Dramatic Tournament Finds
Parrish Players Hoping To Win

The fourth annual Drama Tournament to be held next Thursday and Friday, May 24 and 25, finds the Parrish Players, with one leg on the Walter Reads Trophy, again entering this year's competition with the thought uppermost in their minds, that they will again be declared the winners for the second time. It is this thought which will mean that they will be the only group to have their names engraved twice on the silver loving cup.

They offering this year will be the "Dicky Bird," by Harvey O'Higgins, and the play is being directed by Mrs. O'Higgins. The cast includes Dorothy Delawater, as Mrs. Griffiths, Loring W. Lawrence as Richard P. Brown, Frances Playfield as Emily and Ruth Lawrence as Hedwig. The drama takes place in New York City, and the time is the present. The drama revolves itself about a couple that have been married for some time when the man brings his newly acquired bride to a rooming house, where he finds his former wife, the real actress.

Realist ahead with the drama group. The North Plainfield Dramatic Club is again entering in the tournament with the play, "The Jiveling Phoebe," a comedy. The play, which is expected to be well received by the younger group of players in the club, the play, which is under the direction of Miss Doris Hicks. The play revolves itself around a woman in a hotel lobby, about the time in the afternoon, where a few lovers are always interrupted in their love-making by other couples out on the same purpose. Next little climax is affected, and all is merry again when once they get straightened out. In addition to the Walter Reads trophy, given to the winning group, there will be a smaller silver loving cup, about ten inches in height to be given to the best individual performer, either by any male or female actor taking part in this year's tournament. Other groups entering this year's play for the big trophy are the Y. W. C. A. Community Players, Y. M. I. F. A., DeMolay, and the Dunbar Dramatic Club.

The New Girl's Bright Idea

By JANE OSBORN

IT WAS not quite as a last resort that Horne's idea had come to her. She had been in college and she had taught herself how to use the typewriter. She had been a secretary and she had been a typewriter operator. She had been a typewriter operator and she had been a typewriter operator.

But after a week at the ribbon counter at her aspirations toward a better career were becoming a trifle dimmed. Clever though the ribbon buyer undoubtedly was, he was more than clever and Horne felt that other traits had had more to do with her success than cleverness.

Still, Horne was not entirely discouraged. She kept her bright blue eyes open and her best to make a good sales record and reached her brain for bright ideas. She had been a typewriter operator and she had been a typewriter operator.

"I've had a bright thought," said she one morning to another girl behind the counter. "I think I'll tell you."

The other girl looked at her with mingled contempt and amusement. "You think you're a typewriter operator?" she asked. "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

About Gentle Art of Fishing

By KING LARNER

THE undersigned wrote such a masterful book on instructions in regards to fishing a yr ago that I have been at it to write another one and try to make it somewhere near twice as good.

It can't be all over the country at once but they say that from now on is the best time to fish in either fresh or salt water or both at the same time on either of being the open season for the new kinds of fish which have been discovered since the last fishing article I wrote.

In the old days before these things happened, why if a person lived on a fresh water pond or river, why all they had to do was to bait their hook with spinach and they were practically sure of catching a few fish. A word said, a word said, a word said.

Well, I think I'll tell you. "I've had a bright thought," said she one morning to another girl behind the counter. "I think I'll tell you."

The other girl looked at her with mingled contempt and amusement. "You think you're a typewriter operator?" she asked. "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"I think I'm a typewriter operator," said Horne. "I think I'm a typewriter operator." "You think you're a typewriter operator?"

"Wife Savers," the next offering of the Elmora Theatre, Elizabeth, N. J., is a new play, the story of a man who is a hero in civilian life, but who is a coward in military life. He is a hero in civilian life, but who is a coward in military life.

Charles Dingle with Reade's Elmora.

All the other members of the company will be with Mr. Kirkham, promising a magnificent production for the revival of this play, which has been well called "the greatest play ever written."

