FIXED LICENSE POLICY PROPOSED

Councilman Calkins Introduces Ordinance to Regulate Liquor Traffic.

POPULATION A BASIS

Change Would Allow One Retail Place to Every 2,500 and One Wholesale Place to Every 6,000 Inhabitants.

That the Common Council may more effectively regulate the sale of liquor to the public good, Councilman Leighton Calkins, at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, offered a supplement to the ordinance to license inns and taverns which if adopted will establish a fixed policy in the matter of granting such licenses. According to the plan suggested by Mr. Calkins, the number of both retail and wholesale licenses to be granted would be determined upon the population of the city.

He suggests one retail licensed place to every 2,500 of the population and one wholesale place to every 6,000 population, the increase to be regulated entirely by the growth in population, the census taken every five years to govern such action.

The supplement to the ordinance which was read last night for information, to be taken up at a future meeting for adoption, is as follows:

"A further supplement to an ordinance entitled, 'An Ordinance to License Inns and Taverns and to Regulate and Prohibit the Sale of Spirituous and Fermented Liquors,' approved February 10, 1912, as amended.

"The inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That, in order to enable the Common Council of the City of Plainfield more effectively to regulate the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors within said city as they deem most conducive to the public good, the number of licenses to sell spirituous or fermented liquors in quantities less than one quart to be granted under Section 4 and Section 5 of the ordinance to which this ordinance is a further supplement and to be in force at the same time within said city, shall hereafter be limited to one such license for each two thousand five hundred of population of said city; and the number of licenses to sell spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors in quantities of one quart or more, to be granted under Section 7 of the ordinance to which this ordinance is a further supplement and to be in force at the same time within said city, shall hereafter be limited to one such license of population of said city from time to time for the purposes of this ordinance, the population of the city stated in the report of the then last census, national or State as the case may be, shall be taken as conclusive.

"Section 2. That this ordinance shall take effect immediately."

In explaining his proposed change, Mr. Calkins addressed the Council as follows: "Plainfield has a policy with regard to liquor licenses by virtue of which the city enjoys a State-wide reputation. Its basic feature is its compromise character. It has now been accepted for a number of years by those who would much prefer that we have no saloons, because those who believe in high license have agreed that the number of licenses in the city shall be limited to a degree which is without parallel in high license communities. The State law prohibits a greater number than one for each 500 inhabitants; and according to the census of 1910 we have only one for every 2,500. This is not only high license, but highly restricted license. It enables us to maintain law and order throughout the city.

"This policy has the support of an overwhelming majority of our people and I do not believe that any

COUNCIL TRANSFERS CLARK'S LICENSE

Michael J. Devine Will Conduct Saloon for Balance of License Year.

Complying with the request of Mrs. Anna Mary Clark, widow of John C. Clark, former owner of the Clark saloon at Liberty and West Third streets, the Common Council at its adjourned meeting, last night, transferred the license to Michael J. Devine, the Liberty street barber, who is a relative by marriage of the Clark family. This action followed an executive session of the councilmen at which William Newcorn, as counsel for the Clark estate, was present.

In transferring the license to Mr. Devine, it was expressly stated that it carried with it no rights for a renewal after the present license year, indicating that the Council would be free as to future action in the matter. Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed had advised the members that they had the right to make such transfer for the balance of the license year.

No action was taken last night regarding the request of Peter Floersch, of the Queen City Hotel, for a change in the hours of opening and closing his bar, the matter being deferred. It seems to be the opinion, however, that no change will be made, as a majority of the liquor dealers appear to prefer the present hours.

LOCAL DELEGATION ATTENDED MEETING

Semi-Annual Fire Chiefs' Convention Held in Morristown Yesterday.

Fire Chief T. O. Doane and Councilmen Martin, Graves and Cose represented Plainfield at the semi-annual conference of the chiefs and executive members of the New Jersey fire departments which was held in Morristown yesterday. The local delegation made the trip by automobile returning home last night.

At the morning session Captain Albert C. Gasser, of Newark, superintendent of combustibles, was the principal speaker. Captain Gasser spoke on "Fire Prevention." After the session dinner was served in the United States Hotel. The rest of the afternoon was spent by the visiting firemen in sightseeing. The local representatives visited the interesting parts of Morristown and inspected the fire apparatus at that place.

They were shown the various equipment in the Morristown department by the firemen of that place. The department at that place is said to be the only completely motorized one in the State. Many of the delegates took advantage of the opportunity to visit various parts of the city in one motor apparatus which was turned over by the department for the use of the guests.

The conferences are more in the nature of social gatherings than business sessions and little routine business was transacted. The visiting chiefs took advantage of the opportunity to renew old acquaintances and to discuss topics of mutual interest.

FOR COLLEGE BENEFIT.

"Les Miserables" in motion pictures will be given at the Plainfield theatre, Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the local graduates of Wellsley College, the purpose being to raise funds to assist the college in rebuilding the structure destroyed on March 17 last. This greatest play by one of the world's greatest authors will doubtless attract capacity audiences. This play is presented by the best French actors.

GRANT RELIEF TO COMMITTEES

City Council Apportions $10,800 Pending Adoption of Annual Tax Budget.

LIBRARY MAKES A CUT

Netherwood Residents' Association Renew Appeal for Auto Fire Engine—Numerous Petitions Received.

Pending the adoption of the annual tax budget which carries with it the appropriations for the various city departments, the Common Council at its adjourned meeting, last night, passed resolutions offered by Mr. Blatz appropriating $3,000 for sewer, $7,500 for streets and $300 for the work of the Shade Tree Commission, which will carry these departments along until they get their regular appropriations.

Representatives of the Netherwood Residents' Association were at the meeting and presented a copy of a resolution requesting the Council to place a high pressure auto engine in the Netherwood section. This matter was referred to the fire committee.

Residents of West Third street, between Liberty street and Plainfield avenue, petitioned to have that thoroughfare permanently paved, and residents of the West End again urged the Council to give them relief from the expense of having cesspools cleaned, inasmuch as they do not have the benefits of sewers. A petition from William Jeffery and others asking that Monroe avenue be macadamized. Residents of Columbia and Leland avenues petitioned for sidewalks. These matters were referred to the proper committees.

The board of directors of the Public Library in a communication to the Council, stated that $11,500 would be needed for the coming year. This is a cut of $500 from last year's appropriation. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

S. C. Baird and others petitioned the Council for a light on Hillside avenue, between Watchung and Putnam avenues. The matter was referred. Upon motion of Mr. Calkins a new resolution was offered and adopted, providing for the sale of the $30,000 sewer bonds, in which a slight error in the original resolution was corrected so that all notices shall agree.

On motion of Mr. Hylan two lights were ordered placed on Stelle avenue and one light at George street and Geneva place. Mr. Hylan also reported that the New Jersey Central had given the city permission to erect lighting poles on its property as requested by the Public Service Corporation.

Mr. Blatz called up on third reading the sidewalk ordinance and it was adopted. Council then adjourned to go into executive session to consider the tax budget. Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed having advised that it must be ready for the May meeting.

The general committee in charge consisted of Mrs. John P. Stevens, Mrs. William A. Conner, Mrs. William C. Kinney, Mrs. Fred W. Yates and Miss Weber. The committee on decorations consisted of the associate members of which Mrs. Marion S. Ackerman was chairman. Sub-committees were in charge of the various booths.

CREDITORS TO COMPLETE WORK

Name Committee to Adjust Troubles With Contractors on High School Addition.

LOCAL MEN IN CHARGE TO ASCERTAIN COST

C. C. Randolph, W. A. Garrigues and C. E. Loizeaux Appointed to Confer With Board of Education and Consider Proposition.

The creditors of the P. J. Exner Company held a meeting at the High School, yesterday afternoon, and elected a committee consisting of C. C. Randolph, W. A. Garrigues and Charles E. Loizeaux to represent their interests in the settlement of the insolvent contracting company's affairs so far as they relate to the completion of the contract for the erection of the High School addition.

At the meeting tonight the Board of Education will receive an application from the committee to be allowed to complete the contract, and while no official action has yet been taken, it is probable that this application will be favorably received by the Board.

Since the failure of the contractor a week ago every effort has been made by the public school authorities to assist the local creditors by giving them all the information which can be gathered as to the physical and financial condition of the new building. The Board has, of course, no financial interest as they are protected from loss by a bond of the Globe Indemnity Company, and have besides reserved a large percentage of the value of the work done from their payments to the contractor. It has been felt, however, that if the creditors could be united and would undertake the work of completing the building, they would be able to reduce their losses very materially. With this in mind the records of the work have been thrown open to them by the school authorities.

The difficulties of bringing the creditors together have been considerable as they are numerous and scattered, and as further delay in getting the work started was out of the question it was necessary that if they were to act at all they should act promptly. But the generally harmonious result of yesterday's meeting, and the thoroughly responsible character of the committee selected to represent the creditors are taken today as an indication that the work will go forward from now on under the management of the local men.

