Discuss hope for teachers, graduation at school board

Graduation requirements and the future of the 45 teachers whose contracts with the city school system were not renewed were the major items of discussion at the April 21 Rahway board of education meeting. The possibility that 24 of the 45 scheduled to be dismissed may have a chance to remain with the system surfaced in discussion prior to unanimous passage of a resolution to seek federal funds. The resolution authorized the submission of an application for title no. 7 funds under the emergency school act. According to assistant school superintendent Frank D. Brunette, it was only learned about a week before the meeting that the monies would be available. He explained there was already a school project utilizing title no. 7 funds but it was thought the monies could only be obtained for two years. Instead, assistant superintendent Brunette said, it was learned funds could still be obtained but only with the submission of a new program. The new project, which he said would be called a "Curriculum Enrichment Center," would be similar to the current mini-learning centers in the elementary schools. The basic difference would be the program would extend to ninth grade, he said. It was said the program would stress mathematics and reading skills, language arts and English as a second language. The assistant superintendent estimated the program would employ approximately 24 teachers and a number of aides. He stressed the program would be only for one year and could be established only with the federal funds. Because of the nature of the program, he explained, the teachers in it would receive notices of non-employment at the end of each school year since there would be no guarantee of continued funding. It was also noted that assistant superintendent Brunette would be director of the program but his salary would not come from project funds. In unanimous votes board members accepted the resignation of a junior high school science teacher and voted to appoint a replacement for the remainder of the current school year at a salary of $10,419. They also voted to fill a vacancy for a senior high school chemistry teacher for the remainder of the school year at a salary of $9,550. Prior to the votes Paul Corcoran, president of the Rahway Education Association, received assurances teachers who board members were forced to let go would be the first considered for the posts. After brief debate with members of the audience, board members voted without opposition to remove a proposed schedule of graduation requirements in order to "conduct further studies." Mrs. William Wnuck told of assembly bid. Mrs. Wnuck, a 30-year-old housewife, said her bid was inspired by a desire to stop the enactment of the extravagant state income tax proposals coming out of Trenton. She said she also wanted to "fight the disgraceful reduction of the size of the 22nd district Republican screening committee at a time when our party desperately needs to broaden its base." "I believe it essential that Republicans have an opportunity to nominate two candidates who can be trusted to oppose vigorously the unnecessary income tax proposals," she declared. Mrs. Wnuck said former assemblyman Arthur A. Manner of Berkeley Heights, another aspirant for the Republican nod, was the only one of the three republican candidates to take a strong anti-income tax stand. The other two are William J. Maguire of Clark and Anthony DiFranco of Scotch Plains. The selection of the pair by an 11-member screening committee drew the fire of both Mrs. Wnuck and Mr. Manner. If they all stay in the race, the four hopefuls will battle it out in the Tuesday, June 3, primary Democratic incumbent assemblywoman Mrs. James (Betty) Wilson announced her reelection bid. The other Democratic incumbent, Arnold J. D'Ambrosia, chose not to run. (See accompanying story on this page.) A mother of two, Mrs. Wnuck attended Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind., where she majored in education. She has served as a city Republican committeewoman since 1966. Appointments, bids OK'd at quiet school board meet

Rahway board of education members voted various expenditures and made decisions regarding the school staff at their April 21 meeting in the auditorium of Roosevelt School. They unanimously voted to authorize the purchase of $65,260.76 worth of classroom supplies for the next fiscal school year from J.L. Hammett of Union. The low bid of $2,500 from KA Educational Services of Freehold for student scheduling services was unanimously accepted. It was said the expense averages out to $1 a student. Also unanimously accepted by board members was the low bid of $1,802 for the purchase of a lawn tractor from Shore Tractor Company of Freehold. The bid was charged to the capital outlay account. To allow for this board members in a prior resolution transferred $1,000 from capital outlay surplus to the current capital outlay budget. It was also agreed by board members without opposition to make arrangements with the firm of Suples, Clooney and Company of Elizabeth to begin an interim audit of the current school budget at a fee not to exceed $1,000. The actions came at a sparsely-attended session which followed two well-attended meetings which centered on proposals for cuts in the defeated school budget. In keeping with the subdued atmosphere there was little discussion over the budget. In the area of sports William Gladek was unanimously appointed joint tennis coach for the current school year at extra services compensation of $702. His temporary appointment at the last board session was surrounded by disagreements over what his stipend should be. No opposition was expressed this time. Also appointed was John Keefe as softball coach for the current term with compensation of $300 for his extra services. He too was temporarily filling his post after the last board session. Four teachers will receive compensation of $100 each for intramural activities in the junior high school. Two of the teachers will handle basketball and two volleyball and tumbling. Young Republicans to screen aspirants; endorse three for freeholder election Still angry over their alleged exclusion from the screening session which produced the organization candidates for the June 3 primary, members of the Young Republicans of Union County will hold their own screening session on Saturday, April 26. According to Young Republicans chairman Mrs. James (Katherine E.) Fulcomer of Rahway, hopefuls seeking the party nod for assembly races in the 22nd and 24th districts will be interviewed at an open screening session by interested members of the county organization. It was also announced the youth organization unanimously endorsed the candidates for freeholders Walter E. Ulrich of Rahway and Herbert Hellmann of Union plus former freeholder Mrs. John (Rose Marie) Sinnor of Summit for the Union County board of chosen freeholders. "We are hopeful these three freeholder candidates will be unopposed in the primary election and move on to

