

Although just a day before he had denied that such a thing could come about, Admiral Clegg, the Japanese naval hero who had such warm receptions during his visit here, yesterday succumbed to the broadside of teasing that have been directed at him. He has cancelled his programme and is confined to his room with acute indigestion in Boston.

Last night he was to have attended a banquet given by former Rear Admiral Francis T. Howley, but instead the distinguished Japanese ate simple fare in his suite and doctored himself by the use of simple native remedies. Plans for today are dependent on how the Admiral feels when he arises and it is considered not at all impossible that he will limit his activities to an auto tour of the city, leaving for Niagara Falls in the afternoon according to schedule.

Through the Japanese naval intelligence the activities of his associates, Capt. Tompkins, M. Post and Chandler, were being followed.

His special representative of the Navy and State Departments respectively, who are escorting the distinguished guest of the nation, thought it best not to risk the trip over the waves on a torpedo boat destroyer to the fleet off Provincetown, for while the Admiral has been hardened to the vigorous life on the sea, his advanced age, 64 years, and the strenuous illness the Admiral was the last to be stricken.

abandon entirely the visit to the fleet. It was a great disappointment not only to the American officers, who had looked forward to showing the distinguished Japanese a brilliant array of Uncle Sam's greyhounds, but to the Admiral himself who sent messages of regret to Acting Secretary of the Navy Bookman Winthrop, and Rear Admiral Osterhaus, in command of the North Atlantic fleet. Special preparations had been made for the event, and it was to have been one of the most gorgeous naval demonstrations ever given a foreign visitor.

CHERRY STREET MEN FAVOR GET-TOGETHER

Many Merchants Give Support To Plan Advocated by Record—List of Those Who Have Announced Joining

REALIZE ITS DIFFICULTIES

Say That Task Means Hard Work But They Have Enthusiasm To Carry It Through To Successful End

Cherry Street was much alive this morning to the possibilities of the proposed alliance. Three more merchants joined the ranks of the advance most vociferously the day after yesterday's story of the movement.

Yesterday's story of the movement was eagerly read by them and met with their approval. It is probable that the first meeting of the Cherry Street association will be held next week. Irving street now is the center of all attention.

City Clerk Lambert expressed his own as strongly favoring the merchants move to the city. "They can accomplish much by this co-operation and any attempt to aid this city is coming into its own, will be supported by all patriotic residents of this town."

"Bring the people here," said R. H. Lough in talking of the proposed alliance. "The need of the city at the present time is to get factories to come here and build their plants. I will do anything that will aid in accomplishing this. Make the factories concessions that will make it worth their while to come to Rahway. There are quite a few too much knocking in this town. Residents of the town who think it should be run out of it. The main street men are entreating and I am glad to see that Cherry Street is so quick to follow their lead."

"We should go in for an advertising campaign of a nature the like of which has never been seen east of the Mississippi river. We should let the country in on the benefits to be derived from living in Rahway, both as a residential section and as a manufacturing town. I feel that the latter is the more important. The employees of a factory are the class of people that keep money in circulation as they cash for their purchases and buy from day to day."

"We can accomplish nothing by sitting still and allowing the people to drift on to New Brunswick and Elizabeth. We must offer such inducements to them that they will come and settle in this town. Too long has the city remained stationary. The obstacles we shall have to cover will be many, but even so there is nothing to be gained save through the willing efforts of the people to be secured. By all means let us get together, the earlier the better."

A packet mailed this morning to the front rank of the Cherry Street delegation. Mr. Dickett approved of the plan without reservation. "I have thought of it for a long time and have wondered why some permanent organization of like nature had not been formed. The city needs it and it is to the interest of every business man to help it along. It will mean more money in my pocket should the boom come. Landlords should lend their entire support for the boom in property values will be correspondingly great. At the present time I believe that there are a great many vacant houses throughout this city. That should not be the case."

"The main thing that will tend to make the alliance a success was the pooling of all interests towards the common good. Regardless of everything the business men must work together in the movement. Pulling in the rear should be avoided."

WESTFIELD RACE MEET

Three Purse Offered For Labor Day And One Closed Member's Class

The Westfield Driving and Riding Club is looking forward to making its racing meet on Labor Day, at Fair Acres track, one of the most memorable in the list of its heretofore successful events.

Preparations are now under way and entries are already being received from all over the state. The racing committee, as well as club members, are putting in their best efforts to make Labor Day at Fair Acres track a record breaker, both from the standpoint of "trotting" accomplishment and popular entertainment.

There will be races in four classes; three of the classes with purses of $200 each and one class for members only. It is promised that some of the state's best horses will be present and try for records on what is conceded to be one of the best half-mile tracks in New Jersey.

ANOTHER LOCAL IMPROVEMENT.

Merck Company Starts a Park on its Vacant Grounds.

