Board tables shoe decision for athletes

Rahway's athletes will apparently have to wait awhile before they find out if the Board of Education will pay for their athletic footwear for the 1981-1982 school year.

A motion to require the athletes to pay for their own shoes was tabled by the Board at its March 16 session. The school body's athletic committee had reportedly recommended the Board members re-direct the $2,000 to $3,000 spent annually to reconstruct old shoes and buy new ones.

Instead, the committee reportedly asked the money be used to purchase other football equipment.

The move was reportedly necessitated by the loss or abuse of the shoes, which cost an average of $50 a pair.

In other action, the Board:

- Accepted the resignation of Mrs. Lois Buchanan, effective immediately, after her leave of absence during the present school year.
- Agreed to the resignation of Scott Sokolic, a Rahway High School science teacher, effective Friday, May 1, or sooner if a replacement can be found.
- Granted Mrs. Julie Weigel an extension of her child-rearing leave for the 1981-1982 school year.
- Granted Mrs. Brenda Hope an extension of her child-rearing leave for the 1981-1982 school year.
- Okayed a one-year leave of absence for student, without pay, to Miss Sharon Malian an art teacher at Rahway Junior High School, for the 1981-1982 school year.
- Extended the leave of absence of Mrs. Diann Wolman, without pay, for the 1981-1982 school year.
- Granted Miss Susan Vargappa, a foreign language teacher at the junior high school, a one-year leave of absence, without pay, for the 1981-1982 school year.
- Extended the child-rearing leave of Mrs. Lon Kennedy for the 1981-1982 school year.
- Appointed Fred Steuber boys spring freshman track coach for the 1981-1982 school year at the extra services compensation of $920.
- Added David Grzesicki, Lee Dah Peng, Dennis Sweeney and Thomas Rutledge to the substitute teacher list for the present school year.
- Approved two out-of-district placements of students at the Tru County Vocational School in Livingston at tuition of $720 each per month for the remainder of this school year.

Golden Agers to open boutique

The Rahway Golden Agers Club will hold a boutique featuring hand-made art pieces and a flea market at the center of the Rahway Senior Citizens Center at 1306 Esterbrook Ave., Rahway, on Wednesday, April 8.

It will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Lack of love'ers cancels net season

Reportedly spurred on by a "total lack of interest," the Rahway Board of Education March 16 voted to suspend boys tennis and golf teams for the spring season.

School officials said not a single student signed up for the teams.

The acceptance of a student from outside the district in the 11th grade at Rahway High School was also approved at a tuition of $200 per month for the remainder of this school year, effective March 2 of this year.

In other action, the Board:

- Approved the out-of-district placement of one student at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of the Rutgers Medical School at a tuition of $720 per month for the remainder of the 1980-1981 school year, effective March 9 of this year.
- Okayed the submission and operation, if funded, of an Intra-Preventive Blood Distribution Program, in the amount of $2,400, under Reading, as a fundamental at Roosevelt School and Rahway Junior High School during the 1981-1982 school year.
- Gave its permission for the fifth payment of $8,000 to Newark Engineering Co.

Merck envisions spending $280 million for research

The 1980 Annual Report of Merck & Co. Inc. of Rahway was mailed to stockholders recently.

According to the report, and as previously disclosed, the health products firm:

- Plans to spend $280 million for research and development in 1981, a 20% increase from the 1980 expenditures of $233.9 million.
- Had sales of $2.7 billion in 1980, an increase of 15% from 1979. Net income rose 14% to $433,984,000, or $5.79 per share of common stock.

The chairman and chief executive officer, John J. Horan, and John L. Huck, president and chief operating officer, said in the report's letter to stockholders, "Advances in modern science offer the hope of remarkably sophisticated new products to improve the treatment, or even cure, important diseases and to prevent them. We expect some of these drugs and vaccines to emerge from the work of Merck's laboratories."

The company is well-positioned to continue its record of creating and marketing outstanding products, they added.

"Among the major products we expect to introduce soon is interferon, which has shown exceptional promise for control of parasites in livestock," Mr. Horan and Mr. Huck stated. Merck hopes to introduce a vaccine against hepatitis, "H" virus, next year. In earlier stages of study are a new agent for the control of high blood pressure and thiazamide, for formamide, a new broad-spectrum antibiotic.

