

BRIEF ITEMS OF LOCAL NEWS

One day last week before the street signs were put up, two visitors, a man and a woman, came to Rahway, approaching a person who was standing near the station, asked to be directed to Georgia street. The one dressed, probably out of ignorance, hastily gave the visitors explicit directions to St. George street. The strangers made the long trip to that street, and looking for a number having around the 100 mark, found in their dismay that the corresponding number on St. George avenue was about four miles further on. Beginning to doubt the sincerity of their director, they sought further information and found that St. George avenue and Georgia street were not by any means the same thoroughfare. After another hour's walk they reached their destination. They, however, were disgusted. It was a case of "downright hard-luck."

A fire trap that may cause Rahway property owners to question, a heap of trouble, is located on Main street back of the property owned by a prominent citizen. The fire trap is a building, built in 1880, and is a ruin, crumpled and a sight unworthy of that location. Complaints have been made of a fire trap. The billboards at Main and Commerce street are in bad shape, some of the boards gone, others are in pieces, parts of ads scattered and blowing around the neighborhood, and the fire trap is a sight to be avoided. It is a disgrace to the city, and it is a pity that it is not torn down. It is a pity that it is not torn down. It is a pity that it is not torn down.

A pretty wedding was celebrated at St. George's church, on Wednesday, September 14, 1910. The bride was Miss Mary Toomey and the groom was Mr. J. J. Toomey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father O'Brien. The wedding was a most interesting affair, and was attended by a large number of guests. The bride and groom were both very happy, and the wedding was a most successful one.

A freight train containing 165 empty cars went through Rahway Wednesday afternoon bound for Philadelphia. The train was delayed at Rahway for some time, and the people were forced to wait at the gates while the line of empty cars rolled by. Mr. J. C. Metick is putting a new water front into his new building at 100 Main street, for the new store of S. Gerstke, which will open in the fall of 1910. The building is a most modern one, and will be a great asset to the city. The building is a most modern one, and will be a great asset to the city.

RUNYON IS NAMED IN FOWLER'S PLACE

Plainfield Judge Formally Nominated for Congressman

OPPONENTS FIRM. Delegates for Elizabeth-Man Refused to Make Union County's Vote Unanimous.

Plainfield—By a vote of 41 to 7 Judge William N. Runyon, of this city, was nominated for Congress in the Third District against Judge Simon H. Fowler, at the convention in this city. The mention of Judge Runyon's name, on nomination by Robert H. McCready, was received with wild enthusiasm, and the announcement of the vote was followed by applause that continued five minutes.

On roll call Morris County gave Runyon 56 1/2 votes and Fowler 10 1/2. Warren County gave 4 votes and a fraction for Runyon and 27 for Fowler. R. H. McCready moved that Union County make the nomination unanimous for its delegation, and that three votes of "No!"

GOOD TIME AT GUILD MEETING. The Guild of St. Paul's Church held an interesting and enjoyable meeting in its parish room Monday evening, September 12, 1910.

Mr. Gore Kelly then assumed the chairmanship and introduced the social part of the evening. The program began with a piano selection by Miss Eva Brooks, who was roundly applauded and encored. Mrs. F. D. Maurer, "Miss Gore" gave interesting readings, after which Master Harry Langman, accompanied by Miss Gladys Williams, gave two beautiful songs on the violin. Miss Ruth Babel, the well-known contralto of the First Presbyterian church, gave two much appreciated solos. Miss Zella Mills concluded the program with an excellently rendered recitation.

Representatives from the various Clubs of Rahway have been asked to select delegates to a meeting to discuss the use of the new school auditorium for educational purposes, aside from the usual routine of school work. This would doubtless mean a series of lectures and entertainments that would be designed to interest the parents as well as the public school pupils and to which a special effort would be made to attract the income derived would probably be used to assist in decorating the new high school building, all the women's clubs of the city will be asked to join in the movement and among the leading ones are the Athenian Home Reading, Longfellow, Motley, "Bubbles" and "Tifteen." An alliance of this kind and for the particular purpose, will no doubt result in closer relationship between the different clubs and resulting benefits to the city as a whole.

