and Otto Zanstra on Wednesday night, January 10, is being tried before City Judge William G. DeMea in the Municipal Court. The State Motor Vehicle Commission's case against the defendant, who is 25 years old, appeared here today to press the following complaints against the young man: Driving a car while under the influence of alcohol; driving without a license and using another's driver's license tag on his car. The last named is the only charge connected with the accident, the other two having been dropped. The defendant is Winfield S. Anglemann. In defending Tyrell and the State's case is in the hands of a lawyer from the commissioner's staff. Tyrell entered a plea of not guilty to the charges and it is expected that the hearing will last the greater part of the day. Judge DeMea has jurisdiction in the case.

and the next morning was taken to Elizabeth and arraigned before Judge James C. Connolly on a manslaughter charge, his bail being fixed at $1,500. Tyrell came to his home here after the smashup and was located at the garage.

of the Queen City garage, where two of the men were employed and owner of the license used on the "death car," declared that he had warned Tyrell not to use his license tag. De-

When the accident occurred Tyrell was at liberty under bail to answer to a charge of driving an automobile without a license and while intoxicated. He was arrested in Elizabeth sometime ago and his driver's license was taken away from him.

District Court Judge

Plainfield for twenty years and has been connected in recent years with the firm of Codrington & Blatz. He studied Buckstone in New York University and was graduated with an LL. B. degree in May, 1897, passing the bar admittance examinations one month later. In 1902 he qualified as counsellor.

As a member of the Plainfield Common Council, of which he is serving his second term as president, Mr. Blatz has probably gained the major portion of his recognition as a hard and earnest worker. He has main-and cabinet worker. He has maintained an intimate acquaintance with municipal affairs and has been actively identified with the G. O. P. in city, county, State and Federal work.

LICENSE REVOKED.
William Nesbit, a taxi chauffeur employed by the Willis & Hall Taxi Company of North avenue, was company in North avenue, was arraigned before Judge De Meza in the city police court this morning on a charge of fast and reckless driving. He was fined $5 and his license was revoked by the court.

MISS BROWN TO WED.
Miss Agnes Brown, daughter of Mrs. Jessie H. Brown, of 514 Watchung avenue, this city, and Robert Campbell, of New York, will be married at the residence of the bride's mother, on Wednesday, June 10, at 10 o'clock.

Campton, Shropshire, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shropshire, of Philadelphia, will be married in the parsonage of the Trinity Reformed church by the Rev. John Y. Brook on Saturday, January 27, at 5 o'clock.

CASE DISMISSED.
Frank Dunham, colored, was arraigned before City Judge William G. De Meza in the police court this morning charged with the larceny of a blanket from the office of the Plainfield Cab Company. He pleaded not guilty and the case was dismissed due to the lack of evidence. Martin Bismarck represented the defendant.

and Lieut. Maurice Higgins and Chief Kiely appeared for the city.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., JANUARY 19, 1917.

It is generally conceded that Green brook should be kept free from refuse; we should have a municipal system of garbage and ashes collection; a public comfort station would be a convenience; refuse cans are essential to clean thoroughfares, especially in the business section.

Ordering an investigation is a favorite political device. It keeps the public quiet, gives the impression that something is being done and holds down the lid.

The idea of investigation is good. A business corporation gives to any new problem the most intensive study and exhaustive tests. But it does not place such in-

We have gained nothing but the memories of Parra and Carrizal are still keen in the minds of the Americans and under the present policy it would be well to take no more chances with the suspicious, headstrong, astute and resourceful Carranza. Get out of Mexico and stay out and keep closed eyes on the anarchy prevailing across the international line. Many weary months have been spent in an attempt to induce Carranza to give some sort of an ex post facto approval to the American invasion but the minutes of the Washington sessions will show that we have accomplished naught.

Annette Kellerman Will Show at Proctor's House

For the week starting Monday, January 22, the management of Proctor's local photoplay theatre has booked a program of wonderful photoplay features, starting some of the greatest and most popular stars in the business. On Monday, Vitaphone presents a rare and valuable picture of the famous stage actress.

