Agency Gives Data on Loss Of Tax Income to Rahway

One of the most frequently asked questions regarding Rahway's Lower Main Street Urban Renewal Project is "How much has the City of Rahway lost in taxes over the last five years as a result of the razing of the homes and business places?"

In answer to this question, it is first necessary to clarify some points.

Urban renewal regulations provide for the payment in credits of property taxes on agency-acquired property for a period of the full tax year in which a building is demolished.

Title by the Redevelopment Agency to the first property was acquired from Elwood and Herbert Dandridge on March 15, 1962, only three and one half years ago.

Under this formula, the following figures would apply: If there had been no redevelopment, the tax return for the years 1962 to 1964, inclusive, would have been $118,024.46. The amount actually collected was $49,357.94 plus a credit from the agency of $35,789.47, or a total of both for the three years of $85,147.41. This results in a $32,877.05 net difference.

$118,024.46

-85,147.41

Total $ 32,877.05 net difference

However, as Albert F. Goetz, chairman of the Redevelopment Agency, has pointed out, this is not a valid loss figure.

Due to the removal of buildings from the clearance area the cost of municipal services, such as police and fire protection, and garbage collection, have been drastically reduced. Business firms, including Rahway Brake Service, Rahway Lumber Co., Johnny's Garage, and Cooper & Furst, have built new facilities which are taxable at a higher value.

A favorable decision on the erection of a new Post Office is expected. The present Post Office is owned by the federal government and therefore is tax exempt. The new Post Office would be built according to a different concept whereby the building is constructed and owned by a private individual and leased to the Post Office Department. Under this system, the land and building are fully taxable.

The old Post Office building probably could be acquired by the city at an extremely low cost as the federal government would no longer have need for it. This building could be used for many municipal purposes, such as a police station or a fire station, than the construction of a new building.

At the time of the first acquisition, the city was receiving $37,462.82 from the clearance area of the project.

Completion of the Lower Main Street Project, consisting of a complex of 600 multi-family apartments, commercial and civic uses, will start in the spring of 1966. A tax return of approximately $200,000 a year is expected.

Four Two-Family Dwellings In 'A' Zone Given Approval

The Board of Adjustment, by a split vote on Monday night, decided to give favorable recommendation to an application for a variance which would allow construction of four two-family dwellings in an "A" residential zone.

The applicant is the Menlo Park Building Co., headed by Michael Dunn of Linden.

Approval of the variance by the Municipal Council would permit the builder to erect the dwelling on property at Lambert St. and Broadway. The property contains a total of 20,900 square feet. Under zoning regulations, a total of 30,000 square feet would be required if the houses were to be constructed in a "B" residential zone.

BEAUTY QUEEN—Miss Beth Bush, 19, of 1008 Raybon Ter. was crowned "Miss Excursion Day" at the Prudential Insurance Co. Athletic Association's 47th annual outing in Asbury Park on Friday. Miss Bush placed first among 56 entrants from Prudential's Newark home office.

The board voted without comment. Voting to recommend the variance favorably to Council were C. Gordon Miller, president; Leo Santowasso, vice president, and John Sefranka. Opposed were Herbert H. Klein, secretary, and Herman N. Wenson.

The board voted unanimously on July 13 to reject Menlo Park Building Company's application for a variance to construct the two-family residences. A rehearing of the case was requested this month by Mr. Santowasso after the applicant submitted revised plans which call for two-bedroom apartments in each of the houses instead of three bedroom apartments.

The board voted unanimously to recommend that Alexander Dulinsky of 434 Albertmarle St. be granted a variance to permit construction of an attached garage to a house being built on Lots 24, 25 and 26 of Block 602 on Plainfield Ave. Mr. Dulinsky also is the owner of the adjoining property which he said will become the site of a house. ## Project's Low Bid $774,357

The Army Corps of Engineers announced yesterday that a bid of $774,357 is "the apparent low bid" for the proposed flood control project along the Rahway River in this city.

The federal unit's New York District office said the bid was received on July 30 from the Grid Construction Co., Yonkers, N. Y. The office is making a pre-award survey of the construction firm and its capacity to do the work necessary on the local project.

No action will be taken until the survey is completed and a decision is reached, the Corps of Engineers office stated.

The flood control program, designed to eliminate flooding in the Lower Main St. Urban Renewal Project area and other sections along the river, is a joint effort of the Army Corps of Engineers, Redevelopment Agency and City of Rahway.

The federal government, through the efforts of US Senators Clifford P. Case and Harrison A. Williams Jr. and Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, has appropriated monies amounting to $605,000 for the Rahway project.

