

TELLS OF FIGHT WITH MEXICANS

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

"Spicks" Flee in Terror at Sight of
U. S. Marines—Many Killed and Others Taken as Prisoners—10-000 Firearms Captured.

A graphic description of the clash between United States Marines and Mexicans at Vera Cruz is given in a letter received by James McNeil, of West Third street, from Benjamin Corrigan, a Plainfield boy, who is attached to the Battleship "Arkansas." The writer was among the first detachment of Uncle Sam's men to go ashore when the deadly fire was poured down on the marines as they seized the custom house. Corrigan escaped being hit by the rain of bullets and with a company of bluejackets was rushed to the streets to stop the fusillade. It took only a short time to kill the ringleaders of the "spicks" as the Mexicans are termed, after which most of the others broke and ran.

"We must have killed at least 1,000 of the 'spicks,' writes Corrigan, 'while twice that number were taken prisoners. As we rushed through the streets to put an end to 'sniping,' some of the Mexicans hailed us with a hail of bullets and others caught and kissed our hands, imploring us in piteous tones to spare their lives. It was an awful sight on the streets after we got through the first charge. Dead 'spicks' were to be seen everywhere and those of us who were new to the game realized General Sherman told the truth when he gave his famous interpretation of what war is. Blood ran in streams along the streets, but nobody had time to be affected by it as there was too much to do before we were safe from contributing some of our own red corpses to the rivulets. We lost five killed and twenty or more wounded. We captured a fort with 10,000 firearms, one of our best finds. We let our prisoners go after awhile, but warned them if they attempted any shooting, we would kill everybody in the town. The warning evidently made an impression as we were not bothered after the first day."

Corrigan adds the belief that there will be no more war with the Mexicans as badly scared by the American display of strength. The marines, bluejackets and troops were all on guard at the time of writing but they had little to do.

PRISONER ALLEGES ACCUSER SUFFERS FROM "COLD FEET"

John Dominic appeared before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court this morning, to answer to charges preferred by Nicholas Cavanaugh, of Arlington avenue, who alleged that the defendant sent him "black hand" letters threatening his life. Cavanaugh, who is a missionary, has been rounding up his neighbors during the past week and swearing out daily summons for their appearance in court.

When the complainant appeared before Judge DeMeza yesterday morning to press the charges against Dominic the court informed him of the seriousness of the complaint and he said he had turned the alleged "black hand" letters over to the postal authorities, who had requested him to drop the charges and that they would be taken up by the government.

The court refused to dismiss the case against Dominic, however, and the complainant and defendant were ordered to appear this morning with witnesses. Cavanaugh failed to show up today and the case was dismissed. In a statement to the court the defendant said that his accuser had been attacked with a sudden illness which he personally diagnosed as "cold feet."

JOHNSON APPREHENDED FOR HORSE STEALING

Colored Man Arrested in Newark Charged With Taking Animal From This City.

William Johnson, colored, of this city, was apprehended by the Newark police this morning, as a suspect wanted by the Plainfield police department for the theft of a horse from the barn of the Leader store in West Front street after 11 o'clock last night. Jacob Sklarew, proprietor of the store, notified the local authorities this morning that someone had taken his horse and wagon from the barn during the night and requested that a lookout for the thief be kept.

Information reached the police shortly before noon today that Johnson was employed by Sklarew up to last night and, when his arrest followed in Newark, Chief Kiely immediately requested his detention until the matter was investigated. Johnson sold the horse in Newark for $30 and will be brought to Plainfield to face charges Monday morning.

The accused is well known about town, having been employed as a handy man by a number of professional men in the business section up until a few months ago, when he was arrested on a charge of stealing money from an employee. Since that time he has figured in the police court frequently and has been under police surveillance.

SCOTT BUILDING TWO PRESSES FOR CANADA

Montreal Papers Will Soon
Be Printed on Products of Local Works.

Recent editions of Canadian papers have printed articles of interest to all Plainfielders who are interested in the success of the city from a manufacturing point of view. They have told of the installations of material manufactured by Walter Scott and Company at their big press works here. The Montreal Daily Mail of Tuesday said:

"J. D. Scott, of Walter Scott & Co., of Plainfield, N. J., the celebrated press builders, is in Montreal completing arrangements for installing in The Daily Mail pressroom, a second machine which will double The Daily Mail's press capacity.

"The work when completed will give octuple capacity and will provide ample facilities for printing both The Daily Mail and The Evening News. Mr. Scott gave orders that work on the press should be carried on night and day in order that installation may be complete when The Evening News is ready for publication, the week of May 25th."

In another part of the same paper the following was said about the Scott installation:

"Coincident with the arrangements for independent news services a contract was entered into with Walter Scott & Co., of Plainfield, N. J., the celebrated press manufacturers, for doubling the present press capacity of The Daily Mail. This new press is now nearing completion and orders have been given to rush work, night and day in order that it may be installed and ready for operation before the end of the month. With these new additions, The Daily Mail and Evening News will have a press of octuple capacity, equal in size and production to the largest press in the Dominion."

In a recent issue the Montreal Star the greatest paper in Canada printed the following:

"While the new Hoe press equipment for The Star is being installed in the expectation that it will be in operation this week, Walter Scott & Co., the celebrated Press builders, have engaged to build a Magazine section press for The Star capable of printing 72,000 papers per hour."

"The Star pressroom is getting to be one of the sights of Montreal. The new Scott outfit will add to its efficiency and to its attractions."

WILD CHASE FOR BOY IN BOX CAR

Edward Daniels, Wanted for Theft of Copper Wire,
Finally Apprehended.

THREE ARE ARRESTED

Small Boys Charged With Stealing and Cutting up Valuable Metal, Arraigned in Court This Morning
—Case Dismissed.

After a wild chase through the streets of the West End, yesterday afternoon, Edward Daniels, one of the boys wanted by the police for the alleged stealing of copper wire from the tracks of the New Jersey Central, finally landed in the police net and was arraigned in the city court this morning together with John Donnelly and Cornelius Connelley. Informed by Clarence Miller, of 1419 Wilver street that three boys were getting away with a big bag of copper wire, Patrolman Tobias Nolan gave chase to the two but Daniels finally got away.

After pursuing his quarry through the streets for a mile or more, Nolan lost track of the man. A former local policeman, who had been a witness to the chase, saw Daniels board a slowly moving freight train near the Cadmus Mills on South Second street, and jumping on a wheel, gave chase. He kept abreast of the freight until it reached the North avenue station, when he notified Patrolman Dennis O'Keefe that a fugitive was covered in the bottom of a box car.

O'Keefe boarded the train and took Daniels off. In the meantime Nolan had arrested the two smaller boys and later landed them in police headquarters. When the trio were arraigned for hearing this morning, Daniels, who appeared to be the ringleader, admitted that he and his younger companions had taken the wire for the express purpose of selling it as junk. They had cut it into small pieces and put it in a big canvas bag, the loot being recovered later by Nolan. Much conflicting evidence was presented to the court and considerable difficulty was encountered by the court in getting at the true facts of the case. The boys alleged that Miller had appeared on the West Front street where they were arrested, with a bicycle and told them to take the wire. Miller denied this, stating that he came to the place in question to plant potatoes.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR TROLLEY CAR ROWDY

First Offender to Be Apprehended in Crusade to Abolish This Nuisance.