Rahway PBA sues Wagner for stolen funds

A suit to recover the $8,364.50 embezzled by patrolman Robert E. Wagner while he was treasurer of Rahway Policemen's Benevolent Association local no. 31 was filed in Elizabeth superior court by association officials. The suit was filed April 17, one week after the city resident pled guilty to the one-count accusation. Wagner faces a maximum sentence of three years and a maximum fine of $1,000. According to assistant prosecutor Kenneth N. Siegel, prosecution officials would request Wagner be required to make full restitution to the association regardless of whether he received a jail or non-jail sentence. The patrolman, a veteran of 25 years on the force, will be sentenced by judge Richard P. Muscarello in the county courthouse in Elizabeth on Friday, May 9. In the association suit Wagner is charged with using for himself $4,604.50 which he should have deposited in the bank accounts of the local. He also alleges Wagner converted to his own use another $3,660 in interest paid on savings accounts. According to the assistant prosecutor, Wagner also obtained association funds by altering salary checks after they were approved by then association president Donald Canfield. The 54-year-old Wagner pled guilty to the accusation before the case ever reached a grand jury, the assistant prosecutor noted. The charge said the officer embezzled the association funds while serving as association treasurer from November 1968 to October of last year. Wagner, a resident of

D'Ambrosia out of race; repeats innocence claim

Saying he no longer wants to subject his family to emotional pressures and personal hardships, assemblyman Arnold J. D'Ambrosia announced he would not seek reelection to a second term. The 39-year-old D'Ambrosia, who represents Rahway as state legislator from the 22nd district, was named in two indictments returned by a Union County grand jury. In announcing his decision he reiterated his "claims of innocence." "My decision not to seek reelection should not be construed in any degree to be a change in that position," claimed the first-term Democratic official. Assemblywoman Mrs. James (Betty) Wilson, the other Democratic legislator from the district, announced her reelection bid at much the same time. It was not yet known who would replace D'Ambrosia on the Democratic ticket. D'Ambrosia was first indicted July of last year on charges of misconduct in office, fraud and embezzlement. The Rahway resident was suspended from his $16,000 post as city public works superintendent two weeks after the first indictment. He was charged with taking more than $2,000 in city property. It was alleged he sold a 10-ton air conditioner, donated to the city by a Westfield contractor, for $800 and pocketed the money, it was reported. The city would have reportedly done the work anyway but the contractor allegedly asked the project be given top priority. In an apparent reference to Union County prosecutor

Karl Asch's tenure in office, D'Ambrosia said, "I believe the political climate in Union County for the past five years to be such that any Democratic politician could find himself and his family in a position of unjustified ridicule." "Since the inception of our democracy," D'Ambrosia continued, "our political leaders have always had to be made of stern stuff. I believe I possess the strength which public office demands today." "The strength needed in this day and age, in this state and county, is much greater than ever before," he said, in another apparent reference to the Republican prosecutor. "We are living in a time when the mere ascendance to public office subjects the successful candidate to a barrage of harassment which is difficult to comprehend." "I have been strong enough to withstand it but in good conscience, I find I can no longer put my desire to be of public service above the welfare of my family," he said. Mr. Asch has been attacked in recent weeks by another Democratic assemblyman, Linder mayor John T. Gregorio, who was indicted twice this month for allegedly concealing his role in the purchase of a lot in Linden from the Elizabethtown Gas Company, and last Wednesday for allegedly demanding a $25,000 payoff in connection with the construction of the Linden yo-

Statue of Jesus Christ

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the latest installment in a continuing series of sermons authored by local clergymen. The contributor this week is father Frank P. Miloro of St. John the Baptist Russian Orthodox Church of Rahway.

There is a story told of a certain church in Europe which was bombed in World War II. In the explosion a statue of Christ was mutilated by having the hands broken off. The statue has not been restored. It stands there today with the hands missing but underneath was put this sentence: "Christ hath no hands but yours."

As Christians we all are assigned the task of serving our fellow man. This is what Christ did during his brief stay on this earth and we are expected to continue His divine work. However too many of us do not care one iota about our fellow man. We are much too wrapped up in our own affairs to lend a helping hand to someone in need.

Kindness and brotherly love seem to have gone out of style. For most of us the Christian acts of mercy have become meaningless. Yet our Lord commanded us to feed the hungry, to give drink to the thirsty and to visit those who are sick or in prison, in all honesty can we really say we have been doing these things?

Or have we selfishly been taking care of only ourselves? We are living in a world which is often times cruel and cold, but there is still in it a place for people who perform useful services for others. There is always room in the hearts of mankind for the person who is willing to put himself out to help someone else.

There is little meaning to our lives unless we are contributing to the welfare and the happiness of our fellow man. By serving others our lives will become richer and we will be filled with self-satisfaction and contentment.

We must always remember we are Christ's hands. These "hands" have been stained by our inhumanity to other men. Soap and water will not remove these stains. Only unselfish service on our part and genuine love for mankind can remove those horrible marks. Is it not time for us to wash our hands?

Council proposes increase in charges for swimming have been agreed upon to cover extra work performed by the company allegedly stemming from the damage of some of its installations by other contractors.

In a related resolution council sent the superior court of New Jersey $18,004.75. It was holding in escrow, so the court could act as a trustee for the money while a suit was being resolved by Carrino and one of its subcontractors. The township retained $1,934.81 as a maintenance guarantee for one year.

