Welfare program expense

exceed that of defense

it is no often forgotten that the average worker's

12 hill consumes his entire earnings for four months, one-third of a year. To put it another way the whopping

$304 billion federal budger proposed by the Nixon administration for fiscal 1975 will impose an average of $4,013 in taxes on every self-supporting household in the nation. That figure is $258 greater than in 1974 and $1,215 greater than in 1970.

Although liberals like to claim the federal governments vast expenditures are the to military outlays such is nor the case. About $1,665 of the $4,013 is stated for health and income security programs, which are the big spenders.

Only $1,156 will be spent on national defense to ensure our continued existence as a free nation.

And what is the third largest category? It is interest on the national debt scheduled to consume $383 of the $1,013 per-household tax. Clearly Jonathan Q. Taxslave its hundra more movemment agencies and distributing 14.013 per-household tax. Clearly Jonathan Q. Taxsiave is buying more government agencies and distributing more handours at home and worldwide than he or his children or his grandchildren can possibly afford.

Small wonder that serious objections to taxes are cropping up all over the country conducted not by anarchists or revolutionaries but by avarage Americans who know that the crary deficit spending in Washington must be stopped. If both fiscal and social disaster

Baby food prices are remarkably good buys

The haby food industry continues to provide consumers with variety and convenience, and the cost has not been as great as other foods, even though there are fewer hables to feed. There are over 200 varieties on the market as compared with 100 in the early 1960s and only half a dozen in the late 1920s.

Although the hirth rate in the United States has dropped, baby food has maintained ins popularity in a incheasingly convenience—minded society. The single serving jars and cans may be stored ar room rampersure must feeding ally available year round as the continues to provide continues with series only.

Baby food is classified into two main categories. The strained or bomogenized type is for the very young baby who is unable to handle coarser texture. The chopped or mashed type, known as junior or todder food and is intended for older children with better chewing capabilities.