Boarding an east-bound MaJo line trolley car at the Watchung avenue station shortly after 8 o'clock last night, James Moore, a cripple, who claims residence in Philadelphia, caused such a rumpus that he had to be taken from the car at Westfield and lodged in the police station at that place by Patrolman Detar. Arraigned in Westfield this morning charged with disorderly conduct, Moore was fined $20. In default of bail he was committed to the county jail for twenty days.

Moore, according to the police, was under the influence of liquor. Between the Plainfield station and Beland avenue he occupied his time trying to instruct the motorman in Quaker City methods of running cars and indulged in a lot of profanity. The Westfield authorities were notified and were waiting for the man's arrival.

In speaking of the incident this morning an official of the trolley company said that this was the first active step in a campaign to eliminate rowdism on cars and all offenders will be prosecuted by the company's representatives.

PRISONER ADMITS HE ROBBED METERS

Briggs Apprehended by Detective Sergeant Flynn
Solves Many Mysteries.

In the arrest of John Briggs, of 611 West Fourth street, Detective Sergeant John Flynn accomplished the first real step in the clearing up of a number of gas meter robberies that have been committed in local houses in Plainfield where the prisoner has admitted his guilt upon cross-examination and Flynn expects to solve many other mysteries before he turns the prisoners over to the Grand Jury for arraignment.

Briggs' admissions include the robbery of gas meters in six different houses and he may be connected with many of the rest during the day. Arraigned before City Judge W. G. DeMeza in the city court this morning he was remanded back until Monday and in the meantime Flynn will conduct a further investigation.

The prisoner came to this city from Philadelphia, where he has a wide reputation as a crook. He admits that he has been "mugged" by the Philadelphia authorities and that his finger prints are on file in Pennsylvania.

DEFER AWARD OF SCHOOL CONTRACT

Board of Education Will Take
Final Action at Monday Night's Session.

The Board of Education at its meeting last night, postponed action on the three bids recently received for the completion of the High School addition, until Monday night, when a special meeting will be held for the purpose of giving the low bidder, John S. Dahl, an opportunity to comply with the requirements of the board regarding the furnishing of a bond, etc., which will be demanded before any bid is accepted.

It is expected, however, that final action will be taken not later than Monday night, and as Mr. Dahl was requested to present a bid by the board at the request of Messrs. C. C. Randolph, W. A. Garribus, and Charles Loizeaux, a committee of the creditors, there is no reason to believe that he will be unable to comply with the reasonable financial requirements which the Board of Education is very properly making in giving out this contract in order to protect itself and the public from a repetition of the Exner trouble.

It is understood that Mr. Dahl, in anticipation of the contract, has made necessary preparation to start work on the building within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid.

His attorney, Isaac Runyon, was in conference with the clerk of the Board yesterday in regard to the terms of the contract, which it is known will include a stringent provision for the protection of the local material men and sub-contractors, whom it is expected Mr. Dahl will employ.

The other important business of the meeting was the presentation by a committee of the Open-Air School of a request that the school pay the salary of the Open-Air school nurse next year.

The board took the matter under advisement, and it is known that the members are disposed to comply with this request provided that the necessary appropriation can be obtained for the work when the Board of School Estimate meets next week.

BOROUGH MAY REQUIRE LICENSES FOR AUTO BUSES

Recent discussion concerning the licensing of the auto-buses which make runs from this city to South Plainfield on one side and Mount Bethel and Watchung on the other side, has led the North Plainfield Common Council to believe that the borough would be able to secure license fees from the Plainfield Transit Company. From present indications, the matter will be considered by the borough fathers at the next meeting of the Council.

In speaking of the matter this morning with a Daily Press reporter, Mayor Clark intimated that he would be in favor of licensing the vehicles operated through the borough streets by the transit company. He further stated that the license might be issued under present ordinances of the municipality, which covered all description of vehicles operated for the transportation of passengers.

An exhibit of the work done in the various classes of the Y. W. C. A. is being held in the window of Shirley & Johnson's store on West Front street, this afternoon and evening.

NEW YORK COURTS INDICT WALPOLE

Accused Re-arrested by Sergeant Higgins at Noon Today Following Action.

STATE PRISON OFFENSE

Three Counts Found Against Young Man Apprehended Here in Connection with Ruth Naylor Abduction Case.

Lynus Walpole, of Scotch Plains, who has been out on $1,000 bail to await the action of the Union County Grand Jury on a charge of abducting sixteen-years-old Ruth Naylor, was re-arrested at noon today by Sergeant Higgins. Walpole has been indicted in the State of New York on three serious accounts, and will be turned over to the Metropolitan authorities at once.

The indictment signed by District Attorney Charles Whitman, of New York, arrived here yesterday afternoon and Chief Kiely instructed his men to pick up Walpole at sight. Higgins made the arrest while on his way to headquarters at noon. Walpole is alleged to have taken the girl from this city to New York several weeks ago. He was arraigned before Judge DeMeza in the city court and held under bail which was furnished by William Stenbury, of Scotch Plains.

Both Walpole and his alleged victim have made signed confessions of their trip from this city to the Metropolis and these are now in the possession of Chief Kiely. The indictment is signed by the District Attorney with John E. Naylor, of 322 Lee place, father of the girl, and Ruth Naylor, as witnesses. Chief Kiely, together with Mr. Naylor and his daughter visited the district attorney in New York Thursday afternoon when the necessary documents were drawn up for the indictment of the Scotch Plains man.

With the transfer of the case from the New Jersey to the New York courts Walpole's case comes under the head of the Man White Slave act and if found guilty he faces a long term in prison.

George Stephea and Paul Berka, of Hall avenue, Perth Amboy, were arrested on the Lehigh Valley Railroad tracks in South Plainfield, this morning, as alleged copper wire thieves. When apprehended the men carried fifty pounds of the metal.

DeMeza in the city court this morning, Chris Mobis, who drove the automobile that ran down and injured Samuel Hannigan on Liberty street April 10, was exonerated from all blame in the accident. TROUBLE IN STORE FOR LOCAL SONS OF OLD ELY

Princetonians, at Banquet Last Night, Decided to Challenge Them.

Promise of bloodshed in the near future which will make the Mexican war look like a New York east side feud, was made last night when the Princeton Alumni held their annual dinner at Truett Inn and decided to challenge the local Yale men to a series of field day contests at a date which remains to be set. The Princetonians are sure that they can trim representatives of Eli at baseball, golf, tennis, or any other game in which the Yale men may have an idea they are proficient. The challenge will be sent out at once, and the date for the struggle will be set as soon as the Yale men accept.

The dinner last night was an annual affair, and twenty-six graduates of the New Jersey college gathered around the table and talked about the days when they were undergraduates, and about what a great and glorious college they had left when they tackled the problems of life. After the dinner had been concluded officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Samuel T. Carter, Jr., president; Brown Rolston, vice-president; Albert D. Beers, secretary; Percy R. Ransome, treasurer. The nominating committee for next year consists of Henry J. Cochran, Ames Brooks, and Dr. F. E. DuBois.