Council expressed its displeasure over assembly bill No. 2282 which would require filing of financial statements by holders and nominees and appointees to certain public offices, by candidates for public office and by holders of certain political party positions. The bill would also create a governmental ethics and disclosure board in the department of law and public administration.

Council listed eight reasons in opposition to the bill. (1) The inclusion of appointees and employees whose official responsibilities do not present opportunities for conflict of interest.

(2) The exclusion of appointees who, in the exercise of their official responsibilities, have the authority to expend monies and to enter into contracts.

(3) The criteria of $1,000 in income as being the amount which requires disclosure of source and $1,000 in indebtedness above which requires disclosure of creditor and amount are arbitrarily low figures imposing unnecessary burdens of disclosure and incursions on privacy, absent a showing that such payers, issuers and creditors will have matters that come within the purview of persons covered under the bill.

(4) The specific exclusion of disclosing indebtedness owned to banks and other state or federal government financial institutions regardless of amount enhances the position of such institutions and emasculates the bill's purpose.

Councilman Bodnar also stated disclosure laws would not deter dishonest persons, and the present bill in many instances, he indicated, puts an undue stress on "honest public servants."

Curran of Summit, from the 24th district, and state senator Peter J. McDonough of Plainfield, from the 22nd district, were honored with honorary memberships in the association.

It was said both legislators were honored for their support of law enforcement legislation and for their dedication to their respective legislative offices.

Assemblywoman Miss Curran is a former editor of The Rahway News-Record and The Clark Patriot. Linden police chief Dominic Lello, president, made the presentation of honorary membership cards to assemblywoman Miss Curran and state senator McDonough.

Also presented with an honorary membership card by chief Lello was Leslie W. Page of 765 Bryant Street, Rahway, president of Rahway Motor Car Company. Mr. Page was honored for his support of law enforcement in his hometown.

At the meeting, top priority was given to apply for a Union County film library grant in order to provide educational films for the training of county police personnel.

Association members voted to provide any matching funds necessary as well as provide the necessary expertise in writing the grant and submitting same to the state law enforcement planning agency.

If approved all law enforcement agencies in the county will be able to use any and all training films for in-service training of personnel at no cost to the municipality.

In other action Union County park commissioners were requested to provide a site for a county firearms range so new police officers can be trained in the use of firearms and current police personnel can have the opportunity to practice.

Association members unanimously endorsed the candidacy of Westfield police chief James Moran for the office of sergeant-at-arms in the New Jersey State Association of Chiefs of Police.

It will mark the first time in many years that county officers will have a representative running for office at the state level.

Reports from Harvard contain upsetting news

By E. Sidman Wachter

From Harvard University, the oldest and most prestigious of all-American universities, come disquieting news. In the first seven weeks of the fall semester thefts reportedly totaled $59,000. One theft occurred at gunpoint in a student's room. Muggings in Cambridge, Mass., apparently have become so commonplace the university runs special inter-house buses after dark so students and professors will not have to walk on the streets.

Tougher laws needed to punish malefactors using guns in crimes

By representative Matthew J. Rinaldo

The crime statistics are appalling. They show 16% more crime was committed last year on top of an already incredible wave of murder, rape, robbery and assault. What is particularly disturbing is that violent crime is spreading at a faster rate in the suburbs and rural areas of America and that a whole new array of crime prevention programs have had only limited success despite huge expenditures by government. Congressmen have poured more than $5 billion into the fight against crime in the last five years and local spending has increased by another $7 billion.

Experts give these reasons for runaway crime:
-- The disintegration of the family and the deterioration of discipline in the schools leading to serious juvenile crime and violence. More than half the crime is committed by juveniles.
-- The availability of guns and the lack of a workable national gun law.
-- The lack of deterrents in the form of positive punishment.

Doctor David Abrahams, author of "The Murdering Mind," has written, "The American dream is, in part, responsible for a great deal of crime and violence. People feel America owes them not only a living but a good living and they take short cuts to get what they feel is owed to them. . . frustration is the best we nurse to violence."

United States treasury department officials reported American manufacturers produced 1.9 million handguns last year. Of this number more than one million would not have met the criteria established by congressmen under the 1968 federal gun control law banning the importation of "Saturday Night Specials."

Attempts by authorities in New York City and Baltimore to have the public turn in these illegal weapons have been a failure. Millions of handguns, most of which are outlawed by the gun control act, are still in circulation. The easiest place to purchase or steal a handgun is from another criminal or in high neighborhoods.

Until congressmen are prepared to hit the bullet on controlling the sale of "Saturday Night Specials" on a nationwide basis, I believe we must at least take some immediate steps to impose mandatory prison sentences of at least five years on anyone committing a felony with a firearm.

The bill I am introducing would expressly prohibit a judge from suspending the sentence, awarding probation or imposing sentence concurrently with that for another crime for anyone convicted of using a handgun in a felony.

The protection of the public requires dangerous criminals be securely confined for long terms. Moreover those who kill police officers and citizens in the commission of robbery, burglary, kidnapping or assassination should be subject to the death penalty.

Letters to the Editor

Mrs. King chastizes councilmen for not reappointing Joseph Meffe

When I read Joseph Meffe was not reappointed to the Rahway redevelopment agency I could not but realize that at this meeting the men who cast their votes were not thinking in terms of the man they were voting for and how well he served the city over the years. Rather they were thinking in terms of the political party he represented and they were voting against.

his all to serve the city. Over the years he served in various voluntary positions. A more dedicated man and one who gave his time and energy to doing all he could for Rahway are few and far between.