MORE THAN A PARTY CANDIDATE

Woodrow Wilson is the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor. He is more than this, though. He is the candidate of thousands of Jersey men, who have never been allied with the Democracy.

His ability as an administrator is acknowledged. He has been accused of being no politician, but no one has disputed his statesmanlike qualifications. A noted student of government affairs, he has always been found preaching Democracy.

Mr. Wilson has not been named primarily because of his availability as a vote-getter. He has been chosen for his fitness for the position of administrator, not one that is only a stepping-stone to a higher position. New Jersey voters will honor both themselves and their State by electing a Governor who may be depended upon to state his views frankly and with sincerity, and to stand by those views with his acts. And both views and acts will be everywhere noted as those of a great man, whose opinions and whose policies are worthy of the most careful consideration.

MR. WM. E. TUTTLE

Mr. Wm. E. Tuttle, of Westfield, will receive the unanimous support of the delegates to the Democratic convention held today at 21 Broad street, Elizabeth, for the congressional nomination for the Fifth District to succeed Congressman Charles N. Fowler. Mr. Tuttle is well known in Rahway, having appeared before Democratic audiences here on several occasions. His candidacy will receive the hearty support of all Democrats and probably a great many independent Republicans who cannot consistently support Judge Runyon because of his machine affiliations and his probable alliance with Keen, Aldrich and Cannon. Mr. Tuttle is thought to be thoroughly competent to represent the district and between this date and election in November the voters of Rahway will have ample opportunity to become personally acquainted with him.

BERNHARDT DECLINES

Chas. H. Lambert, Esq., City Clerk, Rahway, N. J., Dear Sir:—I will not qualify for the nomination for Councilman from the Fifth Ward for the two year term. Please certify this fact to the County Clerk if it is necessary to do so, as my name will not appear on the ticket.

RAHWAY'S TAXES JUMP

Rate is 12 Points Higher Than a Year Ago. The County Board of Taxation has fixed the rate for Rahway at $1.84, an increase of 12 points. The budget is made up as follows: State school tax, $11,121.21; county tax, $15,024.90; city tax, $96,244.24; W. B. Macintosh, $4; increase 1910 over 1909, $14,292.36.

REPUBLICAN PARTY DOOMED, SURELY

Aldrich and Cannonism Must Be Dethroned, Says Fowler.

A MORAL QUESTION. DEMOCRATS HOPEFUL

Defeated Congressman Believes Matrimonial a Prophecy and is Convinced it True. Will Continue to Fight Within the Ranks.