W. A. CODDINGTON TO WED MISS ST. IVES

Engagement of Well Known Lawyer and Talented Singer Made Known Today.

Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth St. Ives, of New York, for the past two years soprano soloist of the First Baptist church, and former City Judge William A. Coddington, of this city. The fact was made public following a small dinner party given for the couple by Mr. Coddington's aunt, Miss Sarah Fisher, at her home in Bound Brook, Thursday night. There were about twenty guests at the dinner.

Miss St. Ives during the past two years that she has been the soprano soloist at the First Baptist church, has made many friends not only in the church, but throughout the city. She has been making her home in New York for some time, and prior to coming here was soloist at Calvary Baptist church in that city. She is a most estimable woman and has a charming manner. She has resigned her position at the church to take effect June 1.

Mr. Coddington has been engaged in the practice of law in this city for many years. For a long time he was associated with Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed under the firm name of Reed & Coddington, which was dissolved when Mr. Reed made a trip around the world. Since that time Mr. Coddington has continued the practice of law alone. Recently he was appointed a member of the Union County Board of Taxation, succeeding Calvin E. Brodhead, who removed from the city. He has had a successful career and has enjoyed a lucrative practice. Mr. Coddington is a widower, his wife having died within the past two years. No date has been set for the wedding.

ERROR IN PRICES IN ADV. OF WOODHULL AND MARTIN CO.

Typographical errors in the Friday rush of advertising resulted in two mistakes creeping into the advertisement of the Woodhull and Martin Company in the Daily Press of last night. In the wash fabrics item, the price as printed was 79 cents a yard, and it should have been 19 cents a yard. In the bath-room fixtures item, it was made to appear that a lot of nickel plated goods were offered at five cents each, when the price should have been 50 cents. The mistakes are corrected in the advertisement on page 4 today.

INVITED TO TOWN EXHIBIT.

The Plainfield Chamber of Commerce has received and accepted an invitation to attend the town exhibit at Westfield on Tuesday. The chamber has also received a communication from the Elizabeth Board of Trade seeking its support in the protest against the decision which places New Jersey in the same bank reserve district with Philadelphia and detaches it from New York. Under such conditions local banks will be obliged to keep reserve deposits in Philadelphia.

SILLIMAN ALIVE BUT A PRISONER

American Consul at Saltillo is Being Held by Mexican Federals.

LAND ARMS FOR HUERTA

Silliman Will Probably Be Sent to Mexico City With Other Americans and From There Sent to Coast to Take Steamer to United States.

(By Telegram to The Daily Press.)
Washington, D. C., May 9.—United States Consul John R. Silliman is safe, although a prisoner in Saltillo. This word was received by the State Department today through the French legation in Mexico City. The report added that the few Americans left in the city were safe and that no damage had been done American property.

Silliman was found after this government had sought in vain for three weeks for him and the diplomatic machinery of three great nations had been prepared to move at a prisoner in the hands of the Federal troops, it is said, but he is alive and well, and is being treated with consideration.

Efforts are being made to have the consul released immediately, and with a small group of Americans in Saltillo to obtain a safe escort for him to Mexico City. Saltillo is threatened by advancing Constitutionalists, however, and this may be impossible of accomplishment.

Official confirmation of the disappearance into the Mexican lines of Samuel Parks of the 28th Infantry, was received today from General Funston. Parks with two valuable horses rode into the Federal camp and has not been heard from since. General Funston declared the general belief was that Parks had suddenly gone insane. Reports that Park had been put to death, while generally believed have not yet been confirmed.

Secretary Garrison refused to admit today that orders of any sort have gone to the two remaining brigades of the Second Division, now at Galveston. He said, however, that for his supplies, they can be rushed men's notice. The question of the landing of arms for General Huerta from the German vessel reported at Puerto Mexico remains the principal problem of the day. The lack of action prevented the landing, while this government persists in refusing to permit arms to reach the Constitutionalists, is believed to be due to the existence of a generally recognized armistice. The State Department officials, however, decline to discuss the reasons for their inaction.

As no American ships are at Puerto Mexico there is nothing to prevent the landing of the arms and ammunition of war. General Huerta is probably prepared, and has a train waiting ship will sail immediately for a new part of the territory before any move can be made to stop them, and either taken to Mexico City or to General Maas, outside of Vera Cruz. The destination of the ammunition, officials here declare is unknown to them.

The arrival of the refugee steamer Esperanza from Puerto Mexico, was reported from Vera Cruz today. The enlisted in the search. Silliman is Orleans. The Americans on board are those who left Mexico City on the refugee train which left there under Brazilian protection some days ago, and 90 Americans who deserted San Luis Potosi a few days prior to the departure of the train from the capital.

Another American is reported killed by Federal troops. General Funston cabled the War Department from Vera Cruz that an investigation is being made. Secretary Garrison refused to admit today that orders of any sort have gone to the two remaining brigades of the second division now at Galveston. He said, however, that they are prepared to move at a moment's notice.

The Monitor Ozark, tender of the submarine flotilla, is reported today steaming for Tampico from Key West. The significance of this move became apparent when it was announced that the draught of the vessel made it possible for it to proceed up the Panuco River opposite Tampico. The Ozark is one of the few vessels in the navy armed with 12-inch guns which can manoeuvre in shoal water.

San Diego, May 9.—A wireless dispatch from the U. S. S. California, stationed at Mazatlan, says that the fall of Mazatlan seems imminent.

Juarez, May 9, 1914.—A detachment of 400 rebel cavalry left here today headed for Torreon, where they will join General Villas army. Their departure leaves only 500 troops in Juarez. The Rebels are preparing to attack Monclava, the capital of the State of Coahuila, and the most northerly point held by the Federals, whose garrison consists of less than 400 men.

ROYAL A. C. PLANNING FOR BANNER SEASON

Present Indications Point to a Big Year for the Colored Stars Here.

Manager William Kline of the Royal A. C. baseball team, is rounding up his men for the coming season and has a fine array of material for a 1914 team. Dick Warrick, his scout, has secured some fine men and Kline expects to have one of the fastest lineups that has represented Plainfield in colored baseball circles.

His outfield will consist of Kline, Coleman, Madden and Somerset and this quartet is noted for its great hitting ability. Kline has three good pitchers in Hall, Ford and Jackson and Ford will probably be the bulk of the work. Jackson is a south paw with fine speed and a large variety of curves. Smith, who pitched for the Bato A. C. last season and won seventeen out of the twenty-three games that he pitched, is expected to sign and the local club will have a nine-man team that will be in this part of the State.

Scout Warrick is at present in New York trying to sign a few more good men and as soon as he returns he will be announced. The Royals have always had a fine team and will undoubtedly uphold their reputation this year.

The Choice of 1000 Men A Month

In one month men paid over $2,000,000 for Chalmers Master "Sixes." They had all the world's "Sixes" to choose from. They choose the Chalmers.

But first they made the Master "Six" prove itself. It proved its worth to them in deeds—not words. And they were convinced. For they could not doubt what their eyes saw—what their senses perceived.

This "Six" Opened Their Eyes.

