

First 500 Plainfield Numbers Drawn in Big Draft U. S. Muster

With Men Who Must Respond to Affect 300 Plainfielders

Quota in This District Estimated at Least 200, While Double This Number Will Be Called Before Exemption Board Within the Coming Week

The first five hundred numbers in the Plainfield district drawn in the big draft for the National Army reached this city by 4 o'clock this afternoon, and the corresponding names of the men who must respond to the Government's call are given below. It is estimated that the drawing will not be completed before 5 o'clock tomorrow morning as the total of 10,500 capsules are to be recorded and the drafting board at Washington is averaging about 1,000 names in an hour and a half. Secretary Baker drew the first number at 9:30 o'clock this morning. It was 258, held in this city by David Graham Turner, colored, of 423 East Third street. He is a porter employed at the Queen City Hotel, 21 years old, and came to Plainfield from Louisa, Virginia, in 1914. He is married but his wife was sent to Bonnie Burn Sanatorium two weeks ago to be treated for tubercular trouble. The second number drawn was 2522, held by Frank Conde, of 1155 South Second street. Large crowds besieged the office of the record affixing this district. North Plainfield's quota is estimated at forty, but the official figures from Washington will not reach here for several days. As soon as the official list of numbers is received the Plainfield exemption board, the chairman, Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed, will summon all drafted men to the Common Council chamber at 140 North avenue, where the exemptions will be decided. The numbers drawn and those holding them in this city, Scotch Plains, Fanwood and Mountaintide, which make up the Plainfield district, are as follows:

With Company K called in from four months of guard duty along the coast and Troop D ready to move at a moment's notice, nearly 300 Plainfield boys will mobilize next Wednesday, July 25, with the remainder of the New Jersey National Guard. Their ultimate destination is known to be Aniston, Alabama, where they will receive the intensive training in modern warfare that will fit them to take their place in the trenches on the battlefields of Europe.

Announcements concerning the movement of the Guard from the time of mobilization until the Southern training camp is reached are vague. At the present time it is expected that when Troop D entrains next Wednesday it will be for Sea Girt, while Company K, it is understood, will join the other units in the First Battalion of the Second Regiment at New Brunswick and remain there for at least a week before going to Sea Girt. The move for Aniston may be made within a week after the mobilization or possibly not for a month.

TROOP D DESTINATION WILL BE SEA GIRT.

One Killed, One Injured By Lightning

At the weekly drill of Troop D held last night orders were issued by Captain Daniel Rintze to the effect that the unit would assemble at the headquarters, Putnam and Kensington avenues, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, move to the North avenue freight station and entrain for Sea Girt, there to mobilize with the remainder of the New Jersey National Guard. It is possible that orders slightly changing that schedule may be received before the time set for moving, but they will be in the main unaltered.

With the knowledge that they will be called into the national service within a few days, but this time on a mission promising to be the way a mission from the journey to the Mexican border last summer, the members of the troop last night were in high spirits after the orders given them the first time they were they were going on July 25 were read. Just what will occur after Sea Girt is reached is mostly conjecture, although one announcement that has been made is that the troop was to be dismounted and drafted either into the artillery or infantry arm of the service.

At Sea Girt Troop D will merge with the three troops from Newark, East Orange and Red Bank to make up the First Squadron. It is understood that the First Squadron will eventually be sent to Aniston, Ala., with the remainder of the state guard for the intensive training. The remainder will be furnished by the Government, orders having been received to turn over the animals at present in the service.

Several changes in the non-commissioned officers and two enlistments were given. Sergeant Van der Meer was relieved as supply sergeant and appointed leader of the third platoon and in his stead Sergeant Cook was designated supply sergeant. The new sergeant, Sergeant Richter was also announced, and Sergeant Collins was appointed mess sergeant. The two new recruits accepted as privates were George Block and William Dealman.

OO. K TEMPORARILY AT NEW BRUNSWICK.