Supported by LUCILLE LEE STEWART in "THE NINETEEN AND NINE."
The Ninety and Nine, Mrs. Pearl White is seen in "Pearl of the Vernon Court," appears in the second chapter of the serial "Patricia," and a picture of the bill. On Friday, beloved Harry Pickford will appear in one of her greatest successes, "Hilda from Holland," and Wilfred Lucas will contribute his share of the entertainment by appearing in "The Microscope Mystery."
Saturday's program consists of Clio Riskey and Wallace Reid in "The House of the Golden Windows," and Lionel Barrymore in Metro's "The Brand of Cowardice."

ANNETTE KELLERMAN
COMING TO THE HIPPO
Charles Dillingham authorized the announcement yesterday that Annette Kellerman, the renowned diving Venus, will appear in person at the Hippodrome, beginning Monday, January 22, filling the time now allotted on the program of "The Big Show" to Anna Pavlova and the ballet. Miss Pavlova, as already stated, closes her limited engagement of twenty weeks on Saturday preceding that date.

Monster Spectacle On Hippodrome's Big Stage.
Although many rumors have been circulated and even printed concerning the engagement of the famous swimming beauty at the big playhouse, Mr. Dillingham withheld the public announcement until he was convinced that the plan he intended for a man-

"SHOW OF WONDERS."
The "Show of Wonders," at the Winter Garden, which has passed its one hundredth performance, promises to eclipse all its predecessors in popularity. That the theatre-going public has found greater joy in this, the twentieth Winter Garden extravaganza, is but another proof that the desire of these unique entertainments are masters in the art of spectacular extravaganza. The bloom does not rub off of the peach at the Winter Garden. In the whole world there is no other institution of its kind. Attempts have been made to plagiarize its plan of entertainment; but these, in the main, have been but dismal imitations. Night after night there gathers at the Winter Garden theatre parties made up of entertainment seekers from all walks of life. Here one is sure to find a delectable evening bursting with comedy, music and glee. The large cast includes: George W. Monroe, Melnitz, and Heath Howard and Howard, Walter C. Kelly, Tom Lewis, Marjorie Miller, Dolcie Irving, John T. Murray, Grace Fisher, Alexis Kostor, White A. Clayton, Sidney Phillips, Dan Quinn, Edmund Melrose, Eleanor Brown, James Grant, Ernest Hare, Virginia Smith and others. Matinee occurs on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Every Sunday night there is a concert make up of all the leading entertainers of New York.

"HER SOLDIER BOY."
Capacity houses continue to be the rule at the Astor Theatre where the military overture, "Her Soldier Boy," is the attraction. With a brilliant cast headed by Clifton Crawford, John Charles Thomas, Adele Rowland and Beth Loyd, with charming music and a book genuinely humorous, this overture, now in its sixth week, has already been recorded as one of the most popular offerings ever presented on Broadway.
In the company, in addition to the above-named quartet of stars, are Cyril Chadwick, Ellis Gersoff, Mildred Richardson, Harold Vizard, George A. Schiller, Frank Ridge, Ward De Wolfe and Ethel Brandon. There is a chorus of sixty. Matinee is given on Wednesday and Saturday.

for the production proper, and the door for the aqueous spectacle, including Miss Kellerman, will be a portable construction placed over the other two, to be set in place and removed by hydraulic devices. Few details of this new athletic-water novelty for the Hippodrome are being announced, but it is stated that Miss Kellerman will swim and dive, and that she has been several weeks since she has been seen in the flesh, doing the remarkable things which have made the motion pictures of which "The Daughter of the Gods," now

"A DAUGHTER OF THE GODS."
"No German student ever was prouder of his dwelling estate than those girls are if they are scraped on the rocks," said one of the directors of William Fox's $1,000,000 picture beautiful, "A Daughter of the Gods." He referred to the score of more of beautiful amphitruons, who as mermaids and water nymphs, set as a foil to the marvelous aquatic accomplishments of Annette Kellerman, the star of the fairy photoplay. These girls, selected from the best swimmers and divers to be found in the United States, were frequently in actual danger of losing their lives in the labyrinths they got from the tides of the Caribbean. Instead of deterring them from taking chances, the fears they received from being dashed about on the rocks came to be cherished badges of courage and the girls who came to New York without such evidences of her prowess was commemorated by her more fortunate sisters.

