

GOLDEN JUBILEE OF DEAN SMYTH

Fifty Years of Priesthood to Be Celebrated in St. Joseph's, Jersey City.

PLANS BEING MADE

Former Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Plainfield, to Receive a Purse of Gold—Father Bogan to Have Part in Program.

The parishoners of St. Joseph's church, Jersey City, will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of Very Rev.
Dean P. E. Smyth's admission to the priesthood on May 17.

The venerable pastor has been in charge of St. Joseph's since 1902, after eighteen years of service in St.
Mary's church, this city. What he did for this church he has duplicated for Jersey City, and his golden jubilee is to be made one of the most auspicious affairs ever held in St. Joseph's church.

Dean Smyth was born in 1841 in Ballyjamesduff, County Cavan, Ireland. He attended the Latin School of this place, entered St. Patrick's College at Cavan and having completed his course here went to the institution beloved by all Irish priests, Maynooth. His kindly disposition, even at this age, endeared him to the students of this far-famed college, where he had a fellow-competitor for college honors and student popularity, the present Cardinal Logue, of Armagh. After five years he was ordained to the sacred priesthood. His pastoral ministrations were first exercised in the Cathedral at Cavan, where he spent seven years, being at that time administrator of that church.
He then came to America and was kindly received by Bishop Bailey and given a curacy in Phillipsburg, with the Rev. Cornelius Reilly. In a short time he was sent to build a church at Little Washington, where Father Smyth found it hard to make any progress. His zeal urged him to go collecting through all New Jersey to obtain funds to liquidate the debt of his church. He met with success owing to his kindly and holy disposition.

Later he became pastor at Madison where he had jurisdiction over all the surrounding country as far as Summit. At the present time there are five churches in this neighborhood.

He was soon called by his bishop to take charge of St. Bridget's church, Jersey City, where he remained for seven years. His health being threatened he found it necessary to relinquish his duties there and take an extended trip abroad to rejuvenate his waning strength.

After a sojourn of some months abroad, Father Smyth returned and his bishop sent him to take charge of St. Mary's church, this city, succeeding Father Morris. This was in 1883.
Under his leadership the church advanced rapidly, in a few years becoming one of the most influential in the Newark diocese. The present parochial school on West Sixth street was built through his efforts, the original convent house and the Young Men's Catholic Lyceum were also brought about by his work. In 1901 he succeeded in clearing the last dollar of debt from the handsome church edifice and it was consecrated in the fall of that year. It was shortly afterward that Father Smyth was transferred to Jersey City.

What Dean Smyth has accomplished in St. Joseph's church is worthy of recording. The church has been redecorated, a magnificent school built and splendidly equipped, the attendance at the school greatly increased, a convent enlarged and beautified, a hall reconstructed and decorated. In addition to these improvements the debt has been reduced to $25,000, greater than all this, he has added a monument more lasting than brass in the virtue that he has inculcated into his parishoners, in the good example he has set to the thousands of children who have passed through his hands, all of whom look up to him as a kindly father and a holy exemplar. They feel that in him they have a real old "Sog-arth Aroon," to whom they can go for correct and kindly advice and from whom they can seek instruction dispensed by a long experience.

His administration in St. Joseph's church has been blessed with a great many graces from God and also with a kindly attachment on the part of his parishoners towards him, fruits that every good priest really values.

It has been his desire that no acclaim should accompany the celebration of his fiftieth anniversary. As far as it is known there has been only one priest in Jersey City who has attained the golden anniversary of his priesthood. This event was not at all—or at least very quietly—celebrated. The parishoners of St. Joseph's church do not wish that it

ANOTHER EFFORT TO WIDEN STREET

City Council Takes Steps to Again Treat With Madison Avenue Owners.

NAME COMMISSIONERS

New Plumbing Ordinance Introduced —A.H. Atterbury Complains About Operation of Auto Buses West in Seventh Street.

The Common Council being unable to agree with the affected property owners in the matter of widening Madison avenue, steps were taken by that body last night to bring about the improvement through the appointment of commissioners to treat with the owners. Councilman Francis J. Blatz's resolution that Arthur E. Smith, A. H. Atterbury and J.
Fred MacDonald be named as such commissioners, was adopted, and Monday night, May 25, was fixed as the time when they will meet with property owners. This is another one of a series of attempts to widen Madison avenue.

An ordinance introduced by Councilman Blatz, last night, and read once for information, provides for more strict regulations in the matter of making sewer connections to houses. The ordinance was drafted at the request of the plumbers and sets forth in detail just how the connection shall be made, the same to be under the supervision of the plumb-ing inspector of the Board of Health.
The ordinance as originally drafted permitted only plumbers to do this work, but it was changed last night to include contractors, as well. For violations of the ordinance there is attached a penalty of $20 or ten days. The ordinance will come up again at a future meeting.

Albert H. Atterbury, of West Seventh street, in a communication to the Council, again complained about the automobile buses which are allowed to use West Seventh street.
He set forth that such traffic through that street is not necessary and if the buses are to run about the city they should be licensed. The matter was referred to the committee on public affairs.

In this connection, Mayor Percy H.
Stewart called the attention of the Council to the complaints he had received concerning the operation of buses about the city. He thought that steps should be taken to adjust the matter in a satisfactory manner.
He said that he had been informed that the owners of the buses had stated that they could run their buses through any streets of the city and no license was required. If this was so, the Mayor was of the opinion that the legal point should be settled and that the city should have some control over the operation of these heavy motor vehicles.

MUSICAL CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Leighton Calkins Chosen President of Local Organization.

Officers were elected and some changes made in the constitution at the annual meeting of the Monday Afternoon Club, held at the Hartridge Auditorium, yesterday afternoon. The principal change in the constitution provides that hereafter the annual meeting shall be held the first Monday in February instead of May. This is done to allow the chairman of department committees sufficient time to make up their programs for the year.

There was a brief discussion of the past year's work, it being the opinion of the members that it had been one of the most successful in the club's history. Mrs. Orton G. Dale, as president; Mrs. M. B. Mellor as recording secretary and Mrs. J. E.
Kimball as corresponding secretary, hold over another year. The new officers chosen are as follows: Vice-presidents, Mrs. John Gray Foster, Mrs. Edward G. Read and Mrs. Eugene H. Hatch; treasurer, Mrs. F. W.
Cornwell.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING.
The Bryant-Lincoln Parent-Teacher Association will meet at Bryant School tomorrow afternoon at 3:15. At 4:00 o'clock Dr.
Harold D. Corbuser will address the meeting on "The Defects of the Framework of the Body in the School Children." A large attendance of the membership is desired.

Neuman Brothers are receiving each day new lines of fresh fruits and vegetables, which are offered at their Watchung avenue market.

JUSTICE BERGEN DISMISSES STAY

But Directs Counsel to Submit Briefs in Sewer Controversy.

CITY TO SELL BONDS

Owing to Importance of Matter Court Promises Early Decision—Arguments of Lawyers Chiefly on Technical Points.

Justice James J. Bergen, sitting at Elizabeth, this morning, heard arguments on the application of the Borough of Middlesex for a continuance of the stay against the City of Plainfield and other municipalities in the matter of building a trunk sewer, on a rule to show cause why the acts of Plainfield should not be reviewed as to the sale of bonds. The stay was dismissed by the court, but counsel on both sides were ordered to file briefs within three days. Justice Bergen promised an early decision realizing the importance of the matter.

The court while giving the affected municipalities the right to go ahead, added that if they did they must do so at their own risk. Plainfield will doubtless plan to sell its $30,000 sewer bonds tomorrow night as arranged. If Justice Bergen grants a certiorari, it would be an easy matter to take the money from the sale to pay off the bonds, but it is not believed that this will be necessary.

The hearing this morning was on an application made by William A.
Coddington for a writ of certiorari to carry the act under which the sewer is to be constructed to the Supreme Court, to test its constitutionality.
Judge Coddington has associated with him in the case Prosecutor George S. Silzer, and each spent half an hour arguing for their side. Lin-dabury, Depeu & Faulks, who represent the Joint Sewer Commission, had Mr. Ashmead of their office in court, and he spent an hour summing up for his side. Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed was an interested spectator at the proceedings.

It seems to be the opinion that Justice Bergen will not grant the certiorari asked for, thus upsetting the action of the State Board of Health which has already approved the plans for the joint trunk sewer project.

SIRENO COMPANY'S OFFER IS REFUSED

Somerville Council Declines to Settle Bill for One Hundred Dollars.

Somerville, May 5.—Representatives of the Sireno Company, which placed one of its blowing machines on the fire house as a fire alarm, appeared before the Borough Council, last night, and endeavored to get a settlement for $100. The offer was refused, but the Council informed the representatives that it would take the machine down and ship it back to the company. A suit for $400 brought against the borough by the company some time ago, has since been dropped.

The Second National Bank, upon request of counsel, Judge D. H.
Beekman, was allowed to encroach three feet and eight inches on the building line on Main street, to meet requirement of plans for its new building.

Residents of Division street complained about the rule of placing garbage cans on the street, and the street superintendent agreed to remove them one hour after they were placed there. The Council accepted the invitation to attend the town exhibit at Westfield on May 12. Additional street lights were ordered on East Cliff street and Coddington place. The Mayor and clerk were authorized to arrange to have the borough's employees insured against accident. Through an ordinance the Council decided to accept Vanderveer avenue. No less than six ordinances are in process of passage in response to petitions for new sidewalks. The bills for the current month amounting to $2,600, were ordered paid.

FEATURE WEEK AT PROCTOR'S Beginning yesterday a special photo-play masterpiece will be presented each day at Proctor's theatre.
Today will be shown the next series of "Lucille Love," the girl of mystery. Other features will include Lubin's big three-part production, "Officer Jim"; "The Adventures of Kathlyn," and the Vitaphone dramatic sensation, "A Million Bids," in five parts.

