YOUNG WOMEN RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Graduation Exercises of Muhlenberg Hospital Training School Held.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire Makes Address—Henry L. Hall Presents Pins to Nine Graduates Who Complete Course.

Nine young women having completed the prescribed course, were graduated from the training school for nurses of Muhlenberg Hospital, last night, in the presence of a large number of admiring friends, including the officials of the hospital. Every possible honor was conferred on the graduates and they were showered with congratulations, as well as flowers and other gifts of an appropriate character.

George P. Mellick, as president of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, presided and directed the program of the evening, while other governors assisted in the entertainment of guests. The affair was enlivened by popular selections by Van Eps Brothers' orchestra, which later furnished the music for dancing, which was in charge of the Alumni Association.

Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, was the speaker of the evening, and his talk was listened to with much pleasure, it being of a very practical nature. Addressing the graduates Mr. Maguire said in part:

"You are pioneers of woman's liberty. The road to happiness is found in trying to make others happy. It may be with the brain, hands, feet, but work woman must do or be forever wretched. The curse of our American society is that our young women are taught that first and always the thing in life is to get somebody to take care of them. Instead of that the first lesson should be, how under God they may take care of themselves. Homes are often blasted by a poor cook."

"No woman any more than a man has a right to occupy a place in this world unless she pays rent for it. If we want a place in the world we must earn it. The partridge makes its own nest before it occupies it. The lark by its morning song earns its breakfast before it eats it. The Bible says that if a man will not work neither shall he eat."

"Society is to be reconstructed on the subject of woman's toil. A vast majority of those who would have woman industry shut them up to a few kinds of work. My judgment in the matter is that a woman has a right to do anything she can do well. There should be no department of merchandise, mechanism, art or science barred against her."

"I hear from factories, sweat shops, etc., the wall of womanhood. Man says that woman is an angel. She is not and she knows she is not. She is a human being who gets hungry when she has no food and cold when she has no fire. Give her no more flatteries. Give her justice." In conclusion Mr. Maguire emphasized the fact that woman must have patience, obedience and sympathy, all three being requisite for a successful following of her profession.

Following the address of Mr. Maguire, Henry L. Hall, chairman of the committee in charge of the training school, spoke to the graduates and presented them with diplomas and their pins. In part Mr. Hall said:

"After thirty-six months of more or less arduous work, you stand at the threshold of your life's work, prepared to reap the benefits of your training. While the vicissitudes of this class of 1914 have been somewhat unusual, as compared with other classes that have been graduated from Muhlenberg, you were confronted with better conditions than many of your predecessors."

"It was not many years ago that training schools for nurses were simply adjuncts of hospitals, to care for the sick, and the question of education in the art of nursing was of minor concern. Today, however, the laymen, who are the trustees and governors of hospitals and training schools, have adopted a broader view, and the prescribed standard methods of training are deemed of primary importance to the immediate usefulness of the pupil nurse in hospital service."

"For years the education of a pupil nurse was looked upon as a subject that concerned only the hospital. Through the co-operation of the medical profession and the graduate nurses, a radical change has been established. The field of nursing has widened greatly, and new demands have created new incentives to effort. These diplomas and pins represent the winning of the goal that you have striven for. They represent the best that you had to give for thirty-six months, for the interest of Muhlenberg Hospital and for your own

HENNESSY TALKS ON LAW MAKING

Bergen County Senator Addressed Forum Meeting at Washington School.

AMENDMENTS DEFINED

Spoke of Work Done by Dr. H. M. Maxson to Aid Passage of Teachers' Tenure of Office Act—Some Changes in Commission Govt. Law

Senator Charles O'Connor Hennessy, of Bergen county at the forum meeting held last night under the auspices of the Public Recreation Committee gave a most interesting account of the legislation passed at the last session of New Jersey Legislature. To the credit of the 138th Legislature, he said that a less cumbersome total of laws was passed than has been the case in the last ten years.

Senator Hennessy spoke first of the five amendments to the State Constitution now pending: "The woman suffrage amendment; an amendment to make it easier to amend; an amendment to elect assemblymen from assembly districts instead of the county at large; an amendment for home rule in municipalities; and the excess condemnation amendment was given the first and most important place and the mention of it received a round of applause."

Senator Hennessy recommended the commission form of government as an improvement on our present complicated city government, which has been aptly called by President Wilson "hide and seek" government "because of the difficulty of fixing responsibility."

Among the measures passed last year, was a law creating a permanent harbor commission to have control of the water front of New Jersey. This committee consists of three members, one of whom is Dr. W. L. Saunders of Plainfield.

The teachers' pension act was passed by the last Legislature and the speaker mentioned the important part that Dr. H. M. Maxson, head of the local schools, had played in its passage.

Mr. Hennessy in referring to legislation about Commission Government stated that many municipalities in New Jersey under present conditions cannot undertake a city-board issue without the sanction of one certain banking firm of New York city. To eliminate this difficulty and other stumbling blocks to the growth of the commission form of government two acts were passed: "The Hennessy home rule bill and the bill providing preferential voting in municipalities governed by commissions."

In closing the Senator expressed his strong belief in the principles of self government and eloquently appealed to all good patriots to make a search for the fundamental causes of social unrest, and aid in the solution. He commended the use of the public schools for community purposes and referred to the fact that Woodrow Wilson favored such use of them. Mr. Hennessy modestly refrained from mentioning that he himself framed the bill for the wider use of the school plan passed by the Legislature of 1912.

ASCENSION DAY SERVICES HELD

Rev. W. E. L. Ward Addresses Knights Templar at St. Stephen's Church.

AN ELOQUENT SERMON

Origin and History of the Order With Its Traditions Presented in An Interesting Way by Preacher to Big Gathering.

Ascension Day services were held at St. Stephen's Episcopal church, last night, when Trinity Commandery, No. 17, K. T., attended in a body and listened to an eloquent sermon on the origin and history of the order of the Knights Templar, by Rev. W. E. L. Ward, the rector.

Mr. Ward chose for his text the 12th verse of the sixth chapter of the epistle of the Ephesians: "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of the world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."

He began by speaking briefly of the tendency of man in all ages to set apart for especial reverence certain places and associations. "This localization of reverence," as he phrased it, "early in the 10th century manifested itself throughout Christendom, in the form of pilgrimages to the city of Jerusalem, in which persons of all classes from the nobles to the peasantry participated."

"It was from these pilgrims that the order of the Knights Templar had its origin. Certainly holy men living in Jerusalem moved by the sickness and distress of many of the pilgrims to the Holy Sepulcher, banded themselves together in an order called the 'Poor Brothers of Jesus Christ.' At first the duties of this order were only caring for the sick and distressed of the pilgrims, but as the city of Jerusalem was at that time surrounded by marauding bands of Saracens, it was inevitable that the order soon took on a militant character, and found a large part of its activity in the defending the pilgrims from the hostile peoples which attacked them."

"Early in the 12th century, Baldwin II, then King of Jerusalem, built permanent quarters for this order of 'Poor Brothers' on Mt. Moria, where Solomon's temple stood; and the location of the monastery gave them the name of the 'Knights of the Temple' or, as it was called in the common speech, 'Knights Templar.'"

"Later, when the Saracens seized the city, and the Holy Sepulcher, these 'Knights Templar,' now grown in numbers and power, became the militant church organization, which was the head and fore-front of the semi-religious and semi-political movement that spread over all of Europe, known as the Crusades; and under the leadership of Beauseant, then the head of the order, gained a reputation in a world of brave men for pre-eminence in bravery and devotion to the cause of Christ."

"To many in this generation, the Crusades seem a fantastic waste of wealth and enthusiasm, but it is well to remember that just as the whitening sands of the seashore say to the waves 'Thus far, and no farther,' so the whitening bones of the Crusaders formed a barrier against the hosts of barbarous infidels that at one time threatened to sweep over all Europe."

From the courage and fidelity of the Crusaders sprang the civic freedom under which we now live. The 'Knights Templar' of those days wrestled with palpable flesh and blood, and battles were physical battles and their defeats physical defeats. "But though physical wickedness and violation no longer obtain in the Christian world, the successors of the old Knights of the Temple have no less need for the traditions of courage and fidelity which is the proud inheritance of their ancient order in the never ending battle of the Spirit against the Flesh."

In strengthening the weak; in raising the fallen; in ministering to the sick in spirit; in helping and saving Christian men from weakness and sin; the modern Knights Templar fulfill the old obligation of courage and of service from which the order took its origin."

SEVEN DAY SCHEDULE FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

Different Phases of Work to Be Dealt With by Property Owners Each Day.

PLANS FOR AN ACTIVE CIVIC CAMPAIGN

during "clean-up" week have been completed and the work of renovating the city will be divided into seven sections, a different phase being dealt with each day during the week beginning tomorrow and ending Saturday, May 30. Tomorrow will be designated as preparation day, and property owners are urged to make ready for the campaign which will begin in earnest on Monday. Everyone is requested to make a careful inspection of house and yard tomorrow to see what is necessary to be done and then procure working materials.