Until the Chalmers Master "Six" appeared last year, buyers had thought of all "Sixes" as heavy cars, extravagant of fuel and tires, costly to buy and expensive to keep.

But the Master "Six" was a revelation. Here was a car of six cylinders at a moderate price; with a motor so silent and smooth running that friction and wear might be forgotten. A car which cost little to buy and little to keep.

No "Four" Has Such Smoothness.

Its Master Motor has six cylinders of small bore and long stroke. It fairly floats up the hills on high gear. It can reach twenty-five miles an hour in ten seconds from a standstill; it can creep at two miles an hour through the crowd and at the touch of the throttle be off like a grayhound. Such flexibility of power is possible only among "Sixes," and rare even there.

Motorists have learned that vibration means discomfort for the passengers, increased fuel bills, and the very life of the car cut short.

And vibration in a "four" can't be cured by a makeshift. The only escape from it is in a six-cylinder motor where the flow of power is continuous.

A Non-Stallable Motor.

One swing of a switch at the outset and the electric starter spins the Master "Six" engine enough to start it. But it does more. If some unusual demand upon the engine should cause it to falter, the starter automatically keeps it running until it picks up again.

There's no chance of being stranded in a throng or on a dangerous crossing. This starter makes the motor non-stallable. In simplicity and dependability the Chalmers Entz system is without a parallel.

The Test That Tells the Tale.

The true measure of value—and the only one—is performance. What will the car do in service—that's the question. We answer it with the Chalmers Road Test.

Make this test—it is more than just a ride. Compare the luxurious smoothness of the Chalmers "Sixes" with any cars you know. Then ask yourself if any other cars offer equal value at the prices.

THE KNOCKER.

The knocker is a cheerless soul
Who sees the world in drab;
Moving, urging, crying "backward!"
Just a human crab.

Like the poor, the knocker we have always with us. He has flourished in all ages and all climes. His food is carping criticism and his drink is bitterness and gall. No worthy action may receive his approval, and his every and constant aim is destruction. His diatribes he roars forth upon all possible occasions, for no violet-like modesty, no gentle humility is his, and in consequence, the world ever vibrates with the sound of his rancorous bark. His name is legion, and his banners bear the motto "I'm agin' the government!"

In the abstract, there is in him nothing alluring that would tempt us to join his ranks, and yet, so easy is thoughtless criticism, so prone are we to minimize the efforts and endeavors of others, that few there be of us, who have not at one time or another been members of the "Knockers' Club." Does it pay? The history of our own country shows that every great American, every leader of by-gone days, whose name and fame we treasure as precious national possession, was singled out as a shining target for invective, misrepresentation and calumny. Washington experienced it to an unwonted degree; the patient Lincoln was overwhelmed with it; McKinley suffered immeasurably and today, Woodrow Wilson, amid all the perplexities attendant upon a period of economic and social unrest, of mighty questions of statecraft, is assailed on all sides by the croakings of those who know not whereof they speak, but who feel it their especial mission in life to impugn motives, to tear down where others would build, and to destroy, rather than preserve.

But in the infinite plan of creation, there is progress, uplift, advance, here, there and everywhere. Truth and right, sincerity and honesty, though mayhap crushed and retarded for the time being, eventually have, and always will triumph.

The names and lives of those ill-omened pessimists of departed days are forgotten and lost, but with the passing years grow ever brighter the fame and deeds of those who labored faithfully, zealously and well in the great cause of humanity.

Until we can place ourselves in the other man's exact position; until we can see things through his eyes; until we can know with certainty his methods, his ideals, and his innermost thoughts, we may not be assured of the justice of any criticism we may launch against him. And criticism that is not just is unkind, unwarranted and untrue.

These principles, applicable to great national questions, are just as true, just as pertinent, just as compelling, when applied to our every day affairs here in Plainfield.

The man who gives of his best in any worthy cause, be it great or small, has not lived in vain.

The humble workman who causes two blades of grass to grow where but one grew before, has served humanity.

But the man who stands on the side of the road; who refuses to put his shoulder to the wheel; who tells how the job ought to be done, but leaves the others to toil and strain when his co-operation would ease matters for all, is a knocker, pure and simple, and of no real service, either to himself or any other person.

Brother, don't be a knocker. Join the great company of those who, in season and out of season, cheerfully lend their efforts to advance that which is good and true; not so much perhaps for personal gain, as for the reward which the consciousness of duty well done brings to the doer.

JUNKMAN FOUND GUILTY;

SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED

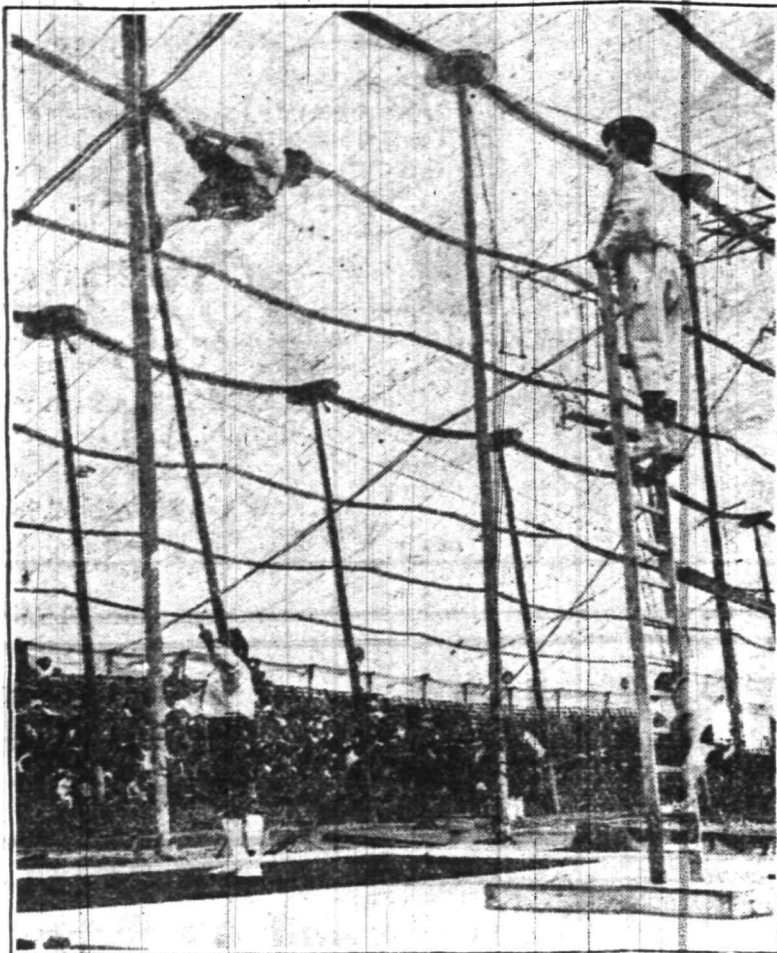

Max Michaelson, of the borough, was arraigned in the North Plainfield police court, this morning, before Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., on the charge of conducting a junk business without a license. Michaelson was found guilty of permitting other men to use his license on wagons other than his own, and permitting the license to lapse when the time came for its renewal.