The flood protection facility will consist of a combination of earthen dikes, concrete bulkheads and other structures at the bridge crossings. The improvement will extend from Monroe St. along the west bank of the river, a distance of approximately two-thirds of a mile, to a point below East Hazelwood Ave. where it will make a right angle and cross Main St. to tie into the high ground there.

The total area to be protected contains approximately 37.4 acres and includes a section of the central business district.

Supporting work, such as new storm drains, lines, run off pumps, improvement of streets, relocation of public utilities, widening and paving of Augusta St., and the filling, grading and contouring of the area are part of the project.

The cost of the supporting facilities is allocated between the Corps of Engineers, Redevelopment Agency and City of Rahway.

Witnesses Set Baptism Date

The Rahway congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been informed of arrangements for a mass baptism during their "Word of Truth" district convention in New York's Yankee Stadium Aug. 24-29.

John Trosko Jr., area presiding minister, said convention officials have set the baptism for Aug. 27 at Orchard Beach on Long Island Sound. The beach was the site of the world's largest mass baptism, held by the Witnesses during their international assembly at Yankee Stadium in 1958, when more than 7,000 persons were baptized in 2½ hours.

A highlight of the coming assembly, Mr. Trosko said the baptism is arranged for the benefit of delegates who have "advanced in their study of the Bible to the point of dedicating the remainder of their lives to the service of God."

"While there are none in our local congregation who will be baptized in New York this summer, we will all nevertheless be in attendance," Mr. Trosko explained. "For those of us who have already undergone baptism the public ceremony serves as an excellent reminder of the heavy responsibility that rests upon us from the time we are baptized onward. It will be a joy to see hundreds take that important step in New York."

Employment in NJ Sets New Record Non-farm wage and salary employment in New Jersey expanded sharply in June, reaching another record high, according to estimates prepared by the State Department of Labor and Industry on the basis of its monthly employee survey.

The department estimates that 2,246,400 were employed in mid-June, exclusive of farm, domestic, self-employed, and unpaid family workers. This represented an increase of 30,000 from May and an expansion of 57,900 since a year ago June.

Surviving are her husband, Anthony D. Marino, and her brother, Elmer Shustrom of Coldwater, Mich.

MRS. JESSIE ANDRES Mrs. Jessie M. Andres of 1045 Stone St. died at her home on Aug. 4.

A native of Newark, Mrs. Andres resided there until moving to this city 10 years ago. She was a member of Zion Lutheran Church. Her husband, Henry Andres, died in 1947.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Atkins of Rahway and Mrs. Shirley Ferriday of Warren Township; a sister, Miss Ethel Longendyck of Pittsburgh, Pa., and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday by the Rev. Karl O. Klette of this city, a retired Lutheran pastor, in the Pettit Funeral Home, 371 West Milton Ave. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery, Hillside.

Palbearers were Allen, Thomas and Joseph Atkins, and Robert Ferriday.

Witnesses Set Baptism Date The Rahway congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been informed of arrangements for a mass baptism during their "Word of Truth" district convention in New York's Yankee Stadium Aug. 24-29.

John Trosko Jr., area presiding minister, said convention officials have set the baptism for Aug. 27 at Orchard Beach on Long Island Sound. The beach was the site of the world's largest mass baptism, held by the Witnesses during their international assembly at Yankee Stadium in 1958, when more than 7,000 persons were baptized in 2½ hours.

A highlight of the coming assembly, Mr. Trosko said the baptism is arranged for the benefit of delegates who have "advanced in their study of the Bible to the point of dedicating the remainder of their lives to the service of God."

"While there are none in our local congregation who will be baptized in New York this summer, we will all nevertheless be in attendance," Mr. Trosko explained. "For those of us who have already undergone baptism the public ceremony serves as an excellent reminder of the heavy responsibility that rests upon us from the time we are baptized onward. It will be a joy to see hundreds take that important step in New York."

REPORT HOME

DE-SALTING SOUTH JERSEY WATER SEEN SOLUTION TO DROUGHT

The outline of some real solutions to the water shortage in New Jersey began to emerge at a meeting held recently in the office of Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall.

Attending the meeting was an impressive roster of state, federal and industrial officials. These included Governor Richard J. Hughes, Senator Clifford Case and myself, Congressman Peter Rodino, dean of the New Jersey delegation in the House of Representatives, Secretary Udall, Joseph Swidler, chairman of the Federal Power Commission, Glen Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, Robert Roe, New Jersey Commissioner of Conservation and Economic Development, William Hyland, chairman of the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission, and three New Jersey power company executives, Robert A. Baker of Public Service Electric & Gas Co., William McElwain of Jersey Central Power and Light Co., and James P. Hoagland of the Atlantic City Electric Co.

