of both dresses and coats remains about the same though the death knell of the "hobble" skirt has been sounded and it is no longer worn by welldressed women. But skirts are still narrow and there is as entire suppression of the curve of the hips as nature will allow. Color contrasts are a marked feature of the new fashions. Rarely is one shade only-used in the making of a stylish gown. A black satin waist from Doucet has a voke and deep sleeve ruffles of cream lace and a rather wide zirdle of vivid green. A frock of soft gray crepon has touches of vivid

Continuing right through the year we shall have a wide diversity of fashexclusion of all others. Narrow skirts are fashionable as has just been said but in Paris the wide skirt of the period of 1830 has just been introduced by one of the most exclusive dressmaking houses and appears in the same ball room with the Poiret skirt (the very narrow model) and the new Empire evening frook, and one is just as modish as the other.

Tailored Suits With Sailor Collars.

Tailored suits for fall are very modish indeed. Some of the Paris importations shown by the merchants have almost straight seams from the shoulder to the edge of the jacket but the more becoming New York suits are curved slightly at the waistline thus giving the wearer a more shapely tures, camel's hair, serge and pebbled woolens are used for these new suits and these come in the greatest variety of weave and color.

Fashionable Colors.

Dark, sombre colorings will prevail for tailored suits. Black and white will be freely used. The dark pays blues and deep royal blues are losing mone of their popularity. Certain new shades of blue called "Comet" are Dark prune color is another shade that bids fair to be fashionable. Royal purple has been somewhat timidly put forward by milliners. It appears also in a limited degree, in trimmings, but it can occupy the position only of

But, Nelson, we thought the "foreigner" paid the tariff tax. That's what you and your high tariff compatriots have always told us. But this is different. So the consumer pays the tariff tax after all, by your own confession, just as the wicked Democrats have always contended. This is an awful blasphemed Stubbs and refused to co-

That President Taft has failed in his efforts to harmonize the discordant elements of the Republican party by his "keynote" letter and that the chasm between regulars and insurgents is still unbridged is indicated by the declaration of Senator Cummins in a speech at La Crosse, Wis., that the Republican party has failed to keep its platform pledges. "The leaders in both the House and Senate sneeringly, contemptuously and deliberately repudiated the piedges and passed laws to please their business friends and belrayed the American people," was the charge made by Senator Cummins. This is harmony with a vengeance.

The Wanamaker Basement Store GIRLS Come First Today

> They Will Come Fast, Too, for These Woolen Dresses at $3.50 and Suits at $5

There are 200 dresses such as usually cost $4.50 to $7.50 for girls of 6 to 14 years. It's a varied lot, only a few in each style, but remarkably uniform in excellence of styles and materials. Many of the popular serge sailors, and others in pretty plaid, novelty cloths and henrietta. We picture two of the dresses, just to prevent misunderstanding. Not nearly as many of the suits-just a handful, in fact-but one could not expect many "three-piece" (coat and dress) suits at $5. They are such as usually sell at $7.50 to $12.50. Sizes are 10 to 14. All these came from a maker so anxious to do business with us that he forgot his profit on this transaction. Ready Saturday, Basement, Old Building.

HANDKERCHIEFS: If you like colored borders, here are 25c qualities in all-linen handkerchiefs for 12½c—because the importer wanted to make a clean sweep. Hurry! Besement, Old Building.

The Four Hundred Women's Hats

Which We Will Show Tomorrow at $4 Each Mark a New Point of Progress for Us

Hats of such quality, of such workmanship and style, have not before been of fered at this price. These four hundred hats should disappear with a rapidity which will leave late shoppers small opportunity to choose, though the variety of shapes and shades which will be shown run the gamut of the new Fall fashions.

It should be possible for each and every one who comes sufficiently early to find the hat which will be most becoming with her Autumn street suit. Every one of the styles represented here is bound to be popular. The hats have been selected for their good taste and becomingness, and are among the most representative models to be shown this year. Youthful millinery, equally attractive, is shown next door to the adult section. Charming velvet hats at $3.75 and upward.

MORE THAN A PARTY CANDIDATE REPUBLICAN ernor. He is more than this, though. He is the candidate of thousands of Jerseymen, who have never been allfed with the Democracy. So far as the Governorship goes, the campaign this fall is not to be conducted on strict party lines. Ties of partisanship have been loosed in this year of grace and insurgency. The crying demand throughout the country is no but for good government, for representatives unhossed by special interests, for officials who will work for the weifare of the masses, instead of the classes. The demand is for statesmanship, not demagogery: for an upright administration, not one that is only straight in particauship. The president of Princeton University meets these requirements of
