Two robberies, one netting the perpetrators $500 worth of goods, later recovered, and the other netting the culprits $500, occurred on April 2, according to Rahway police.

A knife, tire iron and other items which may have been handled by the suspect were brought into police headquarters for prints.

March Rankins, Jr. of 461 East Milton Avenue, reported his car stolen from that address.

A break, entry and larceny of between $30 and $50 in cash occurred at 8511 Leville Avenue.

Police arrested an Avond resident found behind the Rahway Yacht Club on Paterson Street about 4:30 a.m. Sunday for failing to give a good account of his whereabouts and for carrying with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana.

William J. Mello of 822 West Lake Avenue, Rahway, reported a break and entry and the larceny of about $500 in cash, several pieces of jewelry and other items. All rooms appeared to have been entered and a box of candy was found to have been opened and partially eaten.

At the annual meeting Merck stockholders were told the growth of the company over the past two decades and its strength today has been based on a philosophy of organizational balance with a continuing major commitment to research.

"Our research productivity has traditionally run a cycle and until lately we had been going through one of our less productive periods, by Merck's standards," Mr. Gadsden said.

"Happily we have reason to believe that today the company is standing on the threshold of an era of renewed research of productivity," he added.

"Mr. Gadsden said a part of the Merck marketing program is to provide scientific information about its drugs which is so precise that a physician can utilize a Merck product like a surgical instrument."

In discussing government research and prescription drugs, Mr. Gadsden said the company regrets to see a trend which "reduces genuine competition on their therapeutic merits among various drug producers to the same chemical 'nature'."

Emphasis, he said, is being placed on price competition to the exclusion of other important considerations, such as consistent quality, safety, effectiveness, reliability and broad availability.

"Unfortunately, for reasons beyond our comprehension, many people inside and outside of government are taking the position that the availability of a drug made by one manufacturer to a similar drug made by another should be assumed, rather than proved by tests," he said.

Roessner tells bankers about interest rate ills

The president of City Federal Savings and Loan Association of Elizabeth told a group of savings and loan executives that the industry's insistence on retaining a quarter percent advantage on the interest rate they can pay for savings over the rates banks are permitted to pay is creating more problems for thrifts than it is solving.

Gilbert G. Roessner, president of the billion dollar savings and loan association, told the annual stockholders meeting of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Cincinnati that the savings rate differential is "an anachronism that is crippling the savings and loan industry."

The thrift industry has been a hard-line position in Congress to retain the savings rate differential. He said they have over-banked legislation for ending the differential in five and one-half years.

The savings and loan industry leader, a past president of the National Savings and Loan League, asserted that "the banks are using the savings and loan rate advantage to compete with the proposals by which to acquire new lending and investment power which will improve our ability to serve our customers."

Three men penalized $200 in Rahway court session

Three men received $200 fines at last Thursday's Rahway municipal court session.

Stephen B. Sullivan of 17 Walter Drive, Woodbridge, received a $200 fine and was ordered to pay $20 in court costs for driving a motor vehicle while on the revoked list on December 19, 1975.

Erasmichaez Robinson of 824 East Hazelwood Avenue, Rahway, was also fined $200 for driving while on the revoked list and told to pay $20 in court costs. The offense occurred February 10.

For driving without his insurance card in his possession, Robinson was also fined $100 and told to pay $10 in costs. In addition he was fined $100 and told to pay the same in costs for disregarding a stop sign.

Robinson was also fined $100 for possessing a handgun paraphernalia on January 30.

Raymond Blanks, who lacked an address on court records, was fined $200 for driving while his license was suspended and $200 for using another person's license for identification. Both sentences included $20 in court costs.

The cases involving Gregory Fuller Pierce of 53-5 Bogwick Avenue and Joshua McDaniel of 145 Wilkison Avenue, both in Jersey City, were both held for the grand jury.

Both men were charged with possessing stolen property on April 23, namely a 1973 white Ford motor vehicle reported to have been stolen from Jersey City.

Cases involving both men on charges of possessing burglary tools allegedly on the same date were referred to the prosecutor.

A $50 fine was imposed on Martha Anderson of 1011 Bryant Street, Rahway, for banging on the door of Roy H. Filkins of the same address and disturbing and harassing him.

Thomas R. Thompson of 1909 Lufberry Street, Rahway, was fined $50 for driving an uninsured motor vehicle. He had to pay $10 in costs and $10 in contempt penalties and had his license revoked for six months.

For being an uninsured motorist Richard S. Drake of 60 Russell Avenue, Rahway, was fined $50, told to pay $10 in costs and had his license revoked for six months.

Failure to yield the right of way cost Joan Rothbell of 350 New Dover Road, Rahway, a $15 fine and $10 in costs.

A $25 fine for the fictitious display of plates was imposed on Russell Thompson of 1909 Lufberry Street, Rahway. He was also ordered to pay $10 in court costs.

State legislators should rescind federal ERA approval

By E. Sidman Wachter

To their everlasting credit the voters of Rahway and Clark last fall rejected overwhelmingly the proposed "equal rights" amendment (ERA) to the state constitution. They rightly perceived ERA as opening the way to destruction of the family unit, to negation of privacy between the sexes in public facilities and to abolition of the protective legislation for women in industry. They further understood that the so-called "rights" promised to women by ERA proponents, such as equal pay for equal work, equal opportunity for employment and promotion and equal access to credit, are already possessed by American women thanks to federal statutes.

It will be recalled, however, that back in the spring of 1972 the New Jersey legislature, pressured by noisy women's libbers, and acting in haste without due consideration, ratified the proposed "equal rights" amendment to the United States Constitution. This action was taken, as customary, without any effort to ascertain grassroots sentiment.

