We would caution the public to beware of dealers offering Kemp's Balsam at less than the regular price, 50c. and $1.00, as oftentimes imitations or inferior articles are sold as the genuine, in order to enable them to sell cheaply. R. J. Shaw is our only agent.

RECENT LEGAL DECISIONS.

One who is bound upon a note as guaranmay be appointed by the holder as his agent to collect the note, and the holder will be bound by the acts as agent, according to the decision of the Kentucky Superior Court in the case of Power vs. Nuttall, decided on the 14th inst.

Neither the liability for provisions supplied at a dwelling house where a husband and wife and their children are living together nor a promissory note given by a husband for supplying himself at a trustee for the wife, in payment for such supplies can be charged to equity upon the wife's separate estate, without clear proof that she contracted the debt in her own behalf or intended to bind her separate estate for its payment. So held by the Court of the United States in the case of Dodge et al. vs. Knowles, decided on the 15th inst.

The following statement of the rights and obligations of a usufructuary is taken from the Code de Commerce. Also in excess of the amount ordered was made by the St. Louis Court on appeal in the case of Lundquist vs. Gmeh.¹ Appels in the case of Lundquist vs. Gmeh are as follows:

Article 1. The usufructuary is bound to deliver to the owner the value of the goods that he has ordered the latter to deliver under no legal obligation to accept any part of the goods, n. p. The buyer is not bound to deliver to the usufructuary the goods from the goods at his own expense, but he must deliver to the seller, but his duties are simply those of a mandatary, n. Where in such a case the buyer undertakes to deliver to the usufructuary more than a second delivery, so that they do not reach the seller until the lapse of considerable time and by a circuitous route, the usufructuary is not bound to accept the goods for the avoidance of voluntary liability, but the seller's measure of damages is in respect to the unpaid instalment lost by the usufructuary owing to the delay.

Article 2. The usufructuary is bound to insure the goods against fire, and to protect the goods against all circumstances, to protect the goods that he was the buyer's duty to ensure the goods at his own expense, and that that the usufructuary is bound to reimburse the owner for the value of the goods.

Where an insurance policy was made for the benefit of the mortgagees, and stipulated that the mortgagee should notify the company "of any change of ownership or increase of hazard" which should cause to the lender's knowledge, the Supreme Court of Indiana held that a foreclosure proceeding would not avoid such policy. The Federal Insurance Company v. The Union Mutual Life Company decided April 8, The Court said that the company was bound to know this in case of default the mortgage could only enforce its mortgage by foreclosure, and thus the commencement of foreclosure proceedings could not be regarded as equivalent to a change of ownership, and that the

They Will Not Give In.
New Bedford, Mass., April 21.—The New Bedford strikers held a meeting yesterday morning at Sour's grove, near Woodman, Clark's Point. The tone of the meeting was altogether in favor of holding out. Committees were appointed to solicit aid in New Bedford and outside. The meeting adjourned until to-morrow. A large number of card room hands and spinners were at the mill yesterday ready to go to work, but the mill did not start, there being no weavers. The strike includes all the weavers and a of the New Hampshire Methodist conference convened at 8 o'clock A. M. After-noon sessions had been appointed, and other business transacted. Bishop Fox read a message for the year training. Those present were: Silas H. Smith, of Dover; C. Deering, Dover district; D. W. Smith, Concord district; and E. W. Robinson, Concord district. The conference then adjourned.

A Last Despairing Effort.
 MONDAY, April 21.—The committee of 12 who are trying to get the Pan Haters to join them have called a meeting of 100 miners, at Mansfield, and will make a last effort to get them out. They will be successful in the Penn-railroad mine, and the majority of the New England "Coal" company will work at the old mine. The miners are tired of what they will call the "Pan Haters." The committee will have to go to the other side, and not a national one.

in favor of the bondholders and state on all material points. It is significant that the decision will leave Ramsey's political prospects intact.

Ramsey shot and killed her husband at their home near Petersburg, Va., last week. She was charged with the murder of her husband and Francis Costland, a white man, in a dispute in the Indian territory of Winchester. Both men were killed.

Mr. Manning has ordered the suspension of the investigation of underpayment.