Governor Hughes characterized the discussion as "highly productive." I agree. Two potential solutions to the water shortage were brought into focus at the meeting as clearly the ones which can and should be pursued. And the first steps toward achieving them were taken.

One is a long-range solution. That is construction of a nuclear-powered sea water de-salting plant.

The other is short-range. That is tapping existing ground water resources and transporting the water to the areas where it is needed.

The reason for the presence of the chairman of the AEC and the FPC and the private power executives was to explore the feasibility of establishing a sea water de-salting plant in New Jersey or elsewhere in the Middle Atlantic States.

This is a vast undertaking, with a number of complicating factors. At present, water produced by such a plant costs twice as much, or more, as water from reservoirs or wells. In addition, a vast amount of electricity is produced by such a facility and a market must be found for this power.

However, as one of those at the meeting remarked, water that looks expensive today may look very cheap indeed in a few years.

And, of course, there is a strong likelihood that as we do more research into de-salting and gain more experience in the techniques, the cost will come down.

The power company executives said they are ready to cooperate in establishing a grid of power lines which would transport this electricity to the areas where it is needed.

Secretary Udall said he will have scientists in his department embark immediately on what he termed a "pre-feasibility" study. That simply means a survey of existing data to determine whether a full-scale study is justified.

The Secretary said this will take three to four weeks and he will call a meeting when the survey is completed to determine the next step.

The full-scale study is expected to cost approximately $300,000. And Governor Hughes said that he will seek the cooperation of private industry, the Middle Atlantic Governor's Conference and, probably, some of the New England Governors in financing this study.

It was emphasized that a five-year time lag, at the least, is involved in construction of a sea water de-salting plant.

But the state can tap ground water resources in a much shorter time. There are underground water resources in South Jersey which are not utilized at present.

Governor Hughes supplied figures from the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development which show that 30 wells drilled in South Jersey would produce 30-million gallons of water per day and 180 wells would produce 180-million gallons per day.

Drilling the wells would be relatively inexpensive. The 30 wells would cost $5-million. Transporting the water to the Camden area also would not be exceptionally expensive.

But the Governor conceded that bringing the water to North Jersey would be, as he put it, "a headache in terms of transmission lines."

But, the consensus of the meeting was that this is the best possibility for drought relief and planning to utilize this source of water should be undertaken.

And Governor Hughes said he will ask the Water Resources Council and the Corps of Army Engineers to undertake a study which would verify the state's estimates of the water available in South Jersey and indicate the best means of transporting it to the areas of need.

The Governor also asked Secretary Udall about the possibility of direct federal aid for drilling wells and laying pipelines to utilize the South Jersey water. The Secretary pointed out that President Johnson would have to declare the drought-stricken states a disaster area before federal money could be made available.

Indicated the drought probably would have to go into the fifth year to bring on such a declaration.

Summarizing the meeting, it seemed to me that from it emerged, for the first time, a reasonably clear idea of where we have to go to solve the water shortage, and at least, the first steps we must take along that road.

NJ Savings Banks' Deposits Set Mark

Total deposits in New Jersey's savings banks are steadily approaching the $2 billion mark.

The 21 member banks with 50 offices showed a total of $1,946,840,179 as of June 30. This is an increase of $68,286,116 over the $1,877,554,063 in deposits with which the banks started the year, or a 3.69 per cent increase. All indications are that the $2 billion mark will be surpassed by the end of the year. The total increase for the 12 months from June 30, 1964, to the present, he continued, was $143,871,070, or a percentage increase of 7.90 per cent.

Hopes for Progress In Urban Renewal

The Rahway News-Record has been publishing a series of articles each week about the Redevelopment Agency and its work.

In the past four issues of this newspaper our readers have been given information about the Lower Main St. Urban Renewal Project, the agency's initial work, and the plans for the Rahway River flood control project in which the Army Corps of Engineers, City of Rahway and the agency will cooperate.

This city has been fortunate in that the Redevelopment Agency has shown progress with the Lower Main St. Urban Renewal Project. Other municipalities have not been as fortunate with their urban renewal projects. In New Jersey, both Elizabeth and New Brunswick have experienced tremendous difficulties. Entire blocks of property in the centers of those cities have been vacant for years. The loss in tax income to these cities has been sizeable and an added burden to the taxpayers.

A New York City newspaper recently described the plight of Buffalo, N. Y., where an urban renewal project approved by the federal government in 1952 is still uncompleted. The City of Buffalo has failed to enact a housing code, a necessary requisite for cities to qualify for renewal aid.