Congressman Charles N. Fowler, progressive Republican candidate for re-nomination, and who was beaten at the primaries by Judge William N. Runyon, "regular," gave out the following statement Saturday in which he declares that unless the Republican party gets rid of Cannonism and Aldrichism the people will get rid of the Republican party. Mr. Fowler's statement is as follows: "Following with profound satisfaction the long-continued condemnation of the Republicans of the Fifth Congressional District in me, I desire to express publicly my deep appreciation of and sincere gratitude for that confidence. 'On the 6th day of December, the opening day of the last session of Congress, now nearly a year ago, I gave an interview which began with these words: 'Unless the Republican party gets rid of Aldrichism and Cannonism, the people will get rid of the Republican party.' This statement now seems almost a verbatim prophecy. 'I then believed it to be absolutely true and am now convinced, beyond all question, that the Republican party is distinctly a moral one, although of a political character. 'From a sense of public duty far more than from the standpoint of personal ambition, I have made a hard and clean fight for those principles and policies which I regard as absolutely essential to the present advancement and ultimate welfare of the country, and I have been looking forward to the continuance of the Republican party in power, for in the past I have seen the utter ruin of the country as a result of the policy of 'Lead Us Not Into Temptation,' as told of the necessity of keeping temptations away from the people. He gave a detailed account of the life of a young man and told of the temptations which beset his life, culminating in the opportunity of easily acquired wealth by the sale of a single vote. Mr. Bodens, who is a member of the Manufacturers' Association, spent considerable time condemning various employer's history acts which were introduced into the legislature. The speaker stated that these measures were presented for the purpose of 'currying favor with the labor vote.' Mr. Bodens concluded with a plea for all Democrats to work their very hardest to make the fall election the wonderful success it promises to be. At the conclusion of Mr. Bodens' address a telegram was read from Judge Simon Hahn, of Newark, which stated that the Judge would be unable to be present to support the Republican ticket. Mr. Bodens' address was a most inspiring and ardent Republican address and it would seem that a chequer grade of politician might be used for the sacrifice in order that Mr. Lewis might be saved for some more auspicious occasion. However, he will have the support of the machine in its fullest strength which means both money and votes. By no process can he hope for or expect to receive the vote of independent voters who will be the deciding factor this year.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Club Officers Were Elected. Ward Candidates Define Their Positions. A Most Enthusiastic Gathering.

Friday evening a large number of local Democrats met at the Democratic headquarters, 122 Main street, and held a most interesting meeting. The first business of the evening was the election of officers, the following being chosen: President, Ray E. Mayhew; vice-president, First ward, F. T. Linds; second ward, F. H. Treasurer; Third ward, A. B. Cook; Fourth ward, John F. Duff; Fifth ward, H. C. Coulter; secretary, John McCartney; treasurer, A. A. Rourke; sergeant-at-arms, Peter Reiminger.

President Mayhew called the meeting to order and delivered a stirring address, exhorting Woodrow Wilson to lead the people to a period of cleaner and better politics. He took as an example the recent election in Maine at which the Republicans were overwhelmed, and suggested that the Democratic battalions should be "Remember Maine."

Mr. Benjamin Boden of Westfield, formerly of Rahway, and a member of the firm of Quinn & Boden Co., was then introduced and delivered a most successful and earnest speech, his address being listened to attentively by an appreciative audience. Mr. Boden's speech, like the other addresses of the evening, fairly tingled with enthusiasm and optimism.

"The Democratic opportunity is here," the speaker said, "Never before in the history of the state has the people been so united and so determined. The people are becoming tired of the method and rule of the Republican machine, and are looking forward to a period of cleaner and better politics. In the beginning of his speech, Mr. Boden urged the Democrats to go forth and work with all their strength for the success of their candidates. He stated rigorously the purchasing of votes and the underhand methods employed by some well-known politicians. He took for his text the words, 'Lead Us Not Into Temptation,' as told of the necessity of keeping temptations away from the people. He gave a detailed account of the life of a young man and told of the temptations which beset his life, culminating in the opportunity of easily acquired wealth by the sale of a single vote. Mr. Boden, who is a member of the Manufacturers' Association, spent considerable time condemning various employer's history acts which were introduced into the legislature. The speaker stated that these measures were presented for the purpose of 'currying favor with the labor vote.' Mr. Bodens concluded with a plea for all Democrats to work their very hardest to make the fall election the wonderful success it promises to be. At the conclusion of Mr. Bodens' address a telegram was read from Judge Simon Hahn, of Newark, which stated that the Judge would be unable to be present to support the Republican ticket. Mr. Bodens' address was a most inspiring and ardent Republican address and it would seem that a chequer grade of politician might be used for the sacrifice in order that Mr. Lewis might be saved for some more auspicious occasion. However, he will have the support of the machine in its fullest strength which means both money and votes. By no process can he hope for or expect to receive the vote of independent voters who will be the deciding factor this year.