An instance of the policy the RECORD is advocating of starting local improvements all over the town, is supplied by the Merck Company, which in a public spirit, has undertaken an adornment of its grounds. A park has been laid out on the unoccupied grounds between the tracks and Montgomery Street and from Scott Avenue to Farmfort.

Here there will be a lawn and shrubbery. In the middle is an eighty-five foot flagpole, which carried a flag for the first time yesterday. The construction is in charge of Charles Kamm, who has nearly completed it. Dr. Ernest Kamm, president of the company and Henry Schenck, one of the superintendents, will arrive from Germany next Tuesday.

Y. M. C. A. TENNIS

The tennis tournament at the Young Men's Christian Association is progressing slowly. But one couple of the second round match has been played and two out of three games. Miller who last week beat Garthwaite, defeated Willard 7-5, 8-6, 8-6 in the first round.

BOOM FOR LOCAL LABOR.

That the Royal Manufacturing Company of East Grand Street will need a great many more employees on the completion of their new building about November 1, was asserted a representative of the Daily RECORD this morning by president David Joseph.

Specifications for the new building are for concrete walls with steel partitions. Double the former floor space will be in use when the buildings are completed.

Local carpenters, bricklayers and plumbers will be given the preference over imported labor wherever possible the president said. "The Y. M. C. A. Company," Mr. Joseph said, "has been awarded the contract. The estimated cost of the new addition is in the neighborhood of $25,000."

Nothing said about the new waves on Tuesday, August 22, down at Asbury Park when the Methodist Excursion gets there.

TO BUSINESS MEN

Straight-from-the-Shoulder Talks.

This talk comes from a Rahway commuter attached to the wire end of a manufacturing concern, where he comes into daily contact with hundreds of storekeepers. He has been interested in our daily talks and let this in the office yesterday morning. We think it worth reading. He calls it "STORE POINTS" and says:

The following "points" are respectfully submitted by one who has been given exceptional opportunities in studying the "Ups and Downs" of the smaller merchants:

Shall store expenses be cut down and how? So long as the sales continue to increase, the question of expense, unless growing out of proportion does not worry the dealer; when sales begin to lag, however, the problem is solved.

RAHWAY DOCTOR CAUGHT BY SUBWAY PICKPOCKET

Dr. Sell Loses Wallet in New York To Jostling Men Who Pocket Him In Train

Caught in the subway rush at Brooklyn Bridge station, Dr. Frederick Sell, one of this city's most prominent physicians, was robbed of his wallet containing $30 while on a business trip in Manhattan yesterday afternoon. Dr. Sell reported his loss to the nearest police station but as he was unable to furnish the police with a description of the man, there is but faint hope that he will recover his money.

Dr. Sell left Rahway at noon yesterday for New York to secure his passage to England. Having transacted his business at a downtown office across from City Hall Park on Broadway, the physician took his way towards the nearest subway station. It happened to be Brooklyn Bridge. A local train was waiting at the station and the physician stepped in. As he did so three well-dressed men about twenty-five years old pocketed him between them and brushed against the doctor's coat. Dr. Sell thought the men had boarded the wrong train and having discovered their mistake were trying to leave in a hurry.

An entire building at the Interstate Fair grounds was demolished, while a pile was narrowly averted in the city hundreds of trees were torn up by the roots and blown over. The city telephone service was completely put out of commission. The city of New York was hit by a severe storm which broke over Trenton. For five minutes it blew at the rate of thirty-eight miles an hour and ten minutes later the thermometer had fallen ten degrees. The storm departed almost as quickly as it arrived. During the height of the gale the streets of the city were flooded. Much such was struck and brick and stone came crashing to the street.

PLAYED TRICK ON RECORD. Sidney Harris Buck in a Spice Special in Half-Holiday Ad. To Test for Union County. The man who does the boys of yours got going. "Thursday is a half-holiday and the 'or' day of the week. The ladies do not get out much until the afternoon so that there is less done in the stores Thursday than any other day."

"So Thursday I advertised a special in spices in my ad. The result was a marvel. You people certainly have a large circulation in town already."

Dr. Harris' advertisement, the next day after his special sale, jumped to 39 inches from 12 inches and afforded him a "after" and, not before, he had spent a considerable part of the wallet's original contents.

Band Wagon Through West Rahway Tonight in Last Scheduled Parade With Drum Corps.

ADDED PUBLIC INTEREST

Beginning Monday Paper to Have New Feature of General Interest to Keep Established Pace.

Accompanied by the shrill scream of the siren and the brilliant glare of the drum played by a uniformed band, the daily RECORD band wagon will make its last scheduled appearance tonight. The trip tonight will be made through the west end of the town as yet untouched by the past night's parades.

With the wagon will be a number of the auxiliary distributists staff, commonly known as nowboys, to sell papers from the wagon. This will give the people an opportunity of purchasing their home sheet from one of the boys. Tonight the Young American Life and Drum corps will march before the wagon instead of riding.