"THE WANDERER."
Next Tuesday evening, January 23, at the Manhattan Opera House, West 43rd street, Messrs. William Elliott, P. Ray Conestock and Morris Gell will produce, for the first time in America, "The Wanderer," a new Biblical play by Maurice V. Samuels, founded upon "Der Verlorene Sohn," by Wilhelm Schmitz, which was produced in Europe by Prof. Max Reinhardt. The scenes are laid in the Holy Land and in Jerusalem three thousand years ago and in general "The Wanderer" follows the parable of the prodigal son as narrated in the gospel of Luke, chapter fifteen. The play has been staged by Ben Seal, with dances arranged by A. Koster, and the incidental music by by Anselm Gontzel. The scenery and costumes are from original designs by Stern, the artist for all of the Reinhardt productions, and whose last work seen in America was the production of "Samson."

Hazel Dawn is one of the best patrons the U. S. postoffice has. Her correspondence is directed mostly to occupants of the trenches "somewhere France." Miss Dawn is appearing in the title role of "The Century Girl," at the Century Theatre, New York.

Theatre Bill "Riot of Fun"

Manager Shannon, in securing a bill for the latter half of the week at the Plainfield Theatre, obtained a variety of numbers that include a little of everything on the vaudeville stage. The headliner is Miss Feylans with her cockades, a number the like of which has seldom appeared at a local playhouse.

Other numbers on the bill include "Australian Rita Stanley," who is a riot of fun with his nonsensical antics and the "Fashold Theatre in Vaudeville Today and Tomorrow."

Marion Wild, or Wild a Teckler, at the Plainfield Theatre in Vaudeville Today and Tomorrow. The hits of the program is a skit in songs entitled "The Wise Guy" and Wild & Leckler are the principals in a clever and original musical comedy duo. The last number on the bill is "The Kentucky Post," a corps of blackface funsters. The seventh episode of "Pearl of the Army," featuring Miss Pearl White, will be the moving picture attraction at the theatre today. There will also be Pathé's Weekly and several Universal comedies.

The usual Monday extravaganza will be eliminated next week and in its place Manager Shannon has secured an excellent vaudeville bill supplemented with moving pictures.

STRAND THEATRE.
At the Strand Theatre Marie Doré will be seen in "Lost and Won," a gripping drama of newspaper life written especially for her by Channing Pollock and Remond Wolf and prepared for the screen by Margaret Turnbull. The story has to do with "Clunder," a little newspaper boy on a bet is made the ward of a wealthy stockholder, he is brought to the streets, in a ragged suit and dilapidated hat, but after her rise in society she is given an opportunity to wear some beautiful gowns. The Famous Players Film Company producers have given Miss Doré an excellent supporting cast, including Elliott Dexter, May Kelso, Carl Stockdale, C. H. Goldfarb, Sydney Dean and Robert Gray.

Other films of interest to be shown are "King of the Hall," a new comedy entitled "The End of a Perfect Day" and the Strand Tonal Review, including satirical news pictures from this country and abroad.

On the musical program is Knud Dalgaard, a Danish violin virtuoso who will make his American debut. Mr. Dalgaard will execute one of the most difficult musical tests, that of playing Paganini's Variations on one string. For his second number he will play Ole Bull's "Saterjentens Sondag," a Scandinavian composition of much charm and beauty. Grace Hoffman, the talented coloratura soprano, and Rector Aronson, the Russian tenor, will also be heard. The concert orchestra, under the direction of Carl Edwards, will render an overture and other incidental music to the subjects shown on the screen.

"LOVE O' MIKE."
Miss Elisabeth Marbury and Leo Shubert, presented for the first time in New York at the Shubert Theatre, Monday evening, a new musical comedy in a rollicking and humorous style entitled "Love O' Mike." Miss Marbury has rapidly gained a distinctive place in the theatrical world as a producer of smart and dainty musical plays in which an atmosphere of fashionable modernity is conveyed. It was she who presented "Nobody's Business" and "Vary Good Eddie," both of which musical comedies were enormously successful in New York and old time.

JOSEF HOFMANN, pianist, will be heard in concert, in the Plainfield High School on the evening of Jan. 23rd. This will be a rare treat, to which the people of this vicinity have been looking forward. DEATHS OF A WEEK

James H. Searing

Highly Respected

He leaves a brother and sister, both of Somerville.

WILLIAM H. FABER.
Two weeks after the death of his father, Alexander H. Faber, of Rockview avenue, William H. Faber, aged forty-four, passed away at his home on Park, place Sunday after a several weeks' illness with pneumonia. The funeral was held from the late home Tuesday at 11 o'clock, with the Rev. St. G. Barrill, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, officiating. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Faber was taken ill shortly after his father's death and for that reason was unable to attend his funeral. Complications set in and offered little chance of recovery. He was secretary of the A. E. Faber Co., of New York, of which his father was president, and was a member of both the Park Club and Hydewood Golf Club and took a prominent part in their activities.