VIVIAN X. LEWIS FOR GOVERNOR. The formality of nominating Vivian M. Lewis as the candidate for governor will be gone through with at the Democratic convention held today at 21 Broad street, Elizabeth, for the congressional nomination for the Fifth District to succeed Congressman Charles N. Fowler. Mr. Tuttle is well known in Rahway, having appeared before Democratic audiences here on several occasions. His candidacy will receive the hearty support of all Democrats and probably a great many independent Republicans who cannot consistently support Judge Runyon because of his machine affiliations and his probable alliance with Keen, Aldrich and Cannon. BENJAMIN F. OLEWINE
Altoona, Pa.

"Saved" from Smallpox by Vaccination.

The accompanying portrait is that of Benjamin F. Olewine, who died at 304 Kiewit street, Altoona, aged 23 years. He was vaccinated two and one-half years before his death. When vaccination was performed his skin was smooth and clean and beautiful, and he was otherwise in perfect health. But look upon this picture and behold his condition after. And what caused this wonderful change? Why, almost certainly, vaccination, the blighting, withering curse, the propagator of all manner of filth and disease, the monster which pollutes the pure blood of our children with the foul excretions that are thrown off from diseased boasters, nature considering it too vile to contaminate the system of any living creature.

About two months after vaccination a sarcomatous tumor began to develop at the point of insertion of the vaccine, which was not as yet properly healed. That tumor continued to grow and spread, attaching itself to the arm of the patient, his forearm, his shoulder and his chest, until it reached the enormous proportions which are observed in the representation. And think you, dear reader, what must have been the suffering of this afflicted individual as day after day and night after night, unable to find an hour of rest, his life slowly ebbed away at his home in the mountains? Racked with intense pain and untold misery, suffering the most excruciating torments that the human mind can conceive, the poor man was relieved only by laying down his life as a sacrifice on the altar of stupid indifference and professional incompetence. What "science" had accomplished for him it was unable to relieve when finally it came to the end. The money of his man was exhumed in the love and affections of his people, who with one voice assert that vaccination is a contemptible fraud and a lasting reproach on "twentieth century civilization."—M. A. Wiesner, M. D., in Johnston, N. H., Democrat.

If this poor victim had had a tumor appear on some other part of the body—and at a later date, even years after—how would he have connected it with vaccination. Yet this is exactly what a St. Louis physician writes: "Could all the after-effects of this blood-poisoning practice be as clearly traced, it would soon be made a criminal offense to vaccinate. Compulsory inoculation of smallpox was once common practice, and it has now been made a crime in England."

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Bear and the Badger
It began to look very bad for Mr. Badger.
"Well, kiddies," said daddy as Jack and Evelyn asked for their bedtime story, "what about it being this evening, a fairy story or an animal story or a true story about some great man?"
Jack wanted a story about a great man and Evelyn wanted a fairy story, and so, as daddy could not please them both, he told them an animal story. It was about the playful badger and the wicked bear.
"A badger," said daddy, "is a little gray animal about the size of a small pig. Its hair is used to make brushes. It makes very good brushes. In one of the nooks in the big city there is a badger which is very tame and is a great pet with the keepers and the visitors. He is so tame that he is allowed to run around loose, and he goes into the other animals' cages to pay them visits. They all seem to be fond of the little gray animal and do not harm him."
"That is all except one grumpy, grumpy old bear which has no friends among the animals or among the keepers either. He has a very bad temper indeed and has been in the zoo many years, but he has never made friends with any of the keepers. He is so bad tempered that he has to be kept in a cage by himself."
"Well, one day not long ago Mr. Badger thought it was a fine morning to go visiting and decided to drop in on Mr. City Bear for a visit. He had hardly squeezed himself through the bars of Mr. Bear's cage and began to say 'Good morning' when Mr. City Bear began to try to catch him and hurt him. That did not suit Mr. Badger at all, and he tried to run away. But around the edge of Mr. City Bear's cage there is a stone wall higher than Mr. Badger's head. Try as hard as he could he could not climb up the wall before Mr. City Bear could reach him, so there was nothing else for poor Mr. Badger to do but run round and round the cage, with Mr. City Bear chasing him."
"Did he catch him, daddy?" asked Jack.
"No," said daddy, "he didn't. But Mr. Badger had a narrow escape. By and by after running around the cage a number of times with Mr. Bear close behind the hedge he straight across the cage and fell into the tank in which the bear bathes. In a moment he was out, hanging on with his long, sharp front claws on the edge of the tank, trying to climb out. But Mr. Bear would not let him and he began to look very bad for poor Mr. Badger. Just then, however, the keepers came up. They had heard Mr. Bear running after Mr. Badger and granting. When they saw the poor badger in the tank trying to get out they got a big hose and turned the water full on the bear, driving him away from the badger. Then they went into the cage and helped the badger out. He doesn't pay any more visits to Mr. City Bear."

