PLAINFIELD, N. J., FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1917.

NO APPROBATION FOR DR. STRONG'S STRONG WORDS.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong may have shown the members of his First Baptist congregation "where he stood" in his sermon of last Sunday, but we doubt very much if his remarks will find approbation from the majority of Plainfield people. We do not doubt for one moment but that his forceful language was inspired by motives of patriotism yet it was not in keeping with President Wilson's avowal in his masterful message declaring war, that the United States held no animosity toward the German people, seeking only to crush the monarchical power that forced the rank and file to do his bidding. Furthermore, the reverend doctor's assertion that "he would just as soon be in hell as anywhere else if the Germans won the war," seemed rather out of place, coming as it does from a Christian pulpit that is supposed to be only for the dissemination of the Word of God, the God that said, "Peace on Earth, to men of good will." This nation is at war with Germany, and the American people are determined that they will crush the monarchical power of the unbearable Kaiser, but in doing so there is no personal animosity toward the German people who are simply obeying their ruler's command. Our fight is with the Government, not with the individual. The people of the German Empire are realizing that they have been too submissive just as the Russians realized it, and perhaps, if the truth were known there is a great internal leaning of the Teutonic people toward the establishment of a Democracy. They want their freedom the same as we wanted it in 1776 and it would be more in keeping for Dr. Strong to beseech his God and their God to bring about the deliverance freed of condemning them as a whole and robbing the animosity of Americanized Prussians who are loyal to the country of their adoption. These latter were born and brought up under the German rule and whatever their reason for leaving it there are none of them who appreciate having it declared war on the Reich of Huns, that same infernal Reich that misused the masters of the gospel and sold up to sinners as the most awful fate for any man. The German nation gave the world the kindergarten, babe being responsible for many medical and scientific discoveries that have benefited mankind.
Stripped of its military ambitions and the House of Hohenzollern, the mass of German people are as far removed from Gehenna as New York is from Peking.

For Dr. Strong's benefit we quote this portion of President Wilson's War Message: "We have no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling toward them but one of sympathy and friendship. It was not upon their impulse that their Government acted in entering this war. It was not with their previous knowledge or approval. It was a war determined upon as wars used to be determined upon in the old, unhappy days, when peoples were nowhere consulted by their rulers and wars were provoked and waged in the interest of dynasties or of little groups of ambitious men who were accustomed to use their fellow men as pawns and tools."

These are the great words of the President's of the greatest nation on earth and in uttering them we believe he was placing the most liberal interpretation on the views of the American people, carefully avoiding any direct thrust at his own constituents who were bound by blood ties to the countrymen whose false sense of loyalty is letting out their life blood. Continuing further President Wilson said:
"Even in checking these things and trying to exterminate them we have sought to put the most generous interpretation possible upon them because we know that their source lay, not in any hostile feeling or purpose of the German people toward us (who were, no doubt, as ignorant of them as we ourselves were), but only in the selfish designs of a Government that did what it pleased and told its people nothing."

Further on in his message the first man in this land expressed himself on the feeling of the American people toward the German people in this manner: "It will be all the easier for us to conduct ourselves as belligerents in a high spirit of right and fairness because we act without animus, not with enmity toward a people or with the desire to bring any injury or disadvantage upon them, but only in armed opposition to an irresponsible Government which has thrown aside all considerations of humanity and of right and is running amuck."

"We are, let me say again, the sincere friends of the German people and shall desire nothing so much as the early re-establishment of intimate relations of mutual advantages between us, however hard it may be for them for the time being to believe that this is spoken from our hearts. We have borne with their present Government through all those bitter months because of that friendship, exercising a patience and forbearance which would otherwise have been impossible."

"We shall happily still have an opportunity to prove that friendship in our daily attitude and actions toward the millions of men and women of German birth and native sympathy who live among us and share our life, and we shall be proud to prove it toward all who are in fact loyal to their neighbors and to the Government in the hour of test. They are most of them as true and loyal Americans as if they had never known any other fealty or allegiance. They will be prompt to stand with us in rebuking and restraining the few who may be of a different mind and purpose. If there should be di-loyalty, it will be dealt with with a firm hand of stern repression; but, if it lifts its head at all, it will lift it only here and there and without countenance except from a lawless and malignant few."

