CITY HALL STRIKE NOT A "SQUARE DEAL"

It is quite difficult to figure out just what sort of fact the Monahan Stone Company is taking in holding up the work at the City Hall. Officials of the concern admit that Plainfield owes it no money, that its dealings in the Plainfield contract were purely with the P. F. Kenny Company and that the building committee has already paid for the stone work, yet they refused to call off the strike that was ordered more than a week ago. Nobody doubts but what the Monahan people have a "come-back" to the main contractor but why make this municipality the "goat"? The executives in charge of the work have done everything possible to finish the structure to the best interest of all concerned and they deserve encouragement rather than opposition. So far as the Monahan Company is concerned, the city does not know of its existence in a legal sense and yet without any claim that would hold in the court of law, the Monahan representatives call a strike that has already been a serious addition to the troubles of the building committee.

Plainfield cannot pay the $13,000 to the complaining company even if it wanted to, because there is absolutely no reason for it. The suggestion that "the rich men of this city go down in their pockets" for the amount is little short of a "hold-up" scheme. The only one to "dig down" is the Kenny Company and if this concern is unable to pay its obligations it is no excuse for trying to grab the amount away from the Plainfield people who supposed that Mr. Monahan knew enough about business to protect his own interests. The time for him to have taken a stand was when the regular payments to the subcontractors were held up. That was enough to show him that something was wrong. If he wanted to he could have found out from the city clerk or the city treasurer that Plainfield is handing over the cash just as soon as the supervising architects certified work and when a contractor who is getting cash holds up payments to sub-contractors or gives notes which is due them, it is a sure sign that all is not right.

As the matter stands at present, the ordering of the strike takes all union men off the job and consequently ties up the other contractors who are at all concerned with the general contract. As long as the strike continues the hall cannot be made a "fair" job. The city has no desire to finish the structure with non-union labor but it does seem as though it has not been given a square deal. The only recourse for the municipality is to appeal to the Federation of Labor and we entertain the belief that that organization will refuse to sanction the action of the local unions in continuing the tie-up.

MANY LOST VOTES THROUGH CARELESS MARKING.

The recount of the Republican primary votes for surrogate has disclosed a number of striking instances where the voter, even though his intentions may have been all right, lost his vote. In the minute inspection of the ballots by the Board of Elections there came to light many peculiar features in the markings, many of which were from the Plainfield districts. In some instances, the primary election officials passed the vote in good faith, but with a recount the inspections naturally became more detailed and all ballots were thoroughly scrutinized. In a majority of the cases of rejected ballots the chief error consisted of making a long string of X's wherever a name appeared, regardless of the instructions as to how many were to be voted upon. These ballots are void on the face of them. For instance, but three Assembly candidates were to be voted upon and five names appeared. The voter, for good measure, in many instances voted for all five. The entire ballot is therefore void.

The next error consisted of making a three line X, that is, giving an extra line to the original X. The courts have held that this is a marked ballot, indicating the voter intended the extra line as a distinguishing mark.

The writing in of names invalidated many votes. In many instances the writing in was apparently done as a joke. Constable is the favorite office of the jokesters and no less than forty-two names were written in on different ballots. Justice Bergen has held that where the name is given in full, such as John J. Jones, it can be counted, but where Jones is simply written in the ballot is void. In one instance the name O'Brien appeared. The capital O and the rest of the letters "brain" were separated. The board counted the vote for O' brain. If the man ever appears he can claim the distinction of getting one vote for constable. Dr. in front of a name is not permitted, neither is M. D. or Dem. Rep., Soc. in written names.

One instance of DR. was found and the letters being separated the initials of the man were officially recorded by the board as D. R. This they regarded as a strict interpretation of the law. The fact that these ballots were counted gave the surrogate candidates a vote, as the names usually written in were for other offices.

Coroner is also a favorite office for the jokesters. They write in names of candidates for important offices in the coroner column. If the full name appears the vote is counted, if not it is rejected.

The making of the X plays an important part in the vote. A great many voters were rejected because they looked like a Y and the lines did not actually cross within the box, as the law states. Some make their X like a V. This is also void, the lines not crossing.

As many as 200 ballots were rejected because there was no X in front of the name of any candidate. This is due to the fact that many appear at the primary booth for the purpose of registering only. Why they go to the trouble of going into the booth without marking their ballot is inexplicable.