Monday is fire prevention day and housekeepers, merchants, manufacturers and all concerned will give special attention to clearing out cellars, hallways, attics, closets and storerooms for the purpose of getting rid of any debris that might cause a blaze.

Back yards will be the objects of attention Tuesday and efforts will be devoted to clearing up the back yard and removing the accumulation of ashes, tin cans and rubbish of all kinds. This will make the yard ready for the planting of gardens.

The scene of activity will be shifted to the front yard on Wednesday and at that time lawns will be trimmed and all manner of debris cleared away. Property holders are urged to make their lawns as presentable and attractive as possible by making flower beds and giving the grounds a general clearing up.

Property holders will use Thursday for painting fences, porches, porch chairs and miscellaneous articles that need touching up. Plenty of paint will be used on this date and everything will be treated to a clean, fresh coat.

An attack will be made on mosquitoes and dandelions Friday. Garbage, manure and other fly breeding refuse must be removed and the places where it has been stored disinfected by lime. Provisions should be made for protecting this material from the flies. Tin cans, bottles, broken crockery, etc., should be removed, low places in the yards filled in and roof gutters cleared out. Time should also be spent on this day in digging up dandelions and rank or poisonous weeds which disfigure lawns or poison persons.

Saturday will be inspection day and will be profitably spent in looking over what has been accomplished during the week.

PRESENT PICTURE OF MISS ANDREWS

Will Be Hung in the Girls Camp at Northfield, Mass.

A Northfield meeting and tea was held yesterday at the residence of Miss Barbara Fleming on Park avenue. Those who were there had the privilege of meeting and hearing Mrs. W. R. Moody, of East Northfield, Mass., chairman of the young women's conference; Miss Bertha Harlan, of Wilmington, Del., the secretary of the conference, and Miss Caroline Moore, of Elizabeth, the president of the New Jersey Northfield League.

A picture of the late Miss Louise Andrews, to be hung in the camp at Northfield, bearing her name, was presented by the Plainfield Northfield girls to Mrs. Moody, and she in accepting the gift said: "In coming to Plainfield I feel as though I was treading on sacred ground, it being the home of a girl whose life was such an example."

A number of girls have planned to attend the conference this year, beginning July 1 and continuing until the 8th. If there are any others who would like to go they can communicate with Miss Barbara Fleming.

BULLOCK WILL CASE SETTLED

Caveators and Mrs. Robert Crosson Reach an Agreement.

DIVIDE THE ESTATE

Reed and Hotfield of Counsel for Niece, Amicably Adjust Differences—Names of Beneficiaries Under the Document.

Following noon recess of the Orphans' Court in Elizabeth yesterday, it was announced that a settlement had been reached between the caveators of the will of Mrs. Lydia E. Bullock, of this city, and Mrs. Robert Crosson, of West Fifth street, her niece and beneficiary. The matter was accordingly dismissed by Judge James C. Connolly, who was sitting in the case, after the terms had been stated to the court.

The caveators had entered a protest against the admission of the will to probate on the grounds that the testator had been subjected to undue influence, when making the will. Mrs. Bullock died in this city January 18, last, leaving the bulk of her $20,000 estate to Mrs. Crosson and $3,000 to Miss Maggie Sullivan, a servant in her employ.

In settlement Mrs. Crosson, through her counsel, Reed and Hotfield, of this city, agreed to pay certain sums to the caveators which met with their approval. These include sums to the following heirs, all of whom live in North Plainfield, Mrs. Madeline Feller, James, Richard and Charlotte Sutton. Winfield S. Anglem, counsel for the Suttons will receive $200 counsel fees; McDermitt and Enright, counsel for Mrs. Mary Hansen, of Perth Amboy, $200; William R. Codrington, counsel for Union County, $200; Arthur Lovell, counsel for Miss Maggie Sullivan, $100; and Reed and Hotfield, counsel for Mrs. Crosson, will receive a sum which was not specified yesterday in court.

The Mrs. Hansen named is one of Mrs. Bullock's nieces and was one of those not provided for in the will. The Union County caveat was filed by the Board of Freeholders against the will on the grounds that Mrs. Bullock has two relatives who are indigent inmates of Morris Plains Asylum and are being maintained there as public charges. The freeholders contended that provision should be made for the care of these relatives.

WILL OBSERVE NATIONAL FUND FLOWER DAY

National Fund Flower Day inaugurated by the Jewish National Fund Bureau of America, will be observed in Plainfield on Sunday, when a committee of about twenty-five high school girls organized into teams and headed by captains, will sell flowers of all kind. Flower Day, which comes on Sunday before Shavuoth, the ancient Palestine festival of the first fruits and flowers, is now quite generally observed in this country.

The object is to redeem the soil of Palestine, the land of the Jewish people's glorious past, and this land is to be the permanent and inalienable property of the Jewish people. Besides promoting agricultural colonization in a direct way, the organization has indirectly done much at ready for the promotion of rural and urban settlements and institutions of public utility.

Under the auspices of the New Jersey Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage, a card party and musical will be given at the Park Club, Tuesday afternoon, May 26, at 2:30 o'clock. Those in charge of the affair comprise the Misses Laura Osgood, Anna Campbell, Mary A. Faber, Margaret McCutchen, Hope Irene Miller and Madeleine Reed.

SON ATTEMPTS TO KILL HIS FATHER

Aged Man Stabbed Twice by Prodigal Following an Argument.

ASSAILANT THEN FLEES

Tony Falconero, the Son, Later Caught by Sergeant Higgins in North Plainfield—Held in $1,500 to Await Action Grand Jury.

An argument growing out of a twenty-four-year-old son's refusal to work resulted seriously for John Falconero, of 423 Cottage place, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, the prodigal making three wicked lunges at the parent with a pocket-knife, inflicting two dangerous wounds. Returning home from the Rushmore Dynamite Works, where he is employed as a laborer, the elder Falconero found his son, Tony, already in the house and when he requested him to do an errand before supper the latter refused, according to his father.

Worries followed during which the parent is alleged to have severely admonished the boy for his habit of loafing. Tony took exception to the reprimand and, when his father started to go upstairs to his room, pulled a knife from his hip-pocket and slashed the old man. The father raised his right arm to protect his body for which the son is said to have been aiming, and in doing so had one finger on that hand nearly severed. He was also cut between the wrist and elbow.

Fleeing from the house when he realized the seriousness of his deed the boy made for the mountains and was a fugitive from justice for several hours. He was later apprehended by Sergeant Higgins on the Hyde property in North Plainfield and lodged in a cell at police headquarters.

Arraigned before Mayor Percy H. Stewart in the city court this morning, the youth entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of atrocious assault and battery with intent to kill, and following a hearing was held in $1,500 bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Taking the stand against his son, Falconero testified that the youth came to his home intoxicated last night, and appeared to be in a fighting mood. The complainant stated that on several other occasions the youth had been unruly and when scolded for his idleness, last night, made a rush for his father at the same time declaring that he would kill the old man. The knife used in the attack is of the pocket variety with a blade about three inches in length. The wounds on the victim's arms indicate that the assailant was making every effort to stab the man in the stomach.

After hearing his father's testimony the youth decided to waive examination and bail was fixed accordingly. In a statement made in court he denied being intoxicated and took exception to a number of the statements made by his father.

After the stabbing Falconero, Sr., went to the office of Dr. Albert Pittis, where he was given medical treatment. There is a deep stab wound in his arm and little hope of saving his ring finger on the right hand is entertained. The aged man is well known about Plainfield where he has lived for over a quarter of a century and is recognized as a quiet and law abiding individual. For eighteen years he was employed as a track-walker by the Central Railroad and during the last five years has been working as a laborer in the Rushmore plant.

TALENTED ARTISTS TO APPEAR AT CONCERT

An ensemble concert, under the direction of Miss May Vincent Whitney, pianiste-teacher, and Herbert James Harold, organist, will be given in the main auditorium of the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, June 2, at 8:15 o'clock, admission to which will be free and to which the public is cordially invited.

ultimate advantage. Live a vibrant life and I charge you not to be one-sided, for to use one set of faculties and think one set of thoughts unceasingly, will surely break you down, and destroy your usefulness more certainly than will long days and short nights. The training school committee congratulate you, and bid you God speed in your new work.

The graduates were as follows: The Misses Anna Louise Conant, Ruth Kenney, Mary Catherine Kite, Margaret Penn and Susan Curtis Whitney, of Plainfield; Miss Mary Isabelle Scott, of Halifax, Nova Scotia; Miss Sarah M. Nevins, of Jersey City; Miss Gertrude E. Tabbert, of New York and Miss Nora D. Abbe, of Elvrie, Ohio.

