Because Plainfield takes federal money, there can e no appeal from federal dictates.

Revenue sharing suggests a grandiose scheme to help poor, little states, but in fact the only grandiose features would be the federal controls and the skyrocketing costs.

Since the federal government itself—runs at a large deficit, the only money it could possibly share would have to come from the taxpayers of the 50 states.

This would travel to Washington and be siphoned back, with strings attached and considerably attenuated, to the fawning states. Voters would have no control over the disbursement of funds originally extracted from their own pockets. Since, whenever the federal government handles money, it goes deeper into the red, taxpayers would find themselves confronted by Proposed Day Care Unit having usurped sources of tax revenue which should have remained with the states.

Might Thin Welfare Rolls incorporated in a state's budget, federal bureaucrats start cracking the whip very legally, of course, set this 13, page 13 of the agreementh- and demanding compliance with their guidelines'—or else!

An example of federal "aid" and the resulting strictures may be seen in Plainfield. As a recipient of Model Cities meney, Plainfield has had incredible restrictures may be seen in Plainfield has had incredible restricture welfare and for those mothers of low-income who are seeking additional income through employment have been recommended by nearly everyone who is knowledgeable in the field of governmental assistance to the poor.

These centers will provide the opportunity for those on public charity to become self-supporting, if they are able to work. Nearly 80% of all monies spent in Union County go to mothers with dependent children under a category of public assistance called Aid to Dependent Children. The vast majority of these women are able-bodied and more than capable of taking care of themselves and their children through employment. Unfortunately in a rush for votes, federal legislators who created a monstrous category of public assistance, never thought of a method to thin the ranks of Ald to Dependen Children. So with each passing year, this category has grown, and the taxpayer's burden has increased. It is unthinkable that federal legislators would not provide a means to make those on public assistance, who can work, self-reliant and contributing members of American society, but such was and is the case. If billions in public funds are to be expended for those who can work, provided day care centers were available, then it is certainly remiss that no centers were established in the legislation creating the Aid to Dependent Children category. Fortunately in Rahway such a center is being planned and hopefully will be provided, not through federal or state funds at the outset, but through private initiative.

Many city organizations have contributed to the effort. These donations are commendable, and we feel the center has an opportunity to diminish those mothers who have to rely on public charity. The results of this project can be judged after one or perhaps two years of operation. The Umon County Welfare Board will know readily if there are less children between the ages of three and five on the relief roles. Right now, there are estimated to be 128 such children in the city. Undoubtedly, others will be added, but the center, if successful, should be able at least o hold the line or make some inroad. The center's organizers say 15 to 20 children will be accommodated at first and that the annual tax saving could be as much as $2,400 per enrollee or $48,000

They state further that the year's operating cost for the center would be about $21,000 or a savings of 27,000, realizing the $48,000 is public money and the $21,000 is privately raised.

The policy of the board of directors to grant help to children whose parents are on relief provided they obtain and sustain employment is sound, since those who seek to remove themselves from the welfare cycle will be helped and not those seeking a free ride. It should also be hoped that a clear-cut definition of others to be helped who are not on public relief will be provided and that the definition of a low-income family will not be so high as to obscure the purpose of the center: To aid those of a truly financially-disadvantaged situation.

A flyer is being circulated by the organizers of the center asking for help in the following ways: By making a cash contribution, by volunteering time, by donating materials and by recommending families who could use its services. We would arge support of the center which is contemplated to be open year-round, Monday through Friday, from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Information on applications and ways to help can be obtained by calling 381-8374 and 381-7179 during the day and 382-5479

Federal Government Cannot Share What It Doesn't Have BY E. SIDMAN WACHTER

The most dangerous bill before the U.S. Congress is the so-catted revenue sharing bill, which would raise taxes for everybody and would increase inflation by putting an additional $5 billion into circulation for non-productive purposes.

This bill proposes to give $5 billion from the federal treasury to the states to spend as they desire-rather treasury to the states to spend as they desire--rather like Papa giving an allowance to his teenage daughter. From less than $1 billion annually in 1940, federal aid to the states has grown to more than $30 billion.

IMPORTANT NOTICE! To Customers of Elizabethtown Gas

REGARDING LIMITATIONS ON ADDITIONAL RESIDENTIAL GAS HEAT INSTALLATIONS

As of May 15, 1972 and until further notice we will not be able to accept any additional gas heating installations on our lines. Equipment must be in place and connected by May 15, 1972 to be accepted This limitation supersedes any prior commitments which may have been made.

We regret having to impose this restriction but it is necessary to do so in order that we can continue to fill the present needs of our existing customers If you now heat your home with natural gas, we do not anticipate any difficulty in supplying your needs.

However, if you now heat your home with some other fuel and plan to convert. your heating system to natural gas, you will be affected The natural gas shortage is not limited to this area but is a nationwide problem Elizabethtown Gas is doing everything within its control to help alleviate the situation for its customers. Our sister company, National Exploration, is exploring for gas in Texas and Louisiana. We were the first New Jersey gas utility to install a liquefied natural gas (LNG) facility, and were the first in the entire nation to install a Sun-Thermal unit. Both units provide supplemental gas at periods of high use during cold winter weather. These and other measures are costly and offer only a partial solution We are working on the problem, as is the gas industry in general, and will inform you when we are able to again accept additional house.

IMPORTANT NOTICE! To Customers of Elizabethtown Gas

REGARDING LIMITATIONS ON ADDITIONAL RESIDENTIAL GAS HEAT INSTALLATIONS

As of May 15, 1972 and until further notice we will not be able to accept any additional gas heating installations on our lines. Equipment must be in place and connected by May 15, 1972 to be accepted This limitation supersedes any prior commitments which may have been made. We regret having to impose this restriction but it is necessary to do so in order that we can continue to fill the present needs of our existing customers. I you now heat your home with natural gas, we do not anticipate any difficulty in supplying your needs.
However, if you now heat your home with some other fuel and plan to convert your heating system to natural gas, you will be affected.

The natural gas shortage is not limited to this area-boths a nationwide problem Elizabethtown Gas is doing everything within its control to help alleviate the situation for its customers. Our sister company, National Exploration, is exploring for gas in Texas and Louisiana. We were the first New Jersey gas utility to install a liquefied natural gas (LNG) facility, and were the first in the entire nation to install a Sun-Thermal unit. Both units provide supplemental gas at periods of high use during cold winter weather.

These and other measures are costly and offer only a partial solution. hese and other measures are costly and offer only a partial solution We are working on the problem, as is the gas industry in general, and will inform you when we are able to again accept additional house hoating installations.