LOCAL LAWYER WILL REPRESENT CONNORS

William Newcorn Engaged as Counsel for Alleged Jewelry Thief.

Pending further examination on the part of those interested in the Ackerman robbery case and various other similar burglaries that have been committed in various parts of the State recently, Charles alias "Ice Wagon" Connors is being held a prisoner in the local police headquarters and will probably be turned over to the Union county jail authorities at Elizabeth late this afternoon or tomorrow morning. William N. New-corn, it was announced this morning, has been engaged as counsel by Connors and his friends, who are working in his behalf in an effort to free the alleged second-story man.

The Union county authorities anticipate a strenuous fight on the part of Connors when his trial comes in Elizabeth on indictments found against him in the Ackerman case.
A former magistrate from New York city visited Plainfield yesterday to arrange certain details in Connors' behalf and while here engaged the local lawyer to represent the prisoner.

Seated in a cell at police headquarters Connors has little to say and has conversed with only a few of the many attendants who have visited him. Queried yesterday afternoon concerning his early life he would only comment briefly on his varied career, telling among other things how he came to be called "Ice wagon." When a boy in the "Windy City" he and a group of companions were drilled on the city streets under the direction of an army officer who put them through the numerous war maneuvers.

Connors had a tendency to get out of line because of his awkward stride, which is still noticeable today, and becoming exasperated the leader finally dubbed him "Ice Wagon." The nick-name was soon picked up by juvenile Chicagoans and this became the name by which he was formally recognized. The handle clung to him throughout his teens and he is still known by it today. He is now thirty-two years of age.

CHANGE TIME OF ANNUAL MEETING

Monday Afternoon Club Decides to Hold it in February Hereafter.

The annual meeting of the Plainfield Musical Club was held at the home of Mrs. Leighton Calkins on Madison avenue, yesterday, when officers for the coming year were chosen and there was an informal discussion of plans for the year, together with a review of what had been accomplished the past year.
These officers were elected: President, Mrs. Leighton Calkins; vice-president, Miss Maud Van Boskerck; secretary-treasurer, Miss Margaret Leal; executive committee, with the officers, Mrs. Harry McGee, Mrs.
Charles L. Lewis, Mrs. Laurens H.
Van Buren and Mrs. S. D. Leunbery.
There was a large attendance of members and much interest was shown in the club's affairs.

MISS MARIE F. CHAMBERLAIN BRIDE OF A. A. BELSER

Miss Marie F. Chamberlain, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chamberlain, of East Second street, and Anthony Albert Belser, of Brooklyn, were married in the rectory of St. Mary's R. C. church, yesterday afternoon.
Father Bernard M. Bogan, pastor of the church, officiating. Only a few intimate relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony.

The bride wore a blue traveling suit, with a white hat. She wore a corsage of pink roses and lilies of the valley, and as an ornament a pearl and diamond necklace, the gift of the bridegroom. After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and sunt, Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain and supper was served for the immediate relatives. After a trip to Bermuda, the couple will reside in Brooklyn.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.
The regular monthly business session of the W. C. T. U. will be held in their rooms on Thursday afternoon, at 3:30. Matters of importance will come before the meeting and a full attendance of the membership is desired.

MAY TERM OF COURT OPENS

Many Plainfield Cases on the Calendar Ready for Trial.

GRAND JURY CHARGE

Justice Bergen Calls Attention to Excise Conditions in the County List of Local Cases Which Will Be Investigated.

Elizabeth, May 5.—The May term of court opened here this morning, Judge James J. Bergen presiding, with Judge James C. Connolly and Judge Spear as associates. The entire morning was taken up in arranging the calendar for the term. John W. Whelan, of Elizabeth, was made foreman of the Grand Jury. In charging the jury Judge Bergen referred with emphasis to the excise regulations and the conditions existing where loan companies were levying exorbitant rates of interest.

In the Court of Common Pleas, Judge Connolly stated that when the counsel was not present when the call for the case was made the action would be deferred until the next term of court. The cases of local interest are listed as follows:

H. P. Alan Montgomery vs. Charles A. Reed and Harriet S. Manley or in the alternative Franklin G. Manley, defendant, represented by Reed and Hettfield.

Stella Dennis vs. Paul A. Queen, plaintiff, represented by Codington and Blatz.

Abner Hancock vs. Albert C. Wadley, plaintiff, represented by Reed and Hettfield.

John H. Greene, Jr., vs. Albert C.
Wadley and Katherine M. Greene, plaintiff, represented by Reed and Hettfield.

Agnes Vail vs. Charles L. Dana, Jr., and Katherine Dana, plaintiff, represented by Reed and Hettfield.

William S. McCoy vs. Jacob A.
Fass and William Davis, plaintiff represented by Reed and Hettfield.

Ferdinand Simon vs. Commonwealth Water and Light Company, plaintiff, represented by Robert Newton Crane.

George J. Finger vs. New York Telephone company, plaintiff, represented by Robert Newton Crane.

Ira L. LaRue vs. Thomas J. Murphy, plaintiff, represented by Robert Newton Crane, and defendant by Nelson and William N. Runyon.

Emanuel Kapelsohn vs. J. D. Louizeaux, plaintiff, represented by William Newcorn and the defendant by Codington and Blatz.

Emanuel Kapelsohn vs. Joshua D.
Loizeaux, plaintiff, represented by William Newcorn and the defenant by Codington and Blatz.

Mary Alice Barker vs. Wesley P.
Barker and Georgiana L. Barker, plaintiff, represented by William E.
Newcorn.

Emil Zeckendorf vs. A. M. Griffin Company, plaintiff represented by William Newcorn.

Shoemaker, plaintiff, represented by Harry C. Runyon.

Samuel J. Mixer vs. Lewis G. Timp-son, defendant, represented by Nelson and William N. Runyon.

Edgar A. Knapp vs. William J.
Buttfield, plaintiff, represented by G.
W. V. Moy.

Justyna Wojcio vs. Kalmen Roth-berg, defendant, represented by William Newcorn.

J. D. Loizeaux Lumber Company vs. Emanuel Kapelsohn, builder, plaintiff, represented by Codington and Blatz and defendant by William Newcorn and J. Henry Crane.

William E. Tuttle vs. Lizzie S.
Sanford, defendant represented by William R. Codington.

Davis Steinman vs. Alice A. Pfister, plaintiff, represented by William E. Newcorn and defendant by Harry C. Runyon.

I. W. and C. Horn vs. Benjamin Neiberg, William Newcorn representing the defendant.

AMERICANS ARE AGAIN IN PERIL

Mexicans Have Again Placed Ban on Their Peaceful Departure.

SITUATION IS TANGLED

A. B. C. Mediators Affect Cheerfulness, But It Is Feared That Carranza's Attitude May Cause Trouble.

Washington, May 5.—Americans are again being prevented from leaving Mexico. Word to this effect was received at the Navy Department in a despatch from Rear Admiral Howard in command of the Pacific fleet.
American ships are prevented from leaving or entering any port of the State of Vera Cruz, the coast line of which is several hundred miles long and includes many ports, notably Tuxpan. The collector of customs at this port has admitted the receipt of strict orders to this effect.

With a basis of negotiations shifted over night through the elimination of the Constitutionalists from the mediation program the envoys of Brazil, Argentina and Chile began a series of important conferences today. The mediators affected cheerfulness but their optimism appeared forced and was reflected in the State Department. The situation today looked to be more hopelessly tangled than ever. It is feared in some quarters that the abrupt announcement eliminating General Carranza from the peace parties will result in drawing Mexicans closer together and may even lead the Constitutionalists first chief to join hands with his ancient enemy in opposing American invasion if such becomes necessary. It is intimated too, that Carranza drew the mediators into the present situation by adroitly appearing to favor mediation, while taking advantage of the lull to press his military campaign. Now that this is well advanced he believes that he can throw off the mask and dictate terms.

The military situation at Vera Cruz is giving the War Department great concern, although it will not acknowledge that it has any doubt of Gen. Funston's complete ability to handle the situation. It has been reported, however, that constantly increasing numbers of Mexican Federal troops are slowly closing in on the Mexican port. Denial was made that a second demand had been filed by the Federals for the surrender of the water works at Tejar. The situation, said Secretary Garrison today was quiet, and there was no cause for alarm. The Secretary, however, is reported to have had a pointed request from Gen. Funston for more liberalized orders. In the case of an artillery attack on the water works an advance would be imperative and under the existing orders to the American troops this would be virtually impossible.

Emphatic denial was also made to persistent reports that Tampico was to be occupied by a landing party from the fleet, under Rear Admiral Mayo. The report had it that the administration had determined on the occupation of the port to prevent the repetition of the Antilla affair, which might complicate the existing delicate situation and embroil the United States with other nations.

New York, May 5.—Bolstered up by a despatch from Vera Cruz, there was a strong rumor this morning that Gen. Felix Diaz was on his way to Vera Cruz, believing that the time was ripe for him to make his appearance in the country over which his uncle was for many years dictator.

William H. Ellis, a broker, of 25 Pine street, who is a close friend of Gen. Diaz and who was in constant communication with him while the Mexican leader was in this city, said today:

"Gen. Diaz is not on his way to Vera Cruz. He is not in New York at present, although I am not free to tell you where he is."

In response to questions Mr. Ellis would not say whether or not Vera Cruz would be the port through which Gen. Diaz would return soon; nor whether he would enter Mexico; nor whether Diaz was making preparations to return to Mexico; nor whether or not there was any special significance in the absence of Gen. Diaz from New York at this time.