He is survived by a wife and two children, Helen, and William H. Faber. A sister, Mrs. Edmund Rushmore, and a brother, Charles Faber, also survive.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Von Minden, mother of Judge R. P. Von Minden, of New Market, were held from the residence of her son yesterday afternoon at 2 P. M. Interment was made in the South Plainfield cemetery. Mrs. Von Minden died at the home of her son Monday of pneumonia.

Mrs. Von Minden was a native of Germany and came to this country half a century ago. From New York she came to New Market, where she remained for the past twenty-six years. She was sixty-nine years old and had been in excellent health up until the time she retired Sunday night. Her son is the only near surviving relative.

EUGENE A. LAINE.
Funeral services for Eugene A. Laine, for many years a resident of this city, were held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, 11th and 12th streets, Tuesday morning. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery, this city. Mr. Laine had been ill for the past two weeks with an attack of grip that developed into pneumonia.

Mr. Laine was a resident of this city for many years and enjoyed a wide acquaintance. When he first came here from New York as a young man he opened a barber shop on Park avenue and later removed to the corner of Second street and Park avenue. Selling out, he moved to South Plainfield and kept a hotel there for several years before returning to Plainfield and joining the police force. During his residence here he was a member of the volunteer fire department and for some time was its assistant chief. For some years he had made his home in Elizabeth, where he died.

He is survived by a wife and brother-in-law, Eugene Laine, of Union.

EDWIN SHROPSHIRE.
Following a stroke of apoplexy, Edwin Shropshire died Monday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Mobus, of Watchung avenue. Funeral services were held at his daughter's home Wednesday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Cairne, formerly Rector Grace M. E. Church, officiating. Interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

Mr. Shropshire was born in south Jersey and spent the greater part of his life in that section. For the past fifteen years he had lived with his daughter, having retired from business. He was fifty-seven and had enjoyed excellent health until his attack Monday.

JOHN T. CONKIN.
Following a lingering illness, John T. Conkin, aged twenty-eight, died Thursday in Muhlenberg Hospital. He had been taken on Wednesday. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 at the Trinity Episcopal church. Rev. Y. Brook officiating. Interment will be made in Somerville.

Mr. Conkin had been a resident of this city practically all his life. Born here, he was for some time a clerk in the telephone exchange, and for some time in the last few years at Atlantic City and other resorts for the winter.

Surviving him, besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Conkin, of Massachusetts, are his brother, James B. Conkin, an employee of the post-office and Maintenance in Company K.

MRS. ANNA V. WAHL.
The funeral of Mrs. Anna Victoria Wahl, her home in Scotch Plains, N. J., was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. H. O'Clock, Wednesday morning. Interment was made in St. Mary's cemetery. Mrs. Wahl was a thirty-two years old and had been sick a short time. Besides her husband, she leaves a son, daughter, Florence, and Anna Wahl.

HANDBALL FANS ARE PLANNING TO ORGANIZE.
Handball is to the son of Erin what baseball is to the son of the Celt. The Celt who comes to this country to take up his residence finds that our methods of play are vastly different from those employed in the old country. He finds that the game of handball is an amazing range of speed, the Georgia coach is a whirlwind, and the Georgia does he find that the game of handball is known, much less played.

But the Celt who comes to this country will find that the game of handball is very popular here. He will find that there are two or three handball courts in this city, one of which is open to the public, being situated on the property of St. Mary's church. The other being situated in the rear of Fire Headquarters. A handball club has been formed in this city and a dance will be held under the auspices of that organization in the near future, the proceeds to help defray the cost of erecting a concrete court.

RACHLOV CLUB DANCE.
About fifty couples were present at the Rachlov Club's dance held at the Hill Country Club, 11th and 12th streets, last Friday night. The affair was in charge of Mrs. W. C. and George Baldwin. Music for the occasion was furnished by Berrell's Orchestra of Bernardsville.

