Always Something New in the GIMBEL BLOUSE SHOP

Styles as Well as Prices Delight

Of all the new Blouses which have just arrived for holiday selection there are the odels which we could not refrain from illustrating. Pretty, are they not? Macrame lace in unusually pretty designs is used almost entirely for making the model at $6.95. The portion of the blouse is veiled with silk voile—where the other pair is lined withsilk of the same color-blue, brown or black. This gives a delightful color-effect! The tiny coke and collar are of imitation point Duchess lace.

White Duchess satin, in a delightful demi-tailored style, is $7.95. Double pipings of color around the sleeves, armholes, neck and front—the latter is finished with a wide frill of shadow lace and black chiffon. Even the pearl buttons are fastened in a distinctive way-with cross-The imitation filet lace in the $12.75 model is amazing. The under-sleeves of net are trimmed with both shadow and Valenciennes lace, and the plaits of the wide Paquin frill are held in place by dainty silk-covered buttons. Every blouse in this collection is charming, because it is a reproduction or an adaptation of an in ported model by Elise Poret, Augustine Thomas, Maurice Mayer, Samuels, Goupy, Agnes or other Parisian

Santa Claus Is Keeping Open House In the Wonderful Combined Gimbel TOY and BOOK STORES

Everywhere, on this broad spreading floor, he makes his presence felt to thousands of delighted little boys and girls and to their grown-up companions. It is he, through Gimbels, his willing representative, who has gathered this great collection of bewitching dolls for good little girls—from the Paris beauty with her fine wardrobe, and the operatic doll who sings, and the talkative doll who says "papa" and "mama" ever so nicely, to the Gimbel dollar doll who surely is a peach, and the funny little doll baby whose face is all screwed up in an expression of baby-woe. It is Santa Cluas who has brought all the amazing mechanical toys—the trains that whizz and warships that go, and the fire-trucks, and patrol wagons, and every-thing else that goes by electricity and clock-work. And the facinating menagerie of woolly dogs, and fierce lions, and rabbits, and goats, and sheep, and pussy cats, that are just as sure of a warm welcome as can be, from their baby friends. And Santa Claus is going to be very glad indeed to have all his little friends see this wonderful Gimbel Toy Store to-morrow, and roam around it at their own sweet will for as long as they like.

Santa Claus confidentially said to us that he thought it quite the finest Toy Show in New York—

I somehow we're almost inclined to believe it. Come and see it all tomorrow. The BOK STORE extends an equally cordial welcome to the Christmas visitor. It is proud of its fine presentation of the new Gift Books of the year and their remarkably convenient arrangement.

One finds, for instance, tables of the newest publications of travel, biography, essays, art and literature. Here are Gift Books ranging from a dainty edition of the Rubaiyat in soft leather at 25c to a superb Faust in 1/4 levant, with illustrations by Polany, at $8. The collection of Children's Books is particularly large and most conveniently classified. There

A whole table is given to the various editions of Mother Goose, and there are the Cloth Picture Books from 5c apwards, and the Board Books, from Oc upwards, that are always wanted. In short, it is a Book Store of greatest helpfulness in this busy Christmas ason, and made to serve you well.

l'he Need

You admit the need for having a piano in your home, but you have not yet purchased Why? The real truth is there is no possible reason that the head of the home can offer the family for not getting one. NOW is an excellent time to secure one.

Nowhere is it possible to secure a piano under such favorable circumstances as here. We offer you a stock that in size and variety is the marvel of all who see it. It is easily ten times bigger than any other hereabouts, and it contains not only our own exquisite LAUTEK PIANOS, but STERLING, LAFFARGUE, LENOX, KOH-LER. M'CAMMON, CABLE, LLEWELLYN, WESER, and various other makes as well.

On the question of price, in conjunction with quality, you can buy a piano from us at a much lower price than you could anywhere else. Every price tag tells its own story, and prices are legitimate, for we have never indulged in dot-counting contests and other "schemes" that have meant the mulcting of the unwary and the credulous by unscrupulous dealers, through the devices of "club plans", "certificates" and other philan-thropies!

The holiday season has fairly begun. Our warerooms are open every evening until the holidays. You can have a piano by paying as little as TEN DOLLARS and agreeing to pay SIX DOLLARS