Vera Cruz, May 5.—Military experts estimate that it would be necessary for the United States to send 95,000 men into Mexico to successfully occupy Huerta's territory. This estimate declares that General Funston would require 25,000 men to take the capital; more than 10,000 more would be necessary to protect the railroads in the rear of the advancing column, and to hold territory occupied. 30,000 would be required at once and 30,000 more six months

TAX ORDINANCE SHOWS INCREASE

City Council Adopts Annual Budget on Second

DENY MANY REQUESTS

The Sum of $117,000 to be Raised for General City Purposes—Schools, County and State Yet to be Heard From.

The annual tax budget for the coming year was introduced at the May meeting of the Common Council, last night, adopted on two readings and ordered advertised. Councilman Leighton Calkins, as chairman of the finance committee, presented the ordinance, making no special explanation, except that the committee regretted its inability to allow requests for appropriations and increase others.

According to the ordinance there is to be raised for general purposes of the city, exclusive of school, library, poor, fire, State and county taxes, the sum of $117,000, against $96,000 raised last year. The actual increase for city purposes is about $30,000, but as it is not known what the schools or county tax is to be it is impossible to determine the rate.
It is known that it will exceed $2.09 on the hundred. The various amounts to be raised are set forth in detail in the following draft of the ordinance:

There shall be assessed and raised by tax for the year Nineteen Hundred and Fourteen, for the general purposes of said city, exclusive of school, library, poor, fire and State and county taxes, the sum of $117,000.
This sum includes the following items to be raised by general tax for the several purposes specified, viz.: For street improvements, $56,000; for police department, $39,000; for maintenance of sewers, $10,000; for salaries, $17,800; for Board of Health, $8,000; for city's share of benefits of permanent street pavements, $6,500; for supporting indigent patients in Muhlenberg Hospital, pursuant to Chapter 256, P. L. 1911, $3,500; for printing and advertising, $4,000; for maintenance of District Court, $2,400; for rent of city offices, $2,200; for miscellaneous expenses, $1,000; for Police Pension Fund, $500; for Public Recreation Fund, $500; for care of city dump, $400; for removal of snow and ice, $350; for free Dental Clinic, pursuant to Chapter 79, P. L. 1911, $400; for making assessments and changing city assessment maps, pursuant to chapter 175, P. L. 1913, $3,500; for expenses of commissioners in proposed widening of Madison avenue, $300; for expenses of catching and disposing of dogs, $400; for extra help in collector's office, $300; for care of city park, $200; for fire insurance premiums, $200; for swamp drainage, $125; for Memorial Day, $100—$162,675; less receipts from licenses, franchise taxes, poll taxes, etc., etc., estimated at $45,675—$117,000. Also there shall be so assessed and raised the following:

For interest to fall due during said year 1914 on street improvement bonds dated September 1, 1907, the sum of $1,260; for interest to fall due during the said year on street improvement bonds, the sum of $3,- 100; for interest to fall due during said year on police stationhouse bonds dated July 1, 1908, the sum of $945; for principal of said station-house bonds maturing during said year, the sum of $1,000; for payment of bonds due in 1914, issued for the payment of expense of permanent brick pavement, the sum of $2,000; for the expense of said year for lighting the public streets and places in said city, as ascertained and determined by resolution of the Common Council and certified to the assessors of said city, the sum of $19,000.

For the principal on sewer bonds (except obligations payable out of the assessments and temporary obligations) as may mature during the current fiscal year, issued under and by virtue of an act of the Legislature entitled "An Act to Provide for Drainage and Sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890, $6,000; for interest on obligations of the city issued under the last mentioned acts, the sum of $18,200; for the support of the city poor, the sum of $8,500; for the maintenance of the Public Library and Reading room, the sum of $11,500; for the maintenance of a fire department, the sum of $55,000; for interest for said year on fifteen thousand dollars firehouse bonds, the sum of $675; for sinking fund to retire the principal of said fifteen thousand dollars firehouse bonds at maturity, the sum of $1,- 300.

For interest on school bonds authorized under city ordinances or resolutions of the Common Council, to fall due during said year, the sum of

Watchung.

The Watchung Chemical Engine Company had another forest fire to combat with yesterday afternoon. The fire, which raged for over four hours, was ignited, perhaps, by some careless wanderer and started in the rear of Wilson's crusher. In an incredible short time the fire swept over the entire mountain slope. A house belonging to Seraphino Triano was burned to the ground and the handsome bungalow of Richard J. Fell was again threatened. Practically two hundred acres of woodland was burned over and at a late hour the firemen were able to extinguish the fire.

A large party of Watchungites attended the Robbins' circus for the benefit of the Plainfield Open-Air School. Charles Nash, of Valley road, was among the Plainfield clowns.

Rev. Daniel S. Gregory, of King George's road, has made some very extensive improvements around his handsome home, large tracts of land having been planted with fruit trees, grape vineyards, etc.

While William H. Campbell, of Hillcrest road, was returning to his home from Newark the other evening the gates across the Lehigh Railroad were down without showing any lights and without any warning Mr. Campbell's car crashed into the gates. Although Mr. Campbell and his chauffeur were not injured the beautiful limousine was wrecked.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Martin, of New York city, spent the week-end at their summer home on Rock road.

Henry P. Vosseller is planting a fruit orchard on the tract of land which he recently purchased from Paul Kleiber. Mr. Vosseller is using the new dynamite method for planting his trees.

Dunellen & Vicinity

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wehrly, of New York City, were week-end visitors with Mrs. Wehrly's sister, Mrs. W. S. Frederick, of Dunellen avenue. Borough Engineer Lewis T. Churchill was a business visitor at Elizabeth, yesterday.

Horace G. Long, a former resident of this place, is one of the important factors in the strike-breaking movement in Colorado.

Mrs. Joseph Hague stepped into a hole in the back-yard of her residence on Jackson avenue, yesterday, sustaining a sprained ankle, which necessitated the summoning of Dr. Curry, of Madison avenue.

Miss Jessie Gray, of Bollivor, N. Y., is spending the week with her cousin, Mrs. George Harris, of New Market road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayers, of Prospect avenue, have returned from a visit of three days duration with their son, Dr. O. S. Ayers, of Salem. Mr. and Mrs. Ayers made the round trip by automobile.

Treasurer B. K. Burke, of the Dunellen Lumber & Stone Company, spent the week-end with his family, at Flegmont.

Contractor Daniel Moody is re-decorating the interior of the New Market Coal & Grain Company's office.

Walter Nelson and children have returned from a short visit at the home of Rev. and Mrs. George Gardner, of Atlantic Highlands. Mrs. Nelson will prolong her stay for a few days at the least, in order to be in attendance at the bedside of her mother, who is quite ill.

George L. Harris has awarded Contractor Samuel M. Titus the contract of erecting a house on the lot adjoining the property on Main street recently vacated by Hiram J. Scandell and family.

For the first time since she was stricken with typhoid fever about two months ago Miss Mayola Smalley had no fever yesterday, as her many friends and sympathizers will be glad to know.

Mrs. Johanna Blumenore and sons, Charles and Fred, of Prospect avenue, have been visiting friends in Brooklyn since Saturday.

Miss Nellie Vail, of Dunellen avenue was able to sit out on the porch Sunday for the first time in many weeks.

Mrs. William Wyckoff and daughter, Miss Edith, of Dunellen avenue, spent yesterday in Newark.

Miss Mabel Bennett, of Dunellen avenue, entertained Miss Helen Kaiser, of Brooklyn Manor, over the week-end.

Joseph J. Smith, of Raritan, who has been convalescing at the home of his brother, Fred Smith on Center street, for the past three weeks from a serious attack of rheumatism in the region of his heart, is commencing to pick up rapidly now.

Quite a number of the pupils of the local schools are planning to attend the Tri-County Musical Festival at the new theatre, Somerville, on Friday evening of this week.

Mathew Giddes, of Front street, has been quite indisposed for the past week or so.

Contractor Goldson W. Smalley is wearing "the smile that won't come off" these days having recently been awarded the following contracts: Laying concrete walk around the new Henry Kirchner bungalow on Lincoln avenue, the laying of concrete walks along the Madison avenue frontage of the Kuppenburg property; laying concrete walk around the Fred Wrag house on Washington avenue and the laying of a concrete walk for Kuldoshes brothers, from the rear of their grocery store to the rear of their flats, a distance of a couple hundred feet.

Contractor J. Newton Aggar is building a new front porch on the Patson Van Arsdale house on North avenue, occupied by Lewis Tinsman and in addition is doing some interior remodeling therein.

The concrete base of the addition to the Lincoln school has been completed and the forces of Firman H. Glise commenced laying the brick for the walls of that addition yesterday.

Contractor Charles Wragge is inclined toward the opinion that the fire which started very mysteriously in a clothes closet in the kitchen of his residence on Walnut street, about nine o'clock yesterday morning, while he was busily engaged in making a new screen door in his back yard and his wife was making Mrs. Siedentop a short morning call next door, was started by some matches which he had in a coat that was hanging in the closet.

Mr. Wragge is congratulating himself that his wife did not prolong her short morning call another minute as it was she who discovered the fire upon her return. He said that if the fire had another minute of leeway his home would have been doomed. Among the articles of clothing destroyed by the fire was a new raincoat of Mr. Wragge and a coat containing some very important papers. The members of Defender Fire Company No. 1, now consider Mr. Wragge, who recently joined that company, a full fledged member by reason of his first baptism with fire and water.

Harry Sandford, of Westfield, son of William H. Sandford, a former mayor of this place, was a visitor in the borough, yesterday afternoon. Harry says that his father who had been falling has been given a new lease of life by a recent operation and at present is feeling better than he has felt in twenty years.

Barthomew Kelly has recovered from the effects of injuries sustained in the railroad accident of Sunday, Feb. 15th, when the gate tower, in which he was on duty as gateman, at the Prospect avenue crossing of the Central Railroad, was bowled over by a derailed passenger coach. Mr. Kelly resumed his duties as gateman in the new tower at that crossing yesterday.