Mayor Clark imposed a fine for these offenses, but afterward suspend the sentence, with the understanding that the license which has been taken out, would be revoked if there was any further trouble in the juggling of the license. It would also be revoked if Michaelson is found guilty of receiving stolen goods when he appears before the September Grand Jury of Somerset county on that charge. Mr. Michaelson was represented by William Newcorn. The complaint was made by Chief Marshal Weiss.

ARENIC STARS FROM ALL PARTS OF WORLD IN BARNUM & BAILEY CIRCUS

"A colossal cosmopolitan concourse of celebrated circus champions," the alliterative promise is given, will display themselves in parade and in performance when the Barnum & Bailey Greatest Show on Earth establishes its canvas wonderland here on next Friday. They swarm on the great racing course, team in the three-rings and four platforms and fill the vast canvas dome with their flying forms immediately the tent-wide curtains have been drawn upon the splendors of the spectacular prelude to the arenic tournament, "The Wizard Prince of Arabia."

Although the Barnum & Bailey circus is a peculiarly and typically American institution, more than ninety per cent. of these performers and specialists are foreign. In Europe the struggle for existence is so sharp that people will attempt exploits which no American would think of undertaking, in order to fit themselves for employ, below or aloft, in the Barnum & Bailey tent.

The keenly critical glance of Fred Bradna, arenic director, surveys the scene of multifarious athletic activity. He was the most renowned circus figure in Europe when Barnum & Bailey snatched him away two years ago. He declares that the crowning triumph of his career is represented in the tournament he directs this season.

Barnum & Bailey contend that they have the pick of the world's horses. The equine part of the aggregation numbers about 750 head—also tails—and includes famous-pedigreed Arabian, Prussian and Kentucky stallions, superb saddle horses, park horses, road-cart and runabout teams, record-making racers, remarkable long distance and high-jumping couriers, and heavy half-Percheron and Norman draft stock.

ANTI-SUFFRAGE

Conducted by Plainfield Branch New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"Why so pale and wan, fond Lover, Prethee who so pale, Will when looking well; Won't, win her, Looking ill prevail, Prethee why so pale?"

Mayor Mitchell must have been familiar with these lines of Sir John Suckling, but how well he timed the "wan, pale looks" with which the "poor tired boy" aroused the "maternal instincts" of Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, when he addressed the suffrage meeting at Carnegie Hall, Saturday night.

But if he was "pale and wan," and spoke—with one exception—"as if he had been born one hundred years ago," the "maternal instinct" was not of the kind that was found a century ago.

The old kind did not give place inside of twenty-four hours, to the animosity of the woman politician, making threats of the result to the "poor boy's" political career, of displeasing—by his straightforward statement of honest convictions—those who had looked and hoped for different things from him.

Certainly a concrete example of the power of the political instinct, to deaded the higher one in woman!

A proof of the contention that women will be influenced by their feelings at the moment, by emotions, for better or worse.

Mrs. Blatch wanted to say to the Mayor (because she "has a strong maternal feeling for him") "My dear boy, you think you know it all, but you have a great deal to learn." (How strange to have asked an ignorant "young boy" to address such a meeting!)

In the next breath she wanted to say "you will forget what you have said about suffrage, you will want to forget, but that little chicken will come home to roost."

She tells us that "in 1915 the women will get the vote, and what office will the Mayor want then?"

It is enlightening to be assured of the year, when 90 per cent. of the women will have "forced upon them the duties and responsibilities of politics, because 10 per cent. of them are clamoring for them."

It might be will, however, for the latter to remember, when making threats of what woman as a whole, will do to the men in public life, who dare to have the courage of their convictions, that they may find themselves overwhelmed by the majority, who will not feel that they have any grudge against the men who stood for woman's true rights and proper place, not according to the Suffragist fallacy, but in all branches of charity, education and social welfare and betterment, instead of the so-called "Rights" described variously as "Votes for Women," "Equal Freedom," "Economic Independence," "Feminism," etc. Too many appellations to enumerate.

Inez Milholland assures us that "Equal Suffrage is only the immediate political aspect of Feminism."

Mrs. Forbes-Robertson-Hale told them a few weeks since that "if they want to win in 1915, they must drop that word Feminism," so there has really been a little rest from it lately, but the feminist flame is only smoldering, it isn't out.

So, the women are going to "purify politics," kill "bribery and corruption," etc., in short establish the millennium—in 1915 be it understood—are at present threatening the man who said,—"because he said—"I myself am convinced that women do not require the suffrage to achieve their entrance into public life. Suffrage for women is a question men will decide according to the demands of women."

Whenever women want it enough, and enough women want it, they will get it.

Paraphrasing, could there be better proof that the Suffragists know what the majority do not want it, than the ire which this remark has evoked.

What had Mayor Mitchell done, to cause the Suffragists to imagine that his sentiments were contrary to this expression of them?

Not baring the "Tyrant," "Bully," "Slaveholder" which the Suffragists so freely denounce all men as being, his wife—in common with many other wives—had joined the ranks of the unrepentant ones—who as the Rev. Morgan Dix said, "Won't be women, and can't be men"—who prove themselves to be anything but "slaves" and "bondwomen."

What else had he done? He had proved a strong anti point by appointing a woman to a post in which he felt she could be most useful, when he knew the right woman for the post.

He must have known that the appointment would not meet with approval from all quarters, but he had the "courage of his convictions," just as surely as when he stood on the platform Saturday night.

We must all approve of this broad-minded, recognition of the "right woman for the right place," and no Suffragist felt that "the poor boy looked pale and wan" when he made the recognition.

Circumstances certainly do alter cases!

Is it not pertinent to inquire, how much more of the support claimed by Suffragists, is boded upon just as simy support, as that of which they were sure, from Mayor Mitchell?

An amusing bit of suffrage logic is contained in the following words of Mrs. Blatch, reported in the New York Sun, on Monday, May 4:

"Suppose our meeting Saturday night had been a convention of railroad men interested in a new air brake," said Mrs. Blatch, "and suppose a speaker had got up and said, 'When enough railroads want this air brake and want it enough they will get it,' what do you think his hearers would have thought of such logic? Would a railroad man say such a thing if he were interested in the work of saving human life and bettering conditions? Would he be so narrow as to say the public would not suffer materially for lack of the air brake when the public demands it? Well, that is what Mayor Mitchell did in Carnegie Hall."

Could any thing be more beautifully observed than two suggestions contained in this paragraph.

First, that the adoption by any certain railroad of a new style of air brake, was comparable to the overthrow of the foundation principles of a government, and the compulsion placed upon the women of it to assume duties for which they are not fitted by nature, or endowment.

Second, that the small percentage of women clamoring for the ballot constitute "the public!"

Then Mrs. Blatch indignantly concludes with "mind you, a young man like our Mayor, talking in such a vein to women who were old enough to be his grandmothers!"

Could anything be more deliciously womanish than the remark, and is it hard to imagine the tone in which it was made?

Could anyone imagine such a remark emanating from a "mere man," let alone a "politician?" To be serious, why did these women—"old enough to be his grandmother"—invite the Mayor to address their meeting?

Because they considered him old enough and wise enough to make a convincing speech in favor of "Votes for Women." Is it hard to imagine the panics which would have followed such a speech?