In 1952 the federal government approved Buffalo's plans to clear 160 acres of its worst slums and have a private developer build a moderate-income development. Thirteen years later five small houses stand on one corner of the tract. In another, foundations and frames are being constructed for what it is hoped will be 950 apartments. The remainder of the area is an overgrown lot with junk and piles of garbage and rat nests.

Buffalo also has earmarked 292 acres along its deteriorated waterfront for a vast urban renewal project that would include moderate-income housing, aimed at attracting the middle class to the city. Though planned in 1954 and approved by the Housing and Home Finance Agency in 1960, the project is still in the acquisition stage, with the first building yet to be demolished.

In view of the "progress" made in the first Buffalo project, that situation undoubtedly is a help to the city and its suffering taxpayers.

The Rahway News-Record is publishing another story about urban renewal in this city on page one of today's issue. Additional stories will be published in the future to inform the public about the project and future plans.

We hope that progress in the urban renewal field continues in Rahway and that the city shows that redevelopment can be a success.

Enforcement Needed To Prevent Slums

A course in current trends in housing inspection will be offered next month by Rutgers University and the State Department of Health. The course is limited to 40 persons employed full-time in housing inspection in a local program.

The course will cover general sanitation, building and zoning, plumbing, wiring, inspection forms and codes, enforcement and court procedures.

In view of the situation today when urban renewal programs are attempting to replace slums soon will grow up and more urban renewal programs will be needed.

The Redevelopment Agency in this city, with its rehabilitation area plans, is attempting to keep a section of older dwellings from deterioration. The results have been gratifying. But enforcement of the standards set by the city is a must if that rehabilitation area and other areas throughout the city are to be kept from becoming blighted.

Too often we notice that applicants for variances cite the poor condition of the premises as an argument for razing of the structure and the construction of new tenements. Too often we see dwellings which formerly were attractive, comfortable and decent living quarters go down the road to decay.

Strict enforcement of the city's codes is the only means of preventing such slum spots to develop.

If you have to buy top-soil, you'll find that even dirt is no longer cheap.

HIGHLIGHTS OF NEW JERSEY'S $641 MILLION STATE BUDGET

As a result of combined actions by the 1965 Legislature and the Governor, New Jersey's State Government is authorized to spend $641,156,222 in the current (1965-66) fiscal year which began July 1. This is nearly $50 million more than was authorized last year, points out a research report of the New Jersey Taxpayers Association.

The new authorized spending total compares with $599,029,749 in 1964.

Social Security Manager Explains New Legislation

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles telling what the Social Security Amendments of 1965 mean to you and your family. The first article discussed all the changes in a general way. In this and later issues, each of the changes will be covered in greater detail.

James J. Calvano, district manager of the Irvington social security office, said that effective January, 1965, the monthly benefit rate was increased by 7 per cent for most people with a minimum increase of $4 for workers. The checks due in October, for September, will include the increase. In September, people will get an extra check for the difference between the new and old benefit rates for January through August.

There is no need for anyone to come into the office in order to get his benefits increased. This will be done automatically. The minimum rate for workers who start getting benefits when they are 65 or older was increased to $44 a month and the maximum monthly payment for those now getting benefits was increased from $127 to $135.90. Maximum benefits for family groups, formerly ranging between $60 and $234 a month depending on the worker's earnings, are increased under the new law to between $66 and $309.20.

The wage base on which social security taxes are paid and on which benefits are figured will increase to $8,600 in 1966.

Dear Editor:
As a registered Democrat, who not only voted for your publisher but also worked for him in his campaign, I resent the slogan which was stamped on the envelope of my subscription renewal to the Rahway News-Record. In bold red letters it read - "Re-elect Lorne 'Bip' Collins for Assembly."

I have been pleased with the independent posture that the News-Record has maintained and I appreciate the fact that stamping the envelope of a bill with a campaign slogan is not, in the true sense of the word, violating the independent voice of the press. But I for one think your publisher is stretching the point and the practice should stop immediately.

to raise an 11-room dwelling on the property. The plans call for construction of a tenement building with two two-bedroom apartments, 13 one-bedroom apartments and five efficiency apartments. Parking for 30 cars would be provided as well as a "recreation area."

Cross-examination of the applicant's witnesses was conducted by former Councilman Walter S. Pryga, who has his office and home at 163 West Milton Ave. Mr. Pryga's property adjoins the Charney property.