Under the direction of Henry Johnson refreshments were served to the guests. A feature of the affair was the presence of "Dear" William R. Cook, the oldest former member of the board of governors, held a reception during the evening. The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion with palms and flowers, they being furnished by Mrs. L. J. Denton and Miss Anna Lincoln.

NEW RULES MAKE OCEAN TRAVEL SAFER THAN IT HAS EVER BEEN

Every Precaution Taken to Avert Disaster and Cope With It.

Ice Patrols, General Use of Wireless, Life Boats or Rafts For All.

SINCE the sinking of the Titanic, that appalling disaster which, on April 14, 1912, cost 1,503 lives, there has been increased agitation for greater security of vessels and passengers at sea. This question has been the subject of exhaustive consideration by the revision committee of the international congress on safety at sea. At the recent conclusion of this convention in London fourteen nations signed new ocean traffic rules. It was decided that the text of the convention and annexed rules should not be officially published until Feb. 15 in order to give the delegations from the various countries in the past ample time to communicate the same to their respective governments.

The governments that signed the sea safety pact are Great Britain, the United States, Germany, France, Italy, Spain, Sweden, Norway, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Holland, Belgium and Denmark. Other countries were given the privilege of coming into the convention up to Jan. 31. The treaty will be in force July 1, 1915, after ratification by the various states.

Under United States Control.

Lord Mersey, president of the conference, describes the new sea treaty as follows:

"An international service is to be established by the nations chiefly interested for the purpose of an ice patrol and ice observation as well as the destruction of derelicts in the north Atlantic. It is to be under the control of the United States. This service is to take over and continue the work done by the two vessels employed by the United States in 1912 in locating ice, in determining its limits and in keeping in touch with it as it moves southward, in order that vessels may be kept informed by wireless telegraphy of its position."

"The service also will continue the ice observation work started last year

struction Lord Mersey mentioned bulkheads for the prevention of the spread of fire, means of escape from water tight compartments, requirements as to the strength of bulkheads and decks, the reduction to the smallest number practicable of the openings in water tight bulkheads, the restriction of openings in the ship's outer skin, appliances for closing the same, requirements as to the fitting and extent of double bottoms, the periodical operation and inspection of water tight doors, etc.

Lord Mersey referred to the compulsory entering in logs of drills and inspections and the requirements by the convention of adequate backing power and auxiliary steering apparatus.

The committee has recognized the importance of making a further study of these subjects and of the exchange of information.

Lord Mersey said it was important to show that even after the most careful attention had been given to all practicable details and designs for the increase of the safety of a ship there still remained the possibility of a serious and even totally destructive accident. It was therefore imperative that captains should never relax their vigilance on the supposition that any vessel was unsinkable.

On the contrary, they should strive to add to the safety provided by the vessel itself that very increase in safety which results from prudent and skillful management and navigation.

Rules as to Wireless.

The convention provides that all merchant vessels when engaged in international or colonial voyages, whether steam or sailing vessels and whether transporting passengers or not, must be equipped with wireless telegraphy if they have on board fifty persons or more, except where that number is increased owing to causes beyond the master's control.

The contracting states, however, have the discretion to make suitable exemptions in certain cases, the most important of which is in connection with vessels which in the course of their voyage do not go more than 150 miles from the nearest land.

The American wireless systems have all been agreed to. The main feature of this system is that it gives the control of the apparatus and the supervision over the operations of the employees to the American government, notwithstanding the nationality of the ships, wherever they are coming into or departing from American waters.

A continuous watch for wireless purposes must be kept on all vessels fitted with wireless telegraphy as soon as the government or state to which the vessel belongs is satisfied that such a watch is useful for purposes of saving life at sea.

In the meantime the following vessels are required to maintain a continuous watch in addition to all vessels placed in the first category contemplated by the radio-telegraphic convention, which includes all fast passenger steamships: Vessels of more than 13 knots speed which transport 200 passengers and make voyages of more than 500 miles between two consecutive ports, other passenger vessels dur-"CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP."

In line with the progressive mayors of many other cities throughout the country, Mayor Percy H. Stewart has issued a proclamation, setting aside next week as a "clean up and paint up" week for Plainfield. There is plenty of work for the betterment of the community which can be done during such a week, as was suggested in a Daily Press editorial some days ago.

Spring means, or always should mean, house cleaning time, and not only housecleaning within the four walls, but municipal housecleaning as well. It means preparations for order, and harmony and beauty during the months when the people of the city live out of doors a good part of the time.

Out in Dayton, Ohio, they had a clean up campaign. The Dayton Herald summarized the whole story in a paragraph, which is well worth repeating here, when it said:

"Clean up and paint up. That is a civic prescription that is worth while. Cleanliness is akin to godliness. You have heard that enough to convince you of its truth, but we sometimes overlook a truth by reason of its sheer familiarity, or at least fail to profit by it as we should. Clean houses, clean lawns, clean streets, clean alleys, clean outbuildings—that condition means health and comfort and aesthetic pleasure. Dirt and tawdry negligence indicate decay and shabbiness; they invite disease;
they are ugly, offensive, unnatural."

In these days there is no finer thing for the people as a whole than to feel that we live in an age of soap and paint, and it is especially fine to live in a community like Plainfield, where these two all important adjuncts to healthful conditions are so freely used to keep things bright and shining. The knockers may say that such a campaign as the Mayor has proposed is a fine thing for the fellow who sells paint, but a somewhat expensive one for the man who has to buy it. That fellow is thinking of the dollar, and not of the good of the whole community. And speaking of the dollar that seems to be about the only thing left that appeals to everyone even if it is dirty.
The majority of us, however, prefer the clean dollars, although no one denies that he or she is sometimes tempted by the other kind. That fact, due to the condition of the dollar, however, it is because Uncle Sam says that it is worth a hundred cents, whether it's face is dirty or not.

So the thing for everyone to do is to look around and see if there is anything about their property that needs brightening up: to see where the hose or a bucket of warm water can be successfully applied to better
the appearance of the neighborhood.
If you have any rubbish piles around behind the barn, where they do not show from the street, they should also be removed or burned up, even if they don't show.

Let the Mayor know that he has a healthy and patriotic group of citizens behind him who are willing to make Plainfield a brighter and better place to live. The interests of the public are paramount to those of the individual. Clean up and paint up!

In these days, when the problem of replacing the millions of trees which are cut down annually to provide building material, and stock from which news print paper is made, an exhibition such as that being held in New York city just now is of unusual interest to everyone. It is the first time that an opportunity has been given in the east for an exhaustive and comprehensive study of the methods being used to replace the timber which is annually sacrificed to the demands of the commercial life. The general subject of lumbering is being set forth, either by objects or lectures, in such a way as to interest the average citizen as much as the man engaged in the lumber industry.

The United States Government is spending $10,000 to show how the nation fights forest fires, either through the use of a number of rangers, men whose duty it is to ride over the mountains and watch for fires, extinguishing them when discovered; by stations and towers, and other devices. Motion pictures, among other things, show how the work of getting out logs in far off forests is carried on, as well as the method of bringing the lumber in the rough to the mills, where it is made ready for the market, and then shipped to various points.

The exhibition will undoubtedly prove an interesting one for all who visit it.

The edition of the Daily Press tomorrow will contain a supplement devoted to the cause of the opponents of Woman Suffrage. The Suffragists issued the paper on Saturday, May 2, and their opponents on the other side have chosen to present their arguments in a supplement, and not attempt to edit the entire paper. The editorial for tomorrow's issue will appear in the supplement, and will be from the pen of Miss Reina A.
Lawrence, who has been conducting the anti-suffrage column which usually appears in the Daily Press each Saturday. No one can say, if they peruse tomorrow's special section that they are not fully conversant with the anti-suffrage propaganda.

of the excellent minstrel show which gave its last performance last night

Theatre.

26TH ANNIVERSARY
OF C. E. SOCIETYPleasing Program Arranged
by Endeavorers of Warren Chapel.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Warren chapel celebrated its twenty-sixth anniversary, last evening, many of the members of the church, as well as representatives from other local societies being in attendance.

George H. Hoagland, president of the society, presided during the service, while Mrs. J. O. McKelvey presided at the piano. The devotional exercises were conducted by the pastor,
Rev. J. O. McKelvey.

During the evening vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Joseph Edgar,
and the members of the junior choir, while the Misses Bertha Martin and Louise Seader played a duet on the piano. The reports from the secretary and treasurer were presented and showed that much had been accomplished during the course of the past year. The society has at present a membership of forty. The treasurer's report indicated that $350 had been raised for all purposes including $94 for missionary and benevolent purposes.

Rev. Elliot Field, of Philadelphia, was the speaker of the evening. His address was one of encouragement to the society, laying especial emphasis on the great need of a purpose, both in the individual life, as well as the organized life. He impressed his hearers with the necessity of a progressive spirit to move the society in the right channels.