Autumn Display of Unequaled Magnificence

Presenting the Newest Models In Millinery, Costumes, Wraps, Waists, Negligees, Children's Apparel and other Wearables.

The invitation to attend this Superb Autumn Opening display is extended to everyone throughout New Jersey, and if New York and Brooklyn would like to take a peep they are also invited.
You may ask, "Are the hats this year going to be large?" and we will answer, "Yes."
You may ask, "Are the hats this season going to be small?" and we will answer, "Yes."

There never was a season in which such a variety of styles, shapes, and sizes of hats were proper according to the decree of fashion, and, tho there are many very novel and extreme creations, all can be said to be beautiful and extremely becoming. So all women—young, middle-aged and old—will find it a pleasure to pick from the hats we have assembled because they will be able to easily select something fetching. As in past seasons the Hahne & Co. display will be a very large one, and it will be distinctive, different and beyond any display made by any other Newark house.

The Dress Show vies with the millinery in commanding your attention and approval. As with the hats, the styles this year are widely varied in both dresses and tailored gowns, and we may truthfully say that in all this variety those who have made the fashions in dresses have created nothing that is not full of grace and beauty. Artistic lines are seen in every gown, assuring us a season that will be a delight to all who love good dressing.
We do not want you to miss seeing the Waists and Children's Wear, the Undergarments and, beyond all, the Furs, for we are making a great show of all of them.

This page illustrates a condition which is known to comparatively few of Rahway housekeepers. The bargain hunter and the consumer who look exclusively for quality and service regardless of price can be satisfied in some one of the many first-class establishments of Upper Irving, W. Grand and adjoining streets. Some of these progressive establishments have been catering to the people of Rahway for thirty years or more; others are new-comers but all are making a earnest, honest and intelligent effort to win customers by the "Square Deal Method." Walk through that section of the city and inform yourself of the actual conditions and you may be the one to profit thereby.

ROOSEVELT DEFINES HIS NEW NATIONALISM CREED

All that the new Nationalism means is the application of certain old-time moralities to the changed conditions of the day. I wish to see greater government efficiency because we have to deal with greater business efficiency. Simple laws are all that are necessary in small communities where there is no big business, and each man works for himself. When you get masses of wealth gathered together and great corporations developing, conditions then become so changed that there must be an increase in governmental activity to control the wealth for business efficiency. I would not do wrong to the great corporation, but I don't intend to rely only on the big corporation's good nature to see that the corporation doesn't do harm against me. I want to see such a control of the wealth now gathered for business uses as to favor the honest man who uses the wealth generally for the service of the public and to make the dishonest man feel that he has to do what is right; and if he doesn't feel it, we shall see to it that he does. That is my whole creed.

ADVERTISING.