While he is away on his vacation, Dr. Strong might do well to absorb some of these sentiments.
They came from the innermost depths of an executive who exercised a Christian spirit in expressing sympathy for a nation that is in a death struggle.
After all the German people are human beings the same as ourselves and even though their rulers have been guilty of atrocities it behooves a disciple of the Lord to pray for their deliverance instead of using the pulpit as a propelling point for his individual ideas of governmental argument. This nation is in the fight to win and we know it is going to win. The people understand the situation thoroughly and it did not require Dr. Strong's fiery words to aid them in realizing what they already know. If anybody had asked the clergyman "where he stood" he could have told it quietly to the in-terrogator and left it to someone else to talk about the hatred of the German people. The Church, as we have always understood it, is a house of worship where the creed of political hate has no place.

Looking at the matter from another viewpoint, Dr. Strong's remarks were in contradiction to Attorney General Gregory's injunction: "Obey the law; keep your mouth shut." These words were intended primarily for people of pro-German sympathy but were also meant for anyone with the tendency to speak his views publicly, either one way or the other. The idea was to avoid disruption within our midst and preference for hell to a certain race of people does not sit well in certain quarters.

MANY RETIREMENTS FROM THE COMMON COUNCIL.

Expiring terms and one pending vacancy due to the selective draft will bring about a decided change in the complexion of the Plainfield Common Council for the coming year. Seven of the present members will finish up next December and unless re-elected will relinquish their duties as city fathers.
An eighth member who was elected last fall will probably enter military service after his appearance before the Exemption Board next week and although civility has always held the office open in a circumstance of this kind it is probable that his place will be filled.

The only three councilmen who are to hold over will be H. Herbert Condit, from the Third ward; Theodore A. Martin, from the First ward, and President Francis J. Blatz, from the Fourth ward. Charles Loizeaux, from the Second ward, is the one who would have held over but as he is within the drafting age and his number was among the early ones drawn, he has decided to give his services to Uncle Sam. There is a clause in the Exemption rules which entitles him to remain at home as a municipal officer but this he does not intend to do. It is probable that he will tender his resignation that the vacancy might be filled. The other solons who are to complete their present terms this year are: Elias H. Bird, L. M. Booth, Thomas F. Hyland, Juan A. Babcock, Charles C. Graves, John H. Cose and Charles C.

Smick. This will mean the election of five ward councilmen and three from the city at large.

While no announcement has been made of it yet the coming primaries will produce an active city campaign. The Republicans are not counting upon any great opposition from the Democrats and figure that men who go for the G. O. P. ticket will undoubtedly be elected. Irrespective of what Washington does with the "bone dry" measure the anti-alcohol element in Plainfield is building its defenses for a total prohibition siege. By a resolution passed in the Council a few months ago the citizens will be asked to express their preference for a "wet" or "dry" policy locally but the "dry" is the determined to put a full ticket in the field no matter what the decision of the people. The ticket is now being rounded into shape and before the primaries are held in September will be exploited fully. Just what the "wet" will do has not been learned at this time but it can be truthfully said that those favoring continuing Plainfield's present excise regulations will have a card or two up their sleeves.

Relative to the councilmen, whose terms will expire this year one of them has announced that he will positively not accept renomination. This is Mr.
Babcock, who has served faithfully and efficiently for three terms. Councilman Cose, who is in his second term as a member at large, will not be a candidate for Council as he is again in the race for the shirley nomination, an honor which he nearly captured in 1914. Councilman Bird, who came into the Council for the second time last year, will drop out of the city race in order to be a candidate for freelholder. He aspires to the chair now occupied by S. P. T. Wilbur as the latter is also a candidate for the Republican nomination of sheriff and will relinquish his present office to be a candidate. Messrs.
Hyland, Booth, Graves and Smick have a desire to remain in office.