Mayor Warren Carl Stadden of Roselle, an architect and engineer, testified concerning the proposed project. He said the property, Lot 8-A-1 of Block 462, contains 24,493 square feet and that the proposed building would occupy 4,753 square feet. The building would be of Colonial design and have three floors. The building cost was estimated at $150,000. A private scavenger would collect garbage and trash, Mr. Stadden said.

Mr. Pryga, in cross-examination, pointed out that the proposed apartment site is in an "A-1" residential zone, that the design of the building is "a factory-type," and that if the present house is unsound, it should be condemned.

Stanley Jay of Elizabeth, a real estate agent and appraiser, described the Esterbrook Ave., West Milton Ave. and Elm Ave. area, which he said has "mixed uses." He noted that the Charney property adjoins the Post Office.

SAMPSON BROWN

Rahway Gridder Seeking Scarlet 11's Tackle Job

When a new football season approaches each fall, among the first questions asked of coaches is "What are your problems?"

While John Bateman of Rutgers can be specific about a number of situations this year — quarterback and the defensive backfield to name two — he is uncertain whether or not to include tackle as a "problem" area.

Much will depend on three players — Sampson Brown of Rahway, Claude McAllister of Bridgeton and Tom Hoare of Bellerose, N.Y.

Not that there are three jobs open, for Jerry Serlick, Ron Kemy and probably Jim Hackett are pretty good bets to be starters. But there is one vacancy and, of course, the need for reserve strength.

Brown, if he makes the grade, could be quite a story. A 26-year-old veteran of the Marine Corps, Sam returned to football last year after a lapse of eight years. In between 1956, his McAllister, now a senior, has been a jayvee for two years. There have been times over these seasons that Claude was given the opportunity to earn a regular job, but to date he hasn't quite measured up to Bateman's standards.

However, the 6-2, 210-pounder, who is a reserve catcher in baseball, has never stopped trying and is hoping for more action in his final season. McAllister is studying animal science in the College of Agriculture and Environmental Science.

At 6-3, 225 pounds, Hoare is one of the squad's biggest players. He also has reasonably good speed, which got into a number of games last season, especially on the kicking teams. Improved, he can help us," Bateman said. "He has the desire and strength, but was short on know-how last year."

Hoare, who attended Sewanhaka High School and is enrolled in the geology curriculum, also participates in lacrosse for the Scarlet.

Brown, McAllister and Hoare are sure to get considerable attention from the Rutgers coaching staff when practice gets underway Aug. 30. You'll know how they're making out when Bateman starts expounding on his "problems" soon thereafter.

Schedule League Playoff Games

In the fifth game of the season, the 79ers picked up their first win by downing the winless Knicks, 52-35.

John Pohl led the victors offensively by scoring 16 points, while Craig Fisher and Al Gates controlled the boards for the 79ers. The Knicks, by losing, were knocked out of a berth in the playoffs and ended their season with an 0-4 record. Kevin Walsh and Joe Stalevitz were the outstanding ballplayers for the Knicks in their loss as they combined to score 21 points between them.

In the 10th and last game of the first round, the Lakers stunned the Bullets, 51-40. The win for the Lakers gave them second place for the round, and the Bullets took third, Bob Sparks, St. Mary's standout for the Bullets in a losing cause with 21 points to his credit.

FINAL STANDINGS

|         |   |   |
|---------|---|---|
| Celtics | 4 | 1 |
| Lakers  | 3 | 1 |
| Bullets | 2 | 2 |
| 79ers   | 1 | 3 |
| Knicks  | 0 | 4 |

Playoffs with the first four teams involved start this week. In the first game the Celtics will take on the 79ers and in the second game the Lakers will meet the Bullets. The winner will play the Celtics for the championship of the league, providing the Celtics don't win the playoffs.

The 10 leading scorers are: Charles Edgar, Bullets — 81; Carl Schutt, Celtics — 51; Paul Starkowsky, Lakers — 46; Chuck Mattes, Lakers — 45; Craig Fisher, 79ers — 35; Greg Sangiacomo, Celtics — 36; Steve Varanko, Knicks — 36; Bob Unchester, Lakers — 35; Dave Holland, Celtics — 33; John Pohl, 79ers — 33; Bob Sparks, Lakers — 33.

Crusaders Seek Replacements

With the football season less than two months away, Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School's coach, "Red" Kellin is busy making plans to replace the 19 lettermen lost by graduation from the powerful 1964 Crusaders eleven.

Coach Kellin, who is starting his third season with the Crusaders, will have three outstanding players back this year. They are backfielders Al Prish and Kim Rice, and liner backer Tom Bakum.

