Bonding ordinance introduced on public works garage addition

In spite of a discussion over the need to appropriate $400,000 for the construction of an addition to the clup public works garage, the renovation of the Deck St. pumping station, the relocation of the police pisk a range and a piculc area and the purchase of equipment for the Dept. of Public Works, the Rahwy City Council Monday introduced a bond ordinance for the sum.

The adoption of a resolution adding 138,000 to the capital improvement fund in the 1979 temperary budget to support the ordinance was opposed by Second Ward Councilman John C. Marsh, who said the measure had not been discussed at the Council's casteris last week and it required a unanimous vote to its placed on the aplosion a few years ago which damaged the structure.

The councilman said he could see no reason why the city should build a picnic area in the vicinity of the Rahway sewerage treatment plant because of the unpleasant odor and added he could see no reason why the equipment should be replaced, since it could probably be operated for some time yet.

Councilman-at-Large Francis R. Senkowsky replied most of the equipment was purchased in the 1960's and had outworn its usefulness.

Rahway grid coach, teacher found guilty

The head coach of the Rahway High School foot-ball room and an industrial arts teacher at the school were each found guilty in Clark Municipal Court Jan. 4 of assault and battery charges they made against each other.

The to a c h, Michael Punko, 32, and the teacher, Wilhur Hooper, 64, 67 1444
Essex St., Rahway, engaged in an altercation Dec. 13 of last year outside the Log Cabim, a tavern on Raritan Rd., Clark, after a Christmas party sponsored by the Friendship Club of the high school.

After hearing more than two hours of testimony, Municipal Judge Joseph R. Postizzi fined Punko was sassessed a higher fine because he was more agreessive than Hooper.

Testimony Indicated there had been friction between the two involving racial overtones.

Hooper told the court Punko "called me an igger, spat in may face and struck me quite a few times on the left side of my face." He said he later was taken to Rahway Hospital where eight stitches were needed to close wounds on his face. Punko tentified Hooper (alled him a "racist," then took a swing at him.

The coach saidheducked and hit Hooper in the face once, knocking him down. He claimed he acted in self defense and added after punching Hooper. and said be did not call him any names.

Part-time politicians are

what the nation needs

In addition, underly wage extrest a counted among the unexployed to a working husbands and 90% of the nation's working husbands and 9 Congress now spends a billion dollars a year just to maintain itself, its privileges, its ever-burgeoning staff and its various agencies. Would you believe there are now more than 19,000 congressional employes? This means 36 for each representative. They are there to help shoulder the "terrible burden" imposed on federal legislators by holding public office.

Aside from the special privileges which Congress has voted itself, such as automatic pay increases based on cost of living changes, it is also exempted from many requirements, like Social Security taxes, which it was imposed on the American people. So desirable are these special privileges and exemptions they are fast eroding the basic nature of the U.S. Congress. From the representative assembly of the people which the Founding Fathers intended it to be, it is becoming a privileged caste, like the nobles of medieval society. At one time, serving in Congress was seen as a patriotic duty, comparable to service in the armed forces in time of war. Many men stood for Congress to give their country the benefit of their ability and experience, enduring long hours and inadequate remuneration in order to help their country.

This, however, is the era of the professional politician and the career lawmaker. Too many members of both the House and the Senate view public service as a life-time ride on the gravy train, with the taxpayers paying their fare. Once a member is elected, there is a good chance he may enjoy life tenure in his seat. Incumbents running for re-election possess a built-in advantage over their challengers, what with free mailing privileges, except for campaign literature, staff, newsletters, computer allowances and all the political 1,0.U.'s acquired by assisting constituents in small matters. I.O.U.'s acquired by assisting constituents in small matters.

How sensible it would be to restore Congress to the representative assembly envisioned by the Founding Fathers. The surest way to do that would be to curtail congressional perquisites and redress the present imbalance of opportunity between incumbents and challengers. We should consciously revive the concept of the citizen-politician, for whom service in Congress is a temporary diversion from a career rather than a career in itself.