In other ways local politics are looking up and as soon as the warm wave is over the various aspirants will get busy with their respective campaigns.
It is practically decided at this time that Assemblyman William L. Runyon will seek the regular Republican nomination for Senator to succeed Carlton B. Pierce, of Cranford, and Judge William Newborn is working hard to get the appointment of Judge of the Common Pleas Court. He is opposed in this by Senator Francis. Walter L. Bedford, Jr., who is now assistant corporation counsel, has his eye on the city prosecutorship plum and several other Plain-fielders are laying back for various offices that are appointive. Altogether the situation locally is an interesting one and great things may be expected to develop very shortly.

CHEATING THE VEGETABLE BUYER.

The petty store keeper and peddler who gives short weight is with us again in greater proportion than has been noted in several years. It complaints are being poured in as can be relied upon. Potato buyers are the principal prey of this brand of deceiving merchant and the poor people who have been paying unprecedented prices for their favorite vegetable have had this indignity added to their troubles. The practice is not confined to the one commodity, however, but is worked out by various schemes in nearly every instance of vegetable selling, now that the green goods season is at its height. It is the wise housewife who gets all that she is paying for when she encounters dealers of this ilk.

It is asserted by one citizen in a position to observe some of the trickery of the peddlers that an extra basket of potatoes beyond the legal quota is "squeezed" out of every barrel. This deception means that the price of the extra basket comes out of the pockets of individuals who were ignorant of the fact.

Would it not be a good proposition for the Union county supervisor of weights and measures to look in on Plainfield one of these fine mornings. It is quite probable he would find sufficient infractions of the law to keep him busy several days, familiarizing himself with new forms of "get-rich-quick" bargaining. Perhaps a few arrests would dampen the ardor of the tricky gentlemen who are lining their pockets by contemptible and illegal practices.

When the Plainfield avenue "Rip Van Winkle" returns and finds the Marsh homestead landmark gone, he will surely turn to himself as he passes on:
"I have made a mistake; this is not the street I used to know."

The busier we get these days, the more we realize a sociable fellow is one who has nothing to do and drops around to bother someone who has.

WHAT'S BECOME OF THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

When "Ed" Thorny ran the Mansion House and anybody that was anybody used to drop around to "talk things over."

When John Laing built a board fence around his hotel because the town went dry and North Plainfield enjoyed for twelve months the greatest popularity it has ever known.

When John Simpson imported all the Scotchmen this side of Bay Ridge for the annual Caledonian games down in the hollow off Washington avenue?

When there were enough people in town with the spirit of '76 to get up a real Fourth of July celebration worth remembering?

When the Jersey Central's "Jug train" carried crowds of thirsty citizens out of the Plainfield "Sahara" to Fanwood, from whence they proceeded to the Darby and Lambert oases at Willow Grove?

Home Guards Not to Arrest Auto Speeders—So Says Dill

Home guardians who have special police powers had better be careful lest they exceed their authority and get in trouble. State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill said yesterday his office had received complaints regarding the action of home guard members in various parts of the State tabulating autists on alleged speeding charges and causing them to be fined.

An investigation is being made and it undoubtedly will result in a stop being put to the practice. Commissioner Dill declared men appointed for special police work as home guards never were intended to handle the auto situation, at least from the speeding standpoint.

"The motor vehicle act specifically outlines the duty of such an officer and the auto officer must be named for that particular line of work. It must necessarily receive special instructions regarding his duties so that he may be qualified," said Mr. Dill.

The commissioner is in accord with the action of Town Attorney Clyde B. Foster of Kearny, who, as a result of a letter from the State acting police recorder, caused to be held before him Justice of the Peace Harold S. Brown, of Arlington, on a charge of speeding. Justice Brown followed an alleged speeder and in gauging the speed of the motorist was compelled himself to break the speed law. His prisoner was fined by John H. Cooper, who was acting in the place of Mr. Brown. Motorcycle Policeman William Foster, before Mr. Brown and Mr. Brown was summoned to court and found guilty of breaking the speed law. Sentence was suspended until he took an appeal and as so instructed his lawyer, Arthur V. Archibald.