Would he have been "pale and wan" or "bold, manly and fearless?"

The same suffrage logic would have controlled the decision which make the Suffragist quote as authoritative the words of W. E. George, George Creel, Norman Hapgood which made them listen with delight to Gilbert S. Roe, acknowledged Socialist-anarchist in Westfield, but which makes them disclose when confronted with government statistics, "We do not accept statistics. They are prepared by men, and are men lie."

IN THE SPORTING SPOTLIGHT

"SPORTDOM TIPS"

BASEBALL HAS A RIVAL FOR COMPENSATION.

That the financial returns to many of the Canadian professional hockey players exceeds the sums paid to baseball players, notwithstanding the advent of the Federal League in the baseball world, and the princely salaries they are offering to players, is a certainty when one considers the length of the hockey playing season and the number of games in which the hockeyists participate. In Canada, where hockey is the national winter sport, the professional hockey leagues have the same standard position as the National and American leagues have in the United States, and just as the American youth has aspirations of some day being a big league ball player, so does the Canadian youngster hope some day to shine among the hockey "pros." It is here that he commands a salary far above that paid in any other line of sport, for it is common among star hockey players to receive as high as $10 a minute for every minute that they are on the ice. When it is considered that in a series of 15 games or thereabouts a salary of $10,000 to $12,000 for a season of 10 weeks is paid, it is clearly seen that the remuneration of the winter sport far outshines the highest salaries paid to ball players whose season runs into several months.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS ARE GOOD STUDENTS.

To the outsider the critical time for football eleven comes in the fall, on the eve of the big games. As a matter of fact, however, and this is particularly true of Princeton coaches, theirs has been to keep the material eligible, and in that they have a problem harder than teaching the most fat-fingered of youths how to pick up a fumbled ball. The awkward man can be trained into something like good gridiron form in the fall; but the ablest player in the squad cannot shake off the incubus of conditions acquired four months before. The star who has been lazy in the class room may picture himself as a potential hero, but his potential ability does the college no good. There is little excuse for the ineligibility of football men next fall. Anyone who is below passing in his work still has time to get above 50 before May 29; if he does not, he is a drag on progress and Princeton is better off without him. College men are criticized frequently for their indifference toward scholarly excellence and athletics are accused of being the end rather than the means. Even this condition, however, is defensible, as anything that impels men to harder work in the classroom is defensible. But for the athlete who has the incentive of glory on the field—ephemeral though it may be, it is still glory—before him, and then fails to apply himself to his work, there is no excuse. He is dead wood.

HOW DOES YOUR STAR STAND?

Can last year's diamond luminaries repeat, or will a new constellation hold the public eye during this season's pennant race? This is the burning question of the hour, and not the Mexican situation, suffragists or Panamas. Judging from the early season performances, most of the old guard will be right on the job when a safe lick means the game or the bases are loaded and the count is three and two. The list changes just a little every year. Some veteran who has been the idol of the fans by the wayside and one of the great army of debutants steps into the vacant niche. Among last year's number, however, there is none who is in danger of being displaced.

That the psychological element is a potential factor in billiard events seems to be general opinion. The 14:1 balk-line tournament was aptly summarized by John T. Burke when he remarked: "With the exception of Yamada the players were afraid of Hoppe. The Jap was the only one who played his game against Hoppe, and even he weakened when Hoppe caught him."

N. P. H. S. SCORES INITIAL DEFEAT

Kearney High School Suffers First Reverse at the Hands of Boroughites.

EARLY LEAD OVERCOME

Final Score 11 to 8—Hard Clouting Features Game—Warren Townley Leads "Canadians" With Quartet of Swats.

The North Plainfield High School baseball team clouted the ball all over the lot at Kearney, yesterday afternoon, and came home with an 11 to 8 victory over the High School nine of that place. The game was rather slow because of the bad weather and the pitchers found it hard to deliver the slippery ball. Because of the poor playing of the boroughites in the first few innings, the home team misjudged their ability and thought they had a cinch. Ernest Stahl was chosen to do the twirling for the locals but apparently had an off day and was relieved by Denny in the second inning after the home team obtained a three-run lead. Denny pitched fine ball during the remainder of the game and after his teammates started hitting, the result was never in doubt. They gathered twenty-one hits off Marrett's delivery and Denny only allowed seven.

North Plainfield was blanked in its half of the opening round and, the home team scored twice, on a triple, a single, an error and a base on balls. The second inning gave the locals nothing and Kearney one tally. The third was the "bonehead" inning for the "Canadians." They had just started to find the pitcher and were making hits when two men were caught napping off first and another off second spoiling all chances for a score. The home team scored once in the fourth making the score 5 to 0, but the visitors had their best inning in the fourth. Six clean hits mixed with a few errors netted the borough lads seven runs and this lead was not overcome by their opponents. Two runs in the fifth, one in the sixth and one in the seventh gave them eleven runs and a comfortable lead. From the fifth to the seventh Denny was unhittable and retired his opponents without trouble. In the last two innings the home team had hopes

Queries, Comment and Answers

Sporting Editor:

Query—When did the Russians fire on the Japanese fishing boat in the North Sea? A bet in 1903, B bet in 1905. A. S. W.

Answer—Neither answer is correct. Upon the night of October 23, 1904, the Russian fleet, under command of Admiral Ropetsvsky, while on the road to the Suez Canal, fired upon a fleet of British steam trawlers, killing two men. The excuse of the Russians was that they feared an attack from the Japanese torpedo boats.

TOO MANY RUNS IN FEDERAL.
Chicago, May 9—Umpires and managers of the Federal League have been asked to give their opinion of the change made to deaden the official ball of the league. It was thought by President Gilmore that too many balls were hit for home runs. A layer of cotton has been wound around the balls used in the last few days. The cotton layer under the cover, it was thought, would reduce their resiliency 15 per cent.

MULLIN WILL COACH BLUECOAT PLAYERS

First Tryouts on Parker Field
Next Thursday Afternoon —Games Pending.

Tommy Mullin, coach of the North Plainfield High School baseball team, and one of the best known little ball players in this section of the State, has accepted a position as coach of the patrolmen's baseball team about to be organized and has already taken up the reins with a view to whipping a stellar combination into shape. The bluecoats will hold their first practice on Parker Field next Thursday afternoon and Mullin will be on hand at that time to offer his advice to the talent expected to appear for the trials.

The proposition inaugurated by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association to turn out a representative baseball club this year has met with universal approval on all sides and it goes without saying that the coppers will come out strong for the practice Thursday. Among the players who have signified their intention of donning uniforms are several old time scholastic and semi-professional stars and the team organized will be on a par with Manager Dorflinger's Plainfield Pets and other teams of like calibre in this section. The North Plainfield firemen have a good nine and it is probable that a series will be arranged between them and the local law preservers.

The regular practices will be held on Monday and Fridays but it was necessary to defer the first drill until Thursday pending the arrival of a supply of paraphernalia that has been ordered. New suits of white woolen with blue collars are on the way and will probably arrive next week.