Following a period of failing health indirectly attributed to a fall he sustained in December, 1916, while on his way to church, the memorial services of Plainfield Lodge, B. P. O. E., James H. Searing, seventy-one years old, died at his home on Watchung avenue Monday night and was buried before 5 o'clock the following morning. His illness was not considered serious until a few minutes before death, when he passed away before all of the members of his family had arrived at his bedside. Surviving him are two daughters, Miss Sadie M. Searing and Mrs. Charles Zimmer, with whom he lived; Edward C. Searing, foreman of the Record's mechanical department, and a half brother.

Although of unimpeachable disposition and a devotee to home life Mr. Searing made a host of friends during his thirty-seven years' residence in Plainfield, coming here from Westfield. He had no fraternal affiliations but maintained a keen interest in the affairs of the local Elks' lodge, of which his son is tier. His religious interest were with the Trinity Episcopal church and the wholeheartedness and earnestness which characterized every life activity conspicuously manifested in St. Paul's Brotherhood and the Dutch Arms Club, two charitable organizations to which he belonged.

Mr. Searing will probably be best recalled by Plainfielders for his association with the Exempt Firemen. He was a member of the old Gazette Engine Company and was active in the progress of the department in its after years.

Coincident with the death of the Plainfield man was the announcement made the day before that former Freeholder James W. Burnetts, 70, his cousin had passed away suddenly following an attack similar to Mr. Searing's.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon with the Rev. John Y. Brooks, of Trinity Reformed church, in charge. Numerous floral tributes were received at the late home today, among them being from the various church organizations, the Plainfield Lodge of Elks, the Plainfield Record and several individuals. The deceased held acquaintance. The pallbearers were: W. R. Woodruff, H. V. Zandt, J. M. Walsh, A. K. Willett and L. M. Look. Burial will be made in Hillside cemetery.

MISS KATE F. KIMBALL.
Miss Katherine Kimball, a resident of this city for many years during her early life, passed away at the home of her husband, Arthur Kimball, of St. Cloud, East Orange, on Wednesday after an illness that had been growing gradually more severe since she suffered a stroke of paralysis in 1909. The funeral services will be held at St. Cloud tomorrow afternoon and will be private.

Miss Kimball was in her fifty-eight year and coming here when a child had made her home in Plainfield until about twenty-five years ago. She attended the local schools and was a graduate of Plainfield High School in the class of 1877. She took an active part in religious and literary circles and at the time Bishop Vincent formed the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle in this city some thirty years ago was made its executive secretary, holding that position until the time of her death.

Showing a fondness for things of a literary nature in early life, Miss Kimball had considerable success as an author. One of her last publications was a book entitled, "An English Cathedral," which she wrote a number of deformed books of a similar nature that were authorities in their field.

Miss Kimball was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Kimball, and both the husband and wife were deceased. She is survived by three brothers and one sister. They are Alfred H. Kimball, of New York; Arthur Kimball, of New York; and James E. Kimball, of West Seventh street, this city, and Miss May W. Kimball, of New York.

ALBERT A. LANCE.
Albert A. Lance, aged sixty-five, died in Muhlenberg Hospital Monday after a short illness due to pneumonia. He had been taken to the hospital on Sunday. He was a native of Somerville, his former home, for interment. He originally awarded the contract, was for some time it was not until he fell suddenly unconscious in the bathroom of his home on Sunday night that it became severe. He came to this city from Somerville six years ago and was connected with V. D. Honeyman, of North avenue.

A few weeks ago Mr. Young said he would let the farmers raise chickens and make money. A short time later he had sold them all and now can be seen any morning running for the 7:49 at the age of 84 with the other "Young" business men.

GUERNSEY TO THE WORK.
Otis Guernsey, of Yale, whose field goal in the last few seasons earned the Eli football team a tie with Princeton in 1914, and a tie with Princeton in 1915, of Princeton Club, in the feature match in the third round of the Class B National Soccer Tournament, at the Columbia Club courts, yesterday. The former football star won in three games, 7-15, 17-16 and 15-10. Mr. Guernsey is well known in this section and is a frequent visitor. Some time ago announcement was made of his engagement to Miss Margaret Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Henderson, of Fairwood.

GET PAINTING CONTRACT.
Woolston & Burke Company, of this city, were awarded the contract for the painting of the addition to the Board of Chosen Freeholders Tuesday afternoon. Their bid of $3,300 was 77½ lower than that of William Jahn, of Scotch Plains, who was the only competitor.