Following official notification at the headquarters of the company this morning that the company was to be sent to Aniston, Ala., for the company during the past four months and mobilize at the New Brunswick armory for one week, at the end of which time the present belief is that the company will be sent to Sea Girt and later with the entire regiment to Aniston for the next week.

Following out orders received a week ago, the local guardmen will end their tedious guard duty tomorrow morning and move from their posts to the city where they will be held themselves ready to move on an instant's notice. All the other company headquarters in the regiment have been ordered to do likewise, and it is the general impression that next week will find Home Defense Leagues guarding the points that have been under the protection of the guardmen.

Death Comes to Mrs. W. H. Riley

Mrs. Louisa Lord Riley, widow of William H. Riley, died last evening at the home of her son, Champlain Riley, of 111 Myrtle avenue, at the age of 82. She had been ill for some time with complications produced by advanced age. The funeral will be held at the late residence and will be private. The service will be in charge of Rev. A. C. Nickerson, former pastor of All Souls' Unitarian church, which Mrs. Riley was a member of.

Mrs. Riley was born in Philadelphia eighty-one years ago and had lived part of her life in Orange and New York. She had short periods of residence in this city, the most recent being at other places. She came to Plainfield about fifteen years ago. In her younger days Mrs. Riley had been a member of the prominent "Woman's Rights" party which flourished previous to the organizing of the Equal Suffrage League. Mrs. Riley was the founder of the Indian Women's Club of Orange and also assisted in the formation of a similar organization at Orange. She was a member of the "Woman's Club" and the "Woman's Club" with whom she lived. Mrs. Riley was survived by one son, Howard W. Riley, a professor in Cornell University.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1917.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE TIMES' "PIPE DREAM."

Our esteemed contemporary, the Elizabeth Times, is seeking to inject a little "pep" in the sluggish primary campaign by printing political stories of more or less veracity, considerably less than more if what is said about Plainfielders is taken as a criterion. One of these stories purported to tell of a conference held in New York last week at which the aspirants to office in Union county were carefully looked over and official G. O. P. endorsement given the favorite few. Among other things the article said of Assemblyman William N. Runyon that "it required considerable coaxing to get Mr. Runyon out of the race for common pleas judge, but he finally consented on condition that he would have a clear road for the senatorial nomination."

Such a statement as this is absolute rot. If any leader attending the alleged conference made such a representation he did so without Mr. Runyon's authorization. At no time has the popular Plainfielder declared, even to his most intimate friends, that he wanted to be James J. Connolly's successor and as for the coaxing part those who know the Assemblyman can vouch for the assertion that no one ever had to coax him to stand aside for party purposes. In reality it has been one of his pardonable faults to be too willing to stand aside for some one else when he was eminently qualified to fill the position in every way better than a competitor. His lack always been a bulwark of self-denial and no leader of the Union county G. O. P. has any right to say that he had to be coaxed out of the way for Mr. Pierce. Assemblyman Runyon has made a splendid record in the lower house and in justice to himself and his constituents he is to become a candidate for the senatorial nomination, an office which no one can deny he will fill to the credit of those who give him the confidence of their vote. The common pleas judgeship is a most excellent appointment but Assemblyman Runyon never had any intentions of embarrassing the plans of the G. O. P. by claiming it for his own. The Senate is his goal at the present time.

The Times' article went on to say that the Republican Committee had officially sanctioned the candidacy of Assemblyman Runyon for the senatorial nomination and that of Freeholder S. P. T. Willour for the sheriff's office. It has never been the custom of the county directorate to support two candidates from the same district for two such important offices in the same year and if such an innovation has come about it is welcomed news to the Plainfield voters. On the senatorial question this city is of but one opinion but in respect to the sheriavalty matter there is a considerable difference. Freeholder Willour is being opposed by Councilman John H. Case in his campaign for nomination and it may be that the "endorsement" is a case of "hiding the colored gentlemen beneath the kindlings." Official recognition of Mr. Willour may widen the breach caused locally by the entrance of the two candidates for the job now held by George Otto and in so doing the chances of someone else further down the line landing the place are vastly better. The county committee has a habit of playing politics 365 days a year and is always a year ahead of the people who place ballots in the boxes. Councilman Case has a following and so has Mr. Willour. Plainfield generally has a chance when splits occur in Elizabeth but there is not a ghost of a show when it trots out two candidates for same county nomination. Councilman Case ran second in the race three years ago, losing out to George C. Otto by a scant 300 votes.