In addition to being found guilty of speeding Mr. Brown was relieved of his special police badge on the order of the Town Police Committee. He was a special policeman by virtue of his being an officer of the town home guard.

Concerning the Brown case Mr. Dill said: "I believe the magistrate who found this home guard guilty of speeding was absolutely right and should be commended for his action."

Miss Mary Birmingham, of West Sixth street, and Miss Helen Callahan, of East Second street, will leave tomorrow for Atlantic City to spend two weeks.

Arthur Hartsorn, of Madison avenue, left Wednesday for his former home at Pithsburg, Mass., where he will spend two weeks with relatives.

The Elements of Strength in this strong institution are its capital and surplus of $600,000; the personnel of its Directorate; the frequent examinations of its affairs made by both State examiners and certified accountants; and the conservative policy which characterizes all its operations.

The care of your money and the management of your estate may be safely entrusted to us.

Slackers Declares Registrar

She expressed the opinion that perhaps one of the reasons might be not so much that all Plainfielders were courageous and patriotic, as the fact that she and her assistant were widely acquainted throughout the city, and would be able to "pick" any who might be seeking matrimony as a means to escape the draft.

"It isn't likely that any one, no matter how cowardly he may be, would like to be identified as a marriage slacker," said Miss Mattison. "Over in New York it is different. There no one knows them, and they have an easy time escaping the finger of scorn."

Did you ever stop to think, observed the registrar with a smile, "what chance a man would stand in a squabble with his wife if she knew he had married her because he was afraid to fight?"

JOHN COOPER SEEMS SUBORDINATE NOMINATION.

John Cooper, who has been living in North Plainfield since disposing of his farm at War, evidently is a candidate for the nomination of surrogate in the September election. He is Somerset county, and is desirous to enter a race with the "best of us" on the field foreign born, for a large contingent to be held at the horse show grounds on Randolph road on Labor Day. The Americanization Committee is to be assisted by the Recreation Committee and various local labor organizations. As soon as the aid of the business men, merchants and others is obtained definite steps will be taken.

The pageant will be "The Democracy of Labor," the various scenes and tableaux of which Mrs. Maxwell Perkins is writing. Miss Lillian Lamson, employed by the Recreation Committee, is also to take an active part in the affair. A tentative program and schedule was worked out at a meeting held in the Public Library several nights ago and will be about as follows:

Symbolic Persons—The God of Labor, Civilization, The Spirit of America, The Spirit of the City, Mother Earth, The Fruit and Grain, The Miner, the Gift of the 48 States and 18 original States.

Historic Persons—King Richard, The Mayor of London, John Ball, The Mad Priest of Kent, Wat Tyler, Leader of the Bar: Fendal Seris, Armed Men, Abraham Lincoln, The Cotton Pickers.

Modern Participants—The Builders, Iron Workers, Concrete Makers, Carpenters, Masons, Electricians, City Automobile Makers, Tires, Makers of Parts, Assemblers, etc. The Aeroplanes Makers, The Foundries, Hand Forged Lathes, Women's Division, The Mill Workers, The Red Cross Hospital Service, Comforts, Community Canning, The Business Men, The Home Defense League, The Industrial Army, The New Citizens, their leaders and groups.

A short synopsis of the pageant is as follows:

Procession—The God of Labor, Mother Earth, Fruit, Grains and Minerals, Civilization, the God of Labor, Historic Scene—Fendal Seris (Dramatic), Dance Interlude—Gift of Fruit and Grain, Historic Scene—Lincoln and the Cotton Pickers, Dance Interlude—Gift of the Minerals, The Present—America and Democracy enter together: Spirit of the City as page who in Plainfield's Gifts of Labor for Democracy; America's Call for a pledge for each citizen: Democracy and Labor clasp hands at feet of Civilization: Civilization Unveiled—The God of Labor shall be guided by Democracy—he shall be the herald of Civilization and her Flag shall be a symbol. Symbolic Flag Dance. Reception.