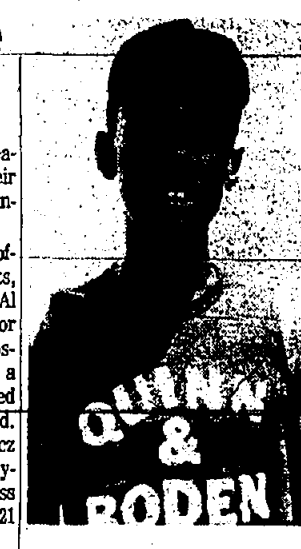

The Clark eleven will play a Watchung Conference ETA TAO nine-game schedule, including Watchung Conference contests with the Westfield Blue Devils, Scotch Plains-Fanwood Raiders, Springfield Regional Bulldogs, Hillsdale Comets, Cranford Cougars, Rahway Indians and the newcomer to the loop, the Highlanders from Berkeley-Heights.

Last year, 1,383 of the more than a million U.S. restaurants went bankrupt.

At 6-3, 225 pounds, Hoare is one of the squad's biggest players. He also has reasonably good speed, which got into a number of games last season, especially on the kicking teams. Improved, he can help us," Bateman said. "He has the desire and strength, but was short on know-how last year."

Hoare, who attended Sewanhaka High School and is enrolled in the geology curriculum, also participates in lacrosse for the Scarlet.

Brown, McAllister and Hoare are sure to get considerable attention from the Rutgers coaching staff when practice gets underway Aug. 30. You'll know how they're making out when Bateman starts expounding on his "problems" soon thereafter.

JAMES INGRAM

No-Hit, No-Run Game Pitched

James Ingram of the Quinn & Boden Co. team of the 11-12-year-old National League is the proud holder of a no-hit, no-run game against the American Legion team, winning 6-0.

In his masterpiece, Ingram fanned 16 of the 20 batters he faced with a walk and an error accounting for the only base runner. Ingram was one of the hardest hitters in the league, getting many "key" singles.

Rangers Rifle Club Formed

The Rangers Rifle and Pistol Club of Rahway met on July 31, had one safety lesson in July and had a practice shooting match on July 31.

The club has a charter and is affiliated with the National Rifle Association. The president, Charles Mower, is a member of the association and is a qualified instructor. The club holds its monthly meetings on the last Friday of each month at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brooks, 284 Lafayette St. The club would welcome persons who wish to attend the next meeting on Aug. 27, at 8:30 p.m.

Illegal Hunting, Fishing Costly

Fines of more than $50,000 were paid by violators of New Jersey fish and game laws during fiscal 1964-65, according to the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

These penalties resulted from more than 1,500 complaints filed by fish and game conservation officers, of which more than 1,400 resulted in convictions. In addition, nearly 400 warnings were issued for minor violations.

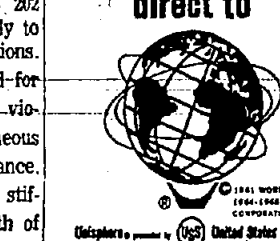

Hunting law violations were most common, with 555 offenses prosecuted, in addition to 262 violations related specifically to deer and 125 firearm violations. License violations accounted for 427 complaints and fishing violations 209, with miscellaneous offenses making up the balance. Deer "jackers" paid the stiffest penalties, with one fifth of the fines for one-eighth of the complaints. These are the violators who attempt to shoot deer at night after transfixing the animals with a spotlight.

SCIENCE TOPICS

The US patent system celebrates its 175th anniversary this year. It was established by George Washington in 1790 to afford a degree of protection, opportunity and reward to inventors of useful processes, machines and manufacturing methods. The patent office in Washington examines, in average year, some 87,000 applications to determine if a patent should be granted. Patents are issued at the rate of approximately 1,000 a week.

Cabinet status for science is advocated by Dr. John R. Dunning, Columbia University physicist and engineer. He recommends that the President's Office of Science and Technology be elevated to cabinet rank to "mark out the boundaries of scientific endeavor in the U.S."

Two over-age Great Lakes
freighters, the 545-foot Amasa
Stone and the 525-foot Charles S. Hebard, will continue their useful lives under water. They'll be filled with limestone and sunk in 27 feet of water to form the base of a pier at Charlevoix, Mich.

Keep this elbow off the table!
It's a steel pipe elbow made by Tube Turns, Louisville, to carry steam superheated to more than 1,000 degrees F. at a pressure of 2,000 pounds per square inch.
To contain this heat and pressure, walls of the elbow are 4 1/3 inches thick. Inner diameter is 9 1/3 inches. . . . The 1966 cars will have windshields with more stretch. Safety glass has been developed with thicker plastic laminate and slightly decreased adhesion between film and glass. Tests at Wayne State University show that the human head will penetrate ordinary safety glass at 14 mph. The new glass will withstand penetration up to 29 mph.