RECOMMEND AN IMPROVED SYSTEM

Public Affairs Committee Suggests Changes in Collection of Garbage and Ashes.

PROPOSED TO DIVIDE CITY INTO DISTRICTS AND SELL PRIVILEGES TO HIGHEST BIDDER—APPROVED WAGONS ONE OF THE REGULATIONS.

Following a detailed report of the committee on public affairs, of which Councilman Richard A. Claybrook is chairman, as to its investigation of various systems for the collection and disposal of garbage and ashes, the Common Council at its adjourned meeting, last night, accepted the recommendations of the committee and adopted a resolution offered by Mr. Claybrook.

This resolution, which carried with it the recommendations of the committee, provides that the committee and Board of Health shall make a further investigation, securing necessary data, including costs, etc., for the proper regulation of the collection of garbage, as outlined, but that no contracts are to be made until same are reported to the Council. The resolution follows:

"Resolved, That, in accordance with the recommendations made by the special committee from the public affairs committee, and the Board of Health, the Board of Health be, and is, hereby authorized to secure all the necessary data, including costs, etc., for the proper regulation of the collection of garbage, as outlined in these recommendations. No contracts or agreements to be binding until same are reported to, and confirmed by, the Common Council.

"The recommendations of this special committee, which have been unanimously endorsed by the Public Affairs Committee and the Board of Health, are as follows:

"That the city be divided into districts or zones, that these be sold to either the highest bidder or that the license fee be made high enough to make some return to the city, and in any case the holder to be under bond for the proper performance of his contract; that all the wagons be of one type and protected with covers; that the horses shall be passed on by the S. P. C. A., and the drivers and assistants shall wear khaki clothes.

"That all householders shall keep a can for garbage, which must be drained before being put into the can, and a can or barrel for ashes, and a receptacle for rubbish and papers, the latter to be tied into bundles before being put in.

"That the city shall purchase three small portable incinerators to be rented to owners of dumps receiving permits for ashes and rubbish, and that the latter shall be immediately burned, and not dumped on the ground to prove unsightly or be blown away.

"Finally, as garbage, ash and rubbish collection is a sanitary measure, and in order that complaints may be properly investigated, rules, regulations and ordinances enforced, we recommend that the system be placed under the supervision of the Board of Health. This will necessitate an additional inspector whose time will largely be devoted to this work."

The report of the committee, prepared after exhaustive investigation, shows that information obtained from fifty-five cities shows that in twenty-one the method of dumping on the ground or in trenches, etc., is employed, while in thirteen cities garbage is fed to pigs and in four the incineration method is used and in eight there is the rendering or reduction system. Twelve cities have a municipal system, thirty-one handle it by contract, while six dispose of garbage by private method.

The report further sets forth that dumping into waters, used in the west, will doubtless be prohibited soon, that dumping on the ground is most wasteful, feeding to hogs is profitable only when conducted on a large scale and in a scientific manner, and that it naturally follows that the larger the community, the greater profit and the smaller the proportionate expense, for it is only under exceptional cases is it possible to make refuse a source of revenue.

The report of the committee further states: "Our fellow-townsmen, G. H. Frost, a prominent engineer and ex-member of the Common Council, very tersely says, 'If we were in England a refuse destructor would be located as near the centre of the locality to be served as possible. A high stone wall would surround the buildings and a tall chimney would accentuate the situation.' But would such a destructor be possible in our city? Plainfield is a community that will not permit within its borders what others allow, even if it does condone the present inefficient filthy system under which we are suffering. Spreading over such an extended area, it would be necessary, in order to have

DISCUSS TROLLEY EXTENSION PLANS

Boards of Trade Preparing for Hearing Before Public Utilities Commission April 30.

Representatives of the Boards of Trade of this city and South Plainfield, to the number of about twenty, together with William Newcorn, one of the attorneys for the local organization, who outlined the plan of action, met in the office of the secretary, Lamar VanSycle, yesterday afternoon, and discussed the proposed extension of the trolley from this city to South Plainfield. Unusual interest was manifested on the part of those present.

Another meeting will be held on Monday to select witnesses who will appear before the Public Utilities Commission, Thursday morning, April 30, at 10:30 o'clock, in the interest of the proposition. A number of local real estate men will also appear for the purpose of showing the necessity for the extension of the trolley. This being determined those who are interested in the plan will be prepared to suggest a route.

It was stated yesterday that on the authority of an engineer the extension could be built for $14,000 a mile, while the Public Service Corporation has stated that it would cost $101,700, which led Justice W. E. Smith, of South Plainfield, to remark, "I guess the company must include power-house in its estimate." Arrangements have also been made to have representatives of the Spicer plant at South Plainfield as well as the Board of Education of this city attend the hearing to further show the necessity of rapid transit. P. J. McDonough and Justice W. E. Smith were appointed a committee to get in touch with engineers and ascertain the exact cost of building the line. It was urged that everyone who is interested sign the coupons now appearing in the local newspapers, which will be presented to the Public Utilities Commission.

DEBATE HOLDS UP ORDERS FOR WAR

President and Cabinet Ready as Soon as Authorization is Given.

FLETCHER'S ORDERS

Admiral Told to Take Possession of Custom House if Ammunition Ship Arrives at Vera Cruz—Canal Can Soon Be Used in Emergency.

(By Telegraph to The Daily Press.) Washington, April 21.—That the Congress may delay the final passage of the resolution on the Mexican situation for several days was indicated this afternoon, when the Senate reconvened.

Senator Lodge began to discuss the Mexican situation as soon as the Senate opened. He said he thought the President was right to come to the Senate for advice, and there was considerable discussion as to the length of time it took after McKinley's Spanish War message to Congress, until the resolution calling for that conflict was passed, which was seven days. From the indications at 3:15 p. m., the discussion will last at least a couple of days.

Senator Lodge maintained that no declaration of war will follow the passage of the resolution, but no nation can afford to pass unnotified an insult to her flag and her uniform.

The resolution as redrafted and presented this afternoon was as follows: "In view of the facts presented by the President of the United States, in his address to the joint session, be it resolved that the President is justified in the employment of armed forces to enforce his demands for unequivocal amends for affronts and indignities, although the United States disclaims any hostility to the Mexican people, or any purpose to make war on Mexico."

Washington, April 21.—The first aggressive act of war was ordered very early this morning, when Admiral Fletcher was told to seize the custom house at Vera Cruz, if the German ship bringing ammunition and supplies to the Huerta government appeared off the harbor today. She had not arrived early this afternoon. Ten of the torpedo destroyers of the Florida which left Pensacola yesterday for Tampico, have been ordered to go to Vera Cruz instead.

Washington, April 21.—The only topic of discussion at the cabinet meeting today was the Mexican situation. The administration's program is now fully outlined and all that is needed is the passage of resolution by Congress. All members of the cabinet were present.

Colon, April 21.—Colonel Goethals said today that he could make the Panama Canal available for our warships in very short order, if necessary for them to pass through to reach the Pacific coast.

Texas City, Texas, April 21.—Colonel Benjamin Alvert, adjutant general of the second division, says that all the men stood a practice march well and only one per cent. were ill. Some had sore feet, but wouldn't stay in the hospitals. Every man wants to do his duty.

Mexico City, April 21.—There has been a general exodus of Americans here, and all the women and children will be out by tonight. The same is true at Vera Cruz.

Mexico City, April 21.—President Huerta said today: "The policy of the American government is particularly unfortunate at this time. The Mexican government is striving to prevent a condition of chaos in the Republic, but just at the time when we are looking to success we are threatened with international complication. Naturally, the patriotism of Mexico will not tolerate the sight of its government trampled in the dust, but we hope to prevent any marked violence developing from the resentment that our people will feel."

Washington, April 21.—A persistent rumor was abroad early today that Rear Admiral Fletcher has seized Vera Cruz to prevent the landing of two million rounds of ammunition said to be due here in a German ship. Secretary Daniel refused to deny or affirm the report.

Monterey, Cal., April 21.—"Three thousand troops were entrained here in less than ten hours and fifteen thousand more can be sent from this coast in quick order," so said a high officer in the Presidio, the largest army post here, today.

The Board of Health and Common Council, reported that the Board of Health was greatly incensed over the step that had been taken and refused to have anything to do with the investigation. The committee on its report then went on to say that they had investigated the matter along and had found one of the wells of the water company, from which the borough had been supplied with water, located upon an island formed by the contaminated water of Greenbrook.

There was a scant supply of water in the reservoir at the time of the investigation and its bottom was covered with green scum, the committee reported, and in conclusion they recommended that action be taken to clean the reservoir by using the water company from using the well as a source of water supply.

In proceeding the committee next reported that they had inspected the reservoir and had found it half way up the mountain in back of the pumping station at Sebring's Mills, along a public road poorly protected by a dilapidated board fence. They asserted that it would be an easy matter for any animal to find a watery grave therein and also that it was an attractive receptacle for miscreants to throw all manner of rubbish thereinto.