About 100 ballots with names written in for other candidates affected the surrogate result. They had to be rejected because not complying with the law.

The voter, however, is becoming more proficient in the use of the ballot and the surrogate recount showed a marked improvement over either the Kelly-Parrot, Excise or Capstick-Fowler recounts in the matter of intelligent voting.

HELPING THE SOLDIERS IN CORRESPONDENCE.

There is one thing the great Government of the United States should not forget. There is nothing that will keep the soldiers and sailors of the republic, wherever they are located, in France, in some training camp or on duty, in good spirits and satisfied with their lot as to facilitate the means of correspondence between them and their friends and loved ones at home.

There is nothing that eases the strain of sacrifice and duty of those away from home so greatly as to allow them, as often as they are able to do so, to pour out heart and soul to those at home who care and understand. Congress should take action at once to extend the franking privilege to the enlisted men. It should also be allowed them to write home what is in their thoughts. The correspondence of the enlisted men, it seems, should only be censored enough to prevent their letters giving out military secrets that would be of use to enemy spies and sympathizers into whose possession they might happen to fall.

It is impossible for the general American public to understand why it should be necessary to keep the fact of the landing of military contingents sent to Europe, and who are safely in the country of their designation, from their friends on this side of the water. Why should waiting, anxious parents and relatives of American enlisted men be kept in ignorance of their whereabouts after they are safely landed in Europe?

The relatives of eligible sons would be much more willing to let them go into the service of their country if they were permitted to keep more closely in touch with them. Is there any real need of so much military red tape as is being used to safeguard the contingent of the expeditionary force? Canada has not found it necessary to employ so much secrecy and has not lost any men en route for English ports.

WHERE MERE MAN'S VIEW FALLS FAR SHORT.

What does a mere man know about knitting? Nothing at all. Yet a mere male being may have ideas about the economic value of American women spending valuable time knitting for the soldiers in a crisis like the present when everyone is called upon to do his or her best.

"Spillane," who writes a business letter from New York for the Philadelphia Public Ledger, contends that the knitters are operating at an economic loss. He says:

"For misapprehension there probably is nothing in America today comparable to this work of knitting. One small automatic knitting machine can do more work than 100 women. Much of the yarn purchased by the women who knit is bought at a price which makes the article the woman turns out much more expensive than if it were made by machinery."

"Spillane" says, moreover, that the knitters, who are purchasing yarn in small quantities, are paying as high as $6.75 a pound for a product that is not actually valued at more than $2.50 a pound."

This business writer points out, moreover, that the mothers and daughters could accomplish much better patriotic service by releasing the servants in their homes, or some of them, to enter productive industrial tasks. It could be done, he points out, by their taking the place of a servant in the home tasks.

But what about the army of women who do both the knitting and the home tasks? The average mother or daughter who is really accomplishing good work knitting is more apt than not to be of the vast number of independent American women who do not employ servants. The knitting they do is work added to their other duties.

NO ROOM FOR HYMNS OF HATE.

The Hudson Observer, at the risk of bringing an avalanche of criticism down upon its defenseless head, notes that there are some persons whose patriotic ardor leads to the doing of things that are un-American. For instance, some who formerly patronized citizens of German birth or extraction, have ceased to do so since the declaration of war.

The fact that these business men are American citizens and have been for many years, the Observer observes, is forgotten because we happen to be at war with the country of their forebears. Inasmuch as they were in sympathy with the Fatherland before America entered the conflict, it is taken for granted that they must be of the same mind now. Americans worthy of the name will not discriminate because of accident of birth against those who have come to this country from other shores and showed themselves to be true Americans.

Only recently Mayor Marvag received a communication asking for his opinion of a movement to melt up all metal works of art done by German hands, the metal to be used for relief work. The suggestion strikes as responsive a chord in the real American as would one that all the scientific text books, in many instances the best in the world, by German authors, be converted into wadding for guns, or that the German opera scores be destroyed.

We have frequently heard of "Hymns of Hate" in other countries now engaged in the great conflict. But here in America, where Americans are full-minded and their outlook unrestricted, there can be none. There should be no room and there is no room for "hymns of hate" in America.—Elizabeth Times.

FACTS MR. BARROWS MIGHT LIKE TO KNOW.

