A report to the Public on the

Telephone Situation in New Jersey

BY CHESTER I. BARNARD, PRESIDENT NEW JERSEY BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

W/E ARE treating the present telephone service situation in New Jersey by methods much W like those we use in the event of a great fire, a flood or a hurricane. In this situation we need your cooperation and understanding. I want to tell you why we have this situ ation, the extraordinary accomplishments already achieved and what is being done to establish normal telephone conditions.

MORE PEOPLE ARE USING THE TELEPHONE THAN EVER Since V-J Day we have added 140,000 telephones to the number in use in New Jersey-double the those waiting for service a year ago now have it. Even so, the new demand has continued to be so We are handling a million more calls each day than a year ago. This is an increase of 25%. The telephone calling habits of the people of New Jersey have changed materially and today we are ecciving more and longer calls than ever before.

of telephones came upon us when we had no

In this situation we have connected to our switchboards every telephone that we could add. This, together with the extraordinary use of the telephone, has in some exchanges affected the quality of the service during some hours. This overloading is necessary for the utmost fair treatment of those waiting for service and it is important also to others already having service who want to communicate with them. Even with the heavy extra

In addition to the abnormally large number of telephones we have already added, we have enlarged 79 central offices and will complete additions to 84 more by the end of this year. Thousands of miles of wire in cable have been and are being Our chief supplier, the Western Electric Company, is working 'round the clock' and in this year will produce more new switchboard equipment than in any previous year in history. This out standing production record is being accomplished despite serious shortages of lead, steel and other basic materials affecting all industry.

NEW EMPLOYEES

Maintaining and operating the enlarged telephone system we are building requires many new employees. Within the past year we have secured and trained thousands of new people, most of them operators. Our force today numbers 22;660 -nearly 7,000 more than a year ago—and is being further increased as we move forward.

Our expansion program is well under way and exceptional progress has been made despite the difficulties. From now on we expect little difficulty in the supply of telephone instruments and before many months we hope that the central office equipment situation will be substantially is rationed, will probably plague our cable ex-pansion for a much longer time. The program we have planned will take some time to accomplish and calls for an outlay of 150 million dollars before we reach our goal, which is to provide more and better service for every telephone user.

Our engineers and operating managers have been alert, ingenious and imaginative in meeting this situation and our employees have been coop-erative and have worked long hours as their contribution to this vital public service.

WE APPRECIATE YOUR COOPERATION AND UNDERSTANDING On behalf of our entire organization I express to our customers our deep appreciation of their fine cooperation and understanding in this difficult period of expansion. This report adds up to one thing. We kave been and are doing and shall continue to do our utmost to give more and better service to everyone who wants it, and to do it always with courtesy and understanding.
