

DARING YEGGMEN.

Ways of the Most Desperate and Cunning of Burglars.

BLOWING OPEN A BANK SAFE

Nitroglycerin is the Explosive Used and West Blankets Help to Dampen the Sound—Making the "Blow" in a Furious Part of the Business.

Of all the thieves and crooks that operate in the country the yeggmans, or bank burglars, are the most cunning and systematic and in the majority of cases the most desperate. Some people have an idea that a common tramp housebreaker is a yeggsman, but that is far from the truth. In nine cases out of ten yeggmans are intelligent, educated men. There is a bond between them as strong as that which unites brotherhood or union in the country.

There are not more than fifty yeggmans in the United States. To be successful the yeggs must understand every detail of the business. It is a life and a death struggle. When a man becomes too old or is disabled or for any other cause cannot remain active he usually means a life. When a man becomes too old or is disabled or for any other cause cannot remain active he usually means a life.

Four or five men usually make up a gang, and these gangs are scattered over the whole country, each having its own territory. For instance, one gang had the territory between Albany and Boston on the Boston and Albany road. It was scattered along the road between Boston and Albany, and the gang was scattered along the road between Boston and Albany.

When the job is spotted the gang is called together, and every detail is gone over and the plans are mapped out. Each member looks over the bank, and the discussion of methods sometimes lasts a week. One knew of a gang operating in Indiana who were in doubt of a bank and who sought advice from a gang in Maine. That probably took three or four weeks. I mention this to show that these yeggmans do not "turn a trick" if there is the least doubt about the success.

After the job is located and the plans are mapped out, the next thing they do is to get the tools and make their preparations. For instance, if the job is a bank robbery, the yeggmans need a car and a motorcycle. The car is usually a light car, and the motorcycle is usually a light motorcycle.

For an ordinary job they take a few hundred dollars of money to make enough to get out of the bank, as they call it, for the job. The yeggmans consist of two or three men and a quiet wife or two. The bottom is knocked out of one of the first cars and holes made all around the sides. A charcoal fire is then built and the land is set on fire. Then the other car is filled half full of water and is placed on the fire. The water is allowed to become lukewarm, and then the sticks of dynamite are placed in the car. The whole affair is then set on fire.

After this time the water is allowed to cool and is then strained through a piece of cheesecloth after which it is again allowed to stand. In a short time the water is clear and the surface and is strained off and placed in the bottle. The yeggs call this process "making cash." Several times it is repeated, and in one instance, when it threw the operators arm off, it led to the capture of two of the best men in what was known as the E. and T. R. case.

It sometimes takes as many as three shots to blow a safe. Four holes are drilled around the combination knob, and the dynamite is placed in the holes, each funnel being used. A dynamite cap and fuse are then attached, and the whole is blown off. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out.

After the money has been taken out, the safe is blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out.

As the yeggmans have the explosives, they are watching out for the police. The police are watching out for the yeggmans. The yeggmans are watching out for the police. The police are watching out for the yeggmans.

After the money has been taken out, the safe is blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out.

After the money has been taken out, the safe is blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out. The safe is then blown open and the money is taken out.

BOARD OF ESTIMATE IS AT A DEADLOCK ON SCHOOL BONDS.

Councilmen Cross and Valentine Oppose Issue For New Tolls In Elementary Schools.

The Board of School Estimate is at a deadlock in regard to the issue of bonds for new tolls in the four elementary schools. A three hours session last night closed with two members of the board voting no, two voting yes, and one member not voting. The Board did not adjourn, it took a recess until Monday night at 7:30 o'clock promptly, in the High school building.

The members of the board voting no are councilmen Richard Cross and E. T. Valentine. The members voting yes are School Commissioners G. A. Vett and Leslie G. Baldwin. The member who did not vote is his Honor the Mayor, Thomas A. Fyffe, who was chairman of the meeting.

Councilmen Cross and Valentine. The two members of the common council who are members of the Board of Estimate took the ground that they will not stand for a bond issue for new tolls in the schools while there is an unexpended balance of $6,500 in the hands of the Board of Education.