Writing an anti-two platoon letter, this week, Elliot T. Barrows assumed that the life of a fireman in Plainfield was not hazardous. Wonder if Mr. Barrows heard of the two members of the department who were nearly killed by a falling floor at a blaze two weeks ago, of the captain who was badly hurt at headquarters last winter as he was jumping on the apparatus answering an alarm, or the driver who was sent to the hospital some months ago suffering from a broken ankle received by sliding down the pole too fast in his anxiety to answer duty's call? There are many other instances we could relate if Mr. Barrows is interested enough to want them, but we presume he is too busy expostulating the time is not opportune for giving the firemen a decent working day.

WHAT'S BECOME OF THE GOOD OLD DAYS?

When Plainfield had at least two streets that were not torn up.

When onions built you up physically but were not supposed to drag you down socially?

When old "Kaspar" went through town jingling a bell and shouting: "Auction, by Gillies, tonight!"

When there were no anti-germ fanatics to keep a thirsty mortal from getting a drink of water on a Jersey Central train?

When John Clark was Plainfield's lone cop and earned his salary chasing the boys home?

When gas or electricity meant nothing in our young lives and kerosene could be bought for nine cents a gallon?

When Park avenue or "Cherry street," as it was then known, was paved with tarred wooden blocks?

When the family was considered socially eligible if it possessed horse-hair furniture?

When Mr. Fleischmann had not invented his compressed yeast cakes and mother sent us to the bakeries to get two cents' worth of fresh yeast in a pitcher?

Kreiser Concert Patronesses Named Second Hit Hard By Transferring

The sale of tickets for the Kreiser concert, which will be held in the High School on October 26, has now progressed so well that the success of the concert is assured. The Kreiser Organization for Society work is a group of people, should realize how important this concert is to its work. The past year has seen the deplorable on the society increased many fold, not only because of the poor of the community have had more difficult conditions to meet on account of the high cost of living, but because the city has lost the services of the soldiers to a greater extent than ever before. This concert was chosen as a means of raising funds for two reasons, first, because of the fact that Kreiser is one of the greatest violinists of the age, and second, because the society did not have to guarantee any special amount to him, but gets a very large percentage of the gate receipts.

For those who heard Kreiser before, this is a great opportunity to compare his new program with that of the past year. His program is one of exceeding attractiveness and is drawn from sources of the best violin music of the 17th and 18th centuries.

The following is a list of those who have agreed to be patronesses of this concert:

Psychological Tests For Embryo Soldiers

Psychological tests for the rating of soldiers on the basis of mental aptitude were begun yesterday at four training camps, including that at Camp Dix, Wrightstown. About 160,000 men are to be graded under the new system devised by a committee of psychologists that includes H. H. Goddard, director of research of New Jersey State Training School, Vineland.

The work is undertaken, first, to supplement the medical examination, and second, to give line officers estimates of the mental ability of the men. The psychologists' examinations will be made to the chief surgeon of the camp or the psychotic officer in order that mentally defective or psychotic men may be considered for discharge, and to the regimental company commanders in order that they may use this additional information in selecting their men for the improvement of the service.

The National Guard mobilization camp at Sea Girt was the scene of one of the preliminary trials of the system of tests that has been adopted. Twice the psychologists tested the men on the tests devised and the one to be applied is the result of experiments with more than 5,000 men.

Staffs of doctors trained in the administration of psychological tests have been assigned to each of the four camps in which the rating of the men will begin. At Camp Dix there will be four first lieutenants of the army medical corps and six civilians.

S. H. Spinnery, of Providence, R. Mr. Spinnery is a Government employee in charge of the munition work at the Scott shop on South avenue.

Miss Sarah A. Carney, who was injured in an automobile accident several weeks ago, continues to improve at Muhlenberg Hospital.

OBITUARY

Personal Mention of Plainfielders and Others Who Have Heeded the Summons of Death During the Past Week.

MRS. THOMAS S. WHEELER.