John F. Allaire reiterates praise for work of doctor John Farinella

Upon the conferring of tenure to doctor John T. Farinella I wish to congratulate a deserving leader. Doctor Farinella, it goes without saying, has the well wishes of the majority of the community. His drive and devotion and good sense will lead the Clark system to new heights.

His prior achievements before coming to Clark have proven him to be a teacher and not an administrator who orders his staff and children. He is a good teacher and I am certain he will be Clark's greatest teacher.

Special meet called by city flooding group

To prepare for a public hearing by councilmen on the controversial Sisto landfill members of the Rahway Citizens for Flood Control will hold a special meeting today in St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church hall on Hamilton Street off of Central Avenue starting at 8:15 p.m.

The public hearing will take place tomorrow night, Friday, April 25, starting at 8 o'clock in council chambers at city hall, 1470 Campbell Street. Requested by Democratic councilman-at-large Tod Cedervall, the hearing on the landfill along Robinson's Branch was passed at the April 14 council session.

Clark elderly report plans for gathering

Clark Senior Citizens Club members will hold a card party on Wednesday, April 30, at the township Veterans of Foreign Wars hall beginning at 1 p.m. The donation will be $1.25. A visit to the circus at Madison Square Garden in New York City will be conducted by club members on Wednesday, May 21. A trip was held on April 16 to view "The Odd Couple" at the Watching View Inn in Somerville.

School funds may increase for city, town

Rahway would receive $296,153 and Clark $268,228 under a proposed new formula for the distribution of some $300 million in new state education aid designed to help 19 school districts which would have been hurt by scheduled aid reductions. In all cases the cuts reportedly would be substantially less and a few of the communities involved would receive slightly more aid than in the past. The proposal would affect 1976-1977 school budgets.

Study on light energy led by Clark student

A study is being made at Cornell University under a $10,440 grant from the National Science Foundation on the photosensitive abdominal nerve cell or "neuron" in a foot-long, shell-less snail which may yield a clearer picture of how light energy is converted into electrochemical energy.

Carnival set for township

Officials of the RCA Corporation donated the company parking lot at the corner of Terminal and Central Avenues in Clark for the annual carnival sponsored by the men's club of Temple Beth O'r of Clark.

Allaire questions school board; alleges irregularity at election

John F. Allaire, Jr. moved to be one of the more inquisitive members of the audience at the April 15 township board of education meeting as he presented board members with a list of questions.

Mr. Allaire explained most of the inquiries were given to him by members of the public. The former school board member has offered himself as a self-styled troubleshooter for disgruntled Clark citizens.

Board members appeared receptive to his interrogations and board administrator Frederick Peterson promised answers would be forthcoming. It was learned a meeting was to be held between board representatives and Mr. Allaire on April 25. One major question he raised centered on the March 11 school board race when, he claimed, a non-authorized individual worked on a voting machine at Abraham Clark School.

Manner attacks Mrs. Wilson over statement on expenses

An expense disclosure statement released by Democratic assemblywoman Mrs. James (Betty) Wilson of the 22nd district came under attack by Arthur A. Manner, one of the Republican opponents of her reelection bid.

Granted income tax and pension contributions—reduces the $10,000 salary and $7,306 sounds like a reasonable net, but the $500 pension contribution will eventually cost the taxpayers considerably more than it costs the legislator. That is why I voted against it," the former assemblyman said.

and just about as factual as some we have seen in the past. The facts are: --A $10,000 salary plus fringe benefits, --$15,000 for an office allowance, --$2,500 additional for the Democratic whip and telephone allowance and reimbursement for legitimate travel.

Other questions raised by the defeated board candidate included why board members were appealing the budget cut voted by council members and inquiries relating to soccer, lacrosse and tennis programs.

Urban aid program increases raises proposed state budget

Enactment of a $38.9 million "Urban Aid" law on April 10 increased the governor's recommended 1976 state budget by more than $2.2 million, as joint legislative appropriations committee members began deliberation of over 270 separate proposals for modifying the budget, noted a New Jersey Taxpayers Association representative.

significantly since it began in calendar year 1969 with an appropriation of $12 million to upgrade programs and facilities for disadvantaged persons in the state's financially and problem-plagued "big six" municipalities.

CITED FOR LARGEST DONATION... A check for $2,000 was presented by members of Rahway lodge no. 1075 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks to officials at the Independent Living Center in Berkeley Heights.

Although nearly $36.7 million was scheduled originally for appointment of eligible municipalities this year, utilization of more current data for calculating aid entitlement resulted in the addition of four municipalities—North Bergen, West New York, Phillipsburg and Montclair.

Duo plan visit for discussion about schools

Representatives of the Union County community college system comprised of Union College in Cranford, Elizabeth and Plainfield and Union County Technical Institute in Scotch Plains will visit Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark on Monday, April 28, at 9 a.m.

City Rotarians offer financial aid for school

Four scholarships with a total worth of $3,000 will again be offered by members of the Rahway Rotary Club to any city resident completing their senior year in high school.

1976 group meets tonight

There will be a meeting of members of the Clark "Spirit of '76" Bicentennial committee tonight at 8 o'clock in the meeting room of the Clark Public Library, 303 Westfield Avenue.

