are generally credited with. ing the present session of the legislature to secure the enactment of a law that will bring about effective reforms in the jury drawing system. The bill provides that in every county i jury commissioners, to be appointed by the justice of the Supreme Court holding the Circuit Court in the county. The board shall consist of three residents of the county not holding any other office and each of whom while serving as a jury commissioner shall not be eligible to any other publie office. The appointing judge is authorized to fix a salary for the commissioners at not less than $100 nor more than $500 per annum for The method prescribed for drawing jurors, under the proposed law, is as follows: ... "The board shall, from the persons qualified for jury duty in the county, make and keep two lists of jurors, to be designated respectively the "grand jury list" and the "petit jury list." The number of persons named on the grand jury list shall at no time be less than 300 nor more than 500; on the petit jury list, never less than 400 nor more than 1,000. revise, strike off and add to said lists in order to improve the character of the juries, and to make just distribution of service upon jury duty among those persons well qualified therefor in the county." viding that in actions brought by resson of the death of any person by wrongful act, neglect or default, the "jury shall give as damages no less than $5,000." If passed this bill would make impossible a repetition of the famous verdict of six cents damages for a child's life which was upheld by Justice Gummere.

In all of the counties of the state the matter of detention schools have been serious problems. Young girls and boys are placed under arrest and for the want of a better place they are thrown into the county fails for conditions that Mr. Egan introduced judges in counties to appoint five persons, one of whom shall be a woman, who with the judge shall constitute the board of trustees of a detention school of such county, and provides! for the purchase of lands and the erection of buildings thereon in which to detain juvenile delinquents under Testimony of a startling

His speech was account that or wrong, the other Lorimer's cause is right or wrong. Bailey made it look as if right.

The activities of the Lorimer lobby recall the old and palmy days of the lobbying art. Several Senators have become disgusted at the tactics of Lorimer's friends, and one or two enraged by the insults offered. George R. Peck, of Chicago, general counsel of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, is probably the most prominent of the railroad representatives working for Lorimer. Peck is probably better acquainted with more individual Senators than any other professional or business man in the whole country. He often is in Washington when legislation affecting the railroads is before the Senate. He has been there for more than a week exerting his influence to save the seat of the Illinois boss. Peck is a partner of John S. Miller, of Chicago, counsel for the Standard Oil Company, and for the stockyards packers, who are the political patrons The interest of the railroads in Lorimer is well known in the political world. W. C. Brown, president of the New York Central, is a director of the La Salle Street National Bank, the financial institution founded by Eorimer. The Illinois Central likewise has a deep interest in the retention of Lorimer in the Senate. John G. Drennan, attorney for that line, has been in Washington, talking to Senators in behalf of Lorimer. President Taft's influence is being exerted against Lorimer. Speaker Cannon is working to save Lorimer and by their line-up for and against him the leading men at the capitol can be easily classified. Progressives of both parties, who are honestly serving their constituents are against Lorimer to a man.

That the gratuitious insults flung at the special committee appointed by the Council to take up the question of track elevation were entirely out of place and unjust is shown by the most expeditious and conscientious efforts they have put forth and the results they have accomplished in have taken the commission form of on him in every move he makes in so brief a space of time. I need only to call your attention to the fact that at fire as, a preventive measure was "recommended" to the people, and that later, when the people seemed to have lost what faith they may have had in its efficacy, the cherubic organizations of the allopathic school stealthily approached the various state legislatures and burdened the peoples of the several states with enactments fostering the compulsion of this peculiar practice. In my own city, when the public schools opened, in the fall of 1908. for the purpose of disseminating to the childhood of that community—what. of education each was able to accept, an officious physician very bluntly announced through the public press that he would immediately set about to vaccinate every child in that city regardless of their parents' religious opinions, medical convictions, or previous condition of servitude. It was R my pleasure as well as my duty to announce in the next issue of the same papers that the city-physician-would-not-vaccinate-any child-in-that community without the full written consent of that child's parent or parents with which even Daniel Webster Trembley himself will find it hard to pick a flaw. That Councilman Trembley should have been so unjust and unreasonable in his comment upon the work of the committee as to cause the for the fact that the work of the committee was practically completed at the Wednesday night meeting there would have been an effort to induce him to remain a member.