One of the greatest business developments of modern times, both in importance and in intelligence, is American advertising. We say American, because the psychology and knowledge of the public which are required in this country today are unknown to advertisers or advertising agents on the other side. From the point of view of efficiency, of originality, it is an absolutely new business, having little in common with the old accidental methods. The head of the advertising department of a large publication today ought to be, in intellectual equipment, in profundity of study, in executive power, in frankness of ideas, fully the equal of the publisher, the editor and the circulation manager. Things are now done on a scale so large that it is impossible for any one man properly to manage more than one of these big departments. The successful head of such a business is he who can select men for these positions so able that they can work with independent initiative, although of course, if any business is greatly to succeed there must be, of broad mind, executive talent, and constant attention, through whom all these elements are co-ordinated. It is only within a few years that in publications the advertising manager has taken his place on an even intellectual plane with the editor or the general manager, and a similar position has been won for the same kind of work in advertising agencies and in the advertising departments of great industries. The advertising expert now does work almost as creative as that of the "empero-builder" of half century ago.

YOUR OWN BURDENS.
They only can bear others' burdens who quietly and firmly bear their own burdens. The principle of service involves the possession of strength. To stoop in pity one must first have learned to stand erect. Each one who bears his own burden has added to him the further blessing that he may bear others' burdens too.—F. C. Peabody.

Subscription Price, Payable Strictly in Advance, $1.00 per year.

Entered as second-class mail matter March 1, 1878, at the postoffice at Rahway, N. J., under the name of HERALD SQUARE.

RENEWALS: The date appearing on the front page of this newspaper shows to what date your subscription has been paid.

TO AVOID UNKIND CRITICISM: Do Nothing, Do Nothing, Do Nothing.

The News-Herald is exercising every effort within its power to place before its readers the news of the day in the most complete and accurate manner.

Some people have the notion that news items must be paid for. This is not the case, but the contrary, news is welcome and earnestly solicited.

Through the American Press Association, the News-Herald is again offering to its subscribers a special rate for the year ending December 31, 1910.

An illustration elsewhere in this issue graphically presents the case of one victim of vaccination. Is there any parent among the readers of the News-Herald who would by choice, subject his children to the risk of such a practice?

Why does President Taft, at this late hour, announce his intention to cross the mountains fairly in the distribution of federal patronage?

The Progressive Republicans of Rahway, having shown their independence of the Machine should now assemble with those Democrats who are not big game in their subservience to party, select a municipal ticket that will merit support.

Congressman Fowler made a gallant fight and lost. Everyman from the earliest dawn of American history, who has first stood for the right and then for the wrong, has been a martyr.

Our Twice-a-Year Sale of Used Pianos

Please Note, with the Exception of Our Special Christmas Sale We Hold Only Two Such Sales a Year.

Begins Tomorrow!

Disposal of Our Accumulation of Pianos, Piano Players, Player Pianos and Organs—Offering Splendid Instruments at Very Low Prices and Upon Our Terms of Easy Payment

You Can Be Sure of Your Piano We Know the Pedigree of Every Instrument in This Sale, and Stand Behind it with Our Guarantee.

Our Semi-Annual Sale of Used Pianos will be held tomorrow morning on the Twelfth floor, New Building.

These twice-a-year sales have become such a feature of our piano business that it seems almost unnecessary to go into argument or details.

The majority of these instruments have come to us in the regular course of our business, in exchange for new pianos or player-pianos.

Every one of them was an instrument of merit or we would not have taken it, for we took it at a cash value.

Every one of them has been put through our factory, thoroughly gone over and put in perfect condition.

A few of them came to us from the Chickering factory and one other factory with which we have regular dealings.

We buy no samples or any sale pianos. We know the history of each of our used pianos, and everybody knows the history of our new pianos, most of which have reputations half a century old.

These sales offer splendid opportunity to the beginner of music, to schools, to institutions and to others who desire an instrument of known pedigree, but who are not prepared to pay the price of a new piano.

This year our collection of instruments is not as large as it has been on some former occasions; and as we have sold as many as 217 pianos on the first day of the sale, we would suggest that all who would like to look at one of these instruments come as early as possible.