Unemployment figures should tell true story

The steady increase in employment in New Jersey to a record of 3,365,000 men, women and reenagers is one of the more encouraging economic trends. Unfortunately, the employment figures receive much less attention in the daily press than the gloomier forecasts of unemployment and recession.

The drop in unemployment in New Jersey for the third The drop in unemployment in New Jersey for the third quarter to 5.4% of the adult work population 20 and over mirrors the national decline in joblessness. This comes at a time when the working population continues to increase with large numbers of women and teenagers joining the job market.

We have, in short, achieved a remarkable turnaround since the recession with more than 95 million Americans employed, the highest in our nation's history. Almost 60% of the nation's working-age population has a ½b. Most of these gains in the past two years have occurred in labor-intensive service industries, rather than in manufacturing. in labor-intensive service industries, rather than in manufacturing.

Help wanted advertisements, which are an indicator of a tightening labor market, also have been rising, indeed, many employers complain they are unable to fill vacancies because food stamps, unemployment benefits, welfare and other forms of tax-free public assistance have made non-work more attractive for those at the bottom of the wage scale.

The tightness in the labor market will make it difficult for the Carter Administration to keep wage rates from rising as fast, or faster, than they have over the last two years, let alone achieve the Administration's stated goal of a lower rate of increase in wages.

Battle manual helps war against inflation

The individual consumer cannot single handedly stop the spiral of prices. But you can take steps to make sure your paycheck goes a littler farther. The United States Office of Consumer Affairs has a free booklet called, "A Consumer's Shopping List of Inflation Fighting Ideas." It includes advice on how m use food market advertisements to get the best fuys. For example, did you know there are generally fewer specials at the beginning of the month? Knowing when to shop can help make your dollar go farther.

The booklet also cautions consumers about paying for things they really may not need. There are also bints on saving energy and health costs. For a free copy of the booklet, write to the Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Domestic automobile manufacturers and dealers

Center, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

Domestic automobile manufacturers and dealers established the private National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence several years ago. Many segments of the industry have supported the program voluntarily. The program involves testing and certifying mechanics. There are competency tests in eight different specialty areas. Theare are over 100,000 mechanics in the country who have been certified in at least one area of automobile repair.

Of course, a voluntary, private certification is no guarantee a consumer will not run into a repair problem. But if you are shopping around for a repair shop, you may want to know which facilities employ mechanics who have been certified under this program. The National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence will send you a free list of such repair facilities in this state. Write to N.I.A.S.E., 1825 "K" St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

This is the government agency with the authority to protect the users of commercial avlation and guard their rights under the law.

The objective of the new bureau is to assist consumers, passengers and shippers who may have had difficulty in arranging air transportation or with the air carrier's performance.

If you have tried to resolve your problem with the airline and cannot get a satisfactory response, the telephone number for the C. A. B.'s Bureau of Consumer Protection in New York is (212) 264-2700. The address is 90 Church St., Room 1316A, New York, N.Y. 10007. Did you buy a dog or cat as a special holiday gift for your children? Are you considering such a purchase in the near future? Even if the animal appears perfectly healthy, you should have the animal examined within 14 days after your purchase in order to preserve your rights under the law.

If a veterinarian examines your animal within the 14 day period and finds it is "unfit for purchase" you have several options. First, you can keep the animal and attempt to cure it.
The regulation of the Division of Consumer Affairs which governs the retail sale of dogs and cats specifies reasonable veterinary fees will be paid by heper dealer where the animal is certified as unfit.

Second, consumers can opt to return the animal to the

TRENTON Last year's problems still face Legislature

For those of us who think of Jan. 1 as the time for new programs and better resolve, the action from Trenton may seem disappointing. The flip of the calendar will not, unfortunately, Trenton may seem disappointing.