NAT REISS SHOWS TO LEAVE TONIGHT

TWO PLAYS GIVEN BY HARTRIDGE SCHOOL FACULTY

About midnight tonight, after the last visitor has departed from Mark Field where the Nat Reiss Shows have been holding forth all week presenting the amusement features for the Spring Festival of the Nat Reiss Shows, the members of the Nat Reiss Shows will start to dismantle their camp midway, and by dawn on Sunday the show's half-mile-long train of 50 brilliant orange and green railroad cars will be on its way to Irvington, where the organization will exhibit for the Moose festival next week.

Although the rain last night kept attendance down to practically nothing, it was a surprising fact that a fair number of people traveled the downtown to visit the midway. The attendance each evening during the earlier part of the week was phenomenal, establishing a record for attendance at any gathering in the history of this community, and officials of the Owls and of the Nat Reiss Shows declared that despite the rain last night, they are entirely satisfied with the reception given the carnival by the public.

This afternoon the midway will be open to the public starting at about 2 o'clock. It was announced last night, and all of the 14 shows, 9 rides and other attractions will be in operation until midnight, given clear weather. It is thought quite probable that attendance tonight will break even the records established earlier in the week.

It is stated that more than 50,000 people have already visited the Nat Reiss midway so far this week. There is no charge for admission to the midway.

CHURCH ERECTS NEW KITCHEN

Members of the Women's Federation of the South Plainfield Baptist Church have voted to have a new kitchen erected in front of the church and parsonage. They also voted to add to the kitchen of the church, and will hold a special lunch meeting at the church on next Monday. Mrs. Benjamin Symonds was chairman of the meeting.

MAC MURRAY TO STEP FROM OFFICE WED.

Will Turn City Over to High School Boy

The youth of this city will be served next Wednesday, May 23, when the city of the West-Field High School will invade the City Hall and "present" office holders for one day.

MacMurray Robinson will occupy the seat of Mayor James T. MacMurray, while City Judge William G. DeMea will be "taken" from the bench in favor of William Reed, Tax Collector Robert L. Lee will not be accepted in this regard "approval" in the administration of affairs of the city, for he will be replaced by Donald Correll for that day.

Members of the City Council will not escape either, as they too have been included among the city officials who must give up their positions, together with Mayor MacMurray, City Judge DeMea and Tax Collector Lee.

Elizabeth Egan, Jack Miller, Dick Riley and Richard Riley will occupy the seats of Councilmen-Large while Russell Randall and Charles Williams will represent the First Ward, Anna Ewald and William Greninger, Second Ward, Father Jean and Katherine Koch, Third Ward, and Isabel Morrison and Donald Smith, Fourth Ward.

The election of these city officials followed a spirited "general election" held recently at the Plainfield High School. There were several close contests with the methods of balloting, tapestries, etc., being followed almost strictly legal lines.

BAIL IS FIXED IN CASE OF HOVE

Bail of $1,500 was required of Charles Jackson, 24, of 2525 East Fourth street, who was arrested before County Judge Stein at Elliptical, yesterday charged with manslaughter, following the death of Charles Jackson, 24, of 2525 East Fourth street, who died Thursday as the result of injuries sustained when he fell from a truck, driven by Hove.

The accident occurred at Terrell and Cushing roads, when Jackson fell from the side of the truck. His injuries were not at first thought serious, but he died before reaching Muhlberg hospital.

Hove, unaware as to the condition of Jackson, proceeded on his way to Severn, after calling the ambulance.

County Physician C. A. Brown performed an autopsy and found that death resulted from internal injuries. Although his chest was crushed, witnesses told the police that they did not see the truck pass over the man's body.

Hove is represented by Ralph J. Smalley.

NEW JERSEY IN THE LIMELIGHT

With the unanimous adoption of the New Jersey resolution to investigate campaign expenditures in New Jersey in connection with the five-hand election, this State will soon step into the limelight once occupied by Michigan, Illinois and Pennsylvania, where huge sums were expended in similar contests during the past few years, only we expect New Jersey to emerge in glory. This type of publicity will do less harm to the State than it did to the three previous states under investigation, and when the hullabaloo is over the Republican factions throughout New Jersey will be just as bitter toward one another as they have been for the past several years, a condition which has permitted the Democratic party to regularly control the Governorship and one senatorial seat.

