"The Cub," Thompson Buchanan's laugh-creating satire on the Kentucky feudists, at the Majestic Theatre, in Brooklyn, this week, beginning Monday evening. This will be a continuation of the auccessful New York Trun which was interrupted at the Comedy Theatre, owing to prior bookings. "The Cub" has created more genuine laughs than any comedy seen in New York this season. with the exception of "Baby Mine." It is in every sense of the word a fun-maker. Its humor, however, is of a satirical rather than burlesque character and the laughs are cleancut and spontaneous. Young Fairbanks plays the role of a "cub" re porter and gives it a "go" and comedy interest that is irresistible. The scenes of the play are melodramatic. but this is simply utilized as a background for ridiculing the senseless

The event will be signalized by the presentation of souvenirs and handsome satis programs. There will also be a