Mrs. Thomas Sherman Wheeler, a prominent resident of Plainfield for many years, died last Friday evening at her summer home at Lake Coblesee, near Augusta, Me., where she and her husband have been sojourning since last spring. Her return to Plainfield was delayed by an illness which Mrs. Wheeler contracted two months ago and as she became worse it was decided to remain at Lake Coblesee in the hope that the climate might prove beneficial. She continued to sink, however, and at last it was known to the friends of the family for several weeks that her condition was serious they were greatly shocked at news of her death. The body was brought to Plainfield and the funeral was held at the family home at 1023 Park avenue, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. It was in charge of Rev. E. V. Stearns, rector of Grace Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a communicant. A quartet, composed of Miss Grace Wheeler, daughter of the deceased, and William J. Tallman, sang two selections, "Lead Kindly Light" and "Aldie With Me." Many relatives and friends were present and the funeral was a family plot in Hillside cemetery.

Mrs. Wheeler was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Mayer, of 215 Park avenue, and who were among Plainfield's best known families of recent years. Mrs. Wheeler was a woman of strong, Christian character and was a faithful worker in Grace church, as her mother had been before her. Her many relatives and friends were very numerous but known only to those of her immediate relatives. She and her husband spent a great deal of their time in foreign travel and although they frequently made long trips in this add other countries they always maintained Plainfield as their home. In many ways Mrs. Wheeler was a typical Plainfielder and her going is deeply deplored by everyone of the hundreds numbered among her acquaintances. Her only surviving relative is her husband.

MRS. RALPH YOUNG.

Mrs. Helen Maria Young, wife of Ralph Young, died Monday night at her home at 415 West Fifth street. She had been suffering for nearly five years with an incurable malady which became acute during the past few months.

Mrs. Young was a native of Centreville, Hunterdon county, where she was born sixty years ago. She spent her childhood at Centreville and came to Plainfield about fifteen years ago, when the family moved to Plainfield. Mrs. Young was a member of Trinity Reformed church, where she was a devoted attendant until her illness prevented. She had a wide acquaintance both in Plainfield and that part of Hunterdon county about her.

Beside her husband she is survived by two daughters, the Messrs. Ethel and Maudie Young, and three sons, Charles, Clarence and Goldson. The funeral was held at the late home on West Fifth street yesterday in charge of Rev. John T. Brown, and later at the First Reformed church in Somerville. Burial was in the Somerville cemetery.

MRS. MARY C. ISENHANN.

Mrs. Mary Catherine Isenmann, wife of John Isenmann, died Saturday night at the home of her son, William F. Isenmann, of Lyndhurst place. She was seventy-eight years old and had been suffering for some time from complications produced by the infirmities of age. Mrs. Isenmann's husband was a wholesale dealer in Washington, D. C., and had been in New York for many years. The funeral was held at the son's home on Lyndhurst place on Wednesday afternoon and was in charge of Rev. John T. Brown, of Trinity Reformed church. Burial was in the family plot in Fairview cemetery, Westfield.

MRS. JOHN M. CRANE.

Mrs. John M. Crane, who resided for a number of years on West Eighth street, died suddenly on Friday night at the home of her son, Clifford Crane, of Rutherford. The funeral was held at the son's residence Monday morning and burial was in the family plot in Cypress Hills cemetery, Brooklyn. Mrs. Crane's husband was a member of the insurance man, died at Rutherford about a year ago. Beside her son, the deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Casper Krinke and Mrs. Alexander Duth, both of Rutherford.

MRS. C. R. LANGWORTHY.

Mrs. Frances Adelaide Langworthy, aged 81 years, wife of Charles R. Langworthy, died at the home of Thomas Sherman Wheeler, of Park avenue, whose death occurred at Augusta, Maine, last Friday, passed away yesterday following a short illness. The death of her niece was a severe shock and in her weakened condition was unable to rally from its effects.

Mrs. Langworthy was born near Lake George, N. Y., and after residing in Brooklyn for a time removed to this city forty-four years ago. She was a communicant of the Episcopal church and interested in all its activities. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Gifford Mayer, for many years a resident here. She is survived by her husband.

The funeral of Mrs. Wheeler was held at the late home tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. E. V. Stearns, of Grace church, officiating. Burial will be made in Hillside cemetery.

MRS. MICHAEL MADSEN.

Following an illness of two years, during which she was confined to her room most of the time, death came last Saturday morning to Mrs. Michael Madsen at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Harding, of John street. A stroke of apoplexy was the immediate cause of death.

Mrs. Madsen was eighty-eight years old and had resided in Plainfield since 1892, at which time she and her husband came from Jersey City to make their home with Mrs. Harding. Despite her advanced age, she was very active up until the time her last illness began, two years ago. She lived to see two generations of her family, the youngest being great-grandchildren who reside in Jersey City. Her husband, who is eighty-six years old, is still hale and hearty and gets about better than other people many years his junior.