Huge Labor Day Pageant Planned

After having practically discontinued its activities during the past year, the Labor Day pageant is being made by the Americanization Committee, formed last spring to spread the idea of patriotism among Plainfielders, for a large contingent to be held at the horse show grounds on Randolph road on Labor Day. The Americanization Committee is to be assisted by the Recreation Committee and various local labor organizations. As soon as the aid of the business men, merchants and others is obtained definite steps will be taken.

Will Obtain Few at Top of List

When the local exemption board starts its examinations next week of the first list on the draft list it may be found that physical disability, dependency or some other exemption cause will have taken many out of the list. Exemption will also prove a big factor in preventing the full quota being drawn until a large part of the list has been gone through. Possibly five or six will be all that will be obtained out of the first twelve examined.

No Prison Farm For This Year

There is little likelihood, according to recent developments, that anything will be done in the prison farm or county almshouse project this year. The principal reason for this. When the special committee of the Board of Freeholders which had the matter of purchasing a suitable site for the farm for county jail inmates in charge, reported several weeks ago that the plan had to be temporarily abandoned because of the prices asked for sites that met the requirements it was thought that the committee could later see its way clear to resume negotiations.

Plan New State Military Force

Colonel Robert L. Patterson, of Elizabeth, attached to the Inspector General's department of the New Jersey National Guard, has been directed by Governor Walter E. Edge to work out the details for the organization of this State's secondary fighting force—a home defense organization available for municipal and State-wide protective duty under the military authority of the Governor. The chief executive action brings before clearly to a head the formation of a State unit to supplant the National Guard, which phases out of existence with the drafting of the State troops into the Federal service which will be completed within a few days.

Apartment Grands

These Grand Pianos are made specially for those people who live in apartments too small for the proper display of a large Grand.

And the same beautiful lines, the same care in adjustment of parts, the same high grade materials and the same tonal qualities are as much a part of the small Grand as they are of the expensive large Grands.

These Apartment Grands will fit into almost any space where an Upright can be displayed.

If you contemplate buying a good Upright, make it your duty to see our Apartment Grands first. We feel sure that their superior beauty will win your approval. Moderately priced—$485 up.

Ask us to send you a paper pattern free, showing just how spacious an Apartment Grand will occupy.

No. 1 is David G. Turner, of 413 East Third street. Turner, although married, will likely not be able to claim exemption because of dependency, his wife being a patient at Bonie Burn Sanatorium. He says, however, that he is willing to go, although he has yet to pass the physical test.

No. 2 is Frank G. Conde, of 1155 South Second street, and could not be reached yesterday, but is said to be married and healthy. He will likely be enrolled in the army, unless physically unfit.

No. 3 is Andrew Etcock, of 244 Jackson avenue. He could not be located either and it is not known whether or not he will claim exemption.

No. 4 is Charles Kurtzman, of West Fifth street. He is married and engaged in business in this city. He is healthy and will likely not try to prove exemption.

No. 5 is Joseph Dikowski, of 1337 West Third street. He has dependents and will try to prove exemption.

No. 6 is Roger Mellick, of 1137 Watching avenue. He is already a member of Troop D and is therefore certain of draft exemption.

No. 7 is John J. Maloney, of 238 Grant avenue. He is unmarried and without dependents. He will probably be taken if he is physically fit.

No. 8 is Bernard G. McCartney, of 419 West Third street. He is unmarried but has a dependent mother and will claim exemption.

No. 9 is Silas Guttridge, of 1121 South avenue. He has enlisted in the navy.

No. 10 is Arthur Wyckoff, of 325 South Second street. He could not be located.

No. 11 is Michael Miesko, of 413 Spruce street. He is a machinist and will likely not try to prove exemption.

No. 12 is Charles D. Schlegel, of 214 East Fifth street. His name does not appear in the directory and could not be located.

Charles Hartfelder, of East Sixth street, who has been detained from work for the past five weeks from the effects of an automobile accident on South avenue, Fairwood, is still incapacitated and will be for at least three more weeks.