RAHWAY MUNICIPAL COURT

Indecent act costs Pennsylvania man $200; six drivers given fines for too much speed

An indecent exposure conviction resulted in a $200 fine for Richard Aereo of Stroudsburg, Pa., during last Thursday's municipal court conducted by Judge Marcus I. Blum in city hall.

Aereo was told to pay $20 in court costs.

Three Clark and one Rahway resident were each fined $50 for failing to be able to give a good account of themselves. According to police charges, Jeffrey Arvanites of 895 Apgar Terrace, Rahway, and Robert Foerst of 5 Crescent Parkway, Charles Witkowski of 68 Joseph Street, and Kevin Torbune of 6 Custer Place, all of Clark, cited obscene and loud language after being brought to the police station.

For being drunk and disorderly Douglas Gene Pope of 289 Wilson Avenue, Rahway, was fined $50.

An assault and battery conviction against Glemmie Jones of 1636 Lawrence Street, Rahway, resulted in a 30-day suspended sentence. He was also given 60 days in jail for being drunk and disorderly and doing malicious damage.

Felix Melia was charged with passing bad checks. His case was referred to the Union County prosecutor's office. He listed no address.

Careless driving cost Patricia A. Babich of 672 Seminary Avenue, Rahway, $15 and $10 in court costs. She pleaded guilty to the charge.

For failing to yield and leaving the scene of an accident Pedro A. Palatka of 23 Jean Court, Woodbridge, was fined a total of $70.

Steven James Elwood spent two days in the county jail for not having a driver's license or vehicle registration. He listed no address.

Driving carelessly cost Sean McKnight of 6A Pacific Drive, Winfield, $15 and $10 in court costs.

Eileen Shrubshell of 540 Woodruff Avenue, Avoncliff, received a $13 fine and $10 in court costs charge for following too closely.

Six individuals received fines ranging from $16 to $24 for speeding. Fined for driving too fast were Thomas M. Masters of 20 Liberty Avenue, Woodbridge; Gregory S. Wright of 122

Dow Avenue, Iselin; William H. Fehrenbacher of 21 McCollum Drive, Clark; James J. Gargiulo of 1240 Inman Avenue, North Edison; Olga A. Peiceca of 1340 Roosevelt Avenue, Carteret, and Donna A. Graziano of 749 East Milton Avenue, Rahway.

Each also paid $10 for court costs.

Clark pupils to host show

Members of the Girls Athletic Association of Mother Seton Regional High School of Clark will present a gymnasium show on Thursday evening, May 1, at 8 o'clock in the school gymnasium.

It will feature demonstrations in volleyball, square dancing, archery, exercise routines and gymnastics. Approximately 70 students will participate.

The program will be open to the public. There will be no admission charge but voluntary donations will be accepted. All proceeds will be used to purchase equipment for the physical education department.

The show will be under the direction of Mrs. Robert Egan and Miss Gail Protinsky, physical education teachers.

Scott Russell will graduate

Scott Russell, who graduated Rahway High School in 1971, will graduate from Gettysburg College with a bachelor of science and teaching degree on June 1. Mr. Russell will be admitted to the Illinois College of Podiatric Medicine and will attend the Chicago school for four years.

Cedervall wants HUD man at hearing on Sisto permit

A renewed request for attendance by a representative of the department of housing and urban development at a public hearing on the Sisto landfill controversy was issued by Democratic councilman-at-large Tor Cedervall of Rahway.

The hearing will be held Friday, April 25, at 8 p.m. before city councilmen in council chambers at city hall. Under discussion will be the landfill operation approved for property owned by Sisto Realty Company of Linden on the northeasterly bank of Robinson's Branch near St. George Avenue and Church Street.

The hearing was called after a request councilman Cedervall made at the April 14 council session. Earlier city attorney Alan Karcher denied a request for a hearing made by members of Rahway Citizens for Flood Control.

The group members and the councilman feel the landfill operation will increase flooding in the area involved. They also question some of the methods by which the permit was issued.

Councilman Cedervall said the permit was "based on a new interpretation of our flood plain ordinance which would condone unlimited construction, and fill on flood plains provided only the new construction is 'flood-proofed.'"

"The city has assured your department that city citizens are eligible for federally subsidized flood insurance on the strength of municipal legislation dedicated to restraining flood waters," the councilman noted in his letter to the federal agency.

"It can be seen the newly contrived interpretation of our flood plain ordinance calls into question the eligibility of our citizens for the subsidized insurance program," councilman Cedervall wrote in his April 17 letter.

"I respectfully urge you to send a representative to this public hearing to get first-hand knowledge of this worrisome situation," the city official concluded.

Teachers rap firings at junior high school

An estimated 25 teachers from Rahway Junior High School picketed city board of education offices on April 15 in a 15-minute protest over the dismissal of school employees due to what has been called a lack of funds.

The pickets, who wore large paper discs which said "Support the Rahway 60," said they were also demonstrating their support for the appeal of the school budget cut.

Board members voted to appeal a $570,000 cut made in the education budget by city councilmen. The reduction followed the 4-1 voter rejection of proposed school expenditures. The fate of the appeal will be a determining factor on the status of the teachers.

"We are not upset only because many of our jobs are threatened," the teachers said in a statement. "We are primarily upset because the education of Rahway children is threatened."