The program of the evening was in charge of a special committee composed of the Misses Hilda Schneider,
Hattie Squiers, Adelaide Stiglitz, Ida
Wheeler, L. J. Stites, and Theodore J.
Martin. The social which followed the meeting was in charge of Misses Dorothy Bosterli, Viola Higgins, Emma Windham, Bertha Hoagland, L.
J. Stites, and William Gunzelman.

health. Mr. Ryder will return in

MISS KINNAMAN SOLOIST
WITH PRYOR'S BAND

Pryor and his popular band which will open the season at Willow Grove, Philadelphia, tonight, has chosen as the assisting soloist for the opening week, Miss Ethel Grace Kinnaman, contralto soloist of the First Methodist church, this city. Miss Kinnaman was one of the soloists with Pryor at Asbury Park last summer, and her singing captivated her audiences that she was re-engaged to sing with him this season. This engagement is considered one of the best in musical circles, and speaks well for this young artist's work.

Miss Kinnaman is a contralto with unusual musical talent, possessing a rich and beautiful voice that gives pleasure, and her method of vocaliza-tion shows thorough training and culture. Her expression is marked and reveals rare artistic insight. During the year she has been soloist at the First church she has made many friends among the musical people of Plainfield, who will no doubt be glad to know of the success that has crowned her efforts. Miss Kinnaman goes west during the months of July and August and will again sing with Pryor in Kansas City, Mo., in August.

BECKER'S FATE
IN JURY'S HANDSFormer Lieutenant Calm as Ordeal Ends.

SEABURY DELIVERS CHARGE

Judge Gives Final Instruction to Men Who Will Decide Becker's Fate.
Crowd in Near Riot on Final Day of Trial.

New York, May 22.—Charles Becker, former head of the "strong arm squad,"
who has been on trial for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, probably will know his fate before nightfall, the case having reached the jury at noon today.

Justice Seabury finished his charge just before noon, and the men who are to decide whether the former police lieutenant shall pay the death penalty or go free retired for lunch before they started deliberating.

Justice Seabury's instruction to the jury was exceedingly fair, and he carefully reviewed the evidence presented by both sides and told them also not to act too hastily.

By far the largest and one of the most unruly crowds that has attended the trial assembled on the main floor of the criminal courts building two hours before the doors of the courtroom were scheduled to be opened.
Fully 800 persons formed a line that twisted about the corridor outside the tribunal. These were gradually augmented in numbers until the reserves of the Elizabeth street station had to use vigorous methods to keep the crowd in order.

When the doors were finally thrown open the crush to get in almost became a riot. The police and court attendants were swamped. Within five minutes every seat in the courtroom was filled, and hundreds of disappointed persons were fighting vainly for admittance.

Verdict Likely in Eight Hours

Those who heard Mr. Mantel's cool and skillful analysis of the evidence and Mr. Whitman's fine presentation of the state's best points against Becker left the trial room with the idea that the verdict depends mostly upon how the jury sifts the credibility of the witnesses. That there was a bad lot on each side all are willing to admit. The credibility of the witnesses and such circumstantial evidence as could be introduced are likely to be the determining factors.

In the first trial the jury was out more than eight hours, although, as it developed later, they agreed within five minutes after leaving the courtroom that Becker was guilty. The eight hours was spent in reviewing and weighing the evidence in order to convince themselves that the impression formed in the jury box was not unjust.
It is only a matter of guesswork as to how long this jury will be out, but counsel for both sides and those who have listened to the testimony and observed the demeanor of the jurors believe that a verdict will hardly be reached in less time than was required by the first jury.

ANOTHER CROWD AT ELKS' MINSTREL SHOW

Performance Last Night Received With Enthusiasm
—The Topical Song.

Before an audience which crowded the Plainfield Theatre the second and concluding performance of the Elks' minstrels for 1914 was given, last night. The show, if possible, was better, and went shapelier, than on Wednesday night, and delighted the spectators. The first part had a snap and vim, and in the olio both the amateur and professional acts were received with continued applause.

In every way the show was the most successful that the Elks have ever given. The singing, costuming, decorations, local jests and everything else were carefully prepared, and the audiences showed by the frequent encores that the efforts of the participants were fully appreciated. One of the biggest hits of the performance was Tom Muir's song, "Everybody's Hoping for a Change," the words and music of which were prepared by former City Judge William N. Runyon. The words, which were set to a catchy air, were as follows:

Everybody's Hoping for a Change.
As I walk about the city, I can hear on every hand,

That everybody's hoping for a change. Though the folks who shoot the bull may tell you everything is grand Yet everybody's hoping for a change. They may say, perhaps no danger lies in overhanging wires That sticky streets are excellent for nice, new auto tires Just write it down that all of them are good, old fashioned liars For everybody's hoping for a change.

Chorus.
If it doesn't come tomorrow that's no reason you should cry You can bet your bottom dollar that you'll get it by and by There is no such thing as failure and to fear it would be strange When everybody, everybody's hoping for a change.

Our public school authorities are great for fancy frills But everybody's hoping for a change And the things they teach the kids are quite enough to give you chills.

But everybody's hoping for a change All the merry winter season, they devote to basketball While music, dances, plays and shows take all the spring and fall.

But readin', writin', 'rhythmic aint in the course at all So everybody's hoping for a change.

Now the Board of Education is a noble band of gents But everybody's hoping for a change And they've built the kids a club house, quite regardless of expense.

But everybody's hoping for a change They have spent a wad of money on a gorgeous swimming pool A gym for athletics, and a theatre for drool.

There are those who wonder why they didn't spend it for a school So everybody's hoping for a change.

Dear old Muhlenberg in many ways is up to date, we think But everybody's hoping for a change For in matters of contagion she is slightly on the blink.

So everybody's hoping for a change If their first disease is measles, you may join the measles class. But then diphtheric patients mustn't come around alas.

And the guys with scarlet fever, they can lay out on the grass So everybody's hoping for a change.

Now the Democrats of Plainfield are a patriotic herd But everybody's hoping for a change For the most of them are willing to succeed Elias Bird.

So everybody's hoping for a change We have never seen a contest like the scrap that's on between John Gaffney, Reville, Hoagland, Dilts and forty more I ween.

Oh, I wouldn't for a million bucks be Senator Martine So everybody's hoping for a change.

There are folks who'll howl and tell you that the cost of living's high And everybody's hoping for a change New York people claim their business buildings reach too near the sky.

And everybody's hoping for a change When it comes to really high things there are few with any worth And the claims of other places but excite our scornful mirth.

For the coming Plainfield tax rate is the highest thing on earth So everybody's hoping for a change.

Now we don't like old Huerta and he's got us fighting mad But everybody's hoping for a change And we think Francisco Villa and Carranza just as bad.

So everybody's hoping for a change We don't care a lot for fighting but it's that's the thing to do Let us take the blooming army and the good old navy, too.

And go down to Mexico and lick the whole infernal crew For everybody's hoping for a change.

HUERTA KEEPS U. S. GUESSING

Difficult to Solve Dictator's Position.

"CONVERSATIONS" ARE ON

Despite His Denial of Resigning It Is Believed the Delegates Have His Promise—Air of Mystery at Mediation Conference.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 22.—An air of mystery hangs over the Clifton House, where the mediation conferences are being held, and a strong feeling that sudden developments in the Mexican situation are impending prevails everywhere. In the conference room the mediators are hearing the arguments of the American and Mexican representatives, but not a word of their discussion reaches the outside.

The feeling of uneasiness which is strongly in evidence throughout the place where an attempt is being made to settle the troubles of Mexico had its start when a press dispatch from Mexico City announced that the Mexican delegates had been authorized by General Huerta to offer his resignation, if this should be demanded by the mediators. This message was denied shortly after by those who gave it out. It was explained that the dispatch had been received in code and had been erroneously interpreted, the correct meaning being that General Huerta denied emphatically ever having given such instructions to his delegates.

May Retire.
But despite the dictator's denial the belief persists that he will be willing to retire if the negotiations now being conducted here show that no solution can be arrived at without this step. Whether or not the Mexican delegates have communicated this information to the mediators is known only to the three envoys of the A. B. C group of South American powers with whom they were in conference for more than an hour.

Persons in the direct entourage of the mediators and the representatives are not inclined to believe that this offer will be made before every other means of settlement has failed.

Not one of the mediators or the delegates of either government is willing to discuss the remote possibility of such an offer being made ultimately, but it is clearly evident that Huerta's voluntary retirement is expected.

It is pointed out that Senores Rabasa, Rodriguez and Elguero, the Mexican delegates are all three men of high social standing and of great fame in Mexico, who would not have accepted the mission which has brought them here had they known beforehand that it would be impossible to arrive at any kind of a solution and that there was no possibility of a successful outcome of the conference.