Director George G. Teller expressed the view of the committee recently when he stated that municipal taxes would be altogether too high next year, the result of the proposed expenditure. He admitted the need of the improvements, but declared that their establishment was not feasible at this time because of the cost to the taxpayers and because building material is now dearer than it has been in years.

The prison farm committee also has in charge the proposed county almshouse plan and the members feel that nothing should be done until the county is in a position not only to build the prison farm building and almshouse, but a county isolation hospital as well.

DUNHAM-COWARD COMPANY
LONGER IN COWARD FIRE.

In the list of tenants suffering loss from water at the fire in the Coward building Wednesday night, the Bid of Dunham & Clark was omitted. Water from the third floor descended to the work-room of the well-known engineering office and destroyed valuable maps and drawings, entailing a damage of about $300. While the loss is covered by insurance it will cause a very annoying delay in the delivery of certain work. Mr. Clark is in the government service as a member of the First Reserve Engineers and Mr. Dunham will be compelled to work early and late to reproduce the maps.

MESSEL IN SHERIFF'S RACE.

Reports from Elizabeth state that Freeholder Peter Messel, of Springfield, is circulating a petition for his entrance to the race for the nomination of sheriff on the regular Republican ticket. This makes the sixth candidate for the honor and the third Freeholder to make the try.

Mrs. W. W. Warnock and her mother, Mrs. M. A. Furman, of Orange, have been spending the past week at Paterson, with Mrs. Warnock's daughter, Mrs. William C. Begg.

Mrs. Mercedes Remm, of West Third street, will leave tomorrow for Denver to spend two weeks.

About 2,000 pledges of support to the Governor after by service with in their own municipalities or within the State and subject to his orders at all time, under which every class they have selected, have been forwarded to the office of the adjutant-general. The expression of readiness to serve within the home municipality is general, but the numerous daily line service for State-wide duty is not so great.

The fact that no details of what the Federal Government expects of the State in the matter of the draft is rather difficult to reach any definite conclusions on the subject. With a view to securing a clearer understanding, Governor Edge recommended that the State go to Governor's Island, which he did this morning, and there secure complete data concerning the number of men to be protected, the number of men necessary for the details and the location of those posts. It was explained that such information was needed to make some time ago, but that the recent withdrawals from various points have made it impracticable to base the estimates upon such data.

Colonel Patterson has prepared a tabulation of the various towns from which these offers have been made and the number of men available for the separate service, home or State-wide. There is no disposition to raise a force of men far in excess of the required strength, and the cost of the service is apparent. It is possible that the number of men available under these voluntary offers for service will suffice, although the Governor's Edge expected to raise 5,000 men.

Federal equipment and maintenance will be forthcoming for the service. It is understood, if the organization can be effected, the Executive will tender its services to the Government, with the understanding that the cost of the maintenance shall be paid by the Federal Government. Any effort to have the State assume the cost will be approximately 700 youths who were before the draft board that they are of military age and have no one depending upon them for support.

Eight more men were added to the roster of the unit following medical examinations on Tuesday, bringing the strength of the company stationed here to eighty-four men. The equipment long waited for arrived yesterday and was distributed to the men. Lieutenant Phillips now plans to take his command somewhere in this vicinity. The heat during the past few days has been so severe that the men have been hardly able to bear it in the postoffice structure.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Emma Clifton Foster, daughter of Charles Foster, of West Sixth street, to William F. Hobbs, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hobbs, of Watching avenue. The wedding date has not been set.

Three Auto Victims Was Saturday Toll

The past week was one of the most fatal for Plainfield automobilists in years. No less than three accidents have resulted in the loss of human life. The accidents occurred on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. The accidents occurred on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

The first death occurred Sunday night in the Elizabeth General Hospital, Thomas Sheehan, of 112 Peabody place, Newark, and a seven-year-old child, succumbing to injuries received when he was struck by a truck Saturday morning owned by Matteo Malbro, a produce dealer of this city. Sheehan's body was found in the trunk of the truck on North Broad street, near Hollywood avenue, Hillside. He sustained only a fractured leg and minor bruises when he was struck by the truck. The driver of the truck was not injured.