SECOND PLACE TIE BROKEN LAST NIGHT

C. Braun and Hodge Disposed of Two Teams in Easy Style.

In the games of the Baraca Two-man Tournament on the Presbyterian alleys last night, C. Braun and Hodge had an easy time of it in disposing of the Day and Bogardus and the Dealman and Benson combinations, taking four straight games and breaking the tie for second place.

The Dealman and Benson team captured the two games that they rolled with the Day and Bogardus combination, thus obtaining a percentage of .500 for the evening. Bogardus, the anchor of the Day and Bogardus team, was away off color which accounts for the poor showing made by that duo.

MT. ARARAT SCHOOLBOYS PROMINENT AT RUTGERS

Four of the five Westfield boys at Rutgers College are playing prominent parts in the Fraternal League which has been started at the New Brunswick institution. This league is arousing no end of interest among the students and one of the town merchants has offered a large silver cup to the winner. Each of the fraternities must play a schedule of games which includes a contest with every other fraternity.

Last week Chi Psi defeated Delta Phi by the score of 11 to 3. Frederick Brush of Westfield, was catcher on the winning team and did excellent work in the field, besides driving in a brace of runs with his bat. Walter D. Reese, of Westfield, played left field on Chi Psi and went through the game without an error. Russell Savitz is a member of the same team. Stanley Williams, of Westfield, is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha team which is cutting quite a figure

News of Interest in Building World

$13,000 IN PERMITS IN CITY DURING WEEK

Include Residences, Garages
and Other Structures—Many Inquiries.

Building operations in this city continue to hold their own, although the activities are not of such proportions that they may be termed a boom. Several contractors have stated, however, that inquiries and requests for estimates and prices still continue to keep them busy. It is known that several large buildings and extensive improvements and alterations had been planned, but the actual operations had been held up on account of the money market. The fact that so many have been asking for estimates have led the contractors to believe that the conditions can not hold out against the demands for any great length of time.

During the course of the past week Building Inspector T. O. Doane has issued ten permits, calling for the aggregate outlay of $13,012. The permits are noted below by wards.

First Ward.
Peter Schubert is to erect a two-family two and a half story frame dwelling at 721 Midway avenue, at a cost of $3,375. W. H. Clum is the architect and Cohen & Israel the contractors.
Edward Horton, of 280 Leland avenue, has been granted a permit to erect an eighteen by twelve foot frame garage in the rear of his home, the cost of which is to be $100. Mr. Horton will do the work himself.

Carl Peterson will erect a frame storeroom in the rear of his residence at 309 Johnston avenue. The structure will be a 10x20 foot frame affair. The cost will be in the vicinity of $100.

Second Ward.
A two and a half story frame dwelling will be erected at 1417-1419 Bellevue avenue by Harry VanNest. A modern hot water system will be installed to furnish the heat. The cost will be $3,500. M. W. King, of Liberty corner, is the contractor.
LeRoy H. Gates will construct a one store, 18x20 feet, cement hollow block garage at 824 First place, at a cost of $350. G. Meissner is the contracting mason, while Ralph Bullman has been awarded the carpenter contract.

An 11x7 foot frame porch for both floors of the dwelling at 657 Belvidere avenue is to be erected by Mrs. John A. Peterson. The cost will be in the vicinity of $300. Ralph Bullman has the contract.
Dr. T. S. Davis, of 603 Park avenue, is to erect an extension to his garage at a cost of $175. The addition will be 24x8 feet. R. G. Bush will do the masonry work, while the carpenter work will be done by Charles L. Force.

Niles Anderson will have a 12x18 foot frame garage constructed at 1120 Prospect avenue, at a cost of $512. W. H. Clum is the architect and Thomas J. Freeman the contractor.

Fourth Ward.
The building at 530 West Third street will have an extension added by the owner, A. Kunzman, at a cost of $2,600. George H. Fisher is the architect and Nathan Eskovitch the contractor.

A two-family, two and a half story frame dwelling will be erected at 661 South Second street by Jacob Pashin, of Muhlenberg place, at a cost of $2,000. Fred C. Lancaster is the architect. Mr. Pashin will care for the contract work himself.

IN THE SUBURBS

Dunellen is to have a new residential park, to be known as Columbia Park.

Samuel H. Titus is erecting a dwelling on Chestnut street, Dunellen, for investment purposes.

The Whittier avenue section of Dunellen is now almost completely built up, and public improvements along this thoroughfare are now in order.

Charles DeHart will make extensive alterations to his residence on Centre street, Dunellen, within the near future.

The Lincoln Building Syndicate purchased during the past week, four lots through the agency of O. A. LaPointe: two on Lincoln Boulevard, and two on Sewell avenue.

J. Newton Apgar has received the contract for the erection of a new front porch and altering the interior of the dwelling of Patson Van Arsdale on North avenue, Dunellen.

Henry Wraga is erecting a dwelling on Chester avenue, Dunellen.

S. S. Carvalho, of W. R. Hearst's newspapers who resides in this city, has awarded the contract for two cottages to be erected to take the place of the houses washed away at Seabright last winter. D. S. Hollander, of Metuchen, has received the contract and will begin work at once at Seabright.

Walter Williams, of Metuchen, who owns the most costly residence in Metuchen, has appointed Mr. Hollander to look after repairs and alterations to his estate on Plainfield avenue.

Mary J. Mathews has bought of Charles Brickoff and wife, three tracts of land comprising nearly 77 acres in the New Market-New Brunswick road, adjoining the land of John P. Stelle, in Piscataway township.

The Holland Co., has bought of George N. Potis and wife, one acre on the north side of the turnpike road from Piscataway to Bonhamtown, in Raritan township for $1,000.

John H. Hansmann and wife have bought from Margaret Holman a farm on the east side of the road from Piscataway town to upper sa meadows in Raritan township.

JUST NOTES

In the sale of property at public venue conducted by Sheriff Wright in the courthouse at Elizabeth, yesterday, Sarah O'Brien, as the complainant against Rose Judson, bought some property in Laramie road for $1,200.

Mayor Mitchell, of New York city, has signed the Heights of Buildings bill which recently passed the Legislature, and it has now gone to the Governor for his approval. Mayor Mitchell, however, is doubtful of the constitutionality of the measure.

More than 120,000,000 board feet of timber was given away by the government last year to settlers and miners living in or near the national forests.

A warehouse to cost $1,700,000 has been designed by Cuss Gilbert, 11 East Twenty-fourth street, New York city, for erection in Kent avenue, Brooklyn.

The Forest Service is compiling a volume table for calculating the board contents of standing yellow pine trees in the southwest. It is based on actual measurements of 6,000 trees.

Business men often receive in their mail, letters which are of a more or less amusing nature, although intended to be serious by the writers. The Southern Cypress Manufacturers' Association recently received a letter from one of those unpronounceable places in Alaska, reading as follows: "Received your farm leaflets. Thanks. Kindly send prices on shingles, 20 in. wide, 1 in. thick and 4 ft. long." These are certainly "some shingles," but then, it is probable that few manufacturers of this form of roof covering have had an Alaskan experience.