Merck's increase in 1980 sales was significantly aided by global acceptance of new products from its research laboratories, the company officials said.

Among them were Mefen, a broad-spectrum injectable antibiotic, and Timoptic, for treating glaucoma, a major cause of blindness.

Sales of human health products outside the United States exceeded $1 billion for the first time.

The company's environmental and specialty-chemical products and services segment had good sales and income growth in 1980, Mr. Horan and Mr. Huck said.

Merck has application awaiting approval from the Food and Drug Administration for introduction of a number of prescription products in the United States.

"As reported last year, four of these drugs will broaden our ability to serve physicians caring for patients with cardiovascular conditions," the Merck executives said.

"They are Moduretic, a combination of potassium-sparing agent and the diuretic hydrochlorothiazide, for high blood pressure and edema; Modamor, the same potassium-sparing agent alone, for control of high blood pressure; Bionoran, a beta-blocker agent for high blood pressure and angina; and Timolide, a combination of our beta-blocker and hydrochlorothiazide, for high blood pressure, the executives added.

"The first three of these products have been marketed abroad for a number of years, with sales of Moduretic exceeding $100 million in 1980. We hope patients in the United States, too, will soon be able to receive their therapeutic benefits," they noted.

Expansion and modernization of Merck's plants and laboratories throughout the world has greatly improved its competitive position over the last decade, stockholders were told.

"We have moved toward greater integration and consolidation of key manufacturing and technical functions," Mr. Horan and Mr. Huck said.

"Increased emphasis is being placed on developing and applying the most modern technology in our manufacturing processes and laboratory instrumentation throughout the company."

City students told to achieve better

New graduation requirements, which will obligate Rahway High School students to achieve beyond the state minimum, were adopted by the Rahway Board of Education on March 16.

While the state is raising the number of credits necessary for graduation from 15 to 19, Rahway will raise the number from 15 to 110.

Part of the increase will come from including the minimum of 25 credits to be taken by ninth graders in the total.

The new standard will mean city high school students will take one credit of communication for each year of enrollment up to four credits.

"This will mean such categories as English and media-related courses," reported Nicholas F. DeMonaco, assistant superintendent of schools.

Other requirements will be two years of mathematics, three years of United States history, one year of natural or physical science, one year of physical education, health and safety for each year of enrollment and one year of fine, practical and/or performing arts.

Mr. DeMonaco added a half year of career exploration or development related to each field will be required in courses dealing with particular job areas.

The recommendation will take effect with the students entering ninth grade in September.

The new state minimum also will take effect by then.

Also adopted was a proposal to include ninth graders in the high school attendance policy adopted last year, which calls for an automatic failure in a course in which a student has more than four unexcused absences a quarter.

A third policy will require ninth graders to pass courses with 20 of the 25 credits they take in order to be promoted into the 10th grade.

The assistant superintendent noted the ninth-grade graduation requirement was adopted because state standards include four years of high school study, even though Rahway has a junior high school system going up to the ninth grade.

In other action, the Board:

- Announced that the kindergarten registration will be held in each elementary school building during the week of April 6.
- Approved the re-appointment of Mrs. Irene Allen as a custodian assistant at Rahway Junior High School at an annual salary of $8,075, prorated effective Monday, April 6, to Tuesday, June 30, of this year.
- Accepted the retirement resignation of Mrs. Margaret Fleming, a teacher at Roosevelt School, after 20 years in the district, effective June 30.
- Okayed the retirement resignation of Mrs. Edith Roberts, a secretary at Roosevelt School, after 28 years in the district, effective June 30.

Rahway City Clerk Francis B. Senkowsky reported March 20 his office has completed a tremendously successful voter registration drive at Rahway High School.

The clerk noted on Feb. 24 and 26 representatives of his office were present at the school and successfully registered 177 students to vote.

Mr. Senkowsky added he believed that the effort marked the first time in many years a voter registration drive had been completed in the schools.

"The overwhelming success of this program indicates to me a keen interest on the part of our young people in the political process," the official declared.

"Without the dedicated efforts of school officials and teachers, we would never have been able to achieve this success," he said.