STYLISH RELIABLE

Clothes

That Make a Man Well Dressed

So many men make the mistake of judging clothes purely from a standpoint of value and overlook the very important item of fitting their persons and temperaments. We've given this phase of the matter a lot of deep study; our stocks are ready with clothes that fit a man's personality as well as his body.

Two ideas are particularly popular in Suits—the black and white stripe and the Tartan plaid—we recommend them to men who like to follow the dictates of style absolutely.

We have them at all prices, but particularly fine values at $20, $22.50 and $25

THE TANGO.

Tango parties have taken the country by storm. Everywhere by everybody is this dance now attempted. The dancing pump was dressy; it was also light, and therefore, not tiresome to the feet, and so the most practical dancing shoe. Now this dancing pump was found to be very slippery on highly polished dance floors and so was practically worthless in dancing the tango. However, the PACKARD people have overcome this feature by equipping the soles of the

with 3 rubber discs, thus eliminating the slipping, but still maintaining the light dressy evening pump for dancing.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Grand Council, Loyal Association, is meeting in the lodge room of Union Council, Westfield, today, for the purpose of electing officers and transacting such other business as may come before the council. At this session the supreme representatives elected by the subordinate lodges will be present for the first time by invitation so as to familiarize themselves with the work which will make them more efficient as representatives at the Supreme Council which is to be held in June. Thirty councils in the State will be represented at the meeting of the Grand Council. The holding of the Grand Council at Westfield comes as a reward of merit to the local council for the good work it has done in the past year and also to the insistent pleading of Grand Orator Morton, who is a member of the local council. Mayor H. W. Evans, who is a member of Union Council, welcomed the delegates and Grand Council officers at the opening session this morning and at the luncheon at Willett's Hotel, on North avenue, at noon. Arthur N. Pierson, the president of the Board of Trade, extended a welcome to them. For the accommodation of the delegates who came by way of the D. L. and W. Railroad, two of the members with their automobiles met them at Summit and conveyed them here. A reception committee met the delegates at the Central Railroad station and conducted them to the lodge room.

FIXED LICENSE POLICY

one could be elected to any office in the city if he openly stood for a reversal of it.

"The only trouble with this policy is that it is neither fixed nor determinate. By not being fixed I mean that it rests wholly on custom or precedent, and has not the support of any written law or declaration. By not being determinate I mean that it is not specific. For example, if eight saloons are enough for our present population, how many would be enough for a population of 100,000? Of course some would say that eight would still be quite enough; but that is from the angle of those who would prefer to have none, and from that angle there is no reason why we should have as many as eight. It must not be forgotten that the proper angle or viewpoint is compromise. We are trying to settle a vexed question so that all the people may be nearly satisfied, rather than that about one-half shall be entirely satisfied, and the other half wholly dissatisfied, and everybody stirred up each year by a controversy which convinces nobody and is harmful to the community. I therefore propose a plan which will make our policy both fixed and determinate.

"I suggest that it be made a fixed policy by putting it in the form of an ordinance. Of course it will be only an ordinance and can be repealed by other Councils. We cannot bind them. But this will be our declaration of belief and our valedictory to the city fathers who may succeed us; and will at least reduce to writing for their benefit the conclusions to which our study of local conditions have brought us.

"We shall make it a determinate or specific policy by making it automatic. I am convinced that it will always be in danger as a policy until we do this. Now there is only one way to make it automatic, and that is by frankly basing our limit on our population so that as the city grows the policy may continue undisturbed.

"With regard to the proposed ordinance, let me say it has not been hastily drawn, but after weeks of study and with the assistance of our corporation who has aided me in getting the form in which it ought to stand. The limit for saloons has been put at one for every 2,500 of inhabitants, which permits eight retailers on the city according to the last census. It could not be made one for every 3,000 of inhabitants as that would prevent renewals next year. An ordinance would not be the present time, which is that of a population we have as we are needed. Besides, an ordinance is drawn so as to permit one wholesale license a year; and I think this is a condition which may reasonably demand at the retail situation shall remain undisturbed until the 1st of 1915.

"I am entirely prepared, on the part of the people, to be kindly to the proposed limit in ordinance of one wholesale place every 6,000, which would permit other wholesale license next year. But I am convinced that this is justified by existing conditions. Liquor business is a legalized business under high license, and yet to all intents and purposes we have in Plainfield not that kind of a reasonable monopoly which is the aim and purpose of high license, but an absolute monopoly so far as the wholesale business is concerned. The law permits you to buy, but practically says that you shall do all your buying at one place whether you want to or not. I am satisfied that the present wholesale limit is unreasonable and therefore unjust because obnoxious to a large number of citizens. I have supported it hitherto by my vote, but reluctantly and only because our whole policy would be endangered by voting for any additional license so long as this policy remains unfix-ed by ordinance. In other words, you can't be guided by vague precedent, and safely make any exceptions. But if you will write out a rule which will work this year and next year and right along, then you are in a position to settle the wholesale question on its merits.

"One word in conclusion. The adoption of this ordinance does not mean that we have got to have one saloon for every 2,500 of inhabitants, or one wholesale place for every 6,000. It merely means that we may not have more than that. It means that we shall do away with a yearly agitation which is unnecessary and harmful and that we shall have a policy which will take care of itself. It means that the Council can start in to do business on January 1st instead of giving up a month or six weeks every year to the license question with meetings, petitions, hearings and misunderstandings. It means that only once in five years shall we be called upon to decide whether an additional license or two shall be granted, and if any are granted, the number will be fixed in advance automatically, and the increase at most will be only proportionate to the growth of the city.

"I ask for this plan the support of all who are willing, in the general interest, to make some concessions and to waive in part their individual preferences."

In answer to a question by Councilman C. C. Graves as to whether the change in the ordinance would continue to restrict licensed places to the business section, so, as he expressed it, "that people would have to walk from Westfield or Dunellen to Park avenue if they wanted a drink." Mr. Calkins said that the proposed supplement had nothing whatever to do with what is known as the Tyler "zone" ordinance.

RUNKLE WILL ARGUMENT IS BEGUN IN ORPHANS' COURT

Argument opened yesterday before Judge William P. Martin, in Orphans' Court, Newark, in the fight over the $2,000,000 estate of William Runkle, whose will is being contested by Harry G. Runkle, of this city.

Robert H. McCarter, representing William E. R. Smith, executor and chief beneficiary under the will, made a brief opening, in which he outlined what his argument would be. Argument on the other side was made by former Governor John W. Griggs. Mr. Griggs set forth that the mutilation of the original document, referring to the ripping off of the first page of the will, nullified the instrument because it was done after the will had been executed. He also held that the addition of Mr. Smith's name after another name had been erased, also invalidated the document.

This contention Mr. Griggs upheld by referring to the law which allows a testator to cancel any part of a will but forbids the addition of anything without republishing the will. Using only common sense, said Mr. Griggs, one could see that the tearing away of the first page invalidated the will. He also asserted that there was lack of proof as to whether Mr. Runkle made the changes before or after the will was executed.

Mr. Griggs quoted an authority as follows: "If, in a codicil to a will, there is no reference to any mutilations or additions to the will, the presumption of law is that they had been made after the codicil was drawn."

WILSON ON MEXICO.

President Wilson's message to Congress on the Mexican situation, in which he reviewed in detail the causes which led up to the necessity of the United States taking a hand in the matter, and which was printed exclusively in Plainfield in the Daily Press last night, is a great state document.

His summing up states the position of this country only as President Wilson knows how to do it. He expresses tersely what every red-blooded American has been saying about the Mexicans ever since Huerta murdered his predecessor, and shows that in sending the fleet and troops to Mexico this nation has no ulterior purpose.

The State Motor Vehicle Department gave local motorists a scare on Sunday, and they taught a well needed lesson. There has been too much running about without the formality of procuring licenses to drive cars, and the work of the inspectors in stopping every one entering town and arresting those lacking the necessary pasteboard permits will have the approval of every automobilist who has lived up to the spirit of the law.

The Netherwood Residents' Association, in their appeal to the City Council for a high pressure engine at the firehouse in that section of the city are thoroughly justified, but with the prospects of the tax rate soaring above $2.00, the city fathers may feel that the requested apparatus cannot be provided. It seems to us that the money saved on horse feed and care would pay the interest on the amount necessary to provide all of the city equipment with motors.

The contributed editorial for Saturday has been written by a comparative newcomer in Plainfield, but what he will say shows that he has made a close study of local affairs. It will deal with a phase of the consolidation proposition about which little has been said heretofore, but which is of vital importance to the people of both communities. It is short, but to the point.

If activity on the part of the local Board of Trade committee will accomplish anything, the effort to have the trolley extended to South Plainfield will bring results. The Plainfield men who are interested in the affair are giving much time to preparing their case, and will have strong arguments ready to present to the Public Utility Commission next week.

Plainfield does not want a reconstructed fire house for a city hall,
using walls of antique architecture.
What this city needs is a well built building, and one that will be a credit to the place, and the people would rather wait to see that than to have a temporary makeshift which would be little more than a waste of money.