All were well aware of the fact that President Wilson would accept no arrangement which did not include as the very first condition the immediate elimination of Huerta from the government of Mexico. They also knew that they would have to offer some serious guarantee that whatever reforms they would promise the mediators for Mexico would actually be fulfilled and that no such guarantee would be considered satisfactory if it did not include a promise from the provisional president to retire from his self assumed position at the head of the Mexican government.

JOHN D. MUST SIGN TAX LIST.

Ohio Officials Refuse to Accept Returns From His Employee.

Cleveland, O., May 22.—John D. Rockefeller is to have until 10 a. m. on Monday to file a return on his personal property. The return must bear Mr. Rockefeller's own signature, or else Deputy Tax Commissioners Fackler and Agnew will make their own return on the property, which they estimate to be worth $300,000,000.

Attorney C. E. Buss, representing Mr. Rockefeller, has been preparing his return. He met Mr. Fackler and announced that the list had been completed.

"Has Mr. Rockefeller signed it?" asked Mr. Fackler.

"No. It is signed by the estate superintendent," Mr. Buss replied.

"I'll give you until 10 a. m. Monday to file the return with Mr. Rockefeller's signature," said Mr. Fackler. "One taxpayer is no better than another."

ESSAD PASHA EXILED.

Friends Declare He Had Nothing to Do With Albanian Uprising.

Brindisi, May 22.—Essad Pasha, the Albanian leader deported by order of Prince William, arrived here from Durazzo aboard the steamship Bengasi. He expected to go on to Rome.

The new Albanian ruler exiled Essad Pasha for his alleged connection with an uprising of peasants and the attack on Durazzo, when the palace was fired upon. Friends of Essad say that he was not responsible for either incident. The Muslims in Albania had insisted that a Mussulman prince be appointed to rule over them. Essad assured them that they should have a Moslem, but when the powers chose the Prince of Wied, Essad stood by him and was made minister of the interior. The peasants then turned against Essad.

Karpen
Guaranteed
Upholstered
Furniture
CHICAGO-NEW YORK

At Half Karpen List Prices

On the Fifth Gallery, New Building, Tomorrow, Saturday

Karpen is a name to conjure with in furniture, because behind it are sound principles, a high standard and a capable organization.

Karpen upholstered furniture is sold the world over. To the best of our knowledge it has never been sold for as little prices, as we shall offer it tomorrow; nor has there been offered at any special price so large and complete a variety of the Karpen product.

To Be Exact, There is $95,428 Worth, Karpen Prices which we shall sell, beginning tomorrow, Saturday, morning, for an aggregate of $47,714: two, three, and four-piece suites, davenports, sofas, easy chairs, rockers, hall chairs, sofa beds, couches; upholstered in leather, Spanish leather or tapestry; each piece bearing the Karpen guaranty and ours.

History

Nine Karpen brothers founded the business in a little loft a third of a century ago.

There are only seven brothers now; but the little loft has grown into five acres of factory buildings, with five more acres of land for storage of lumber and other materials, the largest plant of its kind in the world, turning out each year three times as much upholstered furniture as any other factory, and selling it in every State in the Union and in the larger cities of the world.

Why? Because Karpen furniture has always given satisfaction. It is furniture people have found comfort in using; it is artistically designed; pleasing to the eye; it wears well; and it has not the usual handicap of excellence—an expensive price.

The Sale Stocks

The Karpen complete line of upholstered furniture for living-room, library, den, sitting-room, bedroom and hall.

When a merchant moves into a new building it is worth a great deal to him to be able to open it with new merchandise.

Karpen Bros. have outgrown the six-story building at 155 and 157 West 34th Street, in which until recently they displayed a complete line of their upholstered furniture.

When they decided to move to 37th Street and Broadway, one of the Karpen brothers came to see us.

"We are going to move," he said. "We want everything new in our new place. The stocks on

To make a long story short, we took the stocks. Now that we've got them, we can admit frankly we were mighty glad to get them. They constitute a complete sample line of the Karpen product; the pieces whose excellence have brought them large orders. Every one is in first class condition, 95 per cent. are the newest Karpen styles of upholstered furniture in daily demand; the other 5 per cent. are staple styles of slower-moving stocks; seventy-five van loads in all, and with but few exceptions only one piece of a kind.

BICYCLE CLUB'S SIXTH ANNUAL GRIND
WILL SPLINTER ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Plainfield will once more be the mecca for pedal pushers on Decoration Day when the Plainfield Bicycle Club stages its sixth annual twenty-five mile road race. Heralded throughout the country as the result of its previous successes the annual Queen City sporting event has put Plainfield on the bicycle map and riders from a score of different metropolitan clubs are planning to invade the confines of this municipality one Memorial Day with hopes of taking away some of the numerous handsome and remunerative awards.

Jack Horner, whose name has resounded far and wide as the result of his activity in this event in other years, is once more at the helm, and the fact he is working harder than ever for the cause assures the pedal pushers of a record-breaking this season. The famous Mountainside course of two laps will again be the scene of the twenty-five mile grind and when the pedal pushers take the mark there will be a cosmopolitan delegation on hand to fight for supremacy. Every nation on the globe and all of the important wheel clubs in the East will be represented by their speediest racers and considerable difficulty is being experienced in allotting the handicaps so as to put all of the riders on an equal footing. Jack Horner, who has so satisfactorily attended to the handicapping in other years, is once more in charge of this work and it goes without saying that his excellent judgment will make the event a closely fought one and one that will be of keen interest to the bike fans.

Racing authorities from the metropolitan district headed by Daniel A. Adee, president of the N. A. C., of New York, and Emil Greenbaum, of Brooklyn, will be on hand to witness the matches and the former will officiate as referee while the latter has consented to act as head timekeeper. With officials of this calibre to pick from the local club has established a precedent for road racing, assuring the riders of an opportunity to gain country-wide recognition for their efforts. The prizes range in size and value from expensive bicycles of the racing model to minor accessories and the complete list will be on exhibition in Jack Horner's store on Somerset street next week.

Plainfield's claim to first place in Decoration Day bicycle racing has been brought about through the efforts of Jack Horner and it is enough to say that no other club has attempted to secure a sanction that would in any way conflict with the Queen City date. Pedal pushers are known to concentrate their ability on Plainfield, both on Memorial Day and indications are that the practice will continue for many years, so firmly has the custom been planted by the promoters.

The long distance bicycle race originated locally with Jack Horner in 1909 when he promoted a ten mile event on the Netherwood course with fourteen entrants. First place at that time was snatched by Sherman Haberer and the popularity of the idea was universal. It was in 1909 that interest began to wane in the Irvington-Milburn race and that year the event died out. As a substitute for the famous road grind, Jack Horner and the local club decided to attempt the twenty-five mile project and this resulted in the laying out of the Mountainside course. In 1909 the quarter century was taken by P. Sorenson, of the Empire Wheelmen, of Brooklyn, in one hour and eight minutes. Paul Hedrick, of Dobbs Ferry, won the time prize with a record of one hour, six and four-fifths seconds.

The second event was conducted in 1910, when Jesse R. Pike, of the C. R. C. A., came in first in one hour, four minutes and fifty seconds. Pike was one of the riders who took part in the Olympic championships at Sweden last year. Percy Haberer, of this city, was second and the time prize winner was G. Orlando, of the Empire City Wheelmen, his time being one hour four minutes and two-fifths seconds. Orlando has since died.

Gifford Jones, a local boy, won the 1912 race and at the same time smashed the former record doing the distance in one hour and three minutes. He is the only local rider to land a first in the event and at that time the first ten men to cross the tape were local riders. For his performance Jones received a Pierce racer as first prize, a Columbia racer as time prize, two Pierson's saddles and one pair of rubber tires.

Gus Wohlhab, scratch man, finished first in 1912 with a mark of one hour, ten minutes and thirty-two seconds. This race was run in a driving rain and the riders exhibited remarkable stamina during the long grilling against adverse weather conditions.

Last year's race was won by Nat Gutoff, of the Atlas B.C., in one hour, five minutes and twenty seconds. Time prize went to John Becht who set a mark of one hour, four minutes and three seconds.

The races May 30 will start promptly at 10 o'clock and entries close May 26 with Jack Horner, 33 Somerset street. Included in the prize list among other things are the following: Pierce racer, value $50; Crawford racer, value $30; United States racing tires, value $8; Palmer tires, value $10; Indian tires, value $8; Thornproof tires, value $8; coasters, brakes, medals, lamps, chains, saddles, fountain pens, cyclometers, pedals and other minor accessories too numerous to mention.

Among the riders who have entered to date are the following most prominent ones: Gus Wohlhab, C. R. C. A., Jersey City; Fred Wolsen, Paul Reineke, J. Blavaschi, H. Neibuhr, Wilson Marshall and George Marbeck, of the Acme Wheelmen, of New York city; Harold Platt, Frank Becht, William Napier and T. A. Kennedy, of the Empire City Wheelmen, of Brooklyn; G. A. Neigel and John Utess, of Newark; Merrill Stoner, of the Lewis A. C., of Newark; Joe Soridal, C. R. C. A., of New York; George Bowker and Lester Bowker, of the Columbia C. C., Inwood, L. I.