The range of uses for loblolly pine is wide, and it is sold throughout the Eastern and Central States and exported to Europe and Central America. In building construction, it is used for interior finish, flooring, ceiling, sashes, wainscoting, weather boarding, joists, lath and shingles. It also finds wide use for boxes, slack barrels, cheap furniture, woodenware and toys. In addition, it is used in bridge and trestle work and for freight cars. The wood is very easy to treat with chemical preservation, and the recent development of wood impregnation processes and plants is rapidly increasing its use for many purposes.

One of the latest additions to the list of firms engaged in the practice of architecture in New York city is that of Mead & Schenck, both members of which are women. Miss Mead obtained her education mainly in the Department of Agriculture at Columbia College, while Miss Schenck acquired her knowledge of house building in Paris. Although this is the first partnership formed by women architects they are not the first women to practice architecture in the city.

A certificate of incorporation for the National Contracting and Building Company of Plainfield was filed in the county clerk's office at Elizabeth, Wednesday. The concern is capitalized at $100,000 divided into 1,000 shares at $100 each. As the name indicates, a general contracting construction and building business will be carried on. Israel Friedlander is named as the agent and holds eight shares. Nathan Eskovitch and Abram Kunzman, the other two incorporators, have eleven shares and one share, respectively. The office of the company will be at 415 Plainfield avenue.

The local delegates returning from the State Building Trades Council held at Camden, the forepart of the week, report a very interesting session. Besides attending the annual session the delegates were taken about the city and shown the prominent places of interest.

The Plainfield Trades Council was honored for the fourth time by the re-election of E. V. Lorton, of Church street, as treasurer of the State organization. The other officers selected were: President, John T. Cosgrove of Elizabeth, vice-president, A. Henry Sands. There were fifteen trades councils represented from the various places in the State also thirty-six local unions. The delegates from this city included: John Cordova, Fred Eckhardt, M. Doering, Ser. The next convention will be held in Atlantic City, May, 1915. The delegates will make their report to local council tonight.

SPLENDID OUTLOOK AT SOUTH PLAINFIELD

Several Dwellings Being Erected in Lively Little Neighboring Town.

Among the several suburbs in the vicinity of Plainfield, South Plainfield has the best outlook as far as the building and real estate may be concerned. In making a survey of the village along these two lines the village is possibly the best position situated to make a spurt as any town of its size in the State of New Jersey. The progress of South Plainfield during the past decade has been wonderful, the location of Plant No. 22 of the Spicer Manufacturing Company of this city being one of the greatest booms it has received. At the present time, several dwellings are in the course of construction, while plans have been made for the erection of several others.

While several things favor the rapid development of the town, it is hindered in other ways. The railroad facilities at South Plainfield are ideal and should be of great advantage to the rapid growth of the village. This means of transportation would make this town a good location for manufacturing concerns in the near future. The lack of trolley connections with this city and other nearby towns however is somewhat of a drawback to South Plainfield. It has been rumored on several occasions, if the proposed line to connecting Metuchen, South Plainfield, and this city become a reality, the Spicer concern would move their entire works from this city to the village, as under those conditions their employees would have adequate transportation facilities. While the auto-buses relieve these conditions to some extent, the trips are to infrequent to accomplish the greatest results possible.

South Plainfield has for years been considered as no more than the centre of a farming district, but the time for turning aside of that idea has at last come, and in the course of a few years, the village will be a thing of the past, and the city of manufacturing and homes will have become a reality.

ASSESSED CHURCH PROPERTY.

The question of assessing church property has been raised in Montclair in the case of an assessment of $9,300, on which the Central Presbyterian church is taxed $182. The State Board of Equalization of Taxes has just affirmed the assessment after a recital of facts of a rather peculiar nature. The land was devised to the West Bloomfield Presbyterian church by Nathaniel R. Baldwin in 1841. The Central Presbyterian church is the successor to the West Bloomfield Society. Montclair was formerly a portion of the town of Bloomfield and was known as West Bloomfield. The land is a vacant lot and is not connected with the real church property. Exemption from taxation was claimed by the church under the general tax act, as amended in 1913, exempting endorsements and funds held for charitable and religious purposes. The Essex county tax board sustained the assessment. The State board affirms the finding upon the ground that the land cannot be considered within the provision for "endowments and funds," and that it does not meet the exemption provision in other respects. —Exchange.

Happenings Due Next Week

Washington, D. C., May 9.—The $50,000 bronze statue erected in Franklin Park in the national capital in honor of the memory of Commodore John Barry, one of the early heroes of the United States Navy, is to be unveiled Saturday with elaborate exercises. Commodore Barry was a native of Ireland and the unveiling of his statue is to be attended by delegations representing Irish societies in all parts of the country.

A general primary is to be held in Oregon Friday for the nomination of candidates of all parties for United States Senator and State and county officials to be voted for at the next election. Fifteen candidates are contesting for the nominations for governor. United States Senator George E. Chamberlain will be re-nominated without opposition by the Democratic party. His opponents at the election will be R. A. Booth Republican, and William H. Boring, Progressive.

The second primary in Alabama to determine the Democratic candidate for governor will take place Monday. Those in the run-off will be D. B. Comer and Charles Henderson, who ran first and second, respectively, in the first primary in April. Nomination in Monday's primary will be equivalent to election.

The racing sloop Defiance, one of the trio of candidates for the defense of the American Cup in the international races to be held next summer, is scheduled to be launched Monday afternoon at Bath, Me. The Defiance is being built by a syndicate of Boston, New York and Philadelphia men.

The Hamburg-American line steamship Vanderland is to depart from Hamburg on Thursday on her initial trip to New York. The coming of the Vanderland is awaiting with interest, as she will be the largest steamship that ever entered the port of New York.

The end of the week will see the opening in Norway of the elaborate celebrations arranged in honor of the centennial anniversary of the independence of that country from Denmark. The celebrations will also commemorate 100 years of peace on the Scandinavian peninsula. The festivities will continue through the entire summer. The most prominent feature will be an international exhibition, which is to be opened in Christiania Friday by King Haakon.

The Norwegian centennial also is to be celebrated in Minnesota, Utah, Iowa, Nebraska the Dakotas and other States having a large Scandinavian population. In Minneapolis a great three-day celebration will be inaugurated Saturday.

Among the large conventions of the week will be the annual session of the imperial council of the Order of the Mystic Shrine, in Atlanta; the Southern Baptist convention, in Nashville; the triennial meeting of the General Synod of the Reformed church in Lancaster, Pa., and the annual convention of the National Association of Wholesale Liquor Dealers, in Washington, D. C.

Our Leaders Are Responsible for Our General Conditions As a Race

And if we will follow the same old policy which our leaders have outlined for us it will take a hundred years. And we will be in the same old rut. We must change our policy in all matters to help the general conditions of the Negro. A cut through the woods will bring peace and prosperity to our race in three to five years. The white race is not against the colored race, but we are against ourselves. We have the same rights as the white race, but we fail to see this problem as it confronts us as a race today.

If we will learn to spend our money in our race it will help the general conditions and bring us to better times in a short period. The beautiful tracts of land in and around Westfield means money on short notice to those who are trying to help their condition.

But they put off calling on us. They intend to call "tomorrow," "next week" or "next month." Then when the time comes they MUST buy they find it inconvenient for some reason to call on us.