The clerk noted the Union County Board of Elections and particularly Arthur H. Wersland, chief clerk of the Board, had also been instrumental in the effort, providing computer and necessary funds.

The clerk's new municipal clerk, who was appointed to office last Nov. 10, indicated approved voter awareness will be a prime objective of his office plans, including continued voter registration programs in the schools, at Senior Citizen housing projects, and for new residents of the community.

Letters to the Editor

Father Gavin extends good wishes to papers

I want to take this opportunity to offer you my heartiest congratulations and good wishes of the congregation of St. Paul's Episcopal Church on the occasion of the acquisition of the Rahway News Record and the Clark Patriot by Tabloid Lithographers, Inc.

When so many memorable things of the past have vanished or been replaced, it is a joy to learn with your deep sense and appreciation of history, you are making possible the continuation of New Jersey's oldest weekly newspaper, which was established in 1842.

It may interest you to know St. Paul's Episcopal Church has been here in Rahway since 1836, and the city newspaper and our congregation grew together. Under the guidance and leadership of C. Vigilante, the Atom Tabloid has greatly expanded, and I sincerely wish the firm similar success with the publication of the Rahway News Record and the Clark Patriot.

Stephen Zavali supports quality schools, homes

In regard to the Letters to the Editor written by the Clark Township Coalition during the past few months, I would like to make some observations and comments about several of the authors' remarks.

Like Mr. Schoen, I am glad to lead in Clark for many years.

My three children attended the Clark public schools for more than of their school years, and I am happy to state they received an excellent education.

During my residency on Clark the township has grown over these 20 years into the largest township in the county.

The equivalent of four new schools was built during the time I was of the township, and the investment in these buildings, the tax rate of Clark has remained comparable to that of surrounding communities.

I personally have considered my tax contribution to the schools an investment in my home and property. Obviously, I made a good investment, since my children received a good education and my home is worth a premium price.

What I don't understand is why people like those of the Coalition who have made the same good investment are so willing to raise their property value for the sake of saving a few dollars in taxes.

Since the Taxpayers Coalition was organized by the Board of Education they should be intelligent enough to realize second-rate schools exist in second-rate communities.

Why are these candidates so eager to make our schools second-rate?

Hopefully, the people of Clark who really care will realize additional anti-taxation Board members would mean the ending of all our life long investments in our property.

When I retire in a few more years I hope I will be able to sell my home for a premium price, but even beyond the usual money factors, which interest all of us, I hope our present and future school children are afforded the same advantages as those received.

Minimum aid elimination Clark disaster: Heyman

The elimination of minimum state aid to the 14th Circuit Regional High School District No. 1 and to the Clark Township school system would be a disaster. It would result in further cutbacks in programs, teaching and other employees, and most importantly, it would imperil the quality of education that has brought many of our citizens to Clark.

REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

by Congressman Matt Rinaldo
 27th District, New Jersey

ZIP plan deserves zapping immediately

Bills have been introduced in both the Senate and the House of Representatives which would withhold funding necessary for the Postal Service to implement the expanded ZIP code program.

It would require an initial cost of more than $1 billion to the government to purchase the equipment.

At a time when Congress is looking for ways to cut back the budget and businesses are already strapped by inflation, it makes little sense to institute a confusing, expensive, and quite possibly wasteful system.

There are now only 40,000 ZIP codes in use. The Postal Service admits the nine-digit ZIP code would not speed delivery of the mail.

Besides the estimated $1 billion it would cost the government to implement the system, it will add tens of millions of dollars to businesses' costs in updating their mailing lists.

In effect, the Postal Service is asking private businesses to pay out huge amounts of money with no improvement in mail service.

The nine-digit ZIP code would require 30,000 pages of encyclopedic sized directory would contain 30,000 pages.

There may be a need to improve automation and make some adjustments to the new technology, but there are not many people who believe an expanded ZIP code is the solution to the Postal Service's problems. Most citizens have expressed opposition to the proposal and completed substantial and complex substantial portions of the final implementation.

Township Council March 16 approved a resolution in Mr. Ginesi's performance bond from $160,849 to $48,737.

Mr. Ginesi's maintenance bond balance was set at $12,000.