The Sale Begins Tomorrow Morning at 8.30 On the Twelfth Floor of Our New Building

Any one who wants to get a piano of refined tone, artistic in appearance and about the price usually charged for one of inferior grade will be sure to find an instrument in the splendid collection noted below.

The range in price gives some idea of the savings that may be expected—but you will not appreciate the character of these instruments until you have seen and tried them yourself.

One of the merriest, happiest, jolliest fun-loving gatherings of young folks in this city was that of Saturday afternoon, when Miss Elsie Reed entertained as guests twelve pretty girls, deck make of Miss Elsie from the Newark office of Whitehead and Hoag. The visitors arrived early at Bryant Terrace, their destination, and the music of happy voices was soon heard mingling with the sighing wind, and the singing of wild birds. The happy guests sang, laughed, joked, romped, told stories, sang again, and kept it up till a dainty supper was set on the veranda where, the girls confided, eat, enjoy, the Jesters' breezes and laugh as much as they pleased—which they did. Shortly after sunset all departed for their homes. While at the R. R. station people on the platform thought a delegation from the Garden of Eden had arrived, and they might. The names of the visitors were the Misses Anna Baird, Carolee Buchanan, Florence Swartout, Bessie McConnell, Edyth Inwood, Rose McLaughlin, Laura Gore and Elva Whitford. A large share of the afternoon was taken up in photographing different groups, combinations and individuals. Miss Elsie Reed is taking a well-earned long vacation to rest up thoroughly.

Mr. J. L. Hunt, in giving a brief sketch of the pleasant outing that he enjoyed at Little Moose Head Lake this summer says: "Talk about your pictures for the summer, and you will find that the best ones were taken near the shore of the lake that has all the water in the world. I was walking along through the deep shade, at about noon, when I saw a flash of a fish. I was looking at the water, the occasional splash of a fish jumping after a fly, when all of a sudden, a hundred feet in front of me, up sprang a young deer about a year old, that had evidently been awakened from sleep. The sylph like creature had not seen me, but I saw it. BRIEF ITEMS OF LOCAL NEWS Conductor Wm. T. Connors, of Atlantic City, a week earlier than expected, owing to the illness of Mr. Connors. Mr. Connors reports the most wonderful decorations he ever saw. Fully 10,000 veterans were swarming the walls. Not a particle of the walls of hundreds of the buildings could be seen on account of the flags, bunting, wreaths, emblems and decorations of red, white and blue. Bands are playing, crowds are marching and the air is being shaken that have not clasped before in forty-five to fifty years and many tears are being shed. Michigan is represented by Company B. Fourth Michigan V. I. (See below editorial that looks like been the half a dozen are the members of the 125 boys who went to the front in the '90's and two-thirds of whom never came back. Other regiments are also there and there are those comrades who are there and those of us who are not. "Flag Salute".

MR. JAMES A. DALY

James A. Daly, one of the bustling business men of Upper Rahway, whose photograph adorns the accompanying sketch, was born in Rahway, where his home has been for his life time. Mr. Daly was manager for ten years of the firm of J. J. Donahue, until the latter's death and is now conducting a successful meat and grocery business at the original plant, Grand and Church streets, and doing well. Mr. Daly has a host of friends among the friends, being a member of Independence Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, and also a member of the exempt associations. His belief in the future of Rahway is encouraging and extremely hopeful and he is working hard to assist in the up-building of the city, especially that part known as Upper Rahway.

THE COAL MAN

Where, oh where, has my coal man gone? With his chin so high, and a smile on his face; With his form so erect, and a lordly air; Has he done his work, has he won his race? Oh say, whenever you see him again, Will you tell him, I missed him from his own old place? His air was so jolly it gave me cheer, Has he done his work, has he won his race? 'Twas a lovely ad, I hope he has won; 'Twas a coal in his form was full of grace; But if he comes again, how glad I'll be, To see him once more, with his smiling face.

