Schaefer's, of Westfield, is known as the Summer Store

Me cater to your Pleasure as well as your Wants-

We know that the thought of shopping in the Summer time is often terrifying In our new store you will find spacious aisles, each floor splendidly ventilated, stocks well arranged. And best of all, our salespeople are willing, gracious and smiling.

Now, what is it you are in need of? We are waiting to aid you with any and everything you can wish for things to wear, and the necessaries of your home.

To those who know us it is unnecessary now to talk of the style of our merchandise, of the good values it provides—that you know through years of satisfied purchasing. At present we have not only a profitable store, but a delightfully pleasant one. We want the people of Rahway to know us.

They'll find it worth their while.

It's only twenty minutes by trolley to Westfield—a delightful trolley ride through beautiful country. It's good just to have an excuse to take the ride. We'll gladly refund cartare on a purchase of even a dollar.

When you consider how much of our time we spend at home, we owe it to ourselves to make our homes look as beautiful as we know how, and as we can afford.

Some folks don't appreciate this a little bit. They spend money for all kinds of things lavishly except things for the house, and they, after all, are the most lasting pleasures we have.

Now there is poor Laura. I feel sorry for her: Her husband just won't give up money to buy new things for her home, and goodness knows they need it budly enough

Why, that fellow is slowly breaking her heart. Sometimes I've a mind to talk to him myself and tell him not to be so stingy.

Why don't you come up to see me. Don't wait for me to repay Always your friend,

THE NEWS OF NEWPORT

GAYETIES AT SOCIETY HUB PRETTY GOWNS, AND LATE SUMMER FADS THAT PRESAGE AUTUMN FASHIONS

This month marks the season's climax here as usual and even the wayfarer gets glimpses of celebrities and ruling belles at the semi-public Casino events, on Ocean Avenue and flitting about the shops, or coming or going from

The Coventry Coat The coventry coat which is the old box-pleated Norfolk jacket in development-is worn for yachting, golf and tennis rather cutting out the ever popular sweater, which still has many smart adherents. Another late extra coat is popular with the elect, though universally becoming it is if cut with reference to the points of the wearer's figure. A black satin made after this mode, worn by a woman whose hair was powdered with grey, had the long re vere and cuffs faced with beautiful filet lace of yellow tone, a patch of eye, and added to the apparent height and slenderness of the wearer. hat of white "crin" faced with purple and trimmed with a couple c plumes to match. A parasol of black velvet bordered with white and purple completed the costume. At The Casino Watching the tennis at the Casino the other day several advance styles were noted. Over a frock of white organdie printed with clusters of gay Sold flowers was worn a tiny coat of changeable blue taffeta shading to gray and pink, that was more sash, and hood than anything else. The hood completely hid the back of the coat except for the long tails that were like sashes. The front ended at the waist and had small reveres, edged with knife pleatings of the material—the same pleatings trimmed the sash, and formed rosettes about the taffeta covered buttons used simply for ornament. One sees many frills and ruches and knife pleatings introduced in the trimming of late Summer gowns, so it is safe to predict their use next season. Fringes also are increasingly used, but there is no disposition shown to change the clinging straight up and down outlines, that have so long prevailed. Fanciful Coats.

Coats of black satin are the standard for a wrap that covers the frock, and though the two toned styles are modish some of the handsomest ones are all black, with the cape-like hoods, and deveres covered by handsome lace in ivory tone, or ecru. Thin wraps of all sorts built of voile, chiffor marquisette and printed stuffs continue modish for more ornate wear and are made up in various loose coat and cape forms that slip easily over the For Yachting and Motoring.

Very natty are the new felt hats that have largely superseded straw for yachting, golf and motor wear. These come in all the steeple crown shapes, as well as in wide sailors and new touring shapes that are liked by the older women as well as by girls. Bound or not, with bands of ribbon, velvet or leather about the crown these come in white, belge, pearl and ecru, as well as in darker and more brilliant colors to match or contast with one's costume

The Blazer coats that rival the pleated Coventry, go very well with this kind of headwear. They are made up in white or stripes with patch pockets and facings to match the stripe, and are especially fetching on the tennis field, though they are worn nearly everywhere in the daytim.e