In other action, councilmen:

- Requested Public Service Electric & Gas Co. to install utility poles and lights on Union County Parkway from Valley Rd. to Crown Parkway on the side of the road owned by the county with electrical costs for the lights.
- Established 1981 municipal swimming pool rates of $5 per child for all swim lessons, $5 per child for swim team membership, $3 each for lost identification cards, $15 each for the junior life-saving course, and $12.50 each for the junior life-saving course, guest fees.
- Stated cleaning engines and painting valve covers and the air cleaner to make them look new is a common practice.
- Watch out for rags or floor mats covering noised flooring. If a used car has a brand new carpeting you should be suspicious.
- Be certain you receive a mileage disclosure statement before the transfer of title, and you see the mileage form given to the seller by the prior owner.

Terrorists must learn we won't allow them

By E. Sidman Wachter

What does terrorism mean to you and me? Well, most of us remember when we could simply walk into an airport and board a plane.

Now we must have our luggage X-rayed and must ourselves be screened by an X-ray checking device for bombs and bombs.

On the evening news, we regularly view frightening examples of international terrorism. A shooting in Spain, a bombing in West Germany, a kidnapping in Brazil, a rocket attack on an American embassy overseas, and, right in our own country, terrorist bombings have already killed several dozen innocent Americans.

As recently as Jan. 12, more than 20 time bombs exploded in the United States National Air Guard base in San Juan, Puerto Rico, destroying eight American jets and damaging eight other American aircraft. The destruction of American military property was estimated at $45 million.

We may expect a great deal more trouble of this nature since Premier Fidel Castro has exported to the United States his trained revolutionaries, hidden among the thousands of bona fide Cuban refugees fleeing the island.

These revolutionaries have already instilled riots in Cuban relocation centers, burning buildings and destroying American property. They have also managed to come to Miami from a tropical climate to an area dominated by the "abiding citizen."

The "open door" which President Jimmy Carter offered to bomb throwers, spies and revolutionaries must now be closed tightly.

But how is the Reagan administration to identify the terrorists? Premier Castro and those from Iran and other unfriendly nations?

During the past decade, the Liberals have deliberated, House Internal Security Committee and are now battling every patriotic attempt to re-establish internal security.

Their threats about "invasion of privacy" and "restriction of civil liberties" appear regularly on television.

Recently introduced in Congress was an Anti-Terrorism Bill, which would reestablish the House Internal Security Committee, a crucial tool for cracking down on terrorists before they strike.

If it can be reactivated, our law enforcement agencies will be permitted to keep track of terrorists, and thus be able to afford protection to innocent Americans going about their daily routines.

This Anti-Terrorism Bill should be backed to the limit.

Purchasing used cars needs detective work

You can get valuable consumer advice by telephoning our special Tel Consultant number, 643-6400, and ask for Miss Joyner.

I should like to be helpful to present some additional tips on buying a used car. These hints and suggestions were compiled by investigators in the Division of Consumer Affairs, based on their expertise in handling hundreds of different kinds of used-car complaints.

First, if you are buying a used car, you must inspect the vehicle thoroughly. Ideally, you should have the vehicle inspected by a mechanic who is not connected with the sale.

Even if you are an auto enthusiast, you should not buy a used car without having it inspected by a competent mechanic of your choice.

Check for:

- There are any signs of dangerous wear on the steering or suspension parts.
- There are any leaks (oil, brake fluid, coolant, etc.) under the hood.
- There are signs of rust on the inside panels of doors, near the corners of the floor or the deck of the trunk.
- There are any dents or cracks of the body which appear to have been patched or repaired.
- Don't buy a used car when it is raining or where it is very dark, or under any conditions that could keep you from seeing everything, both inside and out. Test every accessory in the car.
- Make sure you understand the exact terms of any warranty before buying the used car. Warranty terms usually vary from dealer to dealer.
- You should shop around for the right warranty with the same care and attention as you give when shopping around for the right car. Remember to get all warranty promises in writing.
- Any verbal promises to the effect, "Don't worry, we'll fix anything that goes wrong," are probably worthless. A dealer may say, "It's a used car, so it's without any responsibility after the car is sold."

Miss Joyner on dean's list

A city student, Miss Barbara Joyner, was named to the dean's list at The Newark City College of New York City for the past term.