There doesn't seem to be any doubt of the fact that Hamilton F. Keen and his cohorts have been at work for the past four years building up an organization which would eventually win for the Union county money. Three years ago when Senator Edge's right to the nomination was contested in the primary by Mr. Keen there was a feeling that the New Jersey Senator would oppose Keen's efforts but he try again this year. Edge apparently did his best for former Governor Stokes, who was Keen's strongest opponent and it is to be regretted that a fairly won political battle should now be subject to snooping.

In the old days there was just as much money spent in senatorial campaigns as there is today, but it's only in the past few years that picaresque politicians have carried their vengeance past the day of the primary. There used to be two parties—the Republican and Democratic—and they both spent plenty of money in their campaigns. Today we have two or three sections of the Republican party in several states and, unlike the days gone by, there doesn't seem to be the sportsmanship which once existed.

Running for the United States Senate in New Jersey or any other State in the Union is not now nor never has been a poor man's problem. If the candidate himself didn't have the money to put up he was generally named in a round about way by various corporations who sought special privileges. Certainly the right of the old time to their seats in the Senate was more questionable than those who have been refused seats in recent years. It's a funny game nowadays.

The present move to investigate the New Jersey campaign gives the senatorial committee wide powers and they will go back to the time Mr. Keen began building up his organization. To have even thought of giving battle in a primary campaign Mr. Keen needed an organization. Mr. Edge already had his—the one which it took him more than four years and plenty of money to build up.

During the past four years Mr. Keen has probably spent quite a sum preparing for this year's primary. We do not believe he spent any money in illegitimate channels, a question which his opponents will no doubt try to bring out by supplying information through secret channels. The investigation may reveal a staggering total, but we doubt if it will reveal anything dishonest. Mr. Keen has signified his willingness to lay his cards on the table, so let the boys go to it. By the time November rolls around the smoke of battle should have cleared sufficiently to permit of a spirited contest on issues other than the expenditure of money.

GOVERNMENT MOVES WISELY

Commenting on the disposition of Muscle Shoals by the Government, the New York Evening Telegram hits the nail on the head in the following editorial:

Congress disposes of Muscle Shoals—by keeping it. The one sensible solution that has staved Congress in the face ever since Muscle Shoals became a national problem has finally been accepted. Disposition of the great power project built during the war ought never to have become a problem, of course, but the private power interests, the country made it that. Year after year they have fought to prevent the adoption of a straight-out policy of government ownership and operation.

Three things, in the end, defeated them. One was the nature of the bids for the project made by the various concerns that sought to obtain it.

Another was the very intensity of the battle waged against Government operation.

Those two things, however, the unrelenting purpose of one George W. Norris, senior Senator from Nebraska, that the Government should not give away this valuable people's property. Of five things, perhaps, this last named was most important of all. It was Norris who kept the one sensible solution staring Congress in the face, session after session. It was his clear mind that found the weakness in each private proposal that came before the House and Senate. It was his alertness that prevented one deception after another from succeeding. In the end it was his reasonableness that prevailed.

Now we are pleased on our account, on Senator Norris' account and on the people's account. The people of the Southeastern States are given an opportunity to obtain cheap power and the people of other States an opportunity to measure their local power and light costs by those to be demonstrated by the Government at Muscle Shoals.

JUNIOR LEAGUE CIRCUS

Preparations are moving rapidly for the Junior League Circus at the Kenyon Gardens, near Randolph road, to be held May 31, June 1 and 2. The younger set of Plainfield is attempting an ambitious project, which will be one of the most important for the city for this year. All the excitement for the "Big Top" will predominate and those who grace the affair with their presence will be accorded many treats.

The Junior League Circus, arranged for the benefit of Mulvihill Hospital, deserves the enthusiastic support of the community and at each performance it should be necessary to put up the "Standing Room Only" sign. It is an affair on which young people have worked ardently and we feel that they will be as surprised by the support which they receive as those who attend will be surprised by the features which will be presented.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor of the Mid-State Press:

With your kind permission I desire, through your columns, to give expression to my sincere appreciation for the honor which the citizens of Plainfield have once more seen fit to accord me, and which I choose to consider as befitting both confidence in me and approval of my past efforts to serve the community as Mayor.