EX-BROKER, EX-MAYOR, EX-COMMUTER, EX-FARMER, HEEDS CALL OF THE CURB

In these twentieth century days of American bustle and bustle we frequently hear of persons effecting "come-back" in various walks of life but one that attracted the genuine occurred several days ago, when Thomas S. Young walked out on the floor of the Produce Exchange, New York, just two years after he had retired to his little farm and chickens in Fairwood. The men who had known him for over fifty years stated and then stared again before they recognized in him the man who has been a figure in the Exchange for over half a century. After managing to live in retirement for two years, Mr. Young has sold his chickens and again returned to the excitement in the pit of the Exchange and taken up the burden as the oldest commuter on the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Mr. Young first appeared on the floor of the Produce Exchange early in 1910, when he was a young man, and had remained there ever since. Forty-seven years ago he moved out to Round Brook, commuting every day despite the fact that he had to get up before the chickens each morning in order to get to New York before noon. A year later he moved to Fairwood and has made his home there since. From then until he quit two years ago he had not missed all together five days from business, and figures that he has purchased over five hundred monthly tickets for which he paid something like $350. Not long before he decided to give his chickens all his attention he was found to have commuted longer than any other person on the Jersey Central.

During his residence in Fairwood he has seen it grow from a hundred or so inhabitants and when it was incorporated as a borough some thirty-five years ago and the honor of being its first mayor. He has also held several other offices and to this date takes a keen interest in its municipal affairs.

A few weeks ago Mr. Young said he would let the farmers raise chickens and make money. A short time later he had sold them all and now can be seen any morning running for the 7:49 at the age of 84 with the other "Young" business men.

WILL RESIDE HERE.
Mrs. Mary Durkin Kilmer and John Bernard Pined, both of this city, who were married on the evening of December 30 by the Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, of the Watchung Avenue Presbyterian church, North Plainfield, are spending the winter months in the South and upon their return will reside in this city.

Stage All Set

For Title Tilt

The first game of the annual interscholastic basketball series between North Plainfield and Plainfield High Schools will be played in the Seagrund Hall tomorrow afternoon. Naturally, victory is expected by each contestant and a host of triumphant "war whoops" and yells are being planned by the cheer leaders of both institutions.

It is highly probable that the North Plainfield five will line-up with "Bill" Ahern and La. Agre as forwards, and Seidel and Willett as guards. Force will play center. The Red and Blue will have "Art" Kyle, "Shelly" Conday, "Phil" Mills and "Polly" Snyder on the court, with a host of substitutes ready for the emergency call. An intense contest in a recent game may keep "Andy" McDonough, rated as one of the borough's best players, out of the game.

Plan War Against

High Food Prices

The high cost of living in Plainfield and vicinity will undergo a rigid investigation if the plan of Charles J. Hinzner, of Danellen, becomes a reality. Mr. Hinzner has recently been elected president of the "National Producers and Consumers Association," with headquarters in this city. The other officers are: Secretary, E. C. Miller, 292 West Second street; treasurer, Christopher E. Hohen, 587 Grove street, Westfield; collector, Frank J. Kene, 227 West Fourth street; buyer, Lester Hummer, 416 Liberty street.

The object of the association is to furnish commodities direct from producer to consumer. The members of the association plan to make it not only a buyer but also a producer of certain kinds of commodities. Applications for membership in the organization must be made to officers of the association.

ELECTED TO U. S. G. A.

The Shackamaxon Country Club, which is located in the Willow Grove section of Fairwood, is now a member of the United States Golf Association, having been elected a member of the annual meeting of the association held in New York last week. Although it is admitted that the Shackamaxon course is one of the best in the East the Fairwood club was unsuccessful in securing any of the tournaments that are to be held during the coming year.

BASEBALL AGREEMENT.

A. F. Timm, president of the Milwaukee American Association baseball club, of which Jack Martin, of this city, is a member, has announced that he has made an arrangement with the Cleveland Americans, whereby he will get first choice of the Indian discards and will ship some of the best talent to the Clevelanders. The first deal, under the new scheme, was the purchase by Milwaukee of outfielder Dan Modler, catcher J. H. De Barry and infielder Barbara. Cleveland has claimed no one as yet.

NOTHING TO GIVE AWAY.

The editor who has any space to donate to "the askers" this year must be facing economic conditions not known to the majority. If the commercial value of advertising space has never before been fully recognized by the editors of newspapers, present conditions should bring the matter sharply home.