The New York Telegram quotes Senator Martine as saying that he is glad the President has quit
"shillyshallying," and put some action in the Mexican situation. There are a lot of Plainfield people who believe "our Jim" has been doing a little "shillyshallying" himself, in failing to eject activity in the post office matter.

MALIMUS ONE OF STRONG MEN

II OPEN AIR SCHOOL CIRCUS

Very circus that comes to Plainfield has a strong man, but the show which is to be given here Monday,
May 4, for the benefit of the Open-Air School will have two strong men, and both will be local people. Maxi-mus, who has conducted a physical culture institute on Putnam avenue in this city for two years or more, during which time he has made many local friends, will be one of the features of the show, and the other man of might will be a well-known young society man, who has a large circle of friends who had no idea of the reserve power which he possesses.
Maximus, before settling in Plainfield, was on the professional stage, and has been seen in the local theatres, so that the merit and skill of the act which he is arranging especially for this show, in order to do his part to aid to raise funds for the local young people, can well be anticipated. These acts are only two of the many that will be provided by local participants, which will be announced from time to time.

But it is not only local acts upon which the show will depend for its attractions. The big canvas which will house the show on the lot on West Front street which has been donated for the occasion by John E.
Dunn, the owner, will be the one which regularly covers the Frank A.
Robbins Circus, and all of the splendid features of the well-known aggregation will appear as well as the many local acts. The Robbins circus has appeared regularly in Plainfield for many seasons, this being their thirty-fourth on the road. The trained elephants, and the $20,000 troupe of German stallions, which are two of the features of the show, are not only well known in the "white top" amusement world, but appear all winter in the best known vaudeville houses of the country. There are scores of men and women performers, in every known circus stunt,
which have gained for the Robbins circus a reputation second to none.
Tickets for the show are already on sale, being in the hands of the members of the school committee of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, and reserved seats can now be secured at the Daily Press office, the public sale having commenced yesterday, when there was a big demand. The boxes

EQUAL SUFFRAGE DESTROYS HOME

So Declared "Antis" Who Addressed Audience in Y. M.
C. A. Last Night.

WOULD DO MUCH HARM

Miss Lucy Price and John A. Matthews Present Their Views on "Votes for Women"—State Surfrage Leader Criticized.

Before a large and thoroughly appreciative audience opposed to the enfranchisement of women, Miss Lucy Price, of Cleveland, and former Assemblyman John A. Matthews, of Newark, presented arguments against women's suffrage at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. last night. The attendance was made up of both sexes, men being as prominent among the listeners as women. Both speakers kept their hearers interested from the beginning and told of numerous personal experiences they had encountered while making a close study of this current topic. Miss Price said in part:

"Suffrage is no longer a movement to secure equal rights for women and it is hard to know just what it stands for. We believe that Suffragettes have never been able to single out one good that has come from women's voting and we contend that suffrage will do more harm than good.
If women were enfranchised they would lose the non-partisan element which is so valuable to them at the present time. When they go before a legislative body now they are not queried concerning their party, and can present their pleas as a non-partisan. The destruction of this element would hamper woman's influence."

"All laws represent the domination of public opinion and we have the kind of laws circumstances demand.
Public opinion is born and bred in the homes of our nation and women have a great deal to do with the home. If women cast a ballot they must share in the work now being done by men and this would take them away from the home where they are most needed."

Mr. Matthews, who has been one of the most active workers for the "anti" faction in this State, said:
"In the meeting held last week in Cranford I spoke on the same platform with the head of the New Jersey Suffrage movement and she showed at that time that she had no more idea of what suffrage would mean to the nation than I have of what it would mean to Zuzaland. In answer to certain questions that were put to her by anti-suffrage workers, she declared that she was no walking encyclopedia and I contend that she would represent a very much abridged edition. I lost out in Cranford by a margin of eight votes when a ballot was taken for and against women suffrage, after the meeting, but I was speaking before an audience of Suffragettes. Woman suffrage is a foolish experiment with results far too serious to be tampered with.

"Socialism has entered suffragism and the men who are advocating the enfranchisement of the opposite sex are being led by undesirable women.
The movement was imported into this country from Europe and was grabbed up by a few men who had nothing better to occupy their time. The immigrant's first taste of American liberty is to hear the cry of suffrage leader for the ballot. There is not a suffrage platform in the State of New York that does not have Socialism and Feminism preached from it some night during the week and these elements are being used to spread un-American doctrines. Women can do their part in making future good citizens by attending to their home duties in a proper manner.

"The real cause of the spread of juvenile crime is the lack of proper home training and this is what the women should take charge of. The woman's work is the conservation of the home and the enfranchisement of women will do nothing but add to their burden. The Suffragettes claim that their balloting will take but twenty minutes. Men have been fighting for years against this twenty minute balloting. If women vote they must devote time to politics in order to be enlightened on what they ballot for.

"I have no objection to women
voting, but I do object to some women forcing their sisters to vote. It will do nothing but increase the cost of the electorate."
R. v. Frank Goodwin, of Westfield, acted as chairman of the meeting.

spectors Shinn and Sheed, Sunday, were arraigned in the city court, this morning, before Mayor Percy H. Stewart and all were released to appear

RECRUITING CORPS TO WAR STRENGTH

Several Vacancies in Field Hospital Offer Exceptional Opportunities.

The field hospital of the State which is stationed at the Elizabeth armory is recruiting to war strength, in view of the pending troubles in Mexico. There are fifteen vacancies to be filled. Applicants must be of good character, eighteen years of age or over and in excellent physical condition. This service is particularly attractive to young men as the opportunities are unusual for learning various duties of sanitary troops, including ordinary drills, litter and ambulance drills, caring for the wounded, thorough first-aid instructions, horsemanship and many other duties which have to do with patients in hospitals.

The field hospital is provided with 108 bed equipment, capable of 150 bed expansion, fully equipped for attending to patients in a medical and surgical way. The equipment for surgery is particularly good, including all the latest appliances. Men especially trained in pharmacy are very acceptable. Applicants should communicate with the Elizabeth armory or call "phone number 1328-Plainfield.

BERGEN NAYLOR INJURED IN RUNAWAY AT DUNELLEN

An automobile truck was the cause of an exciting runaway this morning, when a horse attached to a buggy, driven by Bergen Naylor, became frightened on West Front street, and made a wild dash in the direction of Dunellen. The rig was upset on North avenue, Dunellen, after running onto the sidewalk in front of Pennock's drug store. A bootblack stand standing on the walk in the vicinity was thrown over. While Mr. Taylor was thrown from the vehicle, he escaped with but a few slight injuries. The horse was caught in the vicinity of the Dunellen car barns. The wagon was considerably damaged, but the horse was injured but slightly.

cis Joseph was satisfactory today, according to semi-official information riod than usual. The imperial pa-

RECOMMEND NEW SYSTEM

efficient service, to place such a plant at a central point, and the offensive sights and odors would not be tolerated either from an aesthetic or real estate point of view. If placed at either end of the city (and if the old sewer grounds were not used), it would have to be outside our limits and in a more or less isolated place. This would make the haul so long that the cost would probably be prohibitive, especially when the fact is considered that curb collection—a system which prevails in most cities—would not be permitted in ours.

"The whole question of garbage collection and disposal is summed up by Selskar M. Gunn, G. S., managing editor of the 'American Journal of Public Health,' who says: 'My own feeling with regard to refuse collection and disposal is that it is unwise for a community to undertake municipal collection and disposal unless it has the advice of competent sanitary engineers on the matter.'

"The following cities have been personally visited and their several systems investigated by our health officer, Mr. Chandler, with the hope that we might find something practical to adopt for ourselves, but his report simply emphasizes all that has been previously said. The report is as follows:

"Montclair, of all the cities in the United States, with its eighty miles of streets and 25,000 population, comes nearer to Plainfield in comparison than any other, and the civic conditions and personnel are alike to both; therefore, when we find such a community spending $25,000 per year and still laboring under obsolete conditions, we cannot recommend until there is a more general agreement among sanitary engineers as to improved methods and cost, that our city should adopt a municipal collection of garbage.

"We do not believe, however, that our present system can be so improved and controlled that it will not be offensive, and the work done at less rates than at present. Everyone is familiar with the ramshackle leaky wagons, drawn by decrepit horses, that serve us at the present time, but few realize that these are run on a go-as-you-please method, that crosses and re-crosses all over the city, and engaged in by so many, that none can afford to better their equipment and put the work on a business basis unless protected by the city.

"We find that twenty-seven men are employed in collecting daily from 230 to 690 (according to the season) barrels of ashes, mixed with papers and rubbish; and that an additional twenty-seven, using thirty-four wagons, collect approximately 109 cans of garbage per day. As no boundary lines have been established, practically all of these wagons traverse the entire city.

