

Although just a day before he had denied that such a thing could come about, Admiral Togo, the Japanese naval hero who had such warm receptions during his visit here, yesterday succumbed to the broadside of flattery that have been directed at him. He has cancelled his programme and is confined to his room with acute indigestion in Boston.

Last night he was to have attended a banquet given by former Rear Admiral Francis T. Howley, but instead the distinguished Japanese ate simple fare in his suite and doctored himself by the use of simple native remedies. Plans for today are dependent on how the Admiral feels when he arises and it is considered not at all impossible that he will limit his activities to an auto tour of the city, leaving for Niagara Falls in the afternoon according to schedule.

As Guest of Nation Little Japanese Admiral Visits North Dakota at Brooklyn Navy Yard and Receives Salute of His Rank at Departure.

His special representative of the Navy and State Departments respectively, who are escorting the distinguished guest of the nation, thought it best not to risk the trip over the waves on a torpedo boat destroyer to the fleet off Provincetown, for while the Admiral has been hardened to the vigorous life on the sea, his advanced age, 64 years, and the strenuous illness the Admiral was the last to be struck abandon entirely the visit to the fleet. It was a great disappointment not only to the American officers, who had looked forward to showing the distinguished Japanese a brilliant array of their Sam's greyhounds, but to the Admiral himself who sent messages of regret to Acting Secretary of the Navy Bookman Winthrop, and Rear Admiral Osterhaus, in command of the North Atlantic fleet. Special preparations had been made for the event, and it was to have been one of the most gorgeous naval demonstrations ever given a foreign visitor. When the Admiral was overcome by illness yesterday four other members of his party continued that within the last ten days of traveling, they also have been affected by the mysterious illness of the fare at the banquet board. Capt. Togo, Lieut. A. H. Cook, Commodore Midland, and S. Takaki, Private Secretary to the Admiral, have successfully suffered from indigestion. The Admiral was the last to be struck

CHERRY STREET MEN FAVOR GET-TOGETHER

Many Merchants Give Support To Plan Advocated by Record—List of Those Who Have Announced Joining

REALIZE ITS DIFFICULTIES
Say That Task Means Hard Work But They Have Enthusiasm To Carry It Through To Successful End

Cherry Street was much alive this morning to the possibilities of the proposed alliance. Three more merchants joined the ranks of the advance most vociferously enthusiastically the announcements of the Main Street merchants.

Yesterday's story of the movement was eagerly read by them and met with their approval. It is probable that the first meeting of the Cherry Street association will be held next week. Irving street now is the center of all attention.

City Clerk Lambert expressed his own as strongly favoring the merchants move to the city. They can accomplish much by this co-operation and any attempt to aid this city is coming into its own, will be supported by all patriotic residents of this town.

"Bring the people here," said R. H. Lough in talking of the proposed alliance. "The need of the city at the present time is to get factories to come here and build their plants. I will do anything that will aid in accomplishing this. Make the factories concessions that will make it worth their while to come to Rahway. There are entirely too many knottings in this town. Residents of the town who think it should be run out of it. The Main Street men are entreating and I am glad to see that Cherry Street is so quick to follow their lead in this.

"We should go in for an advertising campaign of a nature the like of which has never been seen east of the Mississippi river. We should let the country in on the benefits to be derived from living in Rahway, both as a residential section and as a manufacturing town. I feel that the latter is the more important. The employees of a factory are the class of people that keep money in circulation as they cash for their purchases and buy from day to day.

"We can accomplish nothing by sitting still and allowing the people to drift on to New Brunswick and Elizabeth. We must offer such inducements to them that they will come and settle in this town. Too long has the city remained stationary. The obstacles we shall have to cover will be too many, but even so there is nothing to be gained save through the willing efforts of the people to be secured. By all means let us get together, the earlier the better."

2. Packet enlisted this morning in the front rank of the Cherry Street movement. Mr. Dickett approved of the plan without reservation. "I have thought of it for a long time and have wondered why some permanent organization of like nature had not been formed. The city needs it and it is to the interest of every business man to help it along. It will mean more money in my pocket should the boom come. Landlords should lend it their entire support for the boom in property values will be correspondingly great. At the present time I believe that there are a great many vacant houses throughout this city. That should not be the case.

