Political power seen as force for peace

Editor's Note: This Lenten message is based on a sermon by Rev. Paul N. Jevett, pastor of the Rahway United Methodist Church, given on March 1, 1974.

Our similar confusion in dealing with people who "big" us is summed up in the practical advice, "If you can't beat them, join them."

When Peanut cartoon character Lucy was crying to watch television and was distracted by security-blanker Limus sitting on the floor behind her, she snarled, "Stop that stupid singing!"

It would seem that Jesus did not make our decision easy. All the versions of the sermon on the mount put "creativity in the concentration camp."