"The ashes and rubbish are dumped at points under permit by the Board of Health, on private ground for filling purposes; the papers and dry rubbish are raked up and fired on the ground, in many cases bringing complaints from adjacent property owners, by reason of smoke and odor. The garbage is taken outside the city limits, used in a limited way to feed hogs and chickens and otherwise as fertilizer.

"In view of our findings, we make the following recommendations:

"That the city be divided into districts or zones, that these be sold to either the highest bidder or that the license fee be made high enough to make some return to the city, and in any case the holder to be under bond for the proper performance of his contract; that all the wagons be of one type and protected with covers; that the horses shall be passed on by the S. P. C. A., and the drivers and assistants shall wear khaki clothes.

"That all householders must keep a can for garbage, which must be drained before being put into the can and a can or barrel for ashes, and receptacle for rubbish and papers, the latter to be tied into bundles before being put in.

"That the city shall purchase three small portable incinerators to be rented to owners of dumps receiving permits for ashes and rubbish, and that the latter shall be immediately burned, and not dumped on the ground to prove unsightly or be blown away.

"Finally as the collection of garbage, ashes and rubbish is a sanitary measure and in order that complaints may be promptly investigated, rules regulations and ordinances enforced, we recommend that the system be placed under the supervision of the Board of Health. This will necessitate an additional inspector whose time will largely be devoted to this work."

PLAINFIELD KNIGHTS HOLD DOWN THE SEVENTH RUNG

Watching Council, Knight of Columbus pinners, who rolled in the Knights of Columbus Eastern Championships being run off on the White Elephant Alleys, in New York City, last week, are anxiously awaiting the final announcement of prize winners which will be made public April 28. The Castilian team continues to lead the five-man standing while the Plainfield team has earned seventh place, its score being 2,496. Bayley, No. 2, is in ninth place and Bayley, No. 1, holds down the thirteenth rung.

New Brunswick Knights will shoot on April 28 in the concluding series of the tournament which has attracted much interest among Eastern bowlers. The Plainfielders are practically assured of one of the numerous valuable prizes in the five-man event but have failed to place in the doubles and singles.

ROD AND REEL

Quite a few trout were taken from Sarah Green Brook, near Scotch Plains, last week. A large portion of that stream is being posted against the public, which should not be, as it was stocked by the State.

Our weather report was one day late, for which our fishermen friends appear thankful. We had predicted rain for Sunday, and everybody knows how near right we were. A few such rains as yesterday and it will put the trout streams out of business again.

Experts who have made a study of the pollution of New York Bay claim that none of it gets as far as Sandy Hook. That is good news, as the millions of gallons of pollution going into the Arthur Kill river and Staten Island Sound look very bad.

Pollution of the spring that supplies the trout pools at the State hatchery in Hackettstown, is said to have been responsible for the death of at least 40,000 big trout. The cause, having been located, will be stopped immediately by the State authorities. Forty thousand trout would have been an enormous amount a few years ago, but while it is to be regretted, the facilities at the hatchery will soon make up the amount.

Weakfish follow the butters up the coast and are expected about May 1 by the market fishermen. The butters are plentiful just at present.

It is now unlawful for any person to place, for the purpose of decaying water fowl to be killed, and wild rice or other grain on the waters of any bay or stream or on any feeding grounds where wild water fowl can be killed. Senator William Read, of Camden, introduced and passed the bill in the interest of conservation, as he knows from experience that such methods are unsportsmanlike and should be stopped. The Senator is a prominent gunner and knows the situation from experience. Then, to help the good cause along, Senator Read passed a bill, which is now a law, prohibiting any person of persons from drawing any seine under the ice for fish. In many of the waters of South Jersey the perch gather in schools of thousands under the ice, and fishermen, by an ingenious net arrangement, draw them out at a time when they are preparing to spawn. Still wishing to help the sportsmen, Senator Read introduced and passed a law that permits the hunters to again train their dogs prior to the hunting season, for which we all give many thanks.

CANNUCK CAPTURED FIRST PRIZE IN BOSTON GRIND

Boston, April 21.—Canadian runners, headed by James Duffy, of Hamilton, Ont., outfooted their American competitors in the eighteenth marathon run of the Boston Athletic Association yesterday. Duffy covered the twenty-five miles in 2:25.01. Two years ago M. J. Ryan, of New York established the course record of 2:21.18-1.5.

Trailing but fifteen seconds behind Duffy came Edward Fabre, of Montreal. More than three minutes elapsed before the first American, John M. Lordan, of Cambridge, reached the finish, with Walter Bell, of Montreal, coming up strong for fourth place. The rest of the prize winners were Americans.

INTERNATIONALS OPEN.

New York, April 21.—The season of the International Baseball League, which was opened today with games in four cities, is expected to develop some interesting doings before the umpires call their last "out" on the wind-up day at the end of September. In two cities of the circuit, Buffalo and Baltimore, the league is to have the opposition of the Federals. These are two of the strongest cities of the organization and the results of the invasion of the Federals will be watched with close interest. The International starts the season with very few changes since last year. The managerial roster remains unchanged, with the exception that Larry Schafly has relinquished the helm at Jersey City to become pilot for the Buffalo club in the Federal League. Rudy Hulswit has succeeded Schafly at Jersey City. In the inaugural festivities today the Toronto team plays at Providence, Baltimore entertains the Buffalo team, Montreal lines up at Jersey City and Rochester meets the Newark champions in Newark. The league schedule provides for a season of 154 games, with September 27 as the closing date.

WATCHUNG HUNT CLUB.

The mid-week run of the Watchung Hunt Club will be held tomorrow afternoon, the hounds meeting at the kennels at 2:30 o'clock.

CONSISTENT PINNING MARKS SERIES WON BY TEAM NO. 2

After taking the first two games in the Elks' Club tournament series rolled last night, on the club's alleys, the Campbell crew dropped the final match to the Waldorf aggregation by a count of 855 to 767. Campbell's men took the inaugural contest by a margin of forty-eight pins and the second by eighteen points.

Campbell and Waldorf set up the two double century counts of the evening when they recorded 206 and 236 respectively in the curtain setto. Consistent rolling featured the evening of competition all of the ten men hitting the pins in a creditable fashion for their respective combinations.

WESTFIELD HIGH SCHOOL NINE SOUNDLY SPANKED

Westfield High School opened its baseball season Saturday afternoon with a defeat at the hands of the Westfield Cubs in a battle waged on Recreation Park by a count of 14 to 2. The Westfielders put up an inferior article of baseball and the Cubs had little trouble in clouting the ball and circling the cushions whenever they chose.

The lineup:

Cubs—Green, 1b; Valteau, ss; Douglass, 2b; Young, 3b; Himmelberger, rf; Worth, c; Dalton, lf; Hunt, c; Cowperthwaite, p.

Westfield H. S.—Rhab, lf; Dr. Gilmartin, 2b; W. Gilmartin, ss; Crutenden, p; Marengi, c; Bourne, cf; Underwood, rf; Taylor, 1b; Davis, 3b; Pearsall, p.

Score by innings:

Batteries—Cowperthwaite, Hunt and Worth; Crutenden, Pearsall, Marengi and Bourne. Umpire—Ketcham.

WILL TRY NOTABLE FEAT.

Buster Ellonsky, the 205-pound long distance swimmer of New London, Conn., announces that he will attempt to swim ten miles next summer with his hands and feet chained and carrying a man strapped to his back whose weight will exceed 200 pounds. Ellonsky, perhaps the greatest freak in the history of aquatics, while manacled himself tugged a boat with seven passengers on board for eight miles last fall, so his statement may be serious though it sounds amusing. Ellonsky is 20 years old.

MONSTER GOLF EVENT.

Atlantic City, April 21.—Nearly 150 players will tee off in the qualification rounds at the annual spring tournament of the Atlantic City Country Club here Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Five sixteens will draw this year instead of six, as in former years. The first and second rounds start off on the championship race Friday and the last two Saturday. Special events are listed for the defeated eights and a handicap will be contested on Saturday.

ELKS' CLUB TOURNEY.

The Cose and Nash teams will line up against each other in the series scheduled in the Elks' Club Bowling Tournament on the club's alleys tonight.

"SPORTDOM TIPS"

By letting an opponent score a victory by a margin of twenty runs the Leal School baseball team did the first really remarkable stunt of the season in local schoolboy circles Saturday afternoon. The private school team's mound ornament was pounded to the four corners of the lot and had it not been for the mutual agreement reached between the managers in the stretch stanza the contest might have still been going. The "wise ones" got together and agreed on a curtailment after a dozen or more balls had been lost in the tall timbers by the Montclair youths.

In the opinion of Skillman, who twirled for the Monroe Avenue clan against the Democrats Saturday afternoon, Joe Morley, the "Home-Rulers" little catcher, is as good as they come in these parts. Several years ago Skillman was one of the best semi-pro heavies in this State and while piling up a reputation for himself he threw scores of backstops and has had a good opportunity to give the best of them the "once over." He declares that Morley has the makings of a big leaguer and was complimentary in the remarks he passed for the opposing side's hurler after the contest. The Democratic youth covered himself with all kinds of glory, handling the base runners in a way that spread terror in the Monroe camp and held the shoots of the silt artist in a way that would make a veteran envious. Keep one good eye on this promising young recruit until he reaches his majority.

