CHAPTER IX. SOME STRANGE COURT PROCEBDINGS. Awaking with the incubus of this dream oppressing me, from an in-terminable period of the immeasurable cycles of sleep, I came slowly to comprehend the significance of the occurrences of the previous day and the night, only to exchange the fleeting incubus of the night for a more permanent one of the day. Where was

Polly? She had wanted to tell me something of great importance—some secret not to be whispered within the possible hearing of other people.
True, Fan had supplemented this with the story of the marriage. But was not this a mere rumor? The idle gossip of an envious and back-biting vil-lage? And should I accept such flimsy and unreliable rumors for a full underand unrellable rumors for a full under-standing of all the facts? Such an understanding as I sould get only from her? No. I must so her. Only from her in person ought I to accept an ex-planation as authentic and complete. I owed it as a duty to myself and to her to see her and hear from her own lips her own version unfalluenced by ple truth was in fact a specious and shallow plea for the present gratification of my longing to see her, the daughter of the horie-thieff Ah! I said it is only for the present and for the last time. And she can not be held responsible in any way for her father's crimes, whatever they may have been. And perhaps these are the more groundless charges of malice. Had I not seen deadly feuds involving perhaps more bloodshed than that of last night, among noted families in the Sandtown circuit? Couldn't I name them almost by the score?

Later in life I should have frankly confessed to the truth that I wanted to see Polly and talk to her simply out of my raydnous hunger for lier presence. her touch, and the sound of her voice. This would have been ample apology in my own eyes in maturer years. It is ample apology and explanation for far more desperate resolutions and deeds than I contemplated, even in my greatest frenzy. But hold! Have I not forgotten my sudden hatred for Judge Barks? The man who in past times had affected to see in me material that might be wrought into brilliant things. The man who had paid me the great compliment to point out the road to preferment—perhaps to emi-eminence, and stir in my hourt the first fluttering of ambition—that guardian angel of youth through the period of greatest temptation and least power of

I remembered how many, how very many times the old judge had been enabled to pass a whole evening in our company. In ours! In hers! What did he really care for mine! I was the simple and unsuspecting means to the his skillfully handled fund of stories and philosophic dissertations, proud to show her that I was of sufficient importance in the eyes of the greatest man within our ken to bring that man to her so often-so very often.

What a fool! However, I managed to eat very heartily of the very palatable breakfast that Fan had speedily prepared on finding that I was at last awake. I even smiled faintly as, in answer to Fan's question, I confessed the dream to her.

She was in costadies. Always neat and careful of her dress she was this morning in her very best and with the advantage of feeling-as I presume only a woman can feel-that she is at her best in every respect. A bright smile fitted about in the many dimples of her pluky cheeks; and her flaxen hair, ourling in the short locks about both kine a sanchurd off a talkun, un I her ears and neck, gave her a sort of heretofore totally failed to discover in her. Moreover we were entirely alone. the whole family having gone to some portions of the village more nearly the center of excitement at this time, and

Usually loud and loquacious, Fan had a smiling and delighted shyness and reserve upon her this morning-n startled way about her looks and move-ments that claimed a part of my attention, and even succeeded in some degree in making me temporarily forget the keener point of my anguish and Finally I arose, and, taking my hat walked to the door and looked out. "Are you a go-un. Jim?" she asked, timidly, and coming to the door half shyly Yes," I said, without looking rectly at her. " And if you find that she isn't mar-"Then I'll marry her as quick we kin git to a preacher.'

"And of you find she isou this very evening. I said, half in est and half in desperate carnest. "Will you?" she said, with a radi ant smile. "Then I'll be ready. I'll have every thing ready. I'll stay at home a purpose to be ready. And she threw her arms about my neck such vehement forcefulness that my face tinged for minutes on my rapid

HAVE TO SAY ABOUT CLOTHING!

Since our REMOVAL to our NEW BUILDING we have been busy preparing an entire NEW STOCK of THE BEST SHAPED and FINEST FINISHED GARMENTS ever shown to our customers; and to day we have an immense stock, ALL NEW, STYLISH, HANDSOME, and VERY LOW in price. Never was such a stock of ELEGANT GAR-MENTS shown in the city, each a perfect copy of the most expensive custom-made work; and never before were such low prices named for garments of equal style and durability. It requires no expert to judge of the merits of our stock; for even the most inexperienced at a glance will see their IM-PROVED DRESS APPEARANCE when they try them on. Think of the Finest Cassimere Pants, cut by special patterns, marked in plain figures, at $5, 5.50 and $6 a Pair. The new Cheviots and Shaded Striped Pants, now so popular in custom trade, selling for $3, 3.50 and $4, or our broken lots of Fine Pants Marked Down daily to close out quick at $2, 2.50 and $3 a Pair. We are quoting prices that can only be made under Low Expenses. We may not be clearing large profits; but we are selling goods, and lots of them, pleasing our old customers and making new ones, simply by giving them Better Goods than they ever saw, All Ready to Put On, and saving them all useless expenses like the cost of shows in windows, circus wagons, signs on fences, gifts, commissions or discounts to favored customers or their friends. You can surely save from 20 to 25 per cent. on your FALL SUITS by coming direct to us. We are finishing daily full lines in all the New Cuts. complete for $10 and $12. The popular Gold Thread Cheviots that merchant tailors are using, we get up very hand some, and selliat $13 and $15 for complete suits, and in Dress Suits we have a complete department the very tatest garments, where we can belong suit for $15,

18 and 490 for the merchant tailor would surely charge ice as much and rarely give you such elegant garments. Our New Overcoat Salesroom, on second floor, is now open : and here you can find Montaignac Beavers, satinined, for $25; Elysians, in all the new shades, at $22; Kerseys, in solid and mixed colors, at $18 and $20; Diagonal Volours, (new this season) at $15 and $16, and All-Wool Chesterfield Overcoats, lined with cassimere, in ul the long cuts, at $10 and $12; besides a Hundred Stylish and durable designs, in all shades, at $7, 8 and $9. Remember, these garments are cut single by special patterns drafted from actual measurement taken in our custom department kept on convenient racks, and handed to vou fresh from the hands of our tailors, free from all creases, wrinkles, or any of the usually objectionable readymade look. The materials from which Fine Clothing is made were never as low as now, and as labor is only a trifle higher you should buy your clothing from 20 to 30 per cent. below the rates of former years; and this you can do if you save all Intermediate Profits and Useless Expenses. and come direct to the makers for it. Before ordering your WINTER CLOTHING you should try on our New Garments. They are Custom Made in every detail. No tailor uses Finer or Newer Fabrics, our Trimmings are the same, and the Best Custom Tailors Work for us Then, how can the difference in the garments be told when worn from the most expensive work? Besides you can see just how the goods Look When Made Up and have no trouble in waiting. This is where we are pushing our "fine city trade," a Really Handsome, Correct Cut Garment, Finished, with all Custom Extras, ALLIREADY TO: PUT ON. It is a fact well known to the public, and not disputed in the trade, that our garments are extensively copied, but Never Reproduced as we set Them Out. SEE THEM and none of the ordinary styles will look right to you.
