THE PROPOSED STREET EXTENSION.

The Objections to Having a Few Bars at the Expense of Improvements Being Sited the Mayor.

There is a determination on the part of some of those residing on the streets adjacent to streets in North Plainfield who are anxious for improvements to be made in the streets, to have a few bars at the expense of improvements being sited the Mayor. The court has already decided against the method of assessment. This was in the case of George S. Lewis's petition for North Plainfield. It was identical with the present case, the court holding, appears that the assessment should have been distributed over the whole township. In this case the attempt is made to throw on a few the burden of the expense for an improvement, which benefits the entire township. With this case in view it does not seem likely that those residing in cross streets and those adjacent will be willing to hear it, as they are called upon to do, except a merely nominal sum placed on the township generally.

Of course this does not affect the property on the line of the improvement, about which there is no question as to the right of the property owner to have the improvement placed on property, where the improvement is of very doubtful value, certainly, in the opinion of some, of no value at all to the township generally.

The wider distribution would make the expense to each a mere trifle.

There is a different view of extension proposed at Madison avenue, where it is contemplated cutting through a block in so to West street, provided Mr. Geo. H. Babcock and Mr. William M. Stillman can buy No. 2 engine house at a satisfactory price.

Objection is made to the engine house, because, as it is alleged, the noise there annoys the Methodists opposite in Sunday worship, though that objection appears to have been dropped.

The fire department values the house and the lot at $18,000—$8,000 being for the house and $10,000 per foot, for the lot.

The News returned to Mr. Babcock's plans at the time he purchased Laine's Hotel, some months ago, and also a few days ago to the proposed removal of the engine house, to which removal the engine company appears anxious.

Unquestionably the extension of Broadway, as well as Madison avenue, would benefit both the city and borough if it can be brought about in a way not to be too costly to the people.

STILL VERY, VERY HOT.

Comparing to-day and yesterday with the two preceding days it has been fairly warm.

Not that it is not a pretty warm day, all things considered, but it felt positively chilly after such weather as that which we have had for the last few days.

The Signal Service, with its usual wild anxiety to rush into print, has announced that a cool wave is on its way here, and that the temperature will fall 15 degrees within the next twenty-four hours.

"The worst of it all is, however," as a weather prophet has said, "that it will be a relief to the suffering there is among the children of the city. It is really terrible."

There was a fatal case of sunstroke at Elizabeth yesterday.

A Hungarian laborer, Anton Borsanyi, of Elizabeth, died of sunstroke yesterday. He had been faint at first but complained of feeling ill and leaving his labor went to a shady spot where he lay down. He was found by his employer, who took him to a doctor. He died after a few hours.

JOHN KEAN CONFIDENT.

"No Democrat Can Be Elected Governor at the Next Election," He Says.

In reply to questions asked of ex-Governor John Kean, Jr., the state of day, as to whom he thought would be the Republican party choice for a gubernatorial candidate, he said:

"I think it would be a mistake to say anything upon the subject. I am supposed to be a candidate myself."

"But about General Grubb?"

"Well, every candidate is inclined to think his chances are the best."

"Who do you think is likely to be the most formidable Democratic candidate?"

"Can't say."

"What do you think of Mr. E. F. C. Young's candidacy?"

"I believe him a good, honest man. But I don't think any Democrat can be elected with the Reading combine as a record of his party starting him in the streets and those adjacent will be willing to hear it, as they are called upon to do, except a merely nominal sum placed on the township generally."

Of course this does not affect the property on the line of the improvement, about which there is no question as to the right of the property owner to have the improvement placed on property, where the improvement is of very doubtful value, certainly, in the opinion of some, of no value at all to the township generally."