On April 7 board members voted 6-3 to eliminate 45 teachers, 12 aides and three clerks - typists because of what they called "the cessation and/or uncertain status of federal funding and the unresolved status of the local budget."

City superintendent of schools doctor Edward L. Bowes noted most of the cuts would come in federally-funded programs with the "Interaction" English project at the city junior high school to be hit particularly hard.

What is at stake here is not the employment of some teachers," said the school employees, "but rather the futures of Rahway children and the future of Rahway citizens."

The instructors stressed their concern for students and the hours of work they log.

"The fact that we care is the reason there are school plays, sports, clubs and so many other extracurricular activities," they said. "The fact that we care is the reason we offer extra help, send home progress reports and request conferences with parents."

They concluded their statement by asking for citizen support to "do our job well and convince board members the number of teachers does matter."

Elimination of longevity pay in future city labor negotiations set as goal; city council members discuss school budget cut and sewage assessment

Rahway councilmen unanimously passed a resolution at their April 14 session making the elimination of longevity pay for new city employees an official goal of future labor negotiations.

The original proposal was made in the form of an ordinance at the March 10 council meeting. Its sponsor, third ward Republican councilman Richard J. Voynik, later withdrew the ordinance and substituted a resolution to the same effect.

After brief discussion at the March session the sponsor moved consideration of the measure be postponed until the April meeting so input could be received from all the councilmen.

The resolution notes longevity pay was introduced for municipal employees at a time when wages and benefits in public jobs did not compare favorably with what positions in private industry offered.

It was argued the jobs now compare favorably. It was also stated longevity benefits are a negotiable item by state law and "current economic conditions" dictate a new approach by the councilmen.

Democratic councilman-at-large Tor Cedervall noted the measure would broaden the sphere of negotiations for both sides in future bargaining talks.

Brief discussion arose at the session on what response council members should make to the appeal of their cut of the city school budget. The appeal is being undertaken by members of the city board of education.

Democratic councilman-at-large Francis R. Senkowsky said the city attorney should be directed to inform board members that the councilmen will answer the board appeal.

The question arose whether the councilmen were required to present board members with an itemization of proposed school budget reductions, Board attorney Leo Kahn had said at the last board session such an itemization was required.

City attorney Alan Karcher said all the councilmen had to do was deny the board claim that the cuts were "arbitrary, unnecessary and capricious" within 20 days. He recommended not revealing where the cuts would come from "until absolutely necessary."

City business administrator Joseph M. Hartnett reported on the city investigation of the Rahway Valley sewerage authority assessment which reportedly increased 35% over last year.

Mr. Hartnett said a technical report was received from engineering department officials thus allowing himself and city attorney Karcher to begin work on judging the validity of the assessment. He promised a written report at the next council session.

City councilmen unanimously authorized the sale of city property at public auction. The land, a seven-by-100-foot lot at Solder Alden Drive, will be sold for a price no less than $250.

The sale was authorized by members of the city planning board at their February session.

The councilmen unanimously authorized the transfer of two pieces of city-owned land valued at $35,700 located in the "South Branch Project" to the city redevelopment agency.

By agreement with the agency the city will bear one-fourth of the project cost. Instead of paying cash for the land agency officials will extend a credit of $35,700 on the city share of the project cost.

Members of the city basketball team received a standing ovation from the councilmen in recognition of the team's record-setting season. A resolution was also passed praising the squad and its leaders.

A zone variance for the Aljay Realty Company, 1161 Woodbridge Road, was unanimously granted. The company officials seek to construct a six-foot stockade fence as opposed to the required four-foot chain-link fence.

It was noted the measure was approved of by the city zoning board members.

Councilmen also unanimously accepted as completed the work of Union Paving Construction Company, incorporated for the construction of a retaining wall at the city water plant.

The termination date of an agreement between city officials and officials of the state department of community affairs was unanimously extended by the councilmen from March 1 of this year to March 1 of next year.

The agreement provides for the transfer of state grant-in-aid funds used in meeting the requirements of the state relocation assistance laws.

A total of 44 people had either their veterans' tax exemption and/or senior citizens' deductions removed and taxes added to their accounts.

Council president Wilson D. Benuregard explained the action only concerned particular individuals and will not effect such benefits as a whole.

In another unanimous move the councilmen authorized the mayor and city clerk to enter an agreement with the army corps of engineers and National State Bank.

Known as an escrow agreement, it is reportedly being undertaken to create a depository for payments of the city share of flood protection on the South Branch of the Rahway River.

It was also necessary for the councilmen to approve an agreement with the city redevelopment agency to cover the above matter. They did so unanimously.

Merck reports sales up 11% during first quarter of year

Sales for the first quarter of the year increased 11% over last year for Merck and Company, Incorporated of Rahway. Company officials say sales rose to $344,472,000 from $309,991,000 over last year.

Net income reportedly rose 14% to $51,953,000 compared with $45,753,000 for the corresponding quarter last year. Earnings for each share of common stock were 69¢ compared with 61¢ for the 1974 quarter.

Sales and earnings both were higher than for any previous first quarter, according to Henry W. Gadsden, chairman and chief executive officer of the health products firm.

Mr. Gadsden said unsettled conditions in the livestock and poultry industries and the impact of the recession on environmental control activities reduced first-quarter demand for some Merck products and services.

demand in the pharmaceutical field continued to expand but at a lesser rate than in recent quarters.

Overall sales and net income reportedly benefited from increased selling prices of various products of the company and from changes in the value of foreign currencies when converted into United States dollars.

