ABOUT THE RAHWAY MOSQUITO

The recent experiments for the extermination of the mosquito by dynamite explosions in the Newark meadows have been watched with interest by many people of this city. By some the action of the State department has been understood and the instant doing away with this pest has not been expected but by others a conservative group of the nature of the experiments has been lacking and many complaints have been heard concerning the waste of money on which has so far been made by the authorities.

Prof. John B. Smith, the state entomologist, said in a recent interview that the mosquitoes that infest Rahway and its vicinity come from the Amboy swamps and not from the Newark meadows.

"The heavy rains toward the last month flooded the meadows and overflowed the drains," he explained. "The land is so low that the proper drainage in wet weather is impossible at present. When the floods come in from the sea the drains are overflowed and the eggs scattered and give a chance to hatch."

The professor then explained the nature of the mosquito from which the people of this section are now suffering. There are two kinds, namely the house and the swamp mosquito. The latter is the more numerous at the present time but it is much less dangerous than the former. It travels on the wings of the wind forty or fifty miles from its breeding place and when the opportunity for breeding is passed it gets scattered over the landscape and is destroyed by storms and insects. Its elimination and ultimate extermination is only a question of time.

The house mosquito, however, which at present is not very plentiful, is the dangerous kind. It resembles the fly in that it has the power of spreading disease. It never travels from its breeding place and has the power to transmit from one person to another malaria and malarial disease. The elimination of the house mosquito can be brought about by doing away with stagnant pools of water. Rain barrels and old tomato cans are the favorite breeding places for this household pest.

It can be seen therefore, that the instant extermination of the mosquito is impossible. The state authorities are working hard to make the Jersey mosquito a matter of history and it is believed that in a few years the pest will be eliminated to a large degree.

M. D. VALENTINE'S WILL PROBATED.

By the will of M. D. Valentine, late of Woodbridge, died for probate at the surrogate's office, he leaves all his property in Woodbridge, bounded by Green street, Valentine avenue, Grove street and Perth Amboy to his widow, Rachel Valentine, together with the same.

All of the rest of his property is to be divided equally between his wife and his daughter, Grace Valentine Duggan. His wife and daughter are executors. The will is dated September 17, 1907, and is witnessed by Edward S. Savage, of Rahway, and Albert Bruns, of Brooklyn.

J. Louis Hargrett, hotelkeeper, at Linden, aged 44 years, died, following extended illness, Sunday afternoon, at his home, leaving a wife and six children. The deceased was a member of several fraternal and benevolent organizations. The funeral was held at the home today, with interment in Linden Road cemetery. Rev. R. Roche, of Westfield, officiating.

and the future of the city itself by passing a Track Elevation Ordinance to suit the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and ignoring the wishes of the people of Rahway.

These are the men who ignored the pleadings of the citizens of Rahway, whose interests they are sworn to protect, and voted to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company the most valuable franchise that this city ever had or ever will have.

Of these nine men, three are employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad, one is the son of an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and still another in close business relations with the company. Of another it is reported he has been promised a lot of business by the Pennsylvania Railroad if the ordinance went through as they wanted it.

These are the men who ignorantly believe that they are far greater than all the other citizens of Rahway combined, and in their ignorance have saddled themselves with a responsibility that the man of average civic intelligence would shudder at. It may be that in the near future they will awaken with a jolt.

BRIEF ITEMS OF LOCAL NEWS

By the side of St. George avenue near Demarest, the wreck of a burned auto, which has lain there since sometime Thursday night or early Friday morning, when people passing that way saw the ruins still smoking, but no clue as to who the parties were who had abandoned the machine that was evidently a beauty before the accident that started the conflagration. Mr. Frank Buland says the car is a Buick, but beyond that he knows nothing farther, as there seems to be no clue to the mystery at present.

The American Drum and Pipe Corps will journey to South River, Monday night, to compete with thirty other corps for a prize, returning Tuesday evening. The corps was a prize at Amboy on the Fourth, at the Mari Gras, and expects to do the same Monday night.

The Rahway Hebrew Association will meet Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the Main street residence of Samuel Miller to take proceedings toward securing a Rabbi, and having a synagogue for worship.

SOME INTERESTING LIQUOR STATISTICS

It has been argued by the anti-prohibition parties in the United States that the work of the prohibition league, etc., has done little or nothing to stop the increase in the sale of malt and spirituous liquors. In refutation of these arguments the Newark Star has printed the following statistics which show that liquor sales have not been on the increase for the past five years it also gives some valuable information regarding the liquor traffic in the United States. The article follows:

Statistics show that the consumption of all malt and spirituous liquors has been stationary in the United States throughout the past five years. In 1910 the total per capita consumption of all intoxicating beverages was 21.86 gallons. The yearly average for the preceding five years was 21.83 gallons.