The paper dealer does not donate a generous quantity of his commodity to the paper; just as a clerk of his apothecary, any business given to him on a cash basis. In fact, he has always sold his product as a commodity, yet, when this same commodity has been utilized as a component part of that more finished product, the newspaper, it has often lost in the view of the editor and of the space-crafter, any semblance of commodity value. It has been transformed into something which may be sold or given away, according to whim.

As everything entering into the finished product—the newspaper—has a definite value, and costs real money, why should the newspaper be sold for less than it costs to produce it? Why should advertising space in it be given away—or a great deal of it awarded as a bonus to anyone who will pay cash for a little of it? The editor, unable to produce any part of his newspaper without expending money, should afford to dispose of it, or of the advertising space in it, on any other than a cash basis. The "asker" is out of order.—Editor and Publisher.

AUTO ADVERTISING.

Daily newspapers obtained $15,017,067 worth of automobile advertising in 1916, to which must be added $3,063,413 for accessories, making the total $18,080,480. The total advertising for the county amounted to $23,103,150. The daily newspapers were given 65 per cent. of all automobile advertising. Of the $15,017,067 automobile advertising in the newspapers, $10,110,249, or 60 per cent. was paid for by the manufacturers, while $4,906,817, or 40 per cent. was paid for by dealers. This is $10,221,022 in excess of the amount carried in 1915.—Editor and Publisher.

ELECTRICIANS CONVEY.

The annual convention of the Electrical Contractors' Association of the State of New Jersey will be held at the Trenton House, in Trenton, tomorrow. It is not thought that the electrical contractors of this city will have a representative at the gathering.

WORK ENDORSED.

Mrs. S. G. Van Hoesen, special agent of the local branch of the S. P. C. A., has received a letter from Richard Stockton, State Commissioner of Charities and Corrections, endorsing the work of the society.

Here We Show The Full Reo Line

TEN REOS to choose from the coming year—a car for your every need, including the needs of your business.

DOES THAT SOUND flippant? We assure you we do not mean it so. Nor is it far-fetched by any means.

IN TRUTH we do not know of anyone who owns one of every Reo model, but we could name several who own as many as four or more Reos of different types.

IT ISN'T UNCOMMON to find business men who own both 2-Ton and 4-Ton Reo trucks, and one or more Reo pleasure cars as well.

AND IT ISN'T DIFFICULT to think of many who might profitably own even more of every model.

ONE THING IS SURE: You find more Reo models in the same owner's garage than of any other make.

THAT'S BECAUSE once a man owns a Reo he is "sold" on Reo quality, Reo dependability, and Reo low cost of upkeep.

SO WHEN HE DOES need another car or truck, either smaller or larger than the one he has, first thing he does is to find out whether Reo makes such an one.

"50 PER CENT OVERSIZE" in all vital parts, the Reo standard factor of safety, is in all Reos—look them over at the show.

LET A REO MAN go over the stripped "cut out" chassis with you.

THEN YOU'LL KNOW why Reos are so reliable and so almost unbelievably economical in upkeep.

NOT THE CHEAPEST to buy—but the cheapest to own—that is the Reo slogan.

Winter Is Only Beginning

If the freezing cold weather of the last week can be used as a guide.

And so, with the practical certainty of a good many more days of icy winds and snow-covered ground, a new coat (especially at the low sale price) would be an excellent investment.

There are a good many garments—magnificent ones, too—from which you can select. Children's coats also have shared in the reduction; in fact, not a single article in the entire shop has escaped the keen blade of the price-cutter.

Whether it be a dress or a coat, a skirt or a suit that you seek, we stand ready to prove that KRAUTHAMER values are supreme even when at regular prices. When sold below cost, surely we are justified in our claim that the "high cost of living" has a staunch enemy in this factory.

COATS $5, $8, $10 formerly $8 to $17
SUITS $5, $8, $12, $15 formerly $10 to $35
DRESSES $5, $8, $12 formerly $8 to $20
SKIRTS $2, $3 formerly $3 to $5

Everything purchased now will be altered without charge, just as though you paid the regular price. This means children's coats too! Furthermore, our guarantee covers each and every garment in the sale—the same broad guarantee whose sole object is to protect the customer. Read it:

OUR GUARANTEE: Make your selection. Pay for it and take it away. One week later, if your purchase has not proven entirely satisfactory, bring it back. We will cheerfully refund the full price, and your carefare as well!