"The main thing that will tend to make the alliance a success was the pooling of all interests towards the common good. Regardless of everything the business men must work together in the movement. Pulling in the rear is no part of it."

TO BUSINESS MEN
Straight-from-the-Shoulder Talks. This talk comes from a Rahway communitarian who has been out of a manufacturing concern, where he comes into daily contact with hundreds of storekeepers. He has been interested in our daily talks and let this in the office yesterday morning. We think it worth reading. He calls it "STORE POINTS" and says: "The following 'points' are respectfully submitted by one who has been given exceptional opportunities in studying the 'Ups and Downs' of the smaller merchants:—

Shall store expenses be cut down and how? So long as the sales continue to increase, the question of expense, unless growing out of proportion does not worry the dealer; when sales begin to lag, however, the problem is solved.

WESTFIELD RACE MEET
Three Purse Offered For Labor Day And One Closed Member's Class
The Westfield Driving and Riding Club is looking forward to making its racing meet on Labor Day, at Fair Acres track, one of the most memorable in the list of its heretofore successful events.

Preparations are now under way and entries are already being received from all over the state. The racing committee, as well as club members, are putting in their best efforts to make Labor Day at Fair Acres track a record breaker, both from the standpoint of "trotting" accomplishment and popular entertainment.

There will be races in four classes; three of the classes with purses of $200 each and one class for members only. It is promised that some of the state's best horses will be present and try for records on what is conceded to be one of the best half-mile tracks in New Jersey.

ANOTHER LOCAL IMPROVEMENT.
Merck Company Starts a Park on its Vacant Grounds.
An instance of the policy the RECORD is advocating of starting local improvements all over the town, is supplied by the Merck Company, which in a public spirit, has undertaken an adornment of its grounds. A park has been laid out on the unoccupied grounds between the tracks and Montgomery Street and from Scott Avenue to Farmfort. Here there will be a lawn and shrubbery.

In the middle is an eighty-five foot flagpole, which carried a flag for the first time yesterday. The construction is in charge of Charles Rabin, who has nearly completed it. Dr. Ernest Kayser, president of the company and Henry Schenck, one of the superintendents, will arrive from Germany next Tuesday.

Y. M. C. A. TENNIS.
The tennis tournament at the Young Men's Christian Association is progressing slowly. But one couple of the second round match has been played, two out of three games. Miller who last week beat Garthwaite, defeated Willard 7-5, 8-6, 8-6. The prize for the winner of a handsome racket has been offered to the winner of the round robin.

BOOM FOR LOCAL LABOR.
That the Royal Manufacturing Company of East Grand Street will need a great many more employees on the completion of their new building, was announced by the company yesterday. The building, which is now under construction, is a two-story structure, and will be used for the manufacture of electrical apparatus. The company, which was founded in 1880, has been awarded the contract by the United States Government to supply electrical equipment for the Navy.

PLAYED TRICK ON RECORD.
Sidney Harris Buck in a Spice Special in Half-Holiday Ad. to Test for Union County.
Thursday is a half-holiday and the "or" day of the week. The ladies do not get out much until the afternoon so that there is less done in the stores than on any other day.

"So Thursday I advertised a special in spices in my ad. The result was a marvel. You people certainly have a large circulation in town already."

Dr. Harris' advertisement, the next day after his special sale, jumped to 39 inches from 12 inches and afforded him a "trick" illustration of his belief in the Record as being read generally by the people of Rahway.

CIVIC PRIDE—Town Loyalty
ARE TWO ESSENTIAL THINGS to the success of any municipality. That Rahway has a big future, and that its early development is but a question of proper support by its citizens, is the firm conviction of the RAHWAY DAILY RECORD.