The members of the Board of Estimate maintain that the tolls are necessary and must be carried out, and that the balance unexpended cannot be utilized for that purpose, but, legally must be used for additional repairs to the present High school building, and that it will be expended for the new Democratic Science building to be erected as an adjunct to the present High school building.

Details of Amount. The resolution offered and upon which the Board of Estimate split, calls for the issue of bonds to the amount of $9,867.61, the amount to be expended in the installation of new heating in the Lincoln, Franklin, Columbus and Washington schools. The several items are apportioned, according to the contractors' estimates, as follows: Lincoln school $2,400; Franklin school $2,400; Columbus school $2,400; Washington school $2,400.

Valentine Opposes Issue. The meeting convened with Mayor Thomas A. Fyffe in the chair. E. T. Valentine stated that while he was originally in favor of the bond issue he was not in favor of it now. He had talked with citizens and those with whom he had talked were opposed to the issue. The city was short of funds and he thought they should take up the repairs a little at a time. The Board of Education should hedge a little. The Council had to hedge in a little.

Cross Opposes Issue. Councilman Cross asked city attorney Dobbin if there was any way to use that balance of $6,500. Mr. Dobbin didn't know what he was talking about. He didn't know what he was talking about. He didn't know what he was talking about.

Contractors Will Place Large Force At Work On Erection To Finish Job By February

The Daily Record herewith gives to the public of Rahway the first picture of the new station which the Pennsylvania Railroad is about to erect in this city.

Ground for this station, as was stated in Thursday's issue, was broken yesterday for this building, which the company intends shall be one of the finest in its line.

The picture shows an ornate building, which will be the same time thoroughly utilitarian and to modern requirements in every particular.

Complete By February. The entire structure, the contractors' work and the station, will be completed by February 1, 1913.

Employ Many Men. Charles Shaffer, who is engineer in charge of the construction work for the Pennsylvania Railroad, stated that just as many men as could be employed would be put on the work.

Of course at the present time, he stated, it was impossible to say how many men on the preliminary construction, as some for their legal action had to be taken, but the work will be rushing along in order that the station shall be completed by the time the rest of the track elevation work is carried out.

The Daily Record is able to present this photograph through the courtesy of the chief engineer, J. C. Shand of Philadelphia, and his staff, the photograph being prepared from the architect's drawing.

Shows Front Elevation. The picture shows the front elevation of the station, and the elevation which will face towards New York.

The plan for the first and second floors of the building are most complete, and include every provision for the comfort of patrons of the road.

Work of Highest Grade. John H. Moffett, who is in charge of the work of construction of the new station for the Pennsylvania Railroad, stated that his firm will put up the best possible class of work in every way, and that the station, when completed, will serve as an object lesson for other owners of property in the city.

The photograph shown was prepared from the designs of Mr. Cook, architect for the P. R. R. Co.

K. O. C. EXCURSION. The excursion which will be run tomorrow under the auspices of Rahway Council No. 1114, Knights of Columbus, will be one of the big features of the season. The demand for tickets has been so great that extra cars have been ordered.

The committee in charge (and in this committee there are several practical trainmen, has taken especial care to see that plenty of provision will be made for all who go.

The first train to leave Rahway en route directly to Rockaway Beach will carry a large proportion of the residents tomorrow morning.

1,000 FELLOWS. Essex County Lodge No. 27, I. O. O. F. held only a brief session last night, but it was a very busy one.

Many of the members who are also members of the Rahway Lodge were present, and the session was very interesting.

Daughters of Rebekah. A party of about twenty members of Rahway Lodge, No. 27, Daughters of Rebekah, I. O. O. F., held a social last night, and enjoyed the meeting of Deborah Lodge. A pleasant fraternal session was enjoyed.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade, held last night, it was decided that the committee in charge of the new station should be given the go-ahead.

The committee in charge of the new station, which was organized last night, will be in charge of the construction of the new station.