MULLIN'S TEAM TO PLAY TOTTEVILLE

First Sunday Ball Game at South Plainfield Promises to Be a Hummer.

The Totenville team, of Staten Island, has been substituted for the Royal A. C., of this city, in the opening game with Tommy Mullin's all-star South Plainfield baseball club at the latter place Sunday afternoon. Convinced that the local colored aggregation was not strong enough to lineup against his material Mullin decided to cancel the previously arranged date and took on the fast traveling Totenville combination.

The South Plainfield team's opponent in the opening game is considered a speedy combination and it goes without saying that the home boys will have their work cut out for them in the initial trial. The grounds at South Plainfield have been put in excellent condition for the Sunday baseball stunt and indications are that the project will be the entire success anticipated by the promoters.

Captain Tommy Mullin is busily engaged working on the preliminary arrangements and was on the field last night supervising the reconstruction work. Several auto buses have been chartered to carry the fans from this city, returning after the game, and a large crowd is expected from towns in the immediate vicinity of South Plainfield. Mullin has some crackerjack talent signed up and the team looks like a winner in print.

For the pitching department he has signed such notables as Lou Bloom, Otto Frederickson, "Buck" White and Johnny Dixon. Any of these hurlers are liable to work Sunday afternoon and he will not announce his choice until the last minute. All will be on the field in uniform ready for action. Lou Dixon will do the catching for the team.

Jack Garretson is slated to play the initial sack, Brit Martin will perform at second, Tommy Mullin will take charge of short and "Tuts" Jaeger is down for third. This infield is one that would be hard to beat in this vicinity and it looks as though Mullin had rounded up the cream of Central New Jersey talent. In the field will be Jack Wilson, "Snapper" Bergen, Henry Albert and Katz Miller.

CLIFF RANDOLPH BEATEN
Twirling his first Atlantic League game in Perth Amboy, yesterday afternoon, Cliff Randolph, the local hurler, was trimmed by a score of 7 to 4 by the Danbury club. Randolph allowed eight hits, and five errors were made behind him. The Perth Amboy players were held to five hits by Welsch. Randolph had bad innings in the fifth and sixth, three runs being scored by the opposition in each of these rounds.

RACING TO BEGIN AT TORONTO.
Toronto, Ont., May 22.—Toronto is filling with race followers in anticipation of the opening of the spring meeting of the Ontario Jockey Club at Woodbine tomorrow. The meet will mark the inauguration of the racing season in Eastern Canada, a season which the feature event of the opening day will be the King's Plate, which is the oldest fixture run continuously on the American continent.

FIRST RACE FOR CITY BIKE TITLE

Championship Event as Preliminary to Monster Road Race Decoration Day.

The initial race of the series planned to decide the city bicycle championship will be staged Decoration Day morning prior to the twenty-five mile road race on the Mountainside course. There will be a series of five contests and the first, second and third places in each event will be credited to the winner on the point basis.

The competitor having the greatest number of points at the completion of the series will be awarded a diamond studded gold medal symbolic of the city championship. The second man will get a silver medal and the third will receive a bronze one. The first race will be run over a mile course and the contests will be closed to local pedal pushers.

Considerable interest has been manifested in the affair and it is expected that a large number of entries will be received prior to the first race. All racers will start from scratch and officials appointed by the Plainfield Bicycle Club will be in charge of the events.

NO N. P. H. S. ENTRANTS IN SOMERSET COUNTY EVENTS

Contrary to a number of erroneous reports that have been circulated during the past week North Plainfield High School will not be represented by a delegation of field and track competitors at the annual track meet of Somerset county High Schools in Somerville next Saturday afternoon. Names of such entrants have been mentioned, but the fact remains that the borough school will be unrepresented in the track and field competitions.

Several of those interested in the borough High School, however, are planning to visit Somerville on the day of the meet and will take an active part in various other branches of work programmed.

MULLIN WILL BE OUT OF PLAINFIELD'S LINEUP

When the Plainfield baseball team lines up against Dunellen in the opening game of the season tomorrow afternoon it will be without the services of one of the players who is expected to be a mainstay this season at shortstop. Tommy Mullin announced last night that he will confine his baseball ability exclusively to coaching the North Plainfield High School nine until the curtain falls on the scholastic season and then he will play with the Plainfielders.

Mullin is expected to be a strong factor in the Plainfield team's infield and until his appearance this position will naturally be weak. He has been doing some good work whipping the schoolboys into shape and has so far advanced in this endeavor that he had decided to continue it as long as possible.

JENNINGS HAS ESTABLISHED
FINE PITCHING RECORD

Harry Jennings, who pitched first-class ball in Plainfield last summer, and who has been the sensation of the season at Rutgers this year, will be in the box for the New Brunswick college tomorrow when the Rutgers boys will meet Delaware College, at Newark, Del.

After pitching sensational ball for the first five games this year, Jennings went to pieces against Catholic University Wednesday and retired in the fifth inning, after the visitors had secured seven runs. The failure of the Rutgers star was attributed to too much work, after the game this week-end, Coach Brodie intends to give him a much needed rest. It is possible that Charles Hruby, of Elizabeth, who replaced Jennings Wednesday, may start the game against Delaware.

During the first five games this season, the former Plainfield twirler held his opponents to fifteen hits, pitching a no-hit, no-run game against R. P. I. and holding New York University hitless for eight innings. He is generally regarded as one of the best pitchers in college circles today.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB HAS BUSY SESSION

Three New Members Elected to Membership and Two Initiated Last Night.

The monthly meeting of the Plainfield Motorcycle Club was held in Depot Park, last night, two new members being initiated and three more elected to membership. The applications of John M. Nicholson, Edmond Latzko and Lynn G. Case were also received and turned over to the membership committee. Harry Forrestal and Edward Honeyman were made members of the organization. Richard Pennoek, of Dunellen; Warren Ackerman, of this city; and E. R. Jarvis, of Westfield, were elected to membership.

A further discussion as to the purchase of a building site for the club was brought up, but no definite decision reached. The committee has so many sites in view that it has been difficult to investigate all of them as yet.

The club decided to purchase fifty arm bands for the members for use on the runs. These are of a similar design to the club's buttons, a wing, wheel in gold, a blue background.
Harold Scarlett was appointed sergeant-at-arms and Al. Bowly was made second lieutenant.

It was announced that the monthly "feed" of the organization would be held June 18 at New Market pond when boating, dancing and eating will be features. The committee in charge of this event is composed of Edward Honeyman, chairman;
Harry Forrestal, and Alex Herlick.

Following the meeting refreshments were served under the direction of a committee composed of Warren Groff, the club chef, Gus
Johnson, second cook; and Lester Renninger, bus boy. Henry Dresselt who was injured several weeks ago when his motorcycle collided with an automobile near Elizabeth was present at the meeting, last night, being conveyed to and from the place in an automobile furnished by the organization. He is much improved but not able to be about yet.

PETS' FIRST GAME AGAINST DUNELLEN

Arranged for Tomorrow Af- ternoon at Parker Field— Rivals Lineup.

Plainfield will open its baseball season tomorrow afternoon with the Dunellen team as its opponents on Parker Field. Manager Dorfinger has herded together a bunch of formidable stars and the contest promises to be a hummer as a certain raiser. Material of the first-class variety in this section has been signed by Dorfinger and much out of town material is on the list.

Foley will do the twirling for the locals with "Big Six" Nelson on the receiving end. Among the notables signed are Billy Coyle, formerly of Dunellen, Orthlieb and Garretson. Although Dorfinger has included Tommy Mullin in his lineup the little Plainfield players stated last night that he would not participate in tomorrow's game owing to the North Plainfield High School contest at Somerville, he being the N. P. H. S. coach.

Percy Harney will oppose the locals on the mound and Barrett, a former leaguer, will do the catching.
Foley, who takes the mound for Plainfield is a former Lynn club player of the New England League.
The teams will lineup as follows
according to Dorfinger:

WAGGISH FRIENDS JOKE WITH M'MANUS

Irish Author is Flooded With Congratulatory Messages
and Good Wishes.

Waggish friends from the corners of America have flooded Seumas M'Manus with telegraphic congratulations and heartfelt wishes of success in his new avocation, that of a suspected burglar. He replied to many of them by collect telegrams, thanking them in as many words as he could. To a Virginian friend, a banker, who had asked for a share of the swag, he pointed out that, unlike the bank president, the poor burglar was usually lifted before he got the loot.