Lieutenant Bingham, a former resident of New Market, but now residing at New York City, visited John E. Dix, of Center street, yesterday. Ex-Mayor William Wyckoff and a stranger from out of town, had a bad collision on their bicycles in front of the pharmacy of Edward Pennock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Wyckoff had just been in the postoffice and as he jumped on his wheel to cycle in an easterly direction along North avenue on his way home, his view along that avenue was partially obstructed by a wagon standing in front of Jack's pool parlors. It was just after Mr. Wyckoff rounded this wagon that the bicyclists came together head-on. They were both thrown off their wheels on to the macadam and received bad shaking up. After recovering their equilibrium they were both, however, able to proceed on their respective way without receiving medical attention.

should be so in Dean Smyth's case, no matter how much he desires it himself, and they have determined that a fitting celebration should accompany the attainment of his fifty golden years in the priesthood.

The various societies of the church have joined in arrangements or plans to commemorate the great occasion with some appropriate gift.

The celebration of the jubilee will begin at the 11 o'clock mass Sunday morning, May 17, when Father Bernard M. Hogan, the present pastor of St. Mary's church, this city, will preach the sermon. In the afternoon of the same day at 3:30 o'clock the children of St. Joseph's School will entertain Dean Smyth and his friends at the Orpheum Theatre. In the evening the parishoners will tender him a reception in the Dickerson High School and present him with an automobile.

The religious commemoration of the jubilee will take place Monday morning at 10 o'clock when the reverend Tabularian will celebrate solemn high mass at St. Joseph's church and will be assisted by some former Plainfield boys, Father John Butcher and Father Michael Glennon.

For Tomorrow, the Anniversary of the E. A. NEWELL Sale GIMBEL BROTHERS Announce A Sale of MEN'S SUMMER APPAREL With Splendid Savings at the Very Opening of the Season. Out for a New Record!

In closing out the NEWELL stocks last year, we established what was probably a high record for volume of distribution in Men's Furnishings.

Successful merchandising requires that such records be made only to be surpassed next time.

To beat last year's extraordinary figures required extraordinary preparation this year. This has been successfully accomplished through the heartiest sort of co-operation between manufacturers and ourselves.

Not only have we excelled the high character and desirability of much of the NEWELL merchandise in tomorrow's offerings, but the economies are in many cases even greater than those of that Sale.

Everything is new, desirable, up-to-the-minute—a great deal of it made up specially to our order. Lots are in many cases limited.

The Sale will continue all this week, and into next—but BEING EARLY is the safest way to secure the pick of the goods.

CITY IS FREE OF MOSQUITOES

Season Opens With Fewer Ponds and Swamps Than Last Year.

INSPECTORS ACTIVE

Activity of Union County Extermination Commission Shows Good Results in This Section of the State.

Union County should be the freest of mosquitoes this year of any time in its history from the present outlook, is the opinion of the men connected with the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission. The Meadows, which last year at this time were in a very flooded condition, are now so dry that they can be walked over in ordinary street shoes, and this is due in a large measure to the drying out of the meadows from the ditching which has been placed there in previous years by the New Jersey State Experiment Station and the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission.

There will be practically no salt marsh mosquitoes hatched out this year to trouble the people of the county. The first brood which is generally due within a week from now is entirely absent, and unless the high tides of May flood the meadows for an exceptional period the second brood will be as small as the first. For the past month and a half, the County Mosquito Extermination Commission has had about 30 men on the meadows cleaning nearly three-quarters of a million feet of ditching on the salt marsh. This work is being pushed rapidly, and as a result what were formerly bad breeding spots on the meadows, are now placed beyond the power of producing even a single wriggler.

Another aid to the work has been the co-operation of both Essex County to the north and Middlesex County to the south, whose Commissions have been very active, not only in putting their share of the salt marsh which stretches along the New Jersey coast in a mosquito proof condition, but in taking care of inland breeding places along the boundary line. The Middlesex County Mosquito Extermination Commission is now working in conjunction with the Piscataway Township Board of Health in draining the Guinea Egg Ponds at the Plainfield-Dunellen line, and in cleaning out the brook for over a mile leading from the ponds to Dunellen. This brook was grown up with grass during the past season and produced several broods of malarial mosquitoes.

Plainfield is going to be free from the house mosquito, the kind that troubles indoors at night, than last summer, which was notable for its absence of these pests. Inspector Frank Putnam has already inspected every yard in Plainfield and finds that the people are co-operating very heartily in abolishing such stagnant water breeding places as rain barrels, tubs, cisterns, pails, cans, open cess-pools, etc., or in properly covering the same so that no mosquitoes can lay their eggs on the surface of the stagnant water.

This inspection work will be kept up during the summer and all premises will be regularly inspected so that there is the least possible chance of any of these backyard breeding places producing mosquitoes this summer. The Plainfield Board of Health, through its health officer, N. J. Randolph Chandler, is also aiding the work of the Commission by having all the dumps in the city properly graded off before warm weather commences, so that there will be no pools of filthy water around the edges of these dumping grounds to send out brood after brood of mosquitoes this summer. Two of the dumps which cannot be permanently finished before warm weather commences, will be kept open and the marshy ground which is being filled in, will be watched carefully and oiled as often as necessary while this damping is going on.

Several low spots throughout the city of Plainfield have been filled in this manner during the past winter, and a number of breeding spots materially reduced in this way. Several prominent land owners in this city and Fanwood are aiding the work of the Union County Mosquito Extermination Commission in a substantial manner, by having their premises freed of any stagnant water, either actual breeding places of mosquitoes, or places that are likely to be. The Commission is working at present on the extensive property of former Senator Ackerman in Fanwood, draining eight ponds on the south side of Westfield road. This work is being done under contract for which the owner is paying for the largest share of this work. Several swamps in the vicinity of Morse avenue in Fanwood have just been drained. The Baylis property along West Front street in this city, has been ditched out and considerable stagnant water drained into Green Brook.

Plainfield opens its summer season with far fewer ponds and swamps than last year, due to the activity of the County Mosquito Extermination Commission and the co-operation of the people of Plainfield. Mosquito extermination work is now looked on as a good business proposition and is worth far more than the small amount expended from the economic standpoint alone, to say nothing of the increased freedom from disease which is carried by mosquitoes, and the incalculable increase of summer comfort. The efficiency of mosquito reduction work will be greatly increased by more property-holders putting their premises in a good condition. Eliminate all stagnant water! No stagnant water, no mosquitoes, should be the slogan to everyone, and Plainfield will enjoy the most comfortable summer it has ever put in.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS PLAN TO ATTEND CONVENTION

CONNOR'S RETURN.

Chief of Police Kiely is receiving congratulations on all sides upon the successful termination of his trip to Chicago to bring back "Ice Wagon" Connors, the man who is alleged to have robbed the residence of former Senator Ernest R.
Ackerman. Connors has several times escaped conviction by various methods, and is said to be notorious as a ball jumper. That some one has known of his whereabouts since the Ackerman robbery was proven beyond a doubt by the fact that the jewels, or part of them, were returned to the insurance company, but the manner in which they were returned would lead to the belief that the company was more anxious to avoid paying the insurance money than they were to apprehend the thief.

Chief Kiely went quietly to work on the matter and he waited until Connors got out of New York state, before he said much about the case.
Then he circularized the country and in Chicago the man was soon picked up, none of that mysterious "something" which protected him in New York being in evidence in the western city.

The Plainfield police force has frequently been commended in these columns as an unusually efficient one for the number of men employed, and the success of the local officers in apprehending Connors is another evidence that the city has nothing to be ashamed of in that branch of the service.

NEW USE FOR BASEBALL.

It is practically assured that two all-star baseball teams picked from the cream of the major leagues will tour Central and South America next year, playing in Cuba, Panama, down the east coast of South America and back on the west coast and winding up at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, the tour in many respects being similar to the world tour of the Giants and White Sox during the past winter.

Aside from all else, here is a plan to effectively back up the Monroe Doctrine and, which the Monroe Doctrine does not do by itself, pave the way for a greater interchange of business between the two American continents. While sport fans will welcome the incursion into the rich and growing countries to our south, business everywhere and the government at Washington must realize the value of the trip of the players.

There is a friendlier feeling throughout the belt of the world traversed last winter by the Giants and Sox. Perhaps nothing in the century has so welded Great Britain and the United States together in peace as the game played in London before King George, and the multitude of cheering Britishers. The best of it is that the South American trip of the players will yield without doubt even greater results for good.
It will encourage and enervate the friendship between the three Americas; it will open the pathway to American consumption of American goods and it will go farther than battleships to back up the Monroe Doctrine.

Wherever the national American sport invades, its occupation is a friendly and congenial one. Where nations gather together in recreation the spirit of rivalry is really a spirit of co-operation. Send Matty and Baker and Johnson and Speaker and Wagner to South America and they will be remembered as long as Roosevelt and other American emissaries of peace and longer than the nobles of Europe sent there to direct commerce to European ports.

Snap judgment in the impeach-ing of the Governor of Colorado is contrary to every principle of American fair play. Mr. Ammons may have done wrong in the way in which he handled troops in the mine strike in that state, but on the other hand he may have been a very much misrepresented individual. The Legislators in a matter as serious as this one, should take plenty of time and carefully consider the charges to be made before beginning action. In the Sulzer case in New York the Tammany people laid out their plan of campaign very carefully before they intimated that they intended to impeach Governor Sulzer, and when the work was started it was with the assurance that it was going to be successful. If Governor Ammons has been indiscreet in his handling of the strike matter, it does not necessarily follow that he has violated his oath of office, and no man can be impeached if he has done his duty, no matter whether the performance of that duty is popular or not.