Chinese kites, not airplanes,

LeSabres Will Resume
The LeSabres won their second straight ASA tournament game on Saturday afternoon when they came from behind to route the Buffalo, N. Y., Bells by a 12-0 score.

The Bells had knocked start- ing pitcher Janette Mobley from the hill in the second inning and were leading, 3-1, when Ruth Terris came off the bench and hurled scoreless ball the re- mainder of the game. She al- lowed only two hits, both in the third. Besides her pitching, she hit a home run in the last of the sixth with two on and drove in another run in the fifth. She had three for four at the bat. With the local team behind, 3-2, in the last of the third, Janette Mobley and Betty Rob- inson singled back to back and were advanced by Audrey Roach. Then Pat Hopper bunt- ed along the third base line, scoring Mobley. When Glycer- a Crawley's fly was dropped in center, two runs crossed the plate.

Children to Hold Carnival on Sat.

A neighborhood carnival for the benefit of muscular dystrophy victims will be held on Saturday at 1068 Elm Ter.

Patricia Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Nolan, will be ringmaster. She will be assisted by Betsy Gibb, Nancy Greco and Cindy Belviso.

The carnival, which will begin at 11:30 a.m., will feature a penny pitch, milk bottle drop, marble shoot, bean bag toss, Canadian woodsman, book-stall and fortune telling booth. All proceeds will go to aid the fight against dystrophy and related diseases affecting millions.

The children got the idea for staging their event while watching TV personality Sonny Fox, who is promoting Carnivals on his "Just for Fun" children's show seen on station WNEW.

Last year, in cooperation with Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, more than 12,000 carnivals were held by children across the country, and more than $180,000 was raised for MDAA's research and patient service programs.

Automobiles Claimed 4,810 Victims in '64

More motor vehicle deaths occurred in August than in any other month, the American Insurance Association points out.

In 1964, 4,810 persons died in car accidents during August, almost four per cent more than in October, the next most dangerous month for driving.

According to the association, the high total for August is attributed mainly to the large numbers of vacationers who take to the roadways during that month. If you plan to be among them, the association advises, observe all the rules of driving safety and most important of all, don't overload your car or trailer.

DONALD J. FORSYTHE Joins Agency Staff

The Burns Agency of 986 St. George Ave. has announced that Donald J. Forsythe of 1143 Gresham Ter. has joined its staff as a real estate salesman.

Mr. Forsythe has been active in Rahway civic affairs for many years and has served as a Rahway councilman, representing the Sixth Ward since 1954.

New Jersey Crop Yield Lower for This Year

Slightly reduced production for New Jersey's two most important fruit crops, peaches and apples, is the forecast from the New Jersey Crop Reporting Service.

Four consecutive years of drought have weakened orchard trees and lowered yield prospects to some extent.

The first seasonal 1965 estimate for New Jersey apple production is 2,700,000 bushels. This is 100,000 bushels or 4 per cent less than production last year and 2 per cent below the 1959-63 average.

Prospects for this year's peach crop are also four per cent below 1964. The 1965 production forecast is 2,400,000 bushels, compared with 2,500,000 a year ago. New Jersey peach production averaged 2,220,000 bushels during 1959-63, eight per cent less than the 1965 forecast.

Purolator Buys Indiana Firm

James D. Abeles, president of Purolator Products Inc., manufacturer and distributor of filtration equipment, today announced that the company has entered into an agreement to purchase for cash the assets of Stant Manufacturing Co. of Connersville, Ind.

Stant Manufacturing Co. is a leading supplier of gas caps, radiator caps and oil caps for the automotive original equipment and aftermarket. Sales of Stant products in 1964 were in excess of $7 million, and net profits exceeded $280,000.

In announcing the proposed acquisition, Mr. Abeles stated that by purchasing the assets of Stant, Purolator would acquire a leading manufacturer of automotive gas, radiator and oil caps. The acquisition would provide Purolator with profitable existing manufacturing facilities enabling the company to produce a new line of products which complements their present line. These new products, he felt, would permit Purolator to participate to a greater extent in the rapidly expanding automotive markets. Mr. Abeles also stated that Stant would continue to operate under its present management.

Senators report to you

In the days just ahead, millions of elderly Americans will begin to be a little less dependent and a little more self-reliant.

The reason will be enactment of the "Medicare" bill — more formally known as medical care for the aged under Social Security. After three unsuccessful efforts in the last five years, the Congress has finally approved such a bill. And before the summer is much over, the President will sign it into law.