Some very informative statistics are given in the American Grocer. These show that the consumption of imported and domestic spirits reached high water mark in the decade year of 1907. The consumption for that year is given at 140,884,456 gallons. In the ten years that followed the consumption decreased to 125,379,314 gallons in 1908, 1909, falling to 121,130, 063. In 1910 the consumption dropped back to 122,538,684.

Beer is shown to be the most popular of all American beverages. The following table shows the steady growth in annual consumption.

Year	Per capita	Total
1907	15.38	1,259,965,144

NEW DOVER NOTES.

Mr. H. W. Skinner, formerly of this place, is now superintending a road camp at Sherwood, California. Several men looking for work (7) passed through this place last week. After partaking of a hearty meal at several places the strenuous fever apparently died out. What was the use of working when food could be had for the asking? With an optimism to be envied, the would-be workers passed on their way rejoicing, and farm owners are still looking for help in the hay fields.

An entertainment by professional talent will be given at the residence of Mr. Charles Thomas on Tuesday evening, July 25. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

Mr. H. I. Wood, of South Orange, visited his mother, Mrs. S. Wood on Sunday last.

Mr. Jack Dunn returned last night greatly refreshed from an out-of-town vacation of a couple of days. Mr. Dunn was in charge of the business pleasure outing.

Miss Jane Gardiner, of Hamilton street, is at Yonkers, on a two weeks pleasure outing.

THE EXCEPTIONAL EMPLOYEE

Mr. Carnegie says: "The most valuable acquisition to his business which an employer can obtain is an exceptional young man. There is no bargain so fruitful."

By the exceptional young man, Mr. Carnegie means the one who is always looking out for his employer's interest, the young man who keeps his eyes open, who is always trying to make suggestions for improvement in the business, who is always studying for some better, simpler, more efficient way of doing things.

The exceptional boy or young man is the one whose main ambition is to help along the business, to further his employer's interests in every possible way; the one who stays after hours during the busy season to help out with the business; the one who is always ready to give a lift whenever needed, gives word of cheer to the discouraged. The exceptional young man is the one who makes suggestions for his solution of a valuable suggestion for his solution of a problem.

There is real merit in the resourcefulness called into action by the new, safe, reasonable way of celebrating the Fourth of July. It calls out all the inventive and historical love of the older people and it brightens the eyes and pleases the eyes of the younger ones, particularly if they are allowed to take part in what is going on with the new style of celebration. It is as beautiful and valuable in itself, as well as affording comfort from serious and deadly fires.—Newark News.

Anty Drudge is Progressive.

Mrs. Hattie—“I'd like to use a gas stove, but I need so much hot water for washing and scrubbing.”
Anty Drudge—“My dear woman! Are you progressive enough to use a gas range and still wash and scrub with hot water and old-fashioned soaps? Don't you know that with Fels-Naptha you can do all your washing and cleaning in cold or lukewarm water, do it easier and better than with hot water?”

Every woman knows what a nuisance a hot fire is on a summer's day. Fels-Naptha is a double blessing:

It not only does the washing easier and better, but it cleans the clothes in cold or lukewarm water without a grilling fire to boil them. No over-heated kitchen; no nauseating steam; no putting your hands into hot water to roughen and redden them.

Add to this advantage the saving of time, labor, fuel and clothes, and you have some idea why women who have once washed with Fels-Naptha will have no other soap.

But you must wash the Fels-Naptha way in cold or lukewarm water; never boil the clothes or use boiling water.

When you unwrap a cake of Fels-Naptha, pin the wrapper on the wall in your laundry, and follow the plainly printed directions.

Be sure it is a red and green wrapper.

A swimming hole of the old boyhood days variety is to be found in the river opposite the Ritchie home-stand on River street. The water is clear, the bottom is sandy and everything is ideal for an hour or so of pure aquatic delight. During the hot spell of last week the place was in use morning, noon and night. In the evening when the New York commuters returned from business they found the place a great deal more crowded than it was in the morning.

A number of Upper Rahway youths expect to take part in the aquatic meet at Newark on the 27th. Some of the best swimmers of the city reside in this section of the town and will undoubtedly do well. Among those who have stated their intention of entering are, Lester Hall, Elmer Armstrong, Oscar Garwin, Rolford Ayers, Otto Winter and Alfred Brooks.

If those who do not favor a "let alone" policy and who believe that there are certain reforms needed in Rahway will endorse the NEWS-HERALD's stand in these matters by commanding the merchants who have the courage to withstand the bluff of the fire department boycotters it will work to the advantage of the customer, the advertiser and the NEWS-HERALD.