Plainfield High School appears to have cultivated a liking for close contests. The one on Parker Field Friday with Central High School was a thriller from start to finish, and the one at Somerville Saturday afternoon resulted in a similar situation, the Somerset county ballists winning in twelve innings by a count of 3 to 2. It seems to be the old case of either good or bad. Friday Plainfield was in fine fettle and won, but Saturday the team appeared to have a decided off day and the Somervillians were practically handed the encounter.

Now that all of the schools have had their winning streaks bottled up by an opponent we will not have to look forward to any unblemished records this spring. North Plainfield, Plainfield and Leis have all met the toboggan at least once. Let's hope they don't start sliding.

Haven't heard anything regarding the organization of a Plainfield team for sometime past. Where are all those magnates who were going to establish baseball on a firm basis hereabouts at the close of last season? There's plenty of players but no manager running loose.

Giving the Public Service aggregation the "once over" we note several new faces wearing the gas fumed suits. It's going to be a big season for the Public Service team on the diamond.

Chicago, Ill., April 21.—A two days' joy ride across northern Illinois, with frequent stops at wayside inns, brought young Raymond Harrison into court today to stand trial on a charge of being responsible for the death of seventeen-year-old Marjorie Chauncey. Harrison and the girl were companions on the automobile trip, which ended when Miss Chauncey took a fatal dose of mercury. Before she died in the Chicago hospital the girl is alleged to have said that she took the poison on a dare from her companion. Both Harrison and the victim of the tragedy belonged to respectable families residing on the South Side.

COPENHAVEN PLANS TO SUE THE COUNTY

Young Man Arrested in Naylor Case Retains Counsel to Start Legal Action.

Suit for damages against Union county for false imprisonment is threatened by Thomas Copenhaven, one of the young men arrested in connection with the disappearance of Miss Ruth Naylor on April 2. He was arrested in New York and detained until April 17 in the Tombs, although the girl had been found on April 7, and in a statement exonerated him of all blame for her absence. The New York authorities were apprised of this fact and were requested to release Copenhaven, but declined to do so until a letter directing his release was received from Prosecutor Stein. This was not received by the proper official until last Thursday, a week and two days after the girl had cleared the prisoner.

Immediately upon his release he wired John Naylor, the girl's father, of 322 Lee place, asking a settlement, and if it was refused an action at law would be brought to recover. When it was learned, however, that Mr. Naylor had accompanied Chief Klei to the Tombs and pointed in the request to liberate Copenhaven, it was indicated that he had done his part and therefore was not liable. The young man has retained counsel to look after his interests in the case, and if his threats are made good the suit will be brought.

MARTINE EXPLAINS STAND ON REPEAL

Presents New Jersey's Petition Asking Senate to Uphold Free Tolls Act.

In presenting a New Jersey petition protesting against the repeal of the exemption clause of the Canal act, United States Senator J. E. Martine made statements today explaining why he differs with the President on this question. Senator Martine's address to the Senate follows: "I desire to preface the presentation of this petition with the statement that I am opposed to the bill to repeal the so-called Panama Canal tolls and should it be my privilege to be present when the vote comes I shall so declare myself in my vote. "With no spirit of gloating or exultation, I have in my hand a petition, that is most numerous signed, from the capitol of my State, protesting against the passage of the repeal bill.

"I want to say that I am with the President. I believe him to be a patriot and a statesman, but on the question of the Panama Canal tolls my conscience and my judgment lead me to say nay. I do this in no sense or desire to be spectacular but because the dictates of my judgment bid me.

"I believe that the welfare of the country demands the repeal exemption. I believe that the great preponderance of public sentiment in the United States protests against it. I want to be with the President, but I will only vote with the President or any other man on this or any other theme when conscience and heart bid me.

"I do not believe, I have too much faith in the President of the United States to believe that he desires me or any other man to be with him without heart and without conscience."

FAVOR INCREASE IN RETAIL LICENSE FEE

Councilmen Said to Be Considering Plans to Raise it From $1,200 to $1,500.

That some of the members of the Common Council favor increasing the retail liquor license fee from $1,200 to $1,500 became known today, following a general discussion of the plan proposed by Councilman Leighton Calkins to fix the policy of that body in granting licenses in the future. The members who favor the increase say that if the policy of the Council is going to be to restrict licensed places to the business section and to the present number, they believe that the holders of such licenses should be willing to pay a higher fee, for, as they express it, they are enjoying a monopoly.

It was learned today that one of the members of the Council had planned to introduce a resolution last night, increasing the license fee, but decided at the last moment to hold it up for the present. In view of the fact that the tax rate for the coming year will be high, the idea of increasing the license fee would be a means of securing a little more money for city purposes.

The councilmanic fire committee would like to grant the request of the Netherwood Residents' Association who ask for an automobile fire engine in that section, but at present cannot see its way clear to provide for such an expense in view of the increased demands being made by other departments.

AN ANNIVERSARY SURPRISE. Mr. and Mrs. John Traynor, of East Second street, were given a surprise by twenty friends who called unexpectedly at their home, last night, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. Tomorrow a five reel feature, "Germinal," or "The of Labor," will be presented.

Washington, April 21.—The president's plans for the immediate blockade and seizure of Mexican gulf ports were held up for a time and the Washington administration greatly embarrassed as the result of strong opposition in congress to the resolution in support of the president's program. The house, after a long wrangle in which the president's move against Huerta was bitterly attacked, voted, 337 to 37, that the president "is justified in the employment of armed forces against Huerta." Five members of the president's own party voted against the resolution.

This unexpected opposition of congress was a blow to the administration. It has been accepted as evidence of a lack of enthusiasm over the president's program, but chiefly as an expression of dissatisfaction with his previous policy in Mexico. The present embarrassing situation was being contrasted here with the spontaneous and unanimous support given by congress to President McKinley when he called for support just before the Spanish war.

When the hitch occurred in congress plans were under way for the dispatch of orders to the American war vessel in Mexican waters to close in on the ports of Vera Cruz and Tampico, seize them and establish a blockade.

Orders also were waiting to be sent to the army along the Mexican border, especially at Guaymas, to prepare itself for embarkation to the Mexican gulf ports. The secretary of war and the secretary of the navy, Major General Wood, chief of staff of the army and most of the bureau chiefs from the army and war departments had gathered at the White House with their maps and plans ready to obtain the president's approval for the orders which were to inaugurate the military operations.

The opposition in congress came like a dash of ice water on the gathering at the White House, and when the conference adjourned it was with the understanding that no orders would be issued by either the war or navy department until the situation on Capitol Hill had cleared. The president and all his advisers were plainly worried over the opposition that had developed. They feared that it would immediately be accepted by a large part of the Mexican people as justification for the statement that the president lacked the support of the country in the campaign that he has undertaken against Huerta.

Cause of Dissension. The resolution which stirred up so much opposition and which was passed by the house was as follows:

Resolved, by the senate and house of representatives in congress assembled, that the president of the United States is justified in the employment of the armed forces of the United States of America to enforce demands made upon Victoriano Huerta for unequivocal amendments to the government of the United States for affairs and industries committed against his government by General Huerta and his representatives.

Two points of bitterness immediately developed. Republicans objected to the word "justified" because it said it would commit them to an endorsement against their judgment of the president's entire Mexican policy. They insisted upon the substitution of the word "authorized." Other members of congress, including some Democrats refused to consent to the use of Huerta's name in the resolution and declared that the resolution was too personal and represented a step in the president's campaign against the Mexican dictator. They insisted upon the substitution of some more general terms, such as "federalists."

Eliminate Huerta's Name. While the house was wrangling over the resolution in support of the president, the senate committee on foreign relations was having an equally inharmonious meeting behind closed doors. In fact, at the first meeting of the committee, which lasted two hours, it was practically determined to amend the resolution as drafted by the administration and reported to the house.

Every member of the committee drew a draft of a resolution himself, and in each case it was said the name of Huerta was eliminated and the resolution was made broader so as to refer to the Mexican federalists. Members of the committee argued that in the original resolution President Wilson had singled Huerta out as an individual. They said that as an individual Huerta had already done all he could to make amends for the incident at Tampico, having released the Americans, apologized, and arrested the officer who caused the arrest of the Americans. But now it was proposed to make Huerta as an individual undertake to do something which he could only do as the representative of a government of some kind in Mexico.

WILSON READING MESSAGE

President Asking Congress to Sustain His Action.

Every seat in the house was occupied when Chairman Flood arose to report the resolution from the committee on foreign affairs. Mr. Underwood and the other Democratic leaders gathered about Representative Flood. The situation was tense, and there was every indication that a spirited fight was brewing.