An Intellectual Treat. energy and integrity in the conduct of tue-since's educational affairs, but their participation in political campaigns has been characterized byeverything that points to proper offi-cial grasp. It is regrettable that a Colorado women's political meeting can not be staged and carted about the country as an educational exhibit, for it would be a veritable "eyeopener." Equal suffrage has developed some notable speakers and debaters among the women, and it is an intellectual treat to hear the political addresses of such gentlewomen as Mrs. Helen Grenfell, Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, Miss Gail Laughlin, Mrs. Helen Ring Robinson, Miss Ellis Meredith and a score of others. Women the Best Speakers. As a matter of fact, absolute honesty forces the confession that the average women's political meeting is far finer, more effective and inspiring than those held by men. The proud male, accustomed to long-winded harangues full of brag, bluster and abuse-pompous orations without terwho speak and yet say nothing-suffers actual humiliation when he sees voman after woman get up, say her say concisely, intelligently, earnestly -every word counting-and sit down after a fifteen-minute speech in which she has said more than the usual campaign speaker says in two hours.

"Election Days Quiet. It is also to be wished that a Colo rado election day could be taken on tour. If "tourist critics" are to be believed, and credence given the anonymous liars that "stuff" the Eastern press, the Colorado election is a rare combination of Moulin Rouge orgy and Western dance-hall scene. It is a shame to spoil so colorful an illusion, but truth compels the humilisting admission that election day in Colorado is marked by the most absolute matter-of-factness, the very quintessence of normality. Excited by accounts of the doings of English "suffragettes," and keyed to high expectation by lurid slanders, the visitor comes primed for something beyond the ordinary, and is pained and disappointed to find no departure from the usual. The day, except for an entire lack of drunkenness and disorder, is not one whit different from election days in states where only male suffrage obtains.

Mrs. Grenfell's Happy Experience. Mrs. Helen Grenfell, three times elected state superintendent of public instruction, has made three campaigns through the state, visiting every county, and may properly be regarded as an expert witness. "In seventeen years' exercise of the franchise." Mrs renfell testifies, "I have yet to see an intoxicated man, to hear an oath, or .see discourteous action toward any woman at the polling places, although informed that in rare instances such things have occurred in a few of the less desirable localities."

It is not the Colorado custom for women to electioneer, but even in those cases where they remain about the polling places, distributing literature or cards, dignity is rarely laid aside and even the familiarities of persuasiveness are not employed here is an unwritten law among them that forbids this sort of thing, and the woman who wishes to play an important part in politics must carefully guard against the disapproval of her sex. This, of course, applies to the resi-ence wards and the average family The Red-Light Vote. And in this connection, let the vote of the "red-light" district be considered. For if the word of stander is to be taken, Colorado electione are conrolled by the "Emmoral vote." This is a charge that is easily made, and one very effective with many worthy people, for bare mention of

nance that is opposed to fair considone or two assumptions must be made.

Either there are more than decent women in Colorado, or else the ostitutes vote and the decent women do not. Honest inquiry, however, meets with few difficulties. In Colorado prostitution is confined to lits four or five cities, and only exists in the balance of the state as a wind-

It's Easy to Claim "PURE DRUGS"

Every drug and chemical used here is actually tested either by us or by a reputable concern. We maist on purity absoutely. It costs us more, of course, for our material than it does less particular druggists, but we are satisfied with the increased patronage that rewards the superior quality of our goods.

Remember that this high quality costs you not a penny more than you are required to pay elsewhere. Isn't purity—prescription purity especially—worth coming here to get?
