MR. E. N. HARNED KILLED IN THE STORM AT ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS YESTERDAY.

He was Crushed in the Ruins of a Bathing Pavilion—News of the Accident Brought to this City by his Brother.

DAVID N. Harned, principal of the Harned Academy, was killed by a falling pavilion yesterday noon. The first news to reach here of the accident was brought last night by a brother of Mr. Harned.

He was the head end of Lott's bathing pavilion that Mr. Harned was killed. He had been in the water for some time, and was driving to the point of the pavilion, as his body was completely driven, with the exception of the oval.

The story of the storm is as follows: Two black clouds came together and there was a clap of thunder. Then began the most terrible wind and rain. The storm experienced for many years. The wind acted like a cyclone, following a path about a mile wide, and smashing everything in the way of its progress. The guests in hotels, who had been out on the piazza, hastily alighted the parlor. Windows were broken and glass was scattering in corners. Children huddled together in corners.

The bathers who were in the sea when the storm came down, ceased to be in the water, and hurried their dressing in order to reach a place of safety as soon as possible.

The loss of life and property was not so great as it had been feared. It will take $50,000 to repair damages. At one time it looked as though the whole village was doomed.

A woman who refused to give her name was seriously injured and may die. A Swedish laborer was also killed. He was working on a new just of the Roman Catholic church was blown off. If the cyclone had struck the town five minutes earlier the church would have been a pile of ruins. The most serious character could not have been averted.

Many cases are prokine up and preparing to return to their homes.

THE POLE WAS CHARGED. An Unreliable "Hanger" Fills a Pole With Electricity.

Owing to poor insulation on one of the hangers that holds the trolley wire, a pole in front of Dr. Matton's, a corner street became charged with electricity yesterday. The pole was charged sufficiently to give anyone touching it a shock.

Several boys touched it with their hands but they didn't bother with it. Mr. J. J. Stahl saw the danger of leaving the pole in that condition, so he telephoned the fact to Superintendent of the wire and driving Park, by looking the wire and driving Park, so the trouble had the tower went sent for a new "hanger" placed on the old one.

The pole was charged heavily enough to dry the earth for a considerable distance around it.

EACH WON A HEAT. Safety Racine; Between "Walkin" and "Andy."

On Saturday there was racing on the track of the Gentlemen's Driving Park, on the Park avenue, between Mr. John "Walkin" and Mr. "Andy" and Mr. "Andy" and Mr. "Walkin". Two heats were trotted, each winning one. "Walkin" won the first heat in 2:30, and "Andy" the second heat in 2:30.

Next Saturday some exciting races are expected to take place.

STRICKEN AT HIS HOME.

A STROKE OF APOPLEXY ENDS THE LIFE OF A. C. MANCHESTER.

NO SERIOUS DAMAGE HERE. The Storm Not Very Severe in this Vicinity.

The storm here Saturday night was quite heavy. No serious damage is reported. The trolley wire on Somerset street was disconnected at the corner of Madison street, by the lightning, striking the pole, and the wire was cut.

The Central Railroad will run another train to Asbury Park, on Wednesday, September 1st.

Saturday night in the bar-room of the "Lodge" two men came to blows. Friends of both parties intervened and the men separated.

The Central Railroad will run another train to Asbury Park, on Wednesday, September 1st.

On Tuesday morning, Mr. John C. Manchester, of the city, was killed by a falling pavilion.

FIVE LIVES LOST

IN THE STORM AT SOMERVILLE SATURDAY NIGHT.

The Injured Will Probably Number Twenty-Three—All But One Are Expected to Recover.

IN the history of Somerset County no such storm as that which visited it Saturday is remembered. So far as can be ascertained, five persons fell victims to the storm. The dead are: Michael Mack, aged 40, Philadelphia.

Thomas Peters, English tourist. Three persons drowned by the upper end of the storm at Somerville. Identity not established.

The injured will probably number twenty-three. All will recover with the exception of one, who was injured by being thrown out of her carriage. Her skull was fractured, and it is impossible to tell whether she will get up or not.

The Karitan River, fed by overrunning by its little tributaries, rose above its banks and flooded the fields. It is a large creek that lives in between two small hills, and flooded the houses of a dozen families of poor people, who were in the fields. The water was so high that it was impossible to get out of the fields.