Beside Mrs. Harding, the deceased is survived by two sons, William Madsen, of this city, and James Madsen, of New York. The funeral was held in St. Mary's church Tuesday morning, when a service was conducted by Rev. Father E. M. Hogan. The floral tributes included several large sets of pieces from relatives and friends of the family. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, where the following four grandsons acting as pall-bearers: Thomas, John, Walter and Frank Harding.

MISS BARBARA M. MILLER.

Miss Barbara Maria Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, of 215 Richmond street, died Saturday night at the home of her parents, following a long illness from a series of troubles. She was twenty-two years old and had resided in Plainfield since 1916, coming here from New Providence with her parents. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and a faithful attendant until her illness began. Beside her parents, she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Charles Irving Van Winkle, of East Fifth street, and Misses Ethel and Bertha Miller, residing at the parental home.

The funeral was held at the family residence Tuesday noon at 12 o'clock and was in charge of Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring. The body was afterwards taken to New Providence, where a further service was held in the Presbyterian church at that place. Interment was in the New Providence cemetery.

MRS. HANNAH KUFF.

Mrs. Hannah Huff, wife of Andrew Huff, died Sunday at her home on Chatham street, the borough, after an illness of about a week with complications of the heart. She was born in 1827, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Watts, but had resided in North Plainfield the greater part of her life. She was the sister to the late George Watts, the well-known butcher, who died in Muhlenberg hospital from the effects of injuries received when he was run down by an automobile at Park avenue and Front street two months ago. Her only near surviving relatives are several nephews and nieces.

among them Rev. George Angliman, of Weehawken; George F. Watts, of the borough, and Mrs. George Cline, of Bound Brook.

The funeral was held at the late home Wednesday afternoon and was in charge of Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of Bound Brook. Many relatives were in attendance and there were numerous floral tributes. Burial was in the family plot in the Bound Brook cemetery.

MRS. MARY J. VAN NEST.

Mrs. Mary J. Van Nest, widow of John C. Van Nest, died Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Van Nest, on Elmwood street. Americans Building

20,000 Aeroplanes

Contracts have been let by the War Department for the construction of 20,000 aeroplanes for use in the war against Germany. This is practically the whole number of aeroplanes for which provision was made in the $640,000,000 aviation bill. One-fourth, or about 5,000, of these will be built in the United States. The balance will be built in England, where the first 15,000 aeroplanes were built in this country, one of the largest contracts being held by the Standard Aero Corporation, of this city.

Aviators are being trained in twenty-four flying schools and in a number of ground schools. Their final training will be on foreign soil. The plans of the army contemplate the delivery of motors, plans, equipment and men so that all may be available as rapidly as one is ready for the other.

A great number of American aviators have been sent abroad, where they are now undergoing extensive training behind several of the battle fronts. More than thirty allied air experts are in this country, conducting what may be called an international aviation general staff, in cooperation with the development of America's great military aerial force. When the first American military airplanes in sent to Europe, and Secretary Baker says this will be done within reasonable time, it will be of American manufacture from the tip of its propellers to the engine, machine gun and camera.

These are some of the facts that stand out in a statement issued by Secretary of War Baker summarizing the progress of the aviation program thus far made with the aviation program adopted under the $640,000,000 appropriation.

Remarkable Document Found in Germany Tells of Beginning and End of World War

While raising the old monastery of the Holy Ghost in Wismar, Mecklenburg, Germany, two months ago, an old Bible was found which contained a remarkable prophecy regarding the present world war. It was written in 1701 by one of the monks on parchment that is now yellow and seared with age. It is now on exhibition in a glass case in the City Hall of Wismar. So much publicity has been given to the prophecy in the papers of Germany that thousands have flocked to Wismar to see it.

