England Is Wasting Her Resources and Will Be Bankrupt by 2086 A. D.

By Sir WILLIAM RAMSAY, British Chemist

THE PRESENT RATE OF CONSUMPTION OF HER COAL SUPPLY ENGLAND WILL BE A HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS.

It may seem that ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS is a long time, but to a nation it is but a mere span.

Two courses of conservation are open—first, the laissez-faire plan of leaving to SELF-INTERESTED COMPETITION the combining of waste, and, second, INITIATING LEGISLATION which in the interest of the whole nation will endeavor to lessen the squandering of our NATIONAL RESOURCES.

The subject is a complicated one, and it will demand the COMBINED EFFORTS of experts and legislators for a generation, but if it be not considered with definite intention of immediate action we shall be laid up to the desecrated execution of our not very remote descendants.

If we know that radium and its descendants decompose spontaneously, evolving energy, why should not other, more stable elements decompose when subjected to enormous strains? This leads to the speculation whether, if the elements are capable of disintegration, the world may not have at its disposal a HITHERTO UNEXPECTED SOURCE OF ENERGY.

If radium were to evolve its stored up energy at the same rate that gunpowder does we should have an UNDREAMED OF EXPLOSIVE. Could we control the rate we should have a useful and potent source of energy, provided always that a SUFFICIENT SUPPLY of radium were forthcoming. But the supply is certainly a very limited one, and it can safely be affirmed that the production will never surpass half an ounce a year.

THE AMERICAN EAR FOR MUSIC IS THE KEENEST IN THE WORLD

By OTTO KAHN, New York Financier

THOUGH we have not as yet been very creative in music, I think the Americans are a DISTINCTLY MUSICAL PEOPLE in that they are genuinely FOND OF MUSIC.

Proof of that is everywhere. It seems to be the art to which the soul of the American people responds most readily. I think also there is much understanding here of music and sincere response to its APPEAL, though there is not as yet in the public at large of the United States the same degree of scholarly APPRECIATION or of accurate knowledge and widespread musical culture as is found in Germany.

In some respects we ask—we even demand—HIGHER STANDARDS than the Germans do. We have set the mark which must be reached in opera, for instance, higher than the Germans have. We require a considerably higher level of individual and general excellence than other nations do.

I THINK ALSO I MAY VENTURE THE ASSERTION THAT THE AMERICAN EAR FOR MUSIC IS THE KEENEST, THE MOST SENSITIVE OF ALL.

China's Progress Toward Civilization Due To Missionaries

CHINA is without doubt a WONDERFUL country and DESERVES recognition among the powers.

The saying that the Flowery Kingdom has progressed more in the last ten years than it did in the previous ten centuries is very true.

THE IMPROVEMENT ALONG EDUCATIONAL, ECONOMIC AND OTHER PROGRESSIVE LINES HAS BEEN REMARKABLE, AND I BELIEVE THAT, NO LITTLE OF THIS IS DUE TO THE MISSIONARIES WHO TO THE WORK OF THE MISSIONARIES WHO HAVE LABORED LONG AND BURNINGLY IN THE FARAWAY LAND.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE

SPIRITUAL COURTESY. When the news of the passing of General George W. Gordon of Philadelphia was wired to the country there were many sincere mourners.

None who have ever heard General Gordon's silver oratory will forget his fervid pleas for a united country.

He was a gallant Confederate officer, the idol of his soldiers. But when the war was over his was one of the first of all the voices eloquent for the Union.

He was a great friend of Grant and Sherman and of many of those against whom he fought in the time that tried men's souls.

Gordon's last words were those: "Send other courtesies; those may be killed."

In his last moments the general's mind went back to the days of carnage, when the thunder clouds of black war burst over the head of the nation, and in spirit he companioned again with Lee and Johnston and the comrades of the former days.

Therefore his order to "send other courtesies."

He had perished in the grim theater of war that oftentimes courtesies were cut off by the enemy and the messenger lost.

More murders of a dying man? What do you or I know about the telegraph between miles here and now? Much less what we know about the means of communication between kindred spirits here and you?

It is only fancy that the spirit of Gordon, crossing the Potomac of Death, should be sending courtesies forward to his near approach?

Who will say that on "fame's eternal camping ground" the courtesies did not report?

It is not strange that on the eve of his departure a strong will could feel the powerful impulse to send some courtesies in advance.

And so, my friends—

When the time of your departure and mine is come, when we shall have said good-by to those on this bank of life, what more natural thing than that we should seek to send quick courtesies to those "we have loved and lost awhile" to tell them of our approach?

The Lathes. Originally intended to be operated by the physical exertion of one man, the lathe has now reached such a state of development that in many cases forty men are required to operate it. It is one of the latest forms of tool to be driven by machinery.

What is Doing in Hand Bag Fashioning. Revived Fabrics.

Illuminated leather in Austrian designs, rich in gold tracery, is going to be a leader among the fashionable hand bags this year. This article is by no means inexpensive, so there need be little fear of its becoming common, and cheap imitations, even if they appear, are easily detected.

Concealed waist belts are worn again, but no bones are used to stiffen them. They are merely shaped to the figure and must be quite soft and pliable.

This means that the corset beneath the dress must be a perfect fit.

In line with the revival of quaint old styles have come along some old time favorites in fabrics. One of these, which enjoyed some vogue as an alternative with velvet last winter, is corduroy. This year the waist is wider.

Chaille is another material that will be popular this winter in the all wool varieties. It comes in quaint little figured patterns and is many bordered designs.

The correct cover with the straight upper edge that may be cut from embroidery is one that is well liked. In the illustration the cover is cut with seams at the center back and under the arms; consequently there is little fullness at the waist line.