Mr. Flood was wildly applauded by Democrats as he sent the resolution to the desk to be read. Republican Leader Mann arose and inquired: "What proposition do you propose to make for debate on this measure?"

Underwood's Reply. Before Chairman Flood could reply Leader Underwood jumped to his feet and took command of the administration forces. "I shall not smile," Underwood began a legislative battle smilingly and in the best of good humor. On this occasion he was grave in demeanor and cautious in speech.

"It is the desire of the Democratic side of the house to put this resolution through as speedily as possible in order that it may become a law tonight," said Mr. Underwood, emphasizing every word. "We are willing to allow a reasonable length of time for debate. How much time will you require?"

"I understand that the committee on rules has prepared a rule to be used, if necessary," returned Mr. Mann.

The Republican leader's jaws clicked as Mr. Underwood informed him that a "gag" had been devised and would be applied if the Republicans tried to obstruct.

Democrats Applaud. "I will remind the gentleman that we are facing a condition such as has always impelled the legislative branch of the government to sustain the chief executive of the nation," replied Mr. Underwood gravely.

Mr. Underwood was enthusiastically applauded by the Democratic side continuing, Mr. Underwood said: "I would not insist upon the immediate passage of this resolution were it not for the fact that the president himself has said that it is of the utmost importance to the nation that it should be put through at once."

STATE BOARD TO MEET. The State Board for the Equalization of Taxes will sit at the Court house in Elizabeth tomorrow to try to settle upon a plan for the Union and Middlesex County Boards.

ASSOCIATION COLLECTS $100. Reports submitted at the monthly meeting of the Business Men's Credit Association, held last night, show that $400 has been collected from delinquents since the last session. Routine business occupied the time of the association and a large accumulation of this was disposed of during the evening.

NEW FIRE BADGES. Mayor Percy H. Stewart and the members of the councilmanic fire committee have received fire badges of a new design. They are in the form of a shield, bearing the wearer's initial or office. The distribution is customary and gives the officials all the privileges of the fire departments in this and other cities.

PLAYER-PIANOS

A Very Rare Opportunity

Twenty-five of our own player-pianos that sell year in year out in large numbers, are now to be disposed of at greatly lowered prices.

They have been used for demonstration purposes in the regular course of our piano business. This prevents us from selling them as new instruments, but makes no difference in their tone or durability.

Artists who play in public prefer pianos that have been played—"become magnetized," as one artist put it.

It is a most unusual thing to be able to buy a Lindeman player-piano, or a Lindeman, Emerson or a Knabe-Angelus, at a saving; for these are not nameless waifs, made for advertising purposes, and which give but a little music, and mighty thin music at that.

They are Famous Old Pianos and the ANGELUS factory has all it can do to supply the demand for those to be fitted with this first and finest of all piano-players.

You will realize the largeness of this opportunity when you see the instruments and hear them—and not before.

Kindly note—Full details as to regular prices, terms, and whatever you desire information upon, will be given in the Piano Salons.

The Instruments

To be sold at prices fixed according to condition.

LINDEMAN PLAYER-PIANO, 3 models to choose from, $325, $340, $360, $365, $415, $445.

LINDEMAN-ANGELUS, one model, $525.

EMERSON-ANGELUS, one model, $550.

EMERSON-ANGELUS, one model, $575, $595.

KNABE-AMPICO Player, 1 model, $765.

KNABE-ANGELUS, Grand, one model, $1,375.

A little money down and a small payment each month will enable you to become the happy owner of one of these player-pianos tomorrow.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

7999

The woman who can handle a needle with any skill whatever need not worry over her limited dress allowance; she may have several frocks at the cost of one purchased ready made.

Materials are attractive and not expensive. The silks and novelty fabrics, crepes, voiles or tussahs may all be used for the fascinating one-piece dresses, which still continue popular.

Voile is perhaps one of the most sensible fabrics for the utility frock, especially in the dark colors. No. 7999 would be most effective made up in a dark blue voile with a tiny colored flower sprinkled over the surface. By way of trimming a design worked out in soutache braid on collar and cuffs would be smart and all sufficient. If desired a softly draped sash the color of the flower or in plain blue might be added to make it a bit more dressy.

This dress may be made in size 36 with 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. The pattern is cut in 6 sizes; 34 to 44.

This Is a Perfect Pattern. Be sure to state right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions.

It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15 cents in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney troubles, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy; full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

The STORY of WAITSTILL BAXTER

BY KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

CHAPTER VI. "What dreams may come."

UPPER was over and the work done at last. The dishes washed, the beans put in soak, the hens shut up for the night, the milk strained and carried down cellar. Patty went up to her little room with the one window and the slanting walls, and Waitstill followed and said good night. Her father put out the lights, locked the doors and came up the creaking stairs. There was never any talk between the sisters before going to bed, save on nights when their father was late at the store, usually on Saturdays only, for the good talkers of the village, as well as the gossips and loafers, preferred any other place to swap stories than the bleak atmosphere provided by old Foxy at his place of business.

Patty could think in the dark. Her healthy young body lying not uncomfortably on the bed of corn husks, and the patchwork comforter drawn up under her chin, she could think, but for the first time she could not tell her thoughts to Waitstill. She had a secret, a dazzling secret, just like Ellen Wilson and some of the other girls who were several years older. Her afternoon's experience loomed as large in her innocent mind as if it had been an elopement.

"I hope I'm not engaged to be married to him, even if he did"—The sentence was too tremendous to be finished even in thought. "I don't think I can be. Men must surely say something and not take it for granted you are in love with them and want to marry them. It is what they say when they ask that I should like, much better than being married, when I'm only just past seventeen. I wish Mark was a little different. I don't like his careless ways! He admires me, I can tell that by the way he looks, but he admires himself just as much and expects me to do the same. Still, I suppose none of them are perfect, and girls have to forgive lots of little things when they are engaged. Mother must have forgiven a good many things when she took father. Any way, Mark is going away for a month on business, so I shan't have to make up my mind just yet!" Here sleep descended upon the slightly puzzled, but on the whole delightfully complacent little creature, bringing her most alluring and trustworthy dreams.

The dear innocent had indeed no need of haste. Young Mr. Marquis de Lafayette Wilson—Mark for short—was not in the least a gay deceiver or ruthless breaker of hearts, and so far as known no scalps of village beauties were hung to his belt. He was a likable, light weight young chap, as indolent and pleasure loving as the strict customs of the community would permit, and a kiss, in his mind, most certainly never would lead to the altar, else he had already been many times a bridegroom. Miss Patience Baxter's maiden meditations and uncertainties and perplexities, therefore, were decidedly premature. She was a natural born, unconsciously artistic, highly expert and finished coquette. She was all this at seventeen, and Mark at twenty-four was by no means a match for her in this field of effort yet. But sometimes in getting her victim into the net the coquette loses her balance and falls in herself. There wasn't a bit of harm in Marquis de Lafayette, but he was extremely agile in keeping out of nets.

Waitstill was restless, too, that night, although she could not have told the reason. She opened her window at the back of the house and leaned out. The evening was mild, with a soft wind blowing. She could hear the full brook dashing through the edge of the wood lot and even the "kerchug" of an occasional bullfrog. There were great misty stars in the sky, but no moon. There was no light in Aunt Abby Cole's kitchen, but a faint glimmer shone through the windows of Uncle Bart's joiner's shop, showing that the old man was either having an hour of peaceful contemplation with no companion but his pipe or that there might be a little group of privileged visitors, headed by Jed Morrill, busily discussing the affairs of the nation.

Waitstill felt troubled and anxious tonight, brushed by the little daily torments that lessened her courage but never wholly destroyed it. Any one might have been puzzled, perhaps, to account for her. He might fantastically picture her as making herself out of her ancestors, using a free hand, picking and choosing what she liked best, with due care for the effect of combinations; selecting here and there and modifying, if advisable, a trait of Grandpa or Grandma Foxwell, of Great Uncle or Great Aunt Baxter; borrowing qualities lavishly from her own gentle born and gently bred mother and carefully avoiding her respected father's stock, except perhaps to take a dash of his pluck and an ounce of his persistence. Jed Morrill remarked of Deacon Baxter once, "When Old Foxy wants anything he'll wait till he'll freeze over afore he'll give it up." Waitstill had her father's firm chin, but there the likeness ended. The proud curve of her nostrils, the clear, well opened eye with its deep fringe of lashes, the earnest mouth, all these came from the mother who was little more than a dim memory.

Waitstill disdained any vague, dreary, colorless theory of life and its meaning. She had joined the church at fifteen, more or less because other girls did and the parson had persuaded her, but out of her hard life she had somehow framed a courageous philosophy that kept her erect and uncrushed, no matter how great her difficulties. She had no idea of bringing a poor, weak, dragged soul to her Maker at the last day, saying, "Here is all I have managed to save out of what you gave me!"

Patty slept sweetly on the other side of the partition, the contemplation of her twopenny triumphs bringing a smile to her childish lips, but even so a good heart was there (still perhaps in the process of making), a quick wit, ready sympathy, natural charm; plenty, indeed, for the stronger sister to cherish, protect and hold precious, as she did with all her mind and soul.