The prophecy not only gives the cause of the war, but also indicates the countries engaged. Up to the present it has been amazingly accurate. It does not exactly state that Germany will be victorious, but indicates how long the war will last, when the decisive battle will be fought, and where and when peace will come, and adds that Germany will continue to exist as a Power for many years. A translation of the writing on the parchment is as follows:

"Lord, have mercy on Thy people despite the fact that they are turning more and more away from Thee; that they are destroying Thy monasteries and cloisters and forgetting Thee. A time will come in Europe when these people will feel the weight of Thy hand, when malignity and hatred will rule. It will be at a time when the naval seas will be vacant, and the conflagration will come as the result of the murder of a prince. Seven nations will rise against the eagle, with one head and the eagle with two heads. The birds will defend themselves furiously and victoriously with their talons, and their wings will protect their people. A prince from their very midst a sovereign who mounts his horse from the wrong side will be encommended by a wall of enemies. His slogan will be 'Onward with God!' The Almighty God will lead him from victory to victory and many will meet their death. There will be wagons without horses and fiery dragons will fly through the air dropping fire and destroying cities and villages. The people will turn to God. This terrible war will last three years and five months. The seas will be tinged with blood, and there will be in wait under the waves for their prey."

Here follows a reference to America, which was in those times the seven stars.

"The people of the seven stars will attack the ring of steel and the land in the rear and tend it in twain. The whole of the lower Rhine will tremble, but nevertheless will endure to the end."

"The land of the west will be one vast desolation, and the land in the ocean will, with its King, be crushed and suffer all the pains of hunger. Between two lines of trees the victor will endure for a long time to come, and following the war the world will be united in one great brotherhood."

"The vipers will carry a cross and between four small cities and four steppes of equal height the decisive battle will be fought. Between two lines of trees the victor will lift his hands to heaven and thank God. Following this all ungodliness will disappear. The decadent dances that prevailed before the war will be seen no more, and God will reign in Church, State."

"The war will reach its height when cherries bloom for the third time. Peace will be consummated by the Prince in time for the Christmas season."

All German newspapers have commented on this amazing prophecy. "It is remarkable," says one paper, "how accurately the monk has predicted events as they have thus far occurred. We sincerely hope that the loosed for peace will come as he says. In order that we all may breathe freer air."

Plainfield Women Helping to Complete Suffragette Club House at Wrightstown

The Soldiers' Club House at Wrightstown, which is to be opened by the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association about October 25, is a scene of great activity this week. One group of women is busily sewing scarves and running sewing machines, as they convert a hundred yards of material of women curtains, hangings, and chair covers, another, armed with paint brushes, is carrying out a pleasing scheme of interior decoration, while others are doing the hundred and one things necessary to transform the house into an attractive, comfortable and homelike place for the soldier boys and their friends.

The committee directing the work is composed of Mrs. E. F. Felckert of Plainfield; Mrs. Wells P. Eastleton of Newark; Mrs. Henry C. White, of Plainfield; Miss Helen Lippincott, of Riverton; and Mrs. A. L. S. Doughty, of Mount Holly, and several of volunteer workers come each day from Mount Holly, Pemberton, Riverton, and other towns near Camp Dix.

The general recreation rooms on the first floor are to be furnished with mission and leather furniture which has been contributed by Mrs. George Gould, of Lakewood. Mrs. Joseph Laroque, of Bernardsville, is giving the kitchen furnishings, and many other things have been contributed by women all over the State, including a piano, two Victrolas, a refrigerator, sofas, chairs, pictures and books.

Much interest in the club is being shown by the men at Camp Dix and several have volunteered to come in and help with the work of getting the house ready.

One of the features of the Club House will be informal parties to be given by groups of women from various towns to the soldiers from their towns. West Orange has already raised the money for its party and the Club House is expected to be opened it will give an informal entertainment there for the thirty-ent boys from that place. Flemington also has plans under way for a party for Hunterdon county boys, and there will be at least two or three entertainments of this sort at the club every week.

Before deciding to open a Recreational Club at Wrightstown, which was included in the war service program, the women of the State, a committee from the New Jersey Woman Suffrage Association held a conference with Major - General Chase W. Kenney, the officer in command at Camp Dix, and laid their plans before him, asking for advice and criticism. General Kenney heartily endorsed the plan and said the only suggestion he wished to make was that the Club House be opened as soon as possible. Many women who are active in the work of the Club House Committee that the work will receive their hearty support.

