

A RAILROAD WRECK.

AN ENGINEER SAVES A PARTY OF PLAINFIELDERS.

A Young Man Fatally Injured—Thirty Cars Smashed, and 200 Tons of Coal Scattered—The Base Ball Team Narrowly Escapes.

The breaking of an axle on a loaded coal train, between Bound Brook and Dunellen, Saturday afternoon, caused a disastrous wreck. Thirty cars were smashed into kindling wood and 200 tons of coal were scattered over the tracks, blocking travel for several hours. Just as the accident happened, a passenger train, loaded with excursionists to the Somerville ball game, was passing. The engineer saw the coal cars leaving the track, and pulling the throttle wide open, cleared his train of the wreck, narrowly escaping an accident.

Robert J. Blockack, a respectable, kindly young man, about 17 years old, was standing a ride on the coal train at the time of the accident.

When the crash came he jumped, and in some way his right leg got under the wheel, and was cut off.

He was taken to Monmouth Hospital, where he died within a few hours.

Before dying the young man told Dr. Berlingham, who was attending him, that he was on his way from Chicago, where his mother resides, to his uncle, who lives in Brooklyn. His money gave out on the way, and he was obliged to quit on the way to his journey without the remainder of his journey without money.

County Physician Westcott of Scotch Creek, in the evening and gave a permit for burial. The body was given to Undertaker Cassey, who has retained the body Sunday awaiting word from the mother, as to what she desired.

He was on his way from Chicago, where his mother resides, to his uncle, who lives in Brooklyn. His money gave out on the way, and he was obliged to quit on the way to his journey without the remainder of his journey without money.

The other fellow did not jump when the crash came, and was saved from injury.

He was brought to Plainfield, where some Plainfield ladies of the Relief Association learn of his misfortune and gave him money to continue to his home, for which he was deeply grateful.

Fifteen hundred and ninety-eight people were taken to Papiac, N. J., on the excursion yesterday. It was the third annual excursion given by the grocers and was a great success.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

THE HILLDALE TENNIS CLUBS SECOND ANNUAL GAMES A SUCCESS.

Albert Simmons and August Huntington Win the Doubles, and Albert Simmons is Champion at Singles—Saturday Afternoon Tea—A Large Attendance.

A most charming picture greeted the eyes of everyone who had occasion to witness the second annual tournament games of the Hilldale Tennis Club on their club grounds, corner of Broadway and Hillside avenue, on Saturday afternoon and all day yesterday.

One or more of the four courts of the club was constantly in use and surrounded the time with a bordering fringe of the beauty and fashion of Plainfield.

The day was perfect. The air was fresh and refreshing, cool (though from appearances the players thought otherwise), and the sun, laughing faces of young people, together with their bright costumes stood out harmoniously with the background of dark foliage of the shrubbery and tall trees.

CONDUCTED BY THE GEMSA TURN-VEREIN YESTERDAY.

A Great Day With the Germans—List of Prize Winners Mrs. Kilmann Wins the Queen's Prize.

LI the members of the Gemsa Turnverein shooting sports team of this vicinity, and their friends, spent yesterday morning at Kilmann's Grove, a picturesque spot on the mountain where the day was celebrated in characteristic German style. Part of the festival occasion consisted in shooting at the king bird, a very conspicuous game.

There was singing by the singing societies, feasting, beer drinking, and in the afternoon a large number of people, including the Germans and their wives and families or their sweethearts with them, made merry the whole day.

Twice during the game Empire Sullivan was compelled to borrow Maxson's helmet which to him time because they refused to return to the field and resume the game, but each time before the expiration of the legal five minutes the West End team would get back to their positions and "play ball."

By knocking their line in the first inning the Crescents scored three runs and virtually won the game, as only one run was failed after making a total for the game of 2-3.

Westfield made its lone run in the second inning. Twice after that they succeeded in getting men to second and third, but the runners were unable to score.

Nesbitt was put to the box, although proved that he was well, and pitched a winning ball.