Still the subscriptions keep pouring in. By mail and by messengers they come and with most of them a note of congratulation. Hardly a boy that left the office with a bundle of papers yesterday but what returned empty handed with his pockets jingling with coppers and nickels.

Though it is very probable that these youngsters are not aware of the fact, they are undergoing one of the best elementary trainings that can be offered a boy. A great number of our famous Americans received their training in the school of life from selling newspapers. This list includes not a few Senators, Congressmen, and a governor or two.

Day by day more and more copies of the paper are printed and each day the entire issue has been sold out. The temporary highwater mark of 2,000 copies a day at the present rate of increase will be reached in two weeks. And with all the copies sold out every house to reach the home and the housewife. There are some papers having a large circulation that seldom reach the home but are left in barber shops, street cars and railroad stations. We take pride in placing the daily RECORD in the front rank of home papers.

different directions will simply tend to break the thing up. Personal feeling must be laid aside. What will help any business will also help my neighbor. The benefit will be absolutely mutual and the working to bring this benefit to Rahway should be done by the community.

James J. Jeffries, manager for F. A. Jones, aggressively outlined his idea of the plan. "It is a great thing," said Mr. Jeffries. "I feel sure that I can speak for Mr. Jones when I say that he will support the movement to boom the city to the limit. The idea of an alliance strikes me particularly well. It will be a long uphill fight before this city is placed in the class with Elizabeth and other cities which have boasted their own some time ago. But if the fight is properly conducted, I see no reason why it should not be a success.

"This city needs some such progressive movement. There are many things we need. Better transit facilities. The opening of the Rahway navigation, the extension of the trolley lines to Carteret and Linden. All these things would benefit the city wonderfully. If for one man ready to step into the front rank and take an active part in bringing these things to the city.

"Strong efforts should be made to bring manufacturers to the city and to keep the present manufacturers here. That is the present need of the city, to get a permanent population of people who spend money day by day."

Up to the present time the following merchants on Cherry Street have endorsed the RECORD's get-together plan: Franklin Whiting, Dr. Dorn, William Wolf, J. Frank Way, J. Duck at, J. J. Jeffries and H. H. Ralph.

J. J. Duck of Irving Street dropped in this morning and said: "I'm a stranger in this town, but you can put me down as a member of the Irving Street association. It's the best thing that ever happened. All I got to do is to look at the growth of Westfield, where I came from, in ten years from 3800 to 8,000. That was all accomplished by the flood of trade, getting together and doing hard work."

A Novel Find.
An investigation in the river stepped on the footboard of a train, intending to enter the carriage, but found the door locked. The train started suddenly and she recognized that she would have to travel on the footboard until the next station was reached. A man who saw her plight crept backward on the footboard, clinging to the carriage and carrying with some peril and support his wife with him until the next station was reached. Half an hour later, the train was fired several times for "legally traveling outside the train." The rescuer disappeared without leaving name or address.

Hagenbeck's Narrowest Escape

I am often asked what is my narrowest escape. Perhaps the following is the closest shave I have had. I was superintending the dispatch of some animals at the railway station in Hamburg, when a half grown elephant which was standing in one of the trucks with its legs chained suddenly turned round and tried to pin me to the wall. I was at that moment examining a cage containing monkeys. When I entered the car I knew the elephant was close and should have kept my face toward him. Instead of doing so I turned round to look at something, and at that moment the brute went for me. He tried to pin me to the wall, but fortunately for me his trunk was too wide apart for him to properly grip me. The trunk just grazed my skin on each side of my back. One of my men rushed to the rescue and pulled me down between the animal's head and the wall. They then stood me on my feet to see if my back was broken. With the exception of torn clothing and a grazed skin I was all right—Wide World.

Nothing in the war, perhaps, excepting the surrender, ever struck Richmond with such stunning force as the announcement of "Stonewall" Jackson's fall, of the amputation of his arm and finally of his death, following the battle of Chancellorsville. Even the brilliant victory of our arms was placed in total eclipse by this frequent loss. From the first, when the army of the Potomac was defeated, the Virginia Military Institute had started the armies by his extraordinary daring and military skill. Jackson had taken hold of the popular mind as a supreme favorite. "Old Stonewall," "Old Joe" or "Old Blue Light" was the name he held in the reverence bestowed by Napoleon's grandeur upon the person of the great emperor. With Lee and Jackson to the fore, the people sitting in their homes felt that the army was behind them, masters of strength, daring and moving every advance with Mrs. Dutton Harrison.

John Addison Porter, once secretary to the president, overheard his assistant on one occasion, when he went off on a vacation, and Comptroller Tracewell disallowed it. When Secretary Porter returned to Washington he told the president about it, and President McKinley telephoned to Tracewell to come to the White House. On his arrival there Tracewell was asked why he had disallowed that account, and he replied: "I disallowed it, Mr. President, because it is my duty as comptroller of the treasury to protect the money of the people from every kind of misappropriation of the law. If you should draw one month's salary in advance I should certainly disallow it."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.