In respect to one other Plainfielder mentioned in the interesting but somewhat misleading Times' article it may be said that the truth was told. This is in respect to City Judge William G. De Meza who, it was asserted, had been mentioned for the surrogateship over which a squabble has arisen. George T. Parrot has held the office so long that he has been a target for criticism on the part of would-be successors and this year will witness an interesting fight through Sheriff Otto's determination to try for the place. The Times itself says he has a big following and with Mr. Parrot seeking to hold fast to his old seat the Elizabeth vote will be cut in every district. That means a better chance for someone in the upper end of the county and Judge DeMeza's name has frequently been mentioned. While he has made no public announcement as to his stand it is not to be denied that he would make an excellent candidate. The office should be held by a lawyer, despite Mr. Otto's assertion that only five counties in the State have a member of the bar as surrogate, and Plainfield's police magistrate is in every way qualified for the office. It is rather early at this time to go into details regarding Judge DeMeza's candidacy but he may be heard from in the very near future if the call of the local voters is respected.

One more reference to the Times story. The meeting where all the information regarding endorsements came from was said to be held in New York. Those in attendance were given as State Committeemen Hamilton F. Kean, Registrar Frank H. Smith, County Chairman William Newcomb, former Senator Ernest R. Ackerman and Surrogate Parrot. If this is true the meeting was held in the Presbyterian Hospital because that is where Frank H. Smith has been for the past two weeks. He is a patient there undergoing observation for stomach trouble and will not be discharged until August 1. It does not seem likely that his political associates would intrude upon his sick-room for such an important conference, but if they did, a portion of what transpired must have been communicated to the Times' political reporter by a fellow-patient of Mr. Smith's who was being treated for some form of ear trouble and got his snatches of conversation mixed.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION AND THE RIGHTS OF PEDESTRIANS.

The average pedestrian has such little knowledge regarding his rights on the streets of the city that a mention of the matter seems quite apropos through the timely suggestion of Harry C. Van Emburgh that steps be taken to indicate cross-walks on intersecting thoroughfares where brick pavements are laid. Mr. Van Emburgh points out that traffic conditions at congested corners could be greatly simplified if markings be made at curbs and the improved streets "designating the proper place to cross, especially where there is not at present any regular crossing point."

The idea is an excellent one. It is used in many cities throughout the State and has been the means of preventing accidents because drivers of motor vehicles are better enabled to keep watch for persons making the cross-over. Men and women have the habit of stepping from the side-walk whenever they feel the inclination and proceed to the opposite side of the street without any regard for the legality of their act. As a matter of fact they have no right to do this. If an accident should result the motorist has the better of the argument from the start as to who is to blame because pedestrians are prohibited from crossing except at designated points. In reference to this matter the latest copy of the New Jersey Motor Vehicle department's road laws specifies the following rules: 1. "In places where the houses are on an average less than one hundred feet apart, pedestrians shall have the right of way over vehicles at any street crossing." 2. "Any person crossing a street at any place other than the crosswalk shall do so at his own risk. Nothing in this regulation, however, shall relieve the drivers of vehicles from being constantly vigilant, exercising all reasonable care to avoid injury either to persons or property."