Sharratt twirled the leather for West End, and tried hard to win, but he could not win alone, as his support was very poor. The score:

LEAGUE BALL GAMES.

NO CHANGE IN THE POSITION OF THE CLUBS.

McAULIFFE THE VICTOR.

He Wins the First Big Fight at the Pugilistic Carnival.

MYER LASTED FOR FIFTEEN ROUNDS.

The Champion Had Things All His Own Way from the Start. The Heavily Knocked the "Straw-Cyclone" Out with One of His Right Handers.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4.—Jack McAuliffe is still the peerless lightweight champion of the world. In a fierce battle of fifteen rounds last night he defeated Billy Myer, the "Straw-Cyclone," who alone had the right to question his title to supremacy. It was the first fight of the great pugilistic carnival arranged, and despite a tremendous downpour of rain the amphitheater of the Olympic club was crowded, and thousands, unable to gain admission, stood outside and cheered back the cheers of the multitude within.

Before 9 o'clock the arena was uncontestedly full of men, who had paid $15 for seats in the gallery, and when ex-Mayor McAuliffe made the formal announcement that a contest for the lightweight championship of the world was about to take place he received a rousing cheer. The men weighed in a few minutes before 9 o'clock. The limit was fifteen pounds.

JACK McAULIFFE. Myer scored at 10:15, and McAuliffe, at 10:15, E. M. Frank was made timekeeper, while Jimmy Corbille, of Boston, held the watch for McAuliffe and George R. Clark for Myer. McAuliffe's seconds were Joe Chynoweth, Jack Sheehan, Jimmy Nelson and Professor James Robertson, of Bay St. Louis. Myer was looked after by his brother, Ed. John Ewert, Frank Hickey and Al Kennedy. Myer took his seat in the ring surrounded by Jack Drumsey, Peter Maher and other lovers. It is known as the lucky corner.

The Fight. From the very first moment it was apparent that Jack was master. He took the lead in everything. After the pair had shaken hands McAuliffe smiled a wintry, depressing smile. Myer, with olive colored body, brown face and black hair, came forward like a crouching Indian. But he still tacitly showed that he regarded the champion as his superior. He stood as if crouched together, when "bang" came Mac's left fist to his midriff, technically called the mark. He tried the trick again, but the "Straw-Cyclone" stopped the blow. In the sparring that followed McAuliffe led too low with his left hand, slipped and fell.

Champion Jack bounded out of his corner like a catamount when the gong summoned him for the second round. He vanished. Myer led right and left in one-two fashion once and again. Myer simply could not find him. Jack got away cleverly every time Myer tried to lead. Myer was naturally the champion's inferior in knowledge of time and distance. After a little sparring McAuliffe let go left and right in quick succession and struck Myer. As soon as he got up Jack floored him again. The "Straw-Cyclone" was very tired. Myer clinched several times, but he was so weak that the champion threw him easily, although he grappled with the force of a piston rod, and striking Myer under the ear cut it as if done with a mallet. Myer was on his feet in the tenth round and his energy was the dangerous thing. But shortly Jack was out of the way and escaped without any injury to speak of. Then, when Myer grew weary of his rubber answered tactics, his opponent thumped him heavily and got quite even for the pedestrian was he had made him perform.

Knocked Out. When the gong sounded "time" for the fifteenth round Myer was weak and grumpy. He was knocked down with a heavy right. McAuliffe knocked him down again as he got up. This time he lay helpless on the floor until he was counted out. It was a heavy right hand swing that did the trick. McAuliffe was borne triumphantly in his seconds' shoulders to his corner.

The Brooklyn boy was made the recipient of a victory ovation, with the exception that that New Orleans was known as a Myer city. McAuliffe's seconds opened champagne in his corner, while Myer was offered a glass of the wine by his conqueror, which was accepted, and a hearty handshake was given the greatest battle recorded in the lightweight class since the days of Billy Edwards, Barney Aaron and Sam Colyer. After the battle Dick Roche challenged any man in the world to fight McAuliffe at 125 pounds, weigh in at the ringside, for $10,000 a side.