But now, four years later, the situation is different. The voice of the people has spoken and ERA and has said "NO WAY!" It therefore behooves our state senators and assemblymen to hearken to the voice of the people and to act accordingly.

State senate concurrent resolution no. 64, cosponsored by state senators Thomas Dunn of Elizabeth, Anthony Imperiale of Newark and Peter J. McDonough, 3rd of Plainfield, would rescind New Jersey's ill-considered ratification of the proposed amendment to the United States Constitution. This measure should be passed unanimously by both houses of the legislature without further delay.

Let no one be beguiled by the fallacious argument that a state legislature lacks the power to rescind ratification of a proposed amendment until such time as an amendment has been ratified by the requisite three-fourths of the 50 sovereign states, a legislature is as free to reverse its previous ratification thereof as it is free to reconsider its previous refusal to ratify.

Unfortunately the measure is being bottled-up in the state senate's judiciary committee where it has remained for the past four months. Until it is released and brought to the floor of the senate no vote can be taken. Can it be that the judiciary committee is unaware of the commitment of New Jersey voters to the defeat of the ERA, or does it wish to thwart that commitment?

Readers might help by reminding state senator James P. Bugan, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, state house Trenton, 08625, that a prompt vote on the resolution is urgent, and therefore its release by the committee is also urgent.

Letters to other state senators on the judiciary committee would also be helpful. Write state senators Joseph A. Marassa, Barry Parker, Raymond Bateman, William V. Musto, John Lurch, Alfred Beadleson, Alexander Mezza, Martin L. Greenberg and John M. Skavin, all at the state house.

These budget bills came with the administration ceiling of $3.2 billion, outlays of $3.0 billion, revenues of $2.1 billion. The administration's program is a fiscal year budget which each percentage point of unemployment costs $10 billion to our national deficit. With this in mind the house budget committee budget ceiling is geared to creating 1.1 million more jobs than the administration budget. An accent on the creation of more jobs is important to New Jersey where unemployment levels are a level well above the national average. Spending levels in the house committee proposal also reflect more spending of money to strengthen national security, less of a reduction in education support than in the administration plan; and more help for United States veterans, but whatever the outcome it's good for taxpayers that congress is tackling the budget shaping process this year with greater responsibility and accountability than ever before.

Good budget news

It is budget time in the congress and this year the process has more significance than ever before. Implementation of the 1974 budget act, now in its final stages, gives congress greater responsibility and authority in setting national economic policy.

Congress is establishing budget limits and setting priorities within these ceilings. The result is approval and welcome change in the way congress must think about spending taxpayers' money. Spending and taxing are no longer being left to the disparate and fragmented purposes of a host of separate committees and their individual chairmen. Instead it is being brought under tight, integrated control.

From now on pushing through supplemental spending bills will no longer be a matter of congressional routine. Any supplemental spending that exceeds the budget limit will be out of order unless congress is prepared to adopt a special rule. It will be some months — perhaps even some years — before the merits of the new procedure can be fully assessed, but all indications are that its impact and benefits will be considerable. Even so, it is apparent that much more is needed to check the soaring cost of government.

When all the attention now being given to the budget for fiscal 1977 subsides, I want congress to consider legislation that I introduced some months ago to create a truth in budgeting act.

This will be a natural extension of the new budget process. In essence it requires each congressional committee to periodically review the spending programs of all federal agencies under its control and to cut spending to reflect any diminished need for established programs. Programs found to have outlived their usefulness would be scrapped. Those found to have diminished need would have their budgets reduced. That way we can eliminate waste and scale-down spending to the minimum consistent with public need.

Meanwhile the new budget shaping process is a positive step toward fiscal responsibility. The house of representatives budget committee approved a budget of $452.3 billion with $413.6 billion in spending. It has projected revenues of $363 billion and a deficit of $50.6 billion. The senate budget committee approved targets of $454.9 billion, $412.6 billion in outlays, revenues of $362.4 billion and a deficit of $50.2

Cubs and Yankees win in recreation baseball

Both the Cubs and Yankees extended winning streaks, remained unbeaten and tied for first place in the Clark recreation baseball league.

The Cubs scored six victories last week. They belted the Expos 10-2 behind the one-hit pitching of Tom Matthews who struck out eight batters. Mike Gastano and Bob Antalos paced the attack with two hits each.

The Cubs' fourth straight win came at the expense of the Mets 7-3. Greg Slater 2-0 with 10 strikeouts was the winning pitcher.

The offense was led by Tom Matthews' three hits and two each by Peter Sando and Mark Longino. Greg Slater led a two-run triple play in the losing Mets.

The Yankees won their fourth straight game by defeating the Expos 4-1. Nick Caputo pitched for the Yankees. Caputo not only pitched the victory but had a perfect day in that he struck out four batters in four innings.

Support was provided by Tom Sando's double and triple, Paul Babe's triple and single error and Mike Lujan hit to left center. The Mets added some insurance in the fifth with a run-scoring hit.

The winning pitcher for the Yankees was Tom Matthews. The loser was Greg Slater.

The Union Catholic High School Terriers defeated Rahway 2-0 in the Veterans Memorial game on Saturday, May 8. The Terriers scored twice in the fourth inning. The third run came on an error.

Tom Deegan hit the Indians to three hits, the only Indian threat came in the last of the seventh when Lee Gerhart doubled to open the inning.

Deegan, who is 2-3 on the season, including the loss of a no-hitter, got the next three batters on a fly out, a liner back to the mound and a strikeout, his fifth of the day.