The financial success of the circus given yesterday for the benefit of the Open Air School shows that the people of Plainfield can always be depended upon to support worthy local institutions which are doing good for the welfare of the people of the city as a whole. Nearly eight hundred dollars was derived to continue this excellent work.

THE FORUM.

Editor of the Daily Press:—"Heaven will protect the Wol-King Goll" sang May Irwin, while the theatre rang with applause and encores. The American public is very sympathetic and bedews its cambric handkerchiefs and audibly sobs as the showgirl faints behind her counter in the hot, stuffy store, at the "Movies."

Which is really an emotional expression of the warm sympathy and love of liberty that beats in the great majority of American hearts, was not hindered by greed or thoughtless indifference and heedlessness.

The civic committee of the Plainfield College Club that is at present engaged in striving to secure a Saturday half-holiday during August for the toilers in stores and shops, is deserving of every commendation and encouragement from the human residents of this Queen City.

And, at the request of citizens who are interested in this movement, I crave space in your widely read columns for a word of appeal to the public sentiment in this municipality, to which end every worthy cause deems itself fortunate in securing the co-operation of the local press.

The month of August has been chosen because the minimum of trade is then transacted.

As an experiment there can be but little loss to the store and shop-keepers at that season, and those interested feel confident that the issue will prove that not only will the employes gain tremendously in recuperation of fagged and exhausted energies, but that a net profit will accrue to the employers in the renewed efficiency of their service power.

It is an undisputed axiom that the longer the consecutive period of rest and recuperation, the more pronounced and pronounced will be its effect; therefore, if the labor period ends at noon on Saturday and is not resumed until Monday morning these forty-four recess-hours will result in approximately double the benefit that can be secured from the twenty recess-hours obtainable from a half-holiday on any other week day.

The most attractive baseball games are played on Saturday afternoons and the arrangement petitioned for, would obviate the brain-fag attendant, in the case of employers of small boys, or keeping score of the probabilities concerning the periodical demise of distant relatives.

With all stores closed, entire families could go on extended outings and visits, thus cementing the bond of that primary American institution —the family; or all the members, fresh and unjaded, might even unite in filling the family pew in church, which in August frequently remains empty under existing conditions.

It is true that an almost universal habit of Saturday shopping prevails, and that this is fostered by the prevalent custom of distributing pay envelopes on Saturday noon, but this could readily be obviated, for the month of August at least, by the general adoption of the method already prevailing in a majority of the Plain-

SEWER BOND SALE DEFERRED

Pending Decision in Court Case to Review Action of Common Council.

Resolutions Providing for Appropriations Are Adopted—Public Service Corporation Promises New Cars on Fourth Street Line.

It was the intention of the Common Council at its May session, last night, to receive and open bids for the sale of the $30,000 sewer bonds, but upon advice of special counsel, Lindabury, Deane & Falouts, the matter was laid over until tomorrow night, in view of the fact that W. A. Coddington, representing the Borough of Middlesex, had secured a show, which was returnable today, to rule cause why the acts of the Council in selling the bonds should not be reviewed. On motion of Councilman Leighton Calkins, chairman of the finance committee it was voted to defer action on the bonds until tomorrow night, when the Joint Sewage Commission will also have a meeting. Five bids were received last night, for the bonds but they were not opened.

The monthly report of Horace G. Adams, clerk of the District court, showed receipts of $181.55 and expenditures of $49.75. Building Inspector T. O. Doane reported the granting of 32 permits during April, and Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett reported the granting of fifteen sewer permits during the past two months.

Mr. Calkins, explained, in offering a resolution which authorized the appropriation of $3,500 for Muhlenberg Hospital for the care of indigent patients that charges of $1 a day is made for ordinary cases; $2 a day for those in the contagious disease ward and $2 a day for those using the maternity ward. Another resolution offered by Mr. Calkins and adopted, provided for an appropriation of $500 for the police pension fund, to cover the retirement of Police Captain Christian Fredericksen on June 1, his resignation being accepted to take effect at that time. He will retire on half pay.

Mr. Calkins offered a number of resolutions, which were adopted, providing for several appropriations in connection with the adoption of the annual tax budget. They are all included in the budget. The sum of $2,000 was transferred from the general to the fire fund, and the New York Telephone Company was authorized to install an extension to the telephone in Mayor Stewart's office, for the benefit of Tax Collector W. R. Townsend at an additional expense of $6 a year.

Mr. Calkins returned a number of petitions for appropriations and increased amounts, expressing his regrets that the finance committee could not grant all the requests.

Resolutions by Councilman Francis J. Blatz and adopted, authorized the street committee to purchase asphalt from the Barber Asphalt Paving Company, as needed, and to make a

REV. DR. PIERCE WILL ADDRESS C. E. CONVENTION

The Rev. Robert F. Y. Pierce, of this city, will address the annual convention of the Union County Christian Endeavor Union, to be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian church of Elizabeth. A junior rally will be held at 4 p. m.

The veteran badge banner which for many years has been awarded to the society whose percentage attendance at the evening session of the convention is highest, has become worn and useless, and the executive committee of the union has therefore furnished two new pennants—one for the juniors of the county and the other for the young people.

Dr. Pierce, the speaker of the evening, is a man of much fame in church circles. His well-known crayon talks, depicting in a remarkable way truths that he wishes to press home to the thought of his audience, always attract people. Dr. Pierce is now in Richmond, Va., where he is conducting revival services. He expects to return to New York on Friday next, and will come to Elizabeth for the county rally.

There will be a report of the year's work. Walter O. Anderson will preside and make a brief statement as to his work as president during the year, and Willard C. Forman, the secretary, will submit his report. There will be special music. The public is very cordially invited to be present.

BEGIN DISARMING IN COLORADO STRIKE

900 Additional Troops Arrive at Denver—to Do Work Peacefully.

Denver, May 5.—The Eleventh United States cavalry reinforcing the regulars already stationed in southern Colorado's coal fields arrived at Trinidad today. Their horses are expected tomorrow. There are 900 men in the regiment, and these will assist in the work of disarming the strike zone, either today or tomorrow.

Colonel James Moffett today succeeded Major W. A. Holbrook, in command of the Federal forces in the field. Officials of several mining companies sent notes to the officers that they will turn over all arms, revolvers, rifles, machine guns, and even the home-made cannon as soon as the troops are ready to assume charge of the property.

The same pledges were made by officers of the United Mine workers in behalf of the men.

Coroner Sipe of Trinidad today is holding an inquest into the deaths of Ford last week of 11 mine guards and strikers.

FIRE NEARLY BURNS PASSAIC POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN

Passaic, May 5.—The Passaic Fire Department was near destruction by fire early today while the 24 or more paid firemen of the city were peacefully asleep on the second floor of the municipal building. Edward K. H., a former councilman discovered the blaze while on his way home. He rushed into police headquarters, woke up the policemen and then went to fire headquarters and awakened firemen. By the time the flames were spent the automobile used by inspector of Weights and Measures, Peter B. Gallagher, was partially destroyed. The blaze originated under the police department garage, which adjoins the fire department.

EPWORTH LEAGUE BANQUET.

The Epworth League of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church will enjoy a banquet tonight at the expense of the red membership team, which lost a contest for members recently to the blue team. Plenty of fun is promised for all those who attend. All the extras that generally go along with such occasions will feature this evening.

FORMER PLAINFIELDER DIES.

Mrs. V. W. Nash, Jr., of Prospect avenue, received word by telegram this morning announcing the sudden death of her brother, John P. Crawford, a former resident of Plainfield. He has been residing for the past few years at Jamaica, L. I., where he conducted a hotel business. He had been ill about a week but it was considered so slight that his relatives here were not notified.

R. F. SCHOMP'S FUNERAL.

The funeral services of Russell Frederick Schomp, son of Fred Schomp, of Lafayette place, were held this afternoon at the home of the parents, Rev. John Y. Brock, of the Trinity Reformed church, officiating. Interment was made at Hillside avenue.

EIGHT MEN KILLED.

Panama, May 5.—Eight men were killed and thirteen injured in a dynamite explosion in a magazine owned by the Panama Government. The explosion was felt all over Panama. No damage was done to the canal.

MRS. SARAH L. BROWN DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Sarah L. Brown, widow of the late Henry L. Brown, aged 76 years, died this morning after a lingering illness. Mrs. Brown was a native of New York State, and for many years a resident of Jersey City, but has lived in this city for the past twenty years. One daughter, Mrs. Peter A. Emmons, of Grant avenue, and one son, Walter Brown, of Bayonne, and several grandchildren survive.

The funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of the daughter, 303 Grant avenue, when Rev. John Y. Brock, of the Trinity Reformed church, will officiate. Interment will be made at Hillside cemetery.

MT. ZION A. M. E. CHURCH HAD A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The official board and the board of trustees of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church met last night and completed the business of the church for the conference year. Resolutions were passed thanking the local papers for the publicity given to the various activities of the church. The past year has been a prosperous year for this church. Five conversions and twenty-two accessions to full membership of the church were noted in the report of the pastor, Rev. William Hicks. The financial reports of the church indicate that over $3,000 was raised for various sources. Of this amount, $200 was used for conferring benevolence and $800 for defraying the mortgage indebtedness.

Several improvements have been made to the church property and buildings, at a cost of over $100. Disbursements for charitable purposes amounted to $31.95. The institutional work of the organization is being carried on by auxiliaries and clubs. The church membership of the church now numbers 170. Rev. Mr. Hicks will attend the conference of the denomination to be held at Asbury Park.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH HAS A RED-LETTER DAY

It was a red-letter day at the First Baptist church, Sunday. In the morning ten received the righthand of fellowship at the communion service which was one of the largest in the history of the church, and perhaps, the largest during the present pastorate, and in the evening ten more were baptized, while still others await the ordinance. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, can always be found at the church Wednesday evenings one-half hour before the regular mid-week service for the purpose of conversation with any who wish to talk with him upon religious or other matters. This new feature has already been productive of great good. At the morning communion service also a formal recognition of the election of Wilbur F. Randolph and Charles Conover as deacons was made and these brethren were given the righthand of fellowship by the pastor. Both Mr. Randolph and Mr. Conover are highly esteemed by the church and their election as deacons gives unanimous satisfaction.