Miss Joyner was named from the professional program which leads to an associate in occupational studies degree with options in legal, medical, fashion, advertising and art/careers.

Miss Joyner was named to the dean's list in November, 1980, when they could prepare their budgets. Governor Brendan T. Byrne has now announced his intention to withdraw this money. His action is improper and must be reversed. These funds cannot be withdrawn without legislative approval.

It is the hope of the state income tax was to provide funds for education, not for diversion to other programs.

Sweet potatoes add sparkle to mealtime

Supplied by Union County Cooperative Extension Service

Now is the time to rethink your menus and enhance winter meals with sweet potatoes.

Medium-sized, baked sweet potato has 160 calories, a good source of vitamin A and contains some potassium, phosphorus, carotenoids and many other nutrients.

Traditionally, sweet potatoes have been a companion food to poultry, but they are also a natural go-to with ham, pork, sausage and many other meats.

Put sweet potatoes to dessert recipes include puddings, souffles, pies, tarts and whips. The potatoes combine well with mince, apples, coconut, raisins, and a variety of nuts.

Now's the season to seed pea, onion

Supplied by Union County Cooperative Extension Service

Plan the set in the "hot" positions and just deep enough so the soil barely covers the top of the set. Onion seeds germinate slowly and the seedlings emerge weak and spindly when the plants start to mature in hot weather.

Peas should be planted in the "cold" spots in the garden.

Many home gardeners make the mistake of planting peas in May, and then wonder why the blossoms drop when the plants start to mature in hot weather.

Early varieties such as "Little Marvel" require about 65 days to mature. "Wonder" and "Excelent" varieties for the home garden.

Peas grow best in well drained soil that drains out in the spring.

If you have heavy clay soil that doesn't dry out until mid-April, you'd be better to grow another vegetable that can be started later in the season.

Onions also grow best in a light loam or sandy soil. They are best planted in rows that are 12 to 18 inches apart.

Carrots, tomatoes, beets and onions are included in the intermediate group.

A "kalef," "Plan Your Vegetable Garden," will tell you when to plant your favorite vegetables and when they mature.

Quality not assured by expensive price

Supplied by Union County Cooperative Extension Service

If the price is high in your opinion, you are not necessarily assured of good quality, and good quality can be obtained in a less expensive garment.

It is important to evaluate each garment in relation to your own purpose, method of care, length of time you expect to use it and the fit of the garment.

Perhaps the most important indicator of quality is material. Too frequently imported fabrics are not cut on the same size standard as we are familiar with, nor do many of these garments perform as well as our producers.

With the import factor in mind, it is vital that you know the fabric content and care instructions for a particular garment.

A garment that has more cotton fiber than polyester usually shrinks more than a machine washing machine.

Restore life of floor by applying true grit

The process of removing the old finish is preferably done with a drum sander and edge machine.

Work only with the grain of the wood and always there are two end results that must be dealt with one is the creation of considerable amounts of dust.

Work on the other side of the floor surface for post-sanding. All protruding nails should be reset and filled with wood putty.

Mail-order policies can fill medical bill

Supplied by Union County Cooperative Extension Service.

A key point to understand a direct mail insurance policy is that it is usually applied during the gaps of your present insurance by paying a specified dollar amount for each day of hospitalization. It is not a substitute for a major medical policy, for example, and it does not cover comprehensive coverage, but it can usually provide you extra coverage at a relatively low price.

To help you know what you are buying, the Health Insurance Institute suggests you find the answers to these questions before you buy:

What happens if you have any "pre-existing" health conditions?

How much will your policy pay per day?

When do your benefit payments begin?

What circumstances must exist before you can collect?

How much are your premiums?

The Institute also points out although a physical examination is not necessary, many policies have limitations on benefits for a medical condition you may have had within a certain period.

This is called a "pre-existing" condition, and many policies have a two-year waiting period before you can be reimbursed for medical treatment of these illnesses.

It is also important not to let your policy be rolled into purchasing a plan because of a "limited-coverage period." Generally, these enrollment periods occur when you are buying the policy to understand what you are buying.

Most order policies will pay only for health care expenses you incur while in the hospital.