I was happy to vote for passage of this bill when it recently came before the Senate, just as I was glad to support similar legislation in 1950, in 1952 and again last year. This program is long overdue and much needed. It will permit all Americans to face the future with less fear of the heavy financial burdens which illness can create.

The measure which the Congress approved provides for a broad range of health care services in a two-part federal health insurance program for persons over 65 years of age — whether covered by Social Security or not.

The first part — "Medicare" — provides payments through the Social Security System for specified periods of hospitalization, subsequent nursing home care and follow-up home nursing visits, as well as for outpatient hospital diagnostic services. The cost would be financed by a separate payroll tax and, for those not covered by Social Security, by the general funds of the Treasury.

The second part is an optional health insurance program which will cover doctor bills and many other health costs, such as x-rays, laboratory tests and oxygen tents. This additional coverage would cost participants $3 a month.

The bill also will liberalize the basic Social Security law. For example, it will increase Social Security cash benefits by seven percent, cover self-employed doctors for the first time, relax disability provisions and raise the ceiling on permissible earnings. In addition, the bill will expand federal participation in a series of existing public assistance programs.

The increase in Social Security cash benefits will be retroactive to Jan. 1 of this year. New tax rates to cover both "Medicare" and Social Security will go into effect next Jan. 1. Benefits under the hospital insurance and supplementary medical insurance plans will begin July 1, 1966.

In the case of nursing homes, the benefits will begin Jan. 1, 1967. In this connection, I had hoped that the intervening months would be used for a study of the availability and quality of nursing home care, since so much emphasis will be placed on it in the hospital insurance program. The Senate accepted my amendment providing for such a study by the Advisory Council on Social Security.

17 Cyclists Died In '64 Accidents

Seventeen lives were lost in collisions of bicycles and motor vehicles in New Jersey last year. This represents an increase of eight more than recorded in the 12 months of 1963.

To date this year bicycle and motor vehicle collisions have resulted in 10 deaths as compared with eight recorded during the corresponding six and one half months last year, the New Jersey State Safety Council reports.

The continued upward trend, according to the council, deserves the serious attention of parents, enforcement officers and also of all motor vehicle drivers. While some of the blame for the increasingly high rates of both deaths and injuries may have rested on drivers, the council points out, parents have the responsibility of familiarizing youngsters with the fundamental principles of safe riding and also of insistence upon observance of regulations.

July's Rainfall Below Average

Rainfall in July totaled only 2.83 inches as compared with an estimated normal precipitation of 4.55 inches, Harold Duflo, meteorologist at the Union Junior College Meteorological Station, Cranford, has reported to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Mr. Duflo said precipitation in July was 1.72 inches below the estimated normal, and was the smallest total for a July since the UJC station was opened on January 1, 1960. The wettest July was in 1960 when 8.36 inches of rainfall was recorded.

A year ago rainfall totaled 6.69 inches — 2.14 inches above normal.

Precipitation for the first seven months of 1965 totaled 16.10 inches as compared with 27.31 inches at the same time a year ago — a decrease of 11.21 inches.

The wettest day of the month was July 11 when 1.02 inches of rain fell. There were measurable amounts of rainfall on nine days during the month.

Temperatures in July ranged from a high of 93 degrees on July 14 to a low of 50 degrees on July 2. The average temperature was 73.4 degrees, or 1.6 degrees below the estimated normal of 75 degrees. The average maximum temperature was 85.2 degrees, and the average minimum temperature was 61.1 degrees.

July 25 was the warmest day of the month with an average temperature of 84 degrees.

A year ago the temperatures ranged from a maximum of 96 degrees to a minimum of 55 degrees for an average temperature of 74.9 degrees.

The highest temperature on record for July at the UJC station was 98 degrees set on July 1, 1953.

AWAY TO SCHOOL

At this time of the year, many young people are busy with preparations for going away to school and are eagerly awaiting this new experience.

Parents, however, are much more concerned about their youngster's going away from home. It seems such a short time ago that he was scolding around on a tricycle — how can he have acquired enough wisdom to get along without his parents to help him?

This protective feeling is perfectly natural to parents. An amount of denial will dispose of it. However, it need not interfere with their realization that their son is actually a young adult.

When he is away from home, he will be faced with making his own decisions. How much practice he has had in decision making will affect how he assumes the responsibility for his own actions. Whether his parents have encouraged this responsibility will be of real importance.

He will be thrown into close contacts with people he didn't know before. His previous learning in getting along with people will make the difference between being well liked or lonely.

When parents have encouraged responsibility and independence, they can feel much more secure in the knowledge that their youngster can care for himself when he is away from home.