When asked for an expression of opinion on his case today, Mr. M'Manus replied, "I think it something your magazine editors ought to be heartily ashamed of. It is a sad commentary on their manner of remunerating their help when we are beginning to be taken for burglars." The hearing in the case of Mr. M'Manus will be given on Monday before City Judge W. G. DeMeza, having been put over to that time by Mayor Percy H. Stewart. Mr. M'Manus plans to sail about June 1 for Ireland where he will spend the summer, as has been his custom for several years.

THE FORUM

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

I am very glad to have my letter of the 6th made the subject of not unkindly criticism by Mrs. Sykes, whose letter appears in your issue of today. It is a pleasure to me to read comments so free from dogmatic opinion, and I am sure advocates of both sides, pro and con, can learn a lesson from an argument so fairly presented. What I am trying to accomplish through equal suffrage is more important than "votes for women," the latter being only part of the means to the desired end, that end being crystallization of woman's moral and spiritual powers (which I am assured she possesses) into the laws of the land. In every argument made by me, looking to that end, I mean to be absolutely fair and just to the other side, and I know of no reason why we should get mad with each other if we are sincere. If I am deluded by suffrage sophistry I am alone to blame, since I am pretty old, have seen much of the world, and ought to know better. If suffrage is a fake I want none of it—I can do other useful social work. So far I have heard no reason to convince me that it is a fake. I know this makes me an object of pity to some who can see no argument but their own unsupported opinion. So your correspondent and I won't quarrel.

Is the failure of the Idaho Legislature to pass a measure to clean up the Red Light districts due to woman's suffrage or even to any action or inaction of the women of Idaho? Let us be strictly fair about this. I have not stopped over at Boise for a few years, but I think Mrs. Sykes has been out there, and is probably familiar with conditions. Idaho in 1910 had 110,863 men of voting age and 69,818 women, a majority of 41,045 men. I think there are no women in the Legislature. I may be mistaken. With such a majority of male voters there is little left to the women but boasted public opinion and "indirect influence," which was of little use. This may not be a good argument for suffrage in Idaho, or any suffrage State where voting conditions are similar, but it surely clears the women as to the Red Light districts.

Your correspondent "cannot see that the liquor interests enter into the question at all. Votes have little to do with total abstinence or even with temperance—but public opinion has everything to do with it, and our contention which is amply borne out by undisputed facts, is that woman can influence public opinion just as well, if not better, without the vote than with it." I have during the last few months shown by facts and figures from the Illinois elections of November and April last that the women of a large part of that State put over one thousand saloons out of business by their votes, and added twenty-two more "dry" counties to the dry territory. For over a generation men and women labored and prayed for such results in vain; but when women got the little slip of paper, the trick was turned at their first election. This has been proclaimed a great temperance victory by the Anti-Saloon League and other temperance workers. Until the women had the vote in Illinois their moral and spiritual power was unavailable against the saloons. Now this is a fact or a falsehood, but if the latter, not a single anti has contradicted it yet. Do the anti favor State-wide prohibition? If so, and they constitute, as they claim, 90 per cent. of grown women, what is their influence good for in thirty-nine States which have it not?

As to my "inconsistency" regarding prohibition in nine States, it is seeming rather than real. I stated the disagreeable, but generally admitted reason for prohibition in the South, giving the people credit for what they tried to do, but I distinctly said "It is only a make-shift" and that Hobson is pushing a bill for National Prohibition which is wanted to help the State-wide prohibition laws, which are not a success. After what I have said about Illinois it seems needless to answer the question: "Why, if they can do what is needed without the ballot, force it on them against the will of the majority?" I think I have shown that on a large scale, as in Illinois, they can't do what is needed without the ballot. But how could a poor, little, tiny ten per cent. without the ballot, force it upon the great, educated, enlightened and cultured 90 per cent. and all the men voters besides? Oh, that 10 per cent. it surely is dynamic!

I hope we shall hear again from your correspondent. I adore an argument and just dote on facts and statistics.

ALEX. MILLAR.

May 19, 1914.

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

I should like through your columns to thank Mayor Stewart for his prompt action in regard to the photograph, the "House of Bondage." In your editorial notice of the subject you struck the right note, but I would like to emphasize the fact that no matter how moral in its ultimate purpose such a book or play may be, a theatre to which all classes and all ages are admitted is not the place for such an exhibition. Serious diseases in the body are treated by experts. We do not expose ulcers, cancers and other diseases of this kind to the public gaze. If they are contagious we isolate them. Sociologists and reformers may well study the moral diseases of society, but they should not be displayed before the young. It is as true now as in the days of Pape that "vice is a creature of such hideous mien. As to be hated needs but to be seen; yet seen too oft, familiar with her face. We first endure, then pity, then embrace."

That is the danger that young people are exposed to nowadays, in every direction. Magazines, books, plays, moving pictures, even sermons, sometimes—keep thrusting before them, vice in various ways, until familiar with its face, they cease to regard it as vice. Thanking you for your own stand in the matter, I am

Very sincerely yours,

ELIZABETH B. SYKES.

Editor Plainfield Daily Press:

Will you allow one householder and housekeeper to express through your columns her appreciation of Mayor Stewart's excellent suggestion that we make next week a "cleanup" week in Plainfield?

We need it—Plainfield and North Plainfield alike. Not but that we are in the main, a well cared for, sanitary community but there does seem to be among us a lack of that civic pride that gives a town a well-groomed, shining look and there do seem to be spots that are nobody's business. The steps of the station at North avenue, for example, I remarked the other day to a friend that, if I were a city dweller, coming to Plainfield in search of a suburban home, and the first thing I saw was that flight of steps in its usual afternoon condition, I should say "this is no place for me," and take the next train back.

And the brook! Think what a brook should mean to a town, running water, clear, pure and beautiful, with green shaded banks!

Yet there is the brook, where most of last winter the skeleton of a defunct buggy, hobnobbed with a dissipated rocking chair in full view from the Grove street bridge, doubtless, neither was prejudicial to health but, certainly, neither was an inspiring object to look upon.

They have passed on now but there will be others.

Once we had a Town Improvement Society but it died of inanition and appeared to have buried itself under the shrubs of the City Park.

But we need no more societies. What we do need is to follow the example of the Israelites in the days of Nehemiah, when they repaired the wall, "every one over against his house," and "the people had a mind to work."

Given that sense of individual responsibility and personal interest, then our city beautiful would be no idle dream—and we should find out who ought to take care of the station steps and the brook.

M. I. S. McCutchen.

NEEDLEWORK

By
MARGARET LAWRENCE

Really fascinating to do is punched work, when you have loosely woven material and a large needle to work with. There seems to be a certain rhythm, as the needle goes from one dot to another, which becomes so enjoyable that one does not wish to lay down the work until finished.

Pattern 14500 is a very simple and attractive design for a collar in punched work, which is suitable for wear with a dress or coat. It should be stamped on loosely woven linen and the flowers and leaves should be outlined with mercerized cotton before beginning on the background. Diagrams and full directions for working this pattern are given on the pattern envelope.

Guaranteed, hot-iron transfer pattern will be supplied to readers for 15 cents.

Practical Fashion Hints

By Alice Gibson

The top coat is an indispensable garment to any wardrobe. For the shorter designs, the light-weight wools and the novelty cotton materials are favored, but for a full-length design, such as is shown in No. 7490, a light-weight serge or ratine would be preferable, as they have a slightly more dressy appearance and the coat may then be used for many purposes other than sport. If ratine or serge were used with this design, the broad collar, revers and cuffs would be effective made of cotton velvet, bengaline or moire in a somewhat brighter shade than the body of the coat. This coat has one of the new wide armholes with the sleeve set in at a normal shoulder line. The length of the coat is 45 inches. For size 36, 3/4 yards of 42-inch material will be required with five-eighths of a yard of contrasting material for collar and cuffs. The pattern is cut in six sizes, 32 to 42.

THIS IS A PERFECT PATTERN. Be sure to give right size, measuring over the fullest part of the bust for dimensions. It may be obtained by filling out the coupon and enclosing 15c in stamps or coin to the Pattern Department of this paper.

Some Cookery Suggestions

RHUBARB PIES.

ONE of the most convenient foods available for making pies is rhubarb or pieplant. Combined with fruits its flavor may be greatly varied.

Rhubarb Custard Pie.—Take one cupful of stewed rhubarb, one-half cupful of sugar, two well beaten eggs, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch dissolved in three-fourths of a cupful of milk mix well and bake under crust only.

Two and One Crust Pies.

Two Crust Rhubarb Pie.—For a pie with two crusts take, if it is to be a large pie, two cupfuls of rhubarb cut into half inch pieces and a cupful and one-half of sugar over the top. Before putting on the top crust sprinkle with a generous layer of flour.