The flip of the calendar will not, unfortunately, magically erase the problems of last year. How nice if the automobile insurance mess, government reform and the state's energy problems could be solved dimply by the appearance of a new year.

Many of the legislative dilemmas facing us now are the same ones we've been grappling with for the last several months. Last year's unfinished business occupies the top spot on this year's agenda.

Things to look for from Trenton in the coming year include some old, familiar problems. Following are just a few of the pending bills you might like to watch this year:

include some old, familiar problems. Following are just a few of the pending bills you might like to watch this year:

-- The Legislature is still tring to come up with a solution to the state's no-fault automobile insurance problems. Two administration bills have cleared committee and may come up for a vote at any time, but we are still a long way from a universelly acceptable solution. Now that insurance Commissioner James J. Sheeran has announced rate increases for the coming year, the situation becomes even more critical.

-- The Civil Service Reform Act is being botly debated in committee and may be ready for a vote this month. An attempt to overhaul New Jersey's 70-year-old civil service laws, this hill generates controversy with its proposal to limit "veterans preference" in government hiring and its plan to create a cabiner-level Dept. of Personnel. Since the governor made a special point last year of highlighting civil service reform as an administration goal, it will be interesting to watch this hill travel during the legislative process.

-- Energy legislation will be high on the list of activities this year. The trouble in iran, higher prices in natural gas and home heating oll, and New Jersey's off-shore oil exploration ensure energy matters will deserve our attention this year. The success of my own solar energy bills in a Democratic-controlled Legislature indicate energy problems transcend partisative election laws' was a goal included in the governor's annual message a year ago.

In addition to the unforeseen challenges of the coming months, we see the new year bring us old, yet vitally important, business. I will try to keep you informed on the progress of these and other bills in the coming year. Best wishes for a Happy New Year.

Parents should remember their responsibility for toy safety does not end when they purchase the right "safe" toy for their children. Even the safest toy, improperly used, can cause serious injury. Here sixe some tips for parents on what should be done after the holidays to insure toy safety:

Especially with electrical toys, be sure they are kept in good repair. If repair is no longer possible, an electrical toy could be dangerous. Get rid of it. Check regularly for broken parts, frayed cords and damage to compartments which enclose wiring.

Electrical toys should be put away in a dry storage area out of reach of younger children. Only an adult should replace a light bulb on electrical toys. Be sure the replacement bubb is the proper watage.

Make sure you point out the potential dangers of all toys to children, and of, course, common sense is the best rule when it comes to adult supervision of children and their toys: X-12-year-old using an electrical football game may need little or no supervision, but a nine-year-old using a toy oven should be very closely supervised. . . .

We request only one thing from the new member of the "loyal opposition"—please do not begin your term of service with preconceived notions. With sincerity and responsibility, you will be able to serve well, and you will find this administration is also sincere and responsibile.

In conclusion, I want to thank the dedicated employes of the city of Rahway for their hard work which made 1978 a successful year. And I want to thank the people of Rahway for giving me the great honor they have and for allowing me to continue to serve them.

Thank you.

Cold air coming in around doors and windows can waste precious heat.

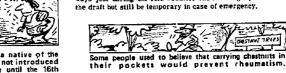

Extra rooms should be closed off if they are not in use. This means closing off the radiator or heating vents, pulling the shades down or closing the draperies. Use a "bumper" at the bottom of the door, preventing cooling drafts.

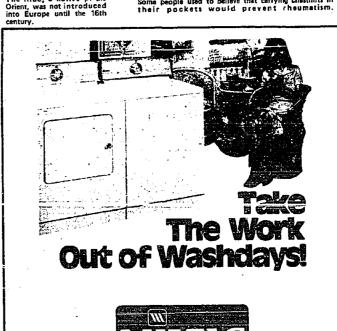

In the living areas of your home keep the shades down or the drapes pulled on the north and west sides or on the side from which the wind is blowing.

If the sun shines in any of your windows open the shades or drapes for those windows and gain some extra solar heat unless your thermostat is also in the sun.