Thomas Ford, nineteen years old, of Metuchen, died at Mullenberg Hospital at 8 o'clock Saturday night, the result of injuries received in a delivery accident on Saturday. Ford was driving a truck owned by the Castle Ice Cream Company. He fell under the wheels and was crushed. The fatality occurred on North Broad street.

Ford, who was employed as a helper for Edward Doran, of Perth Amboy, driver for the truck, was lying in a hospital at the time of his death. He was a very kind and generous man, and was a member of the St. Patrick's church. He was a very kind and generous man, and was a member of the St. Patrick's church.

The third death occurred on Sunday night, following an accident on Westfield avenue, Roselle Park, when Miss Helen Hodgson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hodgson, of Amsterdam avenue, that place, was struck by an automobile driven by H. E. Lacey, of West Sixth street. A call against the accident would be found in another column.

LOUISE PIERCE. The late Louise Pierce, of Plainfield, N. J., died Saturday morning at her home at 121 West 10th street, at the age of 70 years. She was a native of Ireland, and had been a resident of this city for many years. She was a member of the St. Patrick's church, and was a very kind and generous man.

City's One Horse Fountain Inadequate During Torrid Heat of Past Few Days

To many individuals the initials S. P. C. A. present only an image of a noisy wagon, a double-decker lined with sad-eyed, pesty haired, grinning animals—the fellows above and canines below—the dog catchers.

But in Plainfield the S. P. C. A. has had a more attractive significance. Situated on West Eighth street in a waiting station for horses, maintained by the society, the equipment is not elaborate, to be sure, but makes passing horses as comfortable as the 50 to 100 degree temperature will permit. The only fault the society has to find is that there are no more stations.

There was a time when horses were allowed to wait in the open, and it never occurred to his natural helper, man, to alleviate his suffering. But about three years ago some humanitarian evolved the idea which is now in practice.

It is a touching sight to see some laden beast dragging along with faltering steps and unceasingly endeavoring to respond to the constant spurting of his driver. No "kick" turns a corner comes a familiar scent to his nostrils: a cool breath blows down the street as the pleasantly familiar watering station comes into view. He lifts his head, he snorts happily. He forgets momentarily the great load he is drawing behind him and quivering his pace to trot, he hurries down the street. No driver's rein is necessary to restrain him at the proper spot. He knows his friends and is quick to respond to their kind ministrations.

Gratefully docile, he submits his steaming sides to a cool sponging, and his foaming mouth to an equally cool rinsing. He takes a drink, and thus refreshed, returns to his day's labor.

And for this the S. P. C. A. the friend of animals, is to be thanked.

MANY DOCTORS WANTED FOR ARMY SERVICE

Announcement was made this week that within the next year the medical service of the army would require the services of 144,000 men, of whom 54,000 must be trained physicians and the 130,000 other enlisted men. The army is now looking for these men by October 1, and plans are well under way for obtaining them.

Already commissions have been issued to about 5,000 medical officers in the Reserve Corps of the army. Between now and October 1 enough other commissions will be issued to raise the total number of medical officers to 12,000. Two out of every nine physicians of military age throughout the United States and its principal possessions will be required for war service. Dr. Chalmers L. Crist and Dr. F. W. Cornwall are Plainfielders already joined and others are getting ready.

PROTECTING PLANT

Several changes have been made during the past few days in the plan adopted to guard the plant of the Plainfield Water Company on North avenue.

Every Local Man at Fort Meyer Is in Line for Commission; Camp Ends Aug. 14

New Jersey men from the Fort Meyer training camp for reserve officers are going to lead the fighting units of the United States. When the War Department called for volunteers from the camp for second lieutenants in the regular army, New Jersey men crowded forward. Of the 140 men picked to take the examination last week, New Jersey sent the largest representation before the board of special officers and when the board designated the men in the order of rank, Jerseyites were conspicuous all the way down the list. There are at least sixty men from the camp to be commissioned as second lieutenants and a report from what seems good authority says that 100 men will be accepted.

