TIME TO PAY THE RENT

Rahway is a community fortunate enough to enjoy a Y. M. C. A. which is operated as a community center rather than a club closed to everyone except those carrying membership cards. This means that John Jones, Bill Smith and his wife and children may enjoy the many benefits of the "Y" program without feeling like one who is spending his way.

The "Y" has made it easy for every individual in the community to share in paying the costs of operating the association according to ability to pay. This is done through the annual campaign which is now in progress. The "Rent" for the year, including food, repairs, upkeep, replacement, heat, light, fuel and the like is $10.00. That is what the community is being asked to contribute this year in order that the same fine program of the past may be offered to the public.

This may sound like a considerable sum of money, but divided up among the hundreds of users of the "Y" it really amounts to very little. Two dollars a family would bring in all the money needed for operations next year. There are some who will not be able to evaluate the intangible values of the "Y" and will therefore make no effort to contribute. This means that those who do contribute will have to make their contribution a poorer day instead of about a half a cent. Since a figure certainly doesn't appear large enough to throw the family budget out of line.

WHAT DO YOU GET FOR YOUR MONEY?
The "Y" is open to all groups who wish to use the facilities for non-profit making activities. Any organization which seeks a meeting place may use the provided facilities have not already been reserved. Churches, fraternal and civic organizations are enjoying these privileges every day.

The "Y" conducts, with the cooperation of the schools, a swimming campaign every spring for both boys and girls to insure greater water safety during the summer months. Any boy or girl who is unable to swim is given instruction at no cost.

A stay-at-home camp is conducted by the association during the summer months to help those who are not fortunate enough to be able to go to a camp outside the city. A nominal fee is charged primarily for the use of materials. Veterans have been extended every courtesy during the past several years. Now the "Y" is issuing free membership cards for a sixty-day period so the vet can enjoy himself and have a place to meet the pals he may not have seen for several years.

Programs have been and will be organized to bring the young married folks of the community together in activities which will give this group a chance to get acquainted with each other to the end that a greater community spirit may be developed.

The "Y" is used for basketball leagues throughout the winter months. The "Y" is open to the bowling league of the city and there is no premium charge for their use.

Industrial plant organizations find the "Y" ever so cooperative in providing facilities for meeting and recreation throughout the year. The Church Federation Recreation Association and the Rahway Recreation Commission, operated by the city, likewise receive the close cooperation of the "Y" staff with a result, many of the meetings of these two organizations are held in the building.

With the addition of a physical director and a boys' work secretary, programs are being extended into the community with clubs meeting in homes and in centers throughout the city. This will bring directed activity to an even larger number. You couldn't ask much more or any organization.

Your chance to show your appreciation of what the community has done and is doing is now at hand. If you believe in what the "Y" is doing and if you feel the work is worth something to you and to the community, you certainly should lay aside something for the man who will call at your door for a contribution to the "Y", your community center.

LET'S CHECK THE RECORDS
Any community which has gone in for a cheap type of housing, has sooner or later found itself in a bad way financially after a short period of years. The reason is simple. Low-cost housing turns in a small income to the city. There are just as many children coming from homes which turn in a small income to the city as from the home which turns in a larger sum. The cost of police and fire protection for the small home is as great as for the larger one. The cost of streets, sewers and the like is also great.

All these services cost money. This money must come from taxes. Taxes are based on assessment. If the assessment is low then the tax rate comes high. If the assessment is high, then the tax rate is low. Cheap housing doesn't turn in the taxes which are required to keep a high standard of service. This means that the industries and business organizations of a city have to carry the burden. There is a limit to what they can absorb or should be looked upon to absorb. We need industries here and nothing should be done to drive them out or to keep other industries from coming here.

With these facts in mind, it would be well for the city to set a definite policy on the type of construction which is to be permitted here. Settling this question now would be far better than permitting development along lines which can lead only to exorbitant taxes or a lower standard of general service.

LOUISIANA PURCHASE

Concluded April 30, 1803, by James Monroe and Robert Livingston, who declared as he signed the papers:

"The instruments which we have just signed... prepare ages of happiness for innumerable generations."

The "immense and fertile plains" drained by the Mississippi were thus added to the nation at a cost of $30 per acre. On these plains American agriculture has grown and thrived until today the world looks for a major part of its sustenance to Our Democracy.

The Home Front

by EDDIE HANF

Now that April showers have brought the green traffic light, the world is all set to "Go!" This is how Christopher Morley so aptly expresses it.

This week may come tripping in with cascades of lilacs and blossoms in her hair, (caterpillar of course). For me the spring has not arrived until the lilacs are in full bloom. I never seem so many purple clusters of them as there are going down Harrison street to Oliver. They're a feast to the eyes and a joy to the nostrils. The pink and white drooping trees, too, have outdone themselves to provide the most beautiful spring scene in years.

Like the poet, Spring-Fountain, how many millions of April came before I ever knew! How white a cherry globe could be a bed of squills, how blue!

What a squill it can only take Webster's word for—a bulbous plant, well known in the Mediterranean area. Perhaps that's not familiar to these parts. Just imagine beds of blue, round, translucent on earth and that is near.

Besides lilacs, spring means baby clothes, soft and cuddly. Fanny Scott, manager of the Spring Clean-up, presented us with a moving picture of the two little grey-eyed babies who are.

Moving Day Marches
One by one the teams go up and down the city streets with trucks and outfit. With every load, the progress is being up and down. The trucks are finding home corners, which is amazing. Even the Hollywood stars are having their "house" only more of a swimming pool.

