Sinal while the people of Israel were on their way from Egypt to the promised land, God Himself engraved these commandments on tablets of stone to show how important and sacred they are.

With the exception of the third commandment, the Ten Commandments are merely expressions of the matural law. What they prescribe could be known by the light of natural reason, nevertheless, in order that men might be guided more surely in their knowledge of right and wrong, the Almighty deigned to make them the object of a special revelation.

The first three commandments lay down the obligation which men owe to God, in thought, in word and in deed. The other seven lay down the duties which we our fellow men. The fourth commandments oblige us to respect the bodily rights of our neighbor; the seventh and eightly the latter of the Ten Commandments of God.

The we read the newspapers, we find them filled with volations of the Ten Commandments of God brings peace and happiness to our own souls and gives a good example to our neighbors.

Let's Wage War on Crime

It's easy to conclude that we're losing the war against crime. Especially if you look at crime statistics over the past decade. Even though Attorney General Mitchell has fried to gild the staristics, they're still bad. We're worried about losing that war. The war an crime can't be won easily. Perhaps Ir can't be won at all. Certainly, it can be waged more aggressively. We have a program of action that will strike harder at criminals. And give greater rehabititation to non-criminal juvenile delinquents. This is what we propose to do.

First, demand that the state's Law Enforcement Planning Agency take immediate steps to implement a master plan for deterring crime. Next we'd take our state police off traffic beats on our highways and turnpikes and give them crime-fighting assignments. And we'd pay cash rewards to people who help us catch criminals. While we propose to strike harder at criminals, we believe our present approach to handling juvenile delinquents is nothing short of disaster Our answer is to completely revise our system for handling delinquents. Single out the non-criminal delinquent for special care and rehabilitation. Give due process to juvenile offenders. Put more money into half-way

First October Observance Held for Veterans Day Draws Sparse Crowd A sparse crowd attended Rahway's Veterans Day observance on Monday in Squier Park, site of the memorial to the city's servicemen, at St. George and W. Grand Avenues. The observance was the first to be held on the new date for Veterans Day --- the last Monday in October. Veterans Day was changed by Congress from Nov. 11 the date of the Armistice which ended World War 1 in 1918, as part of the law providing for observance of most national holidays on a Monday or a Friday.

The observance, directed by the Rahway Veterans

Central Committee, included a concert by the Rahway

High School Redskin Band under the direction of Ronald Dolce. Prayers, brief speeches, placing of a wreath on the memorial, a rifle volley and playing of Tapa