A perusal of these rules show the wisdom of following out Mr. Van Emburgh's proposition, thus affording protection to the man who drives a car as well as the man who walks. All he has to do to verify what the observant citizen seeks to overcome is to stand at the corner of Front street and Park avenue or Park and North avenues. Pedestrians cross in a haphazard fashion, walking in whatever direction their fancy chooses. Sometimes they go straight across, sometimes diagonally and sometimes in a circular manner that defies any motorist to guess what the ultimate point will be. The Common Council would do well to properly mark the busy street corners and if possible should have it done while the new brick paving is being put in. In many cities this is accomplished by using a different colored brick, thus saving the expense of frequent repainting when the latter plan is used. The designation may save more than one pedestrian, ignorant of his rights, from possible fatal injury.

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST WALK OVER.

No citizen with a spark of civic pride within his breast will object to the Common Council's plan to give Plainfield a better system of sidewalks yet the order which came from the meeting of the city fathers Monday night seems rather drastic. In pursuance to an ordinance passed last fall the mandate was directed to certain property-owners on Park avenue, North avenue, Watchung avenue, Emerson avenue and other streets directing them to put down a concrete walk in front of their respective places. Where flagging is already down this must be removed and the newer style of pavements substituted. The order states that the work must be done within thirty days or the city will give out the contracts and charge the expense against the individual.

It is not to be denied that the Plainfield sidewalks as a rule are nothing to be proud of. It would be hard to find a block that is without its depressed flagging at one point and elevated at another, leaving obstructions to catch the toe of the unwary pedestrian. There are in many cases where the walk has been cracked and allowed to settle in dangerous positions, gathering pools of water in wet weather, and shifting about when stepped upon. These should be removed in favor of substantial concrete, but if the movement is to be taken up in earnest it is difficult to understand why only one side of certain streets have been designated. This was done in respect to Park, North and Watchung avenues. On North avenue the south side is named in Monday's order and no attention is paid to the fact that the north side has almost as many, if not more, bad spots. This applies particularly to the upper end of the street near Watchung, where the flagging has gotten into deplorable shape. The same thing can be said of the other streets on the side where nothing is to be done.

Rumor has it that some of the property-owners will contest the Council's mandate. One large taxpayer asserts that he has consulted counsel and has been informed that the city cannot compel him to take up his present bluestone flagging and curbing as long as it is in good condition. If this should be the case interesting developments may arise from the determination of the street committee to better the walks. The protest is heightened by the seeming partiality of taking only one side of a thoroughfare and letting the other go, an action which the city fathers may be called upon to explain. Good walks are sorely needed but no property-owner likes the idea of being singled out to stand the expense.

WHY DOES PLAINFIELD IGNORE HER GALLANT LADS?

Why is it that Plainfield is allowing its soldier boys to be summoned away for war without any civic recognition of their patriotism? Everywhere in the country, the big city, the town or the little hamlet, citizens are arranging demonstrations to honor their young manhood and send the gallant lads off with a rousing farewell from the entire community. In East Orange, Newark and Red Bank, where troops of the First Squadron, New Jersey Cavalry, are located, plans are practically complete for a community demonstration when the troopers ride away but Plainfield, which has dashing Troop D of the same squadron, seems to be unaware of the fact that any recognition is needed. All the farewells so far planned are little more than friendly receptions. In Greenwich, Conn., the entire town gave itself over to a demonstration in behalf of the local troop. In Elizabeth the entire local quota of the National Guard and Marine Corps is to parade through the streets before adjourning to different quarters for a banquet and reception. In other places the brave lads are to be assembled in the open and given "God's speed" by the Mayor or leading officials. It seems a pity that the Plainfield boys, of whom there are so many, are to leave for no one knows where without so much as a parade that brings the smiles from pretty girls on the curbstones or the enthusiastic plaudits of thousands of fellow townsmen.

The local boys will truly realize that this is a war of silence, unless some wide-awake citizen starts the ball rolling for one of those demonstrations that quickens the pulse and stirs the blood of every loyal American. Let's honor the gallant boys—Troop D, Company K and all the other recruits who have offered up their lives that liberty might survive.