There had always been a passionate loyalty in Waitstill's affection, wherever it had been bestowed. Uncle Bart delighted in telling an instance of it that occurred when she was a child of five. Mame had just separated amicably from her mother, Massachusetts, and become an independent state. It was in the middle of March, but there was no snow on the ground and the village boys had built a bonfire on a plot of land near Uncle Bart's joiner's shop. There was a large gathering in celebration of the historic event and Waitstill crept down the hill with her homemade rag doll in her arms. She stood on the outskirts of the crowd, a silent, absorbed little figure clad in a shabby woollen coat, with a blue knit hood framing her rosy face. Deborah, her beloved, her only doll, was tightly clasped in her arms, and Debby, like her parent, had few pleasures and must not be denied so great a one as this. Suddenly one of the thoughtless young scamps in the group, wishing to create a new sensation and add to the general excitement, caught the doll from the child's arms and running forward with a wild warwhoop, flung it into the flames. She gave a scream of anguish and without giving any warning of her intentions, probably without realizing them herself, she dashed through the little crowd into the bonfire and snatched her cherished offspring from the burning pile. The whole thing was over in the twinkling of an eye, for Uncle Bart was as quick as the child and dragged her out of the imminent danger with no worse harm done than a good scorching.

He led the little creature up the hill to explain matters and protect her from a scolding. She still held the doll against her heaving breast, saying, between the sobs: "I couldn't let my Debby burn up! I couldn't, Uncle Bart, she's got nobody but me! In my dream she scorched so much I can't wear it! You'll tell father how it was, Uncle Bart, won't you?"

Debby bore the marks of her adventure longer than her owner, for she had been longer in the fire, but stained and defaced as she was, she was never replaced and remained the only doll of Waitstill's childhood. At this very moment she lay softly and safely in a bureau drawer ready to be lifted out, some time, Waitstill fancied, and shown tenderly to Patty's children. Of her own possible children she never thought. There was but one man in the world who could ever be the father of them, and she was separated from him by every obstacle that could divide two human beings.

Village "aunts" and "uncles" were elected to that relationship by the common consent of the community, their fitness being established by great age, by decided individuality or eccentricity of character, by uncommon loquaciousness or by the possession of an abundant wit and humor. There was no formality about the thing. Certain women were always called "Aunt Susie," or "Aunt Hitty," or what not, while certain men were distinguished as "Uncle Rish," or "Uncle Pel," without previous arrangement or the consent of the high contracting parties.

Such a couple were Cephas Cole's father and mother, Aunt Abby and Uncle Bart. Bartholomew Cole's trade was that of a joiner. As for Aunt Abby's, it can only be said that she made all trades her own by sovereign right of investigation, and what she did not know about her neighbor's occupations was unlikely to be discovered on this side of Jordan. One of the villagers declared that Aunt Abby and her neighbor, Mrs. Abel Day, had argued for an hour before they could make a bargain about the method of disseminating a certain important piece of news, theirs by exclusive right of discovery and prior possession. Mrs. Day offered to give Mrs. Cole the privilege of Saco hill and Aunt Betty Jack's, she herself to take Guide Board and Town House hills. Aunt Abby quickly proved the injustice of this decision, saying that there were twice as many families living in Mrs. Day's chosen territory as there were in that allotted to her, so the river road to Milliken's mills was grudgingly awarded to Aunt Abby by way of compromise, and the ladies started on what was a tour of mercy in those days—the furnishing of a subject of discussion for long, quiet evenings.

Uncle Bart's joiner's shop was at the foot of Guide Board hill on the Riverboro side of the bridge, and it was the pleasantest spot in the whole village. The shop itself had a cheery look, with its weather stained shingles, its small square windows and its hospitable door, half as big as the front side of the building. The step was an old millstone too worn for active service, and the piles of chips and shavings on each side of it had been there for so many years that sweet williams, clove pinks and purple phlox were growing in among them in the most irresponsible fashion, while a morning glory vine had crept up and curled around a long handled rake that had been standing against the front of the house since early spring. There was an air of cozy and amiable disorder about the place that would have invited friendly confabulation even had not Uncle Bart's white head, honest, ruddy face and smiling welcome coaxed you in before you were aware. A fine Nothed apple tree shaded the side windows, and underneath it reposed all summer a bright blue sleigh, for Uncle Bart always described himself as being "plugged for shed room" and kept things as he liked at the shop, having a "pison neat" wife who did exactly the opposite at his house.

The seat of the sleigh was all white now with scattered fruit blossoms, and one of Waitstill's earliest remembrances was of going downhill with "A shop or a barn has saved many a man's life and reason."

Patty toddling at her side, of Uncle Bart's lifting them into the sleigh and permitting them to sit there and eat the ripe red apples that had fallen from the tree. Uncle Bart's son, Cephas (Patty's secret adorer), was a painter by trade and kept his pots and cans and brushes in a little outhouse at the back, while Uncle Bart himself stood every day behind his long joiner's bench almost knee deep in shavings. How the children loved to play with the white, satiny rings, making them into necklaces, hanging them to their ears and weaving them into wreaths. Wonderful houses could always be built in the corner of the shop out of the little odds and ends and "nubbins" of white pine, and Uncle Bart was ever ready to cut or saw a special piece needed for some great purpose.

The sound of the plane was sweet music in the old joiner's ears. "I don't hardly know how I'd 'a' made out if I'd had to work in a mill," he said confidentially to Cephas. "The noise of a saw goin' all day, coupled with your mother's tongue mornin' an' evenin', would 'a' been too much for my weak head. I'm a quiet man, Cephas, a man that needs a peaceful shop where he can get away from the comforts of home now and then without shirkin' his duty nor causin' gossip. If you should ever marry, Cephas—which don't look to me likely without you pick out a different girl—I'd advise you not to keep your stock o' paints in the barn or the shed, for it's altogether too handy to the house and the women folks. Take my advice and have a place to yourself, even if it's a small one. A shop or a barn has saved many a man's life and reason, Cephas, for it's a sign o' a woman's nature to have you underfoot in the house without hectorin' you. Choose a girl same 's you would a horse that you want to hitch up into a span; 't ain't every two that'll stan' together without kickin'." When you get the right girl keep out of her way, considerable an' there'll be less wear an' tear."

INDIANA REPUBLICANS MEET IN CONVENTION

Daily Sessions Will Be Held at Indianapolis Until Friday.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 21.—That the spirit of hope and confidence again animates the breasts of the Republicans of Indiana was indicated by the display of enthusiasm among the party workers who gathered here in large numbers today in readiness for the State convention.

The convention will hold its sessions in Tomlinson Hall, beginning tomorrow and continuing over Thursday. The program has been arranged with a view to reviving the old-time enthusiasm among the rank and file of the party.

The proceedings tomorrow will partake largely of the nature of a rally, the real business of the convention being left until the concluding day. At the opening session the principal address will be delivered by William A. Prendergast, of New York. Mr. Prendergast was one of the founders of the Progressive party and made the speech placing Theodore Roosevelt in nomination for the Presidency at the Chicago convention in 1912.

The convention will nominate candidates for United States senator and for all State officers, with the exception of governor and lieutenant governor. There are several aspirants in the field for nomination to run against Senator Benjamin F. Shively, who has been renominated on the Democratic ticket.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ISSUES DIGEST OF N. J. LIQUOR LAWS

"Laymen's Guide to the Liquor Laws of New Jersey" is the title of a pamphlet issued by the Anti-Saloon League of New Jersey and compiled by Samuel Wilson, assistant superintendent of the league.

The publication contains twenty-seven pages of solid reading matter. Information is classified for the convenience of citizens generally, of persons wishing to complain of violations, of lawyers and of the saloon-keepers.

"All patriotic citizens are agreed that the very general violation of laws by men engaged in the traffic in alcoholic beverages, and the open indifference of many officials in the cities is a menace to our civil institutions," says Mr. Wilson in his foreword.

"Good government clubs, civic leagues, law and order societies, temperance organizations and patriotic citizens have been deterred from prosecuting these law-breakers through lack of understanding of the complicated network of statutes and decisions relating to the liquor traffic, and there is a widespread demand for a digest unburdened by legal terms that will be a safe guide and instructor for laymen in their struggle for civic righteousness."

SPRING FIESTA IN TEXAS.

San Antonio, Texas, April 21.—The seventy-eighth anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, which resulted in the wresting of Texas and all the vast territory westward to California from the Mexicans, was celebrated in San Antonio today. ROME OBSERVES BIRTHDAY.

Rome, April 21.—Rome kept a holiday today in celebration of the 2667th Anniversary of the founding of the city. Although the year of the foundation of the city, by Romulus, is officially recognized as 3961 of the Julian period, or 753 B. C., recent archaeological discoveries indicate that it should be moved back many centuries.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and abundant.—Adv.