The campaign as we know was warmly contested, and it is possible that some bitterness of feeling may have survived. If such be the case, I want to pledge my best efforts, here and now, to a course of action which will not only justify my re-nomination but engender friendliness in those who espoused the candidacy of my rivals for the mayorship.

Realizing that but one purpose inspired us all, loyalty to our city, I shall, for the remainder of the present year, gladly welcome the cooperation of Mr. Clay and Mr. Abrams and their friends, in a building up of the Plainfield of our hopes and ideals, and if the action of Tuesday's primaries be ratified on election day that same spirit of helpfulness and service will be sought by me and welcomed during my third term in office.

And, finally, may I extend an invitation to those who have been newly nominated, for the office of Councilman to cooperate with the present Council and myself during the remainder of this year, so that we may have the benefit of their ideas, and they the benefit of a preparatory intimacy with the city's affairs.

My deepest and most sincere desire is to further teamwork in the city's service, and to that end I am ready to toggle myself to the limit. Very truly, J. T. McMurtry.

Editor, Mid-State Press.

Dear Sir:

I was going to write you a letter of protest about your "no tuckee no shirt" title head. A friend of mine said she went through a newsstand full of papers, hunting for the Mid-State Press, but not being a Sanskrit scholar, she was about to give away in disappointment when she discovered her mistake.

I think the new type is a great improvement. Three cheers for the new paper. Long may it wave.—An Old Plainfielder.

Do You Know That—

The one-place dress is a favorite here. Many more than right now. Among the new imports is a tailored dress of navy blue silk crepe with a deep scarf collar of white crepe.

Among the colorful bedspreads designed for summer is the spread of ray prints in tones of yellow, red and lavender, with deep fleecened borders. Another group of summer bedspreads is the rainbow set, consisting of separate pieces of pastel colored velvets. The bed is lanked with velveteen in rainbow colors.

Transparent coats are smart this season. They vary from a plain color over a flowered frock to the combination of two or more colors.

MR. FIXIT REPORTS

Mr. Fixit: Why is it that some people claim it will take more than $100,000 dollars to fix the West End storm sewer situation while others claim the work can be done for $20,000 and still others $3,000? Is it possible to believe that engineers were behind those conflicting statements?—A West End.

Answer—Mr. Fixit has been informed by engineers not officially connected with the discussion that the figures you quote were probably arrived at from different starting points, that is the various figures represent the various amounts of work proposed by each. Truly, the work can be done for $20,000 in part. The larger figure, engineers say, would mean the completion of the entire job.

Mr. Fixit: Would you kindly ask your circulation manager when he will start delivering the papers at the home as a regular thing? I understand we were not to get it for a few days but am wondering just when you will start sending them?—Mrs. J. M. Nelson.

Answer—John Boettger, circulation manager, says that home delivery starts Monday morning. He was very glad you inquired about it and wished to thank you for your interest.

SKIN DISEASES

In books which treat of disease there will be found listed a great variety of skin diseases. Each one is named according to its particular manifestations and since there is almost an infinite variety of skin eruptions there are almost an infinite variety of skin diseases. There may be macules, papules, pustules, blebs, wheals, cracks, fissures, overgrowth of various kinds.

Each of these different manifestations has a different treatment, for almost all these different manifestations have a different cause. However, as a matter of fact, there are only two kinds of skin disease, constitutional and parasitic. The first is due to wrong habits of living and the second to the same with the addition of a parasitic infection. Both treatments require constitutional treatment, but the parasitic infection will also require the use of a local antiseptic. All constitutional skin diseases require practically the same by natural methods, variations being more for the sake of individual personal peculiarities rather than differences in the skin symptoms. The first necessity is to cleanse the system by fasting a few days of a vegetable broth diet. After this if the weight is under normal the milk diet is generally employed, otherwise a largely raw fruit and vegetable diet is used. Exercise, deep breathing and plenty of sleep are always employed and sun baths nearly always. Until these measures are used one need not expect complete results.

Please tell me what to do for chronic nose and throat trouble. Your description is very indefinite, as there are all kinds of nose and throat trouble. However, you are very anxious to know how to cure this, so I will tell you what to do.