One Crust Rhubarb Pie.—Cut two bunches of the stalks of rhubarb into inch pieces, cover with boiling water and allow to stand twenty minutes to extract some of the acid in the fruit. Drain perfectly dry and to each cupful of rhubarb add one cupful of sugar into which has been sifted one level tablespoonful of cornstarch. Add a pinch of salt, mix with rhubarb and turn into a pie pan lined with bits of butter and put on the top crust and bake twenty minutes in a hot oven.

Varying the Style.

Raisin and Rhubarb Pie.—Scrape the stalks of rhubarb and cut into inch long pieces. Pour boiling water over it and cover closely. Leave thus for ten minutes. Drain in a colander. Line a pie plate with a puff paste. Wash well half a cupful of sultana raisins and drain dry. Allow this quantity to each cupful of rhubarb. Fill the crust with alternate layers of rhubarb and raisins, strewing sugar between these. Stick bits of butter here and there. Cover with a crust and bake.

Rhubarb Meringue Pie.—Bake the bottom crust as for lemon meringue or cream pie. Put the crust on the under side of the pie pan. When baked place in the pan. Add rich rhubarb filling. Make meringue of whites of two eggs beaten to a stiff froth, adding two tablespoonfuls of pulverized sugar for each egg. Cover top of the pie, putting some of the meringue in by dropping with a spoon. Set in hot oven to brown lightly. Serve at once.

Daddy's Bedtime

Story—The Spoiled Llama of the Barnyard.

JACK and Evelyn seemed to be in the best of spirits, so when daddy came in he said:

"It is plain to be seen that I must tell you a funny story this evening. Well, that is all right, I have one ready for you."

"Now you may think that a llama is a very funny thing to have in a barnyard with the other barnyard animals."

"The way he happened to come to the barnyard in the first place was this: The farmer who owned all the animals went one time on a long trip. On this trip he saw a most beautiful llama, who struck his fancy."

"So he bought the llama and took him back to his home."

"A number of his friends told him that they greatly feared that the llama would not get along with the other animals, but the man was willing to run the risk, for he was bent on owning the llama."

"When they got home the llama thought he had never seen so many strange animals in his life, and the other animals thought the same of him. Well, you know, animals have keen senses of humor. And the laughter in the barnyard was the noisiest laughter that ever was heard. And, of course, the llama didn't mind being laughed at, as he could laugh just as hard at the other animals."

"Now, the man thought that the llama would enjoy being driven. He thought the animal could carry things around the farm."

"So after he had been there a few days the llama was hitched to a cart and given the milk bottles to carry and the pails of milk."

"The llama started off at the wildest speed. He went so fast that all the milk spilled over the barnyard, and no one could stop him, and the man cried:

"Whoa, whoa! Stop!"

"But the llama kept right on. He came to a steep and very rocky bank. The man thought surely that would stop him, but not at all. The llama was used to climbing higher rocks than those. In fact, they seemed no more than pebbles to him. And up he went until the cart broke and fell down the bank."

"Then the llama turned and went back to the barnyard where the other animals stood with their mouths open watching him."

"The llama, when he got back, said to the man in llama talk:

"You bought me for my beauty, so I will not be made useful."

"And although the man could not understand llama talk, as a rule, he understood what the llama meant this time."

"Never again did he, at any rate, try to make the llama useful."

SAYS ROOSEVELT PROMISED AID

Mellen Continues Testimony Before Probe Board.

TO BALK THE MORSE DEAL

Former Head of New Haven Says Colonel Promised Not to Prosecute Road For Water Lines if Morse Offer Was Rejected.

Washington, May 22.—Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven railroad, continued his interesting recital before the interstate commerce commission of the financial history of the New Haven railroad.

He disclosed the fact that President Roosevelt, back in 1907, promised that the New Haven's ownership of steamship lines would not be disturbed by the federal government if Mr. Mellen would turn down an offer of $20,000,000 which he had received for these properties from Charles W. Morse. He also said the colonel kept his promise.

These interviews showed plainly there was an understanding between Mr. Mellen and President Roosevelt that the federal government would not disturb the New Haven ownership of water lines. Mr. Mellen testified that Mr. Roosevelt had told him the New Haven's acquisition of steamship lines would not be interfered with if the New Haven would refuse Charles W. Morse's offer of $20,000,000 for the lines.

This was in 1907 before the panic, when Charles W. Morse charged that he was being persecuted and persecuted by the Roosevelt administration.

Mr. Mellen had an interview with the president, he said, concerning the sale by the New Haven of its steamship lines. It was at this meeting that Mr. Roosevelt told him that if the New Haven company did not sell its steamships to Charles W. Morse, Mr. Mellen "would experience no trouble with his administration for the holding of steamships."

It happened, said Mr. Mellen, that Herbert Knox Smith, then commissioner of corporations, was present at the interview and returned to his office and made a written memorandum of the conversation that took place.

Mr. Mellen after the interview returned to New York, reported to the late J. P. Morgan and later acquired two more steamship lines. Then Mr. Mellen learned that Mr. Roosevelt was "hot." Mr. Mellen was much disturbed.

Disturbed Over Roosevelt. "Where Mr. Roosevelt thought I had taken advantage of his confidence," said Mr. Mellen, "was in the acquisition of the Windsor line and the Merchants and Miners, and I was very much disturbed, as it seemed to come to a question of veracity between the president of the United States and myself."

"What did the president complain of?" asked Mr. Folk. "He thought that I had gone further than I should and outside of the discussion at the interview I had with him."

"At which interview?" "The interview in which I had spoken of the Morse offer and which I had turned down. The president thought that I had gone too far and was too fresh."

It appeared that Mr. Mellen said he recalled that Herbert Knox Smith was present at the interview and that the latter had a written memorandum. Mr. Mellen said that Mr. Smith was a methodical man, and just as soon as the interview ended he had gone to his office and prepared the memorandum.

"It was God's providence that he did," said Mr. Mellen, "and I was very much relieved when I learned that he had made that memorandum and had kept it. It was because of that I urged Mr. Buckland to have Mr. Smith meet me at the president's office and state what he had written and clear the matter up."

"So the steamship companies did not go into the bill that was prepared and filed the latter part of 1907 by Attorney General Bonaparte for the dissolution of the New England transportation monopoly?" said Mr. Folk.

"They did not."

"Why were they left out?" "Because Mr. Roosevelt kept faith with me. He had said that if I did not sell to Mr. Morse I should experience no trouble with his administration for any holding of steamships."

This statement by Mr. Mellen explains something that has puzzled Washington for several years.

JUDGE BEN LINDSEY.

Interviews Wilson in Interest of Colorado Strikers.

Photo by American Press Association.

President Wilson granted a hearing to Judge Ben H. Lindsey of Denver and a delegation of women and children from the strike districts in Colorado. Judge Lindsey explained to the president that Colorado really has a civil war, in which it is necessary that the federal government shall take a firm hand and force mediation. He expressed the belief that the federal government should order the mines in the strike districts closed and compel the operators to submit to arbitration.

SALTILLO CAPTURED; FEDERAL ARMY FLEES

Evacuating Troops Now Face Extermination.

Juarez, May 22.—With Saltillo in rebel hands and San Luis Potosi menaced by a large army, the 10,000 federal troops under Generals Maas and De Mourre, who fled Saltillo, face extermination. Behind is Villa with his army holding Saltillo and pressing forward to the south.

Before them are General Carrera Torres and General Eulalio Gutierrez with 5,000 rebels, who are attacking San Luis Potosi.

Before the federal army in any event can reach San Luis Potosi a stretch of desert 200 miles long must be traversed. The evacuation of Saltillo and its occupation by Villa occurred today. A telegram from Villa to Rafael Musquiz filed at Pardo, forty miles north of Saltillo, brought official news of the evacuation, but no details.

Earlier in the day a message from General Felipe Angeles, Villa's artillery chief, to his family in Paris passed through Juarez with the news. Angeles' message stated that the federalists left the city only after the rebel columns had made some well directed movements against it, but before any general attack was delivered.

It is reported that heavy skirmishing took place within a radius of eight miles of Saltillo before the evacuation began.

Whether Villa himself has entered the fallen city is not known, but it is practically certain the rebel vanguard entered the city. The federalists were retreating southward in the direction of San Luis Potosi, but their line of march, as the railway is destroyed in many places, will be harassed by the rebel forces.

The evacuation came as a surprise to rebels in Juarez and El Paso. Robert V. Desqueira, diplomatic agent in this country, said:

"Of course we knew Saltillo would be captured, but we did not expect the victory would come so soon and with so little fighting."

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Personal Service

Now that the summer time is nearly here, when you leave all windows and doors open as much as possible, you should place your valuables out of the reach of "second-story workers" and burglars. It is foolish to run unnecessary risks when you can rent a Safe Deposit Box in our burglar and fireproof vaults for as low as $5 a year.

And it is particularly unwise to keep more money in the house than is necessary for your immediate needs, for you tempt others to steal it and yourself to spend it. Put it in this strong bank and let it earn interest.