GET RID OF DANGER FIRST.

Mayor Calkins' dictate to the police regarding the arrest of autoists who open their "cut-outs" pays the way for comment. The "cut-out" matter is not nearly so important as that of glaring headlights, reference to which has been made in these columns before. The opening of a "cut-out" creates only a noise that is not always annoying and has no harmful effect. On the contrary the brilliant headlights result in accidents and are always an absolute menace to innocent persons. A few weeks ago the glare of an automobile headlight caused another autoist coming in the opposite direction to stop blindly and plunge headlong through an ancient bridge railing, causing the fatal injury of one of the car's occupants. Personally, we have heard no special protest against the "cut-out" but the demand for dimmed lights is continuous. If Mayor Calkins is to conduct a crusade against automobile nuisances his efforts would be appreciated better if the dangerous ones were gotten rid of first.

Musters Calls 300

men that have joined Company K and are stationed at the old postoffice building on West Front street momentarily expects orders to leave. The recruits who are to be mustered in the morning will be mustered in the morning. The recruits who are to be mustered in the morning will be mustered in the morning. The recruits who are to be mustered in the morning will be mustered in the morning.

Although orders have been issued that the New Jersey troops will be sent South on July 25, including both those now on duty and those to be sent out on that date, it is not likely that the boys will be sent out of the State. Company A, now stationed near Bear Mountain, New York, and is expected to be sent to Sea Girt for temporary training. The day set for the mobilization, for Sea Girt for rifle practice, after which it is to be sent to West Point, to receive Company B, which will go to Sea Girt for rifle practice. All the other companies are expected to be sent to Sea Girt, and are expected to be sent to Sea Girt, and are expected to be sent to Sea Girt.

SEA GIRT READY TO RECEIVE GUARDSMEN.

Interest in the projected mobilization of the State military forces at Sea Girt in response to the call of President Wilson is intense at that place. The summer hosts, as well as the permanent population, are alert to the spirit of the times and military preparedness in everything. The day set for the mobilization, for Sea Girt for rifle practice, after which it is to be sent to West Point, to receive Company B, which will go to Sea Girt for rifle practice. All the other companies are expected to be sent to Sea Girt, and are expected to be sent to Sea Girt, and are expected to be sent to Sea Girt.

In preparation for the big occasion, the water and sewer lines, and large forces of workmen have been engaged in the task of preparing the site for the troops. A survey of the reservation convinced the high military authorities of the State that the entire New Jersey fighting machine with its respective arms can be quartered on the reservation, and the unsatisfactory arrangement of last year whereby at the time of the Mexican mobilization the troops were crowded into a roomy room was removed a mile or more from the headquarters will be avoided.

Collis Case Joins Base Hospital Unit

Collis H. Case, of East Front street, who has been an inspector for the Plainfield Board of Health for several years, has enlisted in the United States Army. He has been assigned to the Base Hospital unit No. 16 as pathologist and expects to be called for service some time in August. Mr. Case only recently completed a course in medicine at Columbia with the intention of eventually becoming a surgeon. The unit he is to go with is being recruited in New York city and is being supported by wealthy citizens who have taken this means of showing their patriotism. It is known locally as the "Fiel unit." In honor of the organizer, The doctors and other medical men in No. 16 have been recruited from Columbia College and the Presbyterian Hospital in New York.

Mr. Case is a former Plainfield High School student and one of the most popular young men in the city. He is now in the Base Hospital unit, where he holds an excellent record. He is one of the organizers of the C. and C. Extremist Company, a nonsectarian concern which operates throughout the State. In this enterprise his partner is John Casey, of West Third street, who will continue the business. Mr. Case left Sunday for a two-week training trip which will include a stop at Albany and other places on the shores of Lake Champlain and terminating at the Canadian border before returning home via Boston.