Mayor Calkins Issues Proclamation For Proper Observance of "Liberty Day"

President Wilson's designation of October 24 as "Liberty Day" has resulted in plans being made for its proper observance in all parts of the country and in keeping with other executives, Mayor Leighton Calkins has issued the following proclamation for the people of Plainfield:

"Whereas, The President of the United States has designated Wednesday, the 24th day of October, as Liberty Day, on which the people of the country are urged to assemble in their respective communities and pledge to the Government the fullest measure of their financial support, in order that the might of this great liberty-loving nation may be aroused to strike hard in the cause of peace and humanity;

"Now therefore, as Mayor of the City of Plainfield, and in furtherance of the President's purpose, I hereby designate The Plainfield Liberty Loan Committee to arrange an appropriate celebration by means of the people or other events, as it deems best, that Liberty Day may have a real significance in our city. And I call upon our local business and social organizations of every character and upon our patriotic citizens generally, to join heartily with the committee in whatever plans it may make for the appointed day. Let it be an occasion upon which the people shall once more resolve to do whatever they may be called upon to do, that the brave men who have gone forth to fight America's battles shall not make their sacrifice in vain but shall be cheered and encouraged, and financially supported to the utmost, by those who are waiting at home in confident expectation for them to achieve the victory which is to make the world safe hereafter for their abiding and peace preserving homes."

"LEIGHTON CALKINS."

NO SKEWER OR HOME CAN-NED GOODS BY GOV-ERNMENT.

The following statement was issued yesterday by former Governor Fielder, Federal Food Commissioner for New Jersey:

"There seems to have been a deliberate effort on the part of the State to circulate rumors to the effect that the Government would raise all home canned supplies in excess of one hundred quarts."

"ALL SUCH STATEMENTS ARE ABSUTELY FALSE."

"The Government does not intend to interfere in any way with home products or home supplies of any sort. We do not have raised on your land is yours. What you have canned is yours. The Federal Food Law gives the Government no authority to take it away from you."

"The more food you provide for the needs of your family, without buying it from stocks of food produced by others, the more there will be left to be shipped to our allies."

"JAMES F. FIELDER."

Otto Considers Coddling Winner

At exactly 3:45 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Sheriff George C. Otto announced through his counsel, Judge J. David, that he would abandon the recounting of the votes in the surrogate contest by the Board of Elections and concede the nomination of Charles N. Coddling for that office on the Republican ticket.

The hopes of the sheriff went glimmering, starting Tuesday morning. His plans of a thirty-two votes in the recount was steadily reduced to a dozen, at which figure the Board of Elections abandoned its work.

Eighteen districts remained to be counted, and as the percentage of gain for the sheriff had been less than one vote a district, it was readily seen it would be impossible for him to overcome the sixty plurality officially determined in the surrogate Republican primary race.

The board had been at work on the 115 districts of the county for ten days, and their compensation is $10 per day. The members are: Chairman Frederick Lutz, Secretary Geo. J. Stark, Frank Platt and Andrew McDermott, of Plainfield.

Sheriff Otto had as his counsel Judge Abe J. David and Charles A. Otto, Jr., while Attorney Walter L. Hatfield, of Plainfield; Walter Tenney and Louis Meisinger appeared for Mr. Coddling.

Report of the Board of Elections will go to Justice James J. Bergen, of the Supreme Court, under whom the recount was held. The plurality will officially stand at sixty-one, the same as returned to the county clerk's office after the canvassing of the primary vote.

No errors of great consequence were found among the ballots. Several hundred voters neglected to mark their ballots in any way, and the no-vote column was very large. In the case of changes from the totals of each candidate they were due more to the careless manner in which the vote marked in his X, or the use of blue ink, or writing in a candidate's name without marking a cross before it. Some papers were also signed by voters, and others, when the "X" was marked after them, were counted.

Sheriff Otto put up a cash bond of $3,000 under direction of Judge Bergen when he applied for the recount.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Comerford, of West Fourth street, left today for Washington, D. C., where they will spend a short time as the guests of Mrs. Lutz, formerly of this city.

What Good Is a Lid?

Several otherwise excellent burial vaults have tops that are simply laid over the casket and left to their own devices. This, of course, is handier and much cheaper. But what of its safety? The Norwalk Vault leaves nothing to chance; its top is securely cemented on by hand, and top and bottom become one solid piece of masonry. Naturally, therefore, the Norwalk is sold everywhere the best is wanted; and naturally the best undertakers always recommend the Norwalk—it gives them a chance to guarantee the burial. Your undertaker can give you the necessary information.