RAHWAY DOCTOR CAUGHT BY SUBWAY PICKPOCKET
Dr. Sell Loses Wallet in New York To Jostling Men Who Pocket Him In Train
Caught in the subway rush at Brooklyn Bridge station, Dr. Frederick Sell, one of this city's most prominent physicians, was robbed of his wallet containing $30 while on a business trip in Manhattan yesterday afternoon. Dr. Sell reported his loss to the nearest police station but as he was unable to furnish the police with a description of the man, there is but faint hope that he will recover his money.

Dr. Sell left Rahway at noon yesterday for New York to secure his passage to England. Having transacted his business at a downtown office across from City Hall Park on Broadway, the physician took his way towards the nearest subway station. It happened by Brooklyn Bridge. A local train was waiting at the station and the physician stepped in. As he did so three well-dressed men about twenty-five years old poked him between them and brushed against the coat of the doctor. Dr. Sell thought the men had boarded the wrong train and having discarded their mistake were trying to leave in a hurry.

An entire building at the Interstate Fair grounds was demolished, while a pile was narrowly averted in the city hundreds of trees were torn by the force and blown over. The city telephone service was completely put out of commission. The city of New York was a scene of confusion and a number were more or less seriously hurt. Giant limbs were uprooted and the coast of Delaware was the worst in the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

The property is uninsured and the loss is estimated to be at about $5,000. The storm which touched Rahway fairly lightly yesterday about 3 o'clock, great excitement was aroused at Sewaren when the barn of the old Brewster homestead, now occupied by Peter Slow, a milkman, was struck by lightning. It contained between thirty-five and forty tons of hay and although the Woodbridge fire department responded the barn and hay was totally destroyed in a flash that could be seen for a long distance.

French Journalist Reaches New York On Time to Tour World in 40 Days
Andre Jaeger Schmidt, the young French journalist, who is attempting to get around the world in forty days, arrived in New York last night at 8:22 from Montreal and he will sail today at 1 o'clock on the Olympic, which will land him in Cherbourg almost a full day ahead of his schedule, allowing him twenty-four hours in that port to reach Paris, a trip which can be made in about seven hours. He was met at the Grand Central Station last night by a large party of newspaper men and photographers and several friends whom he did not know were in New York, and who immediately took him in charge.

Mr. Jaeger-Schmidt is about 24 years old, with blue eyes, light hair, and a light mustache. He wore a light brown suit and a coarse brown shirt together with a red tie. He carried a bag and that, it was said, was the only baggage he had with him.

Though it is very probable that these youngsters are not aware of the fact, they are undergoing one of the best elementary trainings that can be offered a boy. A great number of our famous Americans received their training in the school of life from selling newspapers. This list includes not a few Senators, Congressmen, and a governor or two.

Day by day more and more copies of the paper are printed and each day the entire issue has been sold out. The temporary highwater mark of 2,000 copies a day at the present rate of increase will be reached in two weeks. And with all the copies sold out every house to reach the home and the housewife. There are some papers having a large circulation that seldom reach the home but are left in barber shops, street cars and railroad stations. We take pride in placing the daily RECORD in the front rank of home papers.

The commuters recognize the qualifications of the RECORD as a medium to keep them informed as to the latest happenings of their city. The paper may be purchased from the news agent at the railroad station, and should be (Continued on Page Eight.)

Band Wagon Through West Rahway Tonight in Last Scheduled Parade With Drum Corps.

ADDED PUBLIC INTEREST
Beginning Monday Paper to Have New Feature of General Interest to Keep Established Pace.

Accompanied by the shrill scream of the siren and the brilliant rattle of the drum played by a uniformed band, the daily RECORD band wagon will make its last scheduled appearance tonight. The trip tonight will be made through the west end of the town as yet untouched by the past night's parades.

With the wagon will be a number of the auxiliary distributists staff, commonly known as newboys, to sell papers from the wagon. This will give the people an opportunity of purchasing their home sheet from one of the boys. Tonight the Young American Life and Drum corps will march before the wagon instead of riding.

Still the subscriptions keep pouring in. By mail and by messengers they come and with most of them a note of congratulation. Hardly a boy that left the office with a bundle of papers yesterday but what returned empty handed with his pockets jingling with coppers and nickels.