In addition net income was said to be favorably affected by tax benefits from operations of the company's plant in Puerto Rico and by the recent increase in the United States investment tax credit.

Mr. Gadsden announced that "Sinemet," a prescription drug product for treatment of Parkinson's disease which Merck introduced abroad in late 1973, is now in the last stage of approval by United States food and drug administration officials.

The company hopes to make it available to the medical profession in the United States as soon as possible, he said. "Sinemet" combines Levodopa, now widely used in treating Parkinson's disease, with carbidopa, a compound created by Merck researchers.

The carbidopa makes it possible to achieve therapeutic effects with less Levodopa than would be necessary if used alone and thus can reduce some of the side effects associated with Levodopa. Mr. Gadsden said.

DONATION STRESSES FREEDOM... "The messages of suffering for freedom and fighting for the liberty we take for granted should be shared," noted Clark mayor Bernard G. Yarusavage in presenting two books to the Clark Public Library in honor of "National Library Week." The books, "Ukraine Under the Soviets" by Clarence A. Manning and "Boomerang" by Jailed Historian Valeriy Moroz, were given to the mayor by Ukrainian Society members during the observance of "Ukrainian Independence Day." Miss Grace O'Connor, library director, left, accepted the books from George Drebnyk, a member of the Ukrainian community, center, and the mayor.

Miss Gale put on dean's list

Miss Susan E. Gale of Clark was named to the dean's list at Susquehanna University in Selingsgrove, Pa., for both the fall and winter terms of the current academic year.

Miss Gale, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gale of 70 Thomas Drive, Clark, is a sophomore majoring in mathematics.

The all-weather tennis courts in Rahway River Park in Rahway, Cedar Brook Park in Plainfield, Unami Park in Garwood and Kawamuch Park in Union are open for play.

Park commission officials also report the 10 clay-rubien tennis courts in Warinanco Park in Roselle are open from 9 a.m. to dark daily. They are supervised.

Can nuclear energy hold down the cost of electricity?

Current fuel cost comparison for generating electricity (Cost per million Btu)

OIL	$2.17
COAL	$1.62
NUCLEAR	27¢

NUCLEAR

Public Service Electric and Gas Company

It can and it does. Nuclear fuel is a great deal cheaper than oil and coal used in generating electricity in PSE&G's system. In fact, PSE&G presently pays nine times more for oil and six times more for coal than the equivalent amount of nuclear fuel. These savings in nuclear fuel costs are automatically passed on to you in your monthly bill.

Growing reliance on nuclear power. In a recent month, nuclear power produced 23% of the electricity produced for PSE&G's customers. This growing nuclear influence helped to stabilize your electric bill in the face of increasing costs for both oil and coal. So it's obvious that nuclear power will continue to play an important role in producing electric energy economically. This is true even though nuclear plants cost more to build than ordinary coal or oil burning units.

Nuclear power also plays an important conservation role. Nuclear-produced electricity for PSE&G's customers saved the equivalent of 32 million gallons of oil during a recent month. Savings like these will become especially important in the days to come as heavy new taxes are now being added to PSE&G's fuel oil. Naturally, these new extra taxes for oil will show up in your electric bill, and only nuclear power presently holds the promise of at least providing some counter-balance to rising fuel costs.

PSE&G's nuclear construction program. PSE&G is committed to an increasing reliance on nuclear energy in New Jersey. The first of two units at our Salem Generating Station will go into operation in 1976. Nearby, the Hope Creek Generating Station should be in operation in 1981.

These new plants will produce no air pollution. So PSE&G's increasing reliance on nuclear energy marks the beginning of a new era of clean power generation in New Jersey. It also represents one of the low bright hopes in keeping fuel costs and your electric bills down.

Free Booklet: "Nuclear Energy Questions and Answers."

This entirely new booklet answers all the important questions about nuclear energy and how it will provide electricity for a growing New Jersey. Also enclosed are PSE&G's nuclear plants now under construction. Return this coupon now for your free copy.

Rahway scores against Pingry; Crusaders win

The Rahway Indians snapped out of their losing spell to grab their first win of the season, a 7-1 victory over Pingry Preparatory School of Hillsdale. Don Archer's two-hit pitching was the real winner in the game.

On the Crusader's diamond the Clark swatters lost to the Kenilworth Bears 3-0 as Kevin Keeds of the visitors kept the township boys to four singles.

Pingry scored an unearned run off Archer in the first inning but the city boys struck for two second-inning runs. The Indians filled the bases on two walks around a single by Ken Farrell and two more passes forced in the runs.

Victor Kuryak and Lee Gerhart each tripled for the Indians. The city record is 1-4 while Pingry's is 1-5.

Relief pitcher Mike Jasman of the Crusaders turned in an outstanding showing when he took over in the first inning with two runs in, the bases loaded and nobody out.

After hitting a batter to force in the game's final run, Jasman pitched one hit ball the rest of the way striking out 10 and not issuing a pass.

Kenilworth scored its three runs on a single by Scott Brokaw, four walks and the hit batsman.

St. Agnes CYO basketball boys end season with perfect record

The Catholic Youth Organization basketball team from St. Agnes' School in Clark finished the season by winning two tournaments. The hoop squad was composed of fifth- and sixth-grade students.

The Clark youngsters won the Union County CYO Invitational tournament defeating Immaculate Conception of Somerville 53-27. Once again Kevin Boyle led all scorers with 27 points followed by teammate Mike Schurt's 17 points.