Notice any condensation on the windows. If excess steam or ice clouds the inside window, cold air is leaking in around the storm window or window frame. Check caulking in the summer. > City's Mark Slonaker key to Georgia victory

CORNER

Mark Slonaker, former Rahway High School baskethall start, scored four points and played an outstanding floor game as his Georgia University Bulldogs dropped a 97-75 game to top ranked LSU at Baton Rouge, i.a.

The Annual Union County Stove League Dinner will be eld at the Town and Campus in Union on Tuesday, Jan.

23, at 6;30 p.m.
Reggie Jack of the New York Yankees is one of the two main speakers.

Bob Kontra hit a 253 game in a 696 set to lead the pinners in the Clark Lancs Suburban 865 League. Join Hickey had a 268 game in a 673 series, Rich Garon, a 644 series; Scott Winters, a 257 game in a 643 series; Larry Dering, a 629; Bill Kranec, a 628; Will Stichter, a 622; Paul Peterson, a 616; Glenn Coetanzo, a 609; John Kereklverto, a 607, and Len Gulluci, a 604 series.

One of the most important games of the National Division, Watching Conference will take place at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 13, -- Rahway will travel to meet the Hillside Comets.

The Linden Tigers, winning eight of the 12 bouts, defeated Johnson Regional 33-15 in Wrestling recently. Clark winners were: At 101 pounds, Bill Jaffe over Brian Taylor, 3-0; at 108 pounds, Adrian Oddi over Alex Rivera, 5-0, and at 170 pounds, Bob Johnson over Rich Miller, 201. In the heavyweight class, Neil Esposito planed Charles Miller in four minutes and 28 seconds.

Clark's girls baskethall team defeated Rahway 46-38 at Rahway. Donna Tome scored 18 and Suc Marshall 11 for the winners. Elisa Zinberg had 17 for the indians, who now have dropped six straight.

The scheduled boys basketball game between Rahway and Howell Township was not played on Dec. 5. The indians were forced to cancel the game, so not to exceed the 20-game regular-season limit imposed by the New Jersey State Interscholastic Athletic Assn.

The University of Georgia's Mark Sionaker of Rahway played his most timely role of the early season in a recent gene against Pan American College of Edinberg, Tex., which saw the Buildogs nip the Broncos 74-72 at the buzzer. Sionaker was called in early by coach Hugh Durham to try to curtail the scoring of Pan Am's Danny Salishury.

While coach Durham might not convey his pleasure to his players face -to-face, he does let the fans know. On his postgame show and press conference, Durham commented on Sionaker's play.

"We've played our best bankethall when Mark is in the game," he praised. "He really came in and ignited us unlight. He likes to play defense, and you have to like to do something before you can be good at it."

Even with Sionaker's good play, it was the city youth's fifth foul which ironically set the stage for the Georgia win. Sionaker picked up his fifth personal with one minute and 15 seconds left on the clock and the 'Dogs leading 70-67. Durham took his entire minute, which is alloted a coach after one of his players fouls out, to decide on a substitution. Jeff Thomas, a freshman guard from New York, filled Sionaker's yoid.

Salishury made the front end of a one-and-one to cut the margin to 70-68. Georgia's Jimmy Daughtry had the ball stolen from him in the delay game and the Broncos converted the turnover to the it at 70 aplece.

Georgia's Walter Daniels, who ended up with 28 points, and Pan Am's Rex Spain traded buckets as the game remained tied with 26 seconds left on the clock. Georgia ran off 14 ticks and celled timeout to set up one last ran off 14 ticks and celled timeout to set up one last play.

"We wanted to get Walter open off the double pick on the baseline," said Durham after the game.

Daniels didget the ball and the shot off, but his try was long and Daughtry went high for the rebound against two broncos. With just three seconds left he spotted Thomas at the left of the key and hit him with the pass. Thomas tor.