The mid-week services of the First Baptist church which under ordinary circumstances are always large have never been better attended or more enthusiastically supported than recently, despite several unfavorable evenings as to weather. The meeting this week promises to be one of unusual interest and helpfulness. Important action was taken Sunday by the Bible school looking to the permanent change of the sessions of the school to 9:45 in the morning. There is a very strong feeling on the part of many that such a change would be of benefit to all the services of the church and its departments.

later.

Mexico City, May 5.—Dr. Edward W. Ryan, the American physician, who was recently condemned to death as a spy, has arrived here. He was expected to reach the capital on Saturday and the delay in his arrival caused considerable anxiety. He was taken from the train by the guard of soldiers which brought him from Zacatecas and was conducted to the national palace. He will be placed aboard a refugee train for the coast.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 5.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy left here today for Washington. He refused to be interviewed.PLAINFIELDER WEDS.

Frank S. Martin, of Hillside avenue, this city, will marry Miss Mary Keech Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Turner, of Charles county, Maryland, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Keech, 12 West Fifty-second street, New York city, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. A large number of relatives and friends of the couple in this city will attend the ceremony.

WILSON SELECTS RESERVE BOARD

FOUR OTHERS ARE CHOSEN

They Are P. M. Warburg, A. C. Miller, W. P. G. Harding and H. A. Wheeler. Board Will Control in Large Measure the Finance of the Country.

Washington, May 5.—President Wilson has asked the following to accept membership on the federal reserve board:

Governor—Richard Olney of Boston, lawyer, formerly secretary of state. Members—Adolph Caspar Miller of Berkeley, Cal., educator and economist, now assistant to the secretary of the interior; Paul M. Warburg of New York, banker, member of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.; W. P. G. Harding of Birmingham, Ala., banker, president of the First National bank of that city; Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, former president of the chamber of commerce of the United States and former president of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Should these five accept the federal reserve board will be composed in addition of the following:

Members Ex Officio—William G. McAdoo of New York, secretary of the treasury and chairman ex officio of the board; John Skilton Williams of Richmond, Va., comptroller of the currency and member ex officio of the board.

A List of Available Men.

A Californian in the house, who admitted he had not been taken into the president's confidence, said that he believed if a banker from his state were picked he would come from the following list:

Frank B. Anderson, president of the bank of California; Richard M. Welsh, secretary of the California Bankers' association; Herbert Fleischacker of the London-Paris National bank and I. W. Hellman, Jr.

All of these men are San Franciscans.

A report here which bore out the unofficial statement that the western representative would cause surprise was to the effect that he would not be a banker, but probably a student of economic questions with academic experience.

The tender of the chairmanship of the board to ex-Secretary Olney and the selection of Mr. Warburg as New York's representative were predicted. The question of greatest interest in the president's selections aside from the identity of the western member relates to Mr. Olney's attitude toward the offer. Strong doubt existed in the minds of many persons in the capital that Mr. Olney will accept.

It was pointed out that he refused the ambassadorship to Great Britain last year, giving as his most important reason his advanced age. He is now seventy-eight years old, and although he is vigorous it is difficult to convince some persons familiar with his present attitude toward arduous official duties that he will be willing to undertake the great task of heading the body which is to install the new currency system.

Visited by Colonel House.

Mr. Olney was visited in Boston last week by Colonel E. H. House of Texas, who informed him of the president's desire to name him chairman of the board. He consented to take the matter under consideration, but his final answer has not yet been sent to the White House.

If Mr. Olney accepts he will represent New England on the board. Mr. Warburg will represent the east, Mr. Harding the south, Mr. Wheeler the middle west, and the fifth member will represent the far west.

The president under the provisions of the Glass-Owen currency law is empowered to select the five members of the board aside from the secretary of the treasury and the comptroller of the currency with due consideration to geographical, financial and commercial requirements. He is specifically forbidden to select more than one member from any one of the twelve reserve districts which have been designated by the organization committee of the reserve board.

The five members of the board named by the president are required to devote their entire time to the business of the reserve system and are allowed an annual salary of $12,000 each. They are debarred from holding any position in any member bank of the reserve system during their incumbency and for two years thereafter.

RAILWAY STRIKE THREATENS

Officials of Boston and Maine to Confer With Engineers and Firemen.

Boston, May 5.—The possibility of a strike of engine drivers and firemen on the Boston & Maine railroad hinged on a conference to be held between officials of the road and a joint committee of the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and of Firemen and Enginemen. The officials had agreed to announce their final decision as to whether they would grant the demands of the men for a remedying of grievances regarding hours of labor and train runs.

The brotherhood representatives had announced that in case of an adverse decision a strike vote would be ordered at once. The claim of the engineers and firemen was that the company had violated the terms of the working agreement with its employees.

Pillows for the library or living room may be made of very inexpensive materials such as linens, cotton poplin, burlap and jute fabrics. Stenciling, braiding and simple embroidery are all suitable for decorating these pillows.

The stencil design, No. 14431 may be developed in one or more shades of brown, green or blue and, if desired, it may be accentuated with outline stitch. This design is two inches wide and the pattern also includes a motif for a border 3 inches wide, and a lamp shade design 14 inches wide and 8 inches high.

Stenciling is very simple to do, and anyone who follows the directions carefully need have no trouble. The main points to be remembered are: to always have a dry blotter beneath the material, and to rub the brush almost dry before applying it to the fabric.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer pattern will be supplied to readers for 15 cents.

Some Cookery Suggestions

NEW ASPARAGUS.

THE advent of fresh green asparagus makes possible the preparation of many tempting additions to the menu. Among them may be mentioned the following:

Asparagus With Carrots.—Boil the young carrots and cut them in small pieces. Mix them with an equal quantity of asparagus, boiled tender and cut in short lengths. Cover with cream sauce or else make a drawn butter dressing, using the water in which the carrots were cooked for the foundation.

A Variety of Foods.

Asparagus and Macaroni.—To prepare it, cook the asparagus until tender, and in the meantime cook macaroni in cold, salted water until it, too, is tender. Drain both and put the asparagus, very hot, on a dish. Surround it with the macaroni, cut in short lengths and mixed with melted butter, so that it will not be sticky. Season both with salt and pepper, sprinkle with grated cheese and serve at once.

Asparagus Vol au Vont.—Remove crusts from a five cent baker's loaf in four places and cut out the center of each so as to leave a box shaped case, having walls three-fourths inch in thickness. Beat three eggs, add six tablespoonsful of milk and season with one-fourth teaspoonful of salt. Dip bread case in mixture and turn until soaked. Drain, fry in deep fat, fill with creamed asparagus.

A Vegetable Novelty.

Asparagus Omelet.—Cut two inches off the tops of one bunch of asparagus, wash and boil carefully until tender. Break into a bowl four fresh eggs, add a pinch of salt, a dash of pepper and four tablespoonsful of hot water. Beat one minute. Put on the fire a very smooth frying pan, in which heat, but not brown, one teaspoonful of butter. Pour the beaten eggs into the pan, and after a few seconds the fold will form; it will form again quickly, and after the third forming the omelet is sufficiently done to receive the asparagus tips, which should be poured in the center. Have a hot platter ready, slip the omelet half way in the platter and allow the other half to fall over and envelop the asparagus. Garnish the omelet with asparagus.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — Marion's Fern Garden Flourished In the Spring.

DADDY thought there was nothing nicer for children to be interested in than flowers. To be sure, Jack and Evelyn were devoted to them. Now that the nice spring weather had come, they spent hours every day roaming in the woods and fields getting all kinds of lovely flowers. These they would arrange themselves, and they always had one especially beautiful or rare bunch for the desk in daddy's study.

"You know I have a splendid idea for you children," said daddy one evening.

"What is it?" cried both the children. "Do tell us about it!"

"Well," continued daddy, "I once heard of a little girl named Marion whose greatest pride was her fern garden, or 'fernery,' as she called it."

"Oh, couldn't we have a fern garden?" asked Evelyn right away.

"I am so glad you are interested in my idea," said daddy, "for a fernery is just the thing for you and Jack to have, I think, and you will find it is a great joy, for every year the ferns will come up again. You can take that nice little shady bed under the lilac trees in the garden, and then I will tell you the way Marion arranged hers."

"I think ferns are lovely," said Jack, "and I can dig big holes to put the roots in, so they'll be sure to live."

"That's the way," said daddy. "I see you know just what ferns need. And now to tell you more about Marion's fernery."

"Marion had a little shady bed, much the same as the one you two children are to have. Every spring at just about this time she would go into the woods with a trowel and basket and pick out the loveliest ferns. These she would carry home in her basket. Then in the shady afternoon she would go to her fernery with a watering pot. First she would dig a little hole, and then she would put some water in it to see that the roots of the fern got plenty of moisture, for that is what ferns love. Then she would put the root of the fern in the hole and put soft earth firmly around it. After she had planted her ferns she watered them some more, for she was very careful that her ferns should be planted just right, and that is why she had such good luck with them."

"Every spring she would add to her fernery, and the ferns that she had planted the year before came up more beautifully than ever."

"She would get interesting looking rocks and stones and put them between ferns here and there in the little fernery. It was very delightful to see the plants come up in the spring and then go to the woods and get some more beautiful ones. She was very particular, you may be sure, to get nice young ones, for they are the best to transplant."

"We'll start ours tomorrow, won't we, Jack?" said Evelyn.

CHAPTER XVII.

At the Brick Store.