In the second game St. Agnes defeated Sacred Heart of South Plainfield 42-24 with Boyle scoring 24 points and Schurt's 15.

In the final game against the host team Sacred Heart of South Plainfield, St. Agnes trailed by nine points early in the second quarter when Kevin Boyle started to connect scoring 12 of St. Agnes' 14 points in the quarter close to the half one point behind 25-24.

In the final half the teams exchanged leads many times. With 4:31 left in the game Boyle committed his fourth personal. He was replaced by Clark's leading rebounder Jim Taylor who also had four fouls.

Sacred Heart took a one-point lead when Jim Geary hit two foul shots. The Clark team then froze the ball for two minutes and Mike Schurt's hit a long one harder giving the Clark team the lead.

Sacred Heart scored immediately with another basket. Boyle re-entered the game with a minute and 50 seconds left and St. Agnes went into a half-court trap press.

Jim Taylor stole a pass with 58 seconds left and Boyle hit a jumper giving the Clark team a one-point lead. Then he stole a pass and hit both ends of a one-and-one with eight seconds remaining.

The final score was St. Agnes 43 and Sacred Heart 42.

Boyle led all scorers with 30 points in the final game and was picked the tournament's most valuable player. The loss was Sacred Heart's first in 37 games.

Allen Shest, Mike Schurt's, Ken McMurdo, Jim Taylor and Jim Bracuto all did an outstanding job defensively holding their opponents to their lowest season point output.

Wine not?

By Enrico

Of all the wine consumed in this country, one bottle of every nine comes from New York State. One fourth of these are filled with champagne. New York champagnes have been considered exceptionally good for more than 100 years.

The first New York State champagnes were made from juice of the Delaware and Catawba grapes native to the region. (Lambrusca has the distinctive "grape juice" taste.)

Many winners today are blending in the juice of French-American hybrid grapes or even Vinifera varieties. By law, they may blend in up to 25% California or Spanish wine to reduce acidity, but few champagne-makers do.

Pink champagne, like rose wine, takes its color from the skins of the grapes left in the "must" for a time. Cold Duck is a mixture of red and white sparkling wines.

Setters score again

Kathy Williams and Terry Romanowski each drove in two runs to lead the girls' softball team of Mother Seton Regional High School in Clark to a 12-8 win over Cranford. This was coach Margaret Egan's fourth win in a row. Cranford is 1-3.

Earnshaw looks for wins with automobile from Clark

Two-time American Racing Drivers Club champion, Leigh Earnshaw of Morgantown, Pa., was among the racers in three Sunday afternoons of mid-gate auto racing which began at the Fredericksburg, Pa., stadium speedway on April 20.

Defending champion Earnshaw, who also won the club title in 1973, will be at the wheel of the Ed Darrell Sisco out of Clark.

Darrell, who will also be promoting the mid-gate auto racing events, has a brand new Edmunds Sisco-powered mid-gate ready for Earnshaw which is similar to the car Darrell had last year. That car was driven to five feature victories by Earnshaw on the club championship circuit.

Earnshaw, a self-employed Amoco service station operator, won over 30 feature events in recent years with the club and is considered one of the top threats.

Promoter Darrell will present three qualifying heat races, two semi features, a consolation and a 25-lap feature on the one-third-mile clay oval starting at 2 p.m. on Sundays, April 27 and May 4.

Clark booters win trio, tie Westfield for first

The Clark youth soccer team moved into a first-place tie with the Westfield A squad by scoring victories over Westfield B and Carteret.

On April 13 the township boys scored a 3-0 victory over Westfield B on a windy playing field at Arthur L. Johnson Regional High School in Clark.

Playing the first half against the wind the locals were held scoreless until very late in the second period when John Triano looped a 25-yard shot past the Westfield goal tender.

Joe DiFabio opened the second half with a breakaway goal into the corner of the net. Peter Drummond rounded out the scoring with a fourth-period, indirect kick from five yards which deflected off a Westfield defender into the goal.

Robert Kohler, Steve Walton and Tony Marconi led a stony Clark defense which allowed only two shots on goalie Jeff Proceck.

The evenly matched squads were deadlocked until the final three minutes when Clark's scoring leader, Phil Guido, stole the ball at mid-field and rifled a shot into the goal to give Clark a 1-0 win.

Defensive standouts were Dan Balumbo, Drummond and Rich Cilento.

The April 20 victory over Carteret was by a forfeit. Clark has a record of 5-1 with six games remaining in the regular season. The team is coached by Greg Young and sponsored by the board of education.

Ed Marucci hit 649 followed by Rich Hutton 247-645, Bill Pevznik 248-624, Fred Henninger 278-606, Larry Crawford 605 and Jack Hayes 601.

In a girls' softball game the Setters of Mother Seton of Clark scored a 27-3 win over East Orange Catholic.

For those who missed it, the female hoopsters of Rahway High School ended their season 4-4. The showing was good when it is remembered it was the school's first female squad and the girls did most of their practicing at 6:45 a.m.

Noting his girls practiced everyday in the city high school gymnasium, girls' softball coach John Keeffe said, "Right now I think I have the best indoor teams in the world. I'm not sure about outdoors, but indoors we're tough."

Phil Wyzanski won three weight events as Rahway High School scored a 70-56 win in track over Shabazz of Newark.