Moving has its good points for it gives opportunity to move the white elephants and other monstrosities. Father says to those "old-timers" he never could get rid of. Outmoded frocks of yesterday, and other humiliating evils, are disposed of. One should move often and thoroughly and if the odds are too deep into the furniture in different places. Change is stimulating. Just play the clucking tune of "Upset the Dishes" and get out of the rut.

With the shortage of houses, cars, butter, sugar, staples and luxuries are very scarce. I saw with our staff of life "hang" in the balance. It's pleasant to think of those things in life that are abundant and better still "for free."

There isn't a shortage in kindness; that's a joy we can share with all. And there isn't a shortage in elation; that's something we each can instill. There isn't a shortage of courage; that's a marvelous strength for wear; it's rich and it's really enduring and new life old and thrushy. There isn't a shortage of laughter; and there isn't a lack of fun; their aren't any limits on friends; so many there are to be won.

Urge Cleanliness In Safety Action

There is more than pride in cleanliness — it is safety — Chief W. H. Hoffman reminded today.

In a direct appeal to housewives, he urged them to marshal the family into a clean-up, fix-up and repair "task force" to make this year's Spring Clean-up Campaign a concerted drive against fire hazards.

"Each housewife would take charge of the Clean-Up Campaign, we should not only have the cleanest city, but the safest place in which to live," he asserted.

Half of all fires in the nation occur in homes, Chief Hoffman said, quoting figures of the National Fire Prevention Association. "The danger of fire is a constant one," he said. "When you sleep to think that you are safe, you realize how important it is to wipe out the fire hazards."

But even more disturbing is the fact that fire attacks a home in the United States every 50 seconds, and one out of 10 homes is burned to the ground each year.

"We never know when fire will strike, but there is one thing we can do and that is to eliminate the fire hazards in our homes. Spring cleaning time is the best time to wipe out the fire hazards and make our homes safe."

In repairing and remodeling, make sure fire-resistant materials are used and give the home adequate protection. Chief Hoffman emphasized. Roofing material, such as asphalt shingles, which will resist chimney sparks; fire-retardant wall protection between the living quarters and attached garage; and good quality construction, such as metal lath and hard plaster in the furnace room, will greatly reduce the menace of fire, he said.

With the shortage of houses, cars, butter, sugar, staples and luxuries are very scarce. I saw with our staff of life "hang" in the balance. It's pleasant to think of those things in life that are abundant and better still "for free."

There isn't a shortage in kindness; that's a joy we can share with all. And there isn't a shortage in elation; that's something we each can instill. There isn't a shortage of courage; that's a marvelous strength for wear; it's rich and it's really enduring and new life old and thrushy. There isn't a shortage of laughter; and there isn't a lack of fun; their aren't any limits on friends; so many there are to be won.

Has anyone a good recipe for "Apple Pie Dewey"? I have the "Shoofly Pie" from Mrs. Wise V. Singer but can't find one for that "wonderful stuff" the pie eaters are craving so wistfully about. Would appreciate one very much.

HEALTH HINTS

"Health Hints" is a regular contribution to this paper by The Medical Society of New Jersey. Questions should be addressed to the Editor of the Society, 215 W. 4th Street, Trenton 5, N. J.

THE WORLD'S BEST DISINFECTANT

Know what the world's best disinfectant is? Not iodine or bichloride, nor formaldehyde or Vio-ly. But soap. Plain ordinary, unperfumed soap. Scrub-brush, bowl and soap: these are the timely of sanitation and safety. Clean hands, clean bodies, clean beds are passports to full and abundant health. But this fact has not always been recognized.

A law was passed in Boston in 1945, making bathing unlawful, except when specifically ordered for medical reasons. And Philadelphia had a law prohibiting bathing between November and March. Virginia considered bathing a luxury and levied a tax of $40 a year on every bathtub in the state.

Personal cleanliness has advanced a long way since those days. Now we recognize it as important to health. Normal skin, clean, disinfected, and healthy. The palms of the hands have the power to destroy bacteria more rapidly than any other part of the body. Dirt or oil on the skin retards this action and bacteria remain alive for a much longer time.

The best way to keep the hands clean is to use soap.

Your Garden This Week

By Fred D. Oman, Union County Agricultural Agent

Right now we're in the midst of real planting for spring has begun. The ground is getting warm and everything is starting to grow. It's time to get busy in the garden.

You can still move and divide perennials. You can still move and divide perennials. You can still move and divide perennials. You can still move and divide perennials.

This need not stop you from using perennials because they can be moved even in the middle of the season. If you have a plant which is crowded, you can move it to a new place.

Now in the garden, you can keep on planting gladioli, and summer flowering bulbs which are now available. Plant does not matter. Plant does not matter. Plant does not matter. Plant does not matter.

Barger in Court Procedure Move

Orders District Court To Revert to Pre-War Work

Hon. John E. Barger, presiding judge of the Fifth Judicial District Court, for Union County, which district is composed of Rahway, Roselle, Clark Township, Winfield and Linden has instructed the clerk of the court to revert to the pre-war features of the court.

Judge Barger was instrumental in introducing many new features in District Court practice. It was his court that first constituted Night Court, in order that ill-fallen employees in war plants should not lose their jobs. Judge Barger was the first to order the use of women jurors in a district court and also the use of colored men and women as jurors in district courts. All the above features have worked out satisfactorily to the present time. Judge Barger has now instructed the clerk to revert to the pre-war features of the court.