Killed by Lightning

Compton meadows at the foot of Compton avenue. The body was discovered until 6 o'clock last night when William J. Dealman, of the West Front street, saw the prostrate form as he was looking for his car parked in the Compton meadows. Only one mark was on the victim's body and this was directly behind the right ear where the lightning struck from the tree and evidently passed entirely through his form. The injured man is Louis Paul, fifteen years old, of 137 Jackson avenue. He was killed by a lightning bolt which tore its way through a tree which stood near his residence on Jackson avenue. Paul is a carpenter and was working on the building when the storm broke. The other workmen were affected by the lightning although the bolt passed through a large part of the house and did not pick up an unusual vicious condition and taken to the Plainfield Hospital, where it was found that he had been terribly hurt. The lightning bolt had struck the skin surface which caused the blood to exude from many parts of his body. His condition remained serious until this morning when the lightning bolt struck the house and he was now dead.

Despite striking the Roshomon house the lightning struck the body of the First Presbyterian church, wrecking the steeple and cross which has been struck on two previous occasions. Another bolt struck the home of Mr. W. H. Britton, of 41 Elm place, causing fire in a clothes closet which resulted in the death of the fire department. The lightning was charged before the firemen arrived. The storm was whole was one of the worst that had occurred in this section in many years and was accompanied by a heavy rain which was felt by many of the city's streets. The body of Williams was taken to Higgins' undertaking parlor on the corner of 10th and 11th streets. He was sixty-seven years old and was born and always lived in Plainfield. Family troubles years ago caused him to take to drink and for a long time he has been a wandering living anywhere it happened to be convenient. He was well educated and at one time was one of the best typewriters in Union county. He had been away from Plainfield nearly thirty years. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Higgins' undertaking parlor. The body will be in Evergreen cemetery. Williams leaves a number of nephews and nieces in this city who are taking care of all arrangements. The dead man gained a livelihood in the summer by picking mint and water cress in the fields about Plainfield and was about to get his daily supply of water cress from the fields when the storm broke. His basket was by his side when the body was discovered by Mr. Dealman.

Will Not Force League to Serve

Adjutant-General Barber declared in a statement this week that conscription will not be adopted in enlisting men for the National Guard Reserve from the Home Guard organizations of the State, although he believes the Governor has this power. This view was given in answer to statements which have been made that the reserves would be recruited by draft process. "No conscription whatever has been suggested," said the Adjutant-General, "this enlistment will be purely voluntary. Just what course the Federal Government will finally pursue in connection with the guarding of vulnerable points within the State has not been determined but New Jersey is preparing in advance to meet any such situation. The enlistment which may occur, if we cannot get sufficient men from the Home Guard organizations, will be purely voluntary. If the Government calls upon us to guard these points through local organizations."

"Many suggestions have been made that under prevailing conditions it might be wise to formulate a permanent State force along the lines of a State constabulary or new National Guard. All this has been carefully considered and when the Legislature is convened next winter a complete program will be ready to meet the necessities confronting the situation at that time. In the meantime, however, without criticism or prejudice we are simply placing the matter before the home guard organizations."

Both Mayor Calkins and men connected with the organization have expressed themselves as being against Plainfield's league joining a "New body."

MORE ROOM FOR CITY DEPARTMENT.
The rapid growth of the various departments of the city has necessitated the changing of arrangements in the city building so as to give more room to the city clerk and street department. The change is temporary and intended to do until the new City Hall is completed. The architect who drew the plans for the structure made an inspection this week to consider the advisability of making several minor changes.

A. E. Force, of West Front street, returned Wednesday after several days' automobile tour through South Jersey.

In One Plainfield Cemetery

In one Plainfield cemetery alone have been interred many Norwalk Vaults. Before admitting this new method of burial, the undertakers made the most rigorous tests. The Norwalk is now the only cement vault authorized and recommended by all leading cemeteries of the world. Our local cemeteries are using Norwalk Vaults. "None but the Norwalk" has long been the motto of the best undertakers in and around Plainfield. For further information see your undertaker.