THERE were two grand places for gossip in the community, the old tavern on the Edgewood side of the bridge and the brick store in Riverboro. The company at the Edgewood tavern would be a trifle different in character, more picturesque, imposing and eclectic because of the transient guests that gave it change and variety. Here might be found a judge or a lawyer on his way to court, a sheriff with a handcuffed prisoner, a farmer or two stopping on the road to market with a cartful of produce and an occasional teamster, peddler and stage driver. On winter nights champion story tellers like Jed Morrill and Rish Bixby would drop in and hang their woolen neck comforters on the pegs along the wall side, where there were already hats, topcoats and fur mufflers, as well as stacks of whips, canes and oxgoads standing in the corners. They would then enter the room, rubbing their hands genially and, nodding to Companion Pike, Cephas Cole, Phil Perry and others, ensconce themselves snugly in the group by the great open fireplace. The landlord was always glad to see them enter, for their stories, though old to him, were new to many of the assembled company and had a remarkable effect on the consumption of liquid refreshment.

On summer evenings gossip was languid in the village, and if any occurred at all it would be on the loafers' bench at one or the other side of the bridge. When cooler weather came the group of local wits gathered in Riverboro, either at Uncle Bart's joiner's shop or at the brick store, according to fancy. The latter place was perhaps the favorite for Riverboro talkers. It was a large, two story square brick building, with a big mouthed chimney and an open fire. When every house in the two villages had six feet of snow around it roads would always be broken to the brick store, and a crowd of ten or fifteen men would be gathered there talking, listening, betting, smoking, chewing, bragging, playing checkers, singing and "swapping stories."

Some of the men had been through the war of 1812 and could display wounds received on the field of valor, others were still prouder of scars won in encounters with the Indians and there was one old codger, a revolutionary veteran, Bill Dunham by name, who would add bloody tales of his encounters with the "Hushions."

"'Tis an awful sin to have on your soul," Bill would say from his place in a dark corner, where he would sit with his hat pulled over his eyes till the psychological moment came for the "Hushions" to be trotted out. "'Tis an awful sin to have on your soul," the excommunication of a race or men, even if they were no more'n so many ignorant cockroaches. Them was the great days for fightin'! The Hushions was the biggest sin I ever seen on the field, most of 'em standin' six feet eight in their stockin's—but Lord how we wallowed 'em! Once we had a cannon mounted an' loaded for 'em that was so large we had to draw the ball into it with a yoke of oxen!"

Bill paused from force of habit, just as he had paused for the last twenty years. There had been times when roars of facetious laughter had greeted this boast, but most of this particular group had heard the yarn more than once and let it pass with a smile and a wink, remembering the night that Abel Day had asked old Bill how they got the oxen out of the cannon on that most memorable occasion.

"Oh," said Bill, "that was easy enough. We just yoked 'em an' turned 'em out of the primin' hole!"

It was only early October, but there had been a killing frost, and Ezra Simms, who kept the brick store, hung some shavings and small wood on the hearth and lighted a blaze, just to induce a little trade and start conversation on what threatened to be a dull evening. Peter Morrill, Jed's eldest brother, had lately returned from a long trip through the state and into New Hampshire and his adventures by field and flood were always worth listening to. He went about the country mending clocks and so many an old timepiece still bears his name, with the date of repairing written in pencil on the inside of the door.

There was never any lack of subjects at the brick store, the idiosyncrasies of the neighbors being the most prolific source of anecdote and comment. Whenever all else failed there was always the latest story of Deacon Baxter's parsimony, in which the village traced the influence of heredity. "He can't hardly help it, inheritin' it on both sides," was Abel Day's opinion. "The Baxters was allers snazzy from time 'memorial, and Foxy's the suggest of 'em. When I look at his ugly mug an' hear his sharlin' voice I thinks to myself, he's goin' the same way his father did. When old Levi Baxter was left a widder man in that house o' his'n up river he grew wuss an' wuss, if you remember, till he wa'n't hardly human at the last, and I don't believe Foxy even went up to his own father's funeral."

"'Twould a served old Levi right if nobody else had gone," said Rish Bixby. "When his wife died he refused to come into the house till the last minute. He stayed to work in the barn till all the folks had assembled and even the men were all settin' down on benches in the kitchen. The parson sent me out for him, and I'm blest if the old skunk didn't come in through the crowd with his sleeves rolled up—went to the sink and washed, and then set down in the room where the coffin was, as cool as a cucumber."

"I remember that funeral well," corroborated Abel Day. "An' Mis' Day heard Levi say to his daughter, as soon as they'd put poor old Mrs. Baxter int' the grave, 'Come on, Marthy; there's no use cryin' over spilt milk; we'd better go home an' busk out the rest o' that corn.' Old Foxy could have inherited plenty o' meanness from his father, that's certain, an' he's added to his inheritance right along, like the thrifty man he is. I hate to think o' them two fine girls wearin' their fingers to the bone for his benefit."

"Oh, well, 'twon't last forever," said Rish Bixby. "They're the han'somest couple o' girls on the river, an' they'll get husbands afore many years. Patience I'll have one pretty soon, by the looks. She never budges an inch but Mark Wilson or Phil Perry are follerin' behind, with Cephas Cole watchin' his chance right along too. Waitstill don't seem to have no beaux; what with flyin' around to keep up with the deacon an' bein' a mother to Patience, her hands is full, I guess."

"If things was a little mite different all round I could prognosticate who Waitstill could keep house for," was Peter Morrill's opinion.

"You mean Ivory Boynton? Well, if the deacon was asked he'd never give his consent, that's certain, an' Ivory ain't in no position to keep a wife anyways. What was it you heard 'bout Aaron Boynton up to New Hampshire, Peter?" asked Abel Day.

"Considerable, one way an' another, an' none of it would a been any comfort to Ivory. I guess Aaron 'n' Jake Cochran was both of 'em more interested in savin' the sisters' souls than the brothers'. Aaron was a fine appearin' man, and so was Jake for that matter, 'n' they both had the gift o' gab. There's nothin' like a liffber tongue if you want to please the women folks. If report says true, Aaron died of a fever out in Ohio some-where, Cortland's the place, I b'lieve. Seems 's if he hid his trail all the way from New Hampshire somehow, for as a usual thing a man o' book learnin' like him would be remembered wherever he went. Wouldn't you call Aaron Boynton a turrible 'larned man, Timothy?"

Timothy Grant, the parish clerk, had just entered the store on an errand; but, being directly addressed and judging that the subject under discussion was a discreet one and that it was too early in the evening for drinking to begin, he joined the group by the fireplace. He had preached in Vermont for several years as an itinerant Methodist minister before settling down to farming in Edgewood, only giving up his profession because his quiver was so full of little Grants that a wanderin' life was difficult and undesirable. When Uncle Bart Cole had remarked that Mis' Grant had a little of everything in the way of baby stock now—black, red an' yaller haired, dark and light complexioned, fat an' lean, tall an' short, twins an' singles—Jed Morrill had observed dryly, "Yes, Mis' Grant kind o' reminds me of charity."

"How's that?" inquired Uncle Bart. "She beareth all things," chuckled Jed. "Aaron Boynton was indeed a man of most adhesive larnin'," agreed Timothy, who had the reputation of the largest and most unusual vocabulary in Edgewood. "Next to Jacob Cochran I should say Aaron had more grandeloquence as an orator than any man we've ever had in these parts. It don't seem 's if Ivory was goin' to take after his father that way. The little feller, now, is smart 's a whip an' could talk the tail off a brass monkey."

"Yes, but Rodman ain't no kin to the Boyntons," Abel reminded him. "He inhails from the other side o' the house."

"That's so. Well, Ivory does for certain, an' takes after his mother, right enough, for she hain't spoken a dozen words in as many years, I guess. Ivory's got a sight o' book knowledge, though, an' they do say he could talk Greek an' Latin both, if we had any of 'em in the community to converse with. I've never paid no intention to the dead languages, bein' so clobbered with other studies."

"Why do they call 'em the dead languages, Tim?" asked Rish Bixby. "Because all them that ever spoke 'em has perished on the face o' the land," Timothy answered oracularly. "Dead an' gone they be, lock, stock and barrel; yet there was a time when Latins an' Crustaceans an' Hebrews an' Proshians an' Australians an' Siamesians was chatterin' away in their own tongues, an' so powful that they was wallopin' the whole earth, you might say."

"I bet yer they never tried to wallop these here United States," intercalated Bill Dunham from the dark corner by the molasses hoghead.

"Is Ivory in here?" The door opened and Rodman Boynton appeared on the threshold.

"No, sonny, Ivory ain't been in this evenin'," replied Ezra Simms. "I hope there ain't nothin' the matter over to your house?"

"No, nothing particular," the boy answered, "only Aunt Boynton don't seem so well as common, and I can't find Ivory anywhere."

"Come along with me, I'll help you look for him, an' then I'll go as far as the lane with yer if we don't find him."

"Mis' Boynton's had a spell, I guess!" suggested the storekeeper, peering through the door into the darkness. "Tain't like Ivory to be out nights and leave her to Rod."

"She don't have no spells," said Abel Day. "Uncle Bart sees consid'able of Ivory, an' he says his mother is as quiet as a lamb. Couldn't you git no kind of a certificate of Aaron's death out o' that Enfield feller, Peter? Seems 's if that poor woman oughter be stopp'd watchin' for a dead man; tucker in herself all out an' keepin' Ivory an' the boy all nerved up."

"I've told Ivory everything I could gather up in the way of information and give him the names of the folks in Ohio that had writ back to New Hampshire. I didn't dilate on Aaron's goin's on in Edgewood and Portsmouth, 'cause I dassay 'twas nothin' but scandal. Them as hates the Cochranites I'll never allow there's any good in 'em, whereas I've met some as is servin' the Lord good an' constant an' indigin' in no kind of foolishness an' deviltry whatsoever."