After the tests for the commissions as second lieutenants, one of the regular army officers specially designated by the War Department to conduct the examination spoke in high commendation of the quality of men from New Jersey who had been examined. He said it was an honor for every one of the 140 men picked from the 2,300 in the camp to have come up so highly recommended and so well deserving.

"We are much pleased with the quality of the men we have examined," he said. "They should prove to be excellent army officers. Those chosen are men in whom their home State will well feel pride. The New Jersey men are a credit to their State and we expect to see them win honorable records in this war."

Warren A. Ransome, a local man who is endeavoring to get a commission, made an excellent showing last week as commander of the Third Battery of Artillery and had as one of his lieutenants Walter Roesch, of Westfield. John C. Mickle, another Plainfielder, has been showing up well as a lieutenant in the Second Battery. These are only two of the many local men who are making good in camp.

Each of the candidates is to be finally passed upon by the board of camp officers for a commission. The last meeting of the board was held Wednesday and in the minutes of that meeting were inserted the list of those recommended for commissions. The list has been sent to the War Department and until August 14, when the announcement of the successful ones is expected, everyone will be in the anxious seat.

Miss Margaret McCarthy, of Orchard place, returned home the forepart of the week after spending her vacation with relatives at Boston, Mass.

Rev. Father B. M. Hogan, pastor of St. Mary's church, left the forepart of the week for a month's stay at St. Mary's, Lake Champlain.

"Record" Editorial Has Some "Record"

Several months ago the Record published in its editorial columns an article in which the paper appeared to be other than ordinary. Since then, however, the article has been appearing in various newspapers, and the Record has been receiving many requests regarding its uniqueness. The last case to come to our attention of a paper thinking it worthy of reprinting was when the paper of the American Press arrived a few days ago. The editorial was printed in its entirety under the following caption:

WHO WRITES THE OBITUARY?

Plainfield (N. J.) Record Warns Man Who Stopped the Paper.

The editorial in question we reproduce again, for the benefit of our readers:

A few days ago a subscriber who is a well known citizen came to our office and was stopped by the paper. The reason, he said, that it did not just suit his fancy. We have since met him on the street, and it is amusing to note the look of surprise on his face that we are in existence despite the fact he stopped his paper.

Some day, and it won't be long either, that gentleman will be no more. His heart will be still for ever. Neighbors and friends will follow his lifeless call to the silent city and lay him to rest among silent flowers. An obituary will be published in these columns telling what a good neighbor and beloved citizen he was—which the recording angel will be sure to check for the next time a short time he will be forgotten. As he lies out there in the cold, cold graveyard, wrapped in the silent death of death, he will never be the last kind word spoken for him was by the editor of the paper which he so spitefully "stopped." Did you ever pause for a moment and think that your editor, whoever he may be, will be the last word spoken for him?

Where Do The Profits Go?

MANY a farmer wonders at the end of the year where the "profits" went. Repairs for this plow—new "parts" for the binder—a new knife for the mower to replace the rusted one—and so you go. Not to say anything about the terrible wear and tear on machinery left out in the open.

And think of the time lost because this machine or that wasn't fit for use when it was wanted—the time lost tinkering with it—maybe a special trip to town.

The farmer who is a business man, doesn't waste his time or money that way. He builds a good implement shed—saves unnecessary repair bills—and gets maximum service out of his machinery. The time and money he saves represent clean profits.

He builds a good implement shed. That means wherever the wood is exposed to the weather, for no other wood can withstand the continual onslaught of rain and snow, sun and wind, as successfully as White Pine.

WHITE PINE

It doesn't warp, twist, split or rot—and it stays where you put it.

We have complete, practical working plans of the implement sheds shown here—and a number of other farm buildings. Come in and see them or let us bring them to you.

Seals Above The Ground

The famous Norwalk Cement Burial Vault is now sealed above the ground in plain sight of the family. Any burial receptacle, however waterproof and durable, is worthless unless its seal is a perfect one. The Norwalk Vault with its 3 inch depth of seal is tried and proven 100% efficient. The proof of which we say is 10 years of steadily increasing business—the burial of between 250,000 and 300,000 vaults in every section of the United States.
