers and fix them in little vases around the house. They loved the spring. But then they really loved all the seasons of the year. There was always plenty to do in the winter when the ground was covered with snow. In the spring there were so many things to find in the way of little insects they had almost forgotten about, lovely songs to hear by the birds who had left their winter homes and, of course, all the flowers. And summer was nice, too, with the swimming and boating and ball and many other outdoor games.

"Children," said daddy, "the little red lizards and newts are having the best times these days. They adore the soft, marshy earth in the woods. They almost feel as if everything had been arranged all for them, and they love the green moss.

"Up on the mountain the red lizard and newts had settled themselves. They were feeling so energetic and wide awake that they thought they'd do something exceptionally nice. So they told a great many of their friends about this mountain of theirs and had invited them to join them and spend the summer there.

"Of course they wanted to make the other lizard families, who had consented to join their home, think as they did—that it was the very nicest place in the world.

"When the visitors arrived they said, 'Well, how do you like your new home?'

"Oh, we've never been so satisfied in our lives with any home! No other could possibly be so wonderful. It is absolutely perfect, and we are all so delighted. To celebrate your arrival, then, let's play cars. That is such fun, and we want to do something in honor of you."

"Naturally the newcomers were very much pleased that something was being done in their honor, and they all certainly did feel full of life and energy. That is rather unusual, too, for the lizards, as a rule, don't like to hurry too much. They prefer to take things slowly.

"But they did enjoy playing cars. Different bits of moss were the stations, and they'd all go along together and say:

"Puff, puff, puff, puff, puff, puff, choo, choo."

"Of course they didn't run any terrific express trains. They had plenty of stations and liked to stop often. Well, they played for a long, long time. When they were really tired out they decided they'd play cars every day, for the exercise made them feel splendid and they so enjoyed stopping and resting at the beautiful mossy stations."

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray. Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.