COMMUNICATED

Dear Sir:—On last Tuesday evening a regular meeting of Common Council a communication was received from members of our police force, asking that a resolution be passed, granting them a pension when they have served twenty years, as a reward for faithful duty. Now why should they be granted a pension? Are they not paid for the services that they perform? Why should the people be taxed, in order that a certain class may be granted a pension? They have served a certain number of years? They have chosen their work because it was preferable to what they are presently going on the force, and not only that, they have a permanent position guaranteed under the tenure-of-office act, which is something to be considered. This pension granting is something that the people should stop and consider. It's not only the police that are asking for it, but the school teachers, the letter carriers, and if they are granted pensions, the time will not be far distant, when everybody that holds public office for a certain length of time, will also want a pension and they will be just as much entitled to it as those already mentioned. It was the people who have to keep on paying taxes in order to maintain a system that they cannot participate in. The people to support the other third, is unjust. The one-third may argue that they pay the same tax as the other two-thirds do, so they do, but the two-thirds will receive no benefit. Why are these certain classes entitled to pensions any more than the class that goes down in the mines to work at the risk of life in order that we may have coal, iron and other raw material? Why are they entitled to pensions any more than the men that go into the factories and work from morning until night in order that we may have the necessities of life? or the men that do the tax-paying and the necessary throughout the country; the servants, just as well as the policeman, school teacher, letter carriers, or the judges? Are they guaranteed permanent positions? Are they guaranteed any time that they may receive notice at any time that "this factory will be closed until further notice," and they have no guarantee of steady employment, and receive no relief, except through some organization that they may be admitted with, and every member pays an assessment and shares alike. Now it is a grand thing to know that, when you shall reach a certain age, or become physically incapacitated, that you are going to have some relief at hand; it is a grand thing to know that, when you shall reach a certain age, or become physically incapacitated, that you are going to have some relief at hand; it is a grand thing to know that, when you shall reach a certain age, or become physically incapacitated, that you are going to have some relief at hand.

LIBRARY ACQUISITIONS

The local history department of the Rahway Public Library has recently been added to by purchases made at the Edgar auction. Major G. P. Edgar had made a collection of newspapers and many of these are interesting and valuable. Old newspapers giving accounts of the death of Wm. H. Harrison, one containing this note on the margin: "George Patton Edgar from his grandfather, April 10, 1841." The N. Y. Tribune from April 14, 21, 1865 giving an account of the death and funeral of Abraham Lincoln. Gardiner's assassination and funeral and Grant's funeral, were among the papers bought. Also The Mount Carmel Register, March 28, 1862, containing a letter written by Major G. P. Edgar from headquarters, first division, eight miles from Fort Henry.

Y. M. L. FOOTBALL TEAM GETTING IN SHAPE

The football team which this year will represent Young Men's League, is rapidly rounding into the form required to play the great gridiron game. Three spirited practices were held this week, Coach Boston instructing the different men concerning the fine points of the game. Roland Russell, for three years a star tackle on the local high school team and last year's half-back on the Rutgers' Freshmen eleven, has added his name to the list of candidates and will undoubtedly make a fine position. As a member of the league team of a year ago, was out for practice this week. Another important acquisition to the team's strength is Mr. Lockhurst, of Bryant street, formerly a player at Lehigh University. The chances of a successful season are growing brighter with each practice. The game with the high school on Saturday will probably be postponed.

RESPECT THE RULES.

From Walter Camp's "The New Rules in Football" in October St. Nicholas. "The football readers of 'St. Nicholas' may find some assistance not out of place in explanation of the new rules governing the sport this fall. To any one reading the code through there appears so much that is complicated as to make something of this nature, even to the oldest and most experienced players, almost a necessity. When rules are made they must be respected even though it takes a great many words to insure a sufficiently clear understanding. To accompany the rules comes a code laborious with this problem for several seasons, and the result, it is not surprising, makes the rules look decidedly heavy. Some points, however, are perfectly simple, and yet they will cause very radical change in the play itself.