"Speakin' o' Hushions," said Bill Dunham from his corner, "I remember—"

"We wa'n't alludin' to no Hushions," retorted Timothy Grant. "We was talkin' with the misfortunes of Aaron Boynton, who never fit valorously on the field o' battle, but perished out in Ohio of scarlet fever, if what they say in Enfield is true."

"'Tis an easy death," remarked Bill argumentatively. "Scarlet fever don't seem like nothin' to me! Many's the time I've been close enough to fire at the eyeball of a Hushion an' run the risk o' bein' blowed to smithereens;—calm and cool I allers was too! Scarlet fever is an easy death from a warrior's pint o' view!"

"Speakin' of easy death," continued Timothy, "you know I'm a great one for words, bein' something of a scholar in my small way. Maybe you noticed that Elder Boone used a strange word in his sermon last Sunday? Words air curious things sometimes, as I know, bein' had consid'able leisure time to read when I was joggin' 'bout the country an' bein' brought into contact with men o' larnin'."

The way I worked it out, not wishin' to ask Parson any more questions, bein' something of a scholar myself, is this: The youth in Ashy is a peculiar kind o' youth, 'n' their religion disposes 'em to lay no kind o' stress on humin' life. When anything goes wrong 'with 'em an' they get a set back in war or business, or affairs with women folks, they want to die right off, so they take a sword an' stan' it straight up wherever they happen to be, in the shed or the barn or the henhouse, an' they p'int the sharp end right to their waist line, where the bowels an' other vital organisms is located, an' then they fall on to it. It runs 'em right through to the back an' kills 'em like a shot, and that's the way I cal'late the youth in Ashy dies, if my entomology is correct, as it gen'ally is.

"Don't seem an easy death to me," argued Ezra, "but I ain't no scholar. What college did you attend to, Tim?" "I don't hold no diplomas," responded Timothy, "though I attended the Wareham academy quite a spell, the same time as your sister was goin' to Wareham seminary where eddication is still bein' disseminated though of an awful poor kind compared to the old times."

"It's live an' larn," said the storekeeper respectfully. "I never thought of a seminary bein' a place of dissemination before, but you can see the two words is near kin."

"You can't allers tell by the sound," said Timothy instructively. "Some-times two words 'll start from the same root an' branch out diff'rent, like 'critter' an' 'hypocritter.' A 'hypocritter' must natcherally start by bein' a 'critter,' but a critter ain't obliged to be a 'hypocritter' 'thout he wants to."

"I should hope not," intercalated Abel Day jocosely. "Entomology must be an awful interestin' study, though I never thought of observin' words myself, 'cept to avoid vulgar language an' profanity."

"Hushions a curious word for a man," intercalated Bill Dunham with a last despairing effort. "I remember seein' a Hushion once that."

"Perhaps you ain't one to observe closely, Abel," said Timothy, not taking note of any interruption, simply using the time to direct a stream of tobacco juice to an incredible distance, but landing it neatly in the exact spot he had intended. "It's a brand by itself, you might say, observin' is, an' there's another singular corruption! The Whigs in foreign parts, so they say, build stone towers to observe the evil machinations of the Tories, an' so the word 'observatory' come into general use! All entomology; nothin' but entomology!"

"I don't see where in thunder you picked up so much larnin', Timothy?" It was Abel Day's exclamation, but every one agreed with him.

JUDGE CONGDON IS LAID AT REST

Jersey Notables Attend Funeral at Paterson.

FLAGS IN CITY AT HALF MAST

Church Filled With Mourners, Among Whom Were Judges of State Supreme Court and Court of Errors and Appeals, of Which Deceased Was Lay Member.

Paterson, N. J., May 5.—Flags on all public buildings and silk mills in this city were at half mast out of respect for the late Judge Joseph W. Congdon, who was a leader in the silk industry here and whose funeral was held from the Second Presbyterian church, which was filled with mourners, among whom were judges of the New Jersey supreme court and court of errors and appeals, of which the deceased was a lay member; city officials, many prominent silk manufacturers, bankers and Masonic dignitaries.

In compliance with the request made by Judge Congdon in his will, there were no flowers at his bier, and the money which would otherwise have been spent for flowers was turned over to the hospitals of the city.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Hugh D. MacCauley, pastor of the church. Rev. D. Stuart Hamilton delivered the eulogy. Masonic services were conducted by members of the grand lodge, of which Judge Congdon was a past grand master. Members of the Paterson Light guards and the old First battalion, N. G. N. J., and grand lodge of Masons marched in a body from the Hamilton club to the church.

The honorary pallbearers were former Governor John W. Griggs, Chief Justice William S. Gummere of the New Jersey supreme court, John Macgregor, Charles N. Sterrett, Benjamin Tilt, William Berdon, Edward T. Bell, Albert A. Wilcox. Burial was in Cedar Lawn cemetery.

TO DISCUSS NEW TAX LAW.

New Jersey Bankers' Association to Meet in Atlantic City Friday.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 5.—Discussion of the bank tax law, passed by the last legislature, and the action of the federal organization committee in including northern New Jersey in the Philadelphia district of the new regional system will feature in the eleventh annual convention of the New Jersey Bankers' association, which will be held here Friday and Saturday, in the Hotel Chelsea.

Speakers will include Governor James F. Fielder, Representative Carter Glass, chairman of the committee on banking and currency of the house of representatives; former Representative Martin W. Littleton, and B. F. Harris, chairman of the agricultural committee of the American Bankers' association.

TELLER MAY REVEAL ALL.

Employee of Wrecked Trust Company Threatens to Expose Officers.

Newark, N. J., May 5.—A. Randolph Jennings, a teller in the wrecked Roseville Trust company, pleaded non vult in the court of oyer and terminer to eight indictments charging that he willfully omitted to record eight certified checks. Judge Osborne said that Jennings probably would not be sentenced until the rest of the bank cases have been disposed of.

Jennings may be called as a witness by the state in the conspiracy cases that will be tried May 25 before Chief Justice Gummere. Raymond E. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the wrecked bank, and those alleged to have been involved in looting the bank are defendants.

SEMINARY FAILS TO GET HEAD

Right Man Eludes Directors of Princeton Institution.

Princeton, N. J., May 5.—The directors of the Princeton seminary failed to elect a president of the institution at their annual meeting. It had been expected that the directors would choose a successor to Dr. Francis L. Patton, who tendered his resignation a year ago. One of the committee said that the selection of a man was "up in the air."

Professor Benjamin B. Warfield, the senior member of the faculty, was named as president pro tem. for a term of one year. Dr. Warfield has been acting as president since Dr. Patton's resignation.

They are charged with robbing the Maywood and Oceanport postoffices and beating Miss Susie Speith, postmistress at Maywood. The alleged yeggmen will be held for the federal grand jury.

DUNELLEN BORO ADOPTS BUDGET

Estimate Expenses for the Coming Year to Be $13,161.50.

LESS FRANCHISE TAX

The adoption of the annual budget was the principal business before the Dunellen Council at its May meeting, last night. The total estimate of expenses of the borough for the coming year is $13,161.50, less $8,806.55 as income from hotel licenses, second-class railroad and franchise tax, making the actual amount $9,354.95.

The various items of expense are made up as follows: Streets, $4,100; fire and water, $1,042; sidewalks, $835; finance, $3,402.50; law and ordinance, $1,200; building and parks, $530; lighting, $2,052. The ordinance was adopted on two readings and ordered advertised.

The Council received a number of petitions which were quickly disposed of. Following a communication from the Tidewater Oil Company, relative to furnishing oil for streets, and a discussion of the question, the matter was referred to the street committee with instructions to report the number of square yards that are deemed necessary to be covered this year.

The Watchung Investment Company in a petition requested that the grade be established on the northerly side of Penfield place. This was referred to the proper committee. R. F. Bogardus and A. P. Sampson complained about the dusty condition of the New Market road which is maintained by the county. As yet the county has done no oiling. A water wagon has been used to some extent, but not with much satisfaction. This matter will be taken up with the county authorities.

The map of Columbia Park was submitted by Frederick Harrington and approved by the Council. This tract lies east of Columbia and Orange streets. The street committee submitted a bill of $179.15 for the removal of snow along North avenue and the Bound Brook road and directed the clerk to notify the Public Service Corporation of its share of this expense, which is one-half the amount.

Mrs. Ellabeth Merschmitt opposed the ordinance to lay a concrete sidewalk on North avenue, west of Chestnut street, to the Hall Printing Press Works, on account of the condition of the cinder path. However, the Council passed this ordinance and that for the flagging of Front street, east of Madison avenue, on first and second readings and ordered the same advertised.

Mayor E. B. Latham presented the Council with three electric chandeliers, which he had installed and the lighting of the new quarters, which were used last night for the first time is perfect with this gift of the Mayor. The Council directed Mr. Haight to lay a pipe across his driveway on the northerly side of Walnut street as the water is held up by this obstruction and fills up the gutter for a considerable distance. The street committee was directed to repair the holes on North avenue from Jefferson to Washington avenues with the use of Tarvia and fine stone. The sidewalk committee reported that the owners of property along Lincoln avenue would lay their walks and did not think an ordinance necessary.

SAVING SYSTEMATICALLY

Everyone will admit that it is desirable to save some part of his income; also, that if this saving is done systematically, the account will increase more rapidly. Most persons open savings accounts and then promptly forget them.

In order to make saving effective, we have inaugurated a 4 per cent. Installment Bond Plan which has many original features.

Deposits of from $1 to $25 monthly may be made for 36 months, and at the end of that time all you have paid in may be withdrawn together with 4% interest. In the mean time, if necessity requires it, 80% of the amount paid in may be borrowed; or payments may be discontinued at any time and the amount paid in, withdrawn.

This plan will help YOU save. Begin now.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.
